Work Stoppage in Stuttgart Against Bombings
STUTTGART (CP) — Nearly 77,000 German workers staged a 15-minute work stoppage today in protest against a series of raids by allied authorities following three bombings in the Stuttgart area staged Saturday by anti-democratization extremists for whom the United States troops and German police searched in four armed swoops during the night, making a house to house search. Several score suspects have been detained for questioning and 58 arrests made.
The raids, lasting through the night, in at least one case were supported by American tanks and hundreds of heavily armed soldiers.

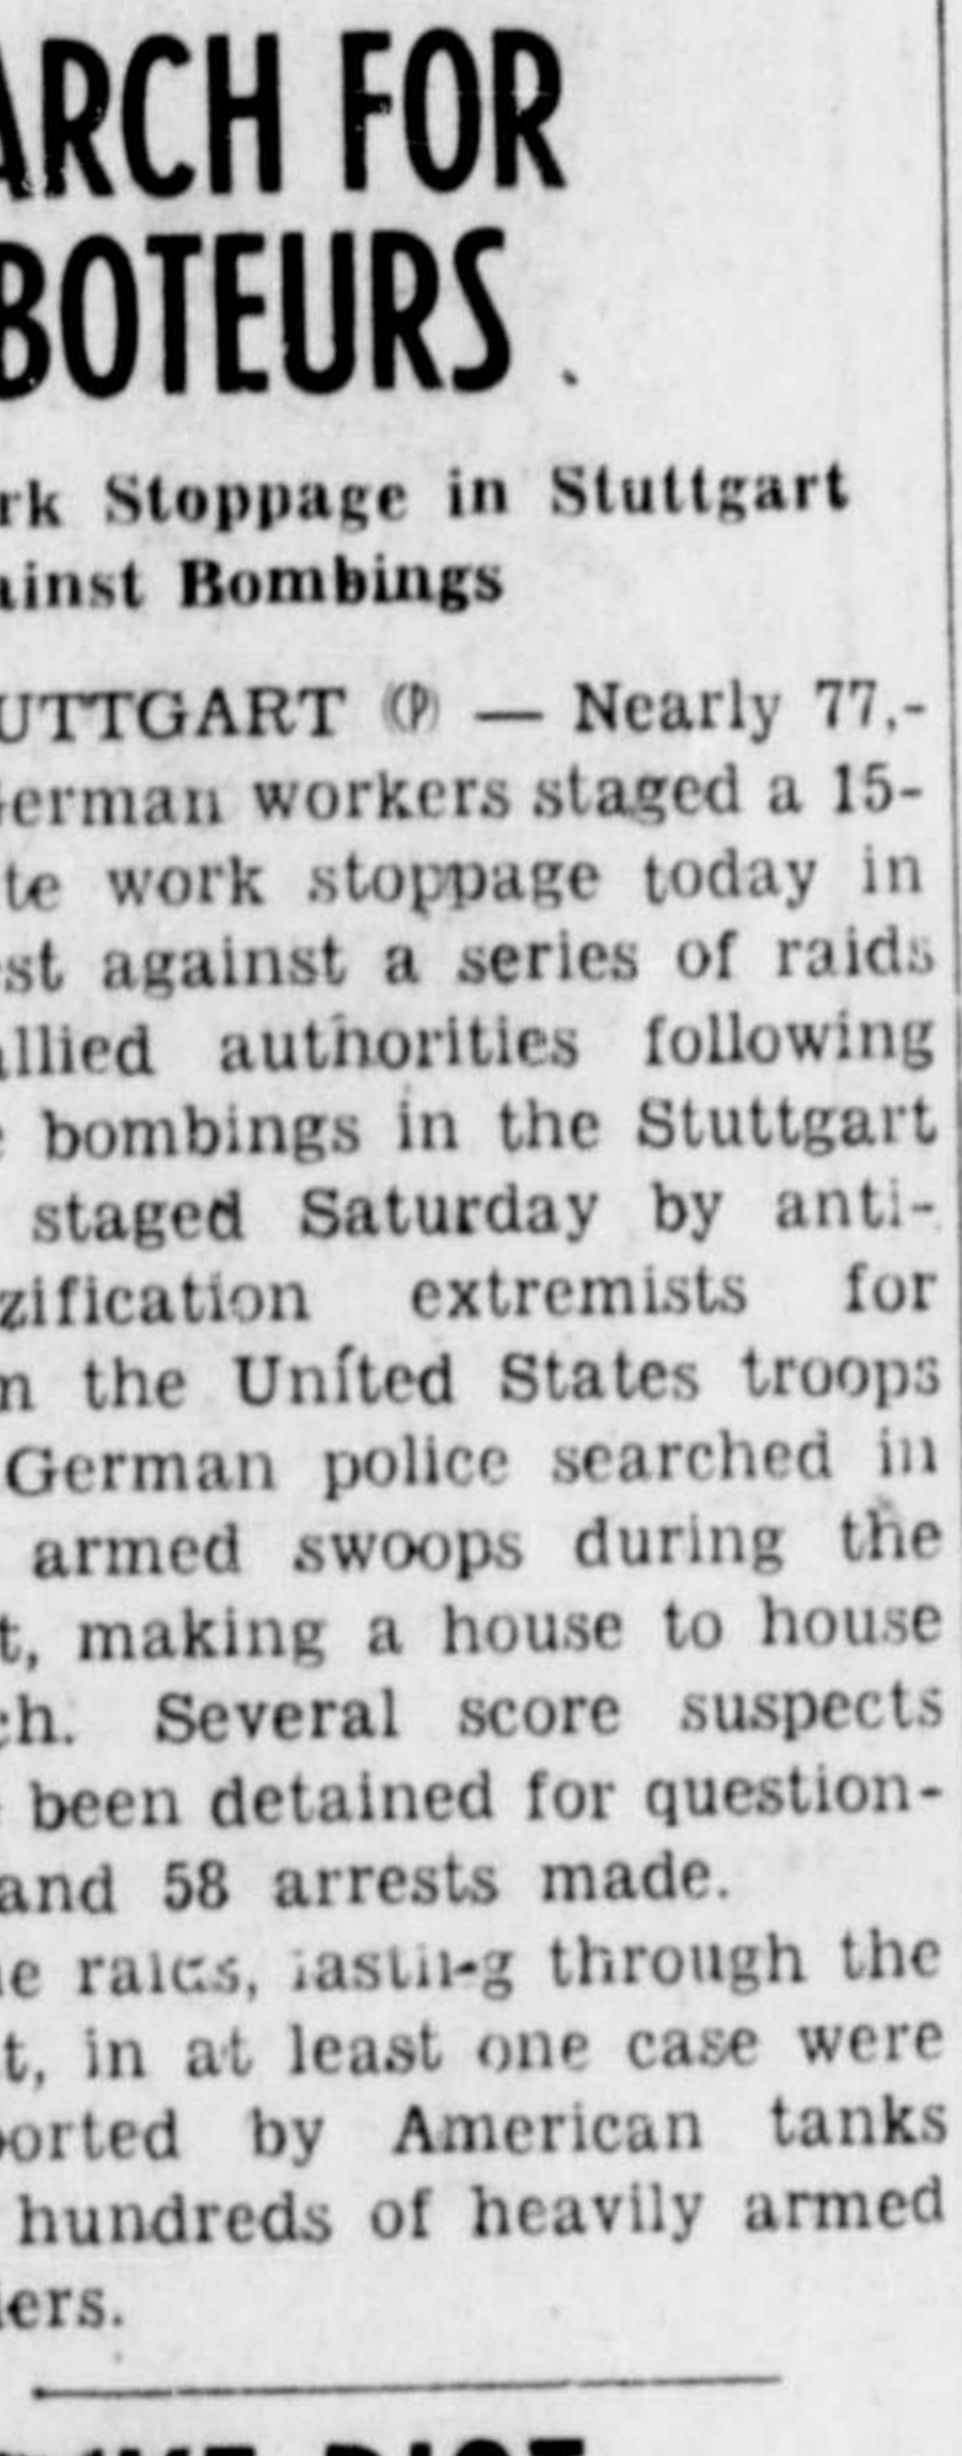

STRIKE RIOT ENDS IN JAIL
VANCOUVER (CP) — Three men, convicted of unlawful assembly in connection with a disturbance in front of the Daily Province building last July 23, were sentenced to jail terms on Monday. William B. The ultimate decision will have to come from provincial headquarters of the union.

WILL MOVE GRAIN HERE NEXT MONTH
Shipments of Alberta wheat to the Prince Rupert terminal elevator for export to the world market are expected to begin about November 1 when the golden flood will pour into the elevator at the rate of 20 carloads a day, the Daily News learned today.
Information on the movement of ships which will carry the grain to food-hungry countries was not available here although, in the light of statements made by the Board of Grain Commissioners, it is likely that the grain may be shipped this winter.
It is expected that the elevator, empty since last fall, will be filled before the process of loading the grain into ships is begun.
Capacity of the elevator is 1,250,000 bushels. It was emptied by three ships, one British and two Russian, last October and November.

Settlement of Marine Strike

Marine Engineers Coming to Terms on East and Gulf Coast — West Coast Still Tied Up
NEW YORK (CP) — C.I.O. marine engineers and east and gulf coast ship operators today signed a contract to settle the 22-day old maritime walk-out but striking deck officers and licensed ship personnel continued to bottle up virtually all United States shipping.
Before the shipping tie-up on the east and gulf coasts come to an end, however, the pact must be ratified by both the union membership and 44 shipping companies.
Also the ship operators and other unions involved in the strike—American Federation of Labor mates and pilots—must also come to terms. The masters seek a 30 per cent increase and a closed shop.
This would leave the west coast still strikebound. The unions are to negotiate with the west coast shipping interests after concluding talks with east and gulf coast operators.

