FIRST CANADIAN WARSHIP SAILS AROUND CAPE HORN—Another interesting episode was added to the history of the Royal Canadian Navy when the cruiser H.M.C.S. Uganda, became the first Canadian warship to sail around Cape Horn. So that it might be said literally that Uganda had 'sailed' around The Horn, the ship's company rigged three sails, one forward, one amidships, and one aft. Any help the 72,500-horsepower engines of the ship gave was merely incidental. During the passage, Uganda paused for her picture, taken from the ship's whaler. The sky was overcast but the weather was unusually mild and calm for this notorious stretch of water.

H.M.C.S. CHARLOTTETOWN ON TWO-DAY VISIT TO PRINCE RUPERT

The Canadian frigate H. M. C. S. Charlottetown, veteran of the north Atlantic and Mediterranean convoys, paid an unannounced call at Prince Rupert this morning in the course of a training cruise along the north coast.

Carrying 100 students from the University Naval Training Divisions of the Universities of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, Charlottetown will stay here until Monday morning, when she will proceed north to Ketchikan. In command of Lieut. John Wolfenden, R.C.N., of Vancouver, the 206-foot vessel left Esquimalt last Tuesday, stopping at Port Alberni on her way north. She docked at the C.N.R. wharf at 9 o'clock this morning. This is the first of three scheduled cruises which the Charlottetown will take on the north coast this summer. On her second cruise she will stop here on May 30, and on her third cruise she will arrive at Prince Rupert on June 4.

Lieut. Wolfenden said this morning that when his vessel stops here on May 30 he will take the members of the Prince Rupert Corps of Sea Cadets on a cruise of Chatham Sound, providing arrangements can be made with the local cadet corps. While Lieut. Wolfenden paid an official call to Mayor H. M. Daggett at the city hall at 11 o'clock this morning, members of the Navy League and Lieut.-Commander Eddy, naval officer commanding here, were making hurried arrangements for entertainment for the complement of the vessel tonight.

ORIGIN OF FIRE IS NOT KNOWN

Further Particulars of Blaze Which Visited Native Village This Week Origin of the fire at Port Simpson on Thursday which destroyed fire residences and two beach shacks on the Rose Island section of the village has not been definitely ascertained but it is believed to have started on the roof of the house of William Cooper. The destroyed houses were close together just to the left of the bridge that crosses from the main village to the island. The houses lost were those of William Cooper, Henry Gray, Ethel Wesley, Harry Brooks and Joshua Pryce. Houses and all contents were lost. Slight damage was done to the home of Mrs. Ethel Ross. D. W. Nixon and J. A. Findlay of the local Indian Office are back from Port Simpson where they made an investigation following the fire.

The South Isn't So Hot At That

Knowledge that Prince Rupert had the highest temperature on the coast Thursday was tempered in many local quarters by the feeling that the climate in some parts of the south isn't what it is cracked up to be anyway. The city had a maximum of 75 degrees Thursday which made it the warmest day so far this year—and, incidentally, the second warmest day in the last 12 months. Temperature on May 27, 1945, reached 75 degrees, while the only warmer day was August 22, when it hit 80 degrees.

THE WEATHER Synopsis

Clear weather has been general over the province for the past 24 hours. Temperatures were generally above normal with 75 reported at Nanaimo, 72 at Vancouver and 71 at Victoria. Williams Lake was high in the interior with 87 reported. Continued clear weather is expected for the next 24 hours except for fog along the west coast area during early morning. Prince Rupert, Queen Charlottes and North Coast—Clear except for drifting fog prior to mid-morning. Northwest winds 20 miles per hour exposed areas, elsewhere 10 miles per hour. Maximum today, Port Hardy 62, Massett 60, Prince Rupert 70.

Man Shot on Gov't Boat

Elmer Rice Found Dead on Lillian D. After Report Elmer Rice, engineer of the government forestry boat Lillian D., was found dead in the engine room of the vessel shortly before noon today by other crew members who rushed down after hearing a gun explosion in the engine room as the boat was being docked at the McLean shipyard at Seal Cove. Rice was found dead of a gunshot wound in the head. It is expected that an investigation into his death will be conducted by Coroner M. M. Stephens who is due to return to the city tonight from a trip to Hazelton. About 45 years of age, Rice had been engineer on the Lillian D. for the last two years. He was also a partner in a local construction firm. He had been in the city about four years. The Lillian D. had just docked at the McLean boat yards at Seal Cove, coming from her berth at the Armour Salvage floats, when other crew members heard a gunshot in the engine room. They rushed down and found Rice lying beside the engine. A heavy calibre gun lay nearby. He had been alone in the engine room. Rice was born at Bellingham, Washington, but spent many years at Pigeon Lake, Alberta. He came here about four years ago, joining a construction firm as a partner shortly afterward. He was unmarried and is said to be survived by one sister.

