Russians Are 312 Miles From Berlin

Be Too Late Unless Downed in Few Days

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP) — The British Broadcasting Corporation, in a broadcast directed today, warned the Germans that, unless fighting within the next few days, they will be too late to save the German nation from total col-

Appeals to Moscow for Armistice After Reds Declare War

LONDON, Sept. 6 (CP) — Bulgaria appealed hastily to Moscow for an armistice today only a few hours after receiving a declaration of war from Russia. Bulgaria bolstered up the plea by declaring that the government had ordered strong measures against the Germans whom she accused of attacking Bulgarian army units. There was no immediate reaction from Moscow. It was last night that Russia had declared war on Bulgaria.

SURPRISE!—This German captain knew the Canadians were chasing him, but little did he know that they had bypassed his outfit and landed in St. Lambert Sur Dives first. The Germans walked right into the arms of the waiting Canadians; not a shot was fired. Picture shows the German surrendering to the Canadians.

Warsaw Being By-passed as Soviet Continues Great Offensive Through Poland

MOSCOW, Sept. 6 (CP) — Russians, racing across western Rumania beyond captured Craiova, are within 50 miles of the YugoSlav frontier today. Other Russians northeast of Warsaw have cracked the tough German lines on the Narew River in a great offensive to by-pass the Polish capital. Advancing 70 miles in one day in Rumania, the Russians seized a strategic springboard for an immediate united front with Marshal Tito's partisans and invasion of the Hungarian plains.

HAIDA SINKS GERMAN SUB

LONDON, Sept. 6 (CP)—H.M.C.S. Haida, veteran destroyer, played a large part recently in helping to sink a German submarine and capture all its crew, the Admiralty disclosed today. The submarine was forced to the surface by depth charges.

Sugar Situation In Canada is Bad

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP)—The Wartime Prices and Trade Board describes Canada's sugar position as bad and says it may become worse as demands of liberated Europe eat into the United Nations stockpile. No increase in Canada's sugar ration can be looked for before the end of the year at least.

Final Concert—100 BANDSMEN GIVE MUSICAL THANKS FOR LOCAL HOSPITALITY

Twelve hundred civilians and servicemen thrilled to a delightful massed band concert Sunday afternoon on the Court House green. It was the last in a series of musical programs by locally-based bands.

Council Likes Street Work

Describing 6th Avenue East between Hays Creek and Seal Cove as "the finest piece of road the city ever had" Alderman Elliott introduced a motion to city council last night that a letter of appreciation be sent to the R.C.A.F. officer commanding Seal Cove air base for the work of his command in rebuilding the street.

OLD TIMERS MOTOR FROM VANCOUVER

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Durran, for many years well known residents of Vancouver and Terrace but for the past eight years living in Vancouver, are revisiting the city, being among the first to make the trip through by motor from Vancouver over the newly opened Skeena River Highway. They made the trip in good time, leaving Vancouver Saturday morning and arriving in Prince Rupert bright and early this morning. Receiving a hearty welcome from many old friends, they are visiting during their week's stay here with Mrs. Durran's sisters, Mrs. J. G. Anderson and Mrs. Vic Menzie.

JAP BASE HAS FALLEN

KANDY, Sept. 6 (CP)—The Japanese Chindwin base of Hittaug from which the enemy invasion of India was launched, fell without a fight to British troops after it had become a graveyard for Japanese men and materials. Allied patrols have pushed on and reached Thaugund, thirty miles farther north along the Chindwin River.

NO TIME FOR NONSENSE

Judged by the comments of Allied statesmen and the stern faces of the men who are devoting their time and talents to the erection of an international structure that will prevent future wars, the announcement of final victory over the Axis will find a world in an extremely sober mood—with a realization that winning the peace, too, will be a testing time immeasurably more exacting than anything in history. Last night the local city council discussed the matter of celebration of the forthcoming Armistice Day.

Anyone who remembers Nov. 11, 1918, remembers that it was a day of jubilation. But we venture to predict that even if the Allied leaders have any definite concept of what form the next armistice will take—whether marking the end of organized resistance, or the signal for the beginning of a protracted battle with a Hitlerian underground movement—it will find us in a different mood. Armistice Day in 1918, for all the undertone of sorrow and all the lives lost, was something like a football victory. There were bands and noisemakers and confetti and dancing in the streets. But we are likely to view the next Armistice Day as one that marks the passing of a crisis in a long and serious illness and the beginning of a protracted convalescence.

Twenty-six years ago the fight was won. Hohenzollernsm had bitten the dust; never was its like to rise again—or so we thought. Only the very cynical or the very far-seeing doubted that. Verily the war to end war had itself ended. Today we can already envision the tremendous job that lies behind the peace—problems of frightening magnitude all over the world. And these problems are problems for Canadians to contemplate with ordered thought and stern resolve. Removed from the actual scene of conflict as we have been, we cannot escape the backwash. And it is well that we know how sick the world has become, and how contagious that sickness can be. Perhaps knowing that will enable us to help nurse it back to real health this time—even though the colossal nature of the task leaves no time or inclination for dancing in the streets next Armistice Day.