SAFE AFTER SHIP CRASH

Another American Vessel is Sunk in Grenville Channel
J. H. McLeod, collector of customs, who received word yesterday morning of the sinking of the American cannery tender America in Grenville Channel, about six miles north of Kiew Nuy, had satisfied himself last night that all on board the vessel had been rescued by another tender, Helen S., and were on their way to Seattle.
The sinking of the America, a diesel vessel of 60 feet length, followed collision with the big halibut vessel Dorothy. The America was heading south following the ending of the salmon season in Alaska waters. The Dorothy was bound north and sustaining little damage, was able to proceed.
The United States coastguard vessel MacLean was dispatched from Ketchikan to give any necessary assistance but was recalled after it became apparent that her services were not required.

NO CONTROL OF BULGAR VOTING

WASHINGTON (CP) — The State Department has disclosed that Russia turned thumbs down on an American request for Allied intervention to ensure free elections in Bulgaria. Russia said that intervention would be "rude interference in the internal affairs of Bulgaria."
BATH, Eng. (CP) — Ninety-one-year-old H. Love is successfully recovering from an appendicitis operation.

Bulletins

GOERING INQUIRY
NUERNBERG — Result of the inquiry by a board into the suicide of Hermann Goering will not be made known until Thursday. Pictures of the bodies of the executed Nazi leaders will be released tomorrow but there will be no pictures of the actual hangings.

FIGHT RENT CONTROL
SEATTLE — Two large apartment house associations here have decided not to re-rent apartments when they become vacant until rent controls have been eased. They do not seek excessive rents, they say, but merely adjustments. Veterans' organizations are vigorously protesting what they declare is a "most unfair" stand.

CREDIT POLICY
WASHINGTON — United States credit policy towards other nations depends on two factors—the need of the countries concerned and the attitude of the applicants towards the United States, said Secretary of State James Byrnes today. He was answering criticism of the withdrawal of credit to Yugoslavia.

CHINA STILL FIGHTING
NANKING — There is no let-up in the serious civil war in China, either side seeking to gain advantage pending a possible truce. The latest peace conference is still only in a preliminary stage, it is pointed out.

RESIST MEAT PRICES
NEW YORK — Resistance to high meat prices is having results. In New York the price of porterhouse steak is down from $1.25 to 95c a pound and in St. Louis from $1.10 to 98c.

GULF IS STORMY
VANCOUVER — At least half a dozen vessels are in trouble as a result of a storm in the Gulf of Georgia last night. The tug G. H. French is ashore near Squirrel Cove on Cortez Island and her crew have left her. The fish packers Daisy B. (Victoria) and New Fraser are aground in the Fraser River. The small Seattle freighter Pasco is also in difficulties.

LIFTING CONTROLS
WASHINGTON — Price controls on flour, bread and bakery products are expected to be lifted by the end of the week.

CASE TO JURY
OTTAWA — The case of Eric George Adams, charged with conspiracy to convey secret information to Russia, went to the jury today after a three-hour charge by the presiding judge.

ON LONG FLIGHT
SAN FRANCISCO — The Pan American clipper plane Westward Ho is winging her way toward Honolulu on the first leg of a survey flight of 24,000 miles which will take her to Guam, Tokyo, Rangoon, Batavia and Manila.

Ready For U. N. Meet

Plain Talking on International Differences Expected to Mark Meeting Opening Tomorrow
NEW YORK (CP) — Plain talking on differences which have marked postwar international relations was forecast today as diplomats from all over the world called their staffs and advisors into last-minute conferences to sharpen policies they will present at meetings of the general assembly of the United Nations which opens tomorrow.
President Truman will fly from Washington to deliver the main address and is expected to emphasize "unfounded fear of war" is throttling progress of international co-operation.

JOHN BRACKEN HAILS VICTORY

Sees Results of By-Elections as "Censure of Government"
OTTAWA (CP) — Progressive-Conservative Leader John Bracken today hailed his party's victories in the federal by-election as "censure of the government for failure to achieve industrial peace and meet housing problems. 'The voters have spoken in the language of democracy,' he said.

INDIA IS TROUBLED

Little Hope of Early Restoration of Peace Between Hindus and Moslems
NEW DELHI (CP) — Troops were strengthened in East Bengal today as bloody Hindu-Moslem warfare threatened a crisis for India's young interim government. There seems little hope of early peace.
The government said that 1600 men—two battalions and brigade headquarters—would join 2500 soldiers and 450 armed police in troubled Noakhall and Tippera districts east of Calcutta.
Refugees from the troubled zone told of killing, looting, burning, forcible conversion and abduction of women for forcible marriage.
Refugees number 40,000 in Tippera alone.
Moslems outnumber Hindus five to one in East Bengal and both Moslems and Hindus agree that the Moslems started the disturbances.

