

Time Price for Fish Is Bracken's Plan

Maintenance for Transition Adequate, Declares Progressive Conservative Party for Prince Rupert

John Bracken, leader of the Progressive Conservative party, said Monday that the Dominion government's plan for a transition only is totally inadequate.

He said that the government's plan for a transition only is totally inadequate. "We are not for all time after the war, not for the transition period only. We want the repetition of the conditions that existed 12 years ago, the last war-long after the transition period was over, and to fishermen on the coast the price of salmon has dropped to $2.56 per hundred weight for salmon in 1932 the price of salmon fell to 18 cents per hundred weight and halibut to 10 cents per hundred weight for the Port of Prince Rupert and the vast hinterland Bracken promised, if elected premier, to see that they were maintained in the future.

He asked if the people would again allow failure at the peace conference such as would lead to another war in 25 years. He asked if the soldiers today would return to the same economy they left or whether the people would insist on the best being rescued from the old and augmented with the best of the present times.

As its name implied, Mr. Bracken declared, the Progressive Conservative party was committed not to the old way, nor to state capitalism or socialism, but to the in between course of rational reform.

The party stood for prosecution of the war to a victorious close, requiring equal sacrifice from all. He said the question of Canada's two armies was all too well known for him to expound upon it, but declared the Reserve Army could well take the place of the non-active troops that could be used for reinforcements overseas.

The party stood also for maximum development of the fishing industry and forests and this port, together with the hinterland, and the tourist industry.

Square Deal For Veterans Promised

The party leader outlined the party's attitude toward veterans, workers, farmers, business and industries and dependents.

"We intend to see that there is a square deal for returned veterans with equal responsibility, equal rights and equal sacrifice for all," he said.

There would be no less than jobs for all demobilized, even though it meant making jobs. Those suffering from illnesses would be cared for by the state, and if these illnesses were not cured these veterans would be compensated and adequate allowances given their dependents.

"We must give the veterans a place of honor," he said. "We are not promising everything, but we are promising justice," he emphasized.

Promise was made to the workers that employment at fair pay would be available for every man. It was not enough to ration jobs. New jobs must be made. In this respect the present government had failed, Mr. Bracken contended.

More jobs could and would be created through development of the country. This city with its port would enjoy growth with

French Forces Cut Off Escape Route for German Garrison

ROME, Aug. 22 (CP)—French troops have fully encircled Toulon by land, cutting the last escape route for the German garrison forces still resisting inside the fixed fortifications of the big naval base.

