Headless Valley May Have Taken Its 14th Victim

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C. — Search by air of the legendary "Headless Valley" of the South Nahanni country, where 13 white men have disappeared since 1938, is planned in a hunt for John Paterson, 55-year old veteran prospector, missing for six weeks on a trip into the north wilderness. Two of the previous victims of the valley were found headless, but the mystery of their death was never solved.

COUNCIL WOULD MAKE DANUBE INTERNATIONAL

PARIS — The 21-power peace conference early today wrote into the Bulgarian peace treaty a provision to internationalize the Danube River, matching action taken Friday in the Romanian treaty. East and west powers split 15 to 6 over the matter.

TO FOREIGN MINISTERS

Earlier, the conference, failing to agree between Bulgaria and Greece, sent the problem back to the Foreign Minister's Council.

The Canadian representative, Brooke Claxton, said, "There is too much of a rush at the end." Although a great amount of work has been done, the time was too brief "to deal adequately" with five treaties in three languages—English, French and Russian.

Meanwhile, it was learned that a full-scale conference in Germany may be held in the spring or summer of 1947, possibly at Geneva, to attempt to establish a general policy toward Germany and work out a basis for a peace settlement.

Alfred Jodl Calm At Last Farewell

NUERNBERG — Col.-Gen. Alfred Jodl was sentenced to die on the gallows as a war criminal next week. Today he bade farewell to his wife in his tiny cell. The security officer at the Palace of Justice said Jodl was calm and tearless during the hour-long visit.

CANNED SALMON PRICE RISE SEEN

VANCOUVER — Possibility of an increase in the B.C. canned salmon price to the Canadian consumer was seen here as a result of a federal decision earlier in the year to not pay a subsidy to salmon packers. A spokesman for the industry said the increase in the ceiling price to packers for salmon sold on the domestic market has been authorized but it is not yet known if it would be handed on to the consumer.

Swedish Vessel Has Fire At Sea; Three Lives Lost

NEW YORK — A doctor and nurse have been placed aboard the Swedish motorship Kristina Thorden, aboard which a fire broke out last Friday. The ship is 800 miles off the coast of Scotland.

The transfer from the Norwegian liner Straverford to the Kristina Thorden over a rough sea was completed by members of the ROYAL CANADIAN MOUNTED POLICE PROVINCIAL GOVT LIBRARY June 31-41 of which three lives were under control and one of the dead was Commadore Walther Leroy Heiberg, former naval attache at the United States legislation in Stockholm.

EXPECTING NEW CONSTITUTION

PARIS — Observers predict that France will approve the proposed new constitution in tomorrow's referendum, despite General De Gaulle's warning that it would imperil the future of the nation.

Few feel that De Gaulle's opposition to the new basic law drafted for the Fourth Republic has given the referendum such an aspect of plebiscite on his behalf that the result cannot be foretold.

B.C. Will Oppose Application For Freight Rate Boost

VICTORIA — Premier John Hart said British Columbia would protest the proposal to increase Canadian freight rates. He said the Board of Transport Commissioners will be asked to delay their decision on the Canadian railways' application until they hear B.C.'s brief on equalization of freight rates.

NORTH ONTARIO LOGGERS STRIKE

TORONTO — Strike in bush operations of northern Ontario district of Cochrane and Thunder Bay began at midnight. It is not yet known how many of the 12,000 men employed in the camps have joined in the walkout. The number may not be known until next week, because of the lack of communications with the remote areas. One union spokesman reported earlier in the week that the men wanted wage increases, union recognition and improved living and working conditions.

VANCOUVER — Vancouver police commission on Friday instructed Police Chief A. G. McNeill to add more men to the police liquor squad if necessary to run down a bootlegger reported doing a big business selling cheap wine to high school students.

OTTAWA—Hon. J. L. Halsey, minister of finance, said here that price controls in Canada will continue as long as shortages exist. Busy Rebuilding Throughout China

Of the Chinese civil war, he said it was "bad, very bad, but far from hopeless!" However, the outstanding thing about China was not the civil strife but that 90 per cent of the people were rebuilding, following the war with Japan.

WE ARE FORTUNATE

HEAVILY LADEN freight trains heading east and west across Canada and ships plying our coasts and inland waterways today testify to the abundance of the Canadian farmer's produce as the Dominion prepares to celebrate its second peace-time Thanksgiving Day Monday.

