DAGGETT DISSECTS NON-PARTIZAN PLATFORM AT FEDERATION RALLY

Many disagreements which arisen between the city and federal government in the two years, the city council and the unanimous support members, Mayor H. M. Daggett, leading speaker at a Labor Federation rally told audience in the Oddfellows' hall last night. In dissecting the five-point program of the Partisan Association, the mayor charged that the 1942 bill had the full support of Mayor Wm. Watts and Mayor McKay in its dealings with the government and that Alderman Arnold did not raise her voice in program that regard.

Mr. Black spoke in support of Norman Bellis, the candidate nominated to take his place when he was disqualified Saturday. The Federation's four school board candidates were also presented to the audience. In an outline of the utilities situation the Mayor said that any new work that was being done on sewers was designed to be a part of a post-war rebuilding project, particularly in the downtown area where "the sewers are all broken down and running in the open waterways." "The city engineer is at present working on plans for the complete rebuilding of the sewers in Section One, and strong pressure is being brought to bear on the government to supply funds at one or two per cent interest," he declared.

Criticism of Bus Deal Is Answered

Answering criticism of the financing of the bus deal, Mr. Daggett admitted that the city had a net debt of $1,000,000, which would not be paid off until 1955 but said that the bus purchase was to be financed with debenture bonds which would be offered to the citizens. "I feel sure that the people of Prince Rupert have enough faith in the future of their city to buy those bonds," the mayor said.

"The opposition charges that some of us are making 'careers' of politics. Well, I must admit that they did oppose raising the Mayor's salary from $1,200 to $2,000 a year. Alderman Arnold raised her voice against that but the citizens did not. The fact that I am Mayor-elect by acclamation means that the people feel that the administration must be doing a pretty good job."

Alderman Brett dealt with administrative changes in the city hall, describing the present set-up as "obsolete." He also said that high insurance rates charged municipalities were to be investigated.

