Fales'ails To Appear

Man Out on Bail Does Not Show up on Theft Charge

George Dewey Fales, defendant in the only criminal case in the spring session of the Assize Court which opened here this morning, created a complication in the machinery of local jurisprudence when he failed to honor the $1500 bail on which he has been at large since his preliminary hearing on a theft charge almost three months ago.

Fales, a C.N.R. telegrapher, charged with the theft of $295 from his employers on February 25 has been out on bail since his preliminary hearing on March 4, when he was released on $1500 bond by Magistrate W. D. Vance. The bail was posted by his wife, Ivy Fales, and Thomas and Jessie Harvey.

Accused is believed to be at present in the United States. When court opened this morning before Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson, Fales did not reply when his name was called by court registrar Andrew Thompson and his bondsmen were asked to give an explanation for his absence.

"I do not know where my husband is at present," Mrs. Ivy Fales, wife of the accused told the court. "I had a letter from him a month ago and at that time he was in Great Falls, Montana."

At the request of Crown Counsel the jury panel was released from duty until court reconvenes tomorrow morning. Names of the jurors are: C. P. Bussinger (Telkwa), Sheldford Darton, L. C. Eby, William John Finnegan (Smithers), R. B. Gilmore (Telkwa), T. B. Halliwell (Premier), Alex McRae, Donald MacAuley (Premier), John Muir, William A. Pilford, David S. Pratt (Hazelton), James Ross, William Rothwell, G. W. Rudderham, William H. Shortridge, James Simpson, George V. Smith, John Turnbull.

The Local Highway ...

In spite of the great to do that was raised around the city on Saturday as an outcome of the discussion in Ottawa in which the Minister of Natural Resources appeared hesitant about spending a sum of $500,000 which he estimated would be required to bring a 23-mile link of the Prince Rupert-Hazelton Highway up to standard of the rest of the through road which is now being up the Skeena River from Prince Rupert, there is actually no change in the road completion situation. Apparently, however, although we ourselves have mentioned it before, there are many people who did not realize that there was still the weak link of 23 miles between Hazelton and Kitwanga—a provincial government road, really an extension of the old northern transprovincial highway with which the new Skeena River road joins up—which never was properly finished and, as a result of the passage of time and to some extent the ravages of flood waters, is in poor condition now and far below the standard of the roads eastward and westward which it links. This section was never included as part of the federal government Skeena River war road program which is now nearing completion. Nevertheless, the point is well taken that it should not be permitted to in any way block the new highway connection of Prince Rupert, Terrace and the lower Skeena Valley with the outside world.

So, while the situation is by no means new and there has been no change in the original project with no intention to stop or delay presently-planned construction, it will not hurt for the public to fully realize the road picture as it actually exists. It would seem unreasonable, after the millions that have been spent thus far, that, for a mere $100,000 or at the most $500,000, the Prince Rupert Highway should continue to have a weak section to hamper its complete usefulness. While we will fully appreciate the connection with the Terrace district, we naturally will not be satisfied until we have a good road all the way through to Hazelton and thence on to the outside world. An immediate local campaign to see that this is assured will be well justified.

Peace River Railway Outlet ...

Years ago when the two major transcontinental railway lines acquired the Northern Alberta Railway line which leads northward from Edmonton to the Peace River district, the undertaking was made that, when that district produced ten million bushels of wheat annually, a railway outlet to the Pacific coast would be provided. That minimum of wheat tonnage has been long since exceeded but the question of the Pacific Coast railway outlet, apparently, remains a dead issue as it has this long time now.

Because we have been disappointed so long about the Peace River railway outlet is no reason why we should give up the fight which even here in Prince Rupert we carried on with such vigor for many years.

The member for Peace River, Mr. Sissons, has now suggested that, if the major railway lines do not implement the outlet pledge, the Northern Alberta railway line should be taken away from them. It may be a good deal easier for Mr. Sissons to talk that way than it is to actually do it. Nevertheless, his remarks bring the Peace River-Pacific Coast railway outlet matter to the fore again and it might not be a bad idea to get the campaign with that end in view actively going again.

We may not be able to anticipate the construction of a new railway outlet like this as long as the war continues but it is a project which we might well expect to go on the priority list of postwar reconstruction projects, particularly since it will be a large factor in the development of a rich hinterland which many other nations would be happy to have and which they would probably use it to better advantage than we do if they did possess it.