But the bare spots on the pantry shelf and the ever-present ration book in the housewife's purse are eloquent reminders that while Canada's granary is full, her resources and those of other nations of the New World are strained by the needs of less fortunate peoples abroad.

Canadians may well be thankful that we will not lack food in the coming winter and that we are in a position to make a substantial contribution to areas in many parts of the world which are perilously close to the starvation level, if they have not already reached it.

With British crops hard-hit by disastrous late summer rains and many lands badly disorganized by the effects of war, the list of countries in need of outside aid reads almost like a roll-call of Europe and Asia.

Then let us gladly accept our rationing programs in good nature and give thanks that we are today among the more fortunate of this world's peoples.

THANKSGIVING DAY

A REGULAR thanksgiving holiday was first observed in Canada in 1879 when the Marquess of Lorne, then governor-general of the young Dominion, fixed November 6 as a day "to attend church and give thanks". Days of thanksgiving had been held earlier to celebrate specific occasions, usually British victories in battle.

The early French settlers held similar celebrations and on the capture of Quebec in 1759, the British held a service in the Ursuline chapel "to give thanks to Almighty God for victory." A similar service was held the following year to celebrate the fall of Montreal.

But Monday's holiday will be of a different nature. The Thanksgiving turkey has become one of the holiday's most significant features — especially in the minds of the young — and families take advantage of the long week-end to hold reunions around the festive dinner table.

From 1918 to 1930 the holiday was celebrated in conjunction with Armistice Day on Nov. 11 and took on a greater religious significance. But in 1931, in response to representations by First Great War veterans and other organizations, the latter date was set aside as Remembrance Day and Thanksgiving reverted to a Monday in October.

A day of thanksgiving for material blessings was first set aside by the Pilgrim Fathers who expressed their gratitude to God for their first New England harvest in 1621. In 1864 President Lincoln proclaimed the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day and this date is still adhered to in the United States.

SEEKS SPEEDUP FOR BUILDING

CARDIFF, Wales — Members of the Welsh parliamentary Labor group and trades union representatives are seeking a speedup in government plans for the construction of new factories in Wales.

These plants are a major factor in the Labor administration's full-employment program to eliminate the heavy unemployment which persisted in the principality between the wars.

After a Cardiff meeting, Cliff Prothro, secretary of the South Wales Regional Council of Labor, said: "We agreed that the government plans in themselves were all right, but we felt we should like to have more evidence of the plans being made operative."

Ness Edwards, parliamentary secretary to the labor ministry, said the building effort in the South Wales development area is "unparalleled."

"The total area of new projects planned is between 6,500,000 and 7,000,000 square feet," he added. "There are 100 factories in process of construction in Wales, covering an area of 3,900,000 square feet."

The problem, said Mr. Edwards, is to "provide building labor and materials" for the construction program.

Promote Future Of Welsh Towns

HAVERFORDWEST, Wales — Pembrokeshire Joint Planning Committee is studying a comprehensive program for the future of the towns of Pembroke and Pembroke Dock, aiming at a population of 20,000 compared with the present 12,000.

J. A. Price, county planning officer, drafted the scheme. "Pembroke Dock, created and ultimately abandoned by the government, is sadly lacking in industrial activity," he said, "but it is to be hoped that the promised assistance under the Distribution of Industries Bill will soon materialize and thus revitalize the area and attract even further industries."

Of Pembroke he said: "There seems to be great possibilities of fostering the tourist industry here, and most of many suggestions made for Pembroke have been put forward with this end in view."

LONDON — The new Hereditary King's Champion is Lieut. J. L. M. Dymoke, 20, who succeeds his father who has resigned.

ALASKA LURES QUEBEC WOMAN

MONTREAL — The famous "call of the wild" cannot compare with the call of Alaska, "something indescribable," says Bernadette Jean, principal of the Girls' Commercial School at Arvida, Que., who arrived here recently after spending three months with her brother Joseph Jean at Goodnews Bay, a mining village on the Bering Sea.

Joseph Jean is one of Alaska's pioneer prospectors.

During her Alaskan stay, Miss Jean visited the platinum mines at ultra-modern Platinum City, spent a few days at mining camps at Watamuse Creek, went through the salmon canneries at Cordova, and fished for "enormous" trout.

While visiting Anchorage, she was the guest of Mrs. Sydney Lawrence, wife of a well-known Alaskan painter.

