McNaughton— PUBLIC MEETING EXPRESSES CONFIDENCE IN DEFENCE MINISTER

After hearing an address by Bruce Mickleburgh, Progressive candidate for Skeena federal seat, justifying the stand of the Minister of National Defence in favor of voluntary system of enlistment for overseas reinforcements, a public meeting Monday night passed with complete confidence in General McNaughton and his united backing in the course he may deem necessary to adopt in overcoming the emergency. It was further stated that all defence troops should go active without delay on the basis of free application without coercion and that no discrimination as between volunteers and Home Defence soldiers be discouraged. Mickleburgh charged that the reason for conscription was engineered by reactionary forces which sought to divide Canada, overthrow the present government and seize power themselves.

Rain Halts Leyte Island Land Fight

Another Blow By Carrier Planes Against Japanese At Manila

PEARL HARBOR, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Allied drive across Leyte Island in the central Philippines has been virtually halted by heavy rains. Some small advances have been made at the northern end of the line near Limon.

Thirty-five enemy planes have raided Allied ground positions on the island. Seven were shot down. Allied planes have also been active, striking at Japanese ground targets.

The latest Allied carrier attack against the Manila area on Saturday took a toll of one hundred and eighteen Japanese planes. Most of these were knocked out on the ground.

Unable to find any other issue on which to capture power at Ottawa, the reactionary interests had seized upon conscription, declared the speaker who referred to Canada's unparalleled war effort both in providing men and supplies and paid tribute to Prime Minister King for having been able to maintain national unity in the Dominion.

Big Three Parley Is Deferred

ALLIED PLANES DESTROY 915 JAP PLANES AT FORMOSA — Tall columns of smoke are mirrored in the calm water of a southwest Formosa Bay, marking the funeral pyres of Japanese seaplanes destroyed by attacking Grumman Hellcats and Curtiss Helldivers of the U.S. Pacific fleet aircraft carriers. This seaplane base was struck on Oct. 12, when carrier-based planes of the Allied fleet swept Formosa destroying 915 Japanese planes.

Big Guns On Rhine Duel

French sweeping on after Capture of Belfort—Allied Armies Moving in Elsewhere

PARIS, Nov. 21 (AP)—French and German guns are duelling across the water barrier of the Rhine river and reports from Switzerland say the French already have thrown a bridge across the Rhine for a new invasion of the Reich. French First Army forces on Sunday night had reached the Rhine at three points. Beyond the river lies Germany.

Other French forces have been fighting inside the outflanked city of Belfort. The British radio says French troops have captured the city.

Another British radio report says the American Seventh Army has liberated the vital town of Saint Die, 45 miles north of Belfort. Saint Die is a key to the strategic pass in the Vosges mountains.

American Third Army tanks have pushed two miles into the industrial Saar basin of Germany and are operating with two miles of the German town of Metz.

To the northwest, other mechanized units have driven ahead five miles into Germany up the Moselle river valley.

To the east of the city of Metz, the Third Army is moving ahead along a 25 mile front. Capturing two more towns, Dieuze and Insweiler. All large scale enemy resistance in Metz has been eliminated.

To the north again, American First Army forces are operating within 26 miles of Cologne and British Second Army troops have reached Wurm, three and a half miles from captured Geilenkirchen.

Other British units are within three and one-half miles of the Dutch border city of Venlo.

Yanks Hit At Kyushu— SUPER-FORTRESSES HIT AGAIN AT JAPANESE HOME ISLANDS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (CP)—It is announced that the Japanese home island of Kyushu has been pounded again by B-29 superfortresses. The huge planes struck the island in strength today, ranging over the enemy homeland from bases in China.

Tokyo, meantime, says the raid of Kyushu was carried out by seventy or eighty superfortresses. The enemy radio says these planes struck at Nagasaki and Omura. The Japanese claim that fourteen of the big ships were shot down. There has been no Allied confirmation of the enemy claim.

Construction to Be Proceeded With At Once

At the special meeting of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association last week, it was decided to proceed immediately with the building of a cold storage plant on the site at the west end of the waterfront occupied by the company's warehouse and fish dock. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $150,000. It is expected to raise the amount by floating a bond issue among the members of the association.

Officers On West Coast Give Views

Tell Press They Do Not Believe Voluntary System Will Work Out

PEARKES NON-COMMITTAL
VANCOUVER, Nov. 21 (AP)—Major General G. R. Pearkes, V.C., general officer commanding Pacific Command, had no statement to make today on the press conference of his senior officers who said voluntary enlistment could not succeed. There would be no coercion brought on Home Defence troops to go active, said Pearkes. Appeals would be made to the men in small rather than large groups.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 21 (AP)—High ranking officers of the Sixth Division held a press conference yesterday. They said they do not believe overseas troops can be adequately reinforced through any plan of having Home Defence Troops encouraged to volunteer for overseas service.

