LET IT BE DELIVERANCE DAY . . .

There has been a good deal of talk of late about "V Day" and it plans are already being prepared for the celebration of the coming victory over Germany. In view of recent developments such preparations may still be a little presumptuous. We must believe in final victory but Germany is not yet defeated and thousands of our men may suffer and die before victory is achieved while we who live in safety and comfort at home talk about "celebration."

It is difficult for anyone with a sympathetic imagination to read the war news in these days, or listen to the war correspondents' descriptions on the radio of the horrors our fighting men are going through, and at the same time think of celebrating. "O, I have suffered with those that I saw suffer!" said Miranda to Prospero, in recalling the sight of the sailors struggling in the shipwreck. And many have lain awake on restless pillows these nights, entering into the sufferings of those young men who are paying the price of victory on the Western Front.

The day of military victory over the Germans may not be very far off, but in looking forward to that event we should think of it as a Day of Deliverance. That will indeed be an occasion for rejoicing and due praise and honor must be accorded to the valor of our fighting men and the military prowess of their leaders. But we must not forget that we have suffered many defeats and even disasters in the field, and that there were time when, as the Scripture says, "If it had not been that the Lord was on our side, when men rose up against us: Then had we been swallowed up quick, when their wrath was kindled against us: Then the waters had overwhelmed us, the proud waters had gone over our soul."

How often we have felt that during these past five years. If it had not been for the cause—the cause of Freedom and Righteousness—for which we entered this war, then had we thrown up our hands in despair and gone down to utter defeat. It was only our faith in the justice of our cause and in the Divinity that shapes the ultimate end of all things that saved us from despair. We firmly believed that Germany was in the wrong, that tyranny and savagery must not and could not triumph in the end. It was this belief and this spirit that sustained us in those dark hours of Dunkirk, of the Battle of Britain, and of the retreat in the African desert. And it was that belief and spirit which inspired the valiant men who stood at bay at El Alamein and finally "put to flight the armies of the alien."

In looking forward confidently to the day of victory and to the peace beyond, we must beware that the virus of German militarism does not enter into our own souls. Certain savage tribes had a practice of drinking the blood of their enemies in the belief that they would thereby increase their strength and prowess in battle. And we would be virtually doing the same thing if we gloated over the defeat of the Germans and celebrated the Victory in a drunken orgy of rejoicing.

Rather should we be humbly thankful for our deliverances, remembering the men who have suffered and died that we might live in security and freedom, and those who mourn for loved ones who will never return. Rather should we say, "I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord. Whither the tribes go up, the tribes of the Lord, unto the testimony of Israel, to give thanks unto the name of the Lord. Pray for the peace of Jerusalem: they shall prosper that love thee. For my brethren and companions' sakes, I will now say, Ueace be within thee."

So shall that day be "compassed about with songs of deliverance," and we shall go forth to win the peace with the same passion for Freedom and Righteousness that inspired us in the winning of the war.

NAVY CONCERT FINE GESTURE TO CITIZENS

Commander C. M. Cree's farewell gesture to the people of Prince Rupert, a concert by the Royal Canadian Navy Band of H.M.C.S. Chatham was a successful event of last night in the Naval Drill Hall.

The Naval officer-in-charge spoke briefly, thanking local citizens for their courtesy to the Naval service, and commending Chief Petty Officer Noakes, and his band, for their efforts to make the concert a memorable one.

Originally it was intended to charge no admission, but it was decided that a fifty-cent charge, with proceeds donated to the Red Cross, would control the size of the audience, Commander Cree explained, so that course was pursued.

Lasting close to two hours, the program was divided into three parts. First, selections by the band were given, then the dance orchestra, and finally the full band reappeared to play the last portion of the concert.

A highlight of the program was the singing of Sergeant Lorne Baird, Canadian Dental Corps.

In the way of a novelty, the band staged a "musicians' strike" during "Wee MacGregor" patrol and the bandmen walked off the stage one by one until only the bandmaster remained.

