Will Not Lengthen Out House

Mr. King added that decisive battles of the war and their progress should be considered in deciding the date of the next general election.

WOMAN IS EXPECTING, PAROLED

MELBOURNE, Dec. 7 (CP)—Mrs. Annie Resznoff, sentenced last May to two-and-a-half years in penitentiary on a nudity charge, has been released from prison at Penitentiary, Ontario, and is back home in nearby Krestova, Czechoslovakia, where her husband, Mrs. Resznoff, who is expecting a child, was one of fifty-five Doukhobors sentenced to two years in penitentiary for demonstrating at Nelson and Vancouver early this year. She was released on parole.

Alert Constable Finds Prisoner Wanted in South

The alertness of Constable A. Brett of the city police department in the small hours of Wednesday morning was responsible for identifying a man wanted on a minor charge in the city jail as being wanted in New Westminster for desertion from a Canadian ship. The man is Alfred Slater, formerly an engine oiler on the S.S. Kootenay Park, named on a police circular as being wanted by immigration authorities for leaving his ship without permission while it was docked at the southern port. Last night Constable Brett, about the tedious and generally unfruitful task of comparing the names of men held in the city jail with those on recent police circulars. This time he struck pay-dirt.

SIR HARRY LAUDER VISITS NAVY SHOW—One of the highlights at the opening of the Royal Canadian Navy's show, "Meet the Navy" at Glasgow recently, was the appearance of Sir Harry Lauder. The camera caught him surrounded by a bevy of beautiful Wrens backstage. The show is touring the United Kingdom after a successful coast to coast run in Canada and Newfoundland. It is expected to tour the continent sometime in January before playing in London. (R.C.N. Photo by Lieut. H. J. Nott, R.C.N.V.R.)

Air Power Thrown In

ATHENS, December 7 (CP)—British air power has been thrown into the fight against Greek left wingers. R.A.F. fighter planes flew over the capital of Athens, today and attacked an area where frequent sniping has occurred. However, even after the planes had carried out their attack, gunfire could still be heard in that region.

The British planes went into action after an ultimatum issued to the E.A.M. had expired. British casualties in the fight so far are believed to be light. Left wing losses are said to be considerable.

AIRCRAFT PLANT IS CLOSED DOWN

Canadian Pacific Establishment at New Westminster Will Be Through at End of Month NEW WESTMINSTER, Dec. 7 (CP)—Complete closing of the Canadian Pacific Air Lines plant at New Westminster which once employed 1500 workers on aircraft repairs will likely come to an end this month. E. A. Welsh, selective service manager of the plant, said that the plant was continuing minor repair operations with the object of cleaning up its work at the end of the year.

MAD AIRMAN TAKES LAST WILD RIDE BEFORE HIS DEATH PLUNGE

VANCOUVER, Dec. 7 (CP)—A Royal Canadian Air Force pilot crashed to his death yesterday on Tilbury Island in the south arm of the Fraser River after running amok in a large twin-engined bomber stolen from a nearby air base. For four-and-a-half hours the apparently crazed airman dived over Vancouver and villages to the south, endangering the lives of many persons before the final fatal crash. In his wild dives he swooped on airdromes, roads and other points where airmen and civilians gathered, missing people and parked aircraft by inches.

PIGEON AROUSES HOPE VANCOUVER—A carrier pigeon from a Canso flying boat missing for four days from Patric Bay Royal Canadian Air Force base on Vancouver Island returned to base minus its message container and aroused hopes that nine members of the crew aboard the missing plane might still be alive.

ALIFAX AND STETTINIUS LONDON—The Yorkshire Post says that Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the United States, has been instructed to call on United States Secretary of State Stettinius at Washington to express disapproval of United States "hands off" policy in Italy.

NEW CHIEF OF STAFF OTTAWA—Defence Minister McNaughton today announced change of appointments for two senior army officers of the Canadian Army overseas. Major General P. J. Montague, 62, Winnipeg, in charge of administration at Canadian military headquarters in London, is appointed chief-of-staff at Canadian military headquarters in London. He becomes a lieutenant general. Brigadier E. G. Weeks, 48, Charlottetown, officer commanding, Canadian section, general headquarters in central Mediterranean, is appointed to succeed Montague at London with rank of major-general.

School Teachers Are Resigning

Resignations of Frank C. Canty and Miss Evelyn Bremer from the staff of Booth Memorial school were accepted by the School Board last night. Mr. Canty, whose resignation becomes effective December 31, gave ill health as his reason for leaving. Miss Bremer, who left November 22, returned to her home in Texas where she was called on account of the illness of a relative. The Board is considering an application from R. Mines of Nainaimo for the position of physical education instructor.

ENLISTMENTS THIS MONTH

VANCOUVER, Dec. 7 (CP)—A total of 270 men enlisted for active service in Pacific Command during the first four days of this month. Thirty-six of them were civilian volunteers called up under the National Mobilization Act and four were from the military reserve.

MUNITIONS RATIONED ON WEST FRONT

WITH THE UNITED STATES NINTH ARMY IN GERMANY, Dec. 7 (CP)—Despite considerable improvement in army supplies which has allowed full scope operations, artillery ammunition is still being rationed on the western front. An increase in the use of heavy guns is one reason given for the shortage. During quiet periods artillery commanders are instructed to conserve supplies for future operations. Batteries are put on quotas which are lifted only when the high command strikes with full scale effort.

In Paris French officials said today that French industry is eager to supply allied armies on the western front with urgently needed munitions, but is hamstrung by transportation bottlenecks and deficiencies in raw materials.

Corvette And All On Board Are Lost

WAR NEWS

Osnabrueck, Leipsig, Berlin Hit

LONDON—British and Canadian airmen went after more enemy rail targets last night. The big fellows rumbled in over Osnabrueck and Glessen to loose their bomb loads while other night-shift planes hit a synthetic oil plant near Leipzig. Altogether, 1300 bombers took part in these raids. Some British planes carried out an attack on the German capital of Berlin. Canadian strength was felt in the Osnabrueck assault. Returning pilots reported heavy enemy flak and fighter opposition which took a toll of four Canadian aircraft. It was the third straight night that all squadrons of the Canadian bomber group were out over Europe.

