Must Defer City Airport

In a report of the rehabilitation committee, read by Alderman G. H. Rudderham to the city council last night, it was stated that the committee would not send a delegate to an Aeronautical Conference to be held in Toronto this summer. Alderman Rudderham commented that in the matter of an airfield for Prince Rupert, it had been hoped that the city would have got an airfield as a result of certain projected operations across the harbor but that the project had been dropped and would be much too expensive for the city to complete alone. There is no spot near the city where the construction of an airfield would be feasible, Alderman Rudderham said. It was decided by the council that Prince Rupert's need for an air field would be presented to a national planning authority after the war.

Acting on an example set by the Vancouver council, it was decided to close the city hall on Thursday night and not re-open it until Tuesday morning. City hall offices will not be open as usual Saturday morning. The motion, moved by Alderman Sorenson, and seconded by Alderman Arnold, was passed by the council which agreed that, since both Friday and Monday are holidays, there was not much point in opening for business for three and a half hours on Saturday.

WORK SNAG

United States Engineering Department Leaving So Will Do Nothing

Mayor H. M. Dagggett told the city council in meeting last night that he had interviewed Col. T. J. Weed, United States commandant here, regarding repairs to city streets considered as being the responsibility of United States forces and that he had been told that the city government would have to get in touch with Major General W. W. Foster, Canadian Northwest commandant at Edmonton, and that his decision would govern the amount of repair work done. The matter came up during the reading of the Board of Works committee report by Alderman Black, committee chairman, and was included as a recommendation.

It was also recommended that the Canadian Army be granted the use of the city roller for street repairs.

The board recommended that the contracting firm of McCarter and Nairn be notified that their proposed method of repairing Seventh Avenue East is not approved by the city council, and that the city will accept no responsibility for future maintenance of the street if the work is carried out.

The matter of repairing the crushed sewer on Second Avenue was held in abeyance pending a forthcoming interview between the city engineer and the District Engineer of the Naval Services.

The report was accepted by the council on the motion of Alderman Black, seconded by Alderman Sorenson.

Local Man's Brother Is R.C.A.F. Hero

Enjoying a well-earned furlough on the Pacific Coast, Flying Officer R. H. Strouts, veteran of many overseas bomber assaults, including the smashing of Rommel's forces in Africa, is on this coast renewing acquaintances with relatives and many friends, but already itching ing a bit to return for another sip at the enemy. He is a brother of Constable R. W. Strouts who is with the provincial police here.

The 24-year old Wireless Air Gunner came through 34 operational tours, including three of the 1,000 plane assaults on the Reich and declares he got his biggest thrill from helping to chase the "desert fox" (Rommel) back to his lair. Formerly attached to the Royal Air Force, FO. Strouts, who calls New Westminster his home town, is now with the R.C.A.F. Over such targets as Cologne, Essen, Bremen, Hamburg, Mannheim and Stuttgart, FO. Strouts handled the guns on several occasions against attacking enemy fighters, but recalls that when the Allied forces really got rolling in Africa there was not a great deal of air opposition to the crusading airman, who never gave the Germans a root. Sweeping over at night, they would light up the area under attack with flares and then circuit and return to blast the fleeing Huns with bombs. The Germans got little chance to sleep. Following his tour of duty in the Middle East, FO. Strouts returned to England and instructed for a time on heavy conversion, that is training crews who were converting from two-engine bombers to four-engine aircraft. He enlisted in the Air Force in Vancouver June, 1940. One brother was lost in operations overseas, F. F. Strouts who was a navigator.

Septic Tanks Receive Blame

The "unsanitary and unhealthy condition" existing in the area along Ninth Avenue between Eighth and McBride Street, was protested by Marvin E. Rowe in a letter before the city council last night in which he asked the council to take action to relieve the odors of sewage in that part of town. Council members were sympathetic to the complaint. "The odors there are pretty bad and their cause should be investigated," Alderman Hills said. He added that there were other parts of town where the stench was intolerable due to improper elimination of sewage. Alderman Arnold laid the blame on septic tanks, which are the responsibility of the owners, and the matter was set aside for reference to the sanitary inspector who will be instructed to get in touch with the owners of the offending septic tanks.

