Meat Rationing Is Now Off

Restrictions on Purchase Are Temporarily Lifted; Canned Salmon Free

OTTAWA, March 1 (CP)—Temporary suspension of meat rationing and meatless Tuesdays in Canada, effective at midnight Tuesday night, was announced by Douglas Abbott, Parliamentary assistant to Minister of Finance J. L. Hsley. No coupons will be needed for meat or canned salmon bought after last night.

Reduced exports have caused the surplus position and, as soon as meat can move more freely into export channels again, it will be necessary to resume rationing of meat, Abbott said. Ration book holders are instructed to keep meat coupons that have not expired.

$3,000 Drop In Customs Intake

Customs receipts for the port of Prince Rupert in February totalling $35,332.86 dropped more than $3,000 under the receipts for January. January receipts were $38,883.88. Total receipts so far this year are $74,216.74. In February 1943, $42,354.39 was collected.

Explosive Tank Used By Germans

GERMANS LAUNCH THEIR THIRD GREAT OFFENSIVE AGAINST ALLIES' ANZIO BEACHHEAD.

NAPLES, March 1. — The Germans, armed with a "secret weapon" radio-controlled, tank loaded with explosives, struck anew against the Anzio beachhead today and six of the vehicles were destroyed. This is the third great offensive by the Nazis aimed at driving the Allies into the sea below Rome.

FIGHT NOW UNDER WAY

Forty-Four Junior Chambers In Anti-V.D. Campaign.

TORONTO, Ont., March 1.—Forty-four affiliated organizations, all the way from Halifax to Prince Rupert, have taken their battle stations in the home-front war on venereal disease. William F. Reid, Calgary president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada, reports.

Here on a cross-country tour of the Junior Chambers and Junior Boards of Trades, Mr. Reid had high praise for the work of the Jaycees' national health committee and the activities thus far of the local units. He also expressed appreciation of the services of the Health League of Canada, with which the Junior Chamber of Commerce is co-operating in the present national campaign.

Intensive efforts to bring the venereal-disease problem to the attention of the public are being promoted in its eradication. He staged this month in Saskatchewan, New Brunswick and in some Ontario and Quebec cities. Manitoba has been campaigning since late November last. Organization is now proceeding for all-out educational drives in British Columbia, Quebec, Nova Scotia and Alberta.

Provincial educational activities are generally under direction of the Departments of Public Health, and the Junior Chambers of Commerce voluntary field force. The Health League's role as a national educational association is for the moment to make available literature, posters, films, public aids, radio programs and campaign manuals. "The three-alliance appears to be working out well," Mr. Reid commented showing great enthusiasm for their project and report splere did public response."

Health Service Cost $12 Year

OTTAWA, March 1. — Complete health services—medical, dental and drug—will cost Canadian adults $12 yearly plus a percentage of income for those in income tax paying classes. This is provided for under a health insurance plan submitted to the House of Commons security committee. Beneficiaries may choose their own doctors or hospitals within their own communities.

More Gin Available

VICTORIA, March 1 (CP)—Liquor Commissioner W. F. Kennedy announced last night that the March liquor ration for British Columbia would be two dozen pints of beer or forty ounces of gin or twenty-six ounces of rye or Scotch or one gallon of local wine or two quarts of imported wine. The gin ration is increased and the beer ration decreased. All others are unchanged.

Russians Sweep On

LONDON, March 1. — The Red Army has torn from the Germans 250 more localities around Pskov as they continue their swift-moving offensive. They have crossed Lake Peipus towards Estonia and established bridgeheads on the western shore. A new drive has been started south of Krivoi Rog in the Ukraine with a Russian advance of 20 miles, liberating 70 towns. Mr. and Mrs. A. Deildal returned where Mr. Deildal has been un-

Medical Exams Are Under Fire

OTTAWA, March 1. — Medical examination of men entering the Canadian Army came in for considerable discussion at yesterday's session of Parliament. The case of a Fredericton man who had been found physically fit for service but had died of diabetes soon after he enlisted was pointed out and Hon. R. B. Hanson wanted to know what had happened to medical officers responsible for passing him. The minister of national defence said the benefit of the doubt had been given and the doctors acquitted.

