PRICE FIVE CENTS

Fourteen Miles From Rome

Nazis Resisting Strongly In Final Stand For City

NAPLES, May 31 (Canadian Press) — Britons crawled through dense mine fields today to a point just south of Pescarellanuova, fourteen miles from Rome, as the Fifth Army rammed repeatedly at "strong enemy resistance" in a last ditch defence of the Italian capital. An allied communique said the Nazis intended holding the line at all costs. Both sides were paying heavy price in casualties.

Near the Tyrrhenian coast, the British captured Ardea, three miles southeast of Campoleonini, coastal anchor of the Rome Line.

The Americans fought into the outskirts of Villacrocetta. The Eighth Army, including Canadian infantry and armor, advanced to within four miles of the Via Casilina road centre of Frosinone, 43 miles southeast of Rome.

After capturing Alfedena, Fontana, Strangolagalli, Pofi and Ceccana, the Canadians were moving ahead slowly but steadily against the enemy who was obstructing them in every way possible short of man-to-man combat.

The Germans continued to use severe artillery, mortar fire, mines and flame throwers to delay the advance that was further stemmed by a number of shell streams each of which had to be bridged by engineers.

The Allies have found strong defence positions of the enemy in the Albini Hills which, however, the Allies have been successful in penetrating.

Rome in Deadly Peril, Declares Nazi Speaker

Berlin, May 31 — A German spokesman admitted last night that Rome is in "deadly peril." He continued: "An Allied steam roller of terrific weight" has reached the gates of the capital. All gates of the Vatican have been closed and the Swiss Guard force has been doubled. The Fifth Army last night was near Albano, thirteen miles from Rome, and five Allied columns were advancing along the coast.

ATTACK WAS WIDESPREAD

Thousands of Planes Continue Mighty Assault Against Nazis

LONDON, May 31 — Eight Nazi aircraft factories and seven airbases within Germany and in occupied territory were attacked yesterday when 3200 American bombing planes and fighters went into action over five countries on the continent. Sixty-six Nazi planes were shot down during the day with a loss of eleven American bombers and nine fighters. The Royal Air Force was out in strength last night with no losses and there was another great outward procession of bombers today. Thirty thousand Allied planes, it is estimated, were in action over enemy territory in four days.

COMMANDING OFFICERS WHO FEATURED U-BOAT SINKING

The Commanding Officer of H.M.C.S. "FENNEL," Lieut-Comdr. William P. Moffat, RCNVR of Montreal. Lt. Comdr. Clifton R. (Tony) Coughlin, RCNVR of Ottawa, H.M.C.S. "CHILLIWACK." Lieut-Comdr. Patrick Nixon, R.C.N. of Victoria, B.C., commanding officer of the destroyer H.M.C.S. "CHAUDIÈRE." Cdr. P. W. Burnett, R.N., of Barrow-on-Furness, England, HMCS "ST. CATHERINES."

