Moorage for Fishing Fleet . .

The Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce is well justified in taking up with the federal department of fisheries the matter of providing adequate moorage facilities for the dwindling local fishing fleet which, owing to incursions of national defence projects, are being gradually excluded from the waterfront here with consequent removal of the fleet from the port. The attention of the department of transport has also been drawn to the matter.

While we are absorbed with the war these days, it is well to remember that the fishing industry was for many a long day Prince Rupert's mainstay and it is quite possible that it may some day again be of proportionately more important than it may seem to be during present abnormal conditions.

It would be very unfortunate if we should lose our fishing fleet—and a large proportion of it has already left here—through any failure on our part to do all we can to ensure that it is kept at Prince Rupert which is still, as it was nearly thirty years ago when the railway was opened up, the most strategically located port on the coast in relation to the handling of the North Pacific fish.

Last October, it may be recalled, Hon. Ernest Bertrand, minister of fisheries, visited Prince Rupert, stating that one of the principal purposes of his visit was to check up on the situation in regard to moorage facilities for the fishing fleets which he admitted had been shoved around a good deal of late but about which he expressed confidence that something could be done to relieve the situation. The local member, Olof Hanson, has also been giving the matter a good deal of attention.

The government very likely has the matter in hand in which case we should soon hear what the plans are.

Tell the People Your Story . .

The practice of reporting to the people through newspaper advertising columns is growing. It is both democratic and businesslike to do this. People are busy for many reasons these days. They do not seem to have the time to attend meetings or read much but the daily press. Therefore in order to reach the greatest number of citizens with the record newspaper space is the answer. Especially is that so when the papers in most of the smaller cities distribute more papers than there are houses, thus ensuring delivery of the message in virtually every single ratepayer's home.

"Anybody who lived through 1943 shouldn't worry about 1944," says a paragrapher. You're too optimistic, brother. Nineteen forty-four will not only be tougher than 1943, but one day longer.

Basketball Buzz

The past week has seen the first five teams in the Men's Area Basketball League all add a victory to their records at the expense of the other five clubs.

Nothing like an upset has been scored for some time but the High School boys will try to change that situation when they collide with the league-leading, undefeated Yanks at Number Four Group Tuesday night. The Bo-Me-Hi quintet offered some stiff opposition before they bowed to a strong Reserve Army squad 54 to 42 last week.

In another game at Number Four Group, Maple Leafs meet Last Resort in a Women's Area Basketball League encounter.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.

By DOROTHY GARBUTT

There is not quite such a heavy dance program this week but the girls have to have a rest sometime. Here it is barring changes, last minute postponements and all the gremilnesque misadventures that can happen to well planned programs:

- Monday, (tonight)—Coast Battery Auxiliary dance, I.O.D.E. hall, Junior hostesses invited.
- Wednesday—Regular Y.M.C.A. dance, Empress hall.
- Friday—Juke Box Couples Dance, Empress.
- Saturday—Old Time Dance, Empress.

A new week, so here's our list of new service babies. On Sunday February 6, young Master Frederick Allan Warawa was born to Gunner and Mrs. Peter Warawa, R.C.A. in the Prince Rupert General Hospital. He was born at 7 p.m. and weighed seven pounds four ounces. Private and Mrs. Hector Stewart R.C.O.C., became the parents of a son, Terrence, also on Sunday, February 6, at the P.R. Hospital, at 10:30 p.m. Terry beat Freddy by twelve ounces, weighing eight pounds exactly. Private and Mrs. Stewart are stationed in Terrace.

We welcome the ratings of the W.R.C.N.S. who have come to town the past week and hope they will be as happy in Prince Rupert as their sisters in the services, the C.W.A.C.'s and the W.D.'s. Talking of these initial services did you hear the one about the girl who didn't enlist in any of them because she wanted to join the W.I.V.E.S.?

MIDLANDS

P. G. Fraser, Canadian National Railways travelling baggage agent, who has been in the city for the past few days, left on Saturday night to return to Vancouver.

Captain Claude O. Fowler, officer commanding A company of the second (Reserve) battalion, Midland Regiment, has been promoted to the rank of major, it was announced recently.

J. H. Lafay was re-elected president of the Cobourg branch of the Canadian Red Cross.

The Cobourg Public Library and Trinity United Church will benefit to the extent of $1,000 each, according to the terms of the will of the late Dr. Mary E. Highet, who died in January.