OTTAWA, March 1. — The Northwest Staging Route of airfields will become an all Canadian project with Canada paying the United States for all permanent improvements, it was announced yesterday by the government. On the main route to Whitehorse the sum of $46,000,000 has been already paid with a total of $58,500,000 when including the line to the Mackenzie River country.

Ottawa Again Asked For Damage Done to Public Works by Army Traffic

Already One Request Has Been Denied as Dominion Feels That it is Not its Responsibility.

VICTORIA, March 1 (CP)—Hon. Herbert Anscomb, minister of public works, speaking in the budget debate in the Legislature Tuesday, said he would again ask Ottawa to assume responsibility for damage done to roads through military traffic. The federal government, he said, had denied responsibility on the grounds that there were a provincial responsibility.

Mr. Anscomb said that the proposed Pine Pass route for a highway from Prince George to Dawson Creek would divide into British Columbia much business that now goes to Alberta.

FINNISH PEACE—

Britain Is Agreeable To Terms

LONDON, March 1. (C.P.)—It was reported today that, after consultations with Soviet authorities, British officials agreed to peace terms submitted by Russia to Finland. As a preliminary to peace, Moscow has demanded that the Finns cease all military operations immediately and break relations with Germany. Interning of German troops and ships in Finland, with Soviet aid if necessary, and adoption of 1940 borders are included in the terms. Finland may send peace envoys to Moscow any time. The British press terms the Russian proposals as generous.

Little Greater Need . . .

Everyone who contributes to the current National campaign for funds of the Canadian Red Cross can rest assured that it is more than worthwhile. The stories being told by repatriated men of the Forces returning from the "twilight existence" in enemy-held territory testify to that.

The rations doled out by the detaining powers are meagre, and without the weekly inflow of supplies through the Red Cross, men behind barbed wire would soon weaken and sicken and become unbelievably miserable.

Again and again, the repatriated tell of Russian prisoners denied the life-saving stream of food parcels who died like flies, from malnutrition and lack of proper attention.

Sports equipment and books, forwarded by the Red Cross, have made the difference between monotony and a livable existence for prisoners of war. British and Allied prisoners who also come under the benefit of Canadian Red Cross parcels have arm praise for their worth.

The "proof of the pudding" is found in this untrusting mass of praise, voiced by all repatriates. The activities of the Canadian Red Cross Society . . . the generous contributions of loyal Canadians throughout the Dominion, and the energy and care that have gone into the packing and sending of shipments of supplies, have proven its worth.

Many lives have been saved. Many more lives will be saved. From the beginning of wartime campaigns for funds, Canadians have made plain the fact that they feel that the Canadian Red Cross does take good care of our men overseas, our men in prison camps—our "Brothers" who have been bombed and made destitute through enemy action.

This year . . . with the war reaching its decisive phase . . . Canadians are being asked to give a little more. The need is greater.

The Coming Invasion . . .

Speculation is rife about what the Allied forces will find when they invade Europe in greater strength and with far greater power than they are now employing. Will the shores of the continent be hostile or friendly? One thing we know—the "underground" is active. Scarcely a day passes without one significant indication of this.

We can remember a generation ago how the possibilities of "invasion" came into the conversation whenever the project for a tunnel under the English Channel was discussed. We thought in smaller terms then. The tunnel was doomed more than once on that account. As if the Channel afforded a margin of security which a subterranean passageway would jeopardize! How changed the viewpoint of today, when the threat of invasion looms large over the continent, and the emphasis is on the airplane and landing barge. Invasion is coming without a tunnel. The Channel itself, because of the conquest of sky and sea, becomes a "bridge" instead of a barrier.