Canadian Naval Vessels Destroy Nazi Submarine

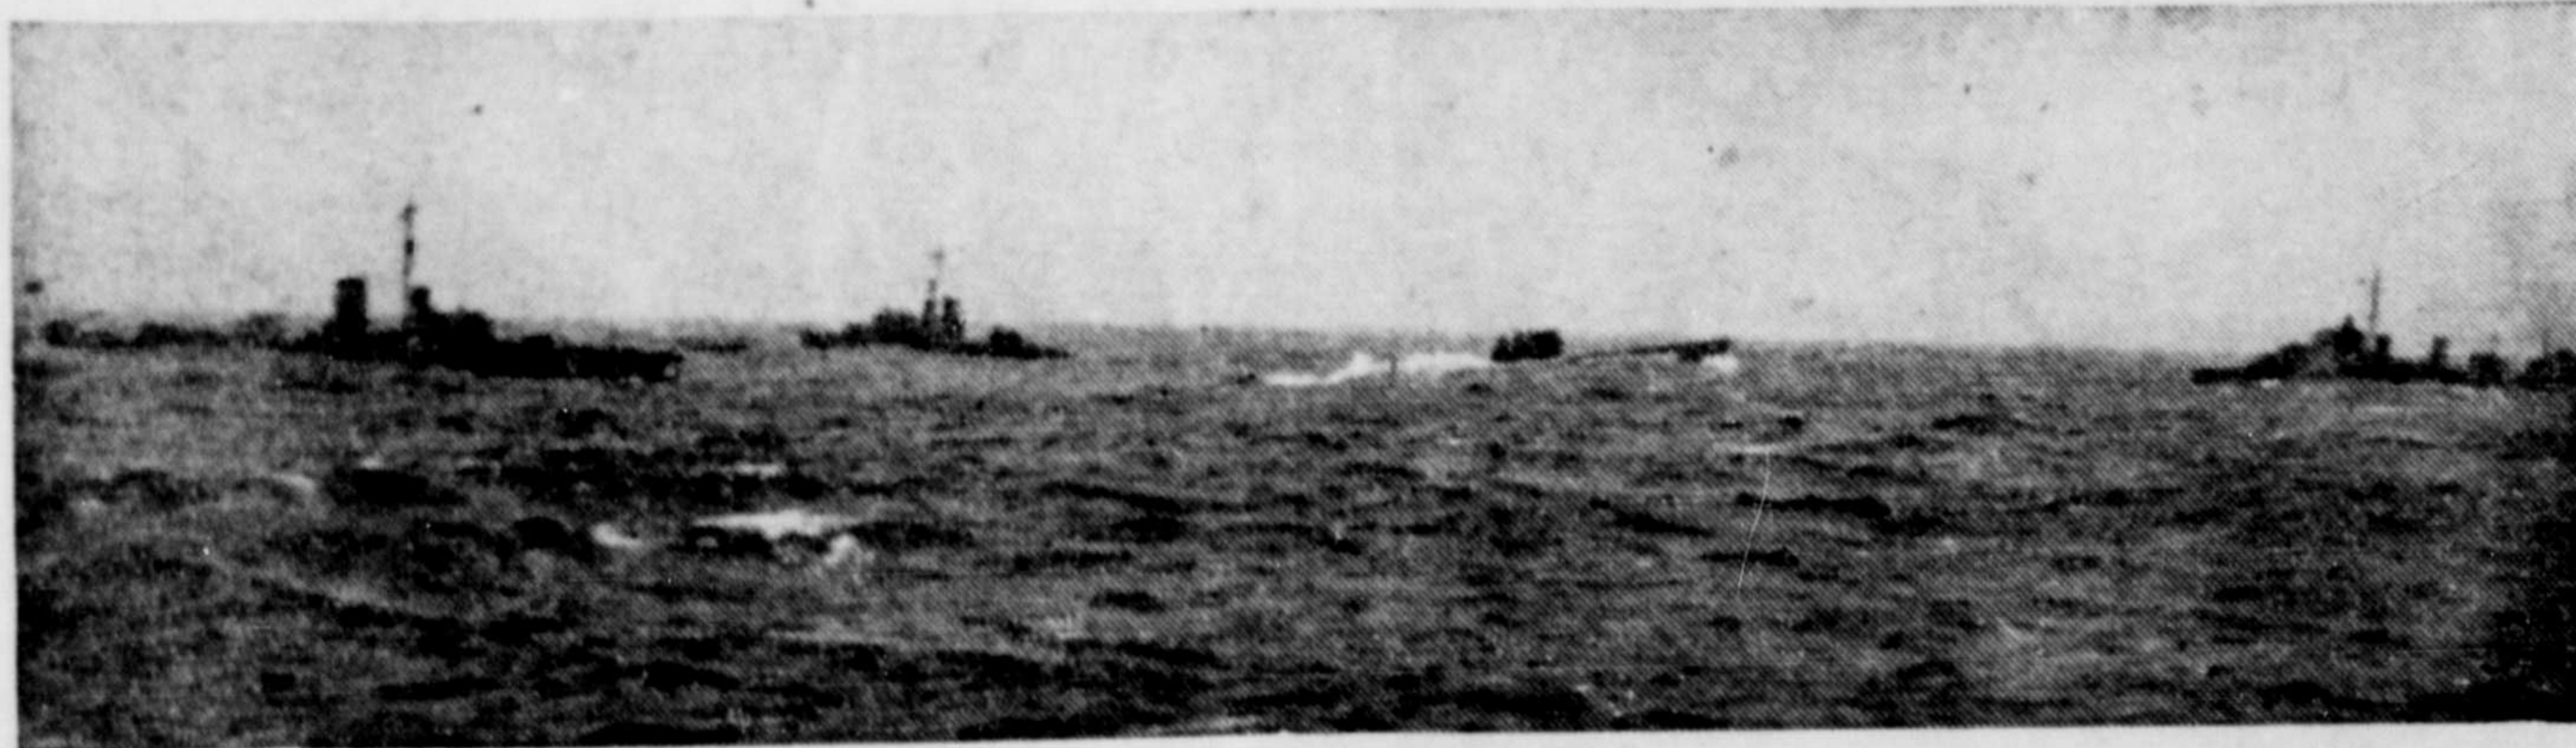

H.M.C.S. Chilliwack, Fennel, St. Catharines and Chaudiere Bag U-Boat and Take Prisoners in Dramatic Engagement.

OTTAWA, May 31—After a desperate effort to out-wit its pursuers, a German submarine was finally forced to the surface and destroyed in a recent North Atlantic action by a group of Canadian escort warships assisted by a Royal Navy destroyer, it was announced today by Hon. Angus L. Macdonald, Minister of National Defence for Naval Services.

