EDITORIAL

LUXURY OR FREEDOM—WHICH IS YOUR CHOICE?

If we neglect our duty in buying bonds when our men are dying overseas, then those who have money lying idle deserve to lose their money.

You have read, perhaps, the story of history's richest man, Ashurbanipal of Assyria, who hoarded more gold in one place than has been seen in all of the world's history. He refused to use that wealth, even for defence, with the result that his country was easily overrun by the Medes and Persians, and the Assyrian King lost his life and his wealth in short order.

Are we to emulate the foolish king of Assyria? Are we to clutch greedily money which will buy more Victory Bonds, which will in turn buy more equipment for the men who will shortly open the most gigantic military invasion of modern history? Are we to keep nest eggs idle in the banks while our boys bleed to death for lack of the tools of war?

The money is available. Our banks are full of funds, lying idly in savings accounts. The people of Canada generally and of Prince Rupert in particular, have more money than ever before. The money which is being spent on unessential goods brings the spectre of inflation ever closer. That money must be converted into Victory Bonds.

There is, today, only one patriotic way to save money, and that is by investing in Victory Bonds. And remember, your failure to buy a bond may cost you everything you hold dear. For what shall it benefit a man if he hoard his dollars or gain a few luxuries now, and lose his entire freedom, and his children's freedom, tomorrow?

HANSON IS INQUIRING

Local Member Decides to See What, if Anything, is Being Done on Halibut Tie-up.

Olof Hanson, M.P. for Skeena, has decided to take a hand in the present halibut tie-up on this coast over the dispute with the United States in regard to ceiling prices.

Word was received in the city today that Mr. Hanson had decided at Ottawa to find out from the government what, if any, action was contemplated by the government to solve the tie-up of the halibut fleet.

Most likely, Mr. Hanson suggested in a telegram to his local office, Tom Reid, member for New Westminster, would put questions on orders of the day today and, as soon as answers, if any, were made, they would be sent out.

VANCOUVER WEAKENS?

Prince Rupert Boat Owners' and Fishermen's Committee Would Wait Word From Washington Before Ending Tie-up.

While the Vancouver fleet is now disposed to commence the season's fishing operations while negotiations are in progress in regard to the ceiling price dispute with the United States Office of Price Administration, the committee representing Prince Rupert halibut boat owners and fishermen, meeting last night, still held the view that some word should be received from a delegation now in Washington before any further move is made in regard to the tie-up. A general meeting of boat owners and fishermen is called for tomorrow afternoon to go further into the whole question.

PRINCE RUPERT HONOR ROLL

These are our men and women. They are fighting for you. They also buy Victory Bonds. Are you backing them? Are you buying Victory Bonds to the limit?

WILL PRINCE RUPERT LET DOWN HER FIGHTING MEN?

Canadian Prime Minister Speaks Before Lords and Commons Today

LOCAL BOY IS DROWNED

Walter Marshall, 17-year-old local lad, was drowned on Tuesday night when the rowboat in which he and another lad were riding capsized in a swift tidal current off Langara Island.

The boy was a member of the crew of the Co-op fish packer Kanawaka, of which his father, Walter Marshall of this city, was skipper.

Word of the accident reached T. H. Sorenson, Co-operative manager, by telephone on Wednesday.

According to the report reaching Mr. Sorenson, young Marshall and Norman Sievert were in the boat when it capsized in a bay off the island.

Sievert managed to swim ashore.

Marshall's body has not yet been discovered. B.C. police on the islands have taken charge.

Enduring Unity and Prosperity Rests on Freedom Rather Than Institutional Forms — Urges Cooperation Within Commonwealth and With Allies

LONDON, May 11 (CP)—Enduring unity and prosperity of the British Commonwealth rests on freedom rather than institutional forms, Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King of Canada said today in addressing the House of Lords and the House of Commons in joint session. They can be maintained by policies and principles which can be extended so that the free association of the British nations may serve as a model for what it is hoped the world will one day become, the Prime Minister said.

Mr. King's speech was devoted almost wholly to the Canadian war effort and his view of the Commonwealth in relation to its members and the world both during and after the war.