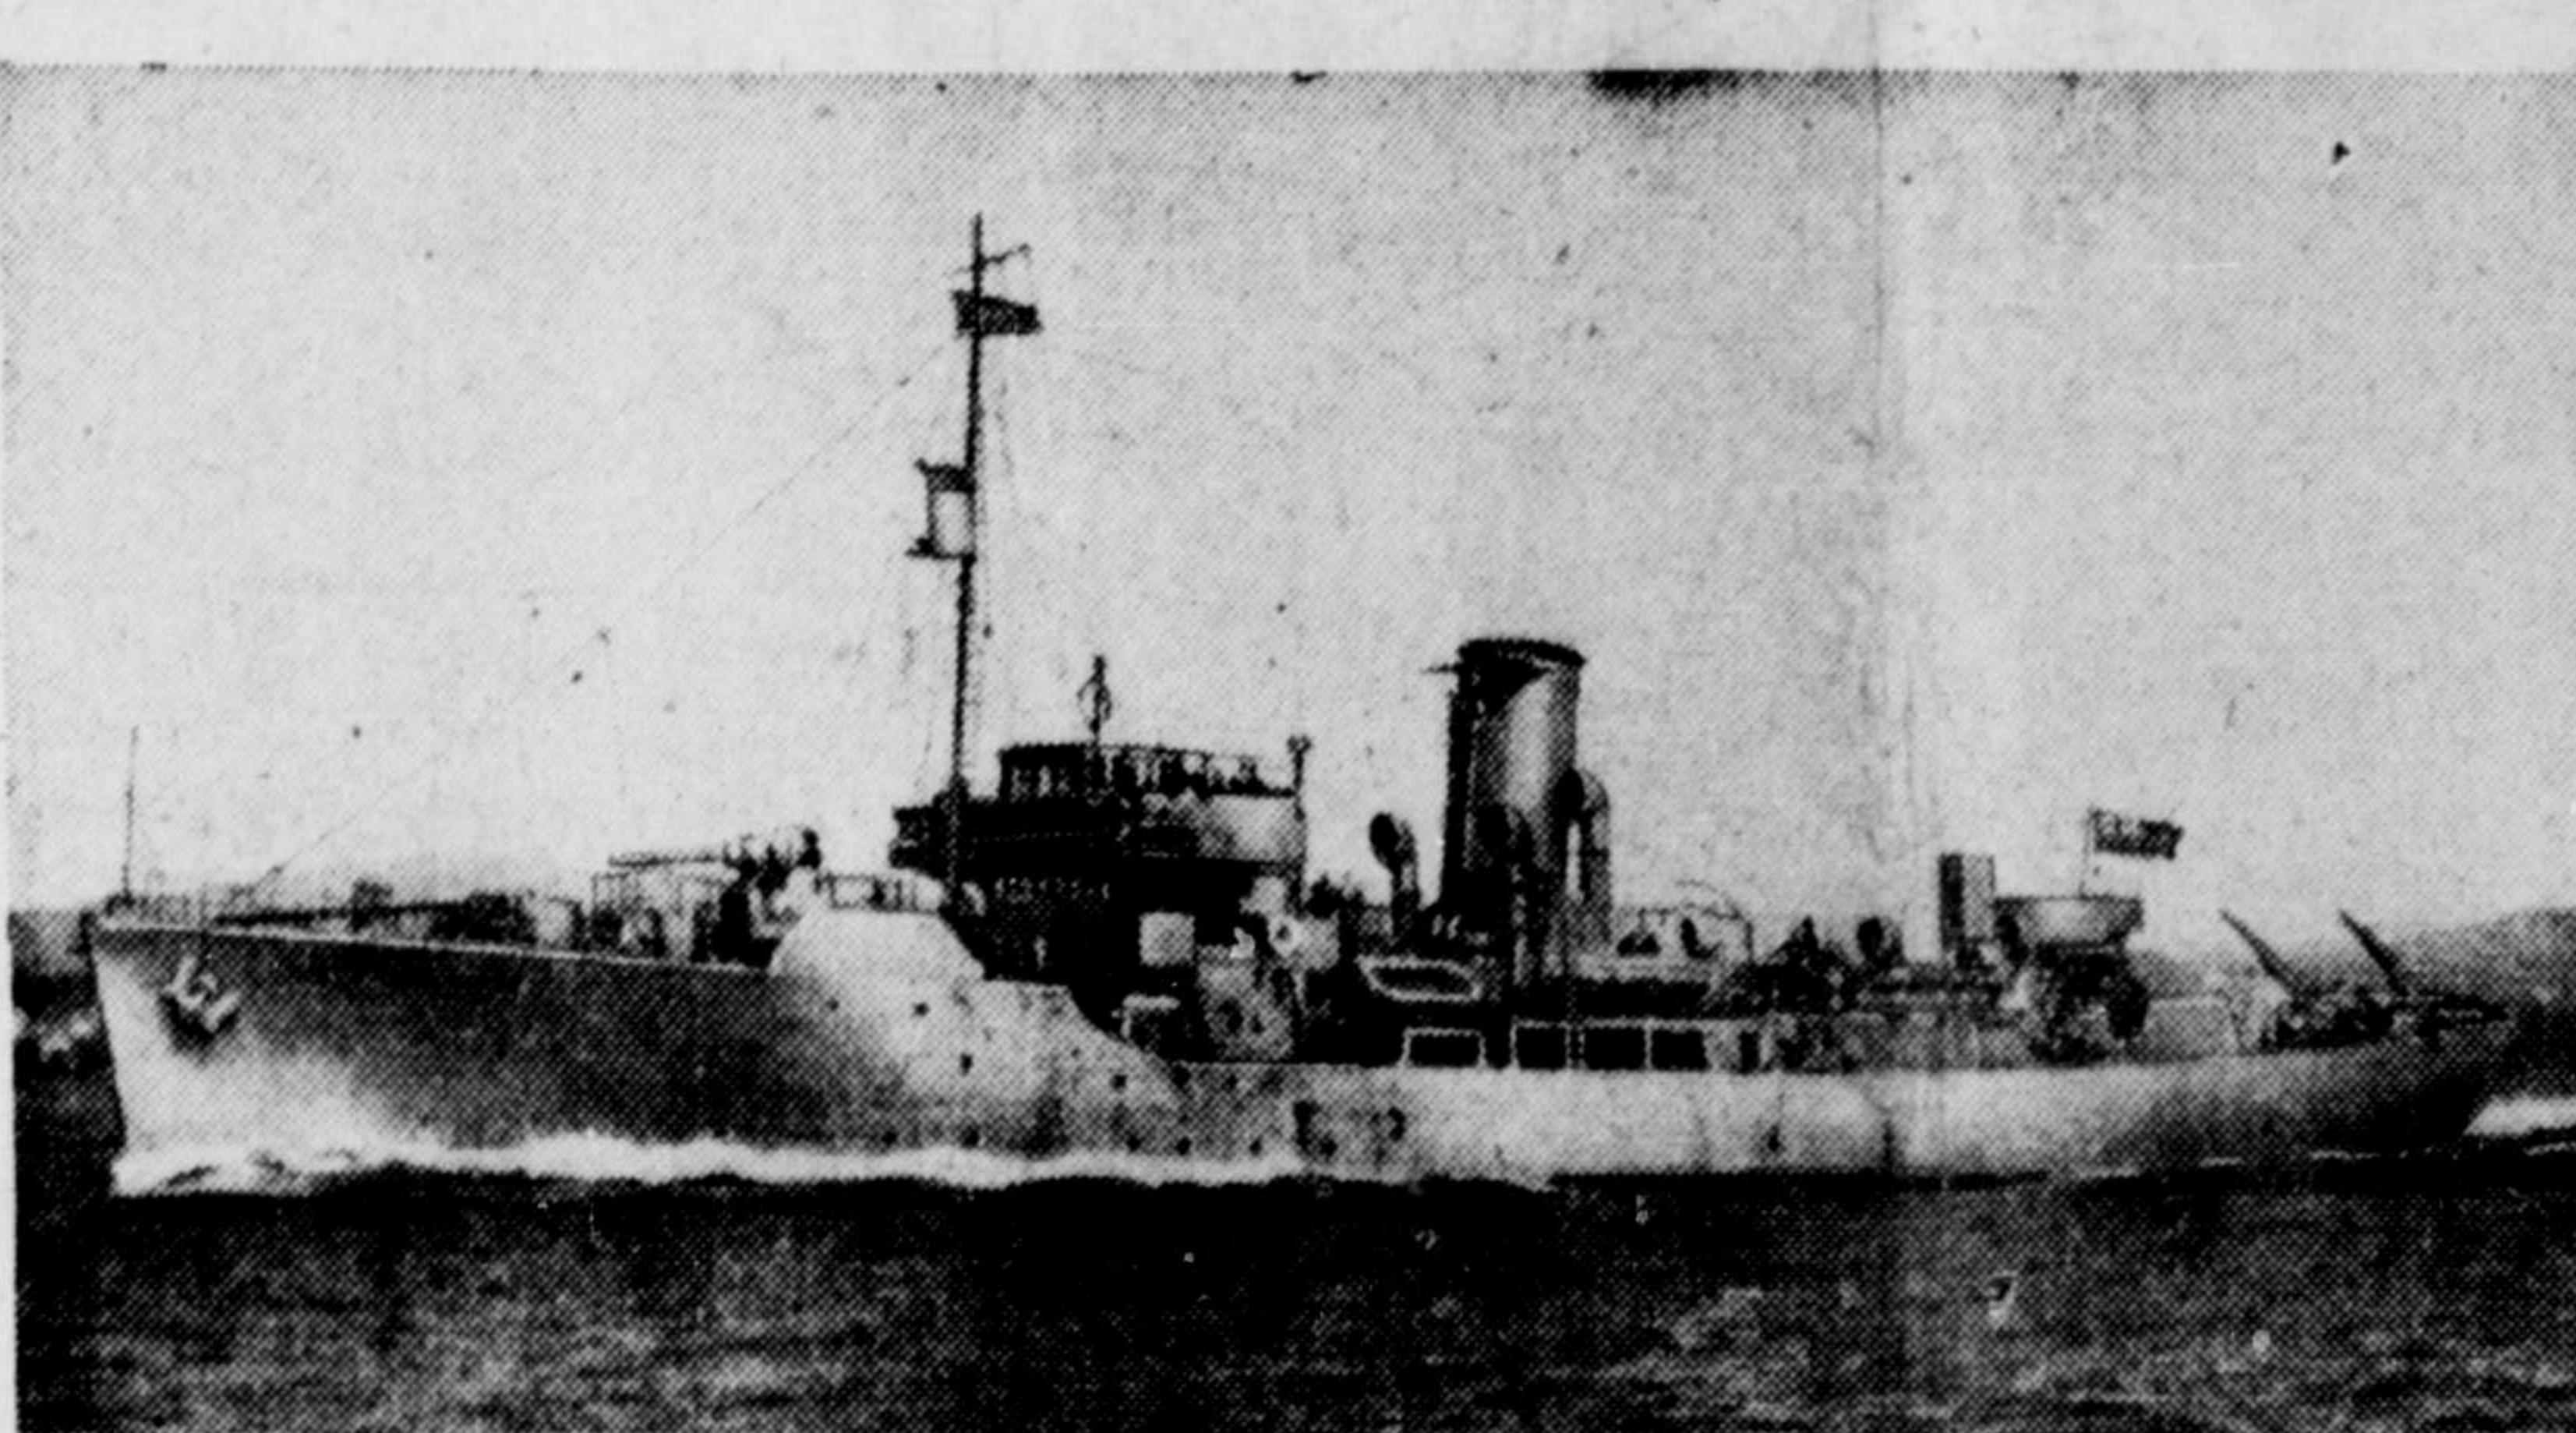

"Municipalities must now pay fire insurance rates far in excess of what is being paid out by the companies in claims."

Alderman Hills, who had spoken previously on the radio, termed the Non-Partisan an "anti-labor coalition" and proceeded to outline the arrangements for the purchase of the bus line.

Alderman Alex Sinclair told the meeting that the city's most profitable utilities, the telephone and water systems were hampered by having to pay 38 per cent of their profits on previous loans. "These utilities could pay off their debentures if they did not have to share in the costs of other utilities. That is why the public should not fear public ownership of the bus line. It is one utility that will pay for itself."

During the question period Bruce Mickleburgh spoke in support of the bus line purchase. Chairman of the meeting was A. Wallin.

Greek Peace

BOTH SIDES ENGAGED IN PEACE TALK