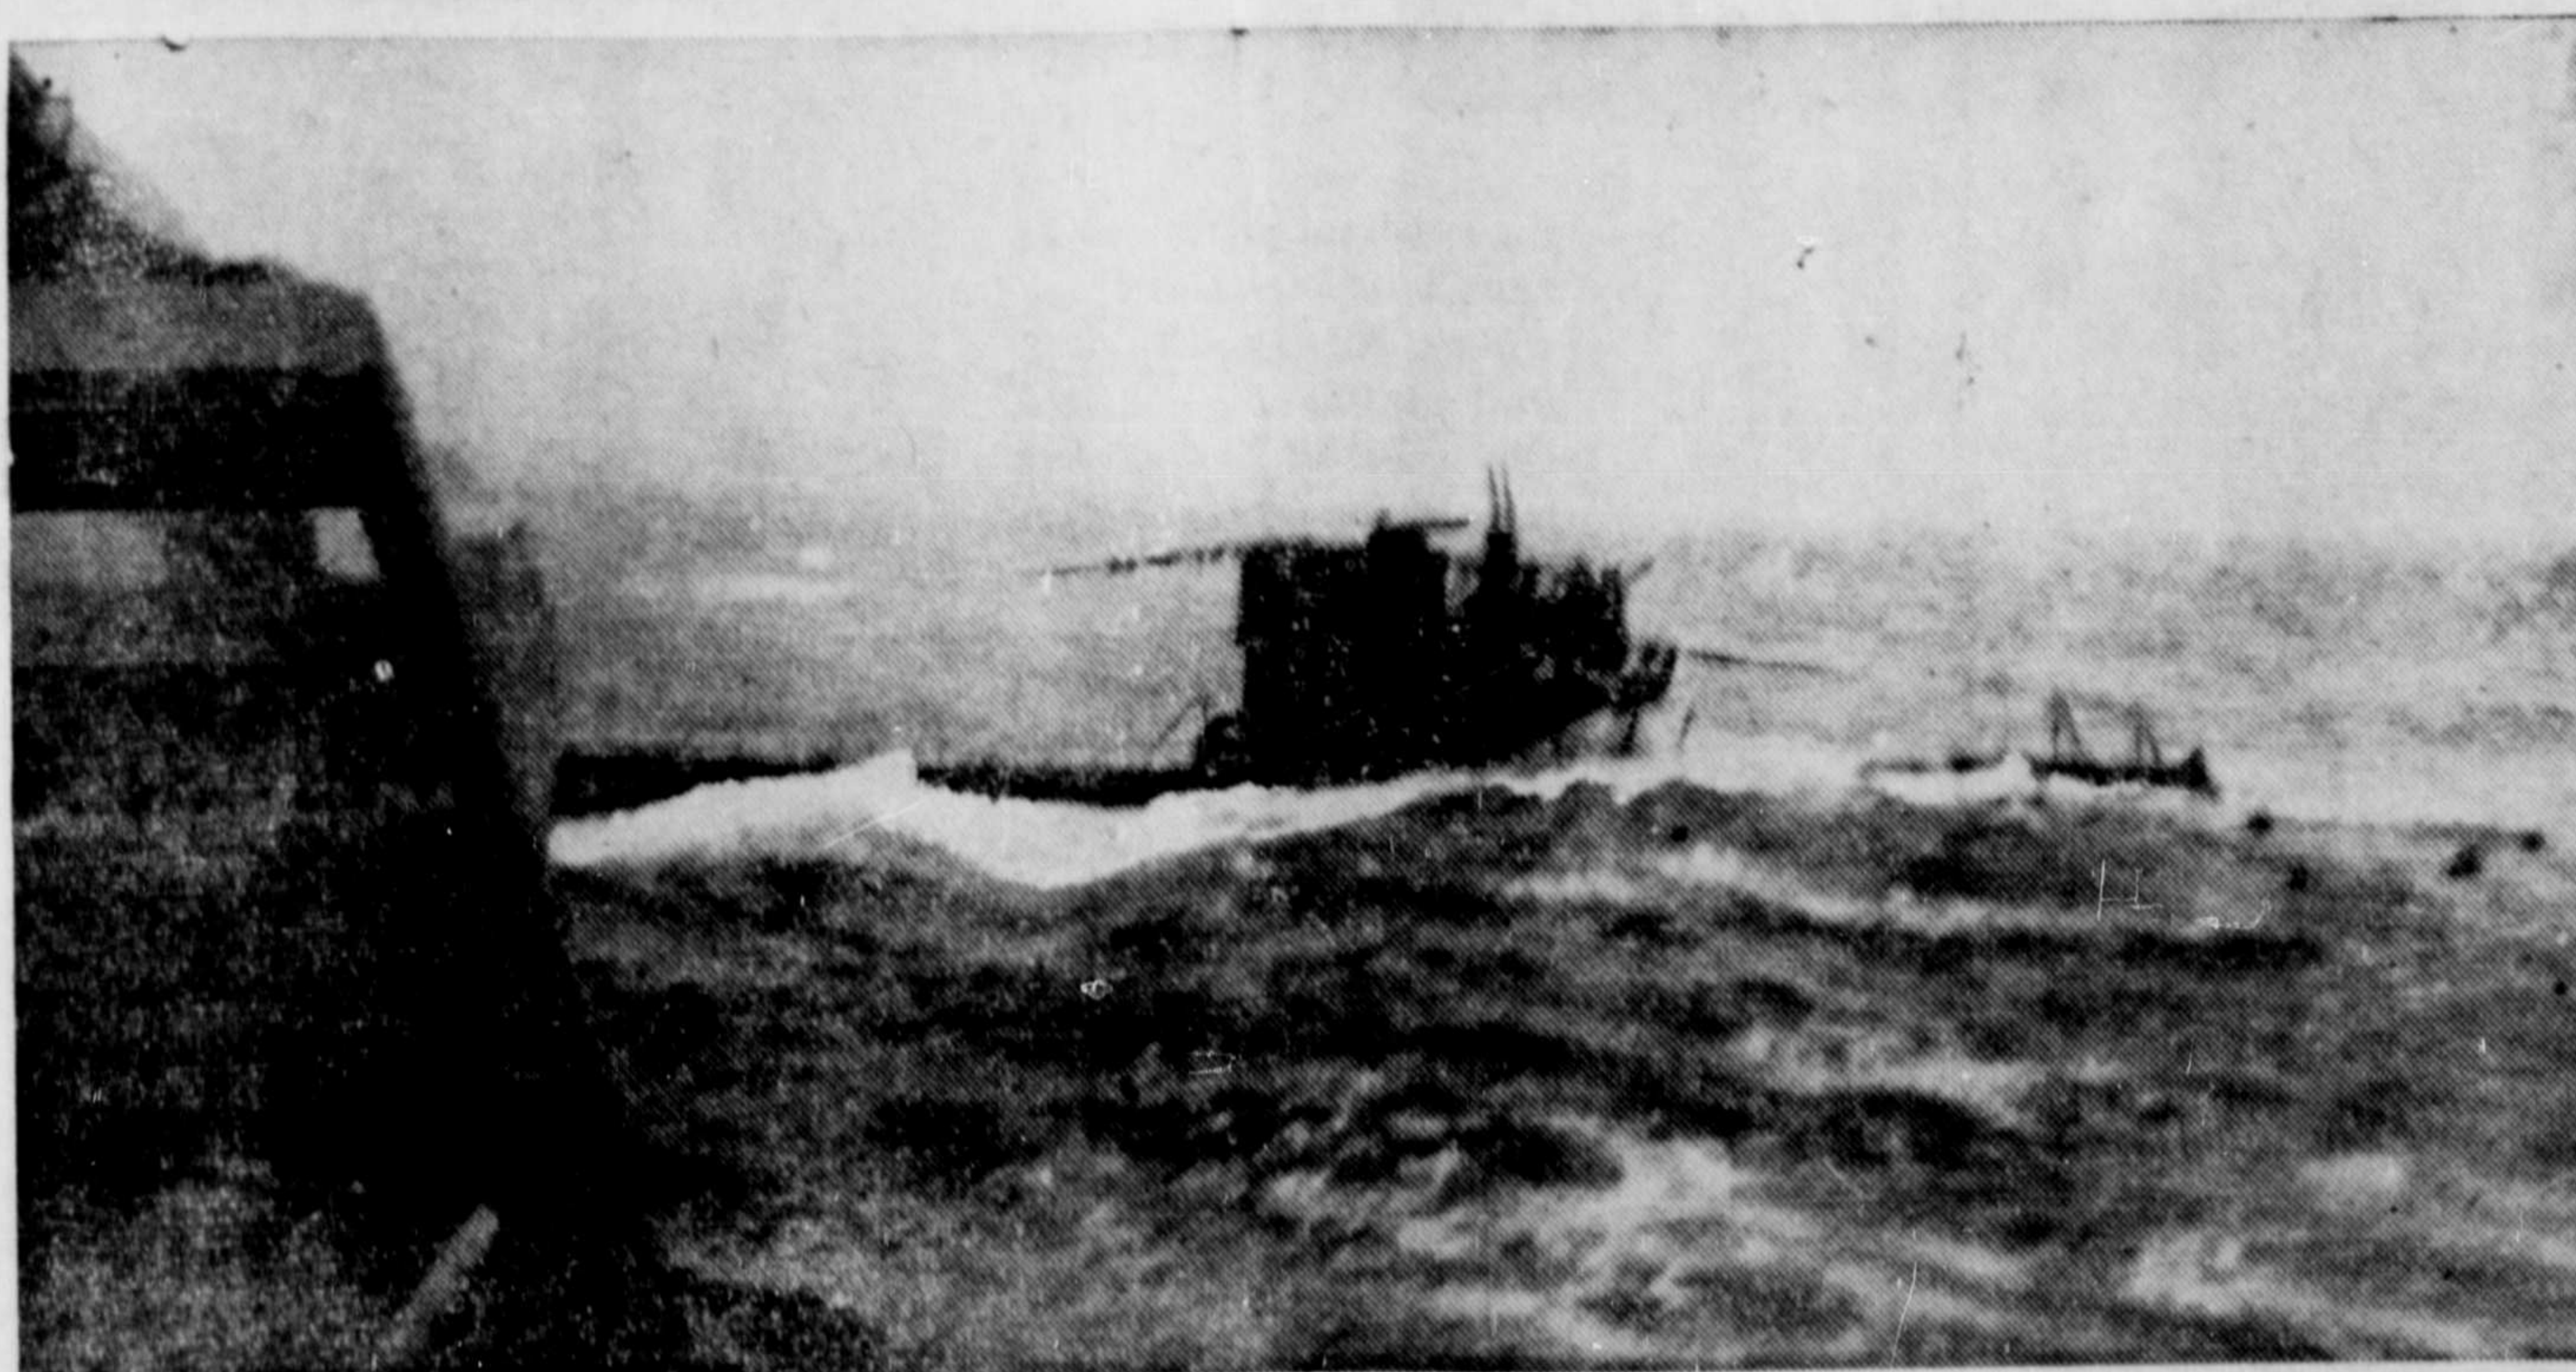

A number of prisoners were taken from the U-boat in whose destruction H.M.C.S. Chilliwack, one of Canada's oldest corvettes, played a major role. Chilliwack's Commanding Officer is Lieut. Cdr. Clifton R. (Tony) Coughlin, R.C.N.V.R. of Ottawa.

The other Canadian ships involved in the action were the corvette Fennel (Lieut. Cdr. William P. Moffat, R.C.N.V.R., of Montreal); the frigate St. Catharines, in which the senior officer of the escort, Commander P. W. Burnett, R.N., of Barrow-on-Furness, England, was sailing; the destroyers Gatteau (Lieut. Cdr. H. V. W. Groos, R.C.N., of Victoria), and Chaudiere (Lieut. Cdr. Pat Nixon, R.C.N. of Victoria). The R.N. destroyer was Icarus (Lieut. Cdr. Richard Dyer, R.N., formerly of Vancouver and now of Kent, England).

Forced to the surface and battered by gunfire, the U-boat is shown here wallowing helplessly on the surface as the attackers H.M.C.S. "FENNEL," H.M.C.S. "CHILLIWACK" and the R.N. destroyer "ICARUS," close in. This photograph was taken by Lieut. H. E. Conyers, RCNVR, of Montreal from the deck of H.M.C.S. "CHAUDIÈRE."

So close did H.M.C.S. "CHILLIWACK," one of the attacking ships, come to the U-boat that the men in the Canadian corvette could see the expressions of terror on the faces of their German adversaries. CHILLIWACK battered the U-boat with gun-fire and most of the crew finally abandoned her. The submarine eventually sank. This photo was taken by A. B. Laurence St. Carre, RCNVR, of Levis, Quebec.

Vancouver Advertising Man, Member of Visiting Party, Sees Great Development Ahead