Outstanding instrumental numbers were selections from the New York stage production "Oklahoma," and a symphonic band arrangement of "Pop, Goes the Weasel."

THIS TIME FOR KEEPS

INVERNESS, Scotland. (P)—"It is absolute madness to think that the war is over," said Brig. Lord Lovat, Commando leader, at inspection of a cadet battalion of the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders. Germany must be thoroughly beaten so it would be certain there would not be a third war.

CORVETTE ALBERNI SUNK ON INVASION DUTY: 59 OF CREW MISSING—Second Canadian warship lost on invasion duties and 18th ship lost by the Royal Canadian navy since the outbreak of the war, the West Coast built corvette, H.M.C.S. Alberni, has been sunk with nearly two-thirds of her crew missing, it was announced by Hon. Angus L. Macdonald, minister of national defence and naval services. In the three and one-half years of her service, the Alberni was at sea during the most bitterly fought months of the Battle of the Atlantic, rescued scores of merchant seamen from torpedoed ships, was credited with the "probable" sinking of a German submarine, and saw service in the Mediterranean.

ACCRA, Gold Coast, (P)—About 1,000 Africans of the Gold Coast, invalided out of the fighting services and the merchant navy, are entitled to wear a badge of "loyal service."

London Housewife Lauded By Scots

DUNDEE, Scotland, (P)—Air raid warden D. McNeil just returned from a flying bomb duty in London thinks the London housewife is Britain's best morale booster. "The determination of women to take things and come compels admiration," he said.

"With their homes reduced most to ruins they just get of their brooms, sweep up the rubbish from any room left half habitable, and immediately resume their normal lives."

Entertained Kruger

JOHANNESBURG, (P)—A native woman living in town, Johannesburg, reached 107th birthday this week. She lives with two granddaughters, both of whom are still in the city. One of her clearest memories of handing a cup of coffee to President Kruger when he ped at a station on his Krugersdorp.

FORD V-8 ENGINE

It's on the job!

IN THE GHOSTLY HALF-LIGHT betwixt day and dark, a cavalcade of Ford military trucks speeds cross-country somewhere in Britain. Soon it's circling the "perimeter track" around a closely guarded R.C.A.F. take-off field. Wheels brake to a stop and the air crews pile out nimbly, climb into the waiting bombers. Swiftly the giant aircraft zoom up into the night . . . Berlin-bound!

At a bustling Canadian airport, a Ford delivery truck backs deftly in under the wing of a Canadian airliner. Husky attendants swing the load up into the gleaming underbelly of the plane. Minutes count in the delivery of these air express parcels . . . this box may be carrying material urgently required to keep production moving in a vital war plant hundreds of miles away . . . that package may contain a drug or serum needed to save a life in a distant hospital.

On the battlefronts and on the home front, Ford vehicles are "on the job", meeting important schedules with timetabled accuracy. Fast, smooth, dependable as the day is long, the famous Ford V-8 Engine "Keeps 'em rolling" with time—and power—to spare.

Anglican Young People's Meeting

The mysteries of the Ouija Board intrigued some 35 Anglican young people when they staged a very enjoyable house party at the home of Miss Eileen Gibson Wednesday evening. Despite wonderful prophecies, some of the members, especially the boys, are still skeptical concerning the spiritual powers.

Much amusement was caused during the playing of "It," "Pass the Ring." At the conclusion delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Young People have been asked to partake in Holy Communion Sunday morning and the services in the evening will be in charge of various members of the forces.

DIRECTOR OF C.W.A.C. BAND

WINNIPEG, Oct. 14 - Bandmaster Nadia Svarich of Vegreville, Alta., is an accomplished young woman with quiet eyes, dark hair and a voice as musical as she is. Director of the C.W.A.C. military band for the past year, she has transformed it from just another band to one of the best in the Dominion.

Miss Svarich, a former public school teacher and holder of two degrees in music, was literally born with music in her veins. By the time she had completed her normal school course she had received her A.T.C.M. and L.R.S. M. and later took special summer courses in music at the Banff School of Fine Arts and the Toronto Conservatory of Music.

