BRITISH NAVAL LOSSES

No Less Than 513 Fighting Ships of All Classes Have Perished Since Start of War

In the four years between the fateful day, September 3, 1939, when the lights of Britain went out, as the second World War started, and December 3, 1943, the associated navies of the British Commonwealth of Nations have lost the huge total of 513 fighting ships in their bitter struggle to keep open the lines of the world. These ships ranged through the categories of naval design from the mighty battle cruiser to the small tugs and patrol

Attacks On Turkey And Spain Plan

LONDON, Jan. 22 (CP)—According to reports in Cairo, Germany is bringing pressure to bear upon Bulgaria to attack Turkey. At the same time Germany itself would initiate a drive into Spain. The object, of course, would be to draw off the opening of a second front by the Allies in western Europe.

Plot to Overthrow Hitler Is Reported

BERNE, Jan. 22—Swiss newspapers report a reactionary plot in Germany to overthrow Adolf Hitler and set up a military dictatorship which would sue for peace with the Allies.

AIR POWER TO DECIDE

TOKYO—Premier Tojo said yesterday that air power would determine the issue of the war in the Pacific and that there would only be a hairbreadth between victory and defeat. The Japanese premier expressed confidence in victory. He said that Japanese airplane production had been doubled during the past year.

DESTROYERS

HARDEST HIT

Heaviest hit of all classes of naval ships have been the destroyers, of which 109 have been lost since the war began. Storm troops of the navy, they have hurled themselves into action wherever a fight was to be had, and the local of their sinking ranges around the globe. Destroyer tonnage lost totals 113,070.