John Boyd, president of the General Construction Co. of Vancouver, George T. Cunningham, president of the Cunningham Drug Stores, a member of the board of governors of the University of British Columbia; D. A. Hamilton, publisher of the Vancouver News-Herald, and St. Griffis, manager of McConnell-Eastman advertising agency, comprise a party of prominent Vancouver men who were in the city, making the trip aboard Mr. Boyd's private yacht "Friendship." They left at noon today on the return to Vancouver after two days here.

Mr. Griffis was a caller at the Daily News office on business and appeared impressed at the great permanent development which had occurred recently at the port of Prince Rupert. He remarked that the people of Vancouver were expecting even more important post-war developments in the way of utilizing and opening up this part of the country in view of the growing appreciation of Prince Rupert and its hinterland in relation to the Pacific theatre, an appreciation which had been finally developed as a result of the war. "Prince Rupert," commented Mr. Griffis, "should be to Vancouver what Seattle is to San Francisco. There is plenty of room and opportunity for two such great ports on this coast. There should be co-operation rather than competition between them."

I had a nightmare...

I dreamed that I paid $5.00 for a haircut and $50.00 for a pair of cardboard shoes. I dreamed that we had no wartime controls on prices, profits or wages, and that we hadn't had the sense to organize the distribution of supplies all the way down the line . . .

I dreamed that because everyone was making more money and spending it, prices were skyrocketing.

all the stores looked like "fire" sales . . . with people scrambling to buy before prices went still higher . . .