She joined the C.W.A.C. in May 1943, for the specific purpose of becoming band leader, and took over direction of the two-month old band at Calgary. The following August they began their first trans-continental tour with the pipe band. Then followed a five weeks training period at Red Deer, Alta. In January, 1944, the band went to Kitchener, Ont., now its headquarters.

Miss Svarich has led other bands as guest conductor and has been made an honorary member of the Canadian Bandmasters Association. She is enthusiastic about the reception received throughout the country "People may have come out through curiosity," she says, "but actually their enjoyment was from hearing the music."

The Allied Freighter Incident

An Allied freighter was stopped off the Pacific Seaboard by a Japanese submarine and boarded by Japanese sailors. Two Allied officers were asked for by name and taken off. The ship was torpedoed. Other ships in the area at the same time were allowed to go their way.

How did they know?

Enemy agents ashore obviously had been in contact with the submarine. These agents must have received inside information; someone had talked. This should be a warning to all of us to watch every word we say, for enemy agents are everywhere.

commander at York to the commander of the corps in London. Into London, past a surprised early morning traffic policeman at Marble Arch went Bert. Then he passed through Fleet st. and on to corps headquarters. The well known long-distance walker covered the 200 miles in five minutes under 37 hours. The time knocked an hour off the record he set up in 1937. "I love a little stroll," said Bert, as someone handed him a drink of water.

The King made an important addition to his turf interests when he paid $19,270 for a 17-month old bay filly by Turkhan, first wartime winner of the classic St. Leger, and Terre Rose. It was one of the most spectacular bids in a day of record bidding at the Newmarket fall bloodstock sales and was made by His Majesty's racing manager, Capt. Charles Moore.

The amount was the highest ever paid by the King and followed Royal leasing of two yearlings from the National Stud recently.

