PENSION INCREASE WITHOUT 'MEANS TEST' APPROVED BY MUNICIPALITIES

Campaign Assured Of Backing By Premier Hart

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS (CP)—A campaign for increased old age pensions at a lower rate and without a "means test" gained ground at the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention which opened here Monday.

It started with a statement by Mayor N. C. Stubbs of Nelson who in his presidential report said that Premier Hart has promised his backing to the municipalities in their campaign.

The Union aim is summed up in a resolution asking a universal pension of $50 monthly at the age of 65. Delegates adopted the resolution.

The resolution previously had been assured of the support of Prince Rupert and other northern B.C. municipalities. Earlier this year it was approved by the local city council and last week it was accepted by the convention of the Northern B.C. Municipal Association at its convention at Burns Lake.

Prince Rupert delegates to the convention are Mayor H. M. Daggett, Alderman Nora E. Arnold and Alderman George Hills.

If another recommendation of the union, presented to the convention today, becomes law, subdividers of property will be required not only to deed lands for street purposes to the municipality involved, but to pay for grading and graveling of the street as at present, and also bear the cost of laying water mains and sewers and provide for electric light and power lines.

The resolution was introduced by the Okanagan Municipal Association and was adopted by the convention this morning.

An amendment to the Municipal Act would be necessary before the recommendation could be put in force.

Minister of Fisheries

Mr. Bridges arrived in the city at noon today after an unsuccessful flight attempt on Monday. He is conferring with fishing company heads, and tonight will be guest of honor at a banquet given by the fishing executives in the Commodore Cafe.

BANKS NAMED LIEUT. GOV.

VANCOUVER—The Vancouver News-Herald published a special dispatch from Ottawa last night saying that Charles Banks has been appointed to succeed Hon. W. D. Woodward as Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia.

The News-Herald quoting order 17,953 of the State Department, said that Banks will be sworn in next week.

Agriculture Group Hits Farm Strike

EDMONTON—Calgary creameries reported heavy purchases of butter by wholesalers today as the Alberta branch of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture issued a statement condemning the 30-day delivery strike of all farm produce by more than 50,000 Alberta and Saskatchewan farmers in their bid for federal recognition of their demands for parity prices.

The federation said that action taken by more than 20,000 000 members of the Alberta Farmers' Union and the United Farmers of Canada, whose estimated 30,000 membership is confined to Saskatchewan, would hinder efforts to obtain a better deal for farmers.

The strike executive committee for the farmers was today anticipating a statement on federal government policy regarding parity prices with the return of Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner to Ottawa from overseas.

Last night ballots were distributed among the striking farmers to decide whether or not the delivery stoppage will be continued more than 30 days should their demands for parity prices not be met by the government.

'NEW APPROACH' TOWARD RUSSIA

LONDON—Anthony Eden, Britain's wartime foreign minister, in a speech Monday night urged the adoption of a new approach to Russia by Britain and the United States, because the present relationships contain "imminent threat of war."

Eden said "only a new spirit and a new approach can avoid fatal consequences."

POWER STRIKE HITS PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH—The third power strike in seven months hit Pittsburgh today, curtailing steel manufacturing operations and street car transportation in an area of 1,500,000 inhabitants.

As the walkout of Duquesne Light Co. employees got underway, the Pittsburgh Railways Co. announced a 50 per cent cut in trolley operations. The trolleys normally carry about 1,000,000 persons daily.

LOW FARES REVOKED

OTTAWA—Special service-men's railway fares, under which service personnel on leave could travel to almost any part of Canada by railroad for as little as $15 are to be revoked, it was announced here.

WARTIME SHIP PROFITS PROBED

WASHINGTON—The United States Maritime Commission reported Monday that the St. John's River Shipbuilding Co. reaped wartime profit of $2,080,000 on original investment of $600.

The commission report to the government committee said that 19 companies put up $22,979,257 capital to make estimated profits of $356,006,612.

Henry Kaiser, west coast shipbuilder, was the first witness, and defended his companies' operations.

SEEKING EARLY ADJOURNMENT

Excess Slag Passed To Weather For Removal From City's Streets

The excess mineral slag which has been gritting on the nerves and under the feet of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce since it was first spread on downtown city streets as an asphalt seal-coat dressing two months ago was consigned to the weatherman for disposal by City Council last night.