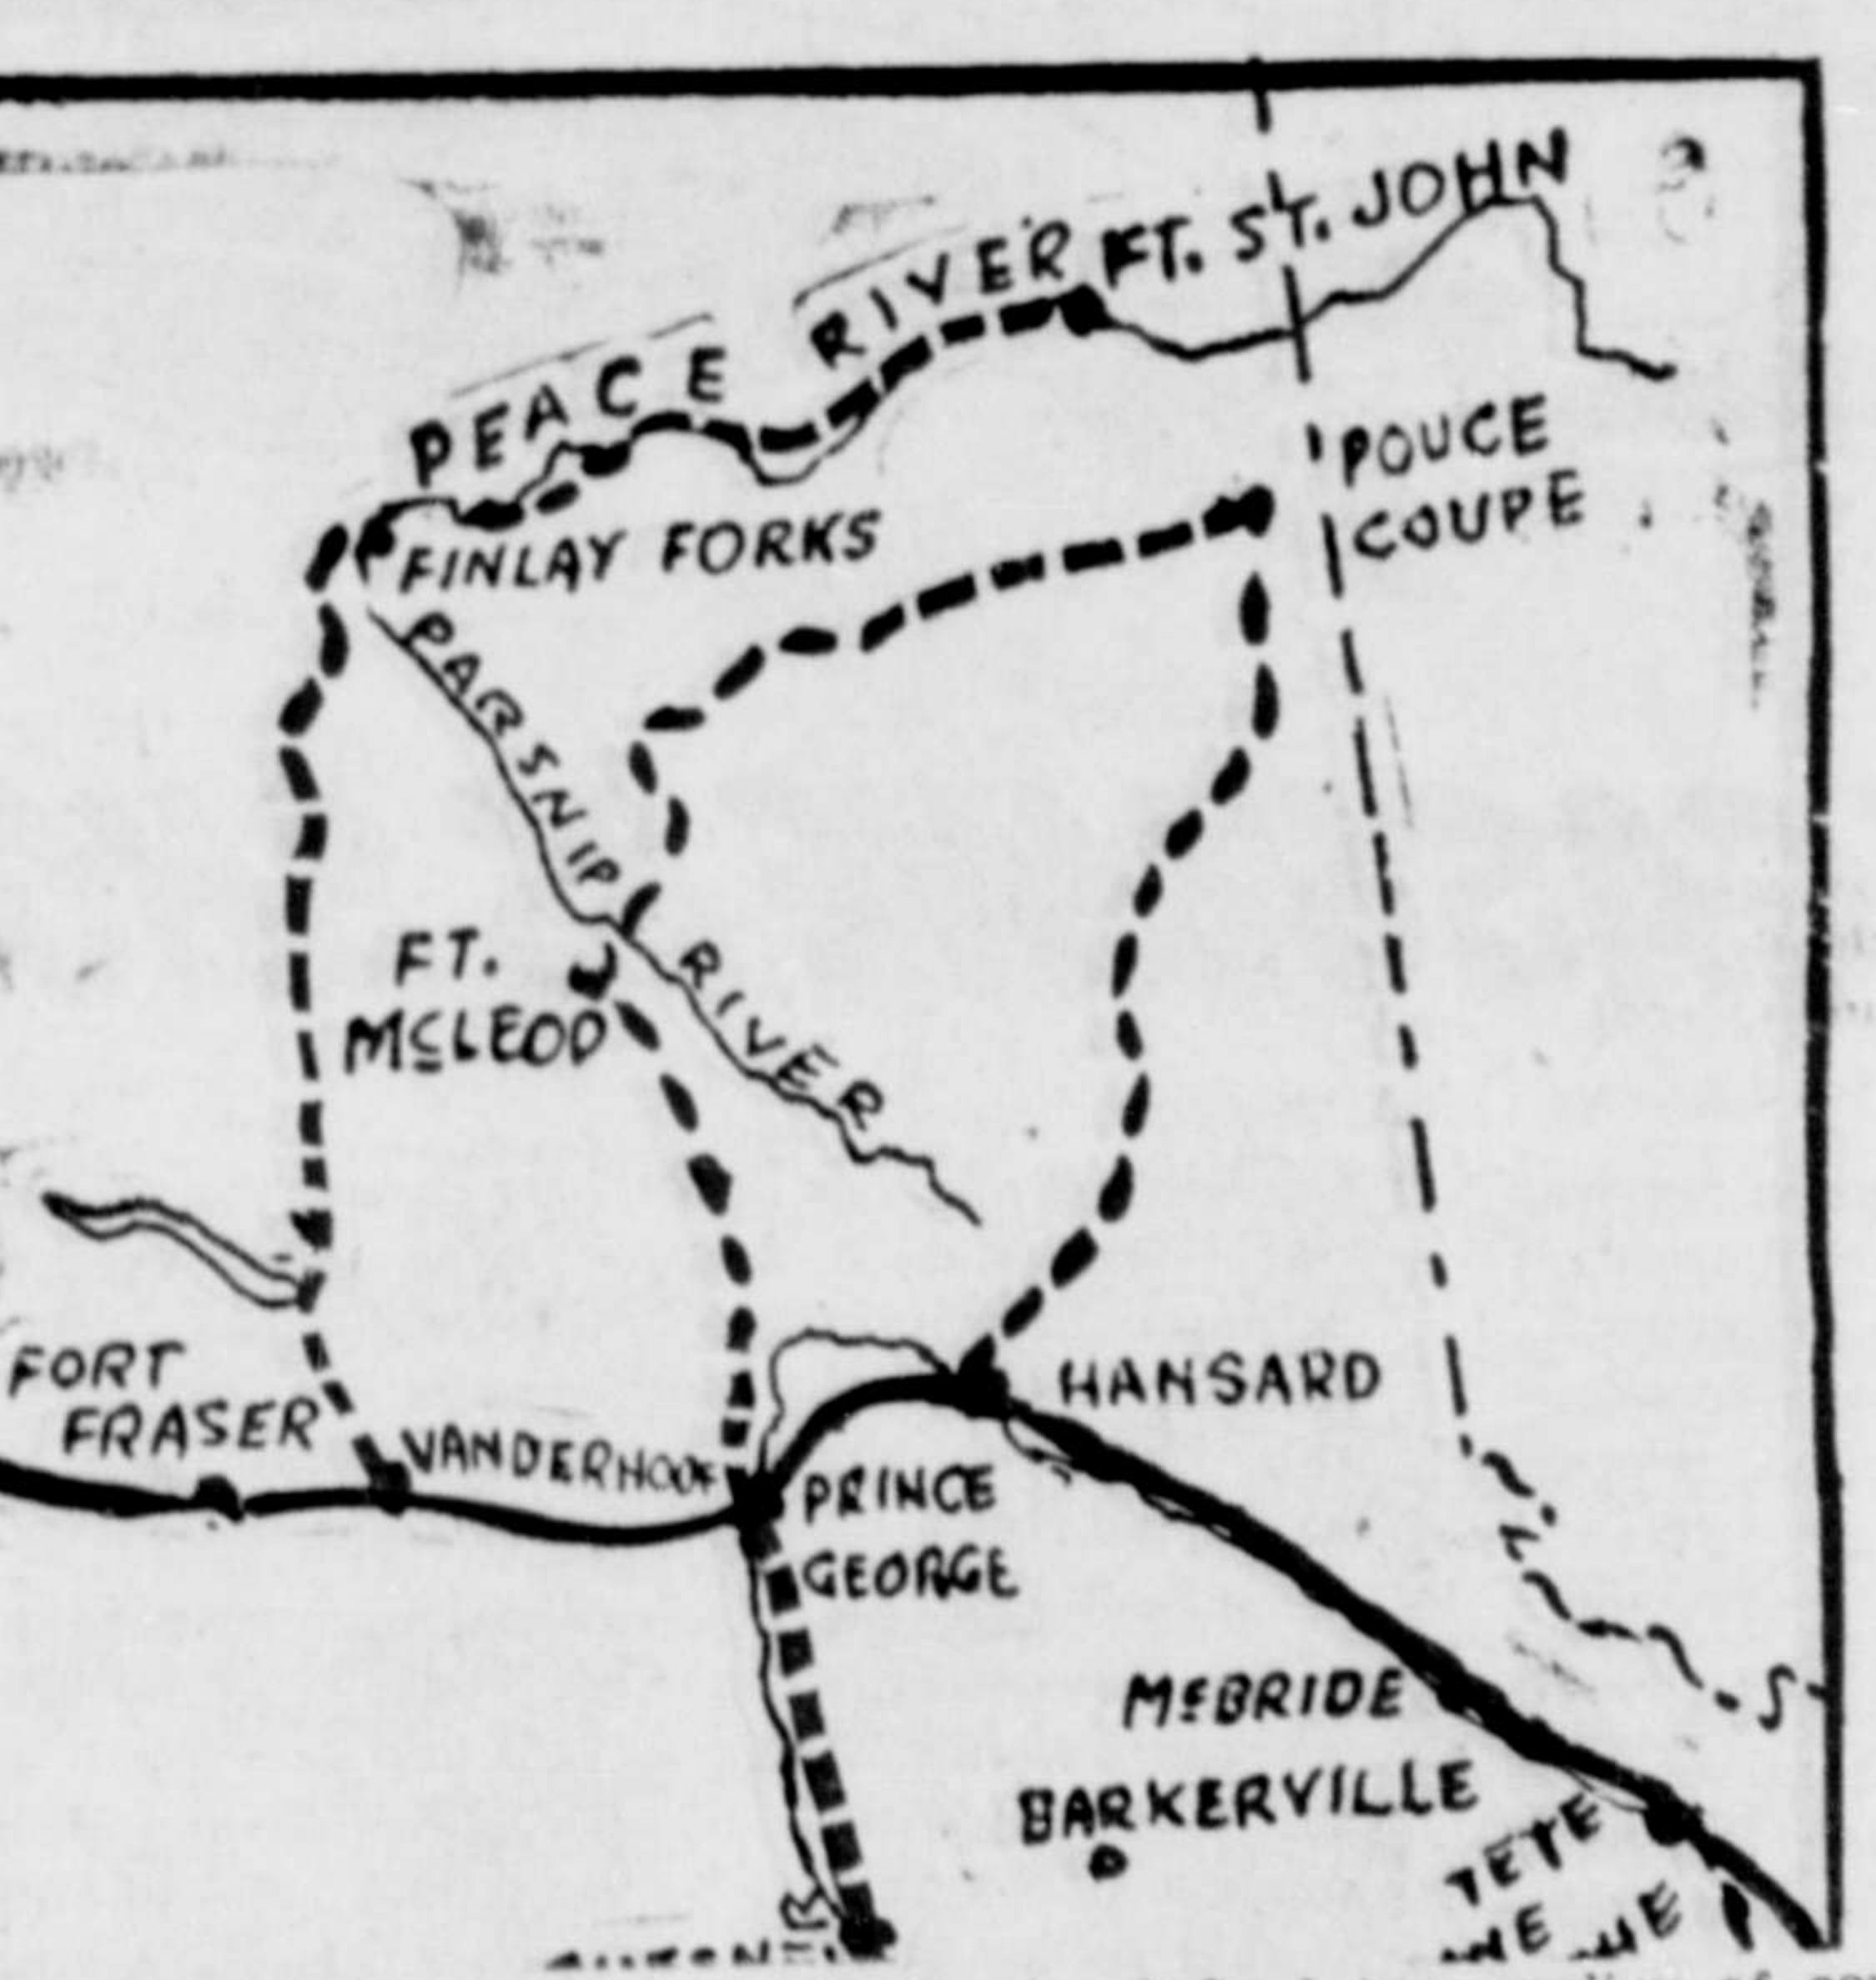

The French advanced through the outskirts of Toulon in house-to-house fighting, while Americans swept westward and threatened to isolate Marseille.

Still other advance Allied elements reached points 60 miles inland.

The Allied grip on Southern France has been expanded to more than 2,000 square miles.

CHUNGKING, Aug. 22—Allied bombings of Manchuria by Superfortresses is reported to give 30,000,000 Chinese in that country a new spirit, a feeling that all is not hopeless under the Japanese yoke.

PROPOSED ROUTES FOR NORTH RAIL LINK—The National Progressive Conservative party is pledged to a policy of continuity immediately after the war. This rail connection, Hon. John Bracken told Prince Rupert residents last night will mean great development for this port as it will share in the country's development and a rail link with the Peace River that would provide a route to waterways half the distance from the Peace River to Port Arthur.