ATHENS, Dec. 12 (CP)— Sharp gunfire still echoed today through Athens, sending homeless and terrified civilians scurrying out of the path of the fighting while rebel leaders were reported drawing up peace proposals. An impartial source described the rebel leaders as "realizing now that they will eventually lose the bloody conflict with British and regular Greek troops." Britain today delivered terms to the leftists for the ending of the civil strife. They require that all leftists must end their resistance and hand in their arms after which Sir Harold Alexander, Allied commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean, who is already here, will take steps to bring an end to the present turmoil.

See Prestwick Big Peacetime Airport

LONDON, Dec. 12 (CP)—A parliamentary and national campaign has begun to impress on the government the importance and urgency of the case for Prestwick, Scotland, as an international airport after the war. The base, on the west coast of Scotland, has been the main transatlantic terminal in the United Kingdom since November, 1940.

Civic affairs were discussed from the standpoint of the Non-Partizans. Mr. Ham devoted himself to the outlook for the future in the city and expressed opposition to the bus by-law. These include an infirmary, dining room, kitchen, living room, bathrooms and dormitories. Living quarters for the staff are on the upper floor. This includes three rooms and bath. The basement is designed to hold the heating plant, fuel and a laundry. Dance, Oddfellows' Hall, Friday, Dec. 15.

Toronto City Almost Completely Tied Up

People Told to Stay Home From Work—Stores Are Closed Up—Four Persons Known Dead

TORONTO, Dec. 12 (CP)—All southern Ontario was held today in the grip of one of the worst snowstorms in its history. The storm, apparently, centred in Toronto and district. Traffic was paralyzed by deep drifts. Four deaths were reported in Toronto. The chief coroner issued an urgent appeal to all persons over fifty not to shovel snow or walk through heavy drifts.