The Aldermen decided that the city had better uses for its money than spending it on having the surplus, gritty substance swept up by hand, and hoped that the winter rains would wash it from under the feet of the public.

They were discussing a letter from Chamber of Commerce Secretary E. T. Applewhaite, which complained that the excess slag was being tracked into downtown business places, creating a nuisance. Since the city had put it there, would it kindly do something about its removal?

Alderman Ham favored the stuff swept up, suggesting that city workmen with brooms might do the job.

City Engineer Phillips replied that in other cities it was customary for the excess dressing to be swept off streets which had been repaired, but in other cities there were automatic sweepers to do the job.

It would be an awkward and expensive job to have it done by hand, the City Engineer said. Alderman Youngs admitted that he deplored the presence of the black slag too, but thought the city could spend the money required to sweep it up to better purpose.

Council adopted his motion that since the street budget was nearly exhausted, the remainder of the money might be spent to better effect than sweeping the streets.

"We are fortunate to have some of our streets sealed," he said. "We could spend the money we have left to better purpose if we used it to seal other streets against the weather."

He added that he believed the rain would wash the excess slag away anyway.

Stalin Sees No Present War Danger

MOSCOW—Prime Minister Joseph Stalin said today that he can see no real danger of a new war, and expressed his unqualified belief in the possibility of long and friendly collaboration between the Soviet Union and the western democracies despite ideological differences.

At the same time he said the United States now holds a threat to peace in "monopolist possession of atomic weapons, but such monopolist possession could not long be maintained."

He added that, in any event, wars cannot be won with atomic bombs.

He also charged that United States military forces in China are a threat to world peace.

In Washington this morning, former Secretary of Commerce Henry Wallace commented on Prime Minister Stalin's speech and that made last night by former British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

Mr. Wallace said that "Stalin and Eden brought fresh hope to peace lovers the world over" in their attitudes on foreign policy.

Mr. Wallace was dismissed from office by President Truman last week because of his criticism of the "get-tough-with-Russia" policy which he attributed to the U.S. State Department.

In London last night, Anthony Eden urged adoption of a new approach to Russia by Britain and the United States because present relationships contain "imminent threat of war."

RURAL SCHOOL RATEPAYERS MEET IN OCT.

A series of meetings of rural ratepayers in the Prince Rupert school district is to be held early in October for the purpose of electing school representatives, Inspector of Schools E. E. Hyndman announces.

From these representatives, two will be chosen to sit on the district school board as trustees when the new board takes office on January 1.

"Under the recent revision of the Public Schools Act, one basic need for efficiency in rural school organization is to have one ratepayer responsible to the enlarged school board, in order to advise on local matters and generally keep the board informed on local conditions," Mr. Hyndman said.

Each rural area where there is a school will have a school representative, either by election or by appointment, Mr. Hyndman explained. In areas where there is but a single ratepayer, the school representative will be appointed by the Minister of Education.

BENGOUGH IS T.-L. LEADER

WINDSOR—Percy Bengough of Ottawa was re-elected president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada at the annual convention here today. Bengough has held the office for three years.

LARGEST ENROLMENT

VANCOUVER—The largest enrolment in the history of the University of British Columbia began here Monday when the advance guard of an estimated 9,000 students registered for classes. Approaches to the campus were blocked with pedestrians and vehicles heading toward the registration buildings.

TO TOUR CANADA—Sir John Anderson and Lady Anderson set out from Halifax on a Canadian tour that will take them from coast to coast. They arrived in Canada on the Queen Mary. Sir John served in the British War Cabinet, holding the portfolios of Minister of Home Security, Lord President of the Council and Chancellor of the Exchequer at various times. He is a director of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co.

CITY SEEKS TITLE TO PARK AREAS

Taking a long look into the future, without benefit of crystal ball, city council last night decided that 999 years is a long time to wait to gain ownership of two parcels of land leased to the city for park and boulevard purposes by the Grand Trunk Development Co.

The aldermen decided to see if they could not obtain outright ownership of the land and thus be free to use it as it wishes—possibly for residential purposes on suitable sites.

The two parcels of land are Roosevelt Park, and a small park area nearby.

Under the terms of the lease, made when the townsite was laid out, the city can use the Roosevelt Park site only for "a public recreation ground and for the erection of public buildings of real architectural merit" and a city water reservoir.

The smaller parcel must be used for a park or boulevard, and the city has the right to erect any monuments that it deems esthetically suitable.