The Canadian Prime Minister called for postwar maintenance of Commonwealth strength and unities through policies which could be shared with other nations. He warned against any move which might seem to rest of the world an attempt to form separate blocs.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill, in introducing Premier King, said Canada, with only eleven million people, "guarded the heart and citadel of Empire during the most perilous months in all its history."

SEA CADETS INSPECTION

Results of Training Evoke Admiration of Visiting Officers

The annual inspection of the local corps of Royal Sea Cadets, held last night on the Court House grounds, brought forth the results of training which won the admiration of naval men and public alike. Outstanding evidence of smartness and technical advancement were demonstrated by the teen aged volunteer naval training group who lined the grounds in precise rows to undergo the inspection of Lieut. Gerrard, M.B.E., R.C.N.V.R., deputy area commanding officer. Lieut. Gerrard was accompanied in his inspection by Lieut. Hooper, Sea Cadet liaison officer for British Columbia.

The full corps, numbering some 200, turned out under Lieut. Commander Alex Mitchell for the inspection and marched past the inspection stand in parade formation to the martial music of their own bugle band.

For the first time in many years the inspecting officer was accompanied by an armed guard drawn from the local corps. The guard was under the command of Lieut. Jack Wilson.

During the inspection of technical skills it was evident that many of the cadets are making good progress in signaling, telegraphy and other branches. It was plain that the standard of practical instruction, given by cadet leaders and navy men from H.M.C.S. Chatham, is very high.

The large public turnout which witnessed the inspection, were of the audible sentiment that Sea Cadet training is of excellent disciplinary and instructional value to young men.

The inspection ended with proper ceremonies at 10 o'clock.

New Educational Proposals . . .

Last week we discussed the comprehensive plans for educational reform in the British Isles, in other Canadian provinces and in the United States with particular reference to the proposals in this country and in the neighboring republic to rescue rural education from its present unsatisfactory state and so to provide greater equality of educational opportunity for all of the young people of the nation. This matter has been dealt with thoughtfully in the interim report of the Postwar Rehabilitation Council of the British Columbia Legislature under the chairmanship of Hon. H. G. T. Perry, Minister of Education.

It is not to be imagined that conditions in this northern and central portion of British Columbia will continue to be static as they were in the years which preceded the war. The opening of our agricultural lands, the development of hydro-electric power, the establishment of new industries, will bring new population and new wealth. A creative and dynamic era will emerge. Educational development must necessarily parallel economic development. It will not only parallel economic development but will also promote it.

The Council's plans envisage the distribution of more advanced education through the major subdivisions of the province by establishing Junior Colleges upon a regional basis. These Junior Colleges will give instruction in academic subjects corresponding to the first two years of university work, that is to say, a year in advance of Senior Matriculation. More important than this, they will give technical, agricultural, and commercial training according to the needs of the regions in which they are centred. Advanced practical and vocational education will thus be distributed throughout the province rather than as now concentrated in Vancouver.

The plans also envisage the improvement of the schools in the smaller rural areas and their development into genuine community centres, and the focal points for adult education and community recreation. Obviously if postwar educational advance affects only the larger urban portions of the Province, the existing inequalities of educational opportunity will be magnified.

One great advantage which the populous and wealthier urban centres have is the greater permanence of their teachers and their superior opportunities for continued professional improvement. Their training and background have also prepared them more effectively for teaching in towns and cities than in such sections as Skeena, Omineca or the Cariboo.

How can some at least of the advantages of postwar educational improvement be brought to this part of British Columbia? This problem will be discussed in a subsequent article.

CANADA NEARING MANPOWER CRISIS

Canada's manpower situation is facing its most serious crisis since the beginning of the war. The country is also experiencing an almost complete reversal of earlier labor requirements. This is the substance brought out by an interview with E. V. Whiting, local Selective Service officer, today.

"Agriculture and its dependent industries, and base metals mining have top priorities on the labor front today," Mr. Whiting said, "and to fill their requirements we are going to have to transfer a lot of workers."

The seriousness of the situation was emphasized in a letter received Tuesday by Mr. Whiting from Arthur McNamara, Deputy Minister of Labor. The letter stated in part: "We are moving into a year which will develop into a period of acute labor shortage to a degree undreamed of heretofore."

