IN THE PHILIPPINES . . .

Now that the Americans have landed on the Philippines, a real matching of land power in the southwestern Pacific war theatre will ensue. The Japanese, of course, prefer to fight on land and some observers believe it will take a long time to clear the enemy from the Philippines land-mass.

But General MacArthur has a special urge to return to the Philippines and the United States has an obligation to free the island as soon as possible. Landings there should find — except around Davao — a friendly population, an aid not to be expected in Formosa. American forces operating in the far Pacific are at the end of a tremendous supply line. The leap, even from new bases in the Marianas, all the way to China, is much longer than it may look on the map. It is across the main Japanese supply line and through an area still saturated with enemy forces.

It would appear that it is not an easy job that the Americans have in store in the Philippines but, no doubt, MacArthur had the preliminary situation well in hand before he commenced the current invasion. And so far the Americans have been making very satisfactory progress indeed.

A GREAT TRAVELLER . . .

A few weeks ago Mr. Churchill was in Rome conferring with the leaders of the Mediterranean lands and the Mediterranean forces. Soon after he was in Quebec conferring with Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. King. Then he returned to London and stayed there long enough to give Parliament and the world a masterly review of the military and diplomatic position of the war. Next he was in Moscow conferring with Mr. Stalin and other Soviet leaders on matters of prime importance.

It is one of the marvels of the day that a man of Mr. Churchill's years, who has for five years faced the constant strain that has been his lot, who has in that time twice been ill from pneumonia, has been able to maintain his vigor as he has and been able to undertake so much travel on behalf of the war effort of the Allies. He has been the liaison officer par excellence of the United Nations. He has been perhaps the most significant world traveller since Columbus reached Watling Island and since Magellan's men circled the globe.

His Russian trip was one of the most important of his career. For a real understanding between Russia and the western Allies on such matters as world security, the post-war treatment of Germany and the future of the smaller nations is vital if "security" is to be more than a by-word.

VICTORY LOAN SUNDAY PARADE

Local Campaign is Inaugurated With Procession on Fine Sunday Afternoon

A military parade and march past took place on Third ave. yesterday afternoon as a feature of the opening of the Seventh Victory Loan campaign in Prince Rupert. It was a fine afternoon and large crowds turned out to see the procession and hear the bands.

Featured in the procession were two interesting floats. One was of attractive international character featuring women of the services—both Canadian and American—and with little Dorleen Olsen as dainty Miss Prince Rupert. There were Wren officer and rating, United States Army woman officer and rating, Women's Division officer and C.W.A.C. non-commissioned officer and private and R.C.A.F. airwoman. The decorations were in tastefully decorated patriotic colors. The other float depicted a cleverly built railway locomotive made of black tar paper superimposed over a truck, having even the chugging effects. The United States Army Transportation Corps was responsible for this.

The United States Army, Canadian Navy and local Sea Cadets participated in the parade and there were three bands—United States Army, Canadian regimental and Sea Cadets, H.M. C.S. Chatham band was placed opposite the saluting base at the Post Office to play for the March Past.

The salute was taken by Commander M. Wood, naval officer in charge at Prince Rupert. Also present on the saluting stand were Col. Colin Ferrie, commanding officer of Prince Rupert Defences, and Wing Commander W. T. F. Tourgis, Royal Canadian Air Force, with Aid. N. E. Arnold representing the city.

Several gun vehicles were also in the parade including an army fire truck. Capt. J. N. Budd was parade marshal and American and Canadian provosts assisted in patrolling.

First Army from a flanking attack while it finishes the job of clearing out Germans on the Schelde's southern lip and on the Island of Walcheren.

The advance carried one column along the road from Wuestwezel and Aelterbroek to within three miles of Essen.

Two thousand prisoners already had been taken by U.S. First Army men who captured the mediaeval city of Aachen 40 miles west of Cologne.

British infantry and Canadian tanks entered the road-junction of Wuestwezel, 13 miles north and slightly east of Antwerp and the Antwerp-Breda highway, and Sen patrols probing out a mile or two northwest of the town.

Two other columns, in twin-drives along the roads to Roosendaal, seized Salmphouth and near the Roosendaal Canal.

This offensive was the second phase of the battle to win use of Antwerp port as a supply base. The first phase has drawn to an end west of Antwerp, with Canadians taking Breskens, south of the Schelde estuary.