Breakthrough in Philippines

PEARL HARBOR—Breaking a stalemate in the fighting on Leyte Island in the central Philippines, General MacArthur's forces have broken through the Japanese line about twelve miles southeast of Ormoc. North of the Japanese-held port, other Allied forces have repulsed a Japanese tank attack. Tokyo radio, meantime, claims Japanese parachute troops have been landed at four points behind Allied lines to destroy Allied airfields. The enemy broadcast says these troops attacked four airfields near the east coast of the island. There has been no Allied confirmation of this report from Allied quarters.

Revenge For Pearl Harbor

SAIPAN—In a fitting observance of Pearl Harbor Day, American B-29's today bombed Tokyo. The report of the assault comes from the enemy radio, which reports that three or four of the big aircraft participated in the raid. A small fire is reported to have been started at one point. There has been no report as yet concerning the raid from Allied headquarters, but it has been officially reported that Allied planes have raided objectives in Manchuria.

Japs Drive Into China

CHUNGKING—The loss of the town of Tushan, about seventy-five miles southeast of the Burma Road base of Kweiyang, is admitted this morning by the Chinese High Command. Chungking believes that the objective of the Japanese offensive is the capture of Kunning, three hundred miles west. Fall of this city would cripple the prospective supply route from India to China.

Reds Nearing Austria

MOSCOW—Russian columns, driving through Hungary, are now within thirty-five miles of the Austrian frontier. In Yugoslavia, Russian troops, working with Partisan forces, have captured the communications centre sixty-two miles northwest of Belgrade, the Yugoslav capital.

Eighth Deepens Bridgehead

ROME—British forces of the Eighth Army have deepened their bridgehead over the Lamone River in Italy, and all enemy resistance east of the river has been wiped out. Polish troops have captured a town ten miles southwest of Faenza, and these Polish forces have also over-run the important Monte San Rinaldo.

New Saar River Crossing

PARIS—Probing attacks by the Germans were carried out last night along the British Second Army front in Holland. Enemy patrols crossed the Meuse River north of Venlo but the Tommies threw them back, after taking a considerable number of prisoners. Patton's Third Army has made new crossings of the Saar River, and the Americans have captured two-thirds of the French border city of Saareguemines. They have also tightened their grip around Saarbruecken, the Saar Basin's most important city. In the almost-forgotten battle for the fortress city of Metz, another German-held fortress in the Metz defence system has capitulated to the Allies.

UNEMPLOYMENT CLAIMS HIGH

Unemployment insurance claims submitted to offices across Canada were more than four times as great in October as they were in the same month in 1943, latest figures released by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reveal. In October of this year, 6,222 persons filed unemployment insurance claims while in October, 1943, the number of claims filed was 1,475. This year's October figure is also almost double that of September when 3,175 persons claimed unemployment insurance benefits. Obvious reason behind the increase in claims in the last year is the slackening of the wartime industrial drive which was at its peak here a year ago. Drops in munitions, shipbuilding and aircraft output have released workers, many of whom have not yet been re-absorbed into other lines of work. However, the difference between the figures for September and October of this year is partly due to a seasonal rise in the number of claims filed. This, statisticians say, is expected during the winter, and October is the month during which this upswing first becomes apparent. Actually, out of the 6,222 persons who filed claims during October, only 2,485 began to receive unemployment insurance benefits. This brought the total number of people who received unemployment benefits during the month to 5,735. These 5,735 persons were paid a total of $132,467 as compensation for 70,552 unemployed days. This compares with 4,625 persons who received $117,000 for 61,917 days in September, and 1,025 persons paid $24,308 for 13,782 unemployed days in October, 1943. During October of this year the average days per beneficiary was 12.3 compared with 13.4 in September, and 13.4 in October last year. The average amount paid per beneficiary was $23.10 in October as against $25.30 in September, and $23.72 last October. GREAT QUAKE RECORDED LONDON—The West Bromwich seismograph today recorded a severe earthquake shock the centre of which may have been in the Aleutians, the Kuriles of Japan.

H.M.C.S. Shawinigan Goes Down in Atlantic, Navy Has Announced

OTTAWA, Dec. 7 (CP)—Minister of the Navy Angus Macdonald announced today that the corvette Shawinigan was lost in the North Atlantic and the entire complement of seven officers and eighty-four ratings are dead or missing. Only five bodies were recovered and identified. The remainder of the crew, including the captain, Lieut. W. J. Jones, of Brooklyn, New York, are listed as missing.

Outside Use Of Schools

Discussion Arises Out of Activities at Conrad Street

Responsibility for allowing the use of Conrad St. school basement as a social centre outside school hours was placed with school principal Edward Wahl at the monthly school board meeting last night. At present the school basement is the centre of various club activities every week night and on Saturday. Many of the clubs are directed by B. Beggs, community councillor.

Mr. Wahl, Mr. Beggs and J. G. Callaghan, local Wartime Housing director attended the meeting. Mr. Callaghan explained the difficulty.

"It appears that Mr. Beggs and Mr. Wahl, both of whom lead worthwhile recreational activities were unaware of who had direct authority over the building," said Mr. Callaghan. "If the board gave a ruling on this I think it would settle the matter."

Mr. Callaghan said that his organization was prepared to spend about $500 on sports and other equipment when it became available. "So far all the clubs have had a great deal of enthusiasm and the will to co-operate."