Things must go on like that for some 955 years yet.

Feeling that this is a long time, and that in the meantime, someone might want to take advantage of those sites, or part of them as home sites, council last night authorized City Clerk H. D. Thain to investigate the possibility of the city taking over those areas "in fee simple," thus allowing the city the right to put them to whatever use the city government sees fit.

Russia Hits Allied Troop Displacements

LAKE SUCCESS, New York (CP)—Russia, for the first time in United Nations security council history, lashed out Monday against the presence of United States troops in China, Iceland and Latin America.

The council adjourned without deciding whether or not to place on the agenda the Russian resolution asking for information on the disposition of Allied troops in foreign, non-enemy states.

WATER MAIN BREAKS UNDER HAYS BRIDGE

The city's main water line, described recently by Board of Works Chairman Alderman G. Rudderham as in "desperate condition," broke loose in a spectacular display early this morning, leaving a large part of the city short of water until it was repaired.

The break occurred under the Hays Cove bridge where the 18-inch cast iron line is above ground, and sent a jet of water onto the surface of the bridge, as well as downward into Hays Creek.

Citizens were warned to "go easy" on their use of water until the break was repaired. While the line was shut off, the water supply for the sections of the city west of Hays Creek was supplied by the reservoir in Roosevelt Park.

Miss Chapman was named in the final report of the Royal Commission on espionage, and was taken into custody on the conspiracy charge.

Victim's Body Brought to City

The body of Frank Greening, local fisherman who was drowned last week near Cumshewa, Queen Charlotte Islands, was brought to the city early this morning. Greening apparently fell into the water from the small boat he was operating during a violent storm on Friday. Coroner M. M. Stephens said today that he would conduct an enquiry into Greening's death.

LONDON—A four-cent-a-pound increase in the retail price of expensive biscuits has been granted major manufacturers.

U. N. WISELY WAITS

POSTPONEMENT of the United Nations General Assembly meeting to late October represents a wise decision. It is not a dictated decision. Four permanent members joined in recommending it, but it was finally arrived at by a majority vote among all the members of the U. N.

The alternative appeared to be a recess at Paris during which the Assembly would discuss its special problems at Lake Success. But the atmosphere could hardly have been conducive to accomplishment. The very knowledge that the Paris Conference had to be suspended to permit the Lake Success meeting would have given the latter a feeling of mere ritual.

Had both meetings been held simultaneously, the effect would have been little better. Every agreement reached, every decision taken at Lake Success would have seemed inconsequential beside the disagreement and inability to decide major problems which has marked the Paris Conference.

It may appear to friends of the U. N. that the world organization is being "pushed around." The postponement may reflect momentarily on U. N. prestige. But the Assembly should have little difficulty in erasing such impressions when it does meet. Its discussions looking to peace will at any rate not seem so anomalous as they might if held during the battle of Paris or in a breathing space between rounds.

LONGER EVENINGS

ANYONE with a warm place in the house—near living-room fireplace or the kitchen stove—knows what compensation to expect for the loss of daylight which begins each year about this time.

With the shorter days come longer evenings. The family gets reacquainted. There is less time for baseball, tennis, golf with folk you only partly know, and more time to share one's summer experiences with those to whom they mean most.

Of course a boy doesn't often come home, even after dusk, because he has got tired of staying out. But once he is home, he's gladder of it. Moreover, Mother can't stay out gardening all hours now. And girls, for whatever reasons girls do things, seem to find home more interesting when everybody's there who ought to be.

You can fill a longish list with the nice things that come along this time of year: lamplight of neighbor's windows striking out to meet your own across the street, houses that have been quiet most of the summer suddenly alive again. We don't mean to make your list. Just to remind you to keep a place on it for the way day and night divide the hours.

People who think the country is going to the dogs, that their own political party hasn't a chance against the scoundrels on the other side, and that home-town ball teams are going to lose the most important games—such people talk about shorter days. All others think about those pleasant longer evenings.

DR. H. R. WRIGHT RESEARCH HEAD

The appointment of Dr. H. R. Wright as head of the Division of Chemistry, British Columbia Research Council, was announced Monday by Hon. Leslie H. Eyres, chairman of the council.

Dr. Wright was formerly associated with the Chemistry Department of the University of New Brunswick and has served as consultant with the Hartt Boot and Shoe Co., and other private organizations in New Brunswick.