Farmers, too, would not be neglected. As they prospered so would the rest of Canada.

Fair treatment would be assured men employing labor and who intended to invest to employ more men. There would be no threat of confiscation or overtaxation, but exploitation of labor would not be permitted, and co-operatives would be encouraged. The profit motive would be encouraged to stimulate free enterprise.

For dependents, Mr. Bracken said, the party advocated lower age limit for old age pensioners and an increase in payment.

"How high we can maintain a social service depends on how high a level of production and employment we have," he pointed out.

HON. JOHN BRACKEN

PARTY LEADERS ARE DRIVING OVER SKEENA HIGHWAY

Hon. John Bracken, Howard Green, M.P., and party left for Terrace this afternoon after visiting the dry dock, cold storage plant and points of interest here before leaving by automobile for Terrace, en route east.

Mr. Bracken and Mr. Green arrived by boat yesterday afternoon from Vancouver and were honored at a dinner held by the Prince Rupert Progressive Party in the I.O.D.E. Hall.

Mayor H. M. Daggett officially welcomed Mr. Bracken and Mr. Green. He warned the former that should he become premier minister this city would petition him for federal assistance to repair damage done in the interests of national defence.

Natally dressed in a palm beach suit, Mr. Bracken replied informally, expressing appreciation for the hospitality and recalling a visit to the city over 20 years ago. Purpose of his visit this time was to familiarize himself with the country and to hear the people tell of their problems and listen to their suggestions for improvement.

When Mr. Bracken is premier, stated Mr. Green, the coast can be assured of him leading an attentive ear to suggestions on the policy of the Pacific.

