

U.S. RE-ELECTS ROOSEVELT

Table with 4 columns: Candidate, States, Electoral Seats, Popular Vote. Roosevelt: 35, 413, 14,411,965. Dewey: 13, 118, 12,165,763.

THE WINNER President Franklin D. Roosevelt

Wins 34 out of 48 States—Both Senate and House of Representatives go Democratic

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (CP)—Franklin Delano Roosevelt has been re-elected for a fourth term as President of the United States. His re-election was conceded late last night by his Republican opponent, Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York. Mr. Roosevelt carried with him to victory Senator Harry Americans at the time Dewey gave up: For Roosevelt, 14,411,965. For Dewey, 12,165,763. State after state had slipped away from Dewey. Roosevelt took command of 34 states with electoral count of 395.

Dewey had only 14 states with 136 votes at the time he announced it was all over. The Roosevelt tide was felt in congressional and gubernatorial races.

At the rate the President was going it looked as if he would carry a Democratic house with him. There was never much doubt about the Senate.

Long before Dewey's concession an increasing number of Republican newspapers had granted Roosevelt's re-election.

The last hope of Dewey followers was swept away when New York's 47 electoral votes were transferred to the Roosevelt column.

The Grand Old Party's hopes crashed under an avalanche of ballots to which Dewey's own populous state added its majority.

President Roosevelt stands today armed with a fresh and impressive mandate from the American people to continue for another four years the leadership he has given them in peace and war since 1932.

As more returns came in today the certainty increased that Roosevelt, along with his victory in the presidential vote, would have a strong Democratic majority behind him in both Senate and House of Representatives.

With returns still far from complete late today, it appeared President Roosevelt would have close to 400 of the 531 electoral college votes but the candidates were still not far apart in the popular vote.

Reports so far indicate that the election was conducted quietly and with little or no disorders throughout the country.

Notable individual defeats were Senator Gerald P. Nye, North Dakota isolationist, and Representative Hamilton Fish in New York.

Nebraska voted emphatically against prohibition.

AREAS 3 AND 4 CLOSE NOV. 30

The court of revision which will consider the list on November 15 is expected to make only minor changes.

The sitdown ended when the management agreed to postpone the installations until the British Columbia Labor Department conciliator investigated.

It is announced in Whitewood that the General will be asked to run in Qu'Appelle riding in the next federal election by the Qu'Appelle Liberal Association. Maybe Lack of Chlorine Is The Cause Citizens who for the last two days have been holding their hands to their midriffs and complaining that the chlorine in the city's water supply was doubling them up with all sorts of gastronomic disorders may also add shock to their other ailments when they learn that as yet there is no chlorine in the city's water.

Mayor H. M. Daggett said in council Monday night that he understood "it will be some time before the city's water is chlorinated."

For the benefit of those who looked with suspicion on the cloudy water which came out of most household faucets on Monday morning, it has been learned on good authority that it was caused by air which entered the mains when they were emptied to install a meter on Sunday.

Canada Well Pleased...

Prince Rupert people like the rest of Canadians are pleased over the re-election of Franklin Delano Roosevelt as President of the United States. Here on this side of the line the most of us are undoubtedly gratified that the American electors saw fit not to change their chief administrator at this most critical point in the history of world affairs in the formulation of which the United States is playing such a vital part.

Now that the election is over and the issue settled, we can but hope that Mr. Roosevelt will be able to stand up to another four years of administering his great country during its most momentous and strenuous days and that, when the time for another presidential election comes around, affairs of the world and the nation will be such that he will be able to satisfy his personal desires and retire on his laurels in splendid culmination of a remarkable and worthy career in the service of the United States and civilization as a whole.

Follow Up On Alaska

Local Chamber of Commerce Moves to Form International Association

To follow up contacts made by members of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce on their recent goodwill tour to southeastern Alaska and develop a closer relationship between that part of the territory and this port as its natural railway and highway connection with the outside world, a special Alaska committee is to be set up by President W. J. Scott of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Scott announced his intention to the chamber at its meeting Monday night after Arnold Flaten and W. M. Watts presented a report on the tour to the meeting.

