Keeping Us Reminded...

Every time Ed. Kenney, the energetic and popular member of the Legislature for our neighboring riding of Skeena, comes to town from Terrace he seems to have some interesting and constructive suggestions in regard to what we ought to be doing to further the development and interests of this part of the country. The port of Prince Rupert appears to have a most consistent and active friend and advocate in the person of Mr. Kenney, the interests of whose own riding of Skeena are, of course, so completely linked up with Prince Rupert.

Today we have an interesting interview from Mr. Kenney telling us to keep on driving for the Peace River railway and highway outlets and to campaign for a steel mill on this part of the coast in view of the iron resources readily accessible in the Copper River country to the southeast of Terrace. Mr. Kenney also includes as something a little newer in his list of undertakings for the development of this part of the country a rural electrification scheme for the central interior.

The western railway and highway outlet proposals for the Peace River are not particularly new but, in these times when important plans are being made for postwar rehabilitation and development, it is important that they should be kept to the fore. The steel mill project has been mooted for years but there has been a tendency of late to lose sight of the advantages of this immediate district for such a project. The benefits that would be derived from a rural electrification project in the interior are, of course, obvious.

We are busy people here in Prince Rupert these days with our immediate tasks in view of the intensity of war conditions. We are inclined to overlook the importance of keeping driving for projects that will be required by Prince Rupert if the stimulus presently caused by the emergency requirements of waging war is to be retained in at least a measure after the war is over. It is well that there are men like Mr. Kenney around to remind us of such things. We would do well to keep them to the fore.

Sidestepping the Japanese Issue...

The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation in British Columbia should not endeavour to sidestep the Japanese issue which is much to the fore in the province at this time. However, to say that it is a matter which will be for Ottawa to decide after the war does not in any way alter or moderate the stand that has already been expressed on behalf of the party and its members on the subject. It could not be, of course, that the C.C.F. would endeavour to postpone a definite expression of its attitude until after an election. Surely the Socialist party would not be weakening on its convictions. If the C.C.F. senses that it would be well to change its stand altogether on the Japanese issue in order to fall in line with what appears to be the popular attitude on the matter the least it could do would be to express itself to that effect. Later dispatches today indicate it is not changing its mind.

Overseas Mail Service...

During recent weeks there have been many complaints of delay and non-delivery of mails to and from members of the armed forces overseas. There is no doubt that there have been delays. Some, possibly, might have been avoided but some were probably quite unavoidable. Relatives and friends, on the one hand, and the men in the services themselves, on the other, are naturally impatient for their mail and it is sometimes difficult to explain to them acceptably the whys and wherefores of delays.

Meanwhile the Postmaster General has authorized an advertising campaign in the press explaining the reasons for delays in the mail and the steps which should be taken by those in Canada sending mail overseas to insure its proper delivery including proper addressing, the use of lightweight paper and the proper packaging of parcels. We would suggest that each and one of the advertisements be perused very carefully.

The principal causes for delays to overseas mail have been listed as follows:

- (1) The lack of transport, both air and surface, on account of the imperative and incessant requirements for vital operations.
- (2) Adverse transAtlantic weather usually prevalent in the winter months.
- (3) The necessary movement of personnel from unit to unit and location to location to meet the exigencies of active operations, and the need of tracing these men and re-directing their mail.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A.

(By DOROTHY GARBUTT)

Tuesday night is the night of the big dance up on the Hill, the first of a series of monthly dances the Acropolis boys are holding in their new Recreation Hall. All the services and their girl friends are being invited. It is under the auspices of the Special Branch of the American Army.

Thursday night the Eleventh Avenue Camp has "the usual". By the way how are the dancing lessons out at that camp coming along, Carl? There ought to be a lot of hep cats out there by now—or are the boys the alligators? I'm not quite up on the proper jive vocabulary.

It has just been brought to my notice that Mrs. J. H. Sheddon has been very kindly giving our hospital visitors magazines to distribute to the services' wives. It is very kind indeed of her and we appreciate this good will gesture on her part.

I had such an interesting letter from Mable Darling who was one of our hostesses during the year and a half she was in Prince Rupert working with one of the construction companies. She is now up in Whitehorse and says...

"We had a rather rugged, eventful trip getting here and now that it is all over naturally a lot to laugh about, yet at times none of us were in a laughing mood. This town is definitely not the same town I knew when last here but then I did not expect to find it so. Our living quarters are nice, the food excellent, would love you to have lunch with me, you really would enjoy it. As far as recreation is concerned that is a subject I cannot judge fairly as yet. I certainly miss all the fun I had in connection with 'Y' affairs, and I also definitely miss the Navy, bless 'em and tell them so for me too. I had an interesting trip since coming here when I flew out to Fort St. John, from there over part of the Alcan by car to Dawson Creek. But I've never seen such mud, mud of the nice sticky, gooey variety that adheres beautifully to one's feet. Have found two of the girls who used to be in Rupert with me, Alice Briggs of Lethbridge and Ivy Hartwell of Edmonton, both lovely girls and good company. Their office has a bowling league and I had the good fortune of being added to their list. Had a real work-out for me—two hours and a half, seven games, low score 43 and high 117. Now I work all week just waiting for Sunday morning to roll around when I can bowl again. My love to the "Navy" and much to yourself. Sincerely, Mable Darling."