panicky people were buying things they didn't need, and hoarding everything they could get their hands on . . .

I dreamed that everybody had to fight to get more money . . . and that in this mad race, wages and salaries were falling behind.

I dreamed the hand of everyone was against his neighbour, with each of us blaming the other fellow for his troubles.

with everybody for himself . . . no matter what it cost in the long run . . . and no matter how it hurt the war effort.

THEN...THANK GOODNESS - I WOKE UP!

to realize with relief that I live in a country where things are sane and stable . . . where the cost of living has been kept within bounds.

to realize that prices and wages—production costs and selling prices—are inseparably linked together.

to realize that without the safeguards that have headed off inflation, my nightmare might have become a reality!

to remind myself that the danger is still pressing and that we must continue to hold firm . . . and that means everybody must play fair and do his part by not trying to get some temporary, fancied advantage at the expense of his fellow-Canadians.

This advertisement is the seventh of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing further increases in the cost of living now and deflation later.

SERVICE ON "D" DAY HERE

Arrangements Completed For Public Rites to Mark Commencement of Invasion

Arrangements have been completed for the special religious service which will be held in Prince Rupert on "D" Day.

The main service will take place in front of the Post Office, if weather is favorable, and otherwise in the Capitol Theatre. It will begin at 11:35 a.m. and end at 12 noon.