"I am confident Canada has in Mr. Bracken a statesman and a very great Canadian," Mr. Green said.

At the head table, presided over by Dr. R. G. Large, president of the local association, were Mr. Bracken, Mr. Green, Mayor and Mrs. Daggett and Mrs. Large. There were 28 at the dinner.

Following the public address at night, a reception was held in the I.O.D.E. Hall.

ADVOCATES FAIR TREATMENT FOR WAR VETERANS

Howard Green, Progressive Conservative M.P. for Vancouver-Point Grey, who is accompanying John Bracken, national leader of the party, on the Northern B.C. tour, urged an audience in Booth Memorial School last night to insist upon the government giving fair treatment to returning war veterans.

He deplored the fact that only a small portion of the 95,000 soldiers discharged as medically unfit were given pensions. Mr. Green maintained the onus should be placed on the government of showing why each man discharged as physically unfit should not receive a pension.

The allowance of $100 for clothing for discharged men was not enough, he also pointed out.

Suggestion Should Be Sent to Ottawa

Like Mr. Bracken, Mr. Green emphasized the long-standing need for development in this part of Canada. He advised the people here to keep making suggestions to Ottawa for development and expansion.

The speaker commended the government for evacuating the Japanese from the B.C. coast. Now was the time, he said, to decide what was to be done with them after the war. At last the Federal Government was recognizing the Japanese problem as a national headache.

The speaker said he favored making British Columbia an all-time protected zone, barred to the Japanese. Keep them east of the Rockies or not tolerate them at all in Canada, he suggested.

"That is for you to decide at the next election," Mr. Green said. "If you want the Japanese back with the vote, then vote C.C.F."

The speaker decried Prime Minister King's apparent decision to relegate Canada to the position of a lesser nation—a leader of the small countries. Canada was taking her part as a major member of the British Commonwealth of Nations in the present war, and it was up to Canadians to see that she participated with Great Britain at the post-war conference of the big nations, he said.

"If Canada aims no higher than a small nation, she will never be anything else," Mr. Green pointed out. "Yet we now have a great opportunity to be a great world power and fulfill a great destiny."

Costa Rica Turtles Break Beef Prices

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Aug. 22 (CP)—Gigantic tropical turtles are helping Costa Rica solve the problem of high living costs.

Three months ago two railway workers vacationing at the Atlantic port of Limon saw gigantic turtles, weighing 200 to 400 pounds, as abundant as bananas. They got a small loan and began shipping turtles from Limon. Turtle meat began to be sold in meat markets and soon became an acceptable substitute for beef—at nine cents per pound. Turtle meat sales also have brought down the prices of eggs and beef nearly 25 per cent.

WAR STAMP MOVE

Organized by the "Sea Going Hacks," the association of drug travellers, under chairmanship of Ben Franklin of Vancouver and supported by the drug wholesalers and manufacturers, the retail druggists of British Columbia and the Yukon will devote their merchandising skill during September to the sale of War Savings Stamps.

The coming drive will be the third annual national campaign sponsored by the druggists. In both previous contests, British Columbia-Yukon druggists led the entire nation, both in stamp sales per capita and in percentage of quota exceeded.

Last September, with a quota of $21,000, the drug trade here rang up sales of $100,024 or 476 per cent of their quota, far outstripping their nearest competitors, the Ontario druggists.

During the coming drive, the druggists in B.C.-Yukon have been given an assignment of supplying our armed forces with 60,000 20 mm shells which cost $1 or four War Savings Stamps per round. In addition, they will endeavor to secure pledges from their customers sufficient to provide a similar number of these shells every month of the year. As the 20 mm cannons are used by all the three services, these shells will be used in enormous quantities during the present "knock-out" phase of the war.

In view of their past record, druggists anticipate little difficulty in achieving their quota, and will make their real objective the leadership of Canada for the third straight time.

Already druggists in most of the centres of B.C.-Yukon are laying promotional plans to make War Savings Stamps their best-selling line during September. The chief feature of the campaign here will be a province-wide drawing. Purchasers of stamps through drug stores will be given free tickets entitling them to chances on many valuable prizes of hard-to-get merchandise.