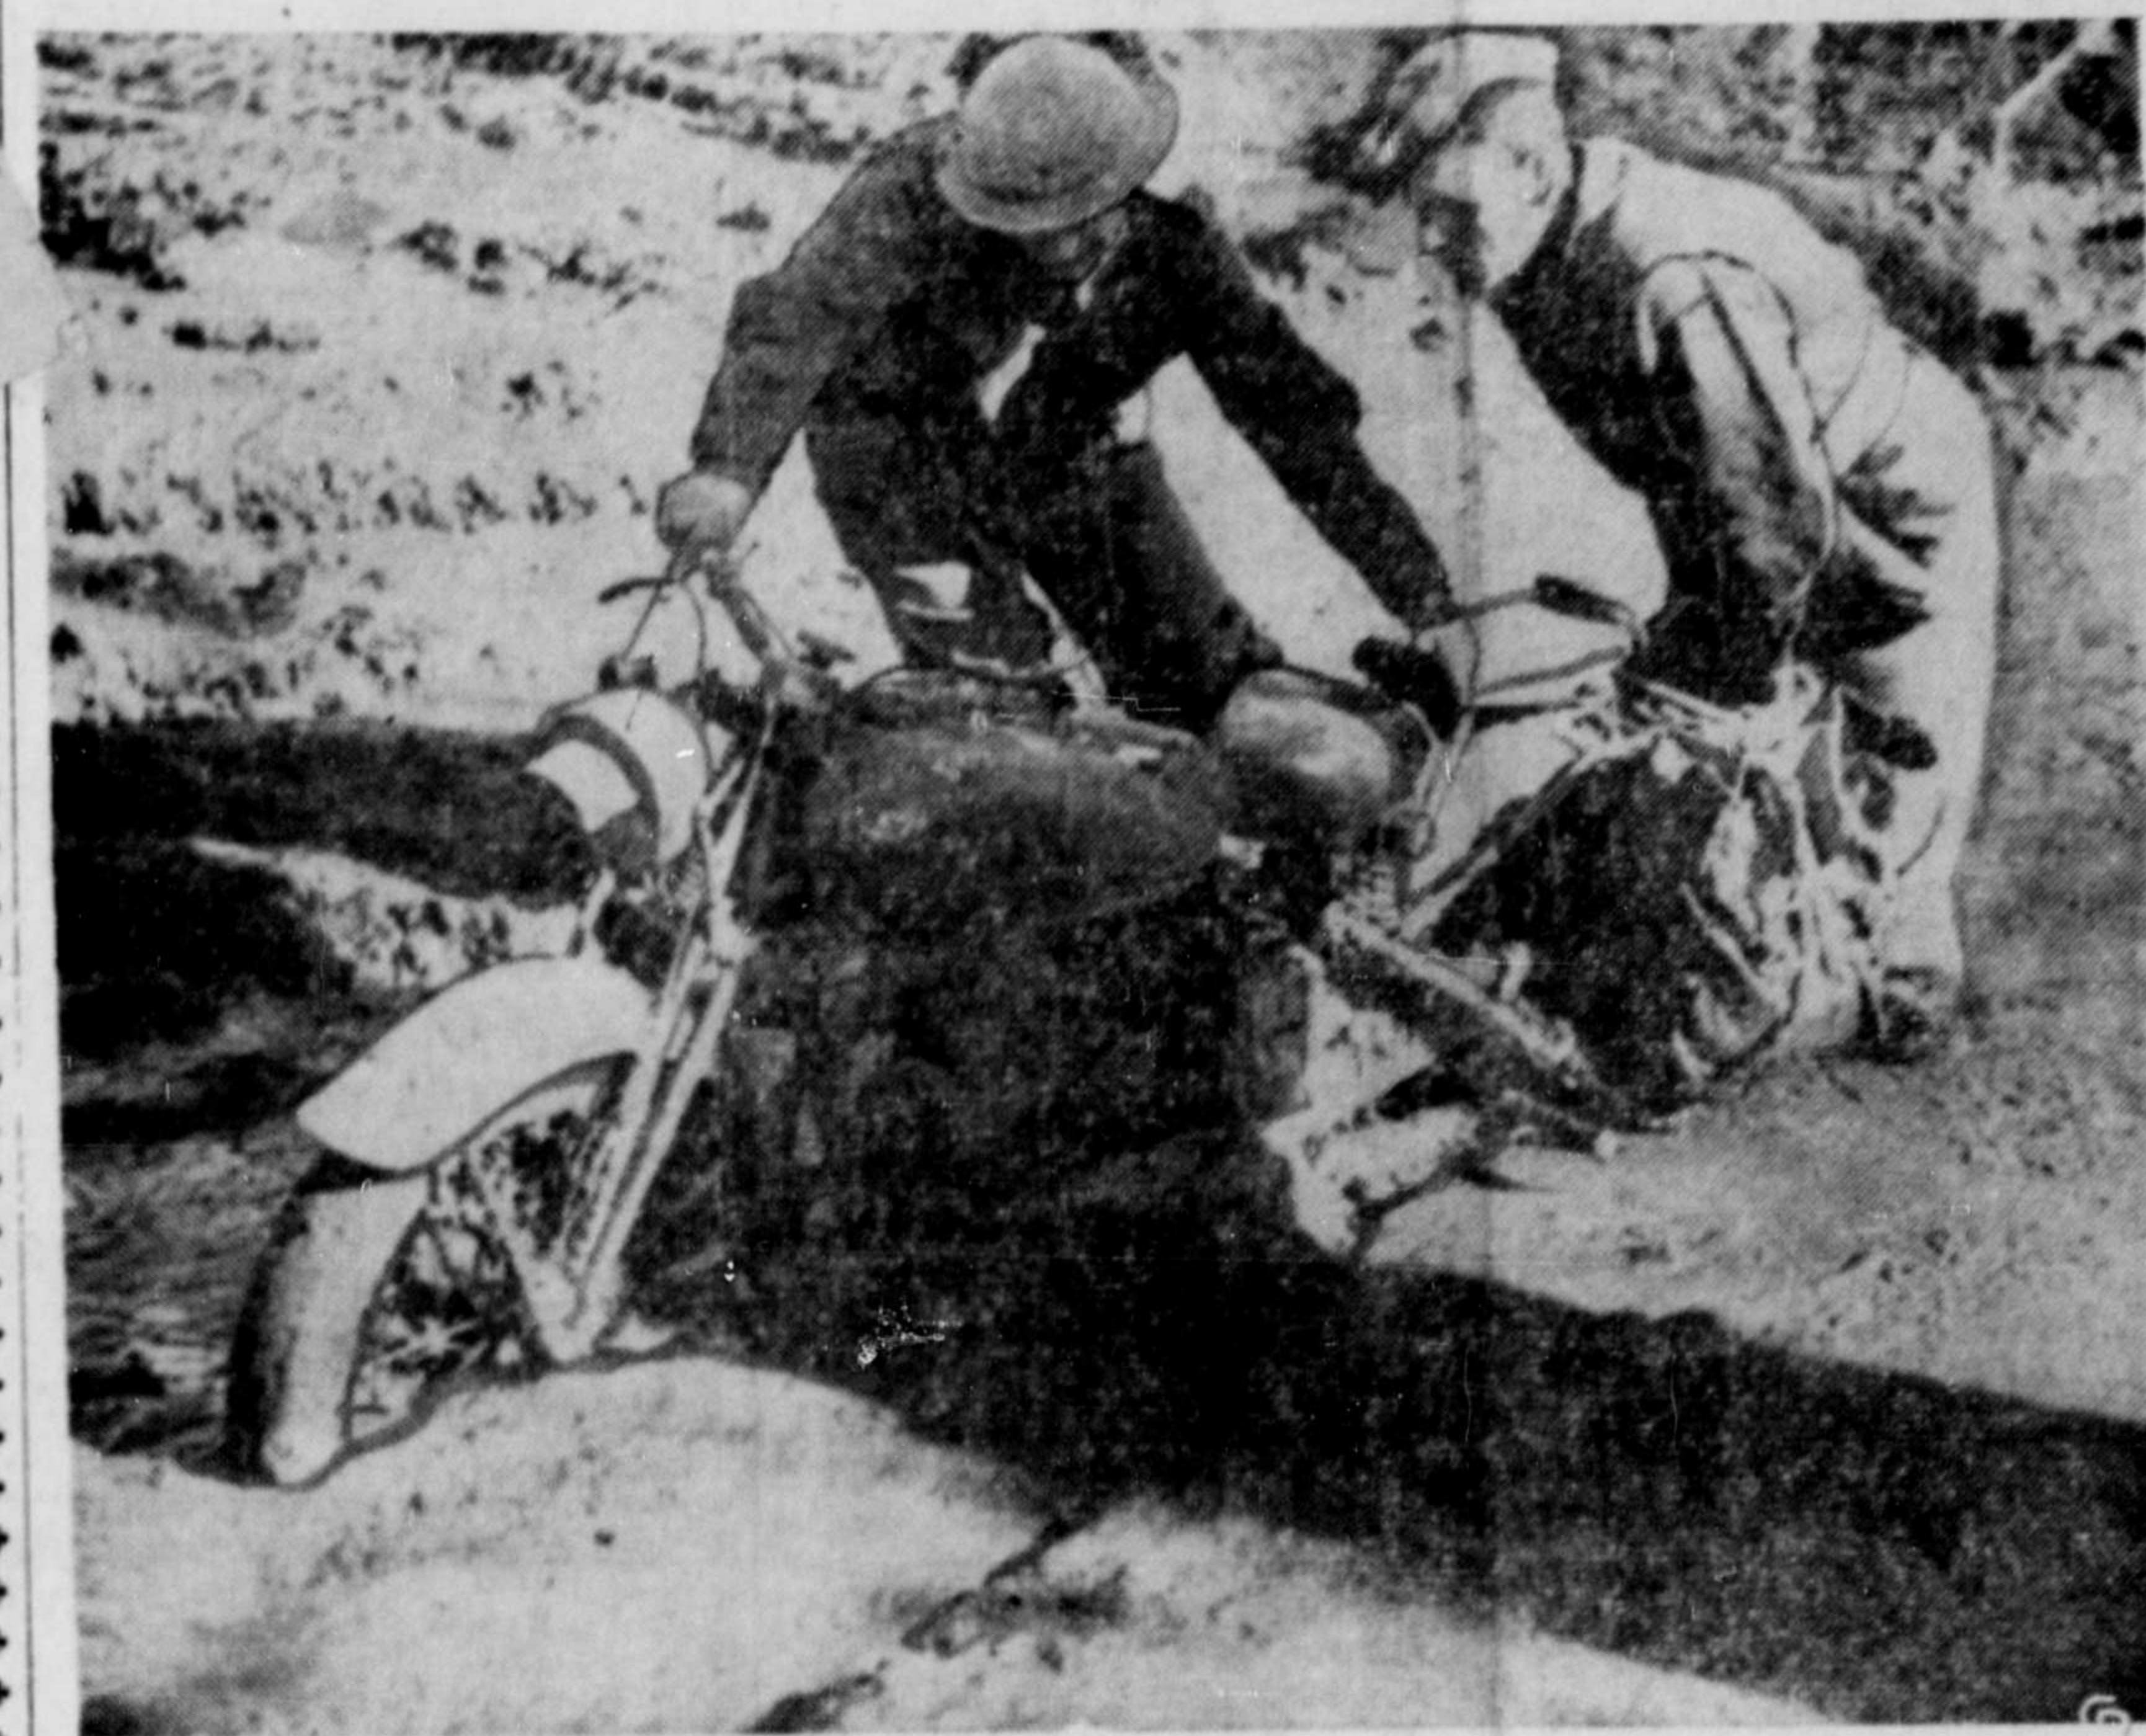

Four Canadian destroyers were among those sunk. They were the St. Croix, the Ottawa, the Margaree and the Fraser. Blank space dominates the manner and place of sinking of most of the 60 submarines listed as lost. The death of a submarine is sometimes as much of a mystery to the Admiralty as it is to the layman. The tonnage of submarines lost total 48,829.

One frigate, a class of ship midway between a destroyer and a corvette, is recorded as sunk. The Itchen died on October 1, 1943. Her tonnage and the manner and place of her sinking is not reported.

Heaviest losses of Canadian ships have been among corvettes. Out of the 22 corvettes lost, six have carried Canadian names and crews. They were the Levis, the Windflower, the Spikenard, the Charlottetown, the Louisburg and the Weyburn. Collision, mines, and air attack, rather than torpedoes sent those submarine hunters to the bottom.

The balance of small craft listed included 12 yachts, 11 sloops, 146 trawlers, 41 minesweepers, 4 minelayers, 16 drifters, 37 miscellaneous auxiliaries and 2 armed boarding vessels.

New Landing Made In Italy