The operators yesterday asked for the appointment of a conciliation board but the Union announced its refusal. The Union demands wage increase, closed shop and check-off.

PRESSURE IS EASED

Settlement of Coal Strike Hoped to Be in Offing—Some Local Unions Refuse To Resume Work WASHINGTON, D. C. — The two-weeks truce in the soft coal strike eased the crippling pressure on United States economy today and raised hopes that settlement is in the offing. President Truman put employers and workers on notice that he wanted them to work out an agreement in the next five days. Indications are that most if not all strike emergency measures to conserve dwindling fuel supplies will be continued until long-range coal becomes more effective. Two Pennsylvania mine union locals refused to return to work under the truce proposed by John L. Lewis. Other locals are meeting today to consider their attitudes.

Iran Means Aryan

A thousand years before Christ, in Aryan, the Land of the Aryan, Zoroaster and his followers bowed down to worship fire. Their shrine was a burning spring—an oil well. And far back in the mists and myths of antiquity, Prometheus, who brought fire to mortals, was chained to a rock in the Persian Caucasus.

Today, it is a burning issue of the moment whether Iranian oil is for the lamps of Great Britain or for the lamps of Soviet Russia.

To the Iranians or Persians, Iran means Aryan, and, in fact they were the first of the great Aryan language group of peoples to settle down, adopt civilization and confine their worship to one god. The Biblical Elam, Iran has many another claim to fame. It is the home of the peach, the melon, the cucumber, the cherry, the rose, the wheat plant and the poplar. Persia, however, is not the home of the Persian cat. Although popular in Western Iran, the breed originated in Turkey.

Iran, according to an old Persian saying, has seven climates. Once upon a time it undoubtedly had even more, stretching as it did from the Indus to the Danube, from the Oxus to the Nile. But Persia, with reason, bears the name "Crossroads of the World," conquered in turn by Alexander, the Arabs, the Turks, the Mongols—first under Jenghiz Khan, again under Tamurlane. In more recent times, Iran has been squeezed by the big powers and divided willy-nilly into spheres of influence.

Anglo-Russian rivalry in Iran is no overnight affair, nor a communist nor anti-communist scare. For more than 300 years Britain has acted as Persian Gulf policeman. For to Britain, Iran means India, and to protect that empire from Russia, she long ago built up Iran, Turkey and Afghanistan as buffers. Their rivalry led in 1907 to a division of Persia into spheres of influence with Czarist Russia winning the whole of northern Persia, and Britain taking over a triangle of southeastern Persia. The balance of the nation was thoughtfully left to the Persians themselves who didn't acquiesce to the convention of five years.

Today, of course, Iran has still another meaning: oil, its chief product and chief export. Bulk of its imports come from Soviet Russia. Bulk of its exports go to Britain and Russia. Next to oil, a British concession, the most important product and export are the famed Persian rugs and carpets, still woven on hand looms. Virtually untapped are other rich minerals, such as lead, copper, coal, iron, zinc, manganese, turquoise and mercury.

Petroleum, Iran's most important mineral, has an amazing history. Oil is a paradox. In its natural crude state, ranging in color from blackish to brown to yellow to green to colorless, oil is virtually useless. Refined it has innumerable uses: gasoline, kerosene, diesel fuel, fuel oil, lubricants, asphalt, waxes, paints, insecticides, cosmetics, medicines, alcohols, glycerines, resins, plastics, textiles, anesthetics, synthetic rubber.

Petroleum was known in ancient times and used 4,000 years before Christ. In Persia Egypt and elsewhere, petroleum was used as building material, for fuel in religious rites, as an embalming material, and for medicine.

By the laws of the Medes and Persians, once the word of a King was uttered, it was never to be broken. Petroleum, however, is older than Iran, as old as the earth itself—two billion years.

Prince Rupert's Chance

Prince Rupert will have a real opportunity to promote local industrial development possibilities, recognition of which we have striven for so long, when heads of the provincial Department of Trade and Industry, together with Brigadier Wyman, industrial agent of the Canadian National Railways, come to the city on June 7 for the express purpose of hearing representations along this line. It is essentially a fact-finding mission, the object of which is to obtain first hand information and ideas that will be duly assembled with the object of contacting interests to undertake their development. The provincial government is to be commended indeed on this constructive move and it will be up to Prince Rupert to get busy at once in preparation to take full advantage of it. We have been talking about our resources awaiting development by the application of organized capital. Now we are going to have the chance to prove what we have with the prospect of obtaining some real results.