Mr. Flaten said the delegation had met with greater enthusiasm on the part of the people of Southeastern Alaska than he had expected. They were definitely interested in Prince Rupert. "Those who did not make the trip may not be able to understand our enthusiasm as to the possibilities of Prince Rupert's connection with Alaska. I expect that there will be a lot of traffic between here and Alaska and now is the time that we should start making plans to handle it. We are particularly behind in the way of catering to tourist traffic here," Mr. Flaten told the chamber that the people of southeastern Alaska were interested in the idea of having a conference with the people of Prince Rupert next year.

Mr. Watts said that two points which had been stressed by the people the delegation had met in Alaska—one the necessity of more adequate hotel accommodation here and the other the establishment of facilities for the handling of cars between Prince Rupert and southeastern Alaska, more particularly connecting the Prince Rupert Highway with the Haines cut-off to the Alaska Highway. The establishment of a car ferry seemed more feasible than the building of stub roads to connect southeastern Alaska with the Alaska Highway. A very substantial capital outlay would be involved in the establishment of such a car ferry service. Mr. Watts referred to the splendid reception the delegation had been accorded at all points visited.

President Scott felt that a move should be made to form an association representing Southeastern Alaska, Prince Rupert and the central interior in view of their community of interest. Such an association would carry greater weight in making representations on matters that would have to be taken

CO-OPS HERE TO REMAIN

University of B.C. Speaker Heard at Local Meeting

Last evening the educational committee of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association sponsored a public meeting to hear Breen Melvin, extension department field University of British Columbia worker, who stated that, since co-operative movement is democratically controlled, constructive in its approach, always seeking fields for expansion, and built upon an enlightened membership, it has a vital role to play in the struggle for economic democracy. The fact that this growing organization reached over national boundaries to include all those who subscribed to its tenets made it of great worth as a means to achieve peace and understanding among nations. The existence of a rapidly growing freedom fund for the rehabilitation of co-operatives in devastated countries was cited as evidence of the international goodwill felt by fellow societies in Great Britain, Sweden, Australia, Argentina and other lands.

Reminding his audience that they belonged to a vast body of people, Mr. Melvin gave figures to support his statement. A $5,000,000 oil refinery recently purchased in Kansas; $23,600,000 worth of business done by the Alberta Livestock Co-operative last year, and other similar developments offered ample proof that the Co-ops were here in full force.

Jack Deane, general manager of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association, was chairman of the meeting. He gave a brief account of his recent trip to the Eastern United States and Canada. His return journey across the prairie provinces gave him an opportunity to see first-hand the remarkable growth of the movement in that area.

A question period at the end of the meeting brought out several interesting points of discussion and afforded an opportunity to make suggestions concerning future educational activity.

WOMEN'S DUTY
IN ELECTIONS

"I sometimes wonder if womvice-regent of Municipal Chapter, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, said this morning to the Daily News in expressing her opinion regarding women's attitude towards the approaching civic elections. "It is of vital importance that every woman in this community should take a keen interest in being represented by civic officials who best represent her ideals," she said. "It is difficult to understand how women of intelligence, who are most thoughtful in all other matters, regard with indifference the election of those who administer the affairs of their community; or vote as the male members of their family may direct."

"Mrs. Elkins wondered if women ever realized what it would mean if they were sud-privilege, earned through great sacrifice of others. Conscientious women, she considered, could they are partially responsible, if they do not exercise their she must be an alert and think-

Every woman has her own office, Mrs. Elkins felt, and so should not only staunchly supmeasured up to them but also use her influence in every pos-

Minister of Justice Makes Statement on H.D. Issue

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—Minister of Justice Louis St. Laurent, in a statement recently said the people of Quebec would have felt themselves deceived if the government had decided to send the Home Defence Army overseas. St. Laurent paid tribute to Hon. J. L. Ralston, former minister of national defence, describing him as "a great Canadian worthy of the admiration of all the people of the dominion."