The whole of the Sixth Division, which largely consists of Home Defence troops, is stationed in British Columbia and is under the General Command of Major General G. R. Pearkes, general officer commanding Pacific Command.

The divisional officers told the press that almost all of the Home Defence troops in the Sixth have received full combat training. Brigadier R. H. Beattie, a brigade commander in Nanaimo, said his troops are in splendid shape and are ready to go overseas. Brigadier Beattie added:

"I have in that brigade some of the finest soldiers in Canada. They are just waiting the call from the government that they must go, for they feel that it is the responsibility of the government to implement its own legislation."

Brigadier G. A. McCarter, who returned to a Vernon post six weeks ago from overseas, said he has studied the home defence situation carefully since then. He declared he has discussed the problem with his commanding officers on many occasions and as a result, his opinion is that a campaign for volunteers will not succeed.

Lieut. Col. C. A. Scott of Courtenay, said:

"If the government would only assume its responsibility, I am convinced this whole mess could be cleaned up.

GERMANS MAKE SMALL GAINS

Counter-Attacks Having Measure of Success—British Take Faenza

ROME, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Germans have made small gains in Italy. Counter-attacking, they took over a height which overlooks two roads about five miles from the city of Faenza near the Adriatic. Polish troops of the British Eighth Army repulsed two German counter-attacks before they were forced to withdraw.

A late headquarters announcement this morning tells of British Eighth Army troops capturing the strongly-defended sugar factory buildings at Zuchcherificio, Italy. These buildings are situated about two miles south of Ravenna on the Adriatic.

Council Endorses Auto Ferry Service

Endorsement of a proposal that an auto ferry service be established between Prince Rupert and Haines, Alaska, was given last night by city council on recommendation of the Transportation committee. The proposal was presented to council by the Labor Progressive Club on November 6 and referred to committee. The committee recommended that copies of the endorsement be sent to Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways asking that the undertaking be incorporated in their post-war plans.

News of Army

Generals Promoted

Crerar is Made Full General Tribute Paid by McNaughton

OTTAWA, Nov. 21 (AP)—Almost all Canadian news of importance today concerns the Army. Defence Minister McNaughton announced in Ottawa last night that Lieut. Gen. H. D. G. Crerar has been promoted to full general. The 56-year old native of Hamilton, Ontario, is commander of the First Canadian Army overseas, which now is fighting in Holland.

General Crerar is the sixth Canadian to hold his present rank, and the second of this war. General McNaughton was the other.

Other promotions announced last night went to 41-year old Major Gen. Charles Foulkes, of London, Ontario, who has been made an acting Lieut. Gen. and 35-year old Brigadier A. B. Matthews, of Toronto and Ottawa, who has been made acting Major Gen.

Foulkes recently was identified as commander of the Second Division in the First Army while Matthews is a veteran of Sicily and Italy and is the Canadian Army's second youngest general.

General McNaughton said of Crerar's promotion: "It is in recognition of his outstanding service to the Allied cause. His skilful leadership of the First Canadian Army in the campaign through northern France, Belgium and Holland has contributed greatly to the successes achieved by the armies of the United Nations."

conference occurred only two days before Parliament is scheduled to meet in Ottawa to discuss the whole reinforcement issue at a special session. The House of Commons and Senate meet tomorrow to hear the government plan for increasing the flow of reinforcements for overseas. Both Prime Minister King and Defence Minister McNaughton have expressed their support of the continuation of the voluntary system for reinforcements.

Meeting Of Churchill, Roosevelt and Stalin, Is Expected In Year 1945

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (CP)—Plans for an early meeting of Churchill, Roosevelt and Stalin appear to have changed and the best prospect now is for a parley early in 1945, informed sources here indicate. Consequently the whole schedule for post-war conferences and world peace organization is having to be revised.

Red Winter Offensive Under Way

Russians Battle Into Hungary's Fifth City—Germans Fearful For East Prussia

MOSCOW, Nov. 21 (AP)—Russian troops are battling in the outskirts of the fifth city of Hungary this morning. The city is Miskolc. Front dispatches indicate that a German withdrawal from the area is imminent. Enemy escape routes to the east and west of the city have already been cut by Soviet forces. Miskolc is about eighty-five miles northeast of the capital city of Budapest.

As this battle rages, other Russian troops have pushed to within twenty miles of the old Czechoslovakian frontier.