During the war he won recognition for his investigations under the Directorate of Chemical Warfare and Explosives. Early this spring, prior to the atomic bomb experiments, he was engaged by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to give a series of broadcasts on "Exploding the Atom" over the national network.

Dr. Wright is one of a number of outstanding graduates of the University of British Columbia, who has returned to the province to head the British Columbia Research Council in order to bring the benefits of research to British Columbia industry.

Dr. Wright is the son of Leslie H. Wright, who is one of Vancouver's well known pioneers and businessmen.

After graduation with honors from the University of British Columbia, Dr. Wright continued his post-graduate studies at McGill University, specializing in the field of physical chemistry.

SOUTH AFRICA WAGES WAR ON WILD ANIMALS

CAPETOWN, S. A.—Because baboons, leopards, lynxes and wild dogs are preying on farmers' sheep, cattle and ostriches, Cape Province has put a price on the heads of such marauders.

A new draft ordinance values at $20 the death of a leopard. Wild dogs and lynxes are worth $3.30, baboons 35 cents and even a dead crow brings a bounty.

Stray or trespassing dogs may now be shot if found mauling the property of any farmer or occupier of land.

Farmers in Cape Province have been losing livestock worth many thousands of dollars as a result of killings by organized packs of baboons and other marauders. In the Oudtshoorn district even domesticated mongrel dogs killed 20 ostriches in one night.

TRANS-CANADA'S NEW AIRCRAFT—This engineer's drawing will give future passengers on Trans-Canada Air Lines' transcontinental, international and trans-Atlantic routes an idea of the accommodation that will be available to them when Canada's largest aircraft, now being manufactured at the plant of Canadair Limited near Montreal, is delivered to T.C.A. The North Star, prototype of the four-engine forty-passenger plane, was launched in July by Mrs. C. D. Howe, wife of the Minister of Reconstruction and Supply, and made its first flight across Canada, from Montreal to Vancouver, on Saturday, September 14, carrying as passengers Rt. Hon. Mr. Howe and H. J. Symington, C.M.G., K.C., president of T.C.A. The drawing shows the arrangement of the new type reclining passenger chairs, the compact gallery for the service of hot meals, the attendant's desk near the entrance, the flight deck, the radio and navigation rooms, equipped with Loran and other recent electronic devices, as well as the ladies' powder room and the gentlemen's washroom, furnished with hot and cold water and all the accessories of comfortable travel. The aircraft will be a combination of Trans-Canada and Douglas design with a British-built Rolls-Royce power plant.

DUTCH AIRLINES MULTIPLIED BY RECONSTRUCTION

AMSTERDAM (C)—Post-war reconstruction in Holland has not only restored Dutch air services but multiplied them.

The end of the war saw the Royal Dutch Air Lines without a serviceable airdrome, few air-planes and no trained staffs.

Fourteen months later, K.L.M. (Koninklijk Luchtvaart Maatschappij, Royal Dutch Air Lines) services are manned by more planes and personnel, fly more miles and bring in more money than at any time before the war.

Temporary wooden huts house offices at Schiphol Airport, outside Amsterdam. Twisted skeletons of its hangars indicate all the Germans left of a once-modern station. Even the runways had to be resurfaced before Allied service planes could use the field after the war.

K. L. M. hires 300 new persons a month as plans progressively reach implementation. Before the end of the war its staff numbered 1,900. Today its 3,000 includes 132 pilots, 65 stewards and 40 stewardesses.

Where, before the war, there were 35 planes there are 55 today and the pre-war total of daily miles flown—21,000—exceeds 55,000.

K. L. M.'s regular services include two weekly flights from Amsterdam to New York, four runs weekly from Amsterdam to Batavia, and daily hops to Malmo, Stockholm, Zurich, Prague, Brussels, Paris, Oslo and London. A new service goes to Madrid and Lisbon, to be extended to Buenos Aires.

Works Minister In Musical Role

NAPIER, N.Z., (C)—New Zealand's Works Minister Semple has appeared in a new role as a platform duetlist. At the conclusion of an address at Napier by the minister, the noted baritone, Peter Dawson, who is visiting New Zealand, introduced himself from the audience and said he understood the minister's favorite song was the famous Australian folksong, "Waltzing Matilda."

He invited the 73-year old minister to sing it with him. Mr. Semple accepted and he and Mr. Dawson sang the song with gusto from the platform.