A broadcast appeal from Mayor Conboy asked all persons not engaged in essential industry to stay home from work. Large department stores are closed. All highways in southern Ontario are impassable. Motorists have been warned not to take trips. Drifts are as high as six feet at Hamilton. Toronto hospitals are filled to overflowing and ambulances are unable to move. Twenty-one inches of snow fell between 5:15 yesterday morning and noon today. There had been nothing to equal this since 1872 when 23 inches fell in two days. Little hope of immediate relief is held out by weather forecasters.

Russo-French Alliance . . .

Announcement of the reaching at Moscow, where Premier Joseph Stalin and General Charles DeGaulle have been in session, of a new alliance of mutual assistance between Russia and France is important news. Russia and France are in agreement to fight on against Germany until victory is won. So far so good. We all go that far together for it is the simple and immediate object of the war in Europe. However, there is a good deal more that we shall like to know about the accord between Russia and France and we hope that any commitments which may have been made in the way of "working together to prevent future wars" will be as acceptable to us. To ensure the peace of Europe and the world more than Russia and France must be in accord. Pacts between those two nations alone are not sufficient to ensure the peace of Europe, it has been shown already and not so long ago at that. However, we have been assured that Great Britain and United States were kept fully posted on the negotiations.

The East Front . . .

The Russian design for the capture of Budapest is becoming clear. The drive north up the west bank of the Danube will make easier the reduction of the old town, Buda, which is on high ground, by avoiding crossing the river from the east. Alternately Budapest may be isolated by driving through the network of communications which run into it from the west. Already the Red Army is threatening two useful railways both of which pass through Czekefhever, and is also closing in from a third direction. The fall of Budapest may be only a matter of hours.

The Civic Election . . .

Mayor H. M. Daggett has been re-elected by acclamation as chief magistrate of Prince Rupert and we hasten to extend our congratulations. The fact that he was unopposed may be fairly taken as an expression of satisfaction for his services. He has been a hard-working and conscientious mayor during his first year of office and well deserves the renewal of confidence that has been placed in him.

Lines have been formally drawn for a vigorous campaign between the Civic Labor Federation and the Non-Partizan Association for the seats on the city council and board of school trustees. The campaign is attracting keen interest and in some ways resembles the good old lively campaigns we used to have here back in the early days. As we have suggested before we hope they will keep the fight clean.

The $40,000 bus bylaw question vies with the aldermanic and school trustee contest in demanding public interest.

With 1945 promising to be an important year in the affairs of the city, it behooves all those who have a vote to carefully consider their preferences and get out and use their votes on Thursday.

Aviation WAS GEARED TO COMMERCE

ABOUT 1926 an era of great expansion began in the aviation industry on this continent. During the following eight years, networks of airlines spread over North and South America.

life at high temperatures when exposed to corrosive exhaust fumes.

The Canadian Nickel industry through its research laboratories and rolling mills, gave every possible assistance to the aviation industry. Thus another new market was developed to help take the place of war markets wiped out in 1918.

Nickel Steels, because of their superior strength and toughness, were used for crankshafts, connecting rods, propeller shafts, gears and other vital parts of the new airplane engines. Other Nickel alloys were used to give longer service

Today Canadian Nickel is again diverted to war purposes, and again the industry looks to the future with confidence. Plans are ready to develop and expand old and new peacetime markets, so that the Nickel industry may continue, through its own initiative and enterprise, to make still greater contributions to Canada's welfare.

Letters to the Editor

TOTAL CONSCRIPTION

Editor, Daily News:
 We find that you have been very fair in allowing the public the use of your paper to express themselves, and we have prepared an article, which we would be very glad to have you publish.
 Technocracy has since the onset of this war urged that total conscription should be implemented of men, machines, material and money, with national service from all and profits to none as the only adequate program for waging total war, thus ensuring as near as possible equal sacrifice from all in this national crisis—also in the hopes that we may emerge without war debt and a social crisis from dislocation in the immediate post-war period. The capitals of Ottawa and Washington have been flooded from time to time with thousands of letters from Technocrats from every corner of the North American continent and from Technocrats in the services at home and abroad. Our press quotes Ottawa as being annoyed at these demands but Technocracy recognizes that we must continue to demand total conscription even though total conscription for total war seems a bit late. We realize, as all indications point to a dislocation crisis in immediate post-war period, that such a program immediately instituted could be carried into the peace for a period of at least six months to allow our men of war and of war industries to become reinstated in civil life with the least amount of confusion.