YO-HEAVE AND A HO IN ITALY'S MUD—These men of the British Fifth army who are fighting the Germans on Mount Roccamonfina, northwest of Teano, Italy, are having a little trouble with the thick mud caused by pelted rain. Here a dispatch rider is trying to extricate his motorcycle, which is deep in the mud and most reluctant to leave the gooey mire.

Invasion By Allies 30 Miles From Rome

Bridgehead Established Near Tiber

ALGIERS, Jan. 22 (CP)—Powerful British and American forces of the Fifth Army, striking by sea toward Rome, landed on the west coast of central Italy before dawn today in a heavy attack to smash the Germans' flank and turn their winter fortifications in the Gustav and Adolf Hitler Lines. First landings were successful, winning a bridgehead several miles long and "the situation is developing favorably," Allied headquarters announced.

The communiqué did not locate the invasion point but the Germans said the landing was made between the mouth of the Tiber, 16 miles southwest of Rome, and Nettuno, about 35 miles southeast of the Tiber and the same distance from Rome.

The bold thrust ended a slow process of frontal attack alone and was supported by blistering air and naval bombardments. German resistance was light and the Germans admitted Nettuno had been occupied by the Allies.

REDS TAKE RAIL TOWN

Leningrad Is Connected by Rail With Moscow for First Time In Two Years.

LONDON, Jan. 22 (CP)—The Soviet capture of Ega, key rail junction 30 miles southeast of Leningrad, has reunited Russia's second city by rail with Moscow for the first time since the city was laid under siege by the Germans two years ago. Moscow dispatches said today. At the same time Leningrad gained a permanent rail link to tap lend-lease supplies coming from Murmansk through Volkhov.

Claim on Lots Is Relinquished

The executive of the Prince Rupert Civic Centre Association, at its meeting Thursday night, complied with a request from the city council that it (the city) be released from any moral obligation to hold for the civic centre property on Third Avenue off McBride Street which had been previously reserved for civic centre purposes. This was agreed to providing the city made available a required area adjoining the new Y.M.C.A. building on McBride Street between First and Second Avenues and an additional five feet of lane allowance.