Mr. Beggs outlined a list of club activities which occupied the school basement every night of the week. The list included handicraft and dancing clubs, Boy Scouts, Cubs, Brownies and (Continued on Page 4)

RUSSIANS ARE SWEEPING ON

LONDON, Dec. 7 (CP)—Soviet tanks, sweeping past Lake Palaton, have plunged to within forty miles of the Austrian border while the Germans have acknowledged a new threat to Budapest, the Hungarian capital. Budapest is under large scale attack, the Germans reported, and the Russians have gained ground. Russian forces on Jozsef Island in the Danube, just south of Budapest, have established a new bridgehead on the west bank of the river immediately below the Hungarian capital.

One northern B.C. man is listed in late Canadian army casualty lists as being slightly wounded. He is Tpr. Terrance James McGillivray, serving with the Canadian Armoured Corps, whose mother, Mrs. Dorothy McGillivray, lives at Dawson Creek.

Six British Columbia men were among the members of the crew—five from Vancouver and one from Victoria. The announcement said that the Shawinigan went down "while on operational duty in the North Atlantic." It did not say whether the ship met her end through enemy action or weather conditions or when the sinking occurred.

The Shawinigan is the ninth corvette and nineteenth Canadian warship announced as lost in the war.

At Ottawa

Debate Is Near End

OTTAWA, Dec. 7 (CP)—The bitter debate over army reinforcement unavoidable and that in any terday more Liberal members lined up against the Government is nearing an end. Yesterday's sitting opens at 11 a.m. instead of three p.m. in an effort to end the special crisis meeting of Parliament by tonight. Yesterday, Justice Minister St. Laurent told the Commons that he has decided to stand or fall with Mr. King. He said that he supported the voluntary system until Defence Minister McNaughton showed the Cabinet that a change was necessary.

Mr. Bracken predicted a Government victory in a radio speech last night over a National net work of the C.B.C. Last night's session of the Commons saw one more Liberal—George Cruickshank, of Fraser Valley, British Columbia—announce that he will support the Progressive Conservative total conscription amendment. But he added that he will vote for the Government if the amendment is defeated.

Two more Liberals and two Independents—all from Quebec—said they are opposed to overseas conscription. PENITENTIARY GUARDS HELD ATLANTA, Georgia, Dec. 7 (CP)—Four guards are being held along with 25 convicts who have barricaded themselves within the penitentiary here.

Bus Deal Becoming Issue . . .

The bus deal appears to be developing into the major issue in connection with the forthcoming municipal election campaign. Civic Labor Federation is favoring the deal and urging the passage of the money bylaw to ratify it. Non-Partizan Association appears to be opposed.

Those favoring the bus deal, apparently, justify it on the principle that it is a utility which should be publicly owned and operated in order to give an adequate and sure service.

Those opposing the deal and the bylaw feel that the city at this time could use its financial resources or credit to better advantage than going into the bus business and that to go into such business might entail obligations which would be difficult to control and might prove embarrassing.

It is a question to be carefully considered by those who will decide what is to be done.

The Western Front . . .

The crossing of the Maas is the next British problem—a difficult one to solve in bad weather.

The pressure of the U.S. First Army towards Julich Duren will help by drawing off some of the Germans to defend the approaches to Cologne. Similarly in the Saar, the period of German rearguard actions is nearly over as General Patton is reaching the Siegfried Line. There the enemy will have to fight where he stands. In Alsace neither side is comfortable. The Allied corridor to Strasbourg, though widening, is still narrow and liable to be cut, the Vosges passes are hard to clear and the French are exposed to a counter-attack. The Germans also are recovering from the shock of losing Strasbourg and no doubt are trying to send help from the inside of Germany.

Proud of Quebec . . .

When Prime Minister King sought for and obtained from Parliament, following the plebiscite, a conditional authority to resort to compulsory overseas service in case of necessity, the people of Quebec were much disturbed—and understandably so—in view of the repeated assurances they had received from the Liberal Party that it would never depart from the system of voluntary enlistment, under any circumstances. However, as time went by and there was no sign of any necessity arising, they became reassured and, even when Hon. J. L. Ralston was put out of the Cabinet because he demanded that trained draftees be sent overseas at once to replace casualties in the active army, Quebecers remained confident that Mr. King would resign office sooner than break faith with them by putting the detested conscription into force. Then, like a bolt from the blue, word came suddenly from Ottawa that 16,000 draftees were to be sent to the battle fronts in France and Italy, after all. One does not have to have the Latin temperament to appreciate the strain placed upon popular self-restraint by this unexpected, indignation-provoking shock.

In the situation we have thus outlined, it is with a feeling of pleasure and of pride that we can say we have been proud of Quebec during the past few days. Not only has the whole population remained cool and law-abiding—the impulsive demonstrations of a few college lads or young woodsmen are not worth considering—but all those in authority have worked together to make sure that no excess by individual hot heads should place Quebec undeservedly in an unfavorable light before the eyes of the outside world. It is only unfortunate that certain communication services, by making the most of inaccurate and unverified early reports, should have defeated these admirable efforts in part. That however, does not change nor detract from the real condition.

While we regret the continued opposition to compulsory service, even as a means of supporting our active army in the face of heavy battle casualties, we understand the point of view and how it has been hardened into conviction. And, because that conviction is what it is, we repeat that we are proud of Quebec, proud of the manner in which it has received the latest developments at Ottawa. We want our fellow-Canadians and the friends of Canada outside of the country to know that we are proud and we trust that the English-speaking press will place us on record as saying so. —Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph.

ELECTRICIANS CANNOT WORK

Men Brought to Vancouver From East Having Complications Over Matter of Union Membership

VANCOUVER, Dec. 7 — A number of members of the American Federation of Labor affiliate union, said War-time Shipping and Selective Service had misrepresented the situation in Vancouver when arranging for the electricians to come here.

The thirty-five men are mostly from Toronto and Midland, Ontario, and were engaged to work in Vancouver shipyards. Some took out Amalgamated cards and some did not.