Announcement of the service will be made by ringing of bells and sounding of whistles at 11 a.m.

The mayor or an acting mayor will preside and the band of H. M.C.S. Chatham will be in attendance.

Similar meetings will be held at the shipyard and Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. plant.

Official Hymn "D" Day Here

Following is the version of the hymn "O God Our Help in Ages Past" which will be used at the "D" Day service in Prince Rupert:

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home.

Under the shadow of Thy throne
Thy saints have dwelt secure;
Sufficient is Thine arm alone,
And our defence is sure.

Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth received her frame,
From everlasting Thou art God,
To endless years the same.

A thousand ages in Thy sight
Are like an evening gone,
Short as the watch that ends the night
Before the rising sun.

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Be Thou our guard while troubles last,
And our eternal home.

What's all this about "interlocking" directorates?

WHEN you want sound advice you go to a friend who has had experience with whatever is worrying you. When you have to have professional advice you buy the best you can afford. In the same way, because the life insurance companies are the guardians of the people's savings, they seek the best business brains in Canada.

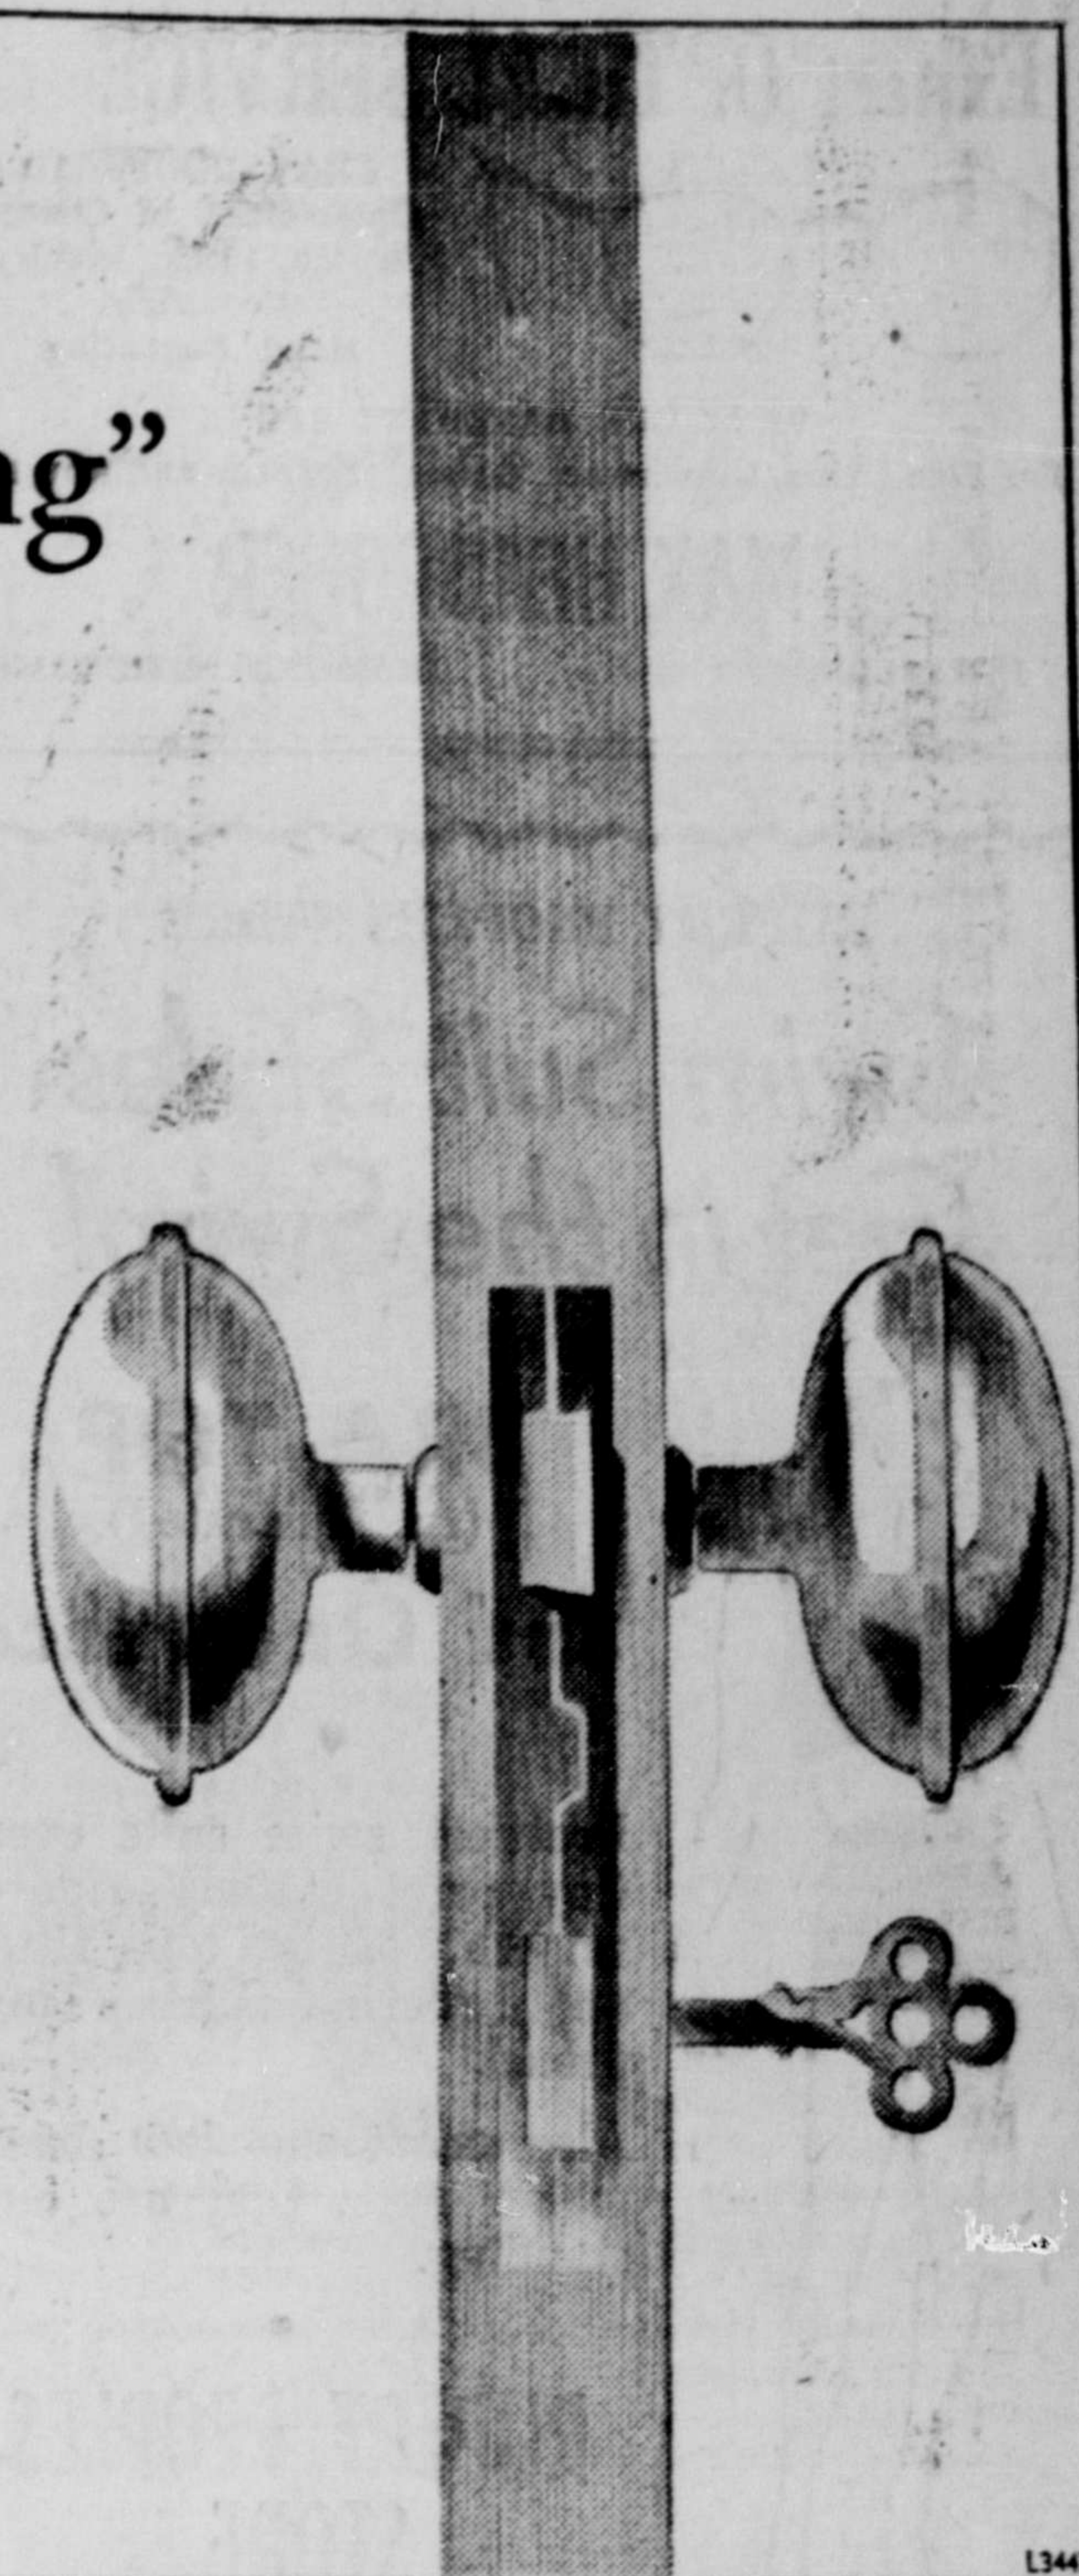

Individual directors of life insurance companies often occupy similar positions in many other lines of business. This is because they are men who have proven their ability. It needs men of sound judgment and wide experience to determine safe procedure in matters vital to so many millions of people.