Berlin, meanwhile, says the Russians have opened their winter offensive in the far north against 300,000 Germans in western Latvia.

CAMP SCOW TURNS OVER AND SINKS

The power tug F. H. Phippen and salvage equipment of the Armour Salvage Co., including derrick and divers, is at the Tucks Inlet reduction plant where a large 140-foot camp scow of the B.C. Packers keeled over and sank last Thursday. The scow had been tied at the reduction plant wharf there and is believed to have fouled on deadhead piles, partially turning over and filling with water as the tide rose. The scow is being pumped out by the salvors. She is holed and soft patches will be applied. The scow was used as living quarters on the fishing grounds during the season and was tied up at Tucks Inlet in winter storage.

What Will Happen? . . .

The session of Parliament opening at Ottawa tomorrow will serve to concentrate our attention for the time being at least as far as the news is concerned on the domestic scene. That anything can happen politically within the next few days at the Dominion capital is conceded. The unwillingness of some leaders and prominent members to make any prediction or in some cases even disclose their own line of action, if any has been decided upon, indicates this.

Presumably, the session has been called in view of the issue which has developed on the question of how reinforcements for the fighting forces overseas are to be obtained which brings up the issue of conscription or non-conscription. No doubt, the preponderance of the people of Canada favor conscription if necessary. The question is whether or not conscription is necessary or would be effective at this time. Prominent military men are divided themselves on this question and, in view of that, it is difficult for the impartial citizen, without all the facts, to form a decision on the subject. Many of the members themselves may even be finding it difficult to make their sincere decisions.

The only thing that we can hope is that those who have the decisions to make will find them on the basis of the facts and the practical necessities without allowing political considerations—either one way or the other—to sway their judgment.

The military reinforcement situation may not be the only vitally important issue to come up at the impending session.

We shall all be watching Ottawa closely these next few days.

A Prominent Briton Dies . . .

Commander Sir Charles Craven, chairman and managing director of Vickers-Armstrong Ltd., who died suddenly in Britain at the week-end, employed directly 100,000 workers but his work as controller-general at the ministry of aircraft production and adviser to the minister of production of numerous concerns, affected millions. He showed brilliance and executive ability from his early youth and was a submarine commander when only 22 years of age.

Situation Looking Good . . .

Reports of very favorable progress of the new Allied offensive on the western front indicate that there is still a chance of the war in Europe being over before the end of the year—this is not a definite prediction to that effect—although calling quits and postponing the fighting is a far cry from the unconditional surrender which we require from Germany in order to build up the lasting peace.

The fighting these last few days has certainly enough been going well in our favor—although we should not forget what it is costing our side, particularly in casualties. Suggestions are abundant that Germany may not be able to last much longer under the weight of the tremendous blows by land and air.

Beyond the Rhine, of course, we may still expect major resistance. It would be surprising if it does not develop. Much may depend on the state of affairs on the home front in Germany in regard to which there are conflicting reports. We are safe enough in assuming that things are not as happy there as they might be.

RADIO SLOGAN
 Editor, Daily News:
 Would you please allow me a little space in your paper to satisfy my curiosity?

Why is it that lately C.P.P.R. uses only the third prize slogan? Is it because they just discovered now that it is really the best one, or was the contest conducted like it was done in my school days when the teacher's pet would get the first prize anyway.

We listened attentively to the broadcasting at the Capitol that day. The applause given to the present slogan was really the only hearty one but some excuse was promptly brought up and the children were made to believe that there was a mistake and almost asked not to clap so much the next time. If I am curious, I also like to be fair and I like "Where the mighty Skeena meets the broad Pacific."

W. E. COLLISON PASSES AWAY

Former Anglican Missionary, Indian Agent, and Prominent Mason Dies

William E. Collison, veteran Anglican missionary of this district and for many years Indian Agent at Prince Rupert, died yesterday in Vancouver
after having been in failing health for several months. He was widely known and highly esteemed through his lifetime of residence here and news of his passing will be received with regret by numerous friends of deceased and his family. Funeral arrangements had not been made known up to this afternoon when his daughter, Mrs.
A. M. Budinich, left for Vancouver.

Seventy-one years of age, Mr.
Collison was born at Kincolth on the Naas River, the son of the late Archdeacon W. H. Collison, one of the famous missionaries of the early days among the natives on this part of the coast. The adventures of the family among the Indians, some of whom were still barbarous and inhospitable, are epically recorded in the elder Collison's well known book "In the Wake of the War Canoe." However, William, jr., and his brothers and sisters did not spend all of their younger days on this coast
as they were sent to Ireland to be educated.