New Guinea Wedding Improvisation Model

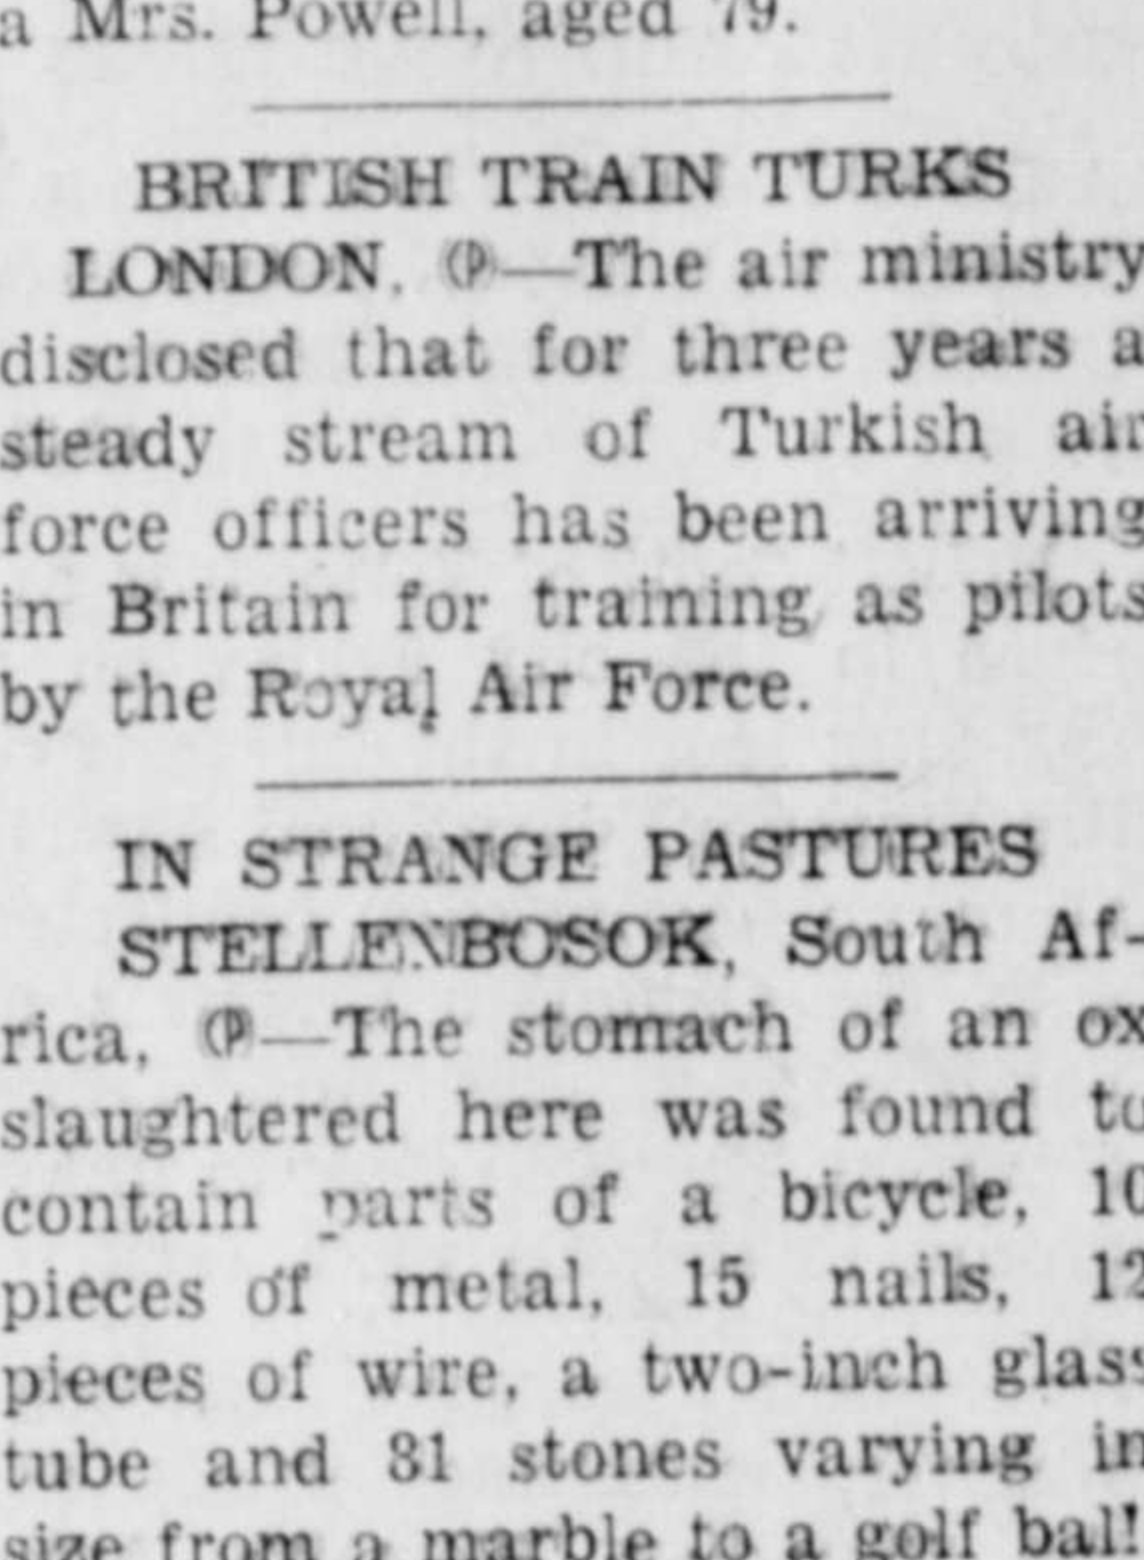

PORT MORESBY, Oct. 14.—Australian reputation for improvisation has rarely been better demonstrated than at a recent service wedding in Port Moresby. The bride wore a wedding gown of surgical muslin, artificial orange blossoms of antiseptic cotton and a bouquet made from surgical ribbon.