Mackenzie King Government Is Left With Slim House Majority

Results In Both Parkdale and Portage Were Close — Two More Lawyers In
OTTAWA (CP) — Progressive-Conservative victories as a result of yesterday's by-elections in Toronto-Parkdale and Portage la Prairie left the Liberal government holding the slimmest overall majority any federal government has held in the House of Commons since the short Parliament of 1925-26.
Harold Timmins, 49-year-old lawyer, alderman and veteran of the First Great War, won the traditionally Conservative Toronto seat over Lt.-Col. John W. G. Hunter, Liberal, his closest rival.
Cal. Miller, another lawyer, took the former Liberal seat in Portage la Prairie over Jaffray Wood, Liberal, and Sidney Coulthard, C.C.F. Seventy-seven of 78 polls gave Coulthard 2809, Miller 4590 and Wood, 4036.
In Parkdale the complete 168 polls gave Ford Brand, C.C.F., 6547; Hunter, 7,643; Mrs. Elizabeth Morton, Labor-Progressive, 969; Len Palmer, Social Labor, 96; and Timmins, 8,193.
Loss of the Manitoba seat by the Liberal government followed by a month the loss of the traditionally Liberal Pontiac seat in Quebec to a Social Crediter.
The government now has 125 seats in the House of Commons siding with Progressive-Conservatives, 67; C.C.F., 28; Social Credit, 13; Union Nationale (Quebec), 1; Labor-Progressive, 1. One seat is vacant.

Smith pleaded guilty to fraudulently misapplying to his own use $34,400.

THE BY-ELECTIONS

ODDLY ENOUGH, the Liberals may derive more comfort from the result of the Toronto-Parkdale by-election yesterday than from that of Portage la Prairie. In the traditionally Conservative metropolitan seat, the Liberal candidate made a strong run, considerably reducing the majority which Conservative Dr. H. A. Bruce was accorded in the general election of last year. But in Portage even the fact of a fairly close race can offer but little compensation for the government party which had fought hard to retain the seat which the late Harry Leader, conqueror of Arthur Meighen many years ago, had always won with substantial majorities.

Portage had been accepted by all parties as a testing ground and as a fair signal of how the political wind blows.

As a result of the by-elections, the administration of Mr. Mackenzie King holds a precariously small margin of majority in Parliament. It will have to mend its political fences by more courageous and constructive administration if it is to retain control.

As for the Socialist party, its accomplishments in the by-elections indicated that it is not gaining strength.

HON. P. J. A. CARDIN

QUIET, unobtrusive, rarely speaking, but always working, Hon. Pierre Joseph Arthur Cardin, former federal cabinet minister, who died yesterday, was one of those French-Canadians who, by profound devotion to the sterling traditions of Old Quebec, by the application of industry and by his faithful interpretation of the two great races in Canada—the one to the other—won for himself a place high in the esteem of the Canadian people. Cardin's voice was rarely heard in the House of Commons, not because he was not an eloquent speaker, but because he was much more of a worker. It is a tribute to him that, entering the Council House of the nation, with ability to speak only a few words in the English language, and certainly unable to deliver an address in that tongue, he came to express himself fluently and incisively in English. It was not long before he appreciated that in the House of Commons the grace and beauty of French were understood by only a limited few; and that if his influence was to expand he must equip himself with the power to address the majority of the Commons in English. This he did. The task and the success which he attained illustrate the great characteristics of the Quebecker.

There is a well-known jingle of:

A wise old owl, that sat on an oak;
 The more he heard, the less he spoke;
 The less he spoke, the more he heard;
 All men should copy that wise old bird.

The moral would appear to be that sagacity and silence are inseparable elements. Assuming that to be the case—and there is a great deal to be said for it—the value of P. J. A. Cardin had one yardstick only, and that was the yardstick of work. His Departments were always among the most efficient in the government. One might well believe that an individual whose duty was to administer the thousand and one things associated with his departments would have little time for words, that his motto must of necessity be "facta non verba."

EISENHOWER IS GODFATHER TO TEDDER'S SON—Gen. Eisenhower acted as godfather at a christening of the baby son of Lord Tedder, marshal of the R.A.F. and "Ike's" second-in-command during the invasion of Europe. The ceremony took place in the ancient, 800-year-old chapel of St. Margaret's, Edinburgh Castle, Scotland. This picture makes photographic history, being the first photo of any ceremony ever taken inside the tiny chapel. Photo shows, left to right: Gen. Eisenhower, Very Rev. Dr. L. Warr, who officiated at the ceremony; Lord Tedder of the R.A.F., and Lady Tedder holding the baby during the christening ceremony.

