Olive Kyle Is Bride of Lewis Crompton on Monday

A quiet wedding took place in St. Peter's Anglican Church on July 10 when the Rev. E. E. Scott united in marriage Olive Jane, daughter of W. J. Kyle of Massett, and Mrs. H. Kyle of Jasper. Lewis William, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Crompton of this city.

The bride was attended by Miss Letha Ray, Donald supported the groom. Only male friends of the families present. A reception took place at the home of the groom's parents, 401 Seventh Avenue. The young couple left on the evening train for a holiday in the interior and will return to take up residence. Wanted—Thousands of Canadians with a highly developed sense of humor. Help us you to help his work.

Float Appropriations . . .

It is satisfactory to know, from the announcement in the Daily News today, that the federal government has found a sizeable sum of money for the provision of new float facilities at Prince Rupert as well as elsewhere in the area. At least, we now know that Ottawa can on occasion dig up a few dollars for work other than that directly connected with the war effort.

The floats at Prince Rupert are certainly badly enough needed as are the other mooring facilities detailed in our news columns elsewhere. They will be appreciated.

Garbage Cans . . .

Amid the untidiness and dilapidation which is in evidence around Prince Rupert so much these days stands out as an eyesore the garbage cans. To be noted frequently standing in front of dwelling places in Prince Rupert, some are apparently parked there permanently as the feeding place for hundreds of rats and millions of flies to say nothing of the stray dogs and the alley cats. Some Prince Rupert people may be getting so used to such things that they do not notice it very much but we have found that the untidiness and dilapidation of the city is now the one hundred per cent comment of visitors who a few years ago used to find our town a place of beauty with its attractive streets and gardens.

The garbage cans are, of course, a menace to health, the more so when they are permitted to remain parked indiscriminately at the front doors on the main streets.

The city council would be well advised to return to the old system of garbage collection just as soon as possible. Meantime, the householders themselves, in the interests of civic and personal pride as well as from the health standpoint, might be expected to find the time and effort required once a week to carry the cans to and from the front lot line.

A Soldier's Letter . . .

Some things are told best in their own words says Victoria Colonist. Of such is a letter written by a Canadian officer overseas to his parents in Victoria, discussing the facts of life. The letter arrived opportunely, if poignantly, a few days before the death of his father, in this community. It dealt with the obligation of children to their parents, and was written by a man who had done no little reflecting during the lulls in the battle. We could cite the name of the officer, but prefer not to. In a sense this letter belongs to all parents, everywhere, from a considerate, thinking and dutiful son. Let his words speak for themselves. We quote:

"Dearest Mother and Dad:

"It is already midnight and I am on my way to bed, but I must pause to tell you something which comes continually to my mind, especially in these sunny spring days when there is opportunity to browse on the past and plan the future.

"As I contemplate a family of my own, and look about me at those of others, I am struck by the blind acceptance by children of advantages which their parents have toiled to give them. There is not so much as 'I thank you' for years of guidance, affection and endless expense. Children seem to grow up, leave home, and with but few exceptions, make no effort to repay those early years of kindness and unstinting help in every way.

"I want you to know that I appreciate all these things you have done for me, and if I have not expressed this to you it is because of a certain embarrassment or shyness, which I find difficult to explain. I am grateful to you in many ways — for a broadmindedness which you have always shown me an insistence on strict honesty and the Golden Rule—a freedom of action which I will find hard to allow my own flock, I fear—an expensive education—affection—a good home—encouragement—pleasant meals and good clothing.

"All these things I appear to have just accented, like so many others, but now, although tardy, I hope it is not too late to say 'I thank you,' from the bottom of my heart.

"Good night, my dears,

"Your loving son."

"We're Proud of You, Son"

"Yes, we're proud to see the G.S. badge on your arm, the badge that means service on any fighting front in the world. We didn't want you to go, no parents do. We've watched you grow up and planned your future since you were born. But now, something bigger than we had ever dreamed of has called you. And we're proud our boy has risen to meet that responsibility.

"You didn't have to volunteer. You could have waited as many others have done, but, you put your country's interests ahead of your own, ahead of ours, and we're proud of you, son."

CHIVALRY NOT DEAD

But C. W. A. C. are Playing Prominent Part in War

Chivalry is not dead. But you'd better consider it so, mister, next time you see a khaki-clad miss with her head buried under the hood of an Army truck or jeep as she adjusts that faulty distributor, or as she changes a "flat" at the roadside. She's been trained to do those things as well as or better than you have.