20 YEARS AGO

J. E. Dalrymple, of Montreal, vice-president in charge of traffic, Canadian National Railways, headed a large party of visitors to the city. Mr. Dalrymple foresaw an expansion of traffic on the Prince Rupert-Jasper section of the line.

A local power vessel, the Town-ena, struck Digby Island near Ritchie Point and was left high and dry on the rocks. The Town-ena, engaged in salmon fishing, was on her way from Metlakatla to the Skeena river when she struck.

Frank Taylor's silver-gold mine at Topely was a good thing, in the opinion of W. S. (Duke) Harris, who reported that Mr. Taylor was justified in holding out for $20,000 initial payment for sale of the mine.

ARTESIAN WELLS INCREASE WATER

Thousands of Wells Make Up for Australia's Lack Of Rainfall

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Because rain and rivers are scarce in a large part of Australia, the country augments its water supply by means of nearly 9,000 artesian and sub-artesian bores which yield about 340,000,000 gallons of water a day.

This source of water is most important since two of Australia's largest industries, wool and wheat, depend heavily on water and can be crippled by drought.

Though the area of Australia is about 3,000,000 square miles, about two-thirds of the continent has an average yearly rainfall of less than 20 inches.

However, the area in which artesian wells are present extends over nearly one-third of the country and one section of it, known as the Great Australian Artesian Basin, is said to be the largest discovered.

This big basin alone covers nearly one-fifth of the country extending from the northeast tip to the south. The Northern Territory, and the States of Queensland, New South Wales and South Australia all have a share of it.

There is a second artesian basin covering parts of New South Wales, Victoria and South Australia and a few small ones in West Australia. Their water has been tapped from a depth of 10 feet to 7,000 feet and the flow is in varying quantities. Some yield as much as 1,000,000 gallons a day.

The water is used for domestic purposes, for gardens and stock watering and sometimes is chemically treated when the removal of harmful minerals is necessary.

STANDARD WAGE RATES RESULT OF AGREEMENT

As a result of several meetings held between representatives of the Prince Rupert and United Co-operative Associations, a new agreement has been negotiated setting up standard rates for both Prince Rupert and Vancouver vitamin oil operations.

The proposed agreement, which has yet to be approved by the two co-op organizations, grants a wage increase of $15 per month to plant workers, higher ranges of rates for laboratory and office workers, and an average 42-hour work week. Under the plan for hours, employees will work a 40-hour week for nine months of the year and during the months of May, June and July, a 48-hour week without overtime.

MILITIA UNITS RE-ORGANIZING

Prince Rupert's two militia units are to have a change in designation, according to Col. S. D. Johnston, commanding officer here.

The 102nd (NBC) Heavy Battery R.C.A. is now to be known as the 120th Coast Battery Royal Canadian Artillery. The 2nd Searchlight Battery R.C.A. which was formerly split between Prince Rupert and Prince George now is completely localized in Prince Rupert and is changed in designation to the 9th Anti Aircraft Guns Operation Room.

Reorganization is proceeding and ex-members of the Prince Rupert Machine Gun Battalion who were transferred to the 120th Cst. Bty. have been asked to meet on Friday evening. Post-war physical standards and age will govern transfers into the new unit.

The new artillery units will have a backbone of experienced artillery officers and N.C.O.'s and one of the big jobs of the new units will be to develop potential officers and N.C.O.'s from its own ranks.

There will be a meeting of ex-members of the 120th Hy. Bty. and 2nd S/L Bty. R.C.A. in the Armory September 30.

SEASON'S FIRST SNOW BLANKETS PORTLAND CANAL MOUNTAINTOPS

STEWART—The first snow of the season appeared on the mountain tops on September 20th, and since then this district has been experiencing torrential rains. A rift in the clouds today produced a little sunshine and the possibilities for a break in the weather are good.

Dave Gunnano and other native trappers are standing by to go into the Bowser Lake country as they intend travelling by plane this year. They have about three tons of supplies to go in which would ordinarily take them forty seven days to relay to their trapping grounds.

F. McCready was brought in by plane suffering from burns about the face caused by an explosion of carbide. He was taken to the Stewart General Hospital where Dr. W. R. Walker of Premier attended his injuries which were not as serious as at first anticipated.

The semi-monthly meeting of the Board of Trade was largely taken up with the consideration of correspondence relative to roads and trails and the sampling plant at Prince Rupert. Information is being collected as to the number of properties which will be in a position to take advantage of the sampling plant should it be reopened.

