100 Miles North of Athens

ROME—Allied headquarters in Rome has announced this morning that British patrols have advanced about 100 miles north of the Greek capital of Athens. The Tommies are chasing the retreating Germans and are closing in on the town of Lamia, which is believed to have been evacuated by the Germans. The town is 65 miles beyond Thebes which was occupied yesterday by Allied troops.

Allied Planes Breach Dam

LONDON-A late headquarters announcement says Allied planes have breached the dam at a lake 25 miles northeast of Nancy, France. The aerial action took place yesterday and caused a vast shallow sea of water to spread across enemy communications. American First Army troops are continuing their march to the Rhine after capturing the border city of Aachen. This ancient city has been reduced to rubble but the famous Aachen cathedral came through the siege without serious damage. As yet, there have been no German counter-attacks aimed at this new Canadian offensive in southern Holland.

Drive Ahead in Italy

ROME-The Allies are driving ahead in Italy's Po River Valley. Allied troops have cleared the Germans from all but the western part of Cesena and progress has been made in a drive north of the Rimini-Bologna road. A front line report says Canadian and New Zealand troops have overrun the Cesena-Cervia Line and now are within hailing distance of the Savio River.

In a short time he was promoted to major in charge of the 4th Battalion, Canadian Railway Troops, in France and Belgium. One of the outstanding achievements of this battalion as recorded in the War Office was double tracking the railway from Dunkirk to Newport, a distance of about 21 miles. The grading was done with mules and old-fashioned scrapers and the track was laid and in operation in two weeks. Much railway work was crowded into the Major's three years in France. A section of Canadian citizens have begun to relax, lulled into false security by a feeling that the war is all but won, and that so far as the home front is concerned, it can coast into the finish line.

Fortunately those who are relaxing are believed to constitute a very small minority of Canada's total population, but these people, particularly, need to hear the truth; that in beating down the fanatical Nazis, there can not be a moment of relaxation, neither along the battle lines in Germany nor along the home front in Canada; that the supply lines from Canada's agricultural districts and war plants are strained as never before, and that the maintenance of these supply lines to our men on the firing lines depends primarily on the support which individual Canadians give to the Victory Loan campaign.

MAKING CITY MORE ATTRACTIVE

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce members, touring Alaska recently, were impressed with the community attractiveness of Juneau and Ketchikan and even Wrangell. They found modern concrete paved streets-smooth as in a big city-good sidewalks, attractive stream-lined stores and restaurants and at Juneau a community hotel with all the atmosphere and equipment of the best to be found in any big city. Prince Rupert, it might as well be admitted, is a dingy contrast-a statement which is made because the time has come when Prince Rupert just must be doing something to dress itself up and offset the notorious reputation that is becoming widespread about the city's dilapidation, untidiness and deplorable lack of accommodation and service to the travelling public. The port which has the outlet highway and which is now in a position to capitalize more than ever on its position in the routes of northwest; travel should not have to follow the example of a small town, along the Alaska coast but should lead the way in community attractiveness. It is high time that Prince Rupert people, in community spirit and civic pride, explored every means possible towards drastically improving this city along the lines of better streets and buildings and adequate accommodation for many people who, as a result of a finished highway, could be glad to stop over with us and enjoy what we have to offer. The members of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce Alaska goodwill tour party were impressed from what they saw in the relatively small towns of southeastern Alaska what is needed here. They are in a position to take a lead in the very important matter of dressing up Prince Rupert and making it as attractive and interesting as possible for the post-war tourist trade. It would be another good result accruing from the goodwill tour to Alaska.

The name strikes a chord of admiration in the heart of every man and woman in the British Empire : : in all United Nations. It spells defeat and disaster for the German people.

Canada's Victory Loans are essential to provide the money to build these weapons. The 7th Victory Loan will soon commence. To make it a success, every Canadian must play a part on the home front worthy of the heroic efforts of the men and women bearing the brunt of battle.

OUR Responsibility...

Your dollars must buy the tools of war. More and more are needed to put an end to the horror and the bloodshed. Let's not lose sight of our responsibility to the lads who are giving so much for us. Our dollars will make it easier for them to reach the goal our leaders have set—"unconditional surrender" of our vicious enemies. They're not letting us down! How can we fail them? Let's buy all the Victory Bonds we can— AND THEN ONE MORE!

"Today," Monty has said, "a battle must be won before it is fought." And in the pages of history, the term, "Monty Barrage" will be used to describe his essential preliminary to attack ... thousands of guns pouring destruction on the enemy. And if our Allied Commanders are to keep mounting a succession of offensives, supplies of planes, tanks, guns and shells must never slacken.

Buy One More Bond Than Before

By doing this you will create a nest-egg of savings for the future. And remember, now that Compulsory Savings have been relinquished . . . an additional 70 million dollars must be raised in Canada through Voluntary Savings in Victory Bonds. Since the war is now in its most intensive stage, Canada's over-all borrowing must increase by some 320 million dollars. Plan now to buy at least one more bond than before.

Field Marshal Sir Bernard Law Montgomery, C.B., D.S.O.

The idol of his troops is this keeneyed man in the black beret whom all the world knows as "Monty." "A good general must never lose," he says. That is why he never launches a campaign until he is certain of victory. Then it's attack, attack, attack! Re-form and attack again. "But don't forget!" warns Monty in characteristic language "supplies must come up....up....up."

AT 300 YARDS

In some of the fastest shooting ever done by naval or tank crews since the beginning of armored warfare, four Canadians shattered five German Panther tanks in one minute on D-Day . . . June 6.

Led by Lieut. Gordon Henry of Montreal, this crew included Archie Chapman, St. Johns, Quebec; Tom Reeves, Toronto; and Lloyd Seaman, Owen Sound.

Under a salvo of long range shells, their squadron splashed ashore two hours after the first Commando assault and moved a mile inland.

At that moment it was touch-and-go on the sands.

If the Nazis attacked with armor now, it was up to Lieut. Henry, and others like him, to cripple that attack. Otherwise, brave Canadian foot soldiers would be killed . . . perhaps pushed into the sea.

And the Nazis did attack!

Hiding in low willows, Henry watched the German Panthers rush forward through the sands.

By radio he quietly told his own gunners, and those in other tanks, to hold their fire. They could have shot, with accuracy, at a mile. Instead, they waited until the Germans were 300 yards away, then shattered the enemy leader with one terrific salvo.

The next salvo blew a tank to pieces, and within one minute of the first red hot shell, six tanks . . . the entire enemy formation . . . had been blown to pieces. Lieut. Henry's crew got five of the six. There were no survivors.

Then Henry and his Panther-killers rumbled forward and got three more Panthers within the next hour.

In one hour and one minute, they stemmed a German charge, knocked out eight Panthers, suffered no loss and consolidated their hold on a small piece of France. And that was just one isolated case of Canadian heroism on D-Day.

ONTARIO HORSE IS PAINT EATER

NORTH BAY, Ont. Oct. 21-For some time Ontario Provincial Police Constables L. Needham and J. E. Worrall have been wondering about the way paint has been chipping off the rear sections of their white and black police cruisers. Yesterday they found out the reason for the trouble. The officers found a North Bay dairy horse with a taste for car paint nonchalantly chewing on the luggage compartment of the car. Constable Needham peeled hack the lips from the horse's teeth, and there was the evidence-cmpped paint.

Not very fair, is it? So how about squaring up the score a bit? How about doing without and making do with what we have to back them with every last dollar.

Let's turn our savings into Victory Bonds today; then buy an extra bond and pay for it by instalments every pay day. It's little enough to do-