"A more vigorous and rigorous approach to compulsory transfers will be necessary." Selective Service officers in British Columbia have been requested to send men to the prairies to work in high priority industries. About 400 are needed for the western meat packing industry alone.

The Prince Rupert office has been directed to send as many men as possible to work in meat packing plants in Edmonton. So far 25 men have been transferred to the prairie capital.

Mr. McNamara's letter indicates that agriculture will require a quarter of a million men to fill its needs. The base metals mining industry is short about 2,000 men. The manufacturers of agricultural implements, given one of the highest priorities because of the government's emphasis on food production, are also short of help.

The situation in general seems to be one of almost complete reversal from that of the past two years when top priorities belonged to emergency construction industries situated mainly on the coast.

Mr. Whiting said that he is trying to get as many women as possible into the less essential industries to relieve men for more important work.

"The Canadian National Railways are eager to take women for several different types of jobs," he revealed. "They want women for car cleaning, and some types of shop work."

The situation indicates that because of the heavy preference being given to Canadian industry, no labor will be supplied to foreign services in Canada until Canadian manpower needs are filled.

Army requirements for the year are estimated at 98,000 men.

Home Fires Burning But Wrong Kind

SMITHERS, May 11 — A sort of coincidence occurred in connection with the big blaze which was still burning on Sunday afternoon when a letter arrived from L.A.C. Arthur Berg who has been in England for two years. He thanked the Canadian Legion for the receipt of a parcel of cigarettes sent to him some time ago, and he remarked "I hope the home fires are still burning as we will need them on our return to our fair city." The "home fires" were still burning when the letter arrived.

Terrace School Music Festival

Fine Entertainment Staged at Interior Town Friday Night.

TERRACE, May 11 — A very successful concert and general program of entertainment was staged on Friday by the pupils of the public school with the help of the school trustees, each of whom played a part in the preparations for the event.

Mrs. Hall designed the several pretty costumes worn by the young performers, and Messrs. Lambly and Michiel marshalled the crowd which came and did their best to provide seating for everyone.

The Orange Hall where the affair was held was more than filled.

Music was provided by Alan Dubeau, talented small boy who played various pieces and accompanied several of the turns.

The band of the Fusiliers also helped the entertainment along, playing for the dancing which followed the program.

Financially the affair proved a great help in providing funds with which to supply needed equipment of an educational kind, including sports equipment.

The program:

Singing Game: "Looby Loo."
 Song: "Little Harebell."
 Folk dance: "Come, Let Us Be Joyful."
 Rhythm Band: "Pop Goes the Weasel."
 Songs: "Roly Poly Caterpillar," "Shoes," "My Ship's Home From China," "I Had a Little Nut Tree."
 Singing game: "Swinging in a Swing."
 Song: "Pussy Willow."
 Rhythm Band: "Three Blind Mice."
 Song: "When Fairies Dance and Sing."
 Dance: "Newcastle Frolic."

Ack-Ack Unit Wins Victory Loan Honor

This morning on Third Avenue in front of the Post Office presentation was made by Col. S. Johnston, M.C., V.D., area commandant, of a Victory Loan flag to a local Ack-Ack Regiment for having achieved highest dollar value in the Pacific Command for purchase of bonds last week, 150 per cent of quota having also been reached by the unit during the period. The ceremony was watched with interest by passers-by.

Lieut. Col. George Paulin accompanied Col. Johnston and the flag was received by Lieut. G. B. Bowden who, in turn, gave it over to Sergeant Major James Bathurst to be hoisted aloft on the Post Office flag staff where it now floats.

There was a smart "March Past" by the unit with Col. Johnston taking the salute.

An Ontario regimental band played marching music.

 Ace Reporter on Gillette's "Cavalcade of Sports" — says:

"A TRIP through the Gillette factory showed me why I always get clean, quick shaves with Blue Gillette Blades. I saw steel hardened in automatically-controlled electric furnaces . . . saw the blades sharpened in grinding machines weighing several tons—yet so precise that they are adjustable to 1/10,000 of an inch. So my advice to any man who wants to enjoy shaving is to use Blue Gillette Blades."

WEDDING

Marie Cox Becomes American Soldier.