LOGGER'S DEATH SAID ACCIDENT

A coroner's jury which Monday investigated the death of Harold Jeffrey on September 19, brought in a verdict that the Vancouver logger died "as a result of injuries sustained in a logging accident at the Gildersieve Logging camp at Rivers Inlet."

Jeffery was flown to Prince Rupert General Hospital last Wednesday afternoon by a Queen Charlotte Airlines seaplane after he had suffered head injuries when a log rolled on him during logging operations at the southern coast camp.

His body was sent to Vancouver, accompanied by his widow, at the week-end.

The jury commended Dr. John Horning, camp physician, and Jack Teigan and Harry Green "for their prompt action and attention in rendering all necessary assistance to the injured, and bringing about his speedy transportation by plane to the Prince Rupert hospital."

Members of the jury were Hugo P. Kraupner, foreman, F. M. Kempton, J. G. Alexander, Emil G. Blain, Robert Greissel and William Howard Wright.

PRETTY MARRIAGE AT SMITHERS

SMITHERS—The United Church here was the scene of a pretty wedding Monday evening when Miss Daintre Goodacre, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Goodacre of Smithers, became the bride of Fred Riffel, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Riffel, Runnymede, Saskatchewan.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert Morris of Hazelton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in a lovely floor-length dress of white silk jersey with white coronet. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and red roses and wore a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Attending the bride was Miss Margaret Erickson, wearing a gown of blue triple crepe with blue coronet. She carried a bouquet of white asters and bronze chrysanthemums. The bride's second attendant was her sister, Charlotte, who wore a lovely dress of pink silk with coronet, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Groomsman was Harry Hayward, and ushers were James Goodacre and John Chapman, brother and cousin of the bride respectively.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Monument to Great Australian Adjective

WELLINGTON, N.Z., (P)—Reference to one of the world's most curiously named mountains enlivened an earnest discussion of the New Zealand Geographic Board Bill by the House of Representatives.

This is a steep and difficult peak in the Southern Alps of New Zealand which is officially named Mount B'Limit.

"I would like to refer to the suggestive title of Mount B'Limit," declared Prof. R. M. Algie, an Opposition member speaking to the bill. "The band of mountaineers who first scaled this peak must have been—"

"Australians," interjected P. G. Connolly.

"They were either so overcome with the scenic attractions that they called it Beauty Limit and then shortened it, or as Mr. Connolly suggests, they were Australians," added Prof. Algie.

The abbreviated portion of the mountain's name is invariably referred to as "the great Australian adjective," in this part of the world.

EVERY EXTRA TURN HAS A MEANING OF ITS OWN!

The average person shifts position thirty-five times during a night's sleep. This is quite normal and healthy.

But how many times do you twist and turn? It is rather difficult to find out—one cannot exactly ask some member of the household to stay up and count! Yet that would tell the story of how normally you sleep.

Restful sleep is not a matter of how tired you are, what kind of a bed you sleep on, which side you sleep on—it is more likely to depend on the state of your nerves.

A common cause of frayed nerves—which result in disturbed sleep—is the caffeine in tea and coffee. If you find caffeine is bothering you—why not switch to Postum? It contains no stimulants of any kind. It has a full-bodied flavor all its own. Form the Postum habit! Make it right in the cup with boiling water or hot milk. Costs less than a cent a serving.

PROVINCE PUSHES ITS PLAN FOR HOSPITAL AID

Registration of Residents For Benefits Under Saskatchewan's
"Free" Scheme is Under Way

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer
REGINA — The drive is on to acquaint Saskatchewan citizens with the benefits and terms of Canada's first province-wide "free" hospitalization scheme which does not go into effect until January 1, 1947, but is already the subject of a controversy.

In effect, the plan calls for compulsory co-operation of the province's 840,000 inhabitants in the matter of basic hospital care.

Today, enumerators for civic elections are also registering every man, woman and child under the plan. In October registration will be general and by January 1 every resident must pay $5 to the provincial government. Top payment for one family is $30.

Benefits of the plan include public ward accommodation, meals and special diets; ward nursing care; operating room service; surgical dressings; necessary drugs and medicines; laboratory service; physiotherapy; and hospital maternity care.

Financing of the scheme — third phase of an over-all health services plan — is explained by the Health Services Planning Commission. The commission discovered that the average hospital bill for the 105,318 patients in Saskatchewan last year was $45.48. Dividing the total hospital bill by the number of people in the province, the commission came up with $5.67 as the cost for each man, woman and child, if the bills were divided evenly among the population.