Only one glass or one bottle at a time will speed up on the beer tavern guzzling.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. (By DOROTHY GARBUTT)

Last Sunday evening at St. Andrew's Cathedral the service was conducted by young soldiers who are members of the Anglican Young People's Association. Dean Gibson remarked in introduction that it had been planned to have representatives of the Navy and the Air Force take part as well but unexpected duties prevented it. The sight of these young men entering into the service earnestly and reverently was more than a little inspiring. Those who officiated were Edward Curry, who read the first lesson, and Edward Arnold who read the second lesson. Private Curry is from Yorkville, Ontario, and Private Arnold from Huntsville. The sermon, which was an exposition on the theme of love and charity from the Thirteenth Epistle to the Corinthians, was given by Private Curtis Sthare of the American Forces. Private Sthare's home is in Lehigh, Pennsylvania. The sidesmen for the evening were Corporal Jerry Paul of Kirkton, Ontario, and Corporal Bob Murray of Lucan, Ontario. The four Canadian men are members of an Ontario Regiment stationed in Prince Rupert.

Our two "Y" cats "Salty" and "Peppy" don't know what to make of the unaccustomed quiet around the Hut. When I come in to feed them in the morning they come running to me yowling most plaintively. And are they glad to see someone! As our canteen is closed I have had to lay in a supply of dried milk for them. "Salty" thinks it's good but "Peppy" is a little uncertain as yet. When he gets hungry enough he'll make up his mind.

Tomorrow I'm going to tell you all about a delightful Red Cross tea the W.D. officers' at Number Four Group Headquarters Sunday afternoon last. Trust that up an' coming crowd to be the first in line for that. Good going girls.

The Service Wives' Club meeting for tomorrow afternoon is cancelled.

When you want to get in touch with any of the "Y" people for the next week or so, remember to phone the Empress. The Hut is closed.

Public Support For Venereal Disease Drive

Full community support for its forthcoming anti-venereal disease campaign will be sought by the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce, Colin McCarthy, chairman of the committee in charge, said today.

Mr. McCarthy said that it is the committee's plan to make this year's Social Hygiene Week, March 13 - 18, a time not only to acquaint the general public with the facts about venereal diseases but also to enlist full support of the Prince Rupert venereal-disease-control program.

"We believe it is the responsibility of every citizen to join the campaign against these dangerous infections," Mr. McCarthy said, "because the venereal diseases, syphilis and gonorrhoea, reduce the output of industrial workers, weaken the striking power of our armed forces and are a menace to national security."

"Medical science has given us all the means needed for their control," he continued. "There are now available new drugs, new methods of diagnosis, new techniques of treatment. What is still needed above all is a greater understanding by, and therefore co-operation of, the general public."

"We are looking particularly for the co-operation of the youth and welfare organization, women's groups, the church, parents, teachers, management and labor."

"The slogan of this year's Social Hygiene Week is—United Against VD—VD Delays Victory."

OFFICIAL NOTICE

MEAT RATIONING

and

Meatless Tuesdays

Temporarily Suspended

KEEP YOUR UNEXPIRED MEAT COUPONS FOR FUTURE USE

Effective at once Meat Rationing and Meatless Tuesdays have been suspended until further notice.

This means that rationing coupons and other ration documents are no longer required by anyone to buy meat and canned salmon from dealers, and that hotels and restaurants and other quota users may obtain supplies so as to serve meat whenever desired.

Consumers should destroy unused meat ration coupons up to and including coupon No. 40. All meat coupons on temporary ration cards should also be destroyed. Other coupons SHOULD BE KEPT.

NOTICE TO THE MEAT TRADE. Ration documents should be surrendered by the trade in respect of all deliveries of meat made prior to midnight February 29th. Those with ration coupon bank accounts will deposit all purchase documents. Those with no coupon bank accounts will surrender purchase documents to the banks in exchange for a bank transfer voucher to be sent to the nearest branch of the ration administration. Complete instructions will be contained in a special notice and food bulletin.

NOTICE TO MEAT SLAUGHTERERS. Because suspension of the meat ration is purely a temporary measure, meat slaughterers with permits will be required to continue observing the provisions of board orders 231 (defatting) and 340 (slaughtering and stamping of carcasses) but temporarily need not report on form RB 5, or be limited by quotas issued under the order. Farmers may now slaughter for sale direct to any household consumer.

