Oldest of Indians Is Dead at 105

Lazarus Moody, who was probably the oldest native in this part of the country, died recently at his home village of Greenville on the Naas River. He claimed the great age of 105 years. He had suffered no limiting illness and succumbed to a sudden heart attack. A skillful woodworker and boatbuilder in the early days, he told interesting tales of the era before Christianity was brought to the natives. He saw the wars brought by the fiercest of the Queen Charlottes who crossed Hecate Strait and made repeated efforts to wrest the oolachan fishery from the mouth of the Naas River away from the Nishgas. He co-operated in the work of A. E. Green, the first missionary at Greenville, and when a gold stampede occurred in the Cassiar district, he went to Telegraph Creek and engaged in the construction of the mine. Some 30 or so years ago he started a store at Greenville and this he still operated up to the time of his death. He also worked during the salmon season in the Naas River canneries. Lazarus Moody is survived by an aged widow and a daughter, Mrs. Joshua (Mary) McKay, and several grandchildren. The funeral took place at Greenville.

Allies Cut Through Nazi Defences In Fierce Fight; Are Now 23 Miles Inland

Carentan is Solidly in American Hands—Canadian Armor is Taking Part in Big British Tank Drive.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS OF THE ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 14 (CP)—Allied armored attacks have cut through German defences in Normandy at two points, it was announced today. British tanks have outflanked Caen in a drive that carried 23 miles inland. The Americans have pushed the Germans back several miles west of Carentan. The Germans counter-attacked at both ends of the beachhead. Americans were fighting hand-to-hand in Montebourg, 14 miles southeast of Cherbourg.

The British battled with Nazi tanks in Troarn, which was taken yesterday, and the German garrison in Caen is hemmed in on three sides and threatened with encirclement. Possibly Canadian armor was in the British tank drive.

Carentan, six miles inland at the neck of Cherbourg, is firmly in American hands although bitter fighting is in progress west of the town.

A Berlin broadcast today admitted that Tilly-sur-Seulles is not in German hands. Tilly-sur-Seulles, eight miles south of Bayeux, has changed hands several times in hard fighting with the British and Canadians delivering Allied attacks.

A German High Command communique claimed that a Nazi armored force penetrated the Normandy beachhead east of the Orne River and inflicted heavy losses on the Allies. Overnight Royal Air Force bombers attacked the Mezdun railway yards, 20 miles south of Caen, in an effort to hamper the movement of German reinforcements to the Normandy battlefield.

Outflank Orbetello

ROME, June 14 (CP)—Allied forces have outflanked the heavily defended strong point of Orbetello, 71 miles north-east of Rome, and captured an important junction of Highways Number One and Seventy Four, Allied Headquarters announced today. Reconnaissance elements pushed farther north.

In the east, the Eighth Army has advanced to positions 60 miles north of Rome.

The British clearing the Japanese from India have driven to 24 miles east of Kohima.

The Burma border is 30 miles east of Kohima at the nearest point.

New successes have been scored by the Allies along the Imphal-Kohima road with the Japanese driven from another road block.

Invasion Brought Home . . .

The invasion of Europe, as we might well have expected, has struck close-home to Prince Rupert with the announcement that another of our fine, promising young men, has made the supreme sacrifice. This boy will not come home to his family and his home but will rest in a hero's grave over there, another precious charge against the struggle they, in particular, and we, after all in a relatively small way, are putting up that the way of living which these boys enjoyed all too briefly shall be preserved for us and others.

It was a few short months ago that Rudolph Warne, handsome and proud in the newly won Air Force officer's uniform, home on his few days' embarkation leave, bid us hail and farewell. There will be no more home-coming of this locally born and raised boy. His loved one's grief and perhaps others of us too as we offer them our heartfelt sympathy—something for which we here at the Daily News can most intimately and sincerely do, remembering Rudolph, it seems such a short time ago, as one of our own delivery staff—a spirited, happy school boy. Little did he or we realize then that life was going to be so short for him—its brevity, however, being replete with glory in the nature of its passing.