LONDON — Buried 16 days beneath debris of a dwelling struck by a bomb during an air raid, a Persian cat crawled weakly from beneath some floor boards when rescue workers reached the scene.

Scientists have proved that drinking warm milk induces sleep. Trees provide almost all the food for natives of the atolls in the Pacific.

Only Few Destroyers

Has Little Along European Coast With Which to Meet British Fleet

LONDON, April 4 (CP)—Germany has only about 12 destroyers posted along the European coast from Norway to France to put against the British fleet. This has been revealed following the further disabling of the battleship Tirpitz in a Norwegian fjord where the already damaged ship was hit with aerial torpedoes.

Mail Delivery Here Proposed

Desirability Placed Before Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce Last Night.

Alex MacKenzie brought forward at last night's meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce the desirability of a house to house mail delivery service being instituted in Prince Rupert. This was the only city of its size in Canada without such service Mr. MacKenzie said. Besides being a great convenience to the people, a mail delivery service would help to provide employment for returning war veterans. The suggestion was referred to the civic committee for report.

VETERANS IN T.C.A.

War Service Pilots Taken Over Under Rehabilitation Policy

WINNIPEG, April 4—As the beginning of a policy of rehabilitation of returned airmen, TransCanada Air Lines is engaging for its flight crews a number of men who have distinguished themselves on operational duties overseas and who are now back in Canada, their tour complete. They have been made available through an arrangement with the Royal Canadian Air Force and are undergoing specialized air training before being assigned to service. The first five men are: Flight Lieutenant E. L. Howey, D.F.C., Exeter, Ont., who was a member of the famous Demon Squadron, took part in 1,000 bomber raids of Germany and was decorated for gallantry. FO. R. S. White, Orillia, Ont., who took part in 40 operations, including 14 raids over Germany, served in Egypt and Libya and was at Malta for three months. FO. S. H. Bolton, Stettler, Alta., who was attached to the coastal command in Great Britain and flew as far as Iceland. FO. J. C. Morden, Fleming, Sask., who has 34 operations to his credit in Wellington bombers and was in Egypt and Libya. FO. R. C. Fogal, Edmonton, whose duties were over Scotland, Gibraltar and North Africa. Twelve other men will soon begin T.C.A. training.

Reporting to the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce at its regular monthly meeting last night, D. C. McRae, chairman of the radio committee, disclosed that his committee was taking up with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation the possibility of obtaining unused wires now installed in Prince Rupert from the outside for the purpose of transmitting network programs to the Prince Rupert broadcasting station. To commence with, the matter was being taken up with Ira Dilworth, the regional director, and, failing action through him, it would be taken up with Ottawa.

TAXIS MUST SERVE PUBLIC

Ald. Elliott Has Some Cautious Remarks to Make at Council Meeting.

"City taxi drivers must be made to realize that, since they operate under city license, their purpose is to serve the public," Alderman Elliott said last night in a discussion of a transportation committee report to the city council. "Some drivers think that they are here strictly to make money and they must be reminded that public service comes first."

Alderman Elliott said that he had received a complaint from the superintendent of telephones to the effect that taxi drivers will not answer their phones at night. It had been his own experience to call every taxi company in town and not get a reply from any of them, he added. "There is more money being made by gambling in the back rooms of taxi offices than there is by driving taxis and that is why the public does not get service," Ald. Elliott claimed.

H.M.C.S. Wakesiu Bags German Submarine In Battle Of Atlantic

QUAWA, April 4 (CP)—White engaged on escort duty in the North Atlantic recently, the Canadian frigate, H.M.C.S. Wakesiu, Lieut. Commander J. P. F. Fraser, R.C.N.R., destroyed a U-boat which was attempting to attack a valuable convoy. The Wakesiu carried out a series of attacks with depth charges which apparently mortally wounded the enemy undersea vessel and forced it to the surface.

The frigate illuminated the enemy with star shell and, in company with the frigate H.M.S. Nene, Commander J. D. Birch, R.N.R., opened fire on the U-boat.

Hits scored by the frigate prevented the crew of the U-boat from manning its guns and a few minutes later the enemy sank stern first.

Nineteen survivors were picked up by His Majesty's ships and made prisoners of war.

The engagement took place early one morning in a rising sea. The U-boat had been followed for quite a while.