Prince Rupert is much interested in this project and it is well that we should commence making our case.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. (By Dorothy Garbutt)

At last I've found an army boy who can really trim me in cribbage. He's with the new regiment and his name is Nicholas Hryzyk. Take note of that because any time I do beat him I'm going to tell you about it but, by the looks of it, I don't think it will be often. He practices up playing crib solitaire.

One of the CWACs gave me a lovely azalea plant to tend for.
It was a mass of bloom. I watered it and watched over it like a mother flower. Then I went on a forty-eight last weekend and came back to find the blossoms all brown and withered.
I'm coming back to life now but the flowers are gone.

What a difference civvies make in a person. I've been sitting at my desk trying to make out where I've seen three girls out in the recreation hall and wondering whether they are service wives or what. Then I realized that they were some of the service girls in multi and looking very pretty too. Young Bobby was going over to Salt Lakes and had on a shining white suit of slacks and a blue corduroy jacket and looked as cute as a bug's ear.

Mrs. Ham brought in a beautiful bouquet of giant pansies yesterday. They are on the counter in a white bowl and are bringing forth many admiring remarks. Christel Braun has also started bringing her weekly bouquet of flowers to the Wednesday night dances so summer is here because that's a sign as ever was.

Scotty Malcolm, Y.M.C.A. supervisor at Seal Cove, has gone home on a furlough and was especially excited about it this time as there is a brand new baby daughter waiting to welcome him.

And talking about babies, for the second time this month our hospital visitor has reported no service babies on the list. My, my! What's come over our troops. We certainly can't blame that on chlorination of the water supply.

MRS. A. J. SCHWARTZ discovered what the real trouble was. Continual backaches, getting up nights and constipation came from an inactive liver. Fruit-a-lives quickly made her feel fine—no pain, sleeps well, always regular.
Back up YOUR liver with Fruit-a-lives, Canada's Largest Selling Liver Tablets.

Sealed Tenders will be received by the Minister of Lands at Victoria, B.C., not later than 11 a.m. on the 6th day of June, 1944, for the purchase of Licence X2383, to cut 8,105, 000 feet of Spruce, Hemlock and Cedar on an area situated on the North shore of Cumshewa Inlet, Queen Charlotte Islands Land District.
Two (2) years will be allowed for removal of timber.

Forester, Victoria, B.C., or District

RED CROSS NEED GREAT

Another Appeal for Local Women to Aid at Workroom

The need for Red Cross supplies is as urgent as ever.
Thousands of women are gladly taking "time off" from their daily round to do their bit for the Red Cross and still more are needed.

A few hours, two or three times a week, add up and produce practical and satisfactory dividends.
With ample room and equipment, the local Red Cross workroom needs and would welcome more workers each afternoon.

Lady Smith-Dorrien, chairman of the Central Clothing Depot of the Soldiers', Sailors' and Air-men's Families Association reported the result of the work of the clothing depot during 1943.
She especially calls attention to the great debt of gratitude which is owed to the Canadian Red Cross for very generous gifts of garments during the past year.
She had received 448,584 garments during 1943 which was nearly half the total amount of garments received from overseas.

Writes Lady Smith-Dorrien:
"The quality of these shipments has remained as high as ever and the council has asked me to send you their very grateful thanks for your continued thoughts of us and to assure you that your gifts have brought comfort and delight to many a poor home whose breadwinner is serving his country by sea, land and air."

Christian Church Needed to Bring World to Order

From the day of the Pentecost, anniversary of which it was, the Christian Church had been appointed the executive agency of God in the world and its great task today was to capture the power necessary to restore peace and justice among the nations, declared Rev. Captain R. G.
Fraytag of Orange, New Jersey, United States Army chaplain, in a sermon at morning service in First Presbyterian Church yesterday. To begin there must be the regeneration of the individual from sin and selfishness, the firing of the hearts of men with the spirit of Christ. Unfortunately, there was abundantly evidence today of the power of Satan as a Prince of the world.

The expression of ideal principles was a wretched thing but there must be more than the expression. There must be action and man's supply the church and the prime for which it stood must be active and a united support Captain Fraytag was speaking at First Presbyterian Church in the absence of the pastor, Rev. A. F. MacSween, who was away to attend General As-ssembly in Toronto. Flight Lieut.
J. A. Koffend, Royal Canadian Air Force chaplain, also preached last night. Others have undertaken to assist in pulpit during Mr. MacSween's absence are Capt. W. D. [unclear] lands of the United States Army, and Rev. E. L. Douglas, Canadian Navy.