Whifflets From The Waterfront

In a recent fall while visiting his old command, the steamer Prince Rupert at Vancouver, Capt. Neil MacLean, veteran skipper of Canadian National Coast Steamships from which service he retired last year, sustained serious and painful fractures as a result of which he has been in hospital for the past six weeks. Recovery, although slow, is steady and it is expected he will be able to leave hospital for home soon. Capt. MacLean, who could not bear to live a life of inactivity after so many years at sea, had been skipper of a Vancouver harbor vessel since his retirement from the C.N.R.

His numerous friends here will regret to learn of his misfortune.

LETTERBOX

WANTS HOCKEY
 Editor,
 Daily News—
 Last Saturday night every hockey fan in Prince Rupert waited breathlessly for the opening game broadcast from Maple Leaf Gardens, Toronto. It never came. At least, not through C.F.P.R. Luckily, C.B.R. Vancouver came through fairly clearly but it won't be like that every Saturday night.

The following not-so-startling information was received from the ruby lips of one of our own announcers: "We don't carry commercial programs except by special arrangement." Evidently these special arrangements were managed during the 1945-46 hockey season. What is necessary to bring about a revival of these "special arrangements" now? Will letters to the CBC, Toronto, do any good? A few words from someone in authority at C.F.P.R. would enlighten us no end.

Lately we've been hearing a program entitled "Box Seats—$2.50" which describes the great treat CBC listeners are getting... fine entertainment for only $2.50—the price of a radio license.

Well, I've paid my radio license and I want to hear the Saturday night hockey games. A lot of other people feel the same way.

How about it, C.F.P.R.?
 "HOCKEY FAN."

MINING EQUIPMENT IS LANDED; MEREDITH-JONES ARE HONORED

STEWART—Freighter Chilliwack of the Frank Waterhouse line arrived on Saturday with a 3-ton truck for the Morris Summit, a 1½-ton truck for the Gold Drop Mine, and forty thousand feet of lumber and ten tons of iron for the Bitter Creek Bridge. Owing to the fact that ore was not available on account of the strike she left almost immediately after getting the cargo unloaded.

Under the auspices of the Stewart Tennis Club a dance was given in the Moose Hall on Saturday, October 19, in honor of Constable and Mrs. J. Meredith-Jones who are leaving shortly for Youbou, Vancouver Island where Constable Jones is being transferred. During the evening John Thompson, on behalf of the Parent-Teachers' Association and the community, presented Mr. and Mrs. Jones with a desk lamp and a pair of pictures and Mrs. Norma Lewis, on behalf of the Stewart Tennis Club, presented them with a beautiful quilt. In wishing them Godspeed the speakers expressed the appreciation of the community for the excellent work accomplished by Constable Jones in his manual training classes and to Mrs. Jones for her work among the girls of the Senior School grades. The music was furnished by Mrs. Jean Stewart and Mrs. Edith Behnsen at the piano, Mrs. Dot Thomas, with the accordion, A. Sweeney, with his violin, and W. S. Orr on the drums.

Railway Must Pay

SYDNEY, Australia, — The Sydney Morning Herald was awarded $12,000 damages to be paid by the New South Wales state railway commission for failure by the railways two years ago to carry an emergency issue of the Herald during a Sydney newspaper strike. The strike issue of the Herald, incorporated Sydney's three other daily papers. The railway commission's defence was that it was not bound by contract with the Herald to carry the emergency paper.

TANKS DESTROY "BURIAL SHIP"

SOUTHWOLD, Suffolk, Eng., —George Bird, of the British Ornithologists' Union, told Southwold Archaeological Society that American tanks had destroyed the Sutton Hoo "burial ship," discovered in 1939. During excavations in 1939 a vessel 82 feet long by 16 feet in beam was disclosed. It was thought to have been the resting place of an East Anglian King or warrior prince who lived about 600 A.D.

Today, Mr. Bird said, only a hollow in the ground marked the spot where the burial ship was found. The area was a military training ground during the war.

HOOP TALK

There is talk of the Navy boys who are here as H.M.C.S. Catham instructors forming a basketball team for entry in either the Senior "A" or Senior "B" league although so far nothing definite has come out of it. Nevertheless, it would be an excellent idea, since both leagues have only three teams playing. A fourth team in either league would be an asset from the point of competition, particularly in the "A" group where there is a grave danger that one team might get so far ahead as to ruin the competition.

Most of the Navy lads are from H.M.C.S. Uganda and some of them played on the team which made a pretty good showing while that ship was visiting here. Uganda's team also defeated an American Army team at Kodiak and won one game and lost one at Dutch Harbor. Out of the 11 men who are here, it is hoped that a hoop team can be put on the floor for regular league play.