ENEMY COLLAPSE—Nazis Are Crumbling

LONDON, April 4 (CP)—German-Rumanian lines are crumbling on a 450-mile front deep inside prewar Poland down to Odessa on the Black Sea.

In the Odessa area the Russians have captured one hundred more localities and are within sight of the major seaport.

In Poland the Russians are forty-five miles from Lwow.

OLD MEN'S HOME HERE

City Council Thinks Something Much Better Should Be Done

Prince Rupert owes it to itself to have an Old Men's Home that the city can be proud of, the city council feels. In the report of the police, health, relief and licensing committee, read by Alderman Hills, it was recommended last night that the various social and service clubs in the city be asked to contribute to the cost of a new Old Men's Home and that the city defray the other half of the estimated $10,000 cost.

"The Dyer Apartments are not suited for an Old Men's Home," Alderman Hills said in commenting on the report. "The men there are living in squalor." The project was supported by Alderman Nora E. Arnold who, claiming that charity begins at home, said: "This city has been more than generous to outside causes. The Red Cross asks us for $10,000 and we give them $20,000. Victory bond campaigns have always been oversubscribed. Surely we can find the money to give our elder citizens a decent place to spend their old age."

It had originally been the intention of the council to raise half the cost of a new home by selling the Dyer Apartments but, it was learned, the project is not feasible. At the suggestion of Mayor Dagggett the plan was turned over to the committee for further development after it had been approved by the council along with minor items in the report.

Handling Of Explosives

Chamber of Commerce Would Move Commodities Over Gibson Island.

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night decided to move towards handling explosives handled through Watson Island, where all facilities are available for such a purpose, instead of over the local waterfront. The port committee brought in a recommendation to this effect to the chamber. The recommendation had the concurrence of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. It was adopted. The report of the committee stated that the peak of large construction work here which had involved considerable quantities of explosives had now passed and the situation, which at one time might have justified some alarm, was now improved. All safety regulations were observed here strictly, the report said, and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police had all times kept close check on movement of explosives. Explosives had never been left in docks or sheds here but had always been moved in box cars to a safe distance. The Chamber agreed that there should be following up of the recommendation that, if necessary arrangements could be made, explosives should be handled at Watson Island and not brought into the city at all.

Winning European War ...

Will Russia stop when she has regained her pre-1941 frontiers? The question which had caused some speculation is being answered in Rumania. The answer is in the negative. The Soviet is to drive on until there has been unconditional surrender of the enemy, which is the principal war aim of the United Nations. Foreign Commissioner Molotov announces that Russia, in smashing into Rumania, has no territorial ambitions but must thus pursue the enemy in bringing about the unconditional surrender. The action of Russia in invading enemy territory becomes the more acceptable to us when it is coupled with an announcement of this kind by Mr. Molotov. Russia's purpose in fighting and winning the war now has been established, both by the action and the words of the Soviet Republic, to be quite as sincere as ours.

Russia, and she has been assisted by the United States and Great Britain in the way of delivery of supplies, is putting up a great battle and winning the victory in a manner which commands the admiration and respect of us all. The scope of her present drive is far beyond what we might have dreamed of two or three years ago. She bids fair today to impose on Adolf Hitler the disaster which may bring about the downfall of the Fuehrer and the hated Hitlerism.

The thing which we hope for and confidently expect now is that soon the other partners in the United Nations may be able to launch a similar drive and invasion of enemy territory from the west and that events will culminate in the grand juncture at Berlin when the European war will have been won.

Keep Gardening Here ...

We are busy people here in Prince Rupert but, no doubt, quite a few will still find time to do the odd bit of gardening. For many people gardening is the exercise which keeps them fit for their regular jobs. Many people do gardening for no other reason than to keep their premises trim, attractive and congenial to live in. Then there are the enthusiastic Victory gardeners who specialize in vegetables for the benefit of themselves and their friends in these days when fresh produce is in such great demand, so much needed and often difficult to get.

Since possibly as many people are interested in gardening here in Prince Rupert as ever before, the Daily News will endeavour to carry on with gardening hints and gardening articles such as have proven a much-demanded feature in this paper from the days when the late H. F. Pullen started his intimate and chatty notes which had such a following.