Ralph Carey, son of Chief of Police and Mrs. W. J. Carey, left last week for manning pool, Toronto, where he will join the R.C.A.F.

TALKING OF CO-OPERATION Editor, Daily News.

I regret that I did not have time before leaving Prince Rupert to reply to your editorial "Talking of Co-operatives" in your issue of February 3.

Re your statement that "the provincial governments in British Columbia have done much to encourage the development of co-operative mechanics—among producers and consumers," personally I do not know of any such encouragement and I would certainly be pleased if you would enlighten me by stating any such instance known to you.

In British Columbia co-operative enterprise has been developed by the people themselves after which has come government recognition. Our concern is not that the government should give encouragement but that the government should put nothing in the way of co-operative development. We are anxious at present that the government provide such supervision of co-operatives as would prevent the incorporation of spurious co-operatives and would give advice to those seeking incorporation. British Columbia is the only western province that does not provide co-operative supervision by a department of the government. That is due to the government's lack of knowledge of the principles of co-operation and of co-operative development in this province.

In my travels about the province I have not had the privilege of meeting those whom you refer to as "some of the best known and most prominent co-operators who are in politics leading Liberals and Conservatives." Will you please let me know who they are? I would certainly like to contact them as they might have some influence upon the government to give British Columbia such legislation as would facilitate the building of the movement in this province.

My reference to trade unionists and socialists was that they are so imbued with their own particular means of bettering conditions that they are blind to the contribution which co-operative enterprise has to offer in making a people's economy.

The difference between the trade unionists and socialists on the one hand and the old line parties on the other is that the former do want such economic change as will benefit all the people while the latter do not want any change that will interfere with the present profit economy.

From your editorial it seems that you do not differentiate between ordinary commercial business and co-operative enterprise. I thought that in my address I had made the difference quite plain. Briefly the difference is that the motive of ordinary commercial business is profit while that of co-operative enterprise is not to make profit at the expense of others but to render service to the members at cost.

We in the co-operative movement regret that people in general are not better informed about co-operation, its philosophy, methods and achievements. How can the people learn unless they are told? It is the practice of co-operatives to "educate constantly." This is done by such means as public addresses, literature in the form of books, pamphlets, leaflets and co-operative papers, motion pictures, etc. Unfortunately the press which reaches the general public gives little space to news of co-operative development and economy. This, of course, is understood as the press is the creature of, and is owned and controlled by the profit economy. It servilely obeys "its master's voice." With the limited means which the co-operative movement has at its disposal the "good news" of co-operation is spread abroad, people learn, and learning, are won to the co-operative economy.

C. D. CLARKE, Educational Secretary. (Note.—Mr. Clarke evidently does not read the Daily News or he might have known that the Daily News gives generously of its space to all such meetings as it did to the one he addressed in Prince Rupert. As for government encouragement to co-operatives, the governments have been instrumental in sending throughout the province, including Prince Rupert, speakers in connection with co-operative and credit union organizations.—Ed.)

BROADCAST APPRECIATED Editor, Daily News. Will you be so kind as to print this letter to show the good "Ministers of God" how much their radio "Morning Devotions" are enjoyed and appreciated? I want to especially mention the talks which Pastor Amundsen broadcast this past week. They were most helpful and inspiring. Many thanks.

The Women of the Moose, Chapter No. 211, held their monthly executive meeting at the home of the Senior Regent, Mrs. Margaret Tolin, on Friday. This was followed by a meeting of the committee chairmen to discuss the bazaar to be held in the early spring. The publicity committee also held its regular monthly meeting on the same evening at the home of Mrs. Richard Giske on Sixth Avenue East. Business was of a routine nature.

The Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce has delegated T. Norton Youngs, who brought the matter up at the last meeting, to go into the possibilities of a contributory hospital insurance plan such as has been inaugurated in the southern part of the province.

At last week's luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club, when Mrs. Dorothy Garbutt was the speaker on the subject of "Prince Rupert and the Y," a one-minute silence was observed in tribute to the memory of one of the popular members, the late Thomas Trotter, who died recently in Quebec. S. C. Thomson read a letter from Lieut. T. N. LePage, formerly of this city, who at the time of writing was in Naples. R. C. St. Clair was in the chair in the absence of President A. S. Nickerson. Guests were Col. G. O. Phillips and N. M. MacLean of Vancouver, and Major Morratt of Prince Rupert. Winner of the luncheon raffle of a war savings certificate for the Queen's Fund was Peter Laskie.