Tonight's games in the Civic Centre gym will see Savoy and 99 Taxi bump in their second encounter of the season. Savoy took a 22 point drubbing in the opening game on October 12, and the hotelmen are eager to even things up, particularly since the taximen stand in an unbeaten position in the league. There are those who claim that Mr. Murray's boys had a tough time handling B.C. Packers Saturday night and wonder if the advancing season may not see both Packers and Savoy improve to a pitch where the fight will get really interesting.

In Senior "B," the schedule calls for a return game between the undefeated Bo-Me-Hi and Macey's. The students have been on the winning end of both their games, while Macey's has bowed once to Bo-Me-Hi, and has defeated Co-op. Tonight's girls' game will see High School and Peoples' Store at it again for the third time. High School has won both previous games against the mercantiles.

The junior game is between Watts & Nickerson and Junior High, both losers in the only earlier game they played. Junior High lost to Gyru on October 12 and Watts & Nickerson lost to Grotto on October 15. The four teams in the junior league offer a wide scope of competitive possibility lacking in the three-team "A" and "B" leagues.

Bird Season Opens Here This Saturday

Season for the shooting of migratory birds in this district opens on Saturday of this week and will extend until January 15. Several parties are already being lined up for expeditions to favorite haunts of the geese and ducks. There have already been some trips to the northern district where hunting became legal a few weeks ago.

CRICKETERS MAKE MONEY
LONDON. — Although bad weather ruined several games, the Indian cricketers who toured Britain this summer feared expenses and made a small profit. The Nawab of Pataudi, the captain, and C. S. Nayudu returned to India by air but the others decided against it. They went home by cargo boat.

"Chief, there's an applicant here who said he used to make his living by sticking his right arm into a lion's mouth."
"What's his name?"
"Lefty."

SHORT SPORT

If money is the root of all evil, here's a tip that will put you right in step with Satan. Mortgage the homestead, if necessary, and sink it all in greyhound racing stadium stock. Even the Bay Street and St. James Street boys, who keep a razor-keen ear on the trans-Atlantic financial gossip, will agree that your "sinning" will be on a mighty big scale. Hugh Dalton, Britain's chancellor of the exchequer, quite probably will grudgingly nod his head in assent. But there's one hitch in our tip. So many people want to "do evil" that the market is practically cleaned out. Even the common shares are gold-edged. Britain's 52 dog tracks hold meetings twice weekly throughout the year and, much to the hand-rubbing chagrin of the promoters and shareholders, the sport has appealed to the average Briton, ever willing in the post-war boom, to take a chance. Crowds of 50,000 and 60,000 on a race night are common.

By way of proving our tip is "on the level," take a look at a few financial statements issued recently: Sheffield Sports Stadium—boosted its 1943 dividend to 250 per cent, compared with 125 per cent in 1944; paid a first interim dividend of 75 per cent. The company's $36,000 of one-shilling (20 cents) shares are quoted at about 34 shillings, making the capital worth more than $600,000. South London Greyhound Racecourses Limited: net profit of $454,179 for 1945 compared with $235,296 in 1944; final deferred dividend is to be 150 per cent, making 225 per cent for the year against 80 per cent in 1944. West Ham Stadium (London): dividends this year total 85 per cent, an increase of 30 per cent over 1945 and 75 per cent jump over 1944. Shilling shares traded at 18 shillings and deferred capital from $25,000 to $450,000. Scottish Greyhound Racing Company: Profits for the year ended June 30 were $98,000 against $40,000 the previous 12 months. Dividend on the five shilling preferred shares were raised from 20 to 30 per cent and on the one shilling deferred shares, from 50 to 100 per cent.

Need we go on, Mr. Dalton, it is rumored, would like to get in on this easy money. Not for himself, we hasten to add, but as policemen of the country's finances, he would like to steer some of it into the public coffers via a betting tax.

BARROW-IN-FURNACE, Eng. —Vickers Armstrong, Ltd., is to spend £2,250,000 ($10,000,000) modernizing their shipyard here.

BOY SCOUTS INTEREST COMING BACK

A revival of interest in the Boy Scout movement which has swept through Canada east of the Rockies is beginning to surge through communities in British Columbia, according to R. K. Gordon, provincial Boy Scout executive commissioner, who is in the city on a visit.

Lack of Scout leadership has been responsible for the dearth of interest in B.C. but this is slowly being overcome, and Mr. Jordan anticipates a wave of interest in this province equal to that in other parts of Canada.

SEEKS SPONSORS

Mr. Jordan's present mission to Prince Rupert, his first since assuming the executive commission a year ago, is to stimulate sponsorship of Scout and Cub groups in churches and organizations. He is meeting clergymen and organization leaders today.

Provincial commissioner for the Boy Scout movement in B.C. is Dr. W. T. Kergin, former Prince Rupert medical practitioner, who is at present engaged in a complete re-organization of the Scout set-up in the province.

