Tide Will Turn Soon For China, Envoy Forecasts

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28—American and Chinese residents of this Coast of the Pacific have a broader, better view of the inter-related problems of the two trans-Pacific neighbor nations, as a result of the recent first visit here of Dr. Wei Taoming since he became China's Ambassador to the United States.

The former Mayor of Nanking, former Secretary-General of China's Executive Yuan (Cabinet), who directed the modernization of the Chinese judicial system, brought to his many countrymen on the Coast and to many Caucasian residents as well, a lucid interpretation of current affairs and future prospects relating to the two countries. Dr. Wei made several public appearances in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Dr. Wei's outlook on the long-range future is based on an optimistic view of the present and immediate future. "Though at the moment the war in my country is taking a serious turn," he said, "I have reason to believe that before the year is out the tide will turn, and the end of the conflict will not be far distant. With the elimination of Japan, a major obstacle to our political development will be removed."

The Chinese Ambassador addressed University groups, trade and commerce organizations and public mass meetings one in particular addressed to his countrymen and their American sons and daughters being delivered in the Chinese language.

Address at Berkeley

In his talk at the University of California, at Berkeley, he dealt with the question of democracy as applied to China, a question frequently posed, on basis of the fact that China's wartime government is not a democratic one.

"China has now entered upon her eighth year of war against Japan," he said. "This war is fought to decide two things. The first is whether a new world order will come into being, a new world order in which international brigandage will come to an end once and for all, and in which democracy will prevail. From this point of view, our war is essentially a part of the world-wide struggle for the survival of democracy."

"Secondly, this war will decide whether the aims of the Chinese National Revolution will be achieved. In this sense the present war is a part of our Revolutionary War which has been fought to build up a modern and democratic China. It was to frustrate this aim and to bring China under her hegemony, as part of her plan for world conquest, that Japan struck in 1931 and again in 1937. The key to contemporary developments in the Far East thus lies in the Chinese Revolution."

Coutances Expected to Fall Shortly

Break-Through Extends From St. Lo to the Sea

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, July 28 (CP)—Germans were offering little resistance today to a great American tank break-through across a 25-mile stretch of Normandy from St. Lo to the sea.

Fall of Coutances appeared imminent.

Highballing down a highway toward Brittany, one column reached within one and a half miles of Tassy-Sur-Vire, 10 miles south of St. Lo.

Another column fanned out to the West.

There was no authoritative indication of the number of Germans in the growing pocket formed by the spearheads, but it is believed that from four to seven divisions may be contained in the Coutances pocket.

Latin America Is Important In Peace Plan

HAVANA, July 28 (AP)—Dean Carl W. Ackerman of the Columbia Graduate School of Journalism, New York, asserted: "We cannot have world peace without including Latin America, but this fact needs to be made a matter of hemispheric education."

In an address prepared for a ceremony in which he received a degree of Doctor Honoris Causa from the University of Havana, Dean Ackerman urged continuous exchange of news and knowledge to perpetuate peace and friendship among nations, adding: "Unfortunately tension today between the United States and Argentina is an unhappy illustration of what can happen when the education of masses of people through the medium of news is interrupted."

A WORTHY SCHEME

The housing scheme which the minister of finance is presenting to Parliament at Ottawa and which is already being submitted to the communities of the Dominion, such as was done in Prince Rupert this week, should meet with widespread approval. Certainly, there is no city in the country to which it would be more acceptable than Prince Rupert where, generally speaking housing is none too good to say nothing of its scarcity. Even before the war decent houses were few enough here and since, of course, the housing situation has been notoriously desperate. After the war, or even before it is over, as acute manpower and material shortages become relieved, there will be many who will be anxious to grasp the opportunity of being able to build homes of their own under such generous terms as the government's new scheme offers.

There will, no doubt, be much activity in the way of home building as the war ends and it is gratifying to see that the government is taking action toward a program which will be adaptable to a large proportion of the population. The ownership of homes by the people at large would be one of the important means of ensuring happiness and prosperity.

VISIT OF AMBASSADOR

An event of importance to Prince Rupert and another recognition of the position of this port in the affairs of the country will be the official visit next month of the United States ambassador to Canada, Ray Atherton. It is well that Mr. Atherton should be fittingly received in token of the international post which he holds.

Prince Rupert is one of the places where, under the arrangements of war prosecution, the people and interests of the United States and Canada have been closely inter-associated. And, even after the war is over and the normal pursuits of peace are resumed, that association may be expected to continue and, quite possibly, be further developed.