ERENT

Author of "My Life With the Enemy" Spent Years in Japan and the East. By Anita Freedman, Canadian Press Staff Writer. ...

an attack on an English missionary in Korea by a Jap soldier who beat him mercilessly and dragged him off to prison—simply because he considered the inoffensive missionary's appearance "suspicious." In 1938 she saw pictures taken after the occupation of Hankow and Canton showing that bodies of men bombed and machine-gunned had been used to fill in ruts in a road so that army trucks could run the more smoothly. In 1942 she bore marks on her own body as testimony.

IN NEWSPAPER WORK As managing editor of Japan News-Week, an American publication which managed to retain its integrity and independence in spite of pressure from the Japanese Foreign Office, she came to grips, many times with the illogical fanaticism which made patriotism a religion and anything not pro-Japanese treason.

By the summer of 1941 the government's policy of "Japanification" had brought about complete control of press and people, opinion and action. In religion emphasis swung from Christianity to Shintoism with its creed of divinity of emperor and race.

Knowing that the enemy had surrendered his comports, progress and thoughts to produce a war machine, Miss Argall warns against underestimating his strength or his staying powers. She urgently exhorts that we carry the war to his doors at once before he can consolidate his gains. Above all we must come to no other terms than unconditional surrender.

Revealing and informative as it is, "My Life With the Enemy" leaves the impression that there is still lots more to be told. Perhaps the time has not yet come—many of our countrymen and allies still are in enemy hands—but this book is a key to what we may expect.

Future of France Pains Rothschild

VANCOUVER, March 1. — Von Ribbentrop has stolen his race horses, Goering has taken the best of his art treasures, and now Baron Maurice de Rothschild, scion of Europe's richest family of bankers, is a lonely refugee living in a Vancouver hotel.

One of the baron's most important post-war tasks will be the recovery of the great works of art which the Germans have stolen and which it took his family more than 200 years to collect. "I know I was have the support of the British and American governments to trace and reclaim them," he said, "even if Goering has sent them to his home in Sweden as I have been told."

Baron Rothschild grew solemn at the thought of his country's future and the fate of his own relatives.

"Unfortunately after this war the French people themselves will not be the same," he said. "Two million Frenchmen, after four years' imprisonment in Germany will or will not return from Germany—and in what state? They represented at the time all the youth of France. They will now, if they come back, be aged and ill, more even perhaps morally and intellectually than physically."

Protecting Of Beauty Shops

Services administration of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board is keeping a friendly eye on the interests of beauty parlors in connection with a new method of arranging a hair-do, known as the "Cold Wave."

There are several brands of these kits which are sold to beauty parlors by ten different companies.

Before purchasing such equipment the parlors are advised to ascertain from the Board the maximum lawful price they should pay for the kits and solutions used in the "Cold Wave" method.

The price, incidentally, must include any fee or charge made by the distributor for training staffs of the beauty parlor. No extra charge may be made for this service.

Having found out what they should pay, the operators of the beauty parlors must obtain a letter from the services administration authorizing the lawful maximum price they may charge the customer who wishes to try a "Cold Wave."

Briefs From Britain

BARNESLEY, England. — Dorothy Elliott, secretary of two coal companies, was charged with having robbed them of $126,000 since 1936, and to have used $3,100 to build an underground passage from her home to her air-raid shelter.

LONDON. — A new club for Canadian officers on leave in London — The Canadian Red Cross Junior Officers' Club—was opened in London by the Duchess of Kent. Among those at the opening ceremonies were Vice-Admiral Percy Nelles of the Royal Canadian Navy and Maj.-Gen. C. B. Prices.

BRADFORD, England. — Frederick William Jowett, 80, treasurer of the Independent Labor Party, died at his home here. He was commissioner of works in the Labor government of 192.

LONDON. — There are about 12,500 child refugees in England. Commons was informed by the Home Office. About 8,500 came from Central Europe, 3,500 from the Channel Islands and 400 from Spain during the civil war.

LOWESTOFT, England. — This East Anglian town, "adopted" by Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., during the blitz, returned the compliment and entertained 200 Soo men serving in Canadian regiments in England. They were given a civic welcome after which they were guests at a dance.

