OF ROME

The Allies libering & Sunday night. Arriving at the outskirts of the Etern - ne Fifth Army waited for three hours for the German s withdraw. Then they moved into a southern working people's area. The Nazis fell back after putting up a feeble stand. The main German forces are in flight now between the Tiber River and Alban Hills, desperately endeavouring to extricate themselves northeastward. As the Fifth Army approached the outskirts of the Eternal City, the Germans had not yet withdrawn from the city and it was not certain as to whether they would give up without a struggle. It took a few hours to determine whether or not the city would be spared from becoming a battleground. Berlin said that thousands of Allied planes were soaring overhead and admitted that in land fighting the Allies seemed to have everything in the way of reinforcements to meet German counter-attacks.

INVASION TALK QUIETER

Following Saturday's false report by the Associated Press that Allied landings had been made on the coast of France, invasion talk was quiet today. In Britain there were not even rumors of invasion moves. Berlin propagandists have changed their tune and, are now saying that an invasion is "far from imminent" and "is nowhere near."

MORE AMERICAN LANDINGS

United States forces have landed on three more islands of the Schouten group to the north of Netlands New Guinea.

SATURDAY'S AIR ASSAULT Two thousand Allied planes were over Belgium and Northern France Saturday. It was said that every foot of Belgium was subject to attack, so thick were the planes in the skies.

Labor - Progressive Organizer Spikes Statement That Soviet is Going Capitalistic

The idea that Soviet Russia is swinging away from socialism is one that has arisen without foundation several times in the past 20 years, Tom McEwen, British Columbia Labor-Progressive party organizer, told meeting in the I.O.D.E. hall Sunday night when he spoke on the topic, "Is the Soviet Union FOR ALLIES Abandoning Socialism." FOR ALLIES

"There have been recent claims from many sources that the Soviet Union is changing its way of life and becoming respectable by going back to capitalism," he declared. "That idea is wrong. It is one that has nese and Americans have gained insisted that there was nothing good about socialism and, now, finding themselves wrong, refuse to admit it."

NAPLES, June 5 (CP) — Rome was liberated last night by Fifth Army tanks and infantry which fought German rearguards to the edge of the ancient Forum. The mop-up of the heart of the city, which was found to be 95 per cent intact, was complete by 9:15 p.m. (12:15 noon Pacific Daylight Time). North of the city planes battered the fleeing Germans, wrecking or damaging at least 600 vehicles as the Allies sought to annihilate Nazi divisions in Italy. The roads leading northeastward from Rome between the Tiber River and the Alban Hills were littered with Nazi dead and abandoned fighting equipment.

When formations of the Fifth and Eighth Armies met on the Via Casilina, Lieut. General Sir Oliver Leese, Eighth Army commander, said "the road from Naples to Rome is open." The junction was made at noon Saturday prior to Rome's fall Sunday night.

Canadian infantrymen, with Sherman tanks and American infantry, were the first to enter the city. The Allies then swept northward in pursuit of the battered Germans who had dynamited some installations.

How much of the city was razed was not immediately learned but most of the fightig occurred in the suburban areas.

Chancellor Adolf Hitler issued a bulletin say- Lafontaine Park and nearby ing that the Germans had withdrawn northwest of the city and General Kesselring had submitted to the Vatican for transmission a series of proposals whereby Rome would be made an "open

Allied forces continued to stream through the captured Italian capital city today, crossing the Tiber River and pressing relentlessly against the German Tenth and Fourteenth Armies as they streamed northward under the demoralizing attacks from the Allied air forces.

Flying approximately 2,000 sorties, the Mediterranean force Sunday destroyed and damaged 1,200 enemy vehicles in front of advancing Allied armies. Fighter-bombers hammered at the fleeing Germans, leaving congested highways to the north littered with dead and wounded and smashed ve-

American diplomats in Washington viewed Rome's fall as speeding the grand assault on Hitler's Europe.

General Mark Clark said today that large parts of the Tenth and Fourteenth German armies had been destroyed and the Fourteenth possibly was altogether unable to take part in further battles. Thousands of prisoners have been taken, the general said.

Speakers for two factions of the labor movement got together at a meeting arranged by the Boilermakers' Union in the Eagles' Hall Friday night and, adroitly avoiding debate on conflicting elements of their policies, made speeches which touched various angles of unionsm and government.

The speakers were Herbert Gargrave, C.C.F. member for Mackenzie, and Tom McEwen, provincial organizer for the Labor Progressive party. Mr. Gargraves dealt generally with union work in British Columbia, and levelled criticism at the Federal labor code order P. C. 1003, which set aside the provincial Conciliation and Arbitration Act. He said that it contained

The physchological effect of the Fall of Rome may strike in many ways, some of which we may not immediately think about. Silverleaf Lard

Now in good supply and very reasonably priced, this fine cooking fat should be on every housewife's shelf

There was a time not so very long ago, when there seemed to be a real risk that we in Canada might find ourselves short of cooking fats. Fortunately, the efforts of Canadian farmers have averted that danger and now there is no reason why every kitchen in Canada should not be supplied with a pound or two of that wonderful standby, Silverleaf Lard.

Not only is lard a very valuable source of energy but it also contains other vital elements absolutely essential to health. Use lard in all kinds of delicious dishes, for panfrying and of course in baked goods. It is good-good for you -and we now have enough.

RHUBARB PIE

11/2 cups sifted 1/2 tsp. baking powder pastry flour 7 thsps. chilled 1 tsp. salt Silverleaf Lard Ice cold water

Mix and sift into a bowl the flour, salt and baking powder. Cut half of lard into these dry ingredients, to the size of wheat grains-then cut in remainder of lard, to the size of small peas. Sprinkle with cold water, and mix with a fork, adding enough water to make a dough which will just form a mass that cleans easily from the bowl. Chill.

FOR THE FILLING 5 cups 1/2-inch 6 thsps. flour

11/2 cups sugar pieces of 1 thsp. butter Prepare the rhubarb. Add combined flour and sugar. Turn mixture into a deep pie dish (the sides may be lined with rolled-out pie-paste, if desired) dor with butter. Moisten edges of dish. Roll out paste, slit for escape of steam, and place over the rhubart Trim and crimp edges. Bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees, for 12 minutes, then reduce heat to moderately hot, 375 degrees, and bake until thubarb is tender and crust baked and nicely browned. Note: A support may be placed in the centre of the pie dish before turning in the filling.

There seemed to be endless parades and, as befitting parades given for a notable woman, most of the participants seemed to be women and children. There were lovely little drum majorettes, whole drum corps of girls dressed in Chinese costume, tiny children in colorful garb and ingenious and artistic floats. And everywhere the flew side by side.