More than 100 guests in a military wedding of great interest was solemnized at 5 o'clock last night in the Hill chapel, Louisville, Ky. Marie, only daughter of Mrs. Albert Cox of Louisville, became the bride of Capt. Gordon, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Rowlands, United States Army chaplain, officiating.

The bride was beautiful in a gown of heavy white satin, and a white veil caught by four pins and fern. She carried a bouquet of red and white roses with fern, and a white mohair ribbon.

The bridegroom, who wore a military uniform, was attended by Alfred Dinicola, who acted as best man. The wedding party consisted of the bridegroom's father, Capt. Bennett, lined the chapel, presiding as the bride and groom were united.

The reception held at the center of the camp, the mother, wearing an dress of turquoise and corsage of pink carried the bride and receiving the many guests were Capt. and Major Hatton, Mrs. Lewis of the Red Cross Club was hostess and refreshments were served by Mrs. T. Konesini, Mrs. Lewis, and Miss Doran. An impressive three-tiered cake was cut by the bridegroom with a bayonet.

The evening a chicken dinner was served to the guests and the bride. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the happy couple, who will reside in Prince Georges.

Navy And Boom Men Win Games

Providing batting punch that should worry opposing mounds-men this season, Navy banged out seventeen hits to trim Signals 15 to 2 in their first Area Softball League game of the year at Gyro Park last night. In the second game of the evening Boom Defence won 21 to 6 over Ordnance while in the third So Suds beat Dry Dock 11 to 3.

Green, Brookman and Barker led the hitting parade with three blows each, while McKarsk, Astle and Carlisle each secured two.

Ivor Cross, of Windsor, Ontario, hurled the game for Navy, striking out nine and holding the Army batsmen well under control.

The winners started off by scoring three runs in the second inning, adding one in the third, two in the fourth, fifth and sixth frames each and five in the seventh. Signals tallied one run in the fourth and the other in the sixth.

Navy worked the Army pitcher, er, Peters for 10 bases on balls. Four of the walks were collected by Cross.

Line-ups:
Navy—Barker ss., McKarsk cf., Horner 3b., Green 2b., Cross p., Brookman 1b., Astle rf., Haverstock lf., Carlisle c.
Signals—J. Griffin 2b., Chailfoux 3b., Peters p., Reikert c., Yelland 1b., Shanks rf., F. Griffin ss., Stokes cf., Duff lf., Stevens lf.

The winners' attack was sparked by Kowalchuk, who slammed five hits in as many trips to the plate. Lowrie was next with four and Dowling, Smith, Thorburn and Stewart each connected for three safeties.

It was a typical early season game all the way with the pitchers unwilling to cut loose with everything they had for fear of developing sore arms.

Boom Defence started the fixture off auspiciously with seven runs in the first inning. The Ordnance tallied five in their half of the second but the winners countered one in the second, four in the third and six in the fourth to sew the game up.

Sport Chat

The unluckiest loser during a six-bout boxing tournament at the American Rainbow Corner Club in London's Piccadilly was Gnr. Joe Marsh of Montreal. In fact, few could understand how he lost the decision. Former British Empire Games middleweight Joe slugged Lafayette Drummond, United States Army private from St. Louis, Mo., all over the ring for three rounds, but couldn't knock him out. About all Lafayette showed was a strong defence. Joe, incidentally, is a brother of Gnr. Dougie Marsh who recently won the Canadian Army (U.K.) middleweight crown and lost out in the final of the British Army championships. Another Canadian loser on the Rainbow card was Cpl. Arnold Hayes, Montreal Negro heavyweight who turned professional after winning the Canadian Army title two years ago. A right to the chin floored Hayes in the third round of a slugfest with Sgt. Walt Montgomery of Detroit.

The Allan Cup flies over enemy territory each time Canada's Iroquois Squadron roars out. It's not the real thing, of course but a painting of hockey's premier annual award on the nose of a bomber piloted by FO Jerry Philbin. The ground crew did the art job and wrote "Allan Cup Flier" underneath. Jerry was a member of the Ottawa R.C.A.F. team which won the Allan Cup two seasons ago.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. (By DOROTHY GARBUTT)

The Ordnance Corps fixed up our clock and now it hangs where all can see it on the large post by the stairs. It used to have fits of temperament and behave like a prima donna—slow one day, fast the next. But try to make the guard room understand you were late because the "Y" clock was wrong. They are the most unreasonable fellows in there.