Is Making No Announcement

W. R. Devenish, Vice-President and General Manager of Canadian National, here.

W. R. Devenish, vice-president and general manager, Canadian National Railways, visiting here says that he has no announcements to make. Railway traffic he observed, is showing the usual January lag after the December rush but is, of course, greatly higher than in previous years. He did not know, as yet, said Mr. Devenish, as to the proportion of fourteen cargo ships to

The possibility of a new station building here was suggested to Mr. Devenish but he had nothing to say about that. No changes in railway service were contemplated at the present time as the traffic was evidently being adequately taken care of at this time. Mr. Devenish is accompanied on the trip by his wife. He leaves tonight for Vancouver enroute back to Winnipeg.

Business Of Civic Centre

Business at Thursday night's annual meeting of the Prince Rupert Civic Centre Association included the presentation of the financial statement of the treasurer, D. C. Stevenson, which showed nearly $60,000 of liquid assets on hand for the civic centre.

A suggestion of the Junior Chamber of Commerce that the executive might be enlarged by having three instead of two representatives from each of the member organizations and the general public was conveyed to the meeting by T. N. Youngs but no action was taken.

The election of executive members representing the public at large resulted in the choice of Robert Gordon and Ald. Nora Arnold.

The attendance at the meeting was quite gratifying, compared with former years, those present being Dr. R. G. Large, C. G. Ham, W. D. Lambie, D. C. Stevenson, Rev. A. F. MacSweeney, B. Thorsteinsson, Mrs. Robert McCarthy, Oscar Haveroy, Gunnar Selvig, Mayor H. M. Daggett, G. W. Rudderham, C. H. Orme, D. C. Stuart, Frank Skinner, G. A. Hunter, K. Hundelide, Ald. Nora Arnold, Dr. R. C. Bamford, S. A. Cheeseman, Mrs. A. L. Haines, Stan Saville, Robert Gordon, C. G. Ham and Miss Kay Meredith.

Keep Japs And Nazis Off Ocean

This Is Plan of American Admiral — Would Keep Allied Merchant Marine Busy.

PORTLAND, Jan. 22 (CP)—Rear Admiral Vickery, vice-chairman of the United States Marine Commission, proposed in an address Friday night that the merchant marine of the Allied countries take over trade routes formerly operated by Germany and Japan, recommending that neither nation be allowed to regain naval power.

Vickery suggests that gigantic Allied fleets, too large to be restricted to pre-war trade routes, supply the Axis in foreign commerce. He said that the postwar American merchant marine would be the largest in world history.

U.S. SPEED BOATS HIT AT BARGES

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NEW GUINEA, Jan. 22 (CP)—One hundred and sixty Japanese, apparently bent on reinforcing the besieged defenders of Madang, New Guinea, were killed when American P-T speed boats caught them in darkness sneaking down the coast, headquarters announced today. Their barges were sprayed with machine gun fire and all were sunk. All the Japanese were killed. Twenty empty Japanese barges have also been sunk by American bombing planes continuing a heavy air assault on Madang which is the principal target in this area at present, killed or drowned.

VETERAN SAGUENAY RESTS AS A TRAINING SHIP—Battered veteran of the convoy lanes, H.M.C.S. Saguenay is now serving as a training ship. She survived a German torpedo that wrecked her bows, a collision which detonated her depth charges and blew off her stern and rode out a week-long hurricane, the worst the Atlantic had seen in decades. The shattered remains of her stern only a foot or two out of water, Saguenay was towed home after a collision with a freighter on a dark, foggy night off the coast of Newfoundland. Already patched many times, she has been converted to a training ship.

Britain's Postwar Policy...

Although no detailed statement of Britain's post-war economic policy is yet possible for obvious reasons (full concentration on war is still essential and detail of conditions likely to exist is still unknown) it is significant that statements of policy by British political and industrial leaders show general agreement in certain basic principles. These are:

- 1—Necessity for full employment.
- 2—Belief in an expanding world economy. Importance of raising the standard of living all over the world. Need for widest possible exchange of goods between all nations and recognition that Britain's prosperity is bound up with that of rest of world.
- 3—Determination to maintain such controls as are necessary for postwar reorganization at home and abroad.
- 4—Importance of international exchange mechanism of world trade. Quotations from members of the government and leading industrial interests illustrate these lines of development. The political spokesmen include leaders of all main parties likely to form government in the next few years.

How Press Stands...

Arguments between political parties over some detail of the national policies are such a necessary part of our democratic system of government that it comes with a shock to hear the leaders of any political party wailing aloud that public discussion is unfair to them and their movement and that this is evidence that the press is corrupted by special interests says the Canadian Statesman of Bowmanville Ontario.