And the tribute we pay to Rudolph Warne and the sympathy we extend with the deepest of feelings to the father and the others of his kin who bravely accept the fate this grim conflict has brought we reiterate to those who have already suffered similar loss. We can but meditate, too, that, in the nature of events as they transpire today, others will have similar sufferings to face. It is the cost of maintaining the principles and the ideals for which our boys stake their very all and towards which all we are asked to give is the maximum of our resources and our effort. Unfortunately, in spite of these cruel reminders, there are many of us who are still largely interested in things extraneous to the serious business in hand, careless still of the price an increasing number are being called upon to pay.

PLAYGROUND ACTIVITIES START SOON

Supervised playground activities of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club will get under way at the end of this month by which time the complete equipment will be out and the supervisory staff appointed, it was reported on behalf of the playground committee by W. D. Lambie at today's regular monthly business luncheon of the club.

The Gyro Club's Carnival Queen candidate, Miss Betty Grieg, was in attendance at today's luncheon and was duly welcomed, the club pledging its active support in the campaign on her behalf.

The club endorsed a proposal for the establishment of a hospital for the treatment of tuberculosis and venereal disease among the natives but decided to take no action in regard to the city's proposal to build a new Pioneers' Home.

The question of attendance at the district conference to be held in Portland in August came up, the expectation being that a number of members who will be in Victoria about that time will be able to attend.

President Frank Skinner was in the chair at today's luncheon and there was a good attendance of members.

LETTERBOX

CHALLENGES LABOR-PROGS

Editor, Daily News:

Tom McEwan, Labor-Progressive Party organizer, told a good story at his recent Sunday meeting. Unfortunately he didn't always stick to the truth, or the whole truth, when he reproved Angus McInnes for bringing forward at this time votes for Japanese. He well knew he was repeating a particularly vicious canard put forward by the Liberal-Conservative parties for at a Labor educational meeting the previous Friday where he was joint speaker with Herbert Gargrave, C.C.F. M.L.A. for Mackenzie, the question was asked and answered.

Gargrave pointed out it was the Liberal-Progressive Conservative, Progressive-Labor groups who brought it forward at this time and that the C.C.F. did not advocate votes for Japanese but only for those whom the law made by Liberals and Conservatives in the past stated were Canadian citizens.

Angus McInnes, C.C.F. M.P., pointed out, previous to 1935, the unfortunate position of Canadians of Oriental origin and stated justice should be done to all. He was supported by the C.C.F. in his demand of votes for Canadian citizens not Japanese.

Angus McInnes won his seat in Vancouver East in 1935 by a majority over all—(Liberals, Conservatives and Communists losing their deposits) when he was the centre of attack on this very question.

In 1936 he placed a resolution on the order paper of the Commons that no persons unable to qualify for Canadian citizenship be permitted to emigrate to Canada. This was defeated by a unanimous Liberal, Conservative vote in the house. Where were our B.C. representatives then? The C.C.F. stands on principle not changing with the popular turn of mind as the L.P.P. seems to be doing now.

Because of the fact that Mr. Mickleburgh is now not only the chosen L.P.P. candidate for the provincial riding but also recently chosen to try to defeat the C.C.F. in the Dominion elections I again challenge him to meet me in open debate on the truth about the L.P.P. no questions barred.

—JOHN T. WORSLEY.

Seeking TB-VD Hospital

Establishment in this area of a hospital for the treatment of tuberculosis and venereal disease is being urged by the Prince Rupert Union Board of Health which is circulating a resolution to that effect for endorsement by more than 30 local organizations. The Prince Rupert Gyro Club today gave its endorsement.

The resolution, which urges that the federal government cooperate with the Provincial Board of Health and local public health authorities in setting up a tuberculosis and venereal disease hospital for natives was read before a meeting of the Union Board of Health on Monday afternoon.

Awareness of the need for such an institution is the result of a committee investigation into statistics on the local aspects on those two diseases. Control of the diseases, the survey indicates, will depend largely on the thorough treatment of the native population whose number of infections is far greater than among whites.

The choice of buildings to house the hospital is apparently between the ancient, 17-room Digby Island hospital, part of which is now being used as a residence, and the new 150-bed R.C.A.F. hospital at Miller Bay, now unused. The Digby Island building is said to be in a bad state of dilapidation and it is estimated that it would cost between $7,000 and $10,000 to repair.