HOTELS FOR PEACETIME

Six Point Program of Improvements is Laid Out

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 — A six-point program designed to give superior service for the post-war traveller, and provide many jobs in American hotels during the critical reconversion period is now being developed by the American Hotel Association.

The six points of the program call for immediate preparation of detailed plans by each and every hotel in the country. The American Hotel Association represents more than 5,500 major hotels throughout the nation.

“American enterprise,” said Fay M. Thomas of Detroit, chairman of the Post-War Planning Committee of the American Hotel Association, in announcing the program, “can reach greater heights in the post-war world.”

“It can do this providing it is given full opportunity to perform and produce, and providing we, the enterprisers, see and understand the obligations we must incur, to produce to the fullest, and to employ the employables.”

“It is the responsibility of every industry, every business, every leader, every worker, to give American enterprise the chance to do the job it can do.”

Here are the six steps that American hotels are to undertake now, without waiting for the end of the war:

Outline plans for post-war services, plan in detail for retaining as guests those who are using hotels today for the first time; detail plans for repairs, renovations, and expansion; accurately estimate volume of post-war employment; reappraise each hotel's finances; appoint an executive in charge of post-war planning.

Plans for service include a study of what services should be restarted that were dropped during the war, and whether lessons learned during the war may not be applied to improve those services.

Hotels are to determine, now, what buildings or public rooms they should add to their structures; what should be torn down, replaced, remodelled or repaired. Technical improvements considered include possibility of new methods of housecleaning, dishwashing, elevator operation and control, lighting and heating, food production.

THE PROTECTING FOOD-DRINK 132-R

The Experts Say . . .

CANDY TREAT: Time was when Junior got his candy for being good or as a reward for odd chores. Now, at best, candy is an infrequent treat. The children may not be pleased about it but the shortage of candy may be a blessing in disguise. Candy spoils children's appetites for other foods. This means that they may go short on the protective foods which have such an important place in growth and general health. Nutrition Services says this cannot be stressed too much. Every child needs milk, green and yellow vegetables, fruits, eggs, meat, whole-grain cereals and whole-wheat or Canada - approved bread.

Candy furnishes energy to the body and very little else. Its place in the diet is after meals, not before or between.

JELLIED SALAD— A colorful touch to any holiday lunch or dinner is gleaming red beet and celery salad. It may be served plain but Laura Pepper, chief of the Agriculture Department's Consumer Section, suggests the jellied variety for special occasions.

Soak 1 1/2 teaspoons gelatine in 1/4 cup cold water. Add 1 1/2 cups boiling water and stir until all the gelatine is dissolved. Add 1-3 cup cold vinegar (mild), 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar. Chill the mixture until partially set. Add one cup diced beets and 1/2 cup diced celery and pour the mixture into individual moulds. Chill until firm. To serve, unmould on lettuce leaves. This makes six to eight individual salads.

KILLING VITAMINS: Nobody wants to do this but every one who prepares orange or other fruit juices way ahead of the clock is guilty of it. That goes for opening a can of fruit juice too.

Squeeze your fruit juice just a few minutes before it's going to be used or, if it is coming from a can, the best method is to punch two holes in the lid (one to let the air in and the other to let the juice out). If you don't want to use all the contents of the tin at once remember it's just an old wives' tale that fruit juice shouldn't be kept in the can after it has been opened.

