Florence Is Freed of Nazi Army

ROME, Aug. 12 (AP)—Germans drove all their forces from Florence today and the ancient city of art and culture was freed from ravages of battle. German armies remained on the bank of the Arno River. The Germans crossed to Florence and the hungry civilian population.

ARMORED UNITS DELAY BUT DO NOT STOP ALLIES — German armored forces such as these small sized but speedy carriers are falling to stop for long any of the several Allied thrusts into France. More and more such units are being rushed from Central Europe in an effort to hold up the Russians, British, Canadians and Americans.

PRICES HIGH—SICILY RETURNING TO NORMAL BUT BLACK MARKET FLOURISHES

BY BILL BOSS
Canadian Press War Correspondent

CATANIA, Sicily, Aug. 11 (AP)—With "Catania ripresa vita normale," Signora Marja Sangiorgi ended the message she was writing on the card we had agreed to deliver to her sister in Rome.

"Catania is back to normal again," she had written. Signora Sangiorgi ought to know. She's been living here for 45 years. Capt. Alisdair Fraser, Montreal; Sgt. J. E. DeGuire, Ottawa, and Lt. David King, Burlington, Ont., and myself remember Catania and Sicily as they were last year. Now, after renewing acquaintance, we agree with the signora.

Commodities are commanding high prices, principally because more money is in circulation, secondly because Sicilians will not co-operate in fighting the black market where everything one could want to eat is on the market—at a price.

Everyone receives a ration of 200 grams of bread (or flour), or pasta each day. Pasta is the grain preparation from which Italians make macaroni and spaghetti, the basis of their diet. This 200 grams represents a recent doubling of the ration from 100 grams. However, because bread and pasta are the staples, the ration is admittedly insufficient, and to supplement it Sicilians resort to the black market. Here, a month ago, they were paying $1 or more for a loaf of bread roughly two pounds in weight. Today, the same loaf fetches 80 cents because of the increase in the regular ration.

People can buy on the black market when the administration hasn't enough grain to raise the ration because of the enigma, the Sicilian farmer. He doesn't trust the provincial granaries and when ordered by the administration to turn over all his crop, he turns over a half, perhaps only a third. The rest he sells to the local black market racketeer. In the early days of the "liberation," AMG and the Allied Control Commission combatted the black market vigorously and

Russians Cut 15 Miles Into North Estonia in Renewed Drive

LONDON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Russians stepped 15½ miles through German lines on a 45-mile front in Southern Estonia, Friday capturing Petseri, key junction town, in a fresh effort to annihilate 300,000 Nazi troops trapped in Estonia and Latvia.

This Russian army captured 200 localities in Northern Poland while other Soviet units swept through 150 villages in a drive aimed at the border of East Prussia.

OTTAWA FORCING RESUMPTION OF TRAM SERVICE

OTTAWA, Aug. 12 (AP)—Labor Minister Mitchell announced today that the government has ordered two controllers in charge of Ottawa's tramways to resume service Monday.

Reserve Soldiers Break Camp Friday and Will Return Here on Sunday Night's Train—Cpl. Harry Edgar and Pte. Robert Simpson Left in Hospital

VICTORIA, Aug. 12—Prince Rupert Machine Gun Regiment is homeward bound from summer camp. Capt. J. R. Hall, Lieut. J. A. Teng and Lieut. R. E. Montador and some 40 other ranks entrained from Vancouver Friday night and will be back in Prince Rupert Sunday night. The remainder of the training group are staying over on the lower mainland and Vancouver Island for varying periods.

The day of departure, Friday, was marked by fine, sunny weather after a camp period during which Victoria offered conditions which were not much better than might have been had at home. One day was windy and wet, quite comparable with a Prince Rupert fall day storm.

Culminating event of camp was the ceremonial parade of Prince Rupert Machine Gun Regiment and the Third Battalion Canadian Scottish for inspection by Col. A. W. Sparling, D.S.O., officer commanding 39th Reserve Brigade.

Bands of the two units merged to make a fine showing. Later in the day, Prince Rupert moved out to take the boat from Victoria to Vancouver.

Prince Rupert Regiment leave behind in Victoria Military Hospital Cpl. Harry Edgar, suffering from a broken knee cap, and Pte. Robert Simpson, ill with chest condition. It will be a few weeks before they are home.

CLAIM YANKS NOW 50 MILES FROM PARIS

LONDON, Aug. 12—American advance armored columns in a dash across France were today reported to be somewhere within 50 miles of Paris.

Allied headquarters emphasized the need of secrecy of the movements of the columns in order to maintain confusion among the disorganized German defenders.

In London today a dim view is taken of last night's report that the Americans were already within the Paris suburbs.