The Miller Bay hospital is ready for occupancy if the "go-ahead" signal could be obtained.

The Prince Rupert General Hospital, operating at 133 per cent capacity, cannot admit active tuberculosis or venereal disease cases, nor can the Coqual-letta native hospital at Sardis, which is operating at full capacity.

Contained in the preamble to the Board's resolution was the following information:

There are at least 59 known cases of tuberculosis requiring hospital treatment among natives in the Prince Rupert district.

There is a mortality rate of 77.8 per 100,000 among natives in 1941, as compared with 64.2 per 100,000 among other races in statistical district No. 9, according to an annual report of the Division of Tuberculosis Control, Provincial Board of Health.

The number of new cases of tuberculosis among natives in 1941 was 9.4 per 1,000 and for other races it was 1.3 per 1,000. Approximately 80 per cent of the alleged sources of venereal disease reported to local health authorities were in 1943 native women.

In a series of examinations in August and September, 1943, when 29 female prisoners were taken into custody on various charges by the Prince Rupert detachment of the B.C. police, 23 were native women, and of the 23, 13 were found to be suffering from gonorrhoea, and two from syphilis, indicating the high incidence of infection among native female prisoners.

Hill 60 Chapter Is In Session

The regular monthly meeting of Hill 60 Chapter Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, was held on June 12 at the home of Mrs. J. Stewart, Seventh Avenue East, the regent, Mrs. R. J. Keron, presiding.

The recent tea at Mrs. C. Smith's home was reported to have been an outstanding success, final reports being most encouraging for the war work of the chapter.

Having obtained permission from the city council to hold a tag day it was decided to have this on September 9.

The members voted $10 to be sent to King Edward School library.

It was decided to dispense with meetings in July and August but new wool and material were handed out so that a good supply of garments would be ready to hand in by September.

Red Cross hostesses to Port Edward will continue as usual during the summer. In response to a request from the city council two delegates were appointed to attend a general meeting at the City Hall regarding the proposed Pioneers' Home.

Mrs. C. W. Breukelman Interesting Speaker at Women's Canadian Club Meeting

One of the most interesting speakers the Women's Canadian Club has had in many a day was Mrs. C. W. Breukelman, daughter of Bishop and Mrs. G. A. Rix, who is visiting here from Trinidad. Monday afternoon in St. Andrew's Cathedral Hall she told in a delightful, descriptive way of her travels in various parts of the world including Great Britain, Holland, the East Indies, the West Indies and South America. Impressions of customs and ways of life in those far lands were intriguingly described.

Mrs. Breukelman was presented with a beautiful corsage by Mrs. J. A. Donnell, the president, who was in the chair and who made due reference to the fact that it was the twentieth birthday of the club. A birthday cake to mark the occasion was cut by Mrs. J. B. Gibson, one of the early presidents. There was a letter from a former president, Mrs. D. McD. Hunter, the state of whose health made it impossible for her to attend.

An acceptable vocal solo by Mrs. Taylor was another feature of Monday's program.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Nash and child, who have been residing here for the past year or so, are leaving tonight for Vancouver to make their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Brown are taking over the residence on Fourth Avenue East which they have been occupying.

The board of school trustees has been receiving applications for the position of principal of the new Conrad Street School but has not as yet made the appointment. At the last meeting of the board applications of Miss Mary Hartin and Mrs. Bernice McDonald were received.

Accompanied by the widow, the remains of the late B. F. Smith, general manager of the Premier mine, who died at Premier Monday night, arrived in the city this morning from the north and are being sent on tonight to Vancouver where interment will be made.

Duncan McRae has taken charge of collection of books on behalf of the Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce for the local Salvation Army Red Shield service men's centre. McRae Bros. store is being used as the book collection depot. Adjutant E. D. Brunson, in charge of the Army's auxiliary service work here, has written to the Junior Chamber of Commerce expressing appreciation of the work being done.

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral tributes received from our many friends during the long illness and after the death of a loving husband and father.