The daily and weekly newspapers of Canada are published and edited by Canadians—with just about the average Canadian's share of patriotism and desire to subordinate personal advantage to the common good. The cases in which their policy is dominated by the personal interest of owners or editors must exist but they are few. Far more common are the cases in which the views of the press are dominated by what the publishers and editors believe to be the interest of the majority of the people in the area which the papers serve.

Newspapers are likely to support the political party which advocates the plans which the editors believe will be in the interest of the nation as a whole with some bias toward the special interest of the area in which the particular paper is circulated.

PAST YEAR SUCCESSFUL

The annual congregational meeting of St. Peter's Anglican Church Seal Cove, was held Thursday evening in the Parish Hall under the chairmanship of Rev E. W. Scott. There was a good attendance, and the reports of the various organizations connected with the church, neatly compiled by the Rector in a mimeographed booklet, showed a healthy and active interest in the life of the church.

Financially, the church is sound and met all obligations for 1943. Various plans were discussed for the coming year which, when carried out, will help to make the little church, the centre of community life in Seal Cove.

Boddie.

Junior Rector's warden—Al-

Editor, Daily News:

Please put my name, address, and phone number in your column. I am a lonely Canadian girl in a lonely (and I'm not foolin') part of Canada. My friends call me Tommy but my enemies aren't so polite and call me (censored) so you have your choice.

I work in a place where the dits are ditty and the dots are dotty. I'm different. I'm just plain dopey. I have hair which in the movies, where everything is nuts anyway, they might call light brown. Seeing as how I have a little romance in me, I call it mousey brown. My eyes

Mrs. Steen Buried Today

Funeral service for the late Mrs. Grace Steen, wife of James G. Steen, took place this afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church in which she had served faithfully for many years. The Rev. A. F. MacSween officiated at the service which was attended by the many friends deceased had gathered during her thirty years of residence here.

During the service Mrs. Jarvis McLeod sang the solo, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." Mrs.
E. J. Smith was organist.

Interment took place in Fairview cemetery.

Pallbearers were Alex McCrae,
S. E. Parker, E. J. Smith, Frank
Fitch, G. A. Hunter and T. J.
Boulter.

that scare you away. Just because I can see in the dark doesn't mean anything. I can always close my eyes and try flying blind. I have lots of freckles but my mother always told me they were a sign of beauty so there is still some hope in that direction. I am five foot four in my stocking feet but can raise myself to any convenient height, depending upon the height of the person I am with. It's a good idea if you can work it. I can dance fairly well if the person I'm dancing with has big enough feet. The only time I weigh too much is when I sit on one knee too long. But then that can happen to anybody. Well that is my description. Please put it in your Yours hopefully,

ready guessed my object is matrimony. If they can stand it I

To the Health Seeker

* * * *

Perhaps, a "Belief" exists that "everything has been tried and failed"? Has "faith" subsided to the low ebb of accepting as a fact, the belief that a disease is incurable? Meanwhile, a vague misgiving persists that: Somehow, somewhere there must be an answer to incurability.

Chiropractically, the greatest handicap to health restoration is: So many cherish a traditional faith or belief to the bitter end. Meantime, a simple disease descends into an indefinite and complicated realm of incurability. Thus faith and belief hinders, and denies, the natural self-curABILITY within themselves the rightful duty to remedy (meaning: to cure again).

Such statements, of disease, special or general are verified by an exhaustive survey. Over 93,000 persons turned, when disillusioned and disappointed, to Chiropractic (Nature) as a LAST resort.

Some 410 qualified Chiropractors raised no question as to the merits of faith, belief or, the competency of any remedy, to cure again. Nature had preordained that everything was incorporated within. Nature's OWN Remedy substituted incur-ABILITY for cure or marked improvement in 79,000 cases; or, 85% of tiresome, intangible disease names.

A critical reader may question this astonishing record. For the needy there are two basic considerations: The belief that a condition is obstinately incurable as, against the Chiropractic record with thousands of varied, incurable cases. Both cannot be right.

When faith and belief fails to move mountains, Mahomet must go to the mountain. Possibly, the earnest Health Seeker discerns, by the mountainous record, that everything has not been tried; that, high odds yet remain in his favor.