The school principal said Alaska's summer climate is similar to that of the Saguenay district of Quebec but the cities are much warmer. While she was at Fairbanks the mercury reached 92 degrees.

Miss Jean had high praise for the Alaskan scenery and said pictures did not do justice to the midnight sun, "something that has to be seen to be believed."

DRIVER HITS MOOSE COW

Finding the little two year old was fatally injured, he had the good sense to put it out of misery and bleed it. His car was slightly damaged. Investigation by Game Warden Milum substantiated the statement of the traveller.

BOOK WEEK SET OPENING NOV. 2

TORONTO — Tribute will be paid to Canada's writers next month during Canadian Book Week, sponsored by the Canadian Authors Association to gain recognition for native talent.

Branches of the association across Canada will join publishers, booksellers, libraries and schools November 2 to November 9 in planning displays of Canadian work and illustrated talks and lectures by Canadian authors and critics.

Mrs. May Pashley Harris of the association's Windsor, Ont., branch, national convener of the Book Week, said Canadians had long been accused of harsh treatment and neglect of their native literature. Librarians and booksellers reported that a book by a Canadian writer is never judged by the same standards as one written by an outsider.

Mrs. Pashley said that in recent years Canadian writers have come to the forefront of the literary world. She cited "Two Solitudes" by Hugh MacLennan of Montreal and Halifax and "Earth and High Heaven" by Gwethalyn Graham of Montreal as outstanding recent works of Canadian fiction and mentioned "Gauntlet to Overlord" by Canadian Press war correspondent Ross Munro which had "retained a high place" in the field of war reporting.

Questions and Answers

GENERAL

Q What are Canada Savings Bonds?
A Canada Savings Bonds are the successor to Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates. They are your country's promise to return your money to you at any time and to pay you interest at an attractive rate.

Q Why are Canada Savings Bonds being offered?
A Because during the war, millions of Canadians learned the savings habit by buying Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates. A recent survey shows that 82% of them want to keep on saving by a similar plan.

Q Is the Government selling Canada Savings Bonds just to raise money?
A No. Borrowing needs of the Government can be met by other types of loans. The main purpose of the Canada Savings Bond is to provide Canadians with a convenient way to continue this kind of saving and investment in peacetime.

Q Is there any limit to the amount of Canada Savings Bonds that one person may hold? If so, why?
A Yes. There is a limit of $2000 for each individual, but each member of a family may hold bonds up to the limit.

Q What is the price of Canada Savings Bonds?
A 100%. That is, a $100 bond costs $100. If payment is not completed on or before November 15th, 1946, interest will be added to the purchase price.

Q In what denominations are Canada Savings Bonds available?
A $50, $100, $500 and $1,000.

CASHING OF BONDS

Q Can I cash my bond at any time before November 1, 1956?
A Yes, any branch in Canada of any chartered bank will cash your bond immediately at full face value, plus interest at 2 3/4%, upon your identification as the registered holder.

Q Can Canada Savings Bonds be assigned or transferred?
A They can be cashed, but not assigned or transferred. This is necessary to prevent any individual from acquiring more than the authorized limit.

INTEREST COUPONS

Q What interest is paid on Canada Savings Bonds?
A 2 3/4%—payable yearly on November 1st from 1947 to 1956, by coupon cashable without charge at any branch in Canada of any bank.

Q Are interest coupons registered?
A No. They are payable to bearer.

REGISTRATION PROTECTION

Q Why is it necessary to register Canada Savings Bonds?
A Registration gives protection in case your bond is lost, stolen or destroyed. It is also the simplest way to ensure that individuals do not hold more than the $2,000 limit.

Q In whose name can Canada Savings Bonds be registered?
A They can be registered only in the name of one individual, adult or minor, up to the amount of the authorized limit.

Q Can Canada Savings Bonds be registered in the name of a child be cashed?
A Yes. Banks are familiar with the necessary regulations.

Q Can Canada Savings Bonds be assigned or transferred?
A Yes, any bank will supply the necessary information.

Q Can I replace my Canada Savings Bond if they are lost, stolen or destroyed?
A Yes. It is wise, however, to keep your Canada Savings Bonds in a safe place, as you may have any other valuable documents. In case of loss you should immediately notify the branch of Canada, Ottawa, of the circumstances.