THE PIONEERS' HOME

It is to be hoped that the project of the establishment of a new Pioneers' Home in Prince Rupert, no matter how the much-needed establishment is to be brought into being, will not be unduly deferred by any bickering over its location. Some exception has been taken to the Westview site but the city council has decided and reaffirmed the decision that it is the best available. So far no more acceptable site has been definitely suggested.

South Africa Is Romantic

Hospital Meetings End in Marriage for Many Canadian Military Nurses

JOHANNESBURG, July 28.—About 300 Canadian military nurses have come to South Africa in batches since the end of 1941, and between 40 and 50 of them—nearly one-sixth—have married here, mostly South Africans. Nearly half of the 300 have since returned to Canada; 75 are at present working in South African hospitals all over the country and recently 25 others left for the Mediterranean theatre as members of the South African military nursing service.

Marriages between Canadian nurses and South Africans "are a small but very pleasant way of doing a lot to promote good feeling between the two dominions," said a Canadian nursing official. Most of the marriages started as hospital romances.

Several French-Canadian girls who could hardly speak English when they arrived in the Union have married into Afrikaans families. They have learned to speak excellent English and a fair amount of Afrikaans.

One Canadian nurse now is the wife of Col. Douglas Haigh Lottus, D.S.O., D.F.C., well known South African fighter pilot. Another has married a newspaper editor.

Canadian nurses here for two years automatically receive the courtesy of Union nationality and also can claim a South African passport. If they marry South Africans they still retain Canadian citizenship, but this is not the case if they marry men of foreign nationality.

SPORTS

A cornet solo, "The Holy City," by Adams, will be played by Bandmaster Delament, and Bandmaster Robert Wybrow's arrangement of "Begin the Beguine" will be featured by the band. Other band numbers will be "O Canada," "Steadfast and True," "Bohemian Girl," "Bells of London Town," the popular George Gershwin melody "Liza," "Cossack Invocation and Dance," "Moonlight Madonna," "Tales of Vienna Woods," "Desert Song," "Abide With Me," "The Washington Grays" and "The King."

Joe Louis defended his heavyweight boxing title in a four-round battle at Yankee Stadium in New York that left Tony Galento, the Orange, N. J. barker, bleeding and helpless; five years ago tonight. The burly Tony exercised his frightening portside first in the third round, dropping the Brown Bomber suddenly and amazingly to the seat of his pants on the canvas. But from then on it was Louis' fight.

LETTERBOX

PIONEERS' HOME

The Pioneers' Home Fund Committee has heard statements to the effect that other good sites besides the one at present determined upon are available. As our committee is anxious to see the new home built on the best possible location, I have been instructed to ask any one knowing of a suitable parcel of land consisting of at least five lots, to communicate with the secretary, before August 5, giving full particulars.

The committee will carefully investigate all such proposals and will make recommendations to the City Council accordingly.

To avoid all delay, interested persons are asked to address themselves to the Secretary, Box 61, Prince Rupert, B.C.

Thanking you in advance for publication.

H. E. E. FAURE.

THE RIDLEY HOME

The oldest institution interested in the welfare of the needy young, in this north country, is the Ridley Home. It was founded for the care of white children who were orphans or lacked proper social or educational facilities. The home gave the children educational-cultural and domestic training in a sympathetic home atmosphere, and at a minimum cost.

While the home is under the auspices of the Anglican Church it is undenominational in its acceptance of children. The child and its needs come first, always.

It is a non-profit making institution. It gets no government aid but is assisted by the Anglican W. A. and in times of stress by a kind public.

Prior to the war an annual grocery shower was held which guaranteed a fair supply of tea, coffee, sugar, jam, etc. Rationing has changed all that and the home at present is considerably in the red.

The reason for this deficit is partly accounted for above but another factor is certain indifference or careless parents or guardians and a very kindly—I was going to say too kindly matron (God bless her!) The former frequently failed to meet their obligations. The matron will turn no child out, nor allow one to go ill-clothed—or to be physically neglected as to dental or other medical care. Hence the extra financial burden and the red.

The home needs your help to give the children a chance.

During the present matron's short tenure 128 children have been cared for.

We are hoping for generous donations.

New Rotarians Talk of Selves

Interesting autobiographical talks by two members—A. F. Field and Harry Howard—featured the regular weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club yesterday.

Mr. Field, accountant for the Lindsay Cartage Co., informed the club that he was born in London, England, and had his first employment with the Great Eastern Railway for which he worked ten years. Then he came to Canada and was engaged in farming in Saskatchewan for fourteen months after which he entered the employment of Canadian National Railways temporarily. Following that he was associated with accounting departments of mining companies at Anyox, in the Cariboo and at Copper Mountain, coming to Prince Rupert only last fall.

