Dr. A. J. Brace Speaker at Drill

Reopening of the Burma Road and ejection of the Japanese forces from China are necessary before the Allied assault on the Japs' home islands, Dr. A. J. Brace, explorer and educator in China for 25 years, commented in an address last night before naval and sea cadet officers and ratings and guests in the Naval Drill Hall.

Dr. Brace added that even, if all their cities are destroyed, the Nipponese will move their centre! of resistance to Manchuria where they have been secretly building war plants and storing oil.

In outlining the dangers of travel on the old Burma Road the speaker revealed that 1700 trucks have plunged over cliffs from the time the road opened until it was closed by the enemy.