HOW, WHEN AND WHERE TO BUY

Q Where can I buy Canada Savings Bonds?
A At any branch of a bank or from an authorized investment dealer, stock broker, trust or loan company—or through the payroll savings plan if this is in operation at your place of employment.

Q How do I pay for Canada Savings Bonds?
A In any of the following three ways:
1. By payment in full at time of purchase.
2. By monthly instalments through bank, trust or loan company.
3. By regular deductions from payroll where employers operate the Payroll Savings Plan.

COME TO Church

SATURDAY SERMON

A THANKSGIVING MEDITATION

By REV. A. F. MACSWEEN, First Presbyterian Church

Psalm 126:26 — He that goeth forth weeping, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him.

Thanksgiving-day, I fear,
If one the solemn truth must touch,
Is celebrated, not so much
To thank the Lord for blessings o'er,
As for the sake of getting more!

The poet is very frank, but he is not altogether accurate, for Thanksgiving to some at least has a real and religious meaning, and they find the words of the psalmist more congenial.

A word about the background of the psalm may not be amiss. The Hebrews had fallen upon evil days.

Weakened by internal strife and corruption, they were unable to resist the onrush of a powerful invader, and soon were carried off as slave labor. In exile they struggled to retain their identity, and to preserve their religious concepts and their moral standards. But it was not easy, and their literature reflects their weariness: "by the rivers of Babylon we sat down and wept—how can we sing the Lord's song in a strange land?"

And then, unexpectedly, their hopes were rewarded. Their masters were swept away by the mighty Persian empire, whose king, Darius, promptly issued a decree liberating the slaves and exiles. The relief was so great, and so sudden, that they were astonished. The years of toil and suffering were past, their faith and freedom were restored, and once more they could return to their native land. "When the Lord turned again the captivity of Zion, we were like them that dream, our mouth was filled with laughter and our tongue with singing." And they reflected on the outcome of the long years now past; "they that sow in tears shall reap in joy. He that goeth forth weeping, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him."

Harvest thanksgiving is a time for rejoicing. But it is the outcome of a period which may have been very hard and required faith and sacrifice. "I never saw people sowing in tears exactly," writes one author, "but I have often enough known them to do it in fear and distress sufficient to draw a tear from any eye. In seasons of great scarcity the poor peasants part in sorrow with every measure of the precious seed cast into the ground. It is like taking the bread out of the mouths of their children." Yet the harvest they shall reap depends on the quantity and the quality of their sowing. It is always so. He who sows meagerly shall reap a meager harvest; he who sows sacrificially, weeping, shall come back with rejoicing, bearing his sheaves with him.

For the harvest always comes. "And whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." The men who sowed Europe with fire and death are today reaping the bitter fruit. Those who knelt down outside to pray for their recovery. And in every nation on earth today, except Tibet and Afghanistan, men and women are giving thanks to the God who so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, and are learning to walk in the ways of the Prince of Peace.

In our freedom from want and fear we have great cause for thanksgiving. But we must not forget the past, with its record of faith and courage, nor must we lose sight of the future, and of the heights that we shall yet attain to by the grace of God. If the goal seems distant, and the struggle long and grievous, let the message of harvest reassurance you: "he that goeth forth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him."

1000 WATT — Your Electric Servant

"LET'S BE THANKFUL! MAYBE THE WORLD IS IN AN ATOMIC WHIRL, BUT WE'VE A LOT TO BE THANKFUL FOR..."

This year's harvest promises plenty of food next winter. But whether you're roasting a plump turkey or simmering vegetables, an electric range will do a finer, cleaner job!

Turkey at its best!
Choice, tender white meat — crisply-browned drumsticks...
Cooked the electric, time-saving way!

Dietitians will tell you that little water should be used in cooking vegetables and many other foods, but this requires careful cooking. Electric cooking is thermostatically controlled. There are no sudden flareups or reduction in heat, but steady even cooking. Plan now to buy an electric range or other electric appliances as they become available.

NORTHERN BRITISH COLUMBIA POWER COMPANY LIMITED

CALIFORNIA PARTY ON MOOSE HUNT

BURNS LAKE—Dr. Joseph C. Lorenz, Dr. W. H. Martin and Harry G. Frerichs, all of Burlingame, California, and "Bud" Barnes, rancher of Covello, Cal., are in the district on a hunting trip.

Their guides were Sam Eakin and Slim Henry, with Osear Schmidt of Vanderhoof as cook.