Speaking in Quebec City, Justice Minister came out in support of the government's stand. He said: "If the federal government had decided to send draftees overseas as reinforcements, most of the people of Quebec would have considered themselves deceived by their English-speaking compatriots."

The chief opposition to conscription for overseas' service has come from the province of Quebec.

Lumping Military,

The inclusion of military fire losses on the record of civilian losses caused an increase of $1,- 000.00 on the provincial fire marshal's record in 1943, but it is last night in a letter from W. A.

Walker, provincial fire marshal.

Mr. Walker's letter was in re-against lumping civilian and military fire records on the grounds that it presents an un-

Mr. Walker stated that he be-account.

DAILY NEWS
CANADIANS BREAK THROUGH

Do you see... behind the headlines... our boys in the thick of it?

Do you hear... the voice of a wounded boy you used to know calling to the stretcher-bearers?

Is it just news, that you read with your breakfast or on your chesterfield at night?

It isn't news to them... it's hell!

From a bullet-spattered trench all they can see is a few yards of blackened, blasted earth, strewn with the bodies of those boys you used to know... their chums... the dying and the dead!

All they know is that this bit of ridge must be taken, this river must be crossed, this last machine-gun nest must be silenced.

Do you ever figure what it costs to hold each bit of ridge... to cross each tiny river?
... Lives! Lives! More Lives!

Weapons help!

Weapons save lives!

Keep sending them!

Send more this time than ever before!

And when you buy that extra bond... a little grudgingly, maybe?... think of what those chaps over there have parted with... perhaps for ever!

They Mark the Trail of Victorious Canadians

You could follow the trail of conquering Canadians in Northern France — as in North Africa, Sicily and Italy — by empty packages of Sweet Caps! And every cigarette in every package was like a breath of home, bringing comfort in loneliness, relief after battle-strain. No wonder Sweet Caps are Canada's most popular cigarettes over there as over here — as everywhere!

LOAN IS LAGGING

Canadian Total is Not Particularly Satisfactory Thus Far

OTTAWA, Nov. 8.—The Seventh Victory Loan total neared the $1,000,000,000 mark yesterday. Monday's purchases of $72,559,900 gave a cumulative total of $974,454,900.

CITY COUNCIL

City Council Monday night granted a request by the Federal department of public works that the city's reservation on waterfront block "B" be turned over to the department for the purpose of building new fishermen's floats in that area.

An appeal by the Prince Rupert Labor-Progressive club that city council endorse a resolution urging the establishment of a speedy auto ferry between Prince Rupert and Ketchikan was referred to the transportation committee.

City council will visit the sandpit on Conrad st. at 3 o'clock Saturday to investigate the complaints of residents of that area that taking of sand from the pit was endangering property and depreciating property values in that area.

City council Monday night endorsed a request by Mrs. James Bremner that men of Canada's merchant navy should be made eligible to receive pay bonuses commensurate with their length of wartime service in the same way that men in the army and fighting navy receive bonuses.

A letter from Murray Oliver protesting that he had been unjustly refused a permit to drive a taxi by the police asked city council to set a date for an appeal hearing. Council decided to hear the appeal half an hour before its next regular meeting on November 20.

A graded sidewalk from McBride st. to Hays Cove, Circle on Sixth ave. will be built by the city. The city engineer was authorized Monday night to proceed with its construction on the recommendation of the board of works committee.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

November 8, 1924
The Prince Rupert Board of Trade passed a resolution urging the natives of northern and central B.C. to keep their totem poles for their historic value and maintain them in bright condition where they are in view of the railway.

Dr. A. P. Knight, of the Dominion Biological Board, Kingston, Ontario, stopped briefly on his way from the east to Vancouver.

The body of Miss Dorothy Gosnell was found on the waterfront a week after the girl drowned in a boating accident that also claimed the life of a boating companion, James Hugh McDonald.