Rare is the branch of the Army which does not boast C.W.A.C. personnel. Royal Canadian Artillery, Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, Royal Canadian Medical Corps, Canadian Dental Corps—all point with pride to their ladies in khaki.

Traditionally feminine lines of endeavour are not neglected when it comes to C.W.A.C. posts. Lucky indeed are those soldiers for whom food is prepared by a C.W.A.C. cook under supervision of a C.W.A.C. dietitian. It definitely has that "certain something" that a man finds so hard to equal.

Every girl soldier is on active service. Provided she has the qualifications, she can be sent anywhere in the world. There is but one Army for Canada's women.

Advantages of belonging to the C.W.A.C. are varied. It is an education in itself. Each girl who has enlisted has seen new horizons. Friendships are formed which will not cease when the war ends. These girls know that they are part of a great people, a great nation and a great Empire.

Beryl Herbert of this city has received an interesting souvenir of the invasion of France from her brother, Pte. Morris Herbert, note of the Free French government in the form of a new franc note. Pts. Herbert is now fighting in Normandy with the Regina Rifles. He joined up with the old 162nd Battery here back in 1940 and has been overseas for nearly three years. The franc note is printed on ordinary paper and measures two by three inches. There is the denomination certification on the front and a tricolor flag centre on the back.

The most important point of all, though, is knowing that they are "doing their bit" when Canada most needs them.

To have been in the corps will be a distinction which other women will envy and which those who have enlisted will prize.

World's greatest NICKEL MINE WAS OPENED

TO MEET INDUSTRY'S GROWING DEMAND FOR CANADIAN NICKEL

DURING WORLD WAR I, the demand for Canadian Nickel for battleship armor and other war uses multiplied rapidly. Plant and equipment for Nickel production were vastly expanded to meet the demands of the Allies.

Step by step, new peacetime industrial markets were developed throughout the world, and these added up to ever-increasing totals. By 1924 the demand for Canadian Nickel had substantially increased. Shaft sinking was begun on the Frood—the world's greatest Nickel mine.

At the end of World War I, Nickel's war markets disappeared. Yet in less than ten years after the close of the war, this industry's entire output was being devoted to the needs of a world at peace.

Today Canadian Nickel is again devoted to war purposes and again the industry looks to the future with confidence. Plans are ready to develop and expand old and new peacetime markets, so that the Nickel industry may continue, through its own initiative and enterprise, to make still greater contributions to Canada's welfare.

Health Officer Orders Hotel To Be Vacated

Robert C. Match, proprietor of the York Hotel, Third Avenue, appeared in city police court this morning charged jointly with his wife Josephine Match with failing to comply with an order by the medical health officer to vacate the hotel on the grounds that it was unfit for human habitation.

At the request of defence counsel, T. W. Brown, the case was adjourned for eight days.

The complaint was laid by medical health officer Dr. R. G. Knipe, who, according to the information, gave Mr. and Mrs. Match from May 16 to June 26 to vacate the premises. Dr. Knipe acted under authority of a city bylaw. He was not in court this morning.

In granting the adjournment Magistrate W. D. Vance said that it might be necessary to grant a further adjournment at the expiration of the first since he may be out of town for the next couple of weeks.

Mitchells Honored By Sea Cadets

In appreciation of their exceptional interest and work in behalf of the Prince Rupert Corps of Sea Cadets, Lt. Commander and Mrs. Alex Mitchell were presented with a silver tray and cream and sugar service by the corps at the final Sea Cadet dance of the season held in the Empress Hall at the weekend.

The presentation was made by Sea Cadet Sub-Lt. John Wilson in the presence of about 85 corps members and their guests. Sub-Lt. Wilson spoke of the exceptional work done by Mr. Mitchell which had resulted in an increase in enrolment of from 60 to 150 members, and a widened scope of regular corps activities and social life.

In reply Mr. Mitchell said his work with the corps had been a pleasure, and that he had been glad to give it his support.