The party had a most successful hunt as each one of the party bagged his moose, an exceptional head falling to the gun of Bud Barnes.

On the early part of the trip rainy weather prevailed. Reaching the Portage between Whitesall Lake and the Big Eutsuk they found the portage track in good condition and the grade greatly improved, but a new car for portaging the boats is a prime necessity.

Mr. Martin missed a big bull moose on the first day out, and on the second day overshot a billy goat, firing 24 shots. It was then he discovered his telescope sight had been displaced slightly while making the portage.

Harry G. Frerichs missed a moose in the failing light of evening and had to make a hurried camp without blankets or grub. He returned to camp at noon the next day, tired and hungry. Returning across the portage, they returned down the Tahtsa river, thence up the Tahtsa, building a new camp some 12 miles upstream. There the kill of four moose was made.

Returning home with their bag they reached the Henry ranch in time to attend the wedding of Jimmy Morgan and drink a toast to his charming bride. No meat was wasted. All was dressed, loaded in the trailer and is on the way to California. The party has arranged to return next fall.

HOOP TALK

After a lapse of nearly seven years, organized basketball will return to the city on Saturday night of this week when the Prince Rupert Basketball Association opens the 1946-47 season at the Civic Centre gym.

Some basketball has been played in the interim in the form of all-star shows against outside competition in which games we took a backseat to few teams but as far as regular commercial league operations go there just haven't been any. We have had little in the junior or intermediate ranks outside of the B. Me-Hi teams which have been kept in trim by the efforts of coach Alex Bill and this year will see no less than four junior outfits and three intermediate.

Many sports fans who will take in the games this winter will be unaware of the work that has been put in on the various teams and should feel proud of their city when they consider the enthusiasm displayed by all concerned in the operation of the league. Coaches such as Wally Landon, Syd Woodside, young Bud Pierce and Maurice Teng as patient a foursome as is to be found anywhere, are the men behind the scene and have been spending their evenings with their charges for over six weeks now getting them in readiness for the winter's play. Their teams, the juniors, are the most important when everything is considered as they are teams that must produce to keep the sport alive.

On the intermediate front we have Bobby Houston, George Vieveck and of course Alex Bill tearing their hair while they have it to tear and doing a job of which they can be proud. Bobby Houston has been confined to hospital and his home for the past week and rather than miss anything his Macey's gang have been visiting his home for paper talks on do's and dont's of the game. Bob, by the way, will be missed by his 99 buddies on Saturday night, but will be on the job, minus his tonsils, for the second game on the following Saturday.

Yes it looks like our year here in the north and we have the talent on hand to make it our year. We have those three intermediate teams that will be plying their hearts out for the right to meet the Vancouver College sometime later in the year and three senior teams battling it out for the right to represent Prince Rupert in the provincial playoffs for the senior B. C. championship.

Dr. Montgomery, former U.B.C. coach, will trot a gang of youngsters sponsored by Carl Zarelli, the popular inn-keeper into the senior league of three teams and great things are expected of his charges when combined with his knowledge of the game.

We have of course, chaps around town like Art Murray that never seem to have regard for names or reputations and this year Murray promised defeat to not only the other two teams in the league but to the ultimate victors in the southern senior B playoffs. "We have had teams here before with big names and big name players and we have sent them home with their heads down and this year we mean business more than ever" states the appeal of the dogs in the evenings. McConnell believes the Football Association is missing a "great chance" if it doesn't authorize soccer under the lights. But his idea was tried out 14 years ago when two Arsenal sides played a floodlit match at Highbury with a white ball. There was another test at London's White City stadium.

The experts, directors, managers and players were agreed on the possibilities of the venture if it were done in a big way. Snags, chiefly expenses, finally blacked out the floodlights and the idea was pigeon-holed. Liverpool played five matches under the lights during its North America tour and everyone—officials, players and the crowd—were satisfied, he says. "Soccer is booming all right, but we must do something to challenge

LEAGUE SOCCER BY FLOODLIGHT BEING STUDIED

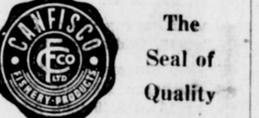

LONDON, ©—Bill McConnell, chairman of the Liverpool football club which toured Canada and the United States this summer, believes he has a substitute for the tremendous appeal of greyhound racing in the evenings. It's league soccer by floodlight.

