So far there is no sign of a strong third party. At the last election in 1943 two other fairly large groups contested many of the seats. One was the Democratic Labor party, formed by J. A. #### PONTIAC BY-ELECTION

EVEN THE MOST ARDENT of Liberals cannot dismiss the surprise result of the federal by-election in the Quebec riding of Pontiac as an insignificant event politically. It could have been no fluke that a Liberal plurality of seven thousand since the general election last year should have been dissipated in the smaller poll of a by-election leaving 500 to spare for the election of a Social Crediter.

Whatever the direct reason for Real Caouette's election, the outstanding thing about the result is the defeat of the government candidate at this time in a seat that for thirty years had done nothing else but elect Liberal members. It does not appear to speak very highly for the current strength of the government in the old stronghold province.

As for other parties nothing much in the way of commentary can be offered. Progressive-Conservatives appear to have made a strong run for them in that riding which, displayed rightist tendencies. C.C.F. and Labor-Progressives, which ran evidently for propaganda purposes, were not a factor.

SPEAKING OF HOMEWORK

IT WAS WELL SAID by H. N. Mc-Corkindale, the municipal superintendent of schools in Vancouver, that Teen Town activities had better be confined to Friday and Saturday nights so that the students may spend the week-day evenings, as they should do, on their homework.

It may be a little old-fashioned, in the minds of the teen-agers at least, to think that the week-day evenings should be devoted to the homework but, nevertheless, it does seem that of late that there has been too much extraneous activity for the good of the real purpose of student life.

What Mr. McCorkindale says needed to be said and it is applicable not only in Vancouver although teen age activities may not be the

and that Prince Rupert, while keeping up a vigorous fight for things it considers its due and right, should not accept the belief that all the rest of the world is against it. Doubtless, powerful interests in the past have not given us the sympathetic and clear-cut support they may have. Indeed, had we been accorded co-operation on all occasions, we might have been better off today. All of which might well remind us that, if we were able to get along with the rest of the world and work together with it in the advancement of common aims, we might make some headway ourselves. Possibly, a little co-operation at times instead of trying to get it alone all the time might get us places. For instance, how much better it would be if the people of Prince Rupert and Prince George from here to the east and the people of Prince Rupert to Vancouver, from north to south, would try to come to some sort of agreement on mutual development of the country instead of pulling against each other in purely sectional considerations.

RUSSIA'S PLOT

Editor, Daily News: Has anyone thought of the consequences of the debate now going on among the big nations about the port of Trieste on the Adriatic Sea? I am of the opinion there is a far reaching plot that has never been attempted before and is of vital interest to the whole white race as it happens to be at the only land route to Italy from the East. And Russia is very near it. Everyone knows of her wish to expand westward. A port will mean a naval base later and Africa.

The real danger is of Russia getting control of Palestine, the seat of the Protestant religion. What that means to the white races would be like cutting off the root of a plant.

Turkey is again the seat of the Moslem religion which, turn, controls near one-quarter of the population of the world.

In other countries the church is separate from the government. "The church is a law unto itself." Therefore the white races of the world are in danger of losing the right of free worship that millions have fought and died for down through the years. Can anyone picture those three points in the world under the control of another country that has no religion herself? # WINTER HERE

Pre-season plans of the Prince Rupert Basketball Association give promise that both players and fans are in for a panner season. Sixteen teams are already paration for the gala opening on October 12.

The most important pre-season announcement from the Association's executive is that a basketball school, under the direction of Dr. G. E. H. Montgomery, one of the west's best known basketball coaches, is to be conducted in the Civic Centre starting Wednesday, September 25 and continuing each Wednesday evening until the season opens.

Montgomery will cover such second syllable.

fields of interest as coaching. playing, officiating and play situations. Arrangements are being made for a competent official referee to go into some finer points of rule interpretation.

The school should be of benefit to all players regardless of their experience or ability and preslents a golden opportunity for anyone wishing to improve their working out strenuously in pre- game or appreciation for the

Mrs. Anne Elitot and Leo Brookes Are United

TERRACE - St. Matthew's Anglican Church was the scene of a quiet wedding of much interest on Saturday evening when Mrs. Anne Elliot, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Rutt of Tor onto, became the bride of Leo Brookes, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Brookes of Terrace. Rev. R. Hills officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride appeared lovely in a smart dressmaker suit of Elizabeth blue with matching brown accessories. Bridesmaid was Miss Eileen West who wore a becoming tweed suit. Harold Smith was best man. Following the service, a the happy couple went to the bride's home on Eby Road where a delicious luncheon was served.

Unusual Story in "Sentimental Jeurney" with John Payne and Maureen O'Hara

Drama of the tender, poignant type in a heart-warming story of modern family type features the current offering "Sentimental Journey" at the Capitol Cedric Hardwicke, Glenn Lan-Theatre. The picture has been delighting theatre-goers during Trudy Marshall and Ruth Nelson. the past two days and concludes its engagement with this eve- ----ning's showings. Incidentally, the presentation of this picture marks the new showing schedule of a single afternoon matinee Local movie patrons seem to be needily additional themselves to readily adjusting themselves to the change.

The quite unusual story of "Sentimental Journey" concerns the career of John Payne, busy show producer, after the sudden illness of his actress-wife, beautiful Maureen O'Hara, and the finding of the little nine-year old girl, Connie Marshall, who is to become their adopted child. Dramatic circumstances led to the death of Miss O'Hara after she bravely tries to carry on, the story developing into a beautifully happy ending.

Other important members of the cast in "Sentimental Journey" are William Bendix, Sir
