Resistance In South France Crumbling

Nations Consolidating in Mighty Striking Force of all Elements Landed on Riviera Beach—Invasion Forces Within 10 Miles of Toulon 25 Miles Inland

ROME, Aug. 18 (CP)—German resistance in southern France was officially reported crumbling before the advance of the Allied forces, now operating in a mighty striking force by the union of elements landed on the Riviera beachhead of the sea and air.

German prisoners, including a general and his staff, are estimated at 7000, with the count incomplete.

Allies are within 10 miles of the once great French naval base of Toulon and possess a big chunk of the main lateral road across Southern France.

Officially the Allied troops are reported 25 miles inland, and other reports say they have penetrated more than 30 miles.

HARBOUR GRACE HAS LARGE FIRE

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Aug. 18 (CP)—Fire raged through the business section of Harbour Grace Thursday and destroyed between 40 and 50 buildings before being controlled.

Damage is estimated at $2,500,000.

Canadian and American Military Parade for U.S. Ambassador

Impressive March Past Attracts Large Crowd of Civilians in Afternoon

Witnessed by crowds which packed both sides of 3rd Avenue, one of the most impressive military parades in the history of the city moved past a reviewing stand in front of the Federal building Thursday afternoon, where Hon. Ray C. Atherton, United States ambassador, stood with bare head to take the salute.

Troops of American and Canadian garrisons moved briskly before the reviewing stand. Flanking the ambassador were ranking military officers of both countries. Mrs. Atherton also was in attendance.

The parade was led by the United States Army Port Band, and its lusty marching tunes were picked up by Canadian bands interspersed through the columns. Thirty-five minutes were required for all the troops to pass smartly by the stand.

Following the parade the official party left for Port Edward to inspect installations there.

U.S. Ambassador Ray C. Atherton at Large Reception Dwells on Co-operative Effort of Canadians and Americans in War Programs

Doors of the American Officers' Club in the Acropolis cantonment were opened at 6:30 last night to receive some 200 uniformed and civilian guests at a reception given in honor of the United States ambassador to Canada and his lady, Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Atherton.

The reception was followed by a dinner in the post recreation hall where guests sat down to long tables to enjoy food and an atmosphere of friendship which dissolved the imaginary international boundary line between Canada and the United States.

The hospitality shown Canadian military and civilian guests by Col. T. J. Weed, United States port commander, and his officers, maintained the spirit of gracious informality established by their distinguished visitor during his brief stay in Prince Rupert Thursday.

Guests at the reception, enjoying the freedom of the well-appointed officers' club, greeted old friends and made new ones with a readiness that was in itself a commendation for such a function. The ambassador and his wife mingled freely with the guests.

Many Toasts Are Proposed to Leaders

The dinner, presided over by Col. Weed, was a triumph of good food and brief speeches. The Acropolis Orchestra provided a musical background. Toasts were offered by Col. Weed to the King and later to the King of Norway and the King of Belgium, who were represented by Dr. Jens Munthe, Norwegian Consul, and Theo Collart, Belgian Consul.

Mayor H. M. Daggett proposed a toast to President F. D. Roosevelt at the conclusion of a short address in which he expressed the pleasure of the city over being the first to receive the ambassador on his return to Canada.

"We extend to him, as an American, greetings from Canada. We know that while there is a line between the two countries it is an imaginary line. We trust that we may always have that sense of friendship which has existed for over 100 years."

Introduced by Col. Weed, Mt. Atherton spoke.

End Naas-Skeena Sockeye Fishing

Gill net fishing of sockeye salmon on the Naas and Skeena rivers closes formally tonight by order of the Dominion Fisheries Department.

Actually, such fishing stopped a week ago when sockeye became so scarce as to make it unprofitable. Only five or six fish a day have been caught by the few boats netting sockeye this week.

Purse-seining of sockeye on the Naas was ordered stopped last night, as fishermen using that method had already caught their quota.

From now until the beginning of the dog salmon run in September, fishermen will concentrate on cohoes which are moderately plentiful.