As Mahomet would resolve: If Chiropractic eventually, why not ... NOW!

AIR FORCE WEDDING IS HELD HERE

A quiet but interesting wedding in which both principals and both attendants were members of the Royal Canadian Air Force, the bride being a locally-born girl, took place Thursday evening in the parsonage of First United Church when Corp. Elizabeth (Betty) Barber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barber, Beach Place, became the bride of Sergeant W. J. Bryant of the Royal Canadian Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bryant of Toronto. Rev. James A. Donnell officiated. Only immediate relatives were present and the bridesmaid was Corp. Jessie Cassidy with Sergeant Bruce Hengbroff as groomsmen.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gray suit with navy blue accessories and had a corsage bouquet of gardenia and carnations. The bridesmaid, in uniform, had a carnation corsage.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where friends gathered to tender their best wishes and congratulations to the couple who stood under a decorated arch.

Later the couple left for Vancouver on honeymoon furlough. The bride was born and raised here and, before joining up, was with Heilbroner's jewelry store.

Whifflets

From The Waterfront

Capt. R. Gammon, former well known local seabeat and packer operator, is in port for the first time in three years, having arrived this week in command of Nelson Bros. Fisheries Ltd. packer New Liverpool. Today Capt. Gammon and party, including Richard and Norman Nelson, B. J. Bacon and J. A. Lindsay are leaving for a week's hunting trip to the Gardner Canal area.

The Prince Rupert Gyro Club luncheon had a distinctly maritime atmosphere on Wednesday of this week when Max Asemussen, manager of the Armour Salvage Co., staged for the benefit of the club members and guests a demonstration of how to dress up a deepsea diver, Joe Gardner being Max's able stooge. All the gear was applied by Max to Joe and it proved an interesting diversion, those who witnessed it resolving that next they would like to see the diver actually in action in the deep with all the elaborate accoutrement on board. The entire outfit weighed about 245 pounds, including two 40-lb. boots. A normal dive took about two hours going down and the same time coming up, Max said. The maximum depth with the outfit used on this occasion was some 160 feet after which the pressure was too great. A complete diver's outfit represented an investment of some $2,500. A diving crew consisted of some six men so, if it was to be resorted to, it had to be for more than a gold collar button or even a lost camera or army rifle. President Frank Skinner was in the chair at the club luncheon and guests were Harold Munsie and Percy Underwood of Vancouver, Fred Healy of Picton, Ontario, and Duncan McRae and Neil McElroy of Prince Rupert. Amerigo Dominato was the winner of the weekly war savings certificate raffle.

Adventure And Romance Merge

Adventure and romance are combined in "The Adventures of Tartu," starring Robert Donat and with Valerie Hobson, Glennis Johns and Walter Rilla in the chief supporting roles, which comes to the Capitol Theatre here next Monday and Tuesday.

It is a war picture which depicts the adventures of a British special agent who is assigned to go to Czechoslovakia and blow up the Skoda munitions works and bring back with him a formula the Nazis have been using for producing poison gas. As an expert bomb chemist Donat has little difficulty in convincing the Nazi authorities of this office. Valerie Hobson, his pretty ally, almost causes him to lose his life but redeems herself by warning him of impending danger, thereby saving him for the cause and for herself.

There are many breath-taking scenes as Donat works on his assignment. The actual London blitz of 1940 is included in one of the early sequences.

Former Seal Cove Boy Has Success

George Atkinson who Started School Here is Now Successful Lawyer in California.

George E. Atkinson, who commenced his education at Seal Cove School here some twenty-five years ago, playing with the pioneer boys and fishing the little creeks in the east end, is now practising as a successful attorney in Hynes, California, a flourishing agricultural town near Los Angeles. He has a large and prominent clientele and is doing well. His father, George E. Atkinson sr., who in those days was accountant for the Prince Rupert Lumber Co., is back in Prince Rupert with one of the large war contracting firms. The family lived here for four-and-a-half years.

The former local boy takes an active interest in educational affairs and is a member of the Hynes district board of education. He married a Welsh girl and has two children, a girl and a boy. His yacht was formerly owned by Thelma Todd, popular screen star, who met a tragic death some years ago.

Among Atkinson's boy chums here included Peter and Hugh Ferguson and the Kelsey and Skinner boys.