The game of table hockey is proving very entertaining—and very noisy. It's the most nerve-racking sort of thing and the varied expressions on the faces of the players is a study. It takes a tremendous amount of concentration to fend off possible goals. They won't allow me to play, I get too excited and let out blood curdling bellows which isn't compatible with my dignified exterior—or so they say!

The Free French insignia which Scotty Malcolm has made to go with our collection of shields is very attractive. It has quarterings and gules and all sorts of heraldic do-hickeys. It is a circle, half of which is sky blue, the other half being scarlet. Superimposed on this is a white diamond and in the centre of the diamond is the Cross of St. Joan. This cross is like the ordinary Christian cross except that it has a smaller horizontal bar just above the regular one and the ends of the two cross pieces and upright are tapered off to a point. It is a very symbolic design and most fitting to the Free French ideals.

I see that Chester le Maistre has managed to get a fine new World Almanac for the use of the boys and girls. It is upstairs in the quiet room which is now a library, writing room and committee room as the case may be. We have always needed an authoritative atlas—if any can be called that with changing geographical conditions these days.

IMPROVEMENT OF GROUNDS

The Civic Parks Board and the Prince Rupert Gyro Club have reached an agreement in connection with supervised playground activities this summer. The Gyro Club has agreed to defray half the cost of maintaining a man at McClymont Park for the three summer months, to maintain playground equipment to arrange and pay for supervision of the balance of the Gyro playgrounds for the months of July and August, and to organize a softball league so that voluntary collections may be taken at the Gyro Ball Park.

The city is to proceed immediately with the construction of open drain on the east and south sides and a box drain on the west side of Gyro Ball Park as well as a backstop there. The spreading of surfacing material on Gyro Ball Park is also to be undertaken.

In connection with the operation of Gyro Ball Park it has been stipulated that children and civilians be allowed the use of the grounds on two full afternoons and one full evening each week.

In addition to Gyro Ball Park the city engineer has been authorized to proceed with improvements to McClymont Park and Seal Cove, Alder Park and Westview playgrounds.

The Parks Board has been unable to comply with a suggestion of Frank Morris that flower gardens be established at Alder Park this season.

"SALADA" TEA

Men Working Trains Now

Winnipeg, May 11 — Women taken over in yet another exclusive male domain. They are now being employed on Canadian National buffet cars—the first women employed in Canada. They have been assigned to buffet parlor car service on Canadian National main line between Halifax and Sydney three to a crew, one male steward, one woman taken over as buffet cook, one woman as pantry girl, one as waitress. Before, men were employed as dining car staff, with the ever dwindling supply of male help, it was to try out women in Canadian National dining cars. Consideration is being given to extending the innovation to main line runs. The women in natty white uniforms of the buffet crew present an attractive appearance. The buffet cook has an all white uniform familiarly known as a "hoover" dress, with a white chef's cap, and the pantry girl is similarly attired. The waitress wears a white uniform edged in maroon, with apron and bandeau.

TRAINING OF WOMEN

By HELEN BANNERMAN Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, May 11 — Lieut. Alexandra Graham of Regina, commanding officer of the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service Officers' Training Course here, is not superstitious and it's a good thing because probably no officer in history had to cope with as many "jinxes" as she found in her last O.T.C. It was the 13th O.T.C., it started on March 13 and, out of the 23 Wrens taking the course, 13 belonged to the Navy's special branch.

"I thought it over the first day before I met the girls, and then I went out to them where they were assembled and warned them that this was going to be a lucky O.T.C.," she told The Canadian Press.

The "CO" was right. At recent final inspection at the end of the month's course 21 new probationary sub-lieutenants for the Canadian Wrens and two for the British Wrens, appeared.

Lieut. Graham before the war was assistant principal of Kitchener Public School in Regina and commander of the Saskatchewan Auxiliary Territorial Service, a pre-war forerunner of the present Canadian Women's Army Corps.

"But like everyone on the prairies I guess I liked the navy best because I was so far away from it, and perhaps because I taught history and the navy has such an important place in British history," she said.