The wedding ring was fashioned from old pieces of surgical gold by a dental mechanic. A few spoonfuls of brandy from medical supplies were used as a "preserving ingredient" for the wedding cake.

The bridegroom was a young Australian non-commissioned officer, the bride an Australian Army Medical Service member.

KEEPING HOUSE IN WARTIME

Tasty and Easily Prepared Dishes - Simple, Seasonal and Conservation - Hints -

Are unexpected visitors at mealtimes treated to your 100 watt hospitality smile? Be honest... you know you're frantically adding up the servings of meat. Or have you a shelf of emergency extenders. Remember that these need not be elaborate... potatoes and whole wheat or Canada approved flour biscuit dough are good toppings for shepherd's pie and egg dishes. And they can be whistled into position before anyone ever guesses they weren't there in the beginning. Keep them on hand but don't save for emergencies only... use them often to cut down on meat and egg bills. P.S.—They also help supply the vitamin B you know you don't get enough of!

Put thin layers of paraffin wax on finger tips when painting... green thumbs are only for gardeners.

Darn holes in screens before putting away for the winter. Use metal wire from discarded screens.

Glue felt coasters on feet of chair legs. Make them from father's oldest felt hat before he remembers he likes it.

Cut cardboard to fit around light switches for polishing day.

Pad table top with newspapers before tacking on new oilcloth. Wax afterwards for longer wear.

Renew washers in leaky taps... wasting water wastes heat.

Rub sticky drawer runners with soap... presto-slipso.

Save old eye or nose droppers for oiling hard-to-reach spots in the sewing machine.

Let the Buyer Take Care!
Shopping for the family's meals hasn't always been a woman's job... in ancient Rome it was regarded as a man's work. When a youth reached the age of 12 he accompanied his father to market to receive instructions in the art of good buying. Mulla that idea over with your "Omnia Gallia divisa est" homework! And when you're sent to shop for mother use your gray matter in following her instructions. Don't get too much or too little. If pint sized Romans could learn to shop for a choice basket of fish or several brace of pheasants, you can too.

Savoury Recipes

As the instrument of temptation, as inspiration and bringer of comfort; as a panacea for many ills and prize of the gods, the apple has featured in history and legend for thousands of years.

There's still a subtle temptation about the apple; enclosed in a flaky crust there are few who can resist its lure. But while one might conceivably tire of a daily diet of apple pie, apples themselves can appear daily at meals through the next few months without bringing any feeling of monotony in their wake. At any meal and with almost any course apples are welcome—and a good collection of apple recipes should form part of the kitchen lore of every Canadian woman. The Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture offers "collector's pieces."

For a winter salad they suggest cold baked apples stuffed with finely diced celery or shredded, crisp raw vegetables and served with dressing. Diced raw apple with skins left on are good with almost any combination of vegetables; particularly good with shredded cabbage, celery and diced cooked or pickled beets.

Apple and Squash Casserole
2 1/2 cups diced, cooked squash
1 1/2 cups sliced sour apples
1-3 cup brown sugar
2 strips side bacon, diced
1/2 teaspoon salt

Arrange half the squash in greased casserole. Cover with half the apples. Sprinkle with half the sugar and salt and add half the bacon. Repeat with remaining ingredients. Cover and bake in moderately slow oven, 325 deg. F, for 30 minutes. Uncover and bake until apples are soft and top is browned, about 15 minutes longer. If the mixture appears dry, due to lack of juice in the apples, add 1/2 tablespoon water. Six servings.

Apple Charlotte
6 small apples
1/4 in. slices of bread (about 9)
6 small apples
1/4 cup sugar

Line greased muffin tins with the bread, placing a circle of bread at the bottom. Wash and core apples. Place in the bread lined tins. Sprinkle with sugar (cinnamon or nutmeg may be mixed with the sugar if desired). Bake in a moderate oven, 350 deg. F, until apples are tender, about 20 minutes. To serve,

FASHIONS OR FREEDOM IRKS LONDON WOMEN

LONDON, Oct. 14.—With the liberation of Paris, London women are wondering whether it was better to have been free and wear utility corsets or to be conquered and dress in silks and laces.