Life insurance is a business of many phases. It bridges a gap between your present earning power and your far distant needs—sometimes spanning over half a century.

It is essential to have life insurance companies directed by men of broad business experience.

It is good citizenship to own LIFE INSURANCE

Public Meeting of special interest to Trade Unionists, Friday June 2, 1944 at 8:00 p.m. in the Eagles' Hall. Speakers: Bert Gargrave, C.C.F. M.L.A. and Tom McEwen, L.L.P. organizer. (128)

The tour of Alaska which had been planned by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce has been postponed from June to August which, it is believed, will be a better time for more members to go.

Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson was an interesting speaker today at the regular weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club. President Frank Skinner was in the chair and there was a good attendance of members with a few guests.

A new recruit to enlist in the Canadian Active Army is James Watts, age 19, who left Monday night for the Vancouver reception centre. He has been working at Prince Rupert as a fisherman. His home is in Vancouver.

DESTROY SUBMARINE

said "We were as close as we could possibly get and all our guns were blazing away. Our bow almost touched the U-boat's side on one occasion. You could see the terrified expressions on the Nazi's faces. They did not like it one bit and I could hardly blame them. They were lucky to be alive at all. The prisoners we picked up soon recovered. They were fit and hard."

CHILLIWACK WAS FIRST TO FIRE

Summing up the action, Lieut. Cdr. Coughlin said: "Chilliwack was first to see the U-boat and first to open fire and score a hit. All our ships were in there pitching and doing a fair amount of hitting when their turn came to bat." He was loud in his praise of Commander Burnett, whose display of tactics won the plaudits of all commanding officers in the group. "He manoeuvred the ships as if they were mechanical soldiers and had the U-boat in the middle all the way," he said. "He's one of the finest officers you'd want to work with and we are all proud to have served under him."

Lieut. Cdr. Moffat, commanding officer of Fennel declared "We needed patience to stay around and when the sub finally came to the surface Chilliwack was in the best position to grapple with it. We dropped lots of depth charges and I'm sure we shook him up plenty. We were also able to pump some four-inch and Oerlikon stuff at him."

"It was a great piece of teamwork and a fine triumph for the Canadians of whose group I have the honour to be Senior Officer," said Commander Burnett. "As Senior Officer I was sailing the St. Catharines, the new commanding officer, Lieut. A. H. Easton, D.S.C., R.C.N.R., not having had time to report by the time we sailed with the convoy. The first lieutenant, Lieut. A. W. Spicer, R.C.N.V.R., all lost whalers, so we lowered Chilliwack and St. Catharines during the afternoon. Fennel, of Regina, carried out the duties of commanding officer in a most efficient manner. The patience displayed brought its reward. I only hope that we can go out and do the same thing again."

Lieut. Cdr. Nixon said Chaudiere "happened to be there" when the U-boat was forced to surface. "We all let him have it," he said. "It was a spectacular show. We added a couple of depth charge patterns to the already heavy load dropped on the submarine. The rescue work was a bit tricky, the weather having spoiled up our motorboats and whaler and between them they managed to pick up all the crews as well as Nazis, thirteen of them were clinging to or sitting in a pontoon."

Asked what happened to the convoy, Lieut. Cdr. Ixon declared laconically: "Nothing, exactly nothing. We brought it to the United Kingdom without a scratch, and it was a big one too."

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A.

(By Dorothy Garbutt)

Monday afternoon I had quite a little chat with Frankie Lees, the dancer with the Joe Boys. Frankie has had a very interesting career. As a small boy he was the victim of a very peculiar accident when a man fell from a scaffolding on top of him, breaking his leg in three places. (Frankie forgot to tell me what happened to the poor chap who did the falling). When he was recovering from this accident he started exercising his leg by tap dancing — this was back in Saskatoon. Dancing classes were next, soon he was teaching dancing. Then he went on the Prince Robert, in the old pleasure cruise days, and acted as master of ceremonies, dancer and entertainer. On these trips he met some Hollywood potentates—I think anyone who comes out of Hollywood has to be called a potentate, matter of form and all that—and through them was able to get into night club and picture work as a dancer. From there he went to New Zealand and Australia and in 1935 he turned up in London where for a while it was pretty tough going. He worked in film exchanges, in the Wardour Street movie offices and gradually got his break as a dancer, appearing in productions with Jessie Matthews and Florence Desmond. He was at the Palladium in "The Fleet's Lit Up" (I saw that show)—with Frances Day (her birthday is the same as mine, though alas, there are many years between) and in "High Hat." His specialty number was dancing on gigantic top hats and he had his picture on novelty perfume bottles named after the show "High Hat Perfume." At the outbreak of war he tried to join up with the Canadian Army in London but found out that he had to return to Canada to do this. So here he is with the R.C.A.F. since July 1940 and with R.C.A.F. shows for almost as long and right now his biggest problem is to find somebody who will sell him a "Pineapple Ukelele" of all things. That is, a uke made of pineapple wood. They're hard to get now, but he says they are worth hunting for.

The usual weekly meeting of the Service Wives' Club will be held at the Hut on Thursday afternoon.