Fortunately enough, a start was made in this direction only recently when briefs were prepared to be taken south by the mayor to present to the government at Victoria. What has already been done will be supplemented by the efforts of a local sub-committee, all to be presented through the local committee on post-war reconstruction which has been active for some time.

It is satisfactory to note that the railway company is actively co-operating with the provincial department. The information to be obtained will be of much value to the railway in any efforts it may have in mind making towards developing business and revenue for its line running through central British Columbia to the well-equipped and strategic port of Prince Rupert.

Article XIV of the new French Constitution deals with the press as follows: "Every man is free to speak, write, print and publish; he can by means of the press or any other manner express, diffuse and defend any opinion in such measure as it does not abuse this right, notably as it does not violate freedoms guaranteed by the present declaration or injure the reputation of another person. No manifestation of opinion can be imposed on anyone."

SATURDAY SERMON

(By REV. B. S. PROCKTER)

The changed conditions under which we live from those in the ancient world have led many of us to wonder to what extent the law of tithe, so frequently mentioned in the Old Testament, is to be observed by us.

That it has some application is still acknowledged by the laws of Canada inasmuch as one-tenth of our income is held to be not taxable if it is bestowed for religious and charitable purposes. However, much that came within the scope of the distribution of the tithe in ancient times now comes under the heading of the obligation of the community out of the taxes collected. The position of the fatherless and the widow is now regarded in our own land as a community responsibility and he reasons for this are commonly understood to be "sensible" or "good business" reasons other than the Biblical reason that our Heavenly Father is particularly concerned about such unfortunate people.

Nevertheless, there remain plenty of just and needful calls upon our charity for the alleviation of human misery. There remains, moreover, the supreme need to keep on training and teaching people in the knowledge and love of God through the Church for it is only this knowledge and love which validates our pity and compassion for one another. Otherwise our interest in other people's troubles quickly limits itself to our own little group and the "sensible" argument with regard to unfortunates in whom we have no interest can quite easily be that they should either be killed off or

WE ARE CONGRATULATED

Editor, Daily News—

One can differ considerably with the editorial policy of the News concerning international affairs but the News deserves the congratulations of every honest citizen for its splendid editorial May 9 entitled "Back to Old Times."

This editorial indicates that the News has the moral integrity to speak up in public about the raw deal Prince Rupert is being served as a reward for its contribution to the war effort.

One of the worst features about the closing up of the dry dock is the calculated deception which was practised by those in high places. It should be apparent to all by now that this shutdown was decided upon long before our delegation went to Ottawa last fall. Yet to the delegation and to scores of representations by mail and wire since then Ottawa and the C.N.R. studiously pretended that the matter was being given "careful consideration," that there was hope of eventual contracts. Meanwhile the men were being steadily laid off until we could be presented with the accomplished fact. This type of hypocrisy shows an utter contempt for the interests of the people of Prince Rupert and Canada.

And all through the winter we had local spokesmen who exerted themselves to put the brakes on the kind of protest and demonstration to Ottawa that could get results. "Wait and see what respectful submissions" can do, was their policy.

When the final letdown came from Crevier none of these people could be found even then to carry through a strong protest. There are plenty who will curse on street corners and swear in committee rooms but few who will stand up and tell those in authority the same kind of thing. "What good will it do?" they ask. I believe that whether any results were immediately obtained or not, common decency requires the protest be made. When a gross injustice has been perpetrated, indefensible by any standard of fair dealing or respect for the welfare of our country, then, certainly every honest citizen should stand up and say so. What kind of repercussions are involved in the cry dock question that hold back people from making the same kind of outcry to Ottawa that went up when the Civic Centre appeared in danger?

Similarly the fight must be carried on for the grain elevator and other issues mentioned in your editorial.

The "Jobs for All Association" showed its dignity, honesty and decency as a citizens' body when it took its stand with picket cards in front of the C.N.R. offices. The News is to be thanked for posing the question "Are we satisfied with the way things are going? Are we going to sit back and take it?"

The answer to this question can only be given by the people of Prince Rupert—in action, not covert words. Let us see whether there are enough red-blooded men and women in town to give the question the kind of answer it deserves—and by so doing assure to this town the future it richly deserves.

