Achieved British and Canadians Capture Major Port-Americans

Take La Haye

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS OF ALLIED EXPEDITION-ARY FORCE, July 10-General Bernard Montgomery's British and Canadian forces early Sunday captured Caen, second objective of major importance since the invasion of France commenced, first having been Cherbourg. Caen is France's seventh port in importance. It fell after a typical concerted Montgomery drive of air bombing, artillery, tanks and infantry which got under way on Saturday. The town and its shipping facilities was found to be badly damaged and much repair work will have to be done before the port can be used. Late yesterday German snipers were still active within the town. While Caen was falling to the British and Canadians, La Haye du Puits was being taken by the Americans who were advancing along a 35mile front.

The British Second Army struck a hard blow eastward on a three-mile front at the Germans' left flank three miles south of newly-occupied Caen today, capturing Eterville and advancing to within less than a mile of the River Orne. This new attack came just 15 hours after the Canadians and the British had taken Caen which is 120 miles from Paris, opening the way to a favorable flat battleground.

At the western end of the bridge, according to an official communique today, the Americans advanced in all sectors following the capture of La Haye du Puits, bitterly defended German stronghold.

The German radio said today that the Americans had captured Sainteny on the Carentan-Periers road Cherbourg Peninsula.

Spectacular Russian Offensive . . .

It is great headway that the Russians are making these days for our side in the war. "Half way from Moscow to Berlin" was the way they spoke of the situation on Saturday the same day that Joseph Stalin was purported to have said that Red Army would be in Germany proper (East Prussia) in five days. All of which makes us reflect that the Soviets may be in the German capital sooner than we had expected—an idea that maybe might seem a little fantastic after all these hard years of war.

There can be no means of fair comparison of the progress that the Allied forces are making on the western front with that of the Russians on the east. We on this side are hammering against great and solid defencee works which have been years in the making over a comparatively small area. On the other hand the Russians are able to sweep forward over vast expanses of country where the Germans have had no time or opportunity to establish fixed defences. However we must acknowledge and pay tribute to the great fight that our Russian Allies are putting up and admit that their spectacular conquests day after day are contributing in no small way to the ultimate victory.

Desperation of Germany . . .

Signs are not lacking that the Germans may be cracking and, no doubt, these huge successes of the Red Army are having their damaging effect upon the morale of Hitler's people. The Germans are starving for some successes after many months of reverses and the only way they have been able to score anything in the way of successes of late has been the rocket bombing of Britain which there is Sport Chat no denying has been hurting the Old Land badly and which Prime Minister Churchill frankly admits Area Softball League games to has not yet been effectively combatted.