There is little hope of a run of pink salmon this season.

Yank Armored Patrols in Outer Defences of Paris—Canadians Thrust Eastward Along Normandy Coast Toward Le Havre—Allies Smash Nazi Air Force Comeback

ALLIED SUPREME HQ., Aug. 18 (CP)—American armored patrols sped over the rolling highways through outer defences of Paris today within sight of the Eiffel Tower as the First Canadian Army thrust eastward along the Normandy coast toward Le Havre. The German radio said American tank columns were only 12 miles from besieged Paris.

The gap between Canadian and American forces south of Falaise was narrowed to between two and three miles and Canadian and Polish troops captured Trun, 10 miles southwest of Falaise.

Berlin told of "a war of movement in the area adjacent to Paris" as Americans spread out over the key road centres west and south of the capital.

Allied forces in the new wide encircling manoeuvre are rapidly sealing a new trap on the remnants of the German Seventh Army.

"The trap is closing and the circle is being completed," a British staff officer said.

German troops south of the Seine River are in retreat in the general direction of Rouen.

Allied planes scoured German troops both west and east of the Seine escape barrier and smashed down 23 enemy planes. Battle of Annihilation On Russian Scale

Allied guns are raining tons of steel into disorganized enemy ranks.

Three enveloping Allied armies began herding the enemy into isolated slaughter pens and pursuing Germans who manage to slip out of the bulge during darkness.

EDITORIAL

GOOD SERVANTS

Somewhat refreshing in this day of strong criticism of anything that smacks of government control is an editorial of the Vancouver News-Herald giving a bouquet to the National Selective Service.

The editorial observes that a survey by the Industrial and Social Development Council, an organization primarily labor in composition and in a favorable position to report reliably the reactions of labor, reveals that 42 per cent of local Vancouver district workers are in favor of continuation of National Selective Service after the war.

This percentage is a remarkable tribute to the staff of the Selective Service, the newspaper notes. The Service was a hastily-organized body born of war necessity, and started its work under the great handicap of having to force complete and nationwide regimentation on all Canadian workers.

Inevitably initial blunders were committed, inevitably many previously free workers were indignant at the necessity of submitting to compulsion and inevitably there was a body of workers who would have complained on principle, even if the service had been infallible and angelically perfect.

Yet the Service had functioned so efficiently and satisfactorily to all concerned that nearly half the workers in the Vancouver area not only look upon it as a present "good thing," but are actually in favor of retaining it in operation after the war when the pressing necessity for national regimental is over.

MAKING THINGS EASIER

People are inclined to accept moderately awkward situations with indifference merely because they have grown used to them. They often subscribe to second-rate conditions for no other reason than that those conditions, and not better ones, have developed with seeming naturalness. They observe them, and even complain about them as part of their daily routine.

Often a touch of imagination can correct such conditions to the benefit of everyone, and with little expense to anyone.

Such a condition exists near the intersection of Hays Cove Avenue and 6th Avenue, just beyond the Hays Creek Bridge.

In front of Postal Station B is a wide, open area adjacent to the street. At present it is little better than a mud hole with an electric carrier pole standing in the middle of it. It could be an ideal place for the Seal Cove bus to stop. At present the bus stops around the corner on Hays Cove Avenue, a corner that is undoubtedly one of the most dangerous in the city. Also, people wishing to call in at the suburban post office must now walk almost 100 yards from the bus stop to do so.

This situation could be corrected simply by surfacing the space in front of Station B and removing the carrier pole. It is understood that the bus company is willing to allow their busses to stop there if this is done. It is a convenience which could be provided at very little cost.

PRISONER PASSPORTS

There is contention in Britain and Canada that the Allied policy of "unconditional surrender" for Germany stiffens the resistance of German soldiers, tending to make them immune to Allied appeals to surrender.

Anthony Eden has answered those who hold to this school of thought. In the House of Commons he stated that 77 per cent of the prisoners captured since the landings in Normandy have admitted, on interrogation, that they had read Allied pamphlets and listened to Allied radio messages.