Ottawa must find at least two million new jobs after this war for our war workers and servicemen. We have 12 times as many machine tools as we had in 1939. Our production per capita has increased approximately five times over 1939 so, with more machine tools, we can accelerate production to the extent that fewer men can produce more and, consequently, more men will find less work. For these reasons our governments cannot find useful employment for the men, except in war. In times of war all nations must of necessity increase their own means of production with the result that they become less dependent upon imports from other nations. As a result we in Canada or the U.S.A. cannot again look forward to export trading as a means if stimulus for employment at home except for a very limited period after the war. Nations abroad are becoming more interested in the purchase of productive machinery with the inevitable result that they will require less processed goods. We must face these facts squarely and govern ourselves accordingly.

WM. F. ADOLPH.

ALD. ARNOLD ON BUS DEAL

Editor, Daily News:
 Since some of my colleagues in the City Council have seen fit to present certain aspects of the proposed Municipal Bus Purchase Bylaw through the medium of a letter addressed to you, I see no reason why the same privilege should not be accorded to me.

In the first place, Mr. Editor, I am not opposed to a municipally-owned transportation system when the time and circumstances are favorable but I feel that such a large undertaking should not be entered into without thorough consideration of all facts and that the public should be given all possible information.

Much has been said of the high profits being made by the present bus system. These profits have been made only by overcrowding of the buses, operation of one route only and the fact that the manager has acted as driver and repair-man when necessary and all small repairs made by the drivers. Under a city-owned system these conditions would not obtain. The manager would be an office man, drivers would be drivers only and mechanics would be employed for repair work. Extra buses would have to be obtained and demands for buses along other routes would have to be considered and granted. These demands would materially increase the running expenses out of all proportion to any increased income that might problematically be obtained.

On October 2, the City Engineer was asked to obtain, along with G. L. Taylor and S. J. Hunter, an appraisal of the present buses. In a letter from Mr. Hanes addressed to the Mayor, dated October 10, the appraisal figure for the buses was set at Ten Thousand Dollars. This figure of Ten Thousand and apparently is not being used as a basis of valuation. The transportation committee of the City Council has seen fit to accept a figure of $12,503.00 (being government ceiling-price) as the actual value of the vehicles under consideration.

In the appraiser's report it is stated "the buses were examined on October 9 and found to be more or less in a run-down condition chiefly due to the terrible beating that they had received from the desperate conditions of the city streets." This would indicate that the actual value of the buses is below ceiling price. Why, then, should the taxpayers be asked to pay an inflation price for this equipment?

Also in the same communication from the City Engineer, paragraph 8 states, "the establishment or not of a garage for repairs of municipal equipment to be considered in a separate report." To my certain knowledge such a report has neither been prepared, submitted nor considered.

In addition to the building for which the city now proposes to pay $4,000 for use as a municipal garage, is assessed at $2,200, and was purchased by the present owner three years ago for $1,250. This $4,000 is for the building and land and includes no machinery whatsoever. This building is totally unsuitable and inadequate and in the wrong location to take care properly of the servicing of all city vehicles and buses.

In order that the ratepayers and public at large may be informed as to, the exact dollars and cents value of the utility to be purchased, the following detail will give full information:

| (a) Actual value of buses according to independent appraisal | $10,000 |
| (b) Assessed value of garage and land | 2,200 |
| (c) Value of spare tires, engines, spare parts, excluding any garage machinery | 1,900 |
| Total | $12,200 |

The taxpayers are being asked to pay $20,000 for the above items. I submit that $6,800 is too great a figure for what may be termed "goodwill."

In my opinion, the policy for our city administration to follow is to build up and improve the city. Our present utilities are so run down and exhausted that replacement is the only remedy. Our streets, sidewalks, sewers, water system and telephone system should be considered under a long-range replacement program over a period of years and if we are to borrow money, it should be for the replacement of present utilities and not for a gamble such as the proposed bus purchase.