MUSKOX EXERCISE NEARS END OF LONG TREK—The Canadian Army's 3,000-mile Muskox exercise is rapidly nearing the end of its long trek. On Saturday, May 4, the moving force, consisting of ten snowmobiles, rolling into Grande Prairie, Alberta, to a rousing welcome. The force spent the night there and on Sunday prepared to cover the remaining 300 miles by train to Edmonton, Alta. The decision to cover the remaining distance by train was reached on Saturday when it became apparent that extensive and permanent damage would result from proceeding further over the hot, dusty Alcan Highway. It was also seen that a longer run had no further lessons to teach. Pictured above is Col. J. T. Wilson, director of Operational Research at Ottawa and deputy director of Muskox exercise (on the left) as he greeted the commander of the moving force, Lt.-Col. P. D. Baird of Montreal, pictured on the right. The exercise set out from Churchill on February 14 and the meeting took place 14 miles north of Grande Prairie. In the centre is pictured Col. Norman B. Edwards of Smithtown, Long Island, N.Y., senior U.S. observer with the expedition. (Canadian Army Photo)

SEA CADETS HAVE PARTY

Ambitious Decorative Scheme. Featured With Veteran Members and Executive Guests of Honor

For four happy hours men of the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps, "Captain Cook," of Prince Rupert and their friends, the party numbering three hundred persons or more, danced happily around the big gaily balsaed and bedecked whaler, glistening with fresh new paint, which was the central feature in the naval drill hall last night for the first dancing party the corps has held in a long time. The great hall was a delightful scene, indeed, with many large flags suspended from the beams. Destroyer models were also used to good effect. Two cutters in the corners at the end of the hall lent further atmosphere, the decorations being a tribute to a week's hard work every night by the boys. Special illuminated lighting reflected on the sails of the whaler lent a picturesque effect.

Lieut. Walter Smith, training officer of the corps, was a lively master of ceremonies, keeping the party moving in fine style while Andy McNaughton furnished his usual rhythmic piano music.

Among the special guests of the evening were President S. P. Woodside and other members of the executive of the Navy League of Canada as well as many former members of the corps who are now veterans of service in the recent war.

Lieut. E. John Wilson was chairman of the reception committee and Petty Officers William Davidson and Melvin Sandvar presided at the door.

The general committee consisted of Lieut. Wilson, Chief Petty Officer John Kennedy, community singing which was indulged in with much gusto.

During the evening Lieut. Commander Alex Mitchell, officer commanding, took to the platform to express appreciation to Lieut. Commander F. N. Eddy for making the hall available and to Warrant Officer Brown for his co-operation.

Ordinary Seaman H. Martinson and Ordinary Seaman F. McFadden were in charge of the checkroom.

Ordinary Seaman Frank Clapp arranged the public audition system.

RECREATION
BY JIM NAST

BADMINTON—It was thought that, due to the shortage of shuttles, badminton might have to be discontinued after this Sunday. However, a few more "birds" have been located and it looks as though these Sunday sessions could be continued for a little while longer, providing enough people come to make them worth while. To date, we have had a good crowd down on Sunday afternoons and some real budding badminton talent has been noticed among the players.

CALLING ALL HIKERS!—After "talking it over" with some of the Rup Rec gang the other evening, it was felt that there were plenty of hiking enthusiasts in Prince Rupert to form an out-of-doors club. The idea would be to have a meeting at the "Centre" fairly soon of all those interested and plans would be drawn up to take care of several successive Sunday outings. Boat trips, hikes, wiener roasts, etc., would be on the program. Those interested should leave name and phone number at the Civic Centre—phone 231—and when the meeting is called they will be asked to attend and present ideas for week-end out-of-doors activity.

WHAT'S ON ON MONDAY—

4:30 to 5:30 p.m.—Junior girls.
7:00 to 8:30 p.m.—Intermediate boys.
7:00 to 8:30 p.m.—Intermediate girls.

9:30 to 10:00 p.m.—Men's volleyball.

CHIMES TO BE DEDICATED

The R. L. McIntosh memorial chimes will be dedicated by Rev. J. B. Gibson, Bishop of Caledonia, at a memorial service in St. Andrew's Cathedral Sunday morning. The late Mr. McIntosh was people's warden and diocesan registrar at St. Andrew's from 1906 until his death in 1943. The chimes were donated by his widow as a memorial to her husband. The 21 chimes are played by electro-magnetic action over a 14-volt circuit from a keyboard which has been mounted beside the organ console. Two loudspeakers have been mounted in the roof of the church so that the amplified sound can be heard throughout the city.

DRIVE WITH YOUR HEAD - BUT SIGNAL WITH YOUR HAND

Do you give the correct hand and arm signals before turning your car or reducing speed?
Signalling your intentions clearly and in plenty of time to warn other persons that you are going to change direction or speed is one sure way to help prevent accidents that may prove costly—and even fatal. But be sure your signals are clear and definite. Confusing signals can be as dangerous as no signals at all. Drive with your head—signal with your hand.