7 tbsps, chilled flour Silverleaf Lard
1 tsp. salt Ice cold water

Mix and sift into a bowl the flour, salt and baking powder. Cut half of lard into these dry ingredients, to the size of wheat grains—then cut in remainder of lard, to the size of small peas. FOR THE FILLING:

Tart apples 1/2 teaspoon grated Sugar, white or brown nutmeg
1 teaspoon grated butter, if available Orange rind available

Peel, core and slice apples. Mix sugar (amount depending upon tartness of apples), orange rind and nutmeg. Arrange apples and sugar mixture in alternate layers in a deep pie dish, dotting with butter. Moisten edges of dish. Roll out paste, slash and place over apples. Trim and crimp edges. Bake in a hot oven, 450° F., for 12 minutes, then reduce heat to 375° F., and bake until crust nicely browned, about 30 minutes.

Decrease Training Intensity

Role for Coming Year is Enunciated—More Local Responsibility.

OTTAWA, Feb. 14.—In a statement of policy for the Reserve Army in Canada for 1944, issued at National Defence Headquarters, it is announced that "while the necessity for the Reserve Army remains unchanged, it is possible, in view of the improvement in the military situation and the increased efficiency that has been achieved, to decrease the intensity of its training during the coming year."

It is therefore proposed, the statement says:

(a) To reduce the period of training from 40 days to 30 days as it was prior to the outbreak of war. This will permit a 15-day summer camp and 15 days training at local headquarters;

(b) To continue to make provision for the further training of officers, non-commissioned officers and specialists;

(c) Since the Reserve Army has been operating with a liberal scale of full-time administrative and training staffs for some 18 months, and it is considered that units have now progressed to a stage where their officers and non-commissioned officers are sufficiently qualified to carry out their training without the same degree of assistance, there will therefore be some reduction in the numbers employed on full-time training duty;

(d) While no general change in the structure of the Reserve Army is contemplated, it is proposed that some measure of "streamlining" will take place to ensure that all units maintain a satisfactory standard of efficiency. Units unable to maintain a satisfactory strength and efficiency will become dormant for the duration of the war.

It is not known at present what reductions will be made in the numbers of administrative and training staffs, nor what units will be subject to "streamlining" developments or become dormant. This will be decided only after the situation in each district has been assessed by the District Officer Commanding and his recommendations in this regard submitted to National Defence Headquarters.

- (c) To back up the civil authority responsible for the enforcement of law and order if required.
- (d) As a trained reserve to support the Active forces available for the defence of Canada if the military situation should deteriorate.
- (e) As a basis for expansion of the Active Army should the necessity arise.

While no one likes regulations and restrictions, in the case of Pacific Milk, the new Government control is working well, indeed. In the Upper Country and Interior almost normal supplies are reaching them, for they have no other milk supply in those places.

UNITED STATES WERE FORESEEN

Phoephesied in Revelations, According to Evangelist Balmer.

The establishment and rise of the United States government was prophesied in the Book of Revelation and has come at a time in God's great plan in order to make possible the spread of the gospel to every nation, kindred tongue and people declared Evangelist Balmer last night in the Oddfellows' Hall in speaking on "The United States and Its Future in Bible Phophecy."

Mr. Balmer based his remarks on Rev. 13:11 which, he said, especially referred to the United States, which was likened unto a beast "coming up out of the earth and he had two horns like a lamb and he spoke as a dragon." The lamb-like horns are none other than civil and religious liberty, he declared, and as a result the people were blessed with increased spiritual power and also inventive genius. Meanwhile the elements of decay had gone steadily on in Europe. But the dragon feature was what the people should be alarmed about. When the United States government began to speak as a dragon through persecuting laws, denying the worshippers of God the right to worship as their consciences dictated, then, said Mr. Balmer, "we may be assured that the end of all government as we now have them is at hand." While the prophecy indicated that war would eventually be made against these lamb-like principles, yet the people of God would prevail.

"Surely the unusual conditions in governmental affairs," said the speaker in closing, "should sober us in our thinking as to where we are in the course of human events."