Let us first put our house in order. Let us prove that we can maintain our present utilities before we embark on unknown and perilous adventures.
 NORA E. ARNOLD,
 Alderman.

Ankle-Length Gowns Keynote of Fashion

LONDON, Dec. 12 (AP)—Ankle-length gowns are back in London—heralds of victory. For the first time since the war began they are the keynote of fashion. Glamour gowns of this length have been shown recently in the Mayfair dress salons and inexpensive versions now are being sold in many shops.

"Simplicity of line and glowing, vivid colors characterize the new dresses," said one fashion expert. "We regard them as signs of coming victory."

"I have already sold 50 percent more full-length evening gowns than in any winter since the war started."

Promises New Bus

Will be Purchased Immediately Says Ald. Hills—Defends Deal

Immediate purchase of a new bus by the city council if the $40,000 plebiscite coming before the ratepayers this Thursday is approved, was promised by Ald. George Hills, chairman of the city council's transportation committee, in an interview yesterday. The Arrow Bus Line has at present a priority for the purchase of the new bus and the city council would exercise the priority and buy the bus at once, Ald. Hills said. "This, plus increased use of existing equipment, will offset the inconveniences that are now tolerated by the public," the alderman said.

As for other benefits which might accrue to the citizens should the plebiscite be favorably voted upon and the bus line taken over, Ald. Hills said the city would be in a position to repair its own motor trucks and utility cars as well as the buses in a city garage, thus resulting in a considerable saving and keeping vehicles on the streets that are mechanically fit to carry passengers, Ald. Hills revealed that the cost of repairs to city motor vehicles had been running at an average of $275 per month.

Asked as to what would be done with profits if any were derived from the operation of the bus line, Ald. Hills said that the first consideration would be the paying off of debentures but the profits would not be paid out on the loan at the expense of improved service. "The citizens will receive full value for their transportation dollar whereas, under private ownership, profit, not service, is the first consideration."

"The need is great for improvement in the bus service," Ald. Hills said. "Why should we not be able to look after our own transportation needs? Smaller communities are doing it successfully."

Answering criticisms which have been voiced by some at the endeavour to raise money for the purchase of a bus line while repairs to streets were badly needed, Ald. Hills said: "It appears that these people are not aware of the council's stand during the past two years in demanding

To Revive Hockey In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, Dec. 12 (AP)—Efforts are being made to revive ice hockey here and a match is scheduled for December 16 between two Rand teams at the Olympia rink. The South African Ice Hockey Association is negotiating with two Londoners stationed at one of the Union's flying schools. Before the war they were members of Wembley Lions in Britain.

The first of three tilts to be played on Acropolis Hill Wednesday night will see the girls of Bo-Me-Hi clashing with the C.W.A.C.'s in a Women's League game. The High School athletics have won all five of their fixtures so far, while the C.W.A.C.'s have been winners in three of theirs.

Acropolis and the Bo-Me-Hi boys will collide in the second game in an "A" Section encounter. DINING HALL AT BUTEDALE

Formal Opening of Fine New Establishment on Saturday Night

Having just opened a fine new dining hall to complement the splendid new hotel which was established about a year ago, the Canadian Fishing Co., according to word reaching the city, is setting somewhat of an example in providing for the comfort of its employees at Butedale where the company operates a cannery, cold storage plant and general fish handling establishment. The new dining hall was formally opened Saturday night with a special gathering of the community folk at which manager Ralph Hart presided and made a speech of welcome with suitable response by Murray (Dusty) Rhodes, one of the cannery foremen. It was a happy gathering featured by a turkey dinner and all the trimmings.

The new dining hall has accommodation for 65 persons and is very attractively planned and appointed. It is plastered within and well furnished and lighted. There are four long dining tables. The kitchen is neat, clean and well equipped. Special quarters have been provided for the cooking staff.

The dining hall is situated on the slope back of the wharf and store and is just across from the hotel, a 40-room living place with two fine sitting rooms, billiard parlor and other conveniences including a laundry in the basement. There are six showers and each room has hot and cold running water.

The old hall is to be converted into a moving picture show. Butedale has hydro-electric power generated from a picturesque nearby waterfall.