Correspondents loaded the papers with ecstatic descriptions of silks and laces and London's utility-dressed women read and then started writing letters to the Editor.

Mrs. Nora G. Phillips got the opening shot, briefly but succinctly stating in a letter "I am sick of reading how smart and well-coiffured are the women of Paris."

Eileen Evans turned a jaundiced eye on pictures showing Parisian legs and wrote: "Can we women of Britain sit for two hours each morning in the sun to get our legs (there she quotes from a picture caption which appeared recently) "Just the right shade of brown to enable us to go stockingless?" Can we contemplate fashion parades when the war is not yet over? What do you think?"

PARIS, Oct. 14.—Presence of Canadian troops in the forces which liberated France has given inspiration to a new model coat designed by Balenciaga.

And Harriet Edwards chipped in with: "Paris hadn't been liberated more than a few hours before we were falling for the blubs of her fashion publicity experts. Why are we so bewitched?"

Washington At War Worried His Mother

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Oct. 14.—Just as war mothers do today, Mary Washington worried when her son, George, went away to war. She wrote her half-brother, Joseph Ball, jr., in London on July 28, 1759: "There was no end of my trouble while George was in the Army but he has now given it up."

When the letter was written, Washington—only 27—had resigned as commander-in-chief of the Virginia forces, had married Mrs. Custis, had been elected to the House of Burgesses and his mother's worries as to his safety appeared to be over.

A copy of the letter has recently come into possession of the library of Mary Washington College, in Fredericksburg—Mrs. Washington's old home. The or-

CROWD OF 400 ENJOYS HARD TIMES DANCE

To bring 400 people to the unanimous decision that they had a wonderful time was the achievement of Jean de Carlo's orchestra which played modern and old time music at the Community Club hard times dance in the Staff House dining hall last night.

There was never a dull moment during the evening, and the crowd contained enough older people to make the old time dances successful. Refreshments were served at midnight.

Winner of the turkey raffle was Jack Walls, of the Central Hotel.

Committee in charge of the dance was B. Beggs and Edward Wahl.

REV. BOB MUNRO, noted evangelist in Canada, the United States, British Isles, and Newfoundland, former Baptist minister, veteran of the navy in World War I and since 1940 with the armed forces in three different countries, who will visit Prince Rupert from October 18 to 23 to conduct a number of meetings.

DOES YOUR CHILD Lack APPETITE?

Try New, Improved Ovaltine

If your child lacks a zest for food, it may be that his diet is short in very important food elements which, science has discovered, everyone needs for health. His growth may be stunted or impaired and he may be an easy victim to prevailing sickness.

As a "protecting" food-drink, New, Improved Ovaltine adds to a child's meals the essential food elements most likely to be deficient in his diet.

Three servings of New, Improved Ovaltine furnish a child with a significant portion of his daily requirement of Vitamins A, B, and D, and the minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron—also quick food-energy elements and high quality proteins—all for building sturdy bodies.

So—if your child eats poorly, is thin or under par, why not start giving him New, Improved Ovaltine regularly? Get Ovaltine at your drug or food store.

Re: Certificate of Title No. 14165-1, to Assigned Lots 2A and 2B, Block 54, Townsite of Hazelton (See Map 543)

WHEREAS satisfactory proof of loss of the above Certificate of Title issued in the name of William Jordan Larkworthy has been filed in this office, notice is hereby given that I shall, at the expiration of one month from the date of the first publication hereof, issue a provisional Certificate of Title in lieu of said lost certificate, unless in the meantime valid objection be made to me in writing.

A. THOMPSON Deputy Registrar of Titles.

every step forward cost $4,000!

From the time that Allied Forces landed in Italy until they entered Rome, the material cost of their equipment and supplies amounted to $6,000,000,000! This means that every bitterly contested step of their march cost $4,000! That is only the material cost and does not include the toll of suffering and death.