"When I say that there is a lack of Scout leadership in this province, I mean that there is a shortage of leaders. Those who are active are doing an excellent job," Mr. Jordan said.

At present there are about 8,000 Boy Scouts in B.C., but if the movement were in full action, there could be 28,000, he declared.

FOUR TROOPS HERE

Prince Rupert, he believes, could have three or four active groups if the leadership were available. The churches could sponsor groups, and possibly the Civic Centre. At present the Wartime Housing troop is the only one here.

The reorganization of the provincial Boy Scout council which is being carried out under Dr. W. T. Kergin, may result in the employment of one or two field commissioners, who will travel through the province assisting local leaders.

Mr. Jordan, who arrived in the city Monday, will leave for Terrace on Wednesday where he will consult with Boy Scout leaders. The movement in Terrace is said to be particularly active. He will return to the city on Thursday, leaving for Vancouver Thursday night.

The power of a free press to ferret out the truth was amply illustrated in the recent death of the King of Siam when, through the efforts of A.P. and Reuters correspondents, a medical commission was appointed and the death was attributed to assassination rather than suicide.

UNVEILING IS AWAITED

Newfoundland Memorial to Marconi Was Erected in 1939

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. —A monument to Guglielmo Marconi, marking the spot where the Italian inventor received the first transatlantic wireless message in history, has stood here for seven years awaiting unveiling.

The monument was erected in 1939 but the official unveiling never took place because the world was too busy with war. It has stood, shrouded in sailcloth on St. John's Citadel Hill, a ghostly sentinel overlooking the harbor mouth.

It stands nine feet high and was a gift of the Canadian Marconi Company to the people of Newfoundland "to commemorate an outstanding event in the island's history and a new era in world communications."

It was on Dec. 12, 1901, that Marconi, Italian inventor and electrical engineer, started the world with his feat. He had received a signal from Poldhu on England's southwestern tip 1,900 miles from Newfoundland. The message consisted of the single letter "S" in Morse code and was received distinctly many times during the day's epoch-making experiments.

But the world at first was skeptical, of such magnitude was the claim. New York newspapers were hesitant to accept it and even Thomas Edison described it as a newspaper fake.

As the truth spread across the world, messages began to pour in from kings, princes and emperors. The limelight of the world was focused on Newfoundland and the inventor.

Oddly enough, Marconi chose Newfoundland for his experiments in response to a distant plea from its minister of fisheries, T. J. Murphy. The minister had published a chart illustrating scenes of 80 wrecked steamers and other vessels which had piled up on the island's

Plan to Restore Franklin House

LONDON. —The British Society for International Understanding has launched an appeal for funds to restore its headquarters, the Craven Street house where Benjamin Franklin lived from 1757 to 1775. Named "Benjamin Franklin House," the building is the last surviving home of Franklin while he was London agent of Pennsylvania, Georgia, New Jersey and Massachusetts. The society terms it "a unique symbol of British-American solidarity." Windows were broken during the blitz and ceilings were brought down but the foundations, walls and beautiful panelling are not damaged.

rocky shores. Getting in touch with Marconi, he sought erection of a wireless telegraphy station on the dangerous coast.

The inventor accepted the invitation, landed in St. John's early in December, 1901, and began setting up his equipment.

He had previously transmitted a message 225 miles. Now, he said, "I hope to accomplish the feat of sending messages 400 miles." A week later, he far outdid himself with reception of the signal from Poldhu.

NORTHERN HIGHWAY PREPARING FOR MOTORISTS—Here are the first pictures of the world's most famous highway in peace time dress. The great Alaskan highway, most of which is now being readied for all-out traffic. At present it is opened only to restricted civilian traffic. Costing $125,000,000, the 1,600-mile long highway was started in 1942, finished in October, 1943—actual construction time 7 months. This is America's last frontier. The road opens up one of the richest mineral areas in the world. Motoring along the gravel surfaced highway is excellent from Dawson Creek, B.C., to Fairbanks, Alaska—1,600 miles. Some of the thrills that await the anxious visitor to this country are virgin trout fishing, hunting for grizzly bear, caribou, moose, elk, deer and moose in a country that doesn't know what a "keep off" sign looks like. Go north, go north, go north. Above photo shows the Alaskan highway as it looks today. A gravel road traversing a country comparatively few white men have ever set foot on.

The fundamental nature of daily newspapers in daily life was pointed out recently by Clarence S. Brigham, director of the Antiquarian Society, when he said: "No history of a town or city can be written without recourse to its newspapers."

20 YEARS AGO

October 22, 1926

Shipment of the first carload of grain from Telkwa to Prince Rupert was heralded as a red-letter day for the Bulkley Valley. The car was loaded by Roy Wakefield, Telkwa farmer, and it was expected that more would follow.