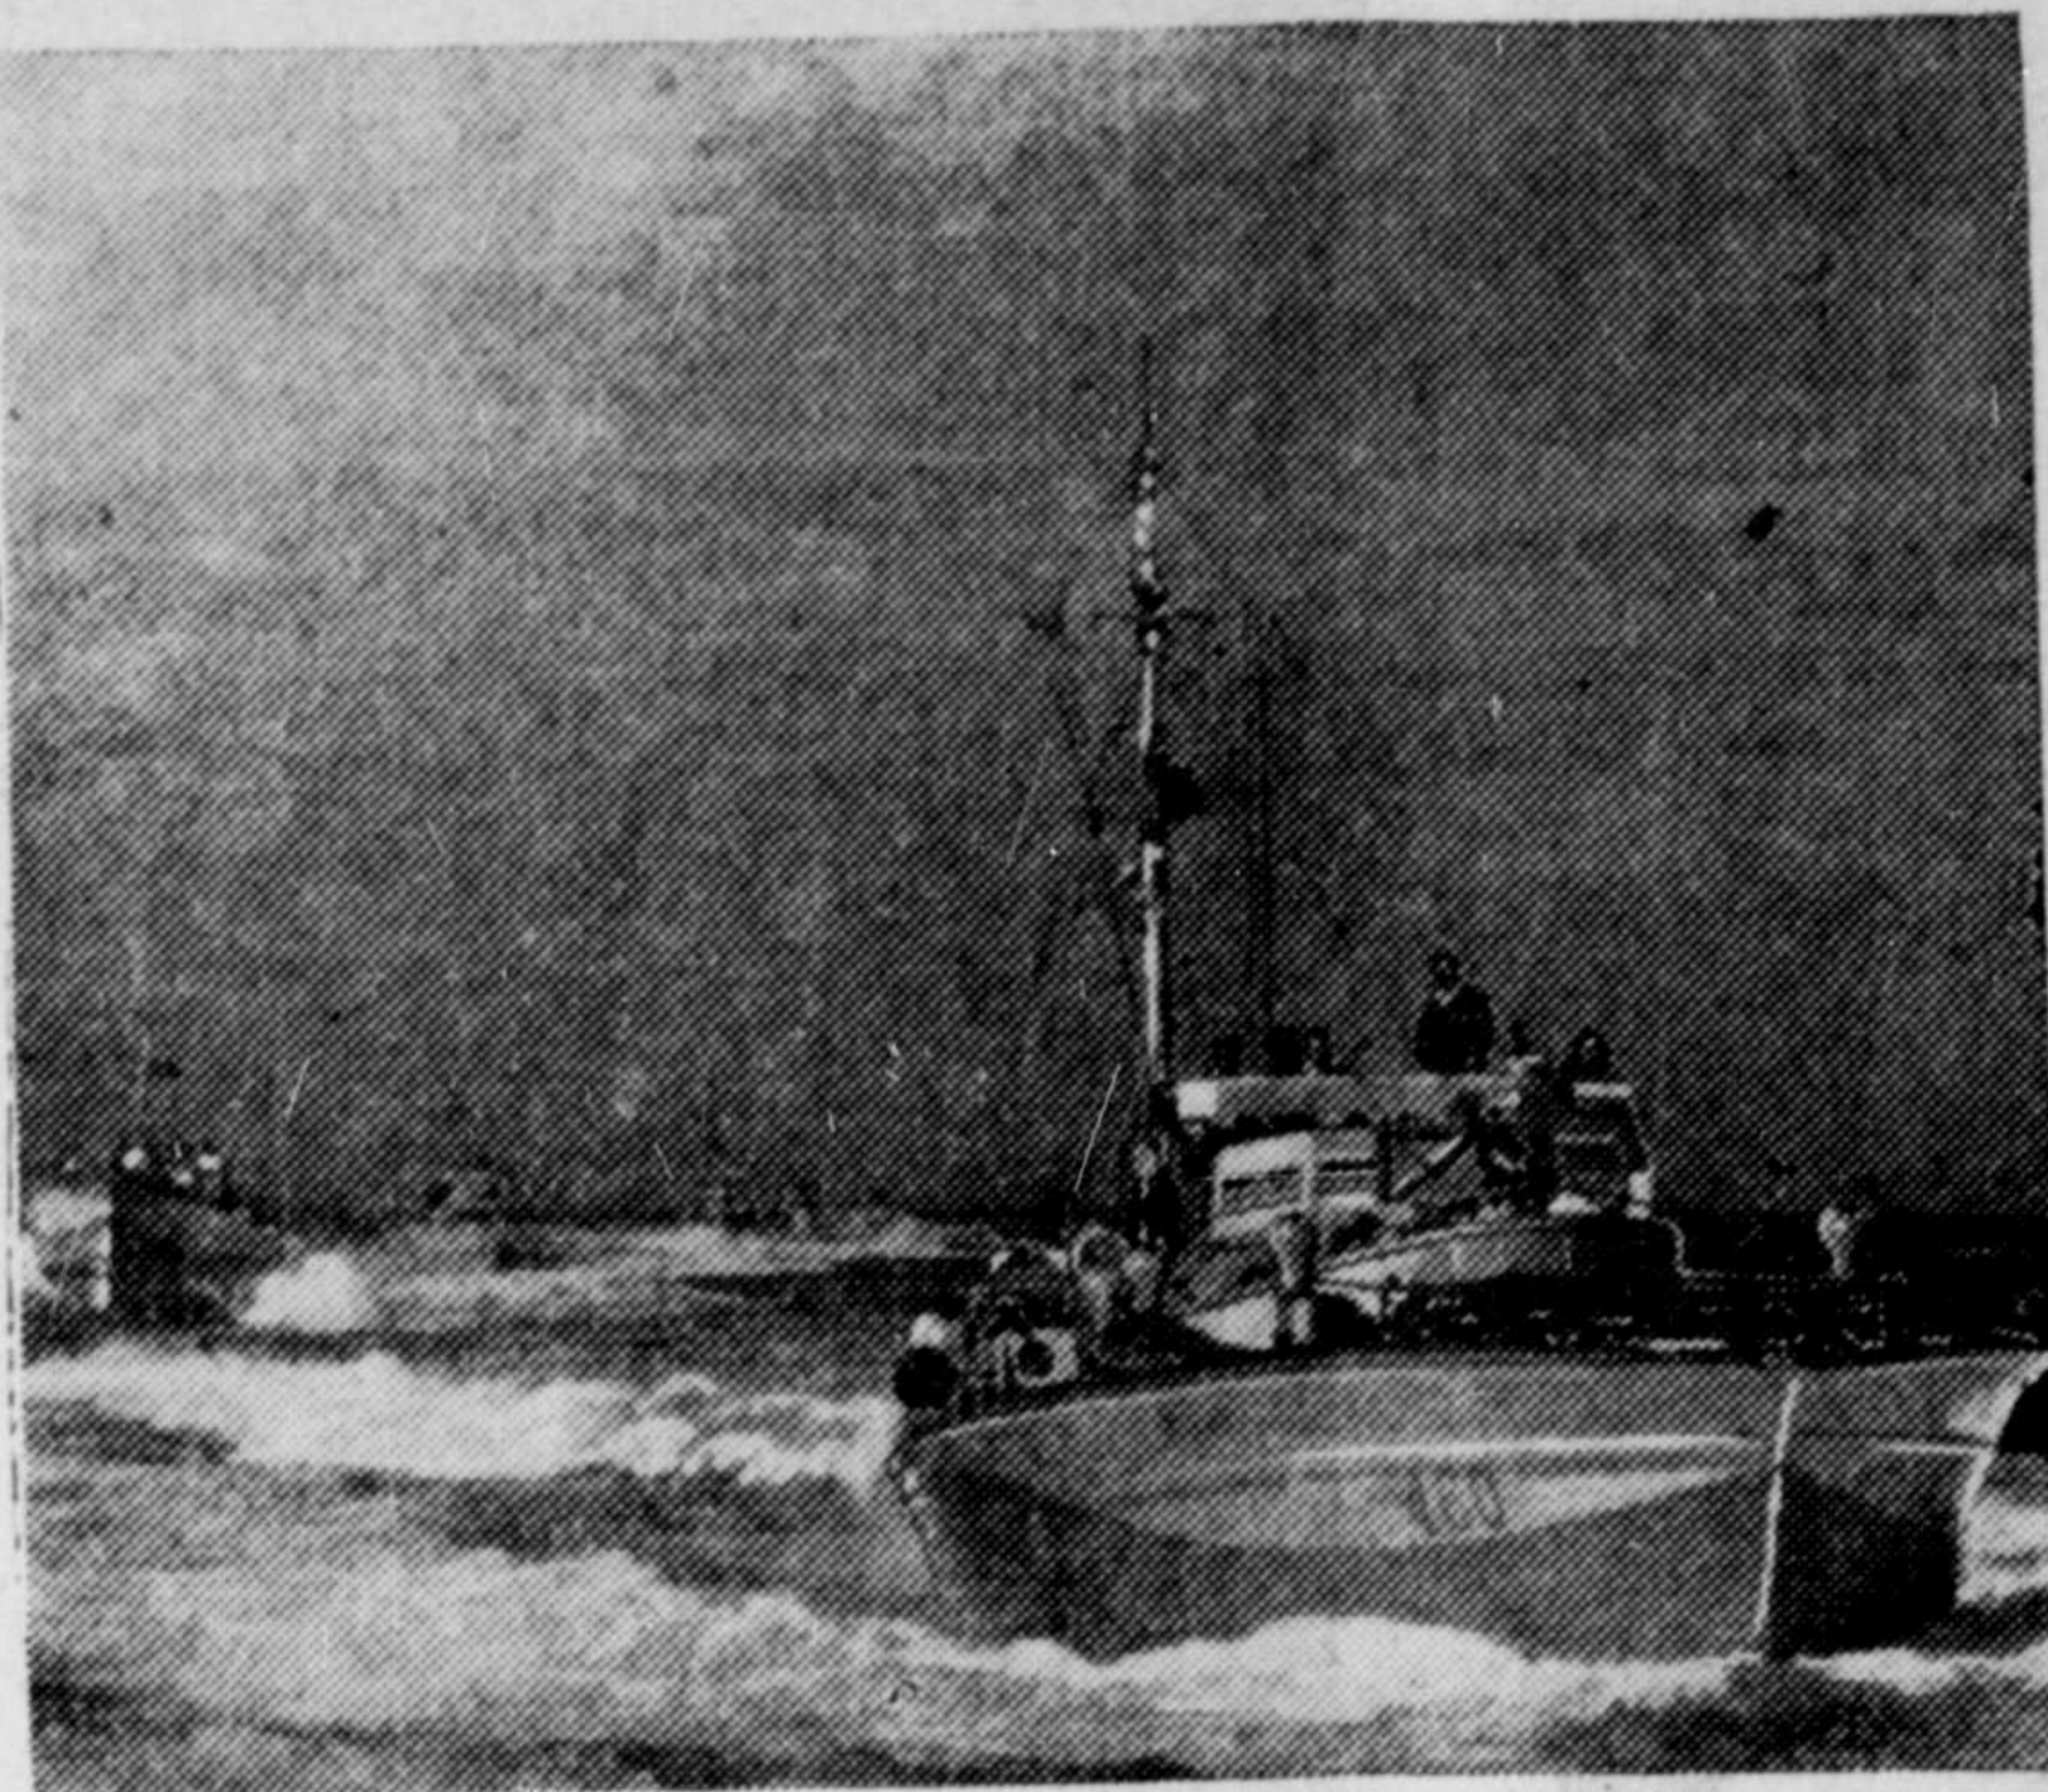

JUNIOR COMMANDOS (pocket edition) give their battle dress a beating, as any mother in the land can testify. Elbows poke through windbreakers, breeks wear through at the knees and at other classic spots—small fry can't pretend to shoot at Germans and still pretend to be mamma's boy. Patches and darns are high style today, even on new garments.

Reinforce elbows and knees in children's clothes—new ones too—with leather. Old gloves will give a more sizeable amount than you would think. And don't forget to darn, as invisibly as possible, elbows of sweaters. Good insurance for new ones.

EGG YOLKS: We know you cover a left-over egg yolk with water and keep it in an airtight jar in the refrigerator. But what do you do next? Use it up in sandwiches and salads? Here's a tip on that. Poach it just as you would a whole egg but cook until it is firm. If you're going to bake, remember that two egg yolks can take the place of one whole egg and make a custard more tender and golden. Don't forget that you can add the yolk to the next pan of scrambled eggs too.

In the bombing of Beulogne and Calais large forces of R.C.A.F. heavies took part.

Racing along at speeds that would make peacetime yachtsmen envious, these little terrors of the fleet point their sharp noses towards enemy waters and tear out at dusk to battle ships many times their size and number. They are the amazing MTB's (motor torpedo boats), manned by Canadians, their heroic action being the subject of the new National Film Board production, "Fighting Sea-Fleas," in the Canada Carries On Series.