Fighting in Europe is growing in fierceness and intensity. The enemy is fighting desperately with the blind doggedness of the doomed. It will take mountains of material and millions for munitions to keep him on the run. That is why there must be a Victory Loan . . . for, with Victory in sight, our country must have ample supplies of everything it takes to win, and win quickly.

With the war at the peak of its intensity, Canada must borrow $320,000,000 more this year than last. $70,000,000 of this is due to the cancellation of Compulsory Savings. The Victory Loan provides funds to meet the cost of war by voluntary means . . . gives you a chance to do your part.

Victory Bonds enable you to Lend your money to make sure that Canada's forces have enough of everything needed for a speedy Victory. Victory Bonds are Canada's safest investment and will provide you with a nest egg for your own future. Buy one more before . . . join in the march to Victory.

Nelson Bros. Put up Biggest Pack on Coast This Year — McLean's Doing Repair Work — Little Halibut In

Nelson Bros. Ltd. cannery at Port Edward near Prince Rupert is credited with having put up the largest individual salmon pack for any plant on the British Columbia coast this year. It packed a total of 125,000 odd cases or about one-eighth of the entire pack for the coast. Pinks and chums, running about even, were the principal varieties although there was also a good run of sockeyes. The plant finished packing salmon early in October and the most of the crew was headed to Vancouver for a vacation between now and the time that herring canning starts in the winter. Meanwhile a working crew remains at the cannery getting it in shape for the herring work.

Two government boats are at the McLean Ways at Seal Cove receiving semi-annual overhaul—the provincial police boat P.M. L. 8 and the forestry department's White Cloud.

First halibut boat to bring a cargo into Prince Rupert in a week, the American boat Sun-set arrived Friday with 47,000 pounds aboard. The vessel's fish was sold to B. C. Packers at the ceiling price of 15 cents and 13 1/2 cents. There has been a notable decline in halibut fishing in Area Three in the last few weeks. According to the latest International Fisheries Commission figures the 27,000,000 pound quota set for that area is still 5,000,000 short of being filled. Halibut men who earlier had predicted that

More than a million cases of salmon were packed by coast canneries during the week ending September 30, according to the latest bulletin issued by the Chief Supervisor of Fisheries at Vancouver. This is the largest week's pack so far this season. Of the total, 703,311 cases were packed in District Two, and the Naas and Skeena River canneries, now closed, packed 425,895 cases. Pinks constituted the heaviest pack during the week, accounting for 388,147 cases. Other types packed included 246,013 cases of sockeye and 198,033 cases of chums.

Only Canadian serving with Gen. George Patton's Third United States Army is Cpl. Charles Pearson whose wife lives at 1080 East 21st ave., Vancouver. As a United States Army signal corps photographer, Pearson made a pictorial record of the Third Army's epic advance across France. He was a pre-war photographer in Vancouver.

Shipwrecked sailors covered with fuel oil, now are washed with a new soap especially effective in cleaning men who have been burned or injured.

Laboratory tests show an ordinary watch crystal will crack under 50 pounds of weight.

TERRACE, Oct. 14—On Wednesday evening a well-attended and colorful reception was held in the I.O.O.F. Hall for Constable and Mrs. Bill Richmond who had been married in Prince Rupert on the previous Sunday. Mrs. Emil Haugland and Mrs. Curly Bailey, assisted by ladies of the community and members of the I.O.O.F. Lodge, took charge of proceedings.

When the bride and groom entered the hall the band, consisting of three members of the "Soo-Suds" orchestra and local accompanists, struck up the Wedding March. Mr. and Mrs. Richmond were heartily acclaimed by all those present.

Following a dance and a tastily served supper, the couple were given a number of gifts. Curly Bailey presented them with a set of silverware, a china tea set and a purse containing over seventy dollars. These gifts were from the Terrace people. Rolly Beecher presented the couple with wool blankets from the members of the I.O.O.F. Lodge.

The couple will continue to reside in Terrace where Mr. Richmond is a member of the B.C. Police.