On the British-Canadian front determined Allied thrusts are keeping large numbers of German troops tied up which otherwise would be available to resist the American advance.

The Canadians were reported to have made a two-mile advance below Caen after stiff fighting.

Battle of Russia Outstanding Record of Soviet Resistance

"An exceptionally interesting, informative, challenging and inspiring film that every citizen should see" were the words used by J. S. Wilson in referring to the film, "The Battle of Russia," shown by Sgt. J. C. MacKenzie, of the Pacific Command, Vancouver, in the city hall last night.

Sponsored by the Civil Defence Committee the program consisted of this outstanding film and a shorter one, "Welcome to Britain." The latter is intended to explain to American soldiers going to Britain some of the customs of the people in Britain and so enable them to govern their conduct accordingly.

The main feature, "The Battle of Russia," which runs for an hour and 40 minutes, briefly reviews previous invasions of Russia, and then in detail shows how by the courage and sacrifice of the people themselves under the inspired leadership of Stalin and the clever strategy of their generals, the Russians gave ground to the invading Germans but never gave up hope or the determination to suffer till they were in a position to drive the hated enemy out.

The epic defence of Leningrad, Moscow, Stalingrad, and other centres is all shown in official photographs. Altogether, the film is one of the most impressive ever seen, said Mr. Wilson.

As Sgt. MacKenzie will be in the city till next Thursday, other showings of the film to various groups and organizations can be arranged, and those interested should contact Sgt. MacKenzie through the recruiting office in Prince Rupert.

INDICATION OF GROWTH

Further indication of the growing importance of the Port of Prince Rupert is the plan for an expansion here of facilities for ship-to-shore and long distance telephone service.

No port of major importance on this continent is without a large-scale service of this kind.

The city council and Sam Massey, superintendent of telephones, are fully awake to the importance of expansion and will interject the best of relations into negotiations with the North-West Telephone Company involving the setting up here of a special toll board with a larger staff in the telephone exchange.

SILENCE IS GOLDEN

There is still need for each one of us to remain mum about anything we might know of the Allied war effort on the local, national or international front.

While temptations are great to "put right" someone who makes wrong statements or to outdo another in telling of military movements and actions, it is our patriotic duty to turn the conversation into other channels.

Pfc. William Brunelle of the American Army learned his security lessons well and, as a result, was instrumental in the catching of a spy-leader and his ring, long sought by authorities at Seattle.

Pfc. Brunelle met the man at a bar in the Puget Sound city before returning to Prince Rupert. The genial stranger began asking questions—too many questions about ships, sailing dates and other matters. Pfc. Brunelle told him nothing and forthwith reported him to the police, who picked up the man while the soldier was en route here.

Pfc. Brunelle's example is a good one and should be followed by others under similar circumstances.

While all of us cannot play an exciting role of counter espionage, we can help our war effort by giving no information to our enemies, who may be anywhere.

POORER BY $100

It requires more than courage of your convictions to contest a seat in provincial elections. First you should be sure enough people want you and believe in your platform—and you must be prepared to wager $100 you are popular with those people.

More than 50 candidates in the Alberta election apparently didn't have their eyes to the ground for they didn't attract enough votes to claim their deposits of $100.

Politicians and would-be ones might help themselves by doing a little less talking and more listening.

How much faith have barbers in their hair tonics? Then why don't they mix them with their shaving lather?

LETTERBOX

REPLIES TO ALDERMAN
Editor, Daily News:
We are asking you to print this letter in view of the criticism leveled at the Housewives' League by Alderman Elliott at the last meeting of the city council.

Our interest in our homes and the well-being of our children was the motive behind the formation of our league and our reason for continuing locally when the other branches disbanded. We believe that the welfare of our children is not confined to the four walls of our homes and the routine care and guidance received therein, but also on the conditions existing in the community as a whole.

With reference to Alderman Elliott's remarks regarding the "Tobacco Restraint Act," the Housewives' League wishes to point out that they were not responsible for the passing of the act, but merely asked that the city council enforce it. We consider that the contamination of our children regarding cigarette smoking is shared equally by both parents. We did not hear Alderman Elliott's voice raised in protest when some of our members assisted in the campaign to elect our Labor aldermen or when they assisted in other campaigns of local interest—to mention two, the Pioneers' Home and the Ambulance Fund.

It was very gratifying to note that Alderman Elliott's opinion was not shared by all the members of the City Council.

"Thank you for the use of this space."
(MRS.) GLADYS HOLT,
President Housewives League,
August 12, 1944.

BOOBY TRAP

Oddities...

Louis Felsenthal, genial president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, was asking for a morning supply of cigars. "I am sorry," the clerk said, "but there have been so many babies lately, our stock has been depleted."