RETURN TO RELIGION IS NEEDED

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Dec. 6 — Only a return to religion will solve the problem of juvenile delinquency, in the opinion of Dr. Edwin R. Van Kleeck, assistant commissioner of education in charge of instruction.

"This country has gone to great lengths in the past 20 years to remove any fear of natural or earthly punishment," Dr. Van Kleeck told 500 Onondaga County teachers at the closing session of their convention here.

"Human existence has become for too many the be-all and the end-all. For too many, religion has become merely something having to do with the conditioned reflex or the ductless glands. Since one of the most powerful deterrents to wrongdoing is the fear of punishment, the wonder is, not that we have so much crime, but that we have so little."

One small religious denomination lost 40,000 children from its Sunday schools in 1943, Dr. Van Kleeck said. "The average church, especially by Protestant denominations, spends five times as much money on music as on religious education programs."

Dr. Van Kleeck urged public-school teachers to encourage in their attempts to train their church-school teachers.

"We have attacked the problem of delinquency backwards," he continues. "Delinquency is the symptom—not the disease. Why treat the symptom?"

"Keep children home on school nights. They won't get into difficulties if they are home under their parents' eyes. Boys and girls, like adults, need anchors. They need something to cling to. In the right sense of the word, they need standards. In the correct meaning of the word, they need discipline."