Mr. Eden also said that 40 per cent of the prisoners were carrying Allied leaflets in their pockets when captured. Many of them had read the leaflets and regarded them as something in the nature of a passport for the moment of surrender.

Interest Taken In Family Woes Of Servicemen

By Helen Bannerman

OTTAWA, Aug. 18 (C)—Keeping the home fires burning for the overseas fighting man with domestic troubles is the daily work of an unsung section under the Dependents' Allowance Board — government agency which sees that Pte. Johnny Canuck's next-of-kin is cared for while he is away.

The Family Welfare Section, described by its chief, Miss Ruth Harvey of Westmount, Que., as the "liaison office between the board and the rest of Canada," has the job of ironing out difficulties in a serviceman's family and sending him detailed reports of its work.

"The board and its section here at the Records Building have a great task in helping the men's morale and they do far more than just hand out cheques each month," Miss Harvey told The Canadian Press. "We think it's a pretty big war job."

Her desk, constantly piled with servicemen's files to which red "urgent" cards are clipped, shows a cross-section of her work. There are letters from servicemen asking the board's help in domestic entanglements, letters from social service agencies reporting on what they have been able to accomplish in such cases, and letters Miss Harvey or one of her assistants has drafted giving full reports to servicemen overseas.

The case of Mrs. H. was in front of Miss Harvey as she talked. Called on by a worried soldier in Italy the section got in touch with Mrs. H. through one of Canada's recognized service agencies, and it was found necessary to administer her allowance until she could get on her feet. The agency's report said in part:

"The family's living conditions have improved from one room in the basement of a disreputable rooming-house to a five-roomed, modern bungalow. Their home has been completely furnished. Mrs. H. has more incentive to keep her home looking attractive, the family's diet has improved and the children look better."

"When we took over the administration there were more than $200 in debts, which we have narrowed down to $45.50."

Cases in which dependents' allowance must be administered, because of illness or any other reason, are supervised by Marie Parr of Saskatoon, like Miss Harvey a graduate of the Montreal School of Social Work.

"It is a serious thing to take away a woman's right to handle her own money, so it must be for a serious reason—only if the home would be broken up or the children neglected if she muddled along by herself," said Miss Parr.

The greatest care is taken in all administration cases supervised by her section. Minute

INTERNATIONAL AMTY HOLDS KEY TO DEVELOPMENT

One of the most impressive examples of international amity in the world today is the relationship existing between the United States and Canada, Hon. Ray C. Atherton, first U.S. ambassador, told guests at a luncheon in his honor Thursday.

"To illustrate the friendly relations between our two countries," he said, "a Prince Rupert man told me today that although you have had rain all week, today's good weather has been ordered especially for my benefit. I think that such consideration leaves no doubt about the cordiality between Canadians and Americans."

When the luncheon ended and Mr. Atherton left to attend the parade—it was raining. Speaking to reporters earlier in the day the ambassador expressed great enthusiasm for northwestern Canada and Alaska.

"The possibilities for development in the Northwest are limitless," he observed. "With the proper degree of co-operation between the governments of Canada and the United States, a whole new empire can be opened up."

A reporter commented, "Apparently you subscribe to the views expressed by President Roosevelt in his Seattle broadcast a few days ago." The diplomat laughed. "I certainly do," he replied. "The president is my boss."

is for Calcium

CARNATION builds the bones and teeth. Babies and growing children need lots of it. One of the best ways to get it is in Irradiated Carnation Milk. Carnation Milk is not only rich in calcium—it also has an extra amount of "sunshine" vitamin D which helps the calcium do a first-class job. And Carnation supplies all the other essential milk nutrients. For baby's bottle, consult your doctor for a Carnation Milk formula. Carnation is grand for cooking, for drinking, and for creaming coffee and cereals. Write for free book "Your Contented Baby". Carnation Co. Limited, 470 Granville St., Vancouver.