A MINUTE TO GO..

If you had the power
To shorten the war
By a day
Or an hour
Or even a minute...

Would you balk at the task
Would you grumble
And ask
"What's there in it?"

Would you stop to ask "why"
When a dozen will die
In the tenth of a moment
It takes you to sigh?

You can shorten the war
By a minute or more
With a magical wand
Called a Victory Bond

Local firemen kept their hand in practice on Sunday by putting out a fire which broke out while one of their trucks was being filled with gasoline from the pump in front of the fire hall. The engine of the truck had inadvertently been left running while gas was being poured into the tank and, when some of the fluid was spilled, a fire resulted. It was extinguished before any damage was done to the truck.

St. Peter's Junior Sale Is Success

Girls of East End Church Received Excellent Support.

The members of Saint Peter's Junior Women's Auxiliary held a very successful sale in the Parish Hall on Friday last. They were well supported by their parents and friends. Mayor H. M. Daggett opened the proceedings. Rev. E. W. Scott acted as chairman.

The Junior Women's Auxiliary prayer was said by the children in a group, followed by prayers by Canon W. F. Rushbrook.

The room was decorated with two trees with budding spring leaves to which artificial spring flowers were attached.

A pleasing item was the presentation of two quilts, which the children had made, one to the Ridley Home and the latter to Bundles for Britain. The first was received by Mrs. T. B. Gibbon, acting for Miss N. E. Bird, and was presented in a neat speech by the small Dorcas Secretary, Patsy Wardale.

The second was received by Mrs. A. J. Croxford on behalf of the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion. This was presented by the secretary, Margaret Wardale. Both ladies received the gifts with suitable remarks.

The President, Lavinia Elliott, in a very pleasing speech, welcomed the mayor and the guests inviting them to have tea and calling upon His Worship to declare the sale open. Mr. Daggett congratulated the children on their work and wished them success. The Junior Women's Auxiliary was assisted by the Girls' Auxiliary.

Those in charge of the stalls were:

Home Cooking—Lois Herbert, Janie Intermela, Shirley Freemet.

Sewing—Margaret Wardale, Lou Smith, Norma Montgomery.
Plants and Flowers—Adele Stonehouse, assisted by Mrs. A. H. Hill-Tout.

Variety Stall—Lavinia Elliott, Christine McWhinnie and Patsy Wardale.

Serviteurs—In the room were: Gwen Smith, Clara Warfield, and Patsy Freemet, assisted by Kay Toombs.

The kitchen was in charge of Ethel Hemmons, assisted by Mrs. David Scott.

Rev. E. W. Scott brought the proceedings to a close, thanking the mayor and all present for their attendance and support.

Social Hygiene Campaign Here Is Appreciated

The Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce has received many favorable reactions to its recent effort, in collaboration with the local public health unit, in the observance and bringing before the public the occasion of Social Hygiene Week. A number of congratulatory letters have been received including one from Joseph Liechstein, national chairman of the venereal disease campaign, who was impressed with the fine work. For one thing it was the most ambitious special newspaper supplement undertaking that had ever been essayed in Canada. Ward Sharp, provincial chairman for venereal disease control, also writes along similar lines and as well there are appreciative letters from Dr. R. G. Knipe, director of the local public health unit; B. Thorsteinsson, inspector of schools, the local Canadian Congress of Labor and the session of the United Church.

An especial tribute to the effectiveness of the special newspaper editions was a request from the Department of National Health for one thousand copies, an order which could not be filled because the supply of papers had long since run out. Now the Junior Chamber committee is trying to

At last week's meeting a vote of appreciation was passed to the committee which handled the campaign. The committee included C. F. McCarthy, chairman; R. G. Birch, Hugo Kraupner, Amerigo Dominato, Douglas Wood, Len Griffiths, Hawthorne Graham, Charles Linton and others.

Incidentally, as a result of the financing campaign, there was a $19 cash balance which was ordered turned back to the committee in order to continue the work.

WE CAN'T GAMBLE ON THE WEATHER!

A plain statement about the coal situation in Western Canada and why householders should buy next winter's coal NOW.

DURING THE PAST WINTER, the problem of coal supply was eased by unusually mild weather. But we cannot depend on another mild season next winter.

The coal needs of Western homes must this year be met by coal mined in the West.

Since the war started, consumption of coal in Western Canada has substantially increased — while available skilled manpower has decreased.

In pre-war days, mining slackened off during spring and summer without endangering supply. This year, only by continuous operation can Western mines meet Western coal needs next winter.

To make continuous operation practical, consumers' orders must be placed now. Only in this way can storage and transportation problems be met. A season's supply cannot be stored either at the mines or in dealers' yards. Nor can our over-strained transportation systems carry a season's supply during the heating season.

This puts it squarely up to consumers to protect themselves by getting their orders in at once — by taking coal as soon as it can be delivered. Help keep the system of mining, transportation and delivery moving without interruption.

If you buy at once, you will be sure of adequate heat in your home next winter — and you will be more likely to get the grade and size of coal best suited to your needs.