Arnold Flaten, who holidayed recently at Smithers, was kidded at luncheon by fellow-Gyros. They asked if he had scouted the possibility of establishing a Gyro club at the fishermen's Mecca there, Lake Kathlyn. He laughed: "I found the boys of the district had caught all the bullheads."

Greater sympathy for the confused and bewildered workers on the Tower of Babel comes to those these days who occasionally suffer a slip of the tongue or have a mental cylinder blow a gasket.

Even news reporters are afflicted, and they spend several days after such a slip endeavouring to fathom the reason for it all.

At the moment the newsroom is asking itself why and how it scrambled the names of F. J. Skinner, president of Gyro, and R. S. St. Clair, Rotary head, and came out with Mr. Skinner as the Rotarian leader instead of Mr. St. Clair. Help of any psychoanalyst would be appreciated.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Pretty and most interesting to a wide circle of friends was the wedding of Miss Katherine Hall Pillsbury, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pillsbury, 4th Avenue West, and Hugh Llewellyn Keenleyside, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Keenleyside, Vancouver, which took place last night at 8:30 in St. Andrew's Anglican Church, Archdeacon G. A. Rix officiating.

The city council is up against the necessity of voting considerable more money to the board of works for plank road repairs or closing up many such streets as unsafe for traffic.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

This morning several of the aldermen and citizens waited upon Acting Mayor Morrissey and demanded a special meeting of the city council be called to cancel the request for troops to guard the city. Acting Mayor Morrissey said a legal meeting could not be called under 24 hours but it is understood an informal meeting will be held.

Several hundred men have been laid off the G.T.P. extra gangs, who have been doing ballasting, and a big train load arrived in the city yesterday.

Overwaita Opening Monday Noon In Their Attractive New Premises

Designed to make shopping more pleasurable, reduce the time required to make purchases and to display groceries, fresh vegetables and other commodities to the best advantage, the new store of Overwaita Ltd. opens Monday noon at its new location on 3rd ave. across from the Post Office.

The completely remodelled premises provide the store with an attractive appearance both inside and out.

Customers who wish to browse and those who desire speedy, efficient service will have their requirements fulfilled, says W. A. Jarmon, manager.

"We are providing semi-self service facilities with push- buggy baskets for those who wish to help themselves while 10 clerks stand ready to attend to the needs of those who require speedy attention," he explains.

Accentuates Airiness, Coolness of Store

The main floor of the store, measuring 60 x 25 feet, is designed to accentuate the airiness and coolness of the premises. Cream, white and green colors on walls and woodwork are pleasing to the eye. A large new light well and the spacious display windows lighten the entire store, assuring good visibility. For darker days, 11 300-watt modern electrical fixtures are provided.

Open shelves along both sides and the far end provide unrestricted display of commodities and allow for easy access.

Down the middle of the floor are placed low display stands, while at the front of the store are to be found the latest in fresh vegetable booths with an elevated mirror reflector to show the opposite side of the produce.

All fixtures are low and no window platforms have been installed, thus allowing the entire store to serve as a show room when viewed through the expansive window front.

The front is finished with black tile at the bottom and at the top there is stucco with a light green wash and medium green shadings. The name Overwaita is in dark green.

Large Warehouse Facilities Provided
Adding to the brightness within is battleship linoleum covering extending from wall to wall.

Behind the store, but contained in the same building, is a 40 x 25 foot storage room, cement-floored and roofed.

In addition to the sales staff, Overwaita Ltd. store has a warehouse man and a delivery driver to attend to the customers' requirements.

"Our policy here is to place the accent on sanitary handling of all foods," explains Mr. Jarmon.

"All bulk goods will be packed and sealed in cellophane containers before being placed on the shelves.

"As in the past we will carry a wide range of quality merchandise."

When the Overwaita Ltd. store closed six weeks ago in the premises now occupied by Rance & Hardy, the intention was to open in the new building within a month. Due to labor shortage this was not possible.

Overwaita Ltd. is a 100 percent B. C. company, operating on a strictly co-operative basis among its employees.

The Experts Say - - -

SMALL TALK: If you are one of the large number of Canadians who prepare special meals for the small children in your home, the Pensions Department Nutrition Division advises you to save time and energy by making the same basic meal do for both children and adults. And it needn't be dull for the adults, either. Build menus around the essential foods listed in Canada's Food Rules. Serve them cooked simply for the children; add a little imaginative flavoring and seasoning for the adults.

EGGS are one of our more important foods from a nutritional standpoint and they may be used liberally in our menus to add variety to summer meals. There are any number of ways: in sandwiches, combined with other foods as in souffles, added to sauces for extra smoothness and flavor, in desserts such as fruit whips.