Men's Hosiery

- Due to many skilled operators being called into defence work, production at the mills is greatly curtailed.
- Government orders naturally have priority over domestic needs, thus reducing materially the supplies available for civilian use.
- In order to make most efficient use of available manpower, lines have been simplified as much as possible, chiefly by reducing the range of patterns and shades.
- These are the reasons why you are unable to obtain either the quantity or choice in Men's Hosiery to which you were accustomed.
- You may be assured that, just as soon as conditions are more nearly normal, you will again find a complete stock to choose from at

Make your white clothes last longer—BLUE prevents them turning YELLOW!

Now that you're doing your own washing, don't forget that white clothes turn yellow eventually, unless you put back the Blue that's always part of true white. The older the white things the more they need Blueing. Just a swish or two of Blue in the last rinse—that's the one way to prevent white things turning yellow.

Rotarians Talk About Each Other During Luncheon

Principles of Rotary, knowing and being of service to others, are emphasized by the entertainment and speakers committee of Prince Rupert Rotary Club in club luncheon programs.

Instead of choosing their own table for luncheon Thursday, each Rotarian was directed to a specific one. Members at each table were then warned that one of their number might be called upon to give the names of fellow-diners and speak on their vocations.

Those called on were G. R. S. Blackaby, Dr. L. W. Kergin, and Martin F. Stuart. They interjected considerable humor into their remarks and recounted trends of conservation at their respective tables.

Difficulty in obtaining and holding labor appeared to be the main topic of conversation among business men.

Armed services guests at the luncheon were Gnr. Norman Birkeland, whose home is east of Edmonton, and Gnr. James McFarlane, of Nanaimo.

W. J. Alder, former club member who now resides in Victoria, said he could see a bright future for Prince Rupert as a result of the completion of the Skeena Highway. His meetings with Rotarians on this visit to the city had been most enjoyable, he said. Mr. Alder is leaving Saturday for Vancouver.

REPEATED SHOWERS DELAYING HAY HARVEST ALONG BULKLEY VALLEY

SMITHERS, Aug. 13—Farmers of Bulkley Valley are experiencing great difficulty in harvesting their hay crop in good condition.

Weather has been showery ever since haying time began, with just enough rain to hinder operations. Work that should have been completed in days is taking weeks.

Ordinarily during August the countryside here enjoys almost perpetual sunshine but the weather man has apparently crossed up his signals this summer with a variety of everything.

Garden and grain crops are doing exceedingly well, owing to the excessive dampness, but this is offset by prolonging of the hay harvest.

W/O. Mel Kerr, overseas with the R.C.A.F. for the last two years, is home on furlough visiting his mother, Mrs. Christina Kerr. He arrived in Canada from England a few days ago. W/O. Kerr was on the staff of the B.C. Forest Service in Smithers for several years before joining the R.C.A.F. He has seen action with the airforce in England in the last 24 months.

Mrs. Ed. Harding and young son, Floyd, returned to Smithers after a short trip to Vancouver. She is planning to dispose of her holdings and move to Vancouver shortly.

"Anyone can have milk for delicious new dishes"

SAYS ELSIE: "Don't let lack of milk keep you from enjoying new mealtime treats! Use KLIM Powdered Milk. Just mix with water to get creamy milk for making tasty biscuits, custards, soups and creamed sauces for vegetables and fish. Good for tea or coffee, too. Made, as needed, this milk is always fresh."

Good reasons why you'll like KLIM:

1. KLIM is pasteurized whole milk—powdered. Only the natural moisture has been removed. All the cream is left in.
2. KLIM keeps fresh indefinitely in its vacuum-sealed container. Even after opening, KLIM keeps fresh and sweet for a long time. (Note: Be sure to replace lid tightly.)
3. KLIM is light, easy to carry. Saves space. Ready for immediate use. Just follow the simple directions printed on the can.

KLIM is a vital product required in large quantities for our fighting forces everywhere. Naturally the amount for civilian use is restricted. However—for infant feeding—if you have difficulty in getting a sufficient supply have your dealer get in touch with us.