Breach Dam

German communications farther south were crippled when fighter-bombers, operating with the U.S. Third Army, bombed and breached the Dieuze dam, 25 miles northeast of Nancy, flooding the town of Dieuze and the surrounding countryside with a spreading shallow lake, which covered the railroads and highways with two feet of water prefaceing a new advance.

The German high command claimed that the attack by the Canadian forces "on a broad front" northeast of Antwerp was "brought to a standstill." It acknowledged slight initial successes.

It admitted that Allied attacks in the Breskens area in the Schelde pocket and east of Helmond in Holland had succeeded.

The Canadian forces were about seven miles southeast of the Netherlands' town of Bergen Op Zoom and its excellent harbor midway between Antwerp and Rotterdam.

The area south of the Roosendaal canal is heavily mined. The Germans are using mines which leap into the air on contact spraying lead pellets at waist height.

This is the first time the Canadians have met them extensively in this theatre.

Old French and Belgian shells are being used as mines and booby traps in the villages and woods.

The R.A.F. tactical air force planes supporting the Canadian Army flew 476 sorties in poor weather Friday and 162 of these were strikes against German rail communications. It is probable the Germans will make their big drive southwest Holland along a running from Bergen on to Rosendaal and Tilburg

UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER!

OUR BOYS OVERSEAS
WON'T STOP SLUGGING
UNTIL OUR ENEMIES
HOIST THE WHITE FLAG

AND WE TOO, MUST SEE IT THROUGH UNTIL THE FINISH

● Into the last few weeks—or months—of the crusade against the Nazis, our Canadian boys overseas are pouring every ounce of their strength. We, at home, in our daily tasks, can do no less.

Gallant fighting men of every historic Canadian regiment are slugging it out to Victory—slugging, slugging, ever deeper into German strongholds. But—until the white flag droops over blasted Berlin itself—not for one moment will they relax or slacken their efforts.

We, too, at home must see it through—to the finish.

And so, proudly and thankfully, Canadians everywhere welcome the opportunity presented by the new Victory Loan. For this, more than ever, is indeed a VICTORY Loan. More than ever—every last one of us will want to play our part in the triumph—will want, in our humble way, to keep slugging it out to the end.

Victory, indeed, is "everywhere"—and today's call to us is clear and strong. "One more bond than before" is a fighting challenge which none of us can ignore.

DEATH TOLL

to estimate the number of persons not accounted for.

An estimated 3,900 persons were made homeless by flames cascading on the heels of blasts which sent tongues of fire towering to a height of 2,800 feet. Possibly 10,000 others were evacuated from undamaged homes because of utilities disrupting and the danger of further blasts. Damage was heavy. Fire Chief James E. Granger estimated damage at "between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000" but added the estimate probably would be revised upwards. The blaze continued most of the day.

Families from the stricken choked nearby streets, most of them carrying children or what few possessions they could grab. Cleveland State Guards and naval militiamen patrolled the burned area to protect property from looters.

An earth-shaking explosion of one of the East Ohio Gas Company's two spherical liquid gas tanks sent flames hundreds of feet skyward. Witnesses said the blast hurled a canopy of fire over frame structures in the immediate vicinity and shattered windows more than a mile distant. Cause is unknown.

Officials of the East Ohio Gas Company said an explosion in a nearby testing laboratory of the American Gas Association apparently fired the liquid gas tanks. Cause of the laboratory explosion was not immediately established.

Scores of fires sprang up almost instantly as the tinder-dry structures were ignited.

Panic-stricken mothers darted from burning homes, leading children to safety.

A second explosion soon rocked the area, skyrocketing a fresh column of flames. As the raging fire spread on the wings of a brisk breeze, liquid gases detonated, and minor blazes occurred in gas mains, apparently as the high-volatile substance reached those outlets.

Struck by Debris

Persons and vehicles were struck by flying bricks and debris that soared higher than four-storey buildings as explosions occurred in gas lines.

A. H. Aumick, aboard a trolley car which reached the scene a moment before the first explosion, said:

"Flame and smoke billowed hundreds of feet into the air and the heat was already so intense in the street car all the passengers made for the doors but the motorman plowed through the flames. We could see several small houses catch fire and it looked terrible."

CZECHS JOIN WITH CANUCKS

Dominion Army One of Most International in War

LONDON, Oct. 23 (C) — A Czechoslovakian brigade formed and trained in Britain has joined the Canadian First Army. This latest addition to Lieut. Gen. Crerar's forces makes the Canadian Army one of the most international fighting groups of the present war. It now includes Canadian, British, Polish and Czechoslovakian units. During the campaign in France, Belgian and Netherlands brigades fought under Canadian command.