BASEBALL GROUNDWORK ORGANIZED

Organized baseball took a step forward Thursday night when a preliminary meeting of diamond game supporters and fans appointed an interim committee to seek sponsors for teams to compete in the proposed local league this summer. Two organizations—the Moose Lodge and Savoy Hotel—have given definite assurance that they will sponsor teams and more sponsors are being sought.

A meeting at which league officers will be elected and schedules outlined has been called for next Tuesday in the City Hall. In the meantime, the interim committee will make preliminary arrangements.

The committee consists of George Murray, Bill Lambie, Joe Perusch, Art Murray, Reg Wilson and Herb Morgan.

With two more teams, baseball supporters feel that a first class

OLD TIMERS ARE NAMED

Players Selected for Victoria Day Game Against Young Bloods

Walt Johnson announces the list of the players that the Old Timers will be using against the new Young Bloods in the baseball games scheduled for the Kinsmen's Day on May 24. The team will be made up of Downey, Wendle, Lindsay, Bury, Stiles, Simundsen, Kerr, Lambie, Johnson and Harley Lewis and George Howe if they are available at the time.

Practices have been scheduled by the Old Timers who promise that Alex Bill and his rookies will have their hands full when the two teams meet.

Season could be developed, with play on the Roosevelt Park diamond.

Thursday night's meeting was held in the Legion rooms.

SHORT SPORT

Raymond Glendinning, sports writer and radio announcer, has some interesting accounts of the Lincoln Handicap which he "aired" from an automobile rigged up with a transmitter. The race was won by Langton Abbot. His "running" commentary created racing history in Britain as his car raced inside the enclosure with the horses. "What struck me most was the rapid acceleration of the horses from a standing start," he wrote in the Sunday Graphic. "Taking a rough reading on our speedometer they were up to 30 miles an hour inside two furlongs and when (Jockey) Tommy Weston shot Langton Abbot out in front we had to hit 45 to keep pace with him."

Arthur Perowne, Norwich butcher's son, has, according to experts, a big future in the golfing world. The 16-year-old boy is entered in the British amateur championship at Birkdale, Lancashire, and in the boys' championships at Brunsfield, Edinburgh—and that will be the end of his amateur appearances. Perowne senior took the boy away from school last Christmas and sent him to Parkstone, Dorset, where Reg Whitcombe is professional, for some "polishing up." Par figure at Parkstone is 72 and Arthur started with a 73. He will probably start his professional career as assistant to Whitcombe.

Town Planning Minister Lewis Silkin says it would not be "harmonious" to erect a greyhound track and sports stadium at a proposed site at Colchester. It would be in such close proximity to the Roman remains that it would be out of harmony with the historic association of Colchester, he said as he upheld the objection by Colchester Corporation to the proposed track.

Lord Burchley, president of the British Olympic committee and president of the Amateur Athletic Association of Great Britain, says he "hopes to be able to make some important announcements soon" regarding the 1948 Olympic Games to be held in London. "All I can say is that we are making our plans and everything is going satisfactorily," he said in London when he received on behalf of the A.A.A. a new trophy the Milocarian Cup, presented by the Milocarian Athletic Club for annual competition among Schools in England and Wales. Boys aged between 15 and 17 will each take part in three events—one of which must be a track and another a field event.

Halibut Landings Off to Strong Start —Springs in Good Quantity

West coast fishing vessels landed more than 1,700,000 pounds of halibut at Prince Rupert in the five-day period between Sunday and Friday morning, touching off what is expected may be the shortest halibut season in coast history. Canadian landings sold over the fish exchange, totalled 1,613,500 pounds, while American vessels sold 117,000 pounds here.