"Children who do not learn to respect authority, to 'mind,' to behave, are greatly handicapped in adult life. Discipline should be consistent."

Canada will supply the United Kingdom with approximately two and a half million board feet of lumber in the first two years after the war.

T.B. Black filed nomination papers for alderman at the City Hall Wednesday afternoon. He was sponsored by C. H. Orme and seconded by Robert Gordon.

W. T. Moodie, general superintendent, Canadian National Railways Sam Morrison, district engineer, and C. J. Quantic, superintendent of motive power and car equipment, all from Vancouver, arrived in the city by train last night from Vancouver in the course of an official tour and will proceed tonight to Vancouver.

Mrs. Arnold's Niece Seriously Injured

Betty Joan Rivett, 13-year-old niece of Ald. Norah Arnold, was in grave condition in a Vancouver hospital today after having had her skull fractured when struck by an automobile while going to school in the southern city at 8:30 yesterday morning. The latest word today said the child was unconscious but there was a slight improvement. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rivett of Vancouver. Betty was a student at Lord Templeton High School in Vancouver. She is a sister of Alf Rivett of this city who is now in Eastern Canada with the armed forces.

an old time dancing club which drew a comment from Mr. Hills that it was a "pretty full program."

"From reports I have heard the clubs are to be highly commended on the work they are doing," the trustee added.

Proper Respect Is Not Shown

Mr. Wahl charged that some of the clubs had not shown proper respect for the school building, laying the blame on lack of responsible leadership. Washrooms had been defaced, and rowdiness had occurred, Mr. Wahl said. He added that the janitor had complained of the extra work involved. Mr. Beggs denied the charge of rowdiness explaining that on some occasions the original purpose of the handicraft clubs had been diverted on account of lack of materials, but that he had not known of improper conduct.

Trustees decided that responsibility for the school rest with Mr. Wahl and that who should be allowed to use the basement facilities should be subject to agreement between Mr. Wahl and Mr. Beggs. Cost of installing electric power to operate handicraft tools should be born by those using them, the board decided.

Mr. Callahan told the board that both R.C.M.P. and city police officials had commended the work of the clubs in keeping young people off the streets.

CHRISTMAS FOODS BEGIN TO APPEAR

Cranberries, substance of that traditional Christmas dinner condiment—cranberry sauce—have appeared in food stores in the city and although it is the first of the outright seasonal food items, others are expected to appear within the next week. Tangerine oranges are due to arrive this week, and artichokes, endives and Christmas candies within a short time, merchants forecast.

At the meat markets, turkeys, geese, ducks and chickens for the Christmas trade are expected to start arriving next week.

JAPANESE REMNANTS STILL FIGHT ON ISLES BEHIND PACIFIC FRONT

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii, Dec. 7

Announcement of a drive by the marines to liquidate enemy remnants on Saipan, while army units were retaking Ngeregong Island in the Palau group from the Japanese, focuses attention on the substantial amount of fighting being done and remaining to be done in areas behind the Pacific battle front.

Although organized resistance on Saipan ended last July, and that island was declared secured, several hundred Japanese remained scattered throughout the hills and valleys.

Four months, remnants of the enemy garrison have rejected surrender appeals and threats and have sniped and otherwise harassed United States forces on that island while it was being converted into one of the most important bases in the western Pacific.

Clean-up Campaign
Having given enemy hide-outs ample time to exhaust their provisions and their will to resist, the marines opened their clean-up campaign early this month.

In three days of mopping-up operations—November 14 to 16—248 Japanese were killed and 472 captured, while nine marines were killed and 40 wounded.

Although the Navy communique announcing this action does not indicate how closely the 295 enemy troops represent the last of the Japanese on Saipan, it would appear that if many are liquidated in two or three days, probably considerably more remain to be dug out of the caves and crevices of that rugged island.

The fact that 20 percent of the Japanese preferred to surrender is encouraging, considering its relation to the heavy mop-up job remaining on numerous other islands by the leap-frogging offensive toward Japan.

Japanese Unpersuaded

However, the great majority of the Japanese stragglers apparently preferred to sacrifice themselves, although they must have known the hopelessness of their position and possibly were acquainted with the good treatment accorded Japanese civilian captives on Saipan. Apparently this means that the Allies have yet to devise an effective persuasive psychological approach to these remnants.

These operations on Saipan also offer to some extent the measure of the cost to be anticipated if and when the clean-ups are extended to other rearward islands. Comparison of total United States casualties with the total enemy killed or captured shows a cost of one marine killed or injured for every six Japanese.

In actual fatalities, the ratio is much more favorable to the United States. Approximately 17 enemy troops killed for every American marine lost.

Mopping-Up Tactics

Fortunately, however, it is unnecessary for the American forces to employ the same digging-out process to eliminate enemy garrisons on all the islands. On some of the smaller and less rugged islands, air power can be applied more effectively to mop up the enemy remnants than on Saipan, where the Japanese were able to take refuge from aerial attack by hiding in dugouts in the hillsides.

Ngeregong provides an example of mopping-up almost exclusively by air. This small island, only 1,000 yards long and 70 yards wide, lies about midway between Peleliu and the larger Japanese-held islands of Babelthuap and Koror in the Palau group.

The Army 81st Division had been patrolling Ngeregong, but it was withdrawn when a superior force of approximately 200 Japanese landed on the island November 8 under cover of a raging typhoon.

It is believed the Japanese intended to mount artillery on the islet to shell Peleliu. But they were not given a chance to carry out their intentions.

Marine fighters from Peleliu hit Ngeregong on November 10-11, bombing and strafing so thoroughly that when the army units returned to Ngeregong on November 14, they met no resistance.

FAMILY OF NEWEST V.C. WINNER—This picture, taken in their Owen Sound, Ont., home, shows the wife and son of Major David Vivian Currie who has just been awarded the Victoria Cross for personal courage and devotion to duty in the bitter fighting near Falaise in Normandy. SCORES ARE IDENTICAL Odd Occurrence in League Play Last Night.