Samples of northern B.C. minerals, lumber, plants and Indian souvenirs were shipped by Bishop Bunoz to Rome for inclusion in the Industrial Exhi-

You CAN'T BUILD A LOAD FROM THE RACK!

- There must be a man on the ground to pitch on. Two on the ground is better.
- And we can't expect the men on the fighting fronts to win this war without support from the home front. "Combined Operations" provide a war job for every Canadian. We must "pitch on" more to keep our fighters supplied with tools to finish the job. We must replace munitions which victories have cost. To help to do this we must buy more Victory Bonds.
- This is our share of the work that remains to be done . . . our privilege and our duty. It is our opportunity to save money to buy things which we will want and need when the war is ended. Victory Bonds will provide the cash we will need to carry out plans for our future happiness. For farmers this means cash for farm improvements . . . cash to pay on new cars . . . for better stock . . . and new home furnishings.

INDIAN PARLEY AT ALERT BAY

Approximately 500 natives are expected to attend the fifteenth annual convention of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia which will open at Alert Bay November 12. It is expected to be the biggest convention in the history of the organization.

The convention will demand complete revision of the Indian Act and an improvement in general conditions among the more than 25,000 natives in the province.

Members from as far as the Alaska border will attend, travelling by fishing boats and steamer. Alfred Adams, of Massett, president of the Brotherhood, left Tuesday for Alert Bay accompanied by Mrs. Adams.

Adult Dance Club Formed

Last night at the Conrad Street School a group of enthusiastic adults met to form a dance club. Officers were elected as follows:

Chairman, Miss B. Fry.
Treasurer, Miss B. Hood.
Secretary, Miss P. Batt.

Several rules and regulations were discussed and it was unanimously voted that a membership fee be charged, the proceeds over and above expenses to be donated to the Conrad Street School library and the children's recreational fund which is active in the east end.

The meeting closed with dancing instruction given by Edward Wahl.

Vancouver Island Lady Is Visitor

An interesting feature of the regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the local Canadian Legion was the presence of Mrs. D. Marsh, president of the Courtenay branch, who spoke briefly of the work at Courtenay. Business at the meeting was otherwise of a routine nature. Mrs. A. J. Croxford, the president, was in the chair and there was a fair attendance of members.

There was an apron shower in support of the tea November 26 and arrangements were completed for the poppy campaign.

VENEREAL DISEASE is no longer a hush-hush topic. It is a subject that comes up wherever thinking women meet . . . social groups . . . welfare meetings . . . the luncheon table.

And it is not idle talk. Canadian women now realize that when VENEREAL DISEASE strikes, the home is usually caught in the merciless web.

The home . . . their domain.

They want to know what can be done about it. How can they help blot out this shadow on our land.

They are helping . . . even by just talking about it. The more intelligently we discuss the problem the more knowledge we will have, and the greater the community strength to solve it.

Do YOU want to know how YOU can help? It's quite simple.

First, learn the facts about syphilis and gonorrhoea . . . how they are . . . how these diseases affect one . . . how they can be prevented . . . cured. Then, see that that teen-aged boy or girl of yours knows the facts . . . the truth. That's your job.

Second, see that your club has a frank discussion about the problem. Call in your health officer, or someone else who really knows the problem . . . and the answers. Arrange to have a free screening of a modern film to give you a better understanding of what is being done, and what can be done.

Third, make sure the conditions in your community are the kind which will give your children . . . and your neighbour's . . . the best chances for health and happiness . . . NO houses of prostitution . . . and NO unsavory places in which healthy and diseased young people can meet easily.

As a homemaker you cannot be indifferent. Canadian home life is the root of our nation's life. It must be protected.

Canine Population is 432—

QUITE A COSMOPOLITAN LOT, RETIRING POUNDKEEPER REVEALS

If all the dogs in Prince Rupert came together at one time it would make quite a meeting. They might even swing the vote. If the tags carried by the 367 licensed canines in the city entitled them to the franchise. But since they are of all sizes, colors and origins, there would be probably just as little unanimity among them as there is among humans.