Improvements For Salt Lakes

Local Member Thinks He Will be Able to Get Results

Before leaving the city Saturday night on his return to Victoria after spending a few days here visiting his constituents, T. D. Pattullo, M.L.A. for Prince Rupert, expressed confidence that he would be able to obtain action from the department of public works in the making of improvements to the bathing facilities and sidewalks at the Salt Lake swimming resort. However, Mr. Pattullo felt that it might be advisable if some funds could be raised locally to assist in the work.

At last week's meeting of the Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce it was reported that the facilities at the Salt Lake were in bad shape. The dam had broken and the water was dangerously low. Walks, bath houses and diving tower needed repairs. Duncan McRae and Sam Currie were appointed a committee to go further into the matter.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. (By Dorothy Garbutt)

Well guess who sent me a letter, after all these months. Rocky Schulstadt! No need to say, remember him? He was full of life, vitality and noise, but principally noise. Oh yes, and he was also in the Navy. He says: "Don't you think it is about time I dropped you a line? Well here it is, so catch on please. The weather here is exactly the same kind as you have there, only it is worse. I find the Newfie accents really something. For instance, instead of a Newfie saying 'How are you getting on?' he says 'Hayagittinby?' Queer, isn't it? You remember telling me I talk too fast? You should hear them here! Man, oh man! I like the people here. They're nice but there's no trees! I've met several of the boys from home here—Signalman Jimmy Thompson, Leading Seaman George Brown, L/S.A. Bill MacLean, Signalman Maurice Reeves who married Kay Muirhead. Most of them wish they were home or in Rupert. If you see any of the fellows around, give them my best regards, and say hello to all the Y.M.C.A. fellows. Keep yourself well, please, and see that 'my piano' is looked after. (Rockie, your piano is now at Massett.) I still play a little bit at it—you know, Boogie-Woogie a la Rockie. And I still get thrown out of all the best Y.M.C.A.'s, U.S.O.'s and Sally Annes for playing it, same as usual. So for now, bye bye, and I hope you are keeping everybody jumping with your so cute temper. (Rockie, now is that

SUBMARINE EPIC HERE

In "We Dive at Dawn," Wednesday and Thursday's British feature picture at Capitol Theatre starring the Halifax actor, Eric Portman, the British submarine "Sea Tiger" docks after a long voyage and the crew are given seven days' leave but all private engagements are cancelled and the crew suddenly recalled to their ship which sails with instructions to try and sink a Nazi battleship. On their way they pick up three German airmen from the sea, and Portman, who speaks fluent German, learns from their conversation the whereabouts of the battleship.

The submarine manoeuvres her way through the minefields into the Baltic where she tracks the "Brandenburg" and discharges her torpedoes. The result of this is unknown as, in order to avoid Nazi destroyers the Captain orders a "fake" sinking, and lets the body of a German airman, dressed in British uniform, up through the torpedo tubes to add convincing evidence. The force of the depth charge causes serious loss of oil and after vainly seeking a tanker from which to refuel, Portman suddenly remembers a port on a nearby Danish island where they might find a tanker in dock. He puts on the uniform of one of the captured airmen and goes ashore. He finds a tanker and signals to the submarine to come inshore. After a battle with the Germans when they discover the ruse, "Sea Tiger" eventually re-fuels, while Portman and the crew keep the enemy at bay.

Victoriously the submarine returns to base, and as they are entering port a destroyer flashes them a message that they have sunk the "Brandenburg."

SHAVE IN COMFORT

With Minora Blades!

Minora is by far the best and sharpest double-edge blade in its class. It's the quality blade in the low-price field.

Nice advice—winter or summer. But not so easy to follow in sweltering heat. Try to do your cooking and baking early in the day before the sun is hottest. Plan meals of cold meat—cooked well in advance—and, vitamin-rich salads. Then when your cooking and baking is finished and a flick of the switches on your electric range has turned off the heat, your kitchen will remain just as cool as the rest of the house for the balance of the day.

Reddy says:

"If you think our summer weather is hot, remember our boys fighting in the tropics—and support them with your regular purchase of War Savings Stamps."