Such popular faces as Jarvis McLeod, collector of customs, E. J. (Fitz) Fitzpatrick, public works superintendent, Jack McIntosh, Harry Arney, Algie Hunter, Bill Beynon and of course Mrs. "Ma" Dickens will be looked for this Saturday night when the whistle goes to start off the season, but this year there will be many others. It won't be like the old days when your own blanket was a necessity, everything is nice and cosy down at Don Forward's sports emporium and its going to be kept like that if you all get out and aboard the bandwagon for your favorites.

So there you have it sport fans. You have made this little city of ours "The best darned sporting town in America" and that's the way we want to keep it.

CHIVALRY IS REVERSED AT CAMBRAI BALL

Chivalry took a reverse turn last night at the Cambrai Chapter, I.O.E.E., Spinsters' Spree in the Civic Centre auditorium when the ladies took the initiative in extending courtesy to their trouser-clad partners.

No digging down in the old wallet for tickets by the gentlemen, forsooth, nor no checking of coats and hats at the doorway. Wearing gallantry like well-fitting garments, the ladies did the usual masculine chores, including asking for dances.

Once they got used to the idea, the boys enjoyed the novelty no end.

A good crowd attended the function, dancing to music by the Esquires orchestra.

Many of the men even wore boutonnieres, presented by their partners as figurative corsages.

The Cambrai Chapter committee in charge of the affair consisted of Mrs. William Noble, Mrs.

Teen Town Voters Cast Their Ballots Today

The political destiny of Teen Town was decided this afternoon as scores of the city's young people cast votes for their choice for Mayor, City Clerk and Chief Constable.

Aldermanic elections were forestalled by filling the Board of Aldermen by acclamation on nomination day ten days ago.

Contesting the mayoral seat is Mayor Mel Thompson, seeking re-election on his record and as head of the Old Reliable Party, a political institution claiming the grandeur of a year's administrative experience.

Challenging the established order and leading the New Party which claims more progressive tendencies in teen age affairs, is mayoralty candidate Reg Lavigne, a popular leader at Booth Memorial High School.

Winners of the elections are due to be announced tonight.

Running mates for Mayor Thompson are Miss Mickey Murray, who is seeking re-election as city clerk, and Police Chief Bob McChesney, who has campaigned for a return to office.

With candidate Reg Lavigne on the New Party ticket is Miss Nina Youngman, running for city clerk, and Ole Skog for police chief.

Candidates and their supporters have thundered their platforms to the electorate during the last week in the liveliest campaign in Teen Town history.

Acclaimed members of the Board of Aldermen are Betty Hamilton, Eddie Ciecone, Vina Lavigne, Fred Grimble, Rosaline Thain, John Currie and Bill Anderson.

Voting took place this afternoon in the Civic Centre when three polling booths opened at 2 o'clock. Polling closes at 10 o'clock tonight.

Parliamentary Reporters Made Orators Great

The Press Gallery of the British House of Commons is a historic political institution. It is a self-governing body, with its own conventions, code of behavior and traditions resting, like everything else connected with Parliament, on the slow growth of centuries. Reports had not actually a special gallery to themselves before 1835, but long before then parliamentary debates were "reported," usually from gossip, memory or imagination.

E. R. Thompson, speaking to overseas listeners to the BBC, recalled recently that the great Samuel Johnson, as a starving young scholar, was employed as a hack-writer to work up rough notes and jottings on the parliamentary debates into full reports for a newspaper. At the most he had a few jottings but from these he produced magnificent, rolling Johnsonian oratory. Years afterwards, at a dinner party given by Foote, the actor, in 1770, someone was praising a great oration delivered by the elder Pitt 30 years before. Johnson, who was among the guests, sat silent for a while, then growled out: "That speech I wrote in a garret in Exeter Street."

Another famous reporter was "Memory" Woodfall, who was born exactly 200 years ago and became a celebrity, almost a parliamentary institution. He used to sit by the hour through the debates with his eyes closed and his hands clasped over his stick, taking never a note. All he ever ate was a hard-boiled egg, the shell of which he peeled off into his hat. Then, at the adjournment he would walk to his newspaper office and there produce a report of the debates entirely from memory. Many other distinguished writers have been parliamentary reporters but the greatest of them all was Charles Dickens, who was incidentally an expert shorthand writer and one of the first of the new school of reporters who took their notes in shorthand instead of long-hand.