The two Area Basketball League "A" Section games last night in the Acropolis gymnasium last night produced one of the oddest occurrences in the book when both fixtures resulted in the identical score of 61 to 29. City defeated Bo-Me-Hi and Acropolis Hill downed the Officers.

An individual scoring spree that would have been the feature of the evening, had it not been for the above mentioned point, was staged by "Shorty" Santurbane, of the City, who rolled up a total of 30 points.

Santurbane's sniping efforts yielded the highest individual score of the season, exceeding the 23-point fixture turned in by Gerasimoff of "B" Section's Air Force club.

Murray topped the losers in scoring with 11 markers while Hartwig secured eight, as did Holkestad, of the winners.

Coupled with the Officers' defeat by Acropolis, this victory gave Prince Rupert undisputed possession of third place.

City—Santurbane 30, Bill 5, Davis 4, Holkestad 8, Postuk 4, Vuckovich 3, Pavlikis 1, Fitch 2, Dominato 4—61.

Bo-Me-Hi—Welsh, Murray 11, Forman 2, Hartwig 8, Ciccone, Good, Cruickshank 1, Sheppard, Foote 3, Thompson 4—29.

The Game at Acropolis

In Acropolis Hill's triumph earlier in the evening, four members of the Hill quintet, Kiener, Deiss, Willoughby and Garzelloni, accounted for 46 of their team's 61 points. None of these four made more than 14 counters.

Holmes and Ernest bagged nine counters each to spark the Officers.

The lineups follow:
Acropolis—Deiss 11, Kiener 14, Kalinovich 4, Garzelloni 10, Wallingford, Homyak 4, Willoughby 11, Lis, Bruegger 2, Swanson 5—61.

Officers—Holmes 9, Thrasher 1, Peek, Bone, Hill 5, Clausen 3, Glasebrook 2, Ernest—29.

Standings of the Area Basketball League's "A" Section follows:

| | W. | L. | Pts. |
|----------------|----|----|-------|
| Port Edward | 5 | 0 | 1,000 |
| Acropolis Hill | 4 | 1 | 800 |
| Prince Rupert | 3 | 2 | 600 |
| Officers | 2 | 3 | 400 |
| Co-ops | 0 | 3 | 000 |
| Bo-Me-Hi | 0 | 4 | 000 |

For the past few days Rfmn. R. Wolfe, Liverpool, N.S., had been billeted with these Belgian people, as he went about his duties in regard to the recent investiture in Ghent. Here he thanks them for the hospitality. The investiture was made by the Burgmaster of the city to Canadian officers instrumental in the liberation of the area; awards were in silver and bronze medals. CITY BLACKED OUT AS POWER SERVICE FAILS

"In winter I get up at night. And dress by yellow candle light."

That line by Robert Louis Stevenson had direct meaning for city residents this morning as they bumped about in the early morning darkness to find where they had put their blackout candles and lamps, after a power failure occurred at 7:30.

For some the blackouts of two years ago had left a legacy of gas mantle lamps which were handy indeed this morning. With lights out all over the city, except in military establishments and the dry dock which have their own power sources, the white light of the gas lamps brightly mocked those homes and business places which had to depend on candle stubs and oil lamps until the morning darkness lifted.

Power did not come on until 10:15.

Among those who felt benefit from the power failure were city school children who were sent home from their darkened classrooms. Booth High School felt the frigid touch of winter when its automatic coal stoker stopped operating.

Prince Rupert General Hospital was blacked out along with the rest of the city, but no harm was done as no emergencies occurred during the shut off. The power came on in time for the X-ray department to get started, it was learned.

Cause of the disruption was the blowing of a "pot head" near the Cow Bay sub-station.

CHRISTMAS RUSH BRINGS WOES BUT MAIL WILL GET THROUGH

Although he does not know if he will be able to get all the extra help he will need this season, Postmaster J. R. Morison feels that somehow he and his staff will be able to do right by the Christmas mail.

Business has already begun to pick up at the downtown post office and some extra seasonal mail workers have been employed. However, the real pre-Christmas rush is not expected to begin until next week.

Mr. Morison was inclined to defer comment until the expected rush begins.

"Right now it looks as though we will have difficulty getting enough help. There seems to be a shortage of people willing to take a seasonal mail clerk's job but it may ease off later," he said.

The postmaster added that his office was allowed a budget for employment of extra help at Christmas and the trick was to get as much help as possible and still stay within the budget.

"Last year we had 12 extra mail clerks as well as additional help from army clerks at the military post office. The military clerks did an exceptionally good job, most of them having been in the postal service since the beginning of the war."

This year's prospects of getting help from military clerks does not seem quite so bright, Mr. Morison forecast.

"They have only a staff of three there now, so it looks like we might have to practice 'reverse lend-lease' during the coming rush," he said with a smile.

He urged public co-operation in the preparation and addressing of mail.

Meanwhile, like the tide that threatened to dampen King Canute's feet, a growing body of parcel laden, Christmas-conscious citizens surges in and out of the post office doors.

Huh, Huh
"So you would like to be like Diogenes who lived in a tub?"
"Gor, gun-ner! Nah! I thought you said a pub."

Really?
The handsome husband and his jealous wife had just been seated in a restaurant when an attractive blond entered. She smiled sweetly at the husband, who bowed and smiled back. A little later they smiled again.

The wife asked, "Who is that bold looking girl?"
The husband replied, "Now don't you start on that. I'm going to have a hard enough time trying to tell her who you are."

Fire and Brimstone
"Do you think the speaker put enough fire into his words?"
"Oh yes. The trouble was, he didn't put enough of his speech into the fire."

Deception
She—"You deceived me before we were married. You told me that you were well off."
He—"I was but I didn't know it."

We can say this in three words—