Mr. Hergert told his life story in a breezy and entertaining manner. He was born in Boston of Canadian parentage and, as a small boy, went to Winnipeg in 1902. In 1917 he joined the United States Navy and soon transferred to the transport service as a fireman, making trips to the West Indies and across the Atlantic. His ships had included the great German ship Imperator which was seized by the Allies. The adventures experienced on the first voyage on the Imperator, which functioned none too well and nearly met with disaster on at least a couple of occasions, were described in a racy manner. Mr. Hergert joined the Canadian National Express Co. in 1917 and became manager at Portage la Prairie in 1938, being in Chilliwack before coming here.

Members were reminded of the forthcoming local regional meeting of Rotary to be held in Ketchikan September 7, 8 and 9, it being planned to have a good attendance of officers and members.

T. N. Youngs expressed appreciation of assistance given by Rotary members at the recent Civic Centre Carnival.

Birthday congratulations were extended to C. A. Bird and A. D. Ritchie.

Announcement was made of the resignation from membership of J. W. Nicholls.

President R. C. St. Clair was in the chair and Rotarian Neil McKelvie of Prince George was a visitor.

We wish to extend our thanks and appreciation to Dr. Will Kerwin and the special nurses for their many kindnesses during our father's recent illness.

The McLEAN FAMILY.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral tributes, received from our many friends during our sad bereavement, in the death of a loving husband and father, N. M. McLean.

MRS. McLEAN and FAMILY.

Flowers were sent by the following: The family, Mr. and Mrs. C. Balagno and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Parsons, Vera and Brian, Peter and Isobel McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Wardale and family, Capt. Reg Green, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cavenalle and family, Inverness Cannery, R. W. Sinclair, Edna and Bertie, The Sewing Circle, Albert and Betty Dalzell, Eileen and Bob, Jessie and Lou Giddings, H. Ward, Thelma and Wilfred, Kenny and Lornie, W. Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. The Service Wives' Club met Thursday afternoon in the ladies' lounge at the Y with a smaller attendance than usual, only nine ladies and nine children being present. However, July and August are always low record months with so many on summer furloughs.

Mrs. Nelson donated the raffle which was won by Mrs. Strand. Club members presented the hostess with a charming pair of ear-rings as a farewell gift. Mrs. Strand and Mrs. Potvin served tea.

Chester Le Maistre and Frank and I would like to thank Mrs. Lock of the Prince Rupert Florists for the lovely flowers with which she has been keeping the hut supplied. They make the place so homelike. And thanks also to those in charge of the recent horticultural show who sent great armfuls of flowers to us.

Now that I have all the odds and ends of my work tidied up and time on my hands I have taken to jig saws with a vengeance. They nearly drive you crazy but they certainly sharpen what brains one has. I never knew there could be so many different colors look exactly alike when cut into little pieces. I've heard of some addicts who cheat at jig saw by carrying around a small pair of scissors and when nobody is looking they cut a piece to fit. The cads!

Do you remember that oldie called "Father, Dear Father, Come Home With Me Now?" We used to have it in a book of "Select Songs for Parlor Playing" (it's truth, that was its title) and now they have polished the old classic up and keeping the old tune call it "Behind Those Swinging Doors." First thing you know we'll be dancing to "Don't Go Down the Mine, Daddy" and "What Are the Wild Waves Saying?"

Forgot to tell you that I won at bridge the other night up at the K. of C. Hut. I played with CPO Large, Vernon Mullig and "A Guy Named Joe." Vernon and I were partners and in spite of the kibitzing of two parties called Mac and Murphy we trimmed the other two unmercifully. What a beating!

Local Girl Is Widowed

Lieut. Thomas Andrew Phelps Killed in Action in Normandy With Imperial Regiment

Lieut. Thomas Andrew Phelps, whose young widow is the former Miss Helen Green, daughter of Capt. Reg Green of this city, has been killed in action in Normandy with a Lancashire Imperial regiment, according to word received at the home here. The casualty occurred on July 18.

Lieut. Phelps was 24 years of age and was the son of Rev. J. E. W. Phelps, Anglican rector at Lytton, and Mrs. Phelps. He has a brother, Capt. James Phelps, who is overseas with the Rocky Mountain Rangers. He also has a little daughter, Anne, and there are two sisters.

Lieut. Phelps was with the R. M. R.'s here a couple of years ago and volunteered to go overseas as an officer with the Imperials.

General sympathy will be extended to the young widow who is a well known local girl.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Sorenson and son, Dickie, left last night for Vancouver on a two week's holiday.