A huge banquet was given by the citizens in honor of the first grain ship to enter the port of Prince Rupert. It was the Aden Maru, a Japanese vessel, whose officers and men were feasted royally. Chairman was Olof Hanson, president of the Board of Trade.

The Canadian National steamer Prince Charles was reported aground at Massett, according to word brought to the city from the Islands. She was under command of Capt. Neil McLean.

MIDDLESBROUGH, Eng. (C)—Ex-soldier M. Burns, blinded in Madagascar, has been appointed physiotherapist at the city hospital.

WAYNE AND SHUSTER—Canada's new comedy headliners are Johnny Wayne and Frank Shuster, left and right above. Wayne and Shuster first came to the nation's notice as acting-writing stars of the Canadian Army Show, but they have been a comedy team ever since high school and college days in Toronto. They were in Prince Rupert during the war.

per gallon, and must carry enough to take them 200 or 300 miles from one filling station to the next. Hazards are increased by landslides as at White River (top right), but curves and grades are gentle. The road, 24 to 36 feet wide, kept open by Canadian Army Engineers maintenance crews established in 20 permanent camps, passes streams

(lower left) where arctic grayling, trout and whitefish await the fisherman's cast. Of 700 bridges, the one over the Teslin River (centre) at Johnson's crossing, is the longest single structure. In nearby waters, Floyd Messer, Whitehorse prospector, pans for gold. One placer mine worked with bulldozers in the vicinity of the highway yields $2,800 every ten days. At mile 1016, a Dominion experimental station proves that wheat will flourish 1,000 miles north of the famous Peace River district.

DOGS UNABLE TO LOCATE MISSING MAN

The keen noses of three dogs were unsuccessful Monday in locating the body of Hans Jacobsen, believed to have died in the bush while on a hunting trip on Porcher Island three weeks ago.

The dogs were taken along at request of Roy Jacobsen, son of the missing man, who instituted the final hunt for his 73-year-old father after coming here from Winnipeg last week.

The search party is continuing the hunt today and will scour the bush until its members either find the body or satisfy themselves that it cannot be found.

Two boats, the Keno II, Capt. Ivor Eidsvick, with five other men aboard, and the police boat P.M.L. 15, left for Porcher Island Monday. Aboard the P.M.L. 15 were four policemen.

The elderly Jacobsen has not been seen since he entered the bush alone on Porcher Peninsula on October 4.

The boats are moored in Kitkatla Bay at the spot where the two boats carrying the deer hunting party of four men, of which Jacobsen was one, anchored to go hunting prior to Jacobsen's disappearance.

A consumer survey conducted recently in one U.S. centre revealed that 65 per cent of the women and 51 per cent of the men buy products from newspaper advertising.

VETERANS TAG EMPTY HOUSES

NEW PLYMOUTH, N.Z. — Novel action to prevent houses lying empty during the present acute shortage in New Zealand has been adopted by the New Plymouth Returned Servicemen's Association. It is photographing all the empty houses in the district and tagging them with the owner's name and address. It then displays the photographs for information of all war veterans who cannot get a house. The president, Murdoch Fraser said the action was not meant as a threat, but the executive felt that if the owners could hear at first hand stories it had heard of hardship experienced by war veterans, they would permit their houses to remain empty.

WAR'S WAKE IS HARD AND BUMPY

General Sherman, in a famous Nineteenth Century remark, relegated war to the nether depths but he never got around to delivering an opinion on post-war conditions in his day. Perhaps it is just as well that he is not alive to do so now.

Outstanding aftermath of the War between the States was a hoard of carpetbaggers whose greedy goings-on indicated that there must have been something to grab in the wake of devastation. Not so today.

Prince Rupert motorists, or would-be motorists who have waited a weary spell for their post-war cars were more than a little thrilled today to learn that a shipment had been sent to a local dealer. The thrill was nice while it lasted but it vanished quickly. Owing to the rubber workers' strike, some of the cars had been shipped without tires.

JAIL, STROKES FOR DEPRAVITY

VANCOUVER — Russell McNeil, 31, who during the last 15 years has been under prison sentences totalling 10 years, on Monday was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary and two whippings of 10 strokes of the paddle when he was convicted of living off the avails of prostitution.

11-YEAR-OLD EDITS PAPER

PRETORIA, South Africa — South Africa's youngest editor is an 11-year-old Pretoria boy who last April started a monthly paper called "The Children's Club Magazine." The paper has a circulation of 400 and Leon Menge, the editor, gives all the profits to the Pretoria Cripple Home.

Leon charges twopence (four cents) a copy and turns out the journal on a duplicating machine. He expects his circulation to rise to 1,000 before the end of the year.

The meritorious service of newspapermen during the war was recently recognized when, in the latest list of awards, the King honored 21 British war correspondents with the O.B.E.