LONDON. — Married 58 years Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Adams of Muswell Hill died within twenty-four hours of each other. The couple, aged 89 and 85, were buried together.

SOUTHAMPTON, England. — The man who docked the liner Queen Mary for the first time and who was Southampton's oldest pilot, 66-year-old Capt. Geo. Bowyer, died recently from a heart attack.

LONDON. — An unusual man is the "Archbishop of Hyde Park." Samuel Martin Christopher, 84, he admits he has been heckled for 30 years at Speakers' Corner, Hyde Park—and he enjoys it. He is a verger at an east-end church.

WEST BRIDGFORD, England. — On a "collective smallholding" of two acres in this Nottinghamshire town, men and women are to produce food in their spare time, sharing the work and profits. The organizers plan to raise vegetables, fruit, pork and honey.

LONDON. — Aircraft of British Overseas Airways Corporation in 1934 flew the equivalent of 1 1-3 times around the world every day of the year. The mileage was 12,500,000. The corporation operates 50,000 miles of routes.

LONDON. — Air Commodore J. A. Chamier, retiring from the R.A.F. at the age of 60, has been appointed executive controller of the Air League of the British Empire and will organize branches throughout the Empire. He was the first commandant of the Air Training Corps.

Women Retain Hair Curlers

Flare-up in Glasgow Clothing Factory Ends in Compromise

GLASGOW, March 1. — The homely curler, unsightly fly in some matrimonial ointment, is causing a spat of the sexes in a clothing factory here.

Women workers, it seems, are in the habit of appearing at work with curlers in their hair. Men workers, united with the management, contend that the practice is not only unsightly but also unsanitary.

Hair in curlers, the management said, could not be kept free from dust and grime. The women said the contention was "nonsense" and that the curlers not only kept their hair tidy but kept their permanents in condition longer.

A ban was placed on the little gadgets and 30 women workers appeared in them the next day. They were refused admission to the plant, so they went home and their work was undone. Finally, when they returned to work — without curlers—a compromise was reached and women of the factory can now wear curlers on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Cathedral Monument

LIVERPOOL, March 1. — A Roman Catholic cathedral here capable of holding 12,000 people and with 53 altars, will stand as a monument to the memory of Sir Edwin Lutyens, one of Britain's foremost architects who died recently.

Sir Edwin, who designed the government building at New Delhi, the School of Art in Rome, the Somme Memorial at Thiepval and the Cenotaph in Whitehall, was working on the final plans for the cathedral when he died.

The cathedral will stand on the sea front and will be visible for fourteen miles at sea. To be built after the war, it will be the biggest cathedral in the world.

Urges Start On Postwar Homes

LONDON, March 1. — For the sake of political peace and the rehabilitation of Britain's industrial life practical planning of the post-war program of 4,000,000 houses in ten years must be started immediately and not left to the end of the war.

This was stated in a recent report of a joint conference of the Royal Institute of British Architects, the National House Builders Registration Council and the Building Societies Association.

HOLD HIGH THE TORCH OF FREEDOM. Ammunition FOR THE ARMIES OF THE UNITED NATIONS. Thousands of men and women behind the lines are risking life in many factories, turning out ammunition for every fighting front. Without the dangerous, unceasing toil of these men and women, the fire power of our armed forces would dwindle; we could not be sure of victory. Included in this army of ammunition workers are those who make the gun-powder, TNT and other explosives; the makers of shells for all sizes of guns, of bombs; those who work on aerial and marine torpedoes; the producers of hand and rifle grenades. The Bank of Montreal, working constantly to supply needed banking service to the Government of Canada, to the workers and management of war industries—through hundreds of busy branches—adds its tribute in praise of these courageous war-workers. BANK OF MONTREAL. "A BANK WHERE SMALL ACCOUNTS ARE WELCOME". MODERN, EXPERIENCED BANKING SERVICE. Prince Rupert Branch: G. R. S. BLACKBAY, Manager. Stewart Branch: H. E. W. WOODFORD, Manager.

FAR NORTH ADVENTURE

Trio Entertaining Fighters in Alaska Covered 11,000 Miles in Five Weeks.