To the $3,500,000 to $4,000,000 the government hopes to collect in $5 taxes, will be added about $1,500,000 from general provincial revenues.

The $5 fee is in part the result of the breakdown of Dominion-provincial tax agreements. The federal government originally indicated it would pay 60 per cent of the cost of a provincial health scheme but when the conference broke down the aid was withdrawn. Federal government aid under those terms would bring the tax down to $2 a person. Saskatchewan has the plan geared to be amalgamated with any Dominion program.

THIS AND THAT

Accommodation Problem
Although all the province's 454 medical practitioners would like their patients to receive all the hospital care necessary, hospital administrators fear an overloading of wards, already strained by record number of patients.

With the high wages and good people are seeking hospital care, crops of the war years, more Administrators say even more will demand hospital care under the new scheme, overflowing the 4,309 available beds in provincial hospitals. New hospitals planned however, are expected to bring the total available beds to 5,188 or 6.1 beds a 1,000 population. The latter figure regarded as a good average.

Another group who would feel the pressure of hospital "flooding" are Saskatchewan's estimated 1500 registered nurses. But there are 959 nurses in training in the province — more than ever before — to staff 81 hospitals and 10 Red Cross outposts.

The proposed hospital care program is only part of the health plan for the province. Other phases already in effect include: free care for tuberculosis, cancer, mental and venereal disease cases and for recipients of old age and blind pensions and their dependents, mothers' allowances and Indigents and their dependents. The completed plan aims to give all health services including diagnostic and dental treatment as well as care outside of hospitals.

For administrative purposes, the province was divided into 14 "health regions." Two of these areas — Estevan-Weyburn and Swift Current — instituted part of the health program last year following a local vote. The taxes they now pay for services will be dropped with institution of the province-wide scheme.

VICTIM OF NAZI PROPAGANDA

British Liaison Officer Tells
Of Collapse of Resistance and
Beginning of Civil War

By the Canadian Press

One of the last and most complete victories of the German propaganda machine is described by Col. Jasper Rootham in "Miss Fire" (Oxford University Press), an account of a year spent in Yugoslavia as a member of one of the British missions accredited to Gen. Draja Mihailovich to strengthen Chetnik resistance.

Dropped by parachute in northeastern Serbia in May, 1943, Col. Rootham was with the Chetniks during a period when deteriorating relations between Mihailovich and Marshal Tito's Partisans combined with supply problems to bring about the decline of Mihailovich's power.

The author makes no attempt to analyze the complex political picture in the Balkans which eventually led to the execution of Mihailovich and a number of his aides on charges of collaboration with the Germans.

He represents the Chetnik leaders in his areas as sincerely opposed to the Nazis but at the same time uncompromisingly hostile to Communism and the Partisan movement and unwilling to jeopardize the lives of the people in their area by engaging in large-scale operations against the Germans until they were assured of substantial British support.

The British, on the other hand, were unwilling to gamble too heavily on Mihailovich until they were assured that he was more interested in fighting Germans than Partisans. Finally, suspecting him of collaborationist activity, they withdrew their missions to the Chetniks and gave all their support to Tito.

Nazi Propaganda Effective

The Germans took shrewd advantage of Chetnik-Partisan animosity, often driving a guerrilla force into the other faction's territory to provoke a battle between them. The Germans also made the most of lack of British support for the guerrillas, and the myth of a "Perfidious Albion" that exploited Yugoslavs to her own ends gained considerable ground.

The author saw no evidence of actual collaboration with the Germans on the part of the Chetniks with whom he was associated although they occasionally co-operated with Serbian Quisling forces in fighting the Partisans. Toward the end of his stay, the Germans adopted a policy of non-interference with the Chetniks which freed their hands for battles against the Partisans.

Members of the British missions made repeated efforts to stop the civil war but propaganda on both sides was too strong. However, Col. Rootham tells of isolated instances in which liberated Russian prisoners fought beside the Chetniks in actions against the Germans.

The author makes no attempt to assess the blame for the failure of the Chetnik movement. And he pays tribute to the thousands of gallant men, Chetniks and Partisans alike, who fought the Germans, not merely from motives of self-preservation or revenge but "a queer feeling that they had a right to be somebody and the Germans wanted them to be nobody."