We hope to be able to produce information which will be both interesting and informative, possibly of more particular value to the amateur gardeners. Incidentally, any contributions or suggestions which the old timers among our horticultural friends in Prince Rupert may care to offer us will be sincerely welcomed.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. (By DOROTHY GARBUTT)

The Navy entertainment committee have asked me to tell you that their regular Friday night dance will be altered to Thursday evening this week because of Friday being Good Friday. Dancing will be from 8 until 12 p.m., stopping sharp at midnight. The Eleventh Avenue boys have also planned a dance for this Thursday, but whether these two dances will conflict I can't say. However I'll let you know definitely tomorrow.

Like everyone else I have been indulging in a lot of post-war reading. I have tried to find some clear and concise plan set down which will apply to our own Canadian scene, not to Great Britain as does the Beveridge plan, nor to the States, but for ourselves. And I think I found it in a little booklet issued by the Y.M.C.A. study groups and printed at the Ryerson Press in Toronto. It is called "Canada—the War and After" and is a collection of essays by prominent Canadians. The article from which I quote is by J. F. Parkinson who is assistant professor in the department of political economy at the University of Toronto and is entitled "Problems in Postwar Economy." He is speaking about some of the reasons for thinking that it will be possible to maintain employment at a high level after the war ...

1. When the war is over, the government is unlikely to demobilize the entire armed services, close down the munitions plants, and remove all the present economic controls. Canada will have to do its share in guaranteeing the peace, and government expenditures in these directions will probably be tapered off only gradually.

2. The people of Canada (and of other countries) will have been deprived of such goods as automobiles, radios, clothing, furniture and decent housing for the latter years of the war. They will be anxious to buy these things, and manufacturing firms will be equally anxious to produce them to meet the demand. This additional production will absorb men and women from the armed services and the war industries and will help maintain the flow of spending. (More tomorrow.)

V.D. Blood Test Decree Endorsed

Cantata Was Well Received

Presented as part of the Sunday evening service at the First United Church Sunday night a pre-Easter cantata, "Seven Words of Christ" was greeted by the congregation as a pleasing and well executed solo and choral endeavour.

Directed by John S. Wilson, the cantata contained seven parts, each expressing a phase, or circumstance leading up to the crucifixion of the Master. Certain descriptive passages were given extremely eloquent interpretation by Miss Swarna Mrs. W. C. Taylor, Mrs. Large, J. E. Davey and The soloists, whose singing G. Large

Swift through the Night

THROUGH the silent spaces of the night it comes to you... First a murmuring hum—then the deep, full-throated roar of a thousand horses passing overhead—and swiftly the throbbing drone fades out beyond the dark horizon. It may be a T.C.A. or C.P.A. plane winging its essential load of mail and passengers to where they're needed quickly. Perhaps that motor drumming through the dusky air is victory bound, with a cargo of fighting men.

It's one of the marvels of our age—this compact engine unit with the power of a thousand or more horses. Without it—and the modern lubricants that keep it flying—today's air speed and comfort and safety would be impossible. Next time you hear that confident throb 'way overhead, remember that almost every airplane flying Canada's Skyways is lubricated completely or partially by aviation oils made in Imperial Oil refineries. Night and day, from coast to coast, Imperial helps "keep 'em flying".

Basement Flood Not City Worry

An investigation by City Engineer G. S. Haynes into the causes of water standing in the basement of the Masonic Temple on Sixth Avenue, revealed that the possible blockage of a drain pipe leading from the building to a sewer on Sixth Avenue, was responsible. The water level, Mr. Haynes told the council meeting last night, stood three and a half feet above the level of the sewer and it was possible that the drain had been plugged by earth moving operations nearby.

Mr. Hanes was of the opinion that the stoppage was in a private drain and, therefore, not a city responsibility. It was moved by Alderman Brett and seconded by Alderman Sinclair that the meeting accept the city engineer's findings and that the petitioners be so informed.

BASKETBALL—

Opener For Port Edward

Yanks, suffering their first defeat in local basketball, were defeated 47 to 38 by Port Edward last night at Acropolis gymnasium in the opener of a best two-out-of-three game play-off series for the Wallace Cup and senior basketball championship. The next game will be played tomorrow evening at Port Edward and the Port Edward team should have the advantage of their own floor.

It was a wide open game with very close checking. Port Edward outshone the Yanks in plays under the basket but was far behind in taking penalty shots.