The late Mr. Collison, following his father's footsteps, went in for the Anglican ministry and returned to this coast to become a missionary, serving as such at Massett and at Stewart.
He often relieved in other parishes including Prince Rupert.
His experience in Indian affairs led to his appointment as Indian Agent—first for the Naas River district and later for Prince Rupert into which the Naas and Skeena River agencies was combined. In 1940 Mr. Collison retired as Indian Agent and left for Vancouver to reside.

Besides his widow, Mr. Collison is survived by two daughters—Mrs. A. M. (Muriel) Budinich of Prince Rupert and Lieut. Joyce Collison, a nursing sister at Shaughnessy Military Hospital, Vancouver. There are also four brothers—Archdeacon Henry Collison of Vancouver Island, Major A. J. Collison
serving with the Canadian Army in Alberta, J. M. Collison of Smithers, and Lieut. Commander Herbert Collison, serving with the Royal Navy. Three sisters are—Mrs. D. J. McDonald of Qualicum Beach, Vancouver Island, formerly of Kincolth;
Miss Alice Collison of Qualicum
and Mrs. A. Stinnette of Seattle.

Mr. Collison was a prominent member of the Masonic craft, having been a past master of Tsimpsan Lodge here and a past district deputy grand master.

USE MAPLE LEAF CREST

TORONTO, Nov. 21 — The Maple Leaf, trade mark of the Canadian National Railways,
made its first appearance here upon the Canadian National Telegraphs familiar yellow blanks this morning. In announcing the change in the name plate of the telegraph
forms, W. M. Armstrong, general manager of the company, stated their use will be extended as supplies of the old blanks at other offices are exhausted.

The new blanks were designed
by Frank Carmichael, R.C.A.O.S.A., one of Canada's foremost artists and illustrators and an original member of the famous Group
Seven, whose paintings made Canadian art known to the gal-eries of the world. Mr. Carmichael has designed the maple leaf as an integral part of the hand lettered plate which will be printed on the top of the blank in a rich, deep maroon.

"The necessity for the new yellow blanks necessitated from the recent merger of the telegraph companies in the United States," Mr. Armstrong said. "Practically since the inception of the telegraph industry, the Canadian National Telegraphs and its predecessor companies, has had exclusive Canadian connections with the Western Union. With the United States merger, it became necessary for the Canadian National Telegraphs to cease advertising its Western Union land connections although we still retain exclusive connections with the Western Union cables."

LOCAL PUBLIC MEETING

Premier Drew of Ontario as "dirty Tory business" and the statements of Major Connie Smythe regarding lack of trained reinforcements as "shameful" and warranting his dismissal as an officer.

The speaker asserted that the Labor Progressive party had been most active in campaigning for a "Yes" vote in the C.C.F. had been campaigning against compulsory overseas military service. However, while conscription might have been successfully effected immediately after the plebiscite, it was doubtful if it could be done today. "There is not one member of the Labor Progressive party to be found in the ranks of the zombies," said Mickleburgh, "but many of them have served and died on active service."

Mickleburgh charged Coldwell and Irvine of the C.C.F. with climbing on the band wagon of conscription now not because they wanted to reinforce the boys overseas but because they wanted to bring on an election.

"It is not only a tragic but an excruciating at the time of the final assault on Hitler's fortress that there should be a calculated effort to obstruct the government's effort to get reinforcements overseas just so certain interests can ease themselves into power."

The speaker did not blame Col. Ralston but felt that he had been unwittingly caught in the wheels of the plot.

As for General McNaughton he believed he was a man of honor and integrity and fully competent. "I believe his stand is correct and I am prepared to trust him in his statement that reinforcements for the army overseas can best be obtained by the voluntary method without disrupting national unity."

In moving the resolution in support of the McNaughton plan, G. B. Casey expressed appreciation of Mickleburgh's "inspiring and educational" address.

Among those who asked questions were G. D. Bryant and S. C. Thompson. H. A. Ponder deplored discrimination between volunteers and so-called "zombies."

Fred Riffou thought one volunteer was worth five conscripts. A general discussion period followed the passing of the resolution.

A collection was taken up and $36.86 was realized.

The Labor-Progressive hall was packed.

From The Waterfront

Capt. Dan Larsen is leaving today with his halibut boat Capella for Vancouver after having been here for the past week picking up effects for removal to Vancouver where he has now established his home. Capt. Larsen expresses the opinion that many halibut boats which were driven away from Prince Rupert because of lack of moorage facilities will not return here. "The damage has been done. It is too late to get them back now," he says. Of course, some may come back.