TransCanada Is Nearly Over

WINNIPEG, May 11—TransCanada Air Lines has again met the challenge in the Sixth Victory Loan campaign and over $229,000 or 99 per cent of the minimum objective has been subscribed by employees in Canadian National Service, it was reported today by O. T. Larson, vice-president of the Air Lines, and P. W. Baldwin, T.C.A. chairman Sixth Victory Loan committee. This is a record for the first 12 days of the Victory Loan campaign and an analysis of the purchases shows that 2,270 employees from coast to coast purchased bonds to a total of $229,810.

LONDON — Threeves removed about 500 women's dresses and two-piece suits after burrowing through the wall between bonded premises and a dress shop.

The course included the only Wren whose work takes her to sea, Sub-Lt. Marian Dignan of Vancouver, on the staff of the Naval Superintendent of Contract Building Ships; and a former eastern Canada women's tennis champion Sub-Lieut. Diana Pope of London, Ont.

Others in Lieut. Graham's lucky course were: Sub-Lts. Elizabeth Dempsey, Stratford, Ont.; Eleanor Peacock, Meaford, Ont.; Joan Foster, Winnipeg; Harriet Cuttle, Quebec; Clara Byck, Copper Cliff, Ont.; Margaret Hughes, Sarnia, Ont.; Frances Parker, Winnipeg; Norma Christie, Calgary; Norma Hall, Ottawa and Jessie Torrance, Toronto.

THE GROCER'S APPEAL

"Don't be a plunker," the grocer urged
To the women who do the buying.
"If you don't know the dates
in your ration book,
Your conduct to me is trying.
Remember I'm dealing with hundreds a day
So find out what's due, there's a dearie,
And don't expect me to do all of the job
When I'm woefully worried and weary.

"Don't plunk down your books on my counter and say:
'Is it now that I get my butter?'
Just find out yourself and save my poor heart
From a frightfully flittery flutter.
Your coffee, preserves and your sugar and tea
You should ask for when they become valid
And then you won't leave me a wreck of a man—Perspiring, pernickety, pallid."

ROMFORD, Eng., 9—Charles Kimblin, 20, bit a policeman.
He was bound over for six months on the promise that he wouldn't lose his temper and bite anyone else.

"Threw away my harsh laxatives"

"Out they went, all harsh embarrassing purgatives. For my constipation turned out to be due to lack of "bulk" in the diet. So gentle ALL-BRAN proved the answer for me."
Yes, ALL-BRAN is for you, if your trouble is due to lack of "bulk" in the diet. Here's what you do. Eat
KELLOGG'S ALL-
BRAN regularly, and drink plenty of water. This pleasant cereal helps to produce smooth-working "bulk," and prepare wastes for easy elimination. You'll want this regularly, so you'll enjoy eating ALL-BRAN daily. Remember it's a cereal—not a medicine. At your grocer's. 2 handy sizes. Made by Kellogg's in London.

APPRECIATE RED CROSS

Congratulations of Provincial President— Need for Workers as Great as Ever

At a local Red Cross executive meeting on Tuesday evening a letter was read from the provincial president, Hon. E. W. Ham-ber, congratulating the Prince Rupert branch and district on the splendid results of the recent Red Cross financial campaign.
Since the tabulated results were published in April a further $1300 has been received, bringing the grand total to nearly $25,000.

A complete booklet on Red Cross prepared by the Vancouver branch has been received and some interesting data is furnished relating to work-rooms, prisoners-of-war, international enquiry service, blood donors, Junior Red Cross and many other activities. Between January 1, 1941, and October 31, 1943, Canadian Red Cross has packed 7, 000,000 prisoner - of - war food parcels.

In 1943 there were 417,865 donations of blood in Red Cross clinics in Canada.

For all purposes Junior Red Cross has raised in four years one and a half million dollars.
Canadian Red Cross has given the Soviet Union supplies valued at two million dollars and large donations have been made to Greece, China and other countries.

Mrs. R. M. Winslow stated that she had recently interviewed the provincial workroom convenor and, in spite of the consistently good work of all branches during the past four and a half years, there is still as great a demand as ever for work to be done in the workrooms and in the homes.
The secretary reported receipt of a booklet advising that postal restrictions on mail to the Far East had been amended.