Moline and Henson were largely responsible for the win of their team. Ketchmark was ill and was played only in the closing part of the game.

All the Yanks played fast basketball but d'Autremont was smothered time and again under the basket.

The individual scoring was as follows:

Port Edward — Moline 16, Henson 17, Ketchmark 4, Manson 1, Thompson 9. Total, 47. Yanks—Keiner 4, Lacina 13, Swanson 2, d'Autremont 2, Deiss 7, Garzelloni 10. Total, 38.

Referees were Comadina and Hatfield.

EXPORT SERVICE—

Operation Of Cargo Ship Line

The federal minister of trade and commerce is being asked by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce to take steps towards the postwar establishment of a regularly scheduled cargo ship service from Prince Rupert to the United Kingdom and Europe via Ocean Falls and other Pacific Coast ports, the principal cargo to be handled from here being lumber, fish and grain products. This follows up a proposal made a couple of months ago to the Chamber by E. T. Kenney, M.L.A. for Skeena. A recommendation along these lines was presented to the Chamber at last night's meeting by the trade and commerce committee, which was commended for its comprehensive and able report on the subject. In addition to the minister of trade and commerce at Ottawa, copies of the memorandum are being sent to the provincial Postwar Rehabilitation Council and Olof Hanson, M.P. for Skeena.

The report referred to the necessity of full employment being maintained after the war. Development of foreign trade through Prince Rupert would be an important factor in post-war prosperity. There were the natural resources in this area such as lumber, fish and grain products which the committee was convinced might well form the basis of a healthy export traffic through here if a regularly scheduled service of cargo vessels could be established and maintained. The lumber industry, for instance, was making a notable contribution to war production and should be maintained after the war in the exporting of lumber, poles, piling and ties, forest products being in demand in Europe. A pulp and paper mill too was a logical industrial development at Prince Rupert from which further cargo for export from here would originate. Then there was frozen fish and canned salmon to be moved to the United Kingdom. The local elevator could also provide part cargoes. Regular sailings of export cargo vessels from here would also be welcomed in Alaska. There would be the warehouse facilities after the war but a lumber assembly dock should be provided.

The committee recommended that the authorities be asked to plan for the establishment of a regular cargo vessel service from this port as soon after the war as possible, that these vessels should be of suitable type and speed, that there be adequate refrigerator space and that, if the vessels required were not already available, steps be taken to have them constructed at the dry dock here.

Projects In North Worthy

VANCOUVER, April 4—Speaking before the Vancouver Board of Trade yesterday, Major General W. W. Foster defended the Alaska Highway, the Canal project and the Northwest Staging Route as amply discharging functions in a common war effort. He said that what had at first been regarded as defense projects in the north would be used as an offensive against Japan.

Fredena Anderson Becomes the Bride of John Capretto at Quiet Ceremony on Saturday Night

A quiet wedding took place on Saturday evening in the First United Church, when, in the presence of a few friends, Fredena Louise Anderson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ashworth Anderson, of Vancouver, became the bride of Frank John Capretto, son of Samuel J. Federation of Mayors and Municipalities to Charter Boat for Conference at Montreal Next June—Hotel Shortage Cause

A four day cruise up the historic Sageunay River is in store for some member of the city council if the city council decides to send a delegate to the annual conference of the Federation of Mayors and Municipalities this year.

The conference, which will convene in Montreal on June 12, will take place aboard the Canada Steamship Line's ship "St. Lawrence" while she cruises on the river, and will last until June 16, the council learned from a letter from the Federation read at their meeting last night.

The reason for the nautical nature of the conference is that hotel space in crowded Montreal is limited and it was found cheaper and more convenient if a boat were chartered for the purpose.

In the same connection a letter was received from the mayor of Nelson urging that every member of the Federation in British Columbia send a delegate to the conference.

No action was taken on the matter last night other than a motion that the letters be filed and acknowledged.

Goodwill Trip To Alaska Is Chamber Idea

The possibility of a goodwill tour to Southeastern Alaska was revived by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce at last night's meeting when President W. J. Scott appointed a committee consisting of Arnold Flaten, George Mitchell and Ross Nicholson to look into the matter and report. It was suggested that ten or fifteen people might make a ten-day trip north.