Air support for the Canadian Army is given by a tactical air force group in which there are British, Canadian, Polish, Norwegian, and South African pilots.

ENTRY INTO LEYTE

respondent, said the 600-ship convoy carried at least as many troops as were landed on D-Day in Normandy. Prime Minister Churchill has disclosed that nearly 250,000 men landed in France the first day. Such a sizeable force for the Philippines operation might well suggest that even greater operations, with more landings on other islands, are in the offing against the estimated 225,000 Japanese defending the Philippines.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz listed the destruction of 87 planes and the sinking of a large enemy cargo ship by carrier planes.

The bag of planes raised to more than 1400 the number knocked out by carrier planes since they opened preparations for the Philippines invasion Oct-ber 9.

Gen. MacArthur, who went ashore with his forces Thursday, was quoted in a field dispatch as saying that there was little more than one Japanese division on Leyte. Its position was hopeless, he said. American naval and air power would make reinforcement impossible.

Gen. MacArthur said the operations caught the enemy by surprise and beachheads were secured "with small casualties."

Speaking over the radio to the people of the Philippines, Gen. MacArthur told them that their president, Sergio Osmeña, and members of his cabinet were at his side.

"The seat of your government is now, therefore, firmly re-established on Philippine soil," he continued. "I now call upon your supreme effort that the enemy may know from the temper of an aroused and outraged people within that he has a force to contend with no less violent than is the force committed from without."

President Osmeña, standing on the soil of his homeland, issued a stirring call to all Filipinos to rise and fight the Japanese invaders whenever the tide of battle reached their area.

Gen. MacArthur said the operation "at one stroke splits in two the Japanese forces in the Philippines." He estimated these at 225,000, commanded by Field Marshal Count Terauchi, and pointed out that Japanese on the big southern island of Mindanao were virtually isolated by the operation.

industry in this district. The assistance we can give servicemen will depend largely on the prosperity in the community."

Consequently, on tomorrow night's agenda is the work of appointing special committees to investigate the opportunities in such industries as fishing, logging, mining, industries, farming, and welfare. An executive committee will be appointed to collate the data gathered by these special committees.

One of the initial acts of the meeting will be the appointment of a permanent chairman, secretary and treasurer. The chairman and secretary may also be members of the executive committee, according to tentative plans.

The meeting will also be asked to determine the general scope of the work to be undertaken, and to consider the need for office space and paid assistants, and such other matters as may enable the finance committee to prepare a budget.

"A very important part of the work will be the proper selection of committee members," Mr. Lowe says. "It is necessary that we see that the right men get on the right committees. For instance, a man who is an authority on fishing should be on that committee and not on the mining committee."

RECREATION IS GREATEST NEED

Highlights of a discussion at a meeting of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teachers' Association on possible community improvements included proposals that theatres should be asked to provide children's pictures for Saturday matinees instead of regular films for adults, that the juvenile section of the public library should be enlarged and supplemented, that children's reading be better supervised and that an effort be made to stimulate community interest in establishing a "Neighborhood House" or "Hobby Library" for children living west of McBride st. It was held that supervised recreation was the greatest need of Prince Rupert children.

Making Decisions Is Sermon Subject

Faith in God could be of great aid in making decisions, be they great or small, and following them through in these uncertain times when it was often difficult for one to make up his mind as to what might be the wise course to take. So said Rev. A. F. MacSween, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, in his morning sermon yesterday, the subject being "On the Unknown Way."

The sacrament of baptism was performed on Jean Abigail Hogg, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hogg.

What they achieved...we must hold

THEY HAD ENDURED POVERTY in Scotland. Many had died of typhus during long weeks at sea. All through the winter at Churchill on Hudson Bay they suffered from cold and hunger. In April they trudged 150 miles across the snow to York Factory—thence up the Nelson River, Lake Winnipeg and the Red River to the Selkirk Settlement where Winnipeg now stands.

It was a whole year's journey for this little band of Selkirk Settlers—a year of constant hardships. But these hardy pioneers were willing to undergo any hardships to reach a land where their effort and initiative could earn its reward, and where they could carve out a happy future for themselves and their children.

That is the heritage they have handed down to us. That is what we are defending in this second World War.

Victory Bonds are the means by which each Canadian can share in the war effort of his own free will. That is why Canadians have given their wholehearted support to each Victory Loan. That is why we will support the Seventh Victory Loan to the limit of our ability.