H. S. Cromble, of Vancouver, who has been in the city for the past few days on business, left on Saturday night to return south.

Prince Rupert And the "Y"

(Being a series in instalments by Mrs. Dorothy Garbutt, the Hostess here)

(Installation No. 2)

The work of the YWCA is my special field and with your indulgence I will tell you something about it, first telling you about our weekly staff meetings where each Monday at the Hut all the supervisors who are close enough to attend meet to discuss the work, make suggestions and receive criticism. Here the problems of conducting the dances, a joint YMCA - YWCA effort are ironed out plans for seasonal activities, sports programs, are worked out. Once a month a padre from one of the forces leads us in devotionals. At the rest of the meetings some supervisor gives a talk on the more serious side of our work and offers a prayer for our guidance. These meetings are inspirational and have kept a spirit of common cause very much alive in our hearts and minds.

When first I came to Prince Rupert two and a half years ago this month, just three days before the "Y" Recreation Hall opened, my mind was filled with organization. My main idea was to get in touch with the citizens, let them know what we were all about. So the first day here, when I was not knocking on doors looking for a room, I spent in calling on all the shops on Third Avenue, telling them about our opening and asking them to tell any service wives they might know about us, advising them to use our rooms as a meeting place. After that I made a point of speaking at the various church auxiliaries as well as the Parent-Teachers' Association.

When I felt I had met a good many townspeople I set about forming a Hostess House Committee and with the advice of one or two outstanding women I had already met, I was able to form my first committee from the women of the town. This committee changes personnel yearly with the exception of a continuing chairman and secretary so that in that way I get to know the women of the town and what is, to my mind, more important, they get an intimate knowledge of the work of the YWCA War Services and, through that knowledge, are able to tell others about us.

I can't sufficiently praise the help and encouragement these various ladies have given me. We meet monthly and I lay before them my problems and ask for their suggestions. And always any suggestions they have given have been wise and, what is more, they have been offered with a profound knowledge of Rupert psychology, its problems and peculiarities, so that I, fresh from the east where conditions are easier, by heeding their advice have not fallen into too many of the errors of the outsider.

In fact by now, I really feel like an old timer myself, and as you know, for I have said it often enough, I love Prince Rupert, its mountains, harbor, fresh clean air and yes, even its rain. All I have to think about when it's raining here is a prairie blizzard and looks good to me by the son.

We decided that this was neglected and that be more worth our while after them than go to a tary hospital which is ited by almost "the tion in town.

NEW USES FOR NICKEL MEANT NEW JOBS IN CANADA

AT THE CLOSE of the last war, Nickel was no longer needed to build battleships and artillery. The demand for Canadian Nickel fell off sharply. Soon the Canadian Nickel mines had to close down.

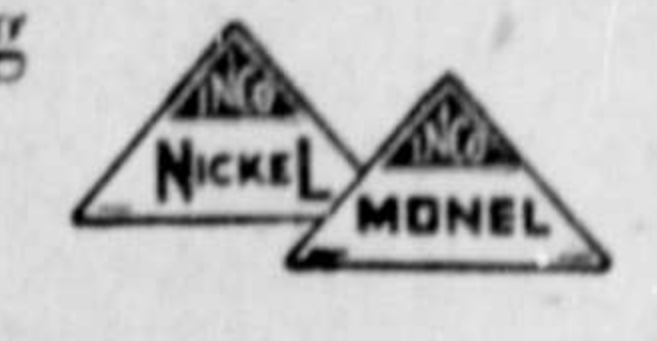

But the men who managed these properties could foresee possible new markets for Canadian Nickel in the growing automobile, electric, radio, chemical and other industries. They organized a Research and Development department to work with engineers in these industries, and to promote the use of Nickel and its alloys wherever better materials were required.

its smelting and refining plants. Within a decade it was paying out 15 millions of dollars a year in Canada for wages.

Although the entire output of Canadian Nickel is today diverted to war uses, this industry has definite plans for the post-war period.

Then it will turn again to its peacetime markets, and will proceed to develop new markets based on research now in progress. Through its own enterprise, the Canadian Nickel industry plans still greater contributions to Canada's prosperity.

Shortly, operations were resumed. In 1924, the Nickel industry opened a mine. In 1926 it began enlarging