Polish Artist is Setting British Women's Styles

LONDON, Aug. 22 (AP)—British women are wearing scarves, turbans and blouses depicting scenes on an airdrome of the U.S. Army Air Force. They were drawn by the Polish artist and illustrator of Bernard Shaw, Felix Topolski.

This example of Allied co-operation was made possible by the U.S. authorities who allowed Topolski, an officer in the Polish army, to study the scene at one of the largest airdromes as bombers set out on their missions.

It is the first time that well-known artists, including Cecil Beaton, have collaborated to provide attire which is cheap, yet artistic and novel for fashion-starved British women.

Shaw's "Pygmalion" characters appear on one length of material designed by Topolski, and for another he has carried out a "doodle" begun in an idle moment while he was talking on the telephone at the manufacturer's office.

Pleasidly Circus, with figures of American officers and men, forms the theme of another fabric which is called "London, 1944."

LETTERBOX

PRESERVE OUR ROADS

Editor, Daily News:
At long last we have a stretch of road in our fair city that at present approaches almost to the point of perfection and all through the good work of our boys in Air Force Blue to whom we tender our thanks.

To reverse the metaphor, all silver clouds have a dark lining and this perfect piece of road (on which there are no sidewalks) may or has developed into an automobile speedway unless supervised.

Early on Sunday morning, the writer on his way to Seal Cove saw a car which had gone off the roadway and made a complete somersault and landed right side up some eight feet below the level of the road, on returning in the afternoon, the car had been pulled out, but the car (or truck) which had pulled it out had left its mark in the shape of two or three large holes in the new highway in their efforts to re-road the ditched car.

It would please the writer and also I believe the boys who worked on this road, if the culprit could be forced to fill in these holes with only a pile of gravel, a pail of asphalt and a tablespoon for a tool and he would appreciate all the more what good roads properly used mean to a community.

Yours very truly,
"BRITANNICUS."

CITY COUNCIL

Ask Widening Utilities Board Jurisdiction

Reports that electric light and power consumers in the south are receiving occasional cost-free months of service caused Mayor H. M. Daggett to introduce a motion to city council last night asking that consumers outside the orbit of the B.C. Electric Company be granted similar benefits.

The mayor's motion urged the B.C. Utilities Commission be asked to investigate the profits of other companies selling light and power to the public with a view to having excess profits returned in the way of free periods of service.

"I present this motion because I think Prince Rupert citizens should be allowed treatment similar to those in the south," he asserted.

Alderman Hill agreed with the mayor in principle.

"However, I do not think it would be wise to petition the utilities commission," he asserted. "We know from experience that Prince Rupert is not within the commission's jurisdiction, and that they would not hesitate to remind us of it."

shared by Alderman Rudderham, who added:

"I believe the commission refused to make an investigation a few years ago."

Council revised the motion to urge Premier John Hart to extend the jurisdiction of the utilities commission to allow it to investigate all power companies in the province serving the public.

BETTER STREETS FASTER SPEEDS, MORE COMPLAINTS

Recent repair work done to city streets is apparently responsible for excessive speeding, and last night city council wondered what could be done about it.

Alderman Brett, head of the police committee, said that complaints have been "pouring in."

"I would like to know how much jurisdiction the city has in enforcing a speed limit for military vehicles," he said.

Alderman Hills was doubtful if the city had any authority over United States vehicles.

"The international agreement giving United States authorities power over their own people here leaves us none," he asserted. "The drivers have orders from their officers restricting their speeds, but they drive at excessive speeds anyway."

Alderman Black thought police should stop the drivers and then lay complaints before the army.

"If the police present them with evidence of fast driving they cannot very well disregard it," he told council.

ADVANCE EXPENSES

Finance Committee recommended: Sum of $175 each be advanced to Mayor Daggett and Alderman Hills for expenses in connection with the meeting of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, to be accounted for on their return.

Council authorize payment of accounts incurred in connection with the visit of U.S. ambassador, totalling $41.90, including $30 for luncheon.

Finance committee reported the following property sales: lots 41 to 47 inclusive, block 26, Section 9 to M. M. Stephens for $110; lot 49, block 6, Section 7 to William J. McLean for $70; lot 7, block 25, Section 5 to Edwin Petersen for $235.

Finance committee recommended accounts for July and August totalling $30,830.50 be paid.