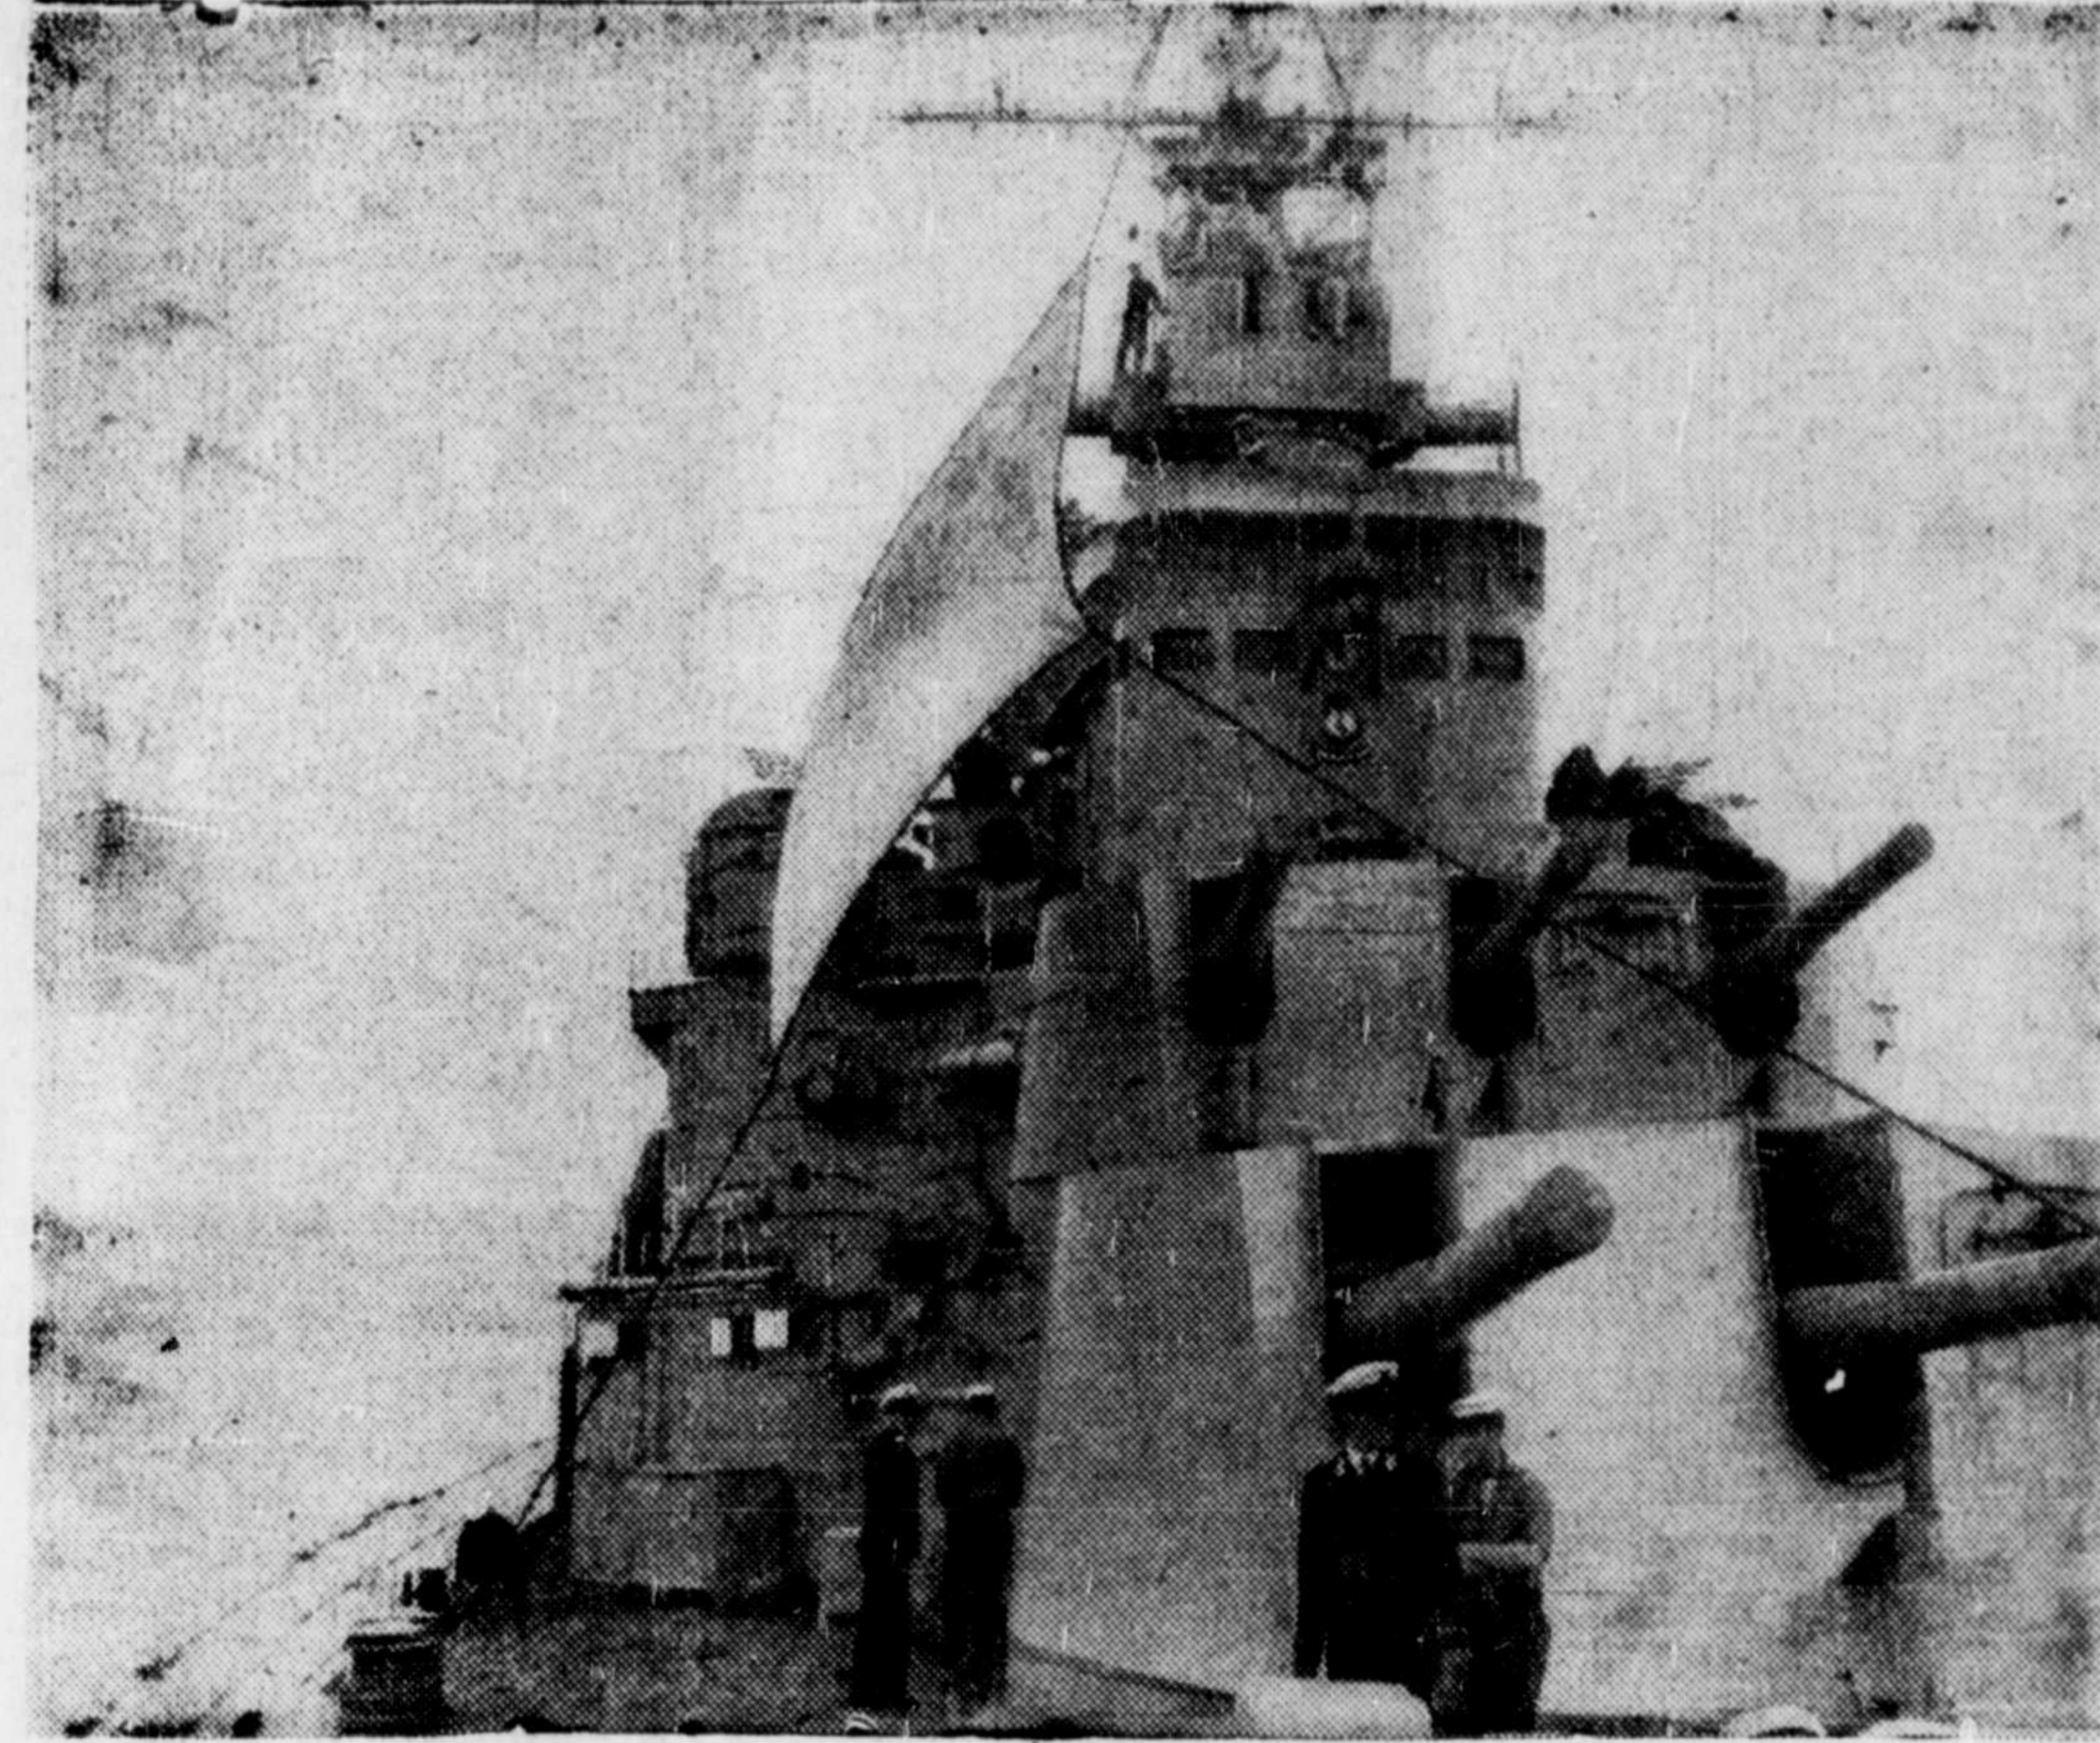

Largest single catch was brought in on Thursday by the American boat Omaney which arrived with 65,000 pounds. Two Vancouver boats tied for high place among the Canadian fleet. They were the Margaret I and the Miss Jean, both of which brought in 50,000 pounds.

During the first week of the halibut season last year the fleet was held to shelter along the coast by violent storms which prevented them from fishing. Landings for the first several days of the 1945 season were therefore light and cannot be compared with this year's similar period which, up to Friday morning, saw 64 vessels unload here.

Thursday was the heaviest day so far this season, with 486,000 pounds sold over the exchange and another 72,000 pounds brought in by company packers from fish camps.

It looks like the start of a very successful season for the spring salmon fishermen, too. According to reports, the springs are being caught in good quan-

FIRST CANADIAN WARSHIP SAILS AROUND CAPE HORN—Another interesting episode was added to the history of the Royal Canadian Navy when the cruiser, H.M.C.S. Uganda, became the first Canadian warship to sail around Cape Horn. So that it