Eggs hard cooked and devilled, sliced or chopped, may be added to salads, and when an egg per serving is allowed, a light salad becomes a main course like the following Garden Salad recommended by the Agriculture Department Consumer Section.

GARDEN SALAD: For six servings grate 1 1/2 cups raw beets, 1 1/2 cups raw carrots, 1 1/2 cups shredded cabbage and 1 1/2 cups finely shredded raw spinach. Hard cook six eggs. Arrange lettuce leaves on individual serving plates and arrange beets and carrots in lightly piled mounds on opposite sides on the plates. In between, place mounds of spinach and cabbage. Arrange sliced or devilled hard cooked eggs in centre of plate and garnish with parsley or watercress. Serve with dressing.

FLOWER TALK: With the gladioli season in charming bloom and the tall spikes of swing brightening every flower lover's home, this tip will extend the life of the flowers and your appreciation of them: When all but the top blooms on the stalk have wilted cut off the remaining flowers and float them in a large shallow dish of water. Their resemblance to water lilies will help the family cool off these sweltering August days.

VINEGAR ADDED to the water in the pressure cooker when canning will keep the metal interior shining and bright, the Prices Board experts say. Two tablespoons will do the trick.

EGG BEATERS: Tap the egg beater on your hand to loosen every last little bit of egg fluff when you are cooking. Bang-into the black market and sells at from $1 to $1.50 a quart. Equally is it the same with sugar, a reasonable quantity of which the island produces, and to a less degree with potatoes. Meat, cheese, vegetables, fruit are sold on the open market and prices are governed by normal laws of supply and demand. Foodstuffs supplied by the Allies are negligible, but there is enough food for everybody. In peacetime the island was eleventh-twelfth self-supporting and there's no reason for it to be less so now.

Transportation is also back to normal. All roads are in order; bus and truck services operate with special gasoline allowances from the Allies, and main railway lines are in order with the sole exception of a stretch on the east coast between Messina and Fluoreddo. Shortage of coal is the only limiting factor in railway services.

Postal, telegraph and telephone communications have been restored. Newspapers are produced daily, mostly on Canadian newsprint. Only restriction on freedom of the press is the same security censorship which applies to correspondents and writers, in any Allied theatre of operations.

Halibut Totalling 960,000 Pounds Brought Here This Week From Area 3, Second Heaviest Week of Season

From remote spots in the Pacific Ocean, American and Canadian halibut boats continue to pour in huge catches to maintain Prince Rupert as the world's No. 1 halibut port. This week from Area 3 960,000 pounds of the flat fish were landed here. The week of June 16-23, when 1,322,500 pounds were brought in, has been the only heavier week this season.

Of this week's catch, 670,000 pounds arrived in the American boats. Six Canadian boats brought in 290,000 pounds.

Total catch since the season started has been 7,870,300 pounds, of which 5,071,800 was Canadian and 2,798,500 was American.

Topping the fleet was the American boat Eagle, which sold 75,000 pounds to Storage Wednesday. The Zabora, with 52,000 pounds, brought in the heaviest Canadian catch on Monday.

D. B. Finn, deputy minister of the Department of Fisheries, is now on the Pacific Coast, having flown west from Ottawa on Wednesday. He will spend two or three weeks visiting fishing districts along the coast, including Vancouver Island and the Queen Charlotte Islands. On his tour, Dr. Finn will be accompanied by Major J. A. Motherwell, western chief supervisor for the department.

When contacted this morning, James Boyd, district supervisor of Fisheries, said he had received no word concerning a visit of the deputy minister to Prince Rupert.

While on the coast, Dr. Finn will take up with the salmon industry details of arrangements relating to this year's supplies of canned salmon for Great Britain. About 2,000,000 cases of frozen halibut will be exported to Great Britain this year, according to announcements made in Vancouver. This will be only a part of what will be probably one of the biggest export years on record.

In addition, a large portion of the canned salmon pack, estimated roughly at 1,500,000 cases, and nearly all the canned herring pack, will go overseas.

However, there will be at least as much canned salmon for the domestic market this year as last, according to Dr. D. B. Finn, who has been conferring with fishermen and operators from along the coast.

The sockeye pack for the week ending August 5 totalled 199,641½ cases, according to the Fisheries Department supervisor's weekly bulletin. District 2 packed 112,203 cases, of which 81,256 cases came from the Naas and Skeena areas.

Total salmon pack for the coast was 365,989½ cases.

Pinks are beginning to show up more strongly in packing records. In the same week, 104,852 cases of pinks were packed along the coast. District 2 packed 81,149 cases.

In District 2, 234,594 cases of salmon, all types, were packed during the week.