NO SEWER OUTFALL

Board of works committee advised a request received from Capt. Hague, R.C.E., for installation of a larger sewer outfall, to serve the new Y.M.C.A. building was considered, and he was advised that the city could see no reason for this installation.

CANADA'S NAVY

In 1939 - 15 SHIPS

In 1944 - 650 SHIPS

THAT'S WHY GASOLINE IS SHORT!

WITH more than 43 times as many warships as in pre-war years... with naval needs for fuel oil and other petroleum products increased more than 2300% over 1939 requirements... with more ships and faster ships patrolling the seas—the wartime oil consumption of Canada's Navy has far outstripped anticipated demand.

Canada now has her own "flat-tops", providing air cover for convoys. She has swarms of nimble anti-submarine craft that circle slow-moving cargo boats—often travelling twice as far each trip as the merchantmen they are protecting. She must refuel numbers of Allied ships which call at Canadian ports.

All the fuel oil for these naval enterprises—together with all the gasoline and other petroleum products needed by

Canada's Army, Air Force, war industry, agriculture and essential transportation and civilian use—must come from one common petroleum pool. If our fighting men are not to go short... if our limited supplies are not to be spread dangerously thin in places where they are urgently needed—then we, on the home front, must draw as little from the pool as possible.

Remember, the equivalent of 6 gallons out of every 10 gallons of gasoline used in Canada come by ocean tanker. We are not self-supporting for oil and every gallon we use needlessly or wastefully not only robs Allied sailors, soldiers and airmen of "fighting" gas and fuel oil—but diverts precious tanker transportation. Remember this. Remember—petroleum powers the attack—not a drop must be wasted.

LESS CIVILIAN GAS MEANS MORE "FIGHTING GAS" FOR THE FORCES

NO. 8 OF A SERIES OF ANNOUNCEMENTS ISSUED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF MUNITIONS AND SUPPLY, HONOURABLE C. D. HOWE, MINISTER

Answering YOUR QUESTIONS about the GASOLINE SHORTAGE

How much fuel oil is needed for one fueling of a battleship?... Enough to heat an average home 350 years. Is this fuel oil similar to that used for heating public buildings?... Yes. How much gasoline is needed to keep a fast Navy plane in the air for one hour?... The equivalent of that needed for an automobile trip from Montreal to Calgary. Do the majority of Canada's Naval ships burn oil?... Yes, they all do.

To Tell Why City Not Using Incinerator

Like Edgar Allan Poe's Raven, the perennial question of the disposal of city garbage perched at the portals of the council chamber last night.

This time it spoke through a letter from the provincial health officer, Dr. G. F. Amyot.

After pointing out that he had learned of the satisfactory incineration method of garbage disposal used by the Americans, here, Dr. Amyot asked why the city did not co-operate with the Americans, instead of dumping garbage over a bank.

Council members, who had agreed at previous meetings that the incinerator lacked the capacity to destroy garbage of both the city and the United States army, moved that Dr. Amyot be informed of this.

Alderman Black said: "I move we write Dr. Amyot and tell him the army is doing the same as the city. I have seen the army dumping one-quarter of their garbage over the bank, just like the city does."

Ask Court Costs in Cases Where Fines Not Paid to City

In cases of infractions of the Excise Act and other acts, where police court fines do not go to the city, costs of court should be levied in the city's behalf, the police and license committee recommended to the Council.

Under present arrangements, the city receives no revenue in cases where fines do not actually go to the city.

Included in the report, passed by council, was a recommendation that W. O. Fulton be retained by the city to prosecute charges under the Government Liquor Act in conjunction with pending prosecutions by him under the Excise Act and Foreign Exchange Control acts.

"In Short Supply"
Men's Hosiery

- Due to many skilled operators being called into defence work, production at the mills is greatly curtailed.
- Government orders naturally have priority over domestic needs, thus reducing materially the supplies available for civilian use.
- In order to make most efficient use of available manpower, lines have been simplified as much as possible, chiefly by reducing the range of patterns and shades.
- These are the reasons why you are unable to obtain either the quantity or choice in Men's Hosiery to which you were accustomed.
- You may be assured that, just as soon as conditions are more nearly normal, you will again find a complete stock to choose from at