might be said literally that Uganda had "sailed" around The Horn, the ship's company rigged three sails, one forward, one amidships, and one aft. Any help the 72,500-horsepower engines of the ship gave was merely incidental. Spread above the gun turrets, the forward sail catches the breeze on the way around The Horn. (R.C.N. Photo)

STRIKES HIT STATES HARD

Adverse Effects Being Felt in Widespread Way—Local Man Motors Home

Strikes are making their adverse effects felt in many ways in the United States, says Douglas Frizzell who has just returned from a trip to San Francisco. Not only are services and business already being curtailed but production in many lines is being hampered and there is general misgiving of the consequences of a deteriorating rather than an improving trend in the whole field of industrial relations.

The halibut boat B. C. Troller, which landed 15,000 pounds here on Thursday, left four skates of gear in the rough sea which cost the lives of Andrew Sorenson and Ragnar Fredericksen from the Edward Lipsett last Saturday. The B. C. Troller, a Vancouver boat, was fishing near the Edward Lipsett when the huge wave washed the two men overboard. The B. C. Troller heeled over at a sharp angle when struck broadside by the waves.

A crew member of a local halibut boat entered a downtown cafe Friday morning for breakfast. He ordered fried herring. Eating the fish, he looked himself over critically in the counter mirror, then addressed the waitress philosophically in a deep sea voice. "I hate fish," he boomed. "I hate herring in particular. For the last nine years I have done nothing but cut those little herring up in pieces and place them on hooks. I come to port on meatless Friday, so what do I eat for breakfast? Herring." He thought it over for a while longer, then came up with a final gem of reasoning: "Well, maybe I get a better deal out of it than the herring at that."

CANNED BUFFALO MILK

LAHORE, © — The military dairy farm in Lahore is the first factory in the world to produce canned buffalo milk. A similar factory has been established at Okara, and the Indian Army's total productive capacity of canned milk is now 3,250 tons a year.

Congressman Kefauver of Tennessee went on record giving acclaim to a Scranton, Pennsylvania newspaper which "in face of obstacles, and, of course, pressure, . . . kept up its fight to see that justice was dealt."