By ENID NEMY (Canadian Press Staff Writer) WINNIPEG, March 1 (C) - Lonely soldiers and airmen, based at isolated posts in Alaska, won't forget a trio of dancing and singing stars who brought them entertainment from the outside. Ptes. Hank McCune and Buddy Pepper of Hollywood, now with the United States Army in central Canada, and CBC singing star, Patricia Berry of Winnipeg, were the "Alaskan morale builders."

They recently returned from a 11,000-mile jaunt, entertaining American and Canadian forces up north and with them they brought the acclaim of U.S. army authorities. They travelled by air, train and army transport and in five weeks gave 45 performances for soldiers of four United Nations.

They performed anywhere from mess halls to hospital wards, and played to enlisted men, officers, war workers, Eskimos, and even four seals on a rock.

"The seals loved us," said Hank. "They waved and clapped madly."

One of Pat's most embarrassing moments came at a lonely outpost where the only available dressing room was behind a movie screen. The stage light was placed so that it illuminated the screen. As Pat slipped off her dress, shoes and stock-

Card of Thanks
Mrs. C. Ross of Winnipeg wishes to thank the many friends of the late Mr. William Miller for their kindness and sympathy extended to her in her sad bereavement. Special thanks to Dr. Cade and the nurses of the Prince Rupert General Hospital, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Smith, Mr. Norman Watt, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Wingham, Mr. Arthur Bayne, Mr. Jack Mowatt, Mr. Peter Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Parker.

ings, her silhouette could be clearly seen by the boys in the audience and they howled. Finally Hank came over and revealed the cause of the uproar. "I still blush when I think about it," said Pat.

An incident that "scared us out of two years' growth" came when they were flying at 6,000 feet and both engines stopped simultaneously.

"The plane went into a 30-degree dive and had dropped 4,000 ft. when the pilot pulled out of it," Hank said. "From then on it took a bulldozer and three regiments to get Buddy into a plane—he's still white."

One eventful day they lost Pat. "Alaska is a big place and Pat is a small person—we were absolutely bewildered," said Buddy. Next day Pat reappeared. She had spent several enjoyable hours with Ingrid Bergman and her troupe. "Miss Bergman is wonderful," enthused Pat. "She's charming and a marvellous conversationalist."

DEDICATED TO THE SERVICE OF MANKIND

Activities of the St. John Ambulance Brigade are as widely diversified as they are effective. In cities large and small . . . in every Province of the Dominion . . . Divisions of the Brigade are carrying on their great work of voluntarily serving humanity.

In the Maritime Provinces thousands of frost-bitten and wounded survivors of the Battle of the Atlantic have been given first aid and transported to emergency hospitals. Brigade members have been on duty for countless hours in the hospitals of Canada, Army Hospitals and hospitals of the Department of Pensions and National Health.

On the highways, on the ski slopes, at public meetings . . . wherever there is a potential need for trained First Aid . . . there you find members of the St. John Ambulance Brigade ready to help the sick and injured with skill and efficiency. And remember—these men and women of the Brigade serve without pay. For further information, get in touch with your local St. John Ambulance Association Branch or Brigade Division; or write Commandery Headquarters, 321 Chapel Street, Ottawa, Ontario.

DO YOU KNOW . . . the difference between the St. John Ambulance Association and the St. John Ambulance Brigade? The Association is the teaching branch where classes in First Aid and Home Nursing are conducted. The Brigade is the serving branch . . . serving humanity at all times in peace and war.

SUCH is the grateful testimony of countless fighting men who kept their "rendezvous with Death" and live to tell the tale. Every Red Cross triumph over death, wounds, disease and human agony is that in which you may take pride. Because it is YOUR Red Cross. Thus it is you who succours those in pain and peril.

Now as the dreadful carnage of war increases—as more famine-stricken countries are made accessible to your Red Cross, the need grows at terrific pace. So much money is needed to maintain a steady flow of parcels to war prisoners, blood serum, medical supplies and dressings, surgical instruments, hospitals and hospital equipment, food and clothing, to name but a few of the demands on your Red Cross. Raise your sights—give MORE—your Red Cross needs your mercy dollars NOW!