In any event, our city fathers and others, while making all appropriate arrangements for thanksgiving exercises, should realize by this time that returning warriors will want to know how their future has been considered, what preparations are being made for their absorption into the warp and woof of civilian life. Men and women doffing the uniform will not be interested in city celebrations. They will be looking for some signs of progress—for a long-overdue manifestation of practical vision and civic pride. We should keep our feet on the ground.

ONWARD CANADA!

Word that the great white Vimy Ridge memorial in France, Canada's tribute to her dead of the First World War, is little damaged sends a wave of relief across our Dominion.

The bitterness that swept Canada early in the present conflict when reports were current that the Germans had desecrated the memorial has been tempered, but does not swerve the Allies from their purpose of bringing the Reich and her cohorts to their knees.

Canadians have twice stormed up the heights of Vimy Ridge. In 1917 the fighting Canucks first captured the ridge and this victory thrilled the free world. That victory, commemorated by the memorial, is equalled by the latest triumph in France over the hated Hun.

There remains only the need for Canadians to rededicate themselves to the ideal for which our men fought and died in the last war and in this.

Isn't it time Prince Rupert organizations got together and decided on what version of "O Canada" this city will sing at its public meetings? The two versions are all too frequently heard clashing. It makes a bad impression on visitors.

LETTERBOX

FAVORS LIBERAL-LABOR GOVERNMENT AT OTTAWA

Editor, Daily News:
Most of us want full employment, rising living standards, social security and decent homes in the post-war years.
The Tories have found in John Bracken a leader who can talk glibly of all these things. Yet for all Bracken's fair words, Toryism in Canada is still as reactionary as it was under "Iron Heel" Bennett.

"Honest" John Bracken knows as well as anybody else that the Tories can never gain majority support among the Canadian people. As a matter of fact, the old Conservativ party of Sir John A. Macdonald is dead. The present day so-called Progressive Conservative party cannot pretend to be a national party. It was unable to openly run a single candidate in either the Quebec or Alberta elections. Yet for all that the Tories calculate on gaining power at Ottawa. They bank on the "ourselves alone socialism—or nothing" tactics of the C.C.F. preventing a majority Liberal-Labor coalition. They see Bracken as premier of a minority government like that of Drew in Ontario or as head of a reactionary coalition with Quebec Nationalists, right-wing Liberals and others.

The Quebec elections are a grave warning that such a possibility hangs heavily over Canada. The pro-Fascist Duplessis wins only 36 per cent of the votes yet captures the government. The partisan tactics of the C.C.F. leadership, which for the sake of its self-advancement, centred its main attacks on what it afterwards admitted to be the most progressive government in Quebec's history, helped defeat Godbout and elect Duplessis.

Similarly, in Ontario, the Tory Col. George Drew holds the government even though his party is in a minority in the legislature. This is because Liberals, C.C.F., and Labor-Progressives, who together hold a majority of seats, have not yet been able to unite to form a government of progress.

Thus in Canada's two largest provinces the Drew-Duplessis axis holds sway and is already striving to lay the groundwork for a new depression in Canada by upsetting any progressive moves at Ottawa.

In the next House of Commons will be Tories, Liberals and a large Labor bloc (the larger the better!). It lies within the power of the Lib-ers to defeat the Tories. By uniting with those and other groupings, prepared to tread the jobs for all in the period, the Labor ensure a coalition which will relegate to the position of a minority opposition. government Labor a partnership for the in Canadian history. FROM BURLESQUE TO BIG TIME SHOW BUSINESS

A cavalcade of show and show-folks!

JOAN CANTOR - MISS DAVIS - NANCY KELLY - MISS MOORE

Directed by EDITH LINDA
Produced by EDITH LINDA

Musical Stars Old Timers of Show Business

Romance, comedy and drama form the triple theme of "Show Business," Eddie Cantor's sparkling new film musical which with its array of stars tells a gay story of the American theatre.

It is the Capitol Theatre's offering today and Thursday.

Eddie Cantor, George Murphy, Joan Davis, Nancy Kelly and Constance Moore have the stellar roles in the tuneful picture, which, along with its intriguing action, features eight nostalgic old song favorites and a catchy new melody.

Cantor portrays a youngster from the East Side who makes his stage debut at an old Bowery theatre, and Murphy is cast as a successful burlesque actor who encourages the boy and subsequently teams with him in a vaudeville act. Later the pair join forces with Miss Davis and Miss Moore to make a foursome that climbs to fame and fortune.

A comedy romance between Cantor and Miss Davis, and a serious one between Murphy and Miss Moore, complicated by the activities of a rival actress and of a theatrical agent, motivate much of the story. Glimpses of memorable scenes from various hit shows of the period and scores of novelty numbers and spectacular effects add to the film's entertainment qualities.