"Anyone can have milk for delicious new dishes!"

SAYS ELSIE: "Don't let lack of milk keep you from enjoying new mealtime treats! Use KLIM Powdered Milk. Just mix with water to get creamy milk for making tasty biscuits, custards, soups and creamed sauces for vegetables and fish. Good for tea or coffee, too. Made, as needed, this milk is always fresh."

Good reasons why you'll like KLIM:

- 1 KLIM is pasteurized whole milk—powdered. Only the natural moisture has been removed. All the cream is left in.
- 2 KLIM keeps fresh indefinitely in its vacuum-sealed container. Even after opening, KLIM keeps fresh and sweet for a long time. (Note: Be sure to replace lid tightly.)
- 3 KLIM is light, easy to carry. Saves space. Ready for immediate use. Just follow the simple directions printed on the can.

KLIM is a vital product required in large quantities for our fighting forces everywhere. Naturally the amount for civilian use is restricted. However—for infant feeding—if you have difficulty in getting a sufficient supply have your dealer get in touch with us.

Londoner Tells Tall Yarn of His Search for Germans on Italian Front

By DOUG HOW
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE 8TH ARMY IN ITALY, July 28.—We met Peter Grainger poking around Cassino, the grimy, solid personification of the British Tommy. People had been coming to Cassino for days just to look upon its ruins and Peter had come because it seemed like an interesting thing to do.

His regiment didn't know where he was, Peter said. He had left it before the great Italian offensive had started because it was in reserve. He had put his rifle over his shoulder and gone out to find himself a battalion that would cross the Rapido river and fight for a bridgehead. He had gone across the river with the assault waves of one unit, had left it, too, when it went into reserve and had gone on with another.

When he came back to Cassino he was carrying a German machine gun and he had killed one German with it and captured two more.

All this Peter said. "Some people think I'm mad for doing things like this," he grinned. "But that's just the way I am."

Weeks after, we still don't know whether we should regard Peter Grainger of London, England, as the fightingest or the most mendacious Tommy of them all. But we thought we'd tell you about him anyway.

All along the road the Germans had abandoned vehicles. The Allied bombs, shells and bullets had ruined them or started a ruin the Germans finished before they left them behind as blackened, distorted skeletons. There were trucks and buses and cars like the one they had tricked and bullied from Pietro and Giuseppe back in Rome.

There were many more than Pietro and Giuseppe who had been tricked and bullied back in Rome. Three days before they fled the Germans spread through the city the report that those who brought out their cars could have petrol to run them again. Slowly, dubiously the Romans brought out their cars.

Then the Germans struck. They set up machine guns in the streets and grabbed off one vehicle after another. And that is how Giuseppe's car and Pietro's car came to be charred wrecks along the road the Germans took in flight.

Attractive Tea By I.O.D.E. Is Well Attended

Delight with the success of their tea Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. M. Foote was expressed today by officers of the Queen Mary Chapter, I. O. D. E., to The Daily News.

"The tea was highly successful with an attendance exceeding 160," one speaker said. "And because of the large number, the green lawns of Mrs. Foote's home were used. The weather was perfect for the occasion."

Proceeds will be used by the chapter for war work and educational programs.

Guests were received by Mrs. D. C. Stuart, chapter regent, and Mrs. Foote.

Tea tables were decorated with bowls of summer flowers and lace cloths, presided over by Mrs. W. W. Wrathall, Mrs. Charles Dodi-mead, Mrs. J. E. Boddie and Mrs. A. T. Parkin.

Mrs. J. M. Taylor, Mrs. Kempton and Mrs. Griffiths were servers. Mrs. E. Gammon was cashier. In the tea room Mrs. J. A. Teng was assisted by Mrs. E. V. Whiting.

Mrs. A. Logan, holding ticket No. 27, won an embroidered cloth in a raffle conducted by the chapter and which was under the charge of Mrs. R. Scherk. Mrs. C. P. Balazog, with ticket No. 43, won a cake. Both prizes were donated by Mrs. Griffiths.

Mrs. David Scott Honored by W.A.

Wednesday afternoon the members of St. Peter's Church Woman's Auxiliary gathered at the home of Mrs. J. W. Moorehouse to honor one of the earliest members, Mrs. David Scott, who will be leaving the city shortly to make her home in the south.

Mrs. W. W. Tattersall, a life member of the Woman's Auxiliary, with a few well chosen words, presented Mrs. Scott with a beautiful leather handbag as a token of respect on behalf of the members of the Woman's Auxiliary and wished her the best of luck.

Mrs. Scott replied suitably. Tea and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, ably assisted by the ladies present.