This philosophy on dogs originates with the report turned in to city council by pound-keeper J. E. Unwin, whose main concern has been with dogs since there are few other varieties of livestock in the region. Accompanying Mr. Unwin's report was his resignation from the position which he has held for many years. The job, Mr. Unwin's letter said, might be more suitable for a younger man.

Other statistics on the pound-keeper's report stated that the total canine population of the city is 432. Of these, 20 are pups under six months of age and not worthy of the identity bestowed by a license.

Another 20 are more or less military dogs, being inhabitants of military establishments which puts them outside the jurisdiction of a civilian dog catcher. And then there are 16 visitors. These are out-of-town dogs, cosmopolitans who carry licenses from far cities in the somewhat erroneous belief that they are valid here.

Mr. Unwin reports that he has this year collected $809 in license fees, and destroyed 56 dogs, mainly at the request of private citizens and the police.

KEN McCRIMMON LISTED AS WOUNDED

The name of Rifleman Kenneth McCrimmon, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McCrimmon, 436 Eighth Ave. W., appears in a Canadian Army casualty list released today. Pte. McCrimmon received wounds in his arms and legs during fighting outside the French city of Boulogne in September. According to the latest word received by his parents he was "doing fine" in a hospital in England.

Rifleman McCrimmon was born and raised in Prince Rupert and received his schooling here. Prior to his enlistment in September, 1943, he worked as a burner at the Prince Rupert dry dock. He went overseas last May with the Queen's Own Rifles of Canada.

In June he was mentioned in a front page news story carried by several Canadian newspapers as one of five survivors of a company which stabbed through intense Nazi gunfire in a vain but valorous effort to reach an objective.

His parents, who have not heard from him for some time, feel that he may be out of hospital and fighting again.

Besides his parents, he has two sisters in the city.

CANADA'S VETERANS Their Post-War Opportunities

This is the eighth of a series of advertisements to inform the people of Canada of plans to re-establish men and women of the armed forces. To get the full details save and read every advertisement.

For complete information write for the booklet, "Back to Civil Life."

Handicaps Overcome — RE-ESTABLISHMENT of WAR DISABILITIES

In Canada there is an ex-service man who has lost both hands and who is a railway agent in a large Canadian railway city. There is another with a similar disability, who holds a position requiring the use of precision tools. Another has an important post in the testing department of a large Canadian industry. These are serious handicaps, but they have been overcome. Similar and lesser handicaps are being overcome every day by those ex-service men and women prepared to help themselves.

PLANS ARE COMPLETE

It was early in 1940 that Canada started preparations to ensure an opportunity for a full and productive future to those who lost some of their faculties as a result of war service. A special committee was set up to plan for the re-establishment of war casualties. Their plans have been made law and they are in full operation now.

NO FINANCIAL WORRIES

To face the problem of re-establishment the wounded veteran must have peace of mind. He must know he is secure financially while recovering from injuries and that his family will not suffer hardship. Canada's plans take care of this. Any man or woman, discharged from the services in need of continuing treatment, and unable to work, has pay and allowances of rank continued for at least a year, if necessary, and longer if the disability is penable and if treatment is still beneficial.

HEALTH CENTRES

Canada is providing health and occupational centres, in a restful country atmosphere, for those who need convalescent treatment for wounded nerves and wounded bodies. Five of these are being established across the Dominion.

TRAINING IS A FEATURE

There is the widest possible opportunity for training to those in receipt of disability pensions. Their right to this training is continuous, and has no limitations of time, such as apply in the case of the physically fit. In many cases, training commences in hospital as soon as medical authorities will permit.

Veterans' welfare officers are stationed in key centres throughout Canada. They are the friends of ex-service men and women. It is their duty to advise and assist all ex-service personnel with their re-establishment problems. If there is anything about the rehabilitation programme which you do not understand consult your nearest welfare officer.

Your Nearest Veteran's Welfare Officer is located at 425 Howe St., Vancouver. Published under the authority of Hon. Ian A. Mackenzie, Minister of