Following the presentation interval the dancing resumed to the music of the Soo Suds orchestra. Master of ceremonies was Chief Petty Officer Doug McGrish.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. (By Dorothy Garbutt)

Little Margaret Cross of the Army Show—you know, the Gypsy Queen—is as domesticated as they come. The other afternoon we all happened to be together in one of the galleys— isn't that what they call an army kitchen, or is that strictly navy?—and in no time at all she was cutting bread and making jam sandwiches and handing out the coffee. And all the time with a grin and flow of wisecracks. Later on she was presented with one of those big Japanese green glass fish floats by one of the officers as a memento of her crystal gazing efforts in the show and of Prince Rupert. She went into a trance over it and told him his fortune—and what she told him! Well, my goodness, I never would have thought it—and such a nice man too! Anyway, she really was delighted with this kindly gesture and is going to take it home wrapped up in stage curtains and treasure it highly. Margaret is of Welsh and Scottish extraction and looks a pretty little Swede, so how do you make that out?

I was talking to Jack Kelly of the comedy team of Reid and Kelly (doesn't that sound no-end pro?) tells me he was on the radio in Toronto doing all sorts of bit parts, but chiefly in "Canada Calling" series. He says he loves the work and means to go into it again. I hope by then they have television and Jack can be seen as well as heard, if you get what I mean. They tell me that Jack is a regular Rip Van Winkle for dozing off and anytime they can't find him they look in the most comfortable corner and there is Master John hard at the sleeping business. He certainly doesn't sleep on the stage but is wide-awake every minute.

Did I remember to tell you that I'm leaving you? I'm being posted to Winnipeg in August to open and take charge of the new Y.W.C.A. Leave Centre for service girls. I am happy about the opportunity of course as it means being with my young sons, but oh dear, I shall miss Rupert and all my good friends here and the West Coast in general. You'll see, someday I'll be back on the coast.

Says Mr. Gold Seal
"Floors have a lot to do with Morale"

"Transforming drab, shabby, depressing floors has been my life's mission for more years than I care to count. I was lucky to get off to a flying start with so fine a product as Congoleum and I've been at it ever since."

"War has only intensified my effort. The need for the colourful beauty, cleaning ease, comfort and enduring quality always assured by Congoleum Gold Seal Rugs and Congoleum by the yard, is greater than ever and we at the Congoleum plant, besides devoting our entire machine-shop facilities to specialized war production, are going all-out to meet it, thus aiding morale and the will to victory."

HOW TO HELP MR. GOLD SEAL MAKE GOOD
You can get added wear out of your Congoleum floors with very little effort. Brush and mop them regularly and renew the brightness of their surface with an occasional waxing. Make sure too, that the floor underneath is smooth and free from crevices or knobs. If it's a rug, move it every few months so "spread" the traffic. Yes, a little care will pay big dividends.

Wren Pitcher In Five Wins

Distinction of being the first pitcher in the Women's Area Softball League to win five games was gained by Marg McDonald as she hurled the Wrens to a 17 to 8 victory over the Allies last night on Acropolis Hill.

In addition to her good work on the mound McDonald connected with five hits in as many trips to the plate. "Pat" Pattison of the same club also added five safeties to the winners' batting attack.

Fast fielding retired two players who tried to stretch triples into home runs. Down of the Wrens was thrown out in the third inning at home plate on a throw from leftfielder Sadaway to catcher Hawkins. Lucyshyn of the Allies, tripled but was retired between third and home on a play from leftfielder Reid to catcher Griffiths to third baseman Pattison to shortstop McDiarmid who made the put-out.

The win enabled the Wrens to vault into a tie for second place with the Allies.

Score by innings:
Wrens 1 3 6 2 2 2 1-17
Allies 1 2 0 2 3 0 0-8

Batteries — McDonald and Griffiths; Morgan and Wilson, Hawkins.

Although two girls' games were scheduled for Gyro Park neither of them were played.

Leather-lunged Joe Humphreys, dean of sports announcers, died at his Fairhaven, N.J., home eight years ago yesterday. The 63-year-old Humphreys introduced most of the world's greatest fighters during his 40 years on the job.

Don Bradman, great Australian batsman, made a record score for England-Australia test match cricket 14 years ago today at Leeds, England, when he hit up 334 runs. His mark was beaten in 1938 by Len Hutton of England who scored 364 runs. Bradman's mark, however, still is the best test match score for an Australian.

STREAMLINING MORALE
LONDON, (AP)—British women are to get stronger corsets soon. Authorities have made available a small increase in the allocation of hard ship steel to the industry. This steel is considered the best boning material.

British Flag On New U.S. Carrier

BETIO, Tarawa Atoll, Gilbert Islands, July 11 (AP)—British and American flags which were raised together over Betio after U.S. Marines wiped out the Japanese garrison there last November are to be flown by the new U.S. Carrier Tarawa. The flags were saved by Capt. J. H. Tate, first commander of Tarawa Atoll. He said the new carrier would be the first American warship able to fly the British ensign at will.

Marine Invented "Human Rudder"

LONDON, July 11 (AP)—The story of the "human rudder"—a 19-year-old British Marine who steered an invasion assault craft with his foot 14 miles through obstacle and mine-filled water under shellfire—has just been revealed.

He is Cpl. George Tandy of London. Just as his craft was being launched from an infantry landing ship seven miles offshore, a large hook carried away the steering wheel and the engine room telegraph.

Tandy, without a moment's hesitation, lowered himself over the ship's stern, placed one foot on the rudder guard rail and with the other controlled the rudder. With only the shallow rim of wood around the stern to grasp, he steered the craft to shore through obstacles topped with Teller mines. He landed his men safely only three minutes behind schedule, then made the journey back. The trips together took four and a half hours.

TERRACE MEETING—TRADE BOARD HAS SESSION

TERRACE July 11—The Terrace Board of Trade held a meeting on Friday evening which was well attended and which proved more than usually interesting guest speaker being C. L. M. Giggey who related his experiences during a recent trip through the Peace River country. He was amazed at the diversity and vastness of the country through which he passed and he agreed with many others that there is a great future before that part of Canada. Just the same, he concluded, that there was no place on his long trip to compare with Terrace and he was very glad to be back in his home town again.

There was a good deal of other business to put through. This included a new pamphlet being produced and sponsored by the board of trade—an illustrated pamphlet that will give the world an up-to-date idea of what Terrace and district is capable of. An energetic committee has written a comprehensive treatise and assembled some suitable pictures for this.

J. K. Gordon, who is visiting Terrace after an absence of five years, briefly addressed the meeting and spoke of the beginnings of the board of trade in Terrace, a matter in which he had helped in the pioneer days.

It was hoped that, if there are to be celebrations at the opening of the highway to the coast, these will take place at Terrace. The chamber of commerce at Prince Rupert will be communicated with on this subject.

How to Obtain Canning Sugar

The first group of canning sugar coupons, F-1 to F-5 inclusive, became valid on May 25, and F-6 to F-10 inclusive on July 6, which means that housewives can now buy all their quota of sugar for canning purposes. "F" coupons are found in ration book three and each coupon is good for one pound of sugar. These coupons do not expire until December 31, 1944.

For those who preserve in quantities, extra sugar may be acquired by using the "D" preserves coupons. Two of these coupons become valid every four weeks, and rather than use these coupons for purchasing preserves, the housewife may use each coupon for the purchase of one-half pound of sugar.

On the other hand, for those who prefer to buy their preserves ready made, "F" canning sugar coupons may be exchanged for "D" preserves coupons at any local ration board. The rate of exchange is one "F" coupon for each "D" coupon.

Defeat the threat of Barbarism and shatter the Nazi dream of youth slavery. Kill Rumor!

FOUR YEARS AGO IN THIS WAR

July 11, 1940 — Twenty-three Nazi planes destroyed during raids over England. Col. E. W. Sansom appointed brigadier and Deputy Adjutant General at Terrace. The chamber of commerce at Prince Rupert will be communicated with on this subject.

BURNS LAKE AIRMAN NOW IN FRANCE

WITH THE R.C.A.F. IN BRITAIN, July 11 — Many Canadian ground crew were flown to the fighting front when units of the R.A.F. Tactical Air Force were getting established at air fields in France. They are the members of the "air lift" parties and were flown to the front in Dakota transports, in quantities, extra sugar may be acquired by using the "D" preserves coupons. Two of these coupons become valid every four weeks, and rather than use these coupons for purchasing preserves, the housewife may use each coupon for the purchase of one-half pound of sugar.

Advance parties went in to prepare landing strips on the continent to supervise maintenance of Spitfires still operating from Britain. As soon as a permanent base was established in the invaded territory, the "air lift" men were transported by Dakotas to their new base.

Prior to invasion the crews had made practice flight, and they arranged to carry their own personal kit and that of the fighter pilots.

Among ground crewmen who eagerly anticipated their air trip into the battle area was LAC. C. W. "Klonkike" Nourse, Burns Lake.

Playground Activities

Supervised playground activities are now on in full swing at the various Gyro playgrounds in the city, directors for each having been appointed and assigned. Goodly numbers of children are enrolled and a variety of activities is being carried out. The swimming pool at Meclmont park is expected to be in operation soon.
