Convoy Finds Skeena Highway Along Scenic Route in Good Condition; Engineers Pleased, But Road Not Open to Public

By J. K. McLEOD
(Daily News Staff)

The first vehicles to make an unbroken trip over Skeena River Highway from Prince Rupert to Terrace passed over the muddy, boulder-strewn summits east of Prince Rupert at 3:30 Friday morning and sped down the long grade to Tyee, then up at river level to the interior town.

FISH FLEET TIE-UP REDUCED CATCH

SEATTLE, Aug. 5 (CP) — The International Fisheries Commission has reported the fishing fleet landed 36,929,000 pounds of halibut in Pacific Coast ports between April 16 and July 31, compared with 42,057,000 for the same period a year ago.

The decrease was attributed to the fleet tie-up over prices. Canadian vessels landed 3,091,000 during July.

DEFENDERS OF HENGYANG SAVE CANTON RAILWAY

CHUNGKING, Aug. 5 (CP) — Chinese defenders of battered Hengyang are still holding off the Japanese after 40 days' fighting, arousing the hope that the enemy plans to conquer the entire Canton-Hankow railway would be shattered on Hunan province battlefield.

British Knocking Loose Keystone Defences to West of Orne River

Capture Five Towns For Weeks—Yanks 35 Miles from Brest

ALLIED SUPREME HQ., Aug. 5 (CP) — British, knocking loose a keystone of German defences west of the Orne river, have advanced several miles on an eight-mile front and swarmed into evacuated Villers-Bocagee.

British forces also captured Esquay, Evrey and Hills 112 and 113, all points that Germans defended fiercely for weeks.

Germans are withdrawing from the whole Orne-Odon Valley, southwest of Caen.

Americans swarmed over half the Breton Peninsula, thrusting the enemy to the port of Nantes at its base and reaching within 35 miles of Brest.

The British advance brings closer the possible major German retreat to the Seine River, opening the way to Paris.

AVIATION RESEARCH—
WARTIME LEGACY FOR PEACE ERA

By JEAN THOMPSON
TORONTO, Aug. 5 (CP) — Men's clothes change little year by year in civilian life, but five years of war have greatly modified both the materials and appearance of the flying togs of Canada's airmen.

Research work is concentrated in Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa due to the comparative smallness of personnel. Developments are tried out on operational stations throughout the Dominion, and after sufficient testing go into production.

Squad. Ldr. J. R. Thompson, Medical Intelligence Officer at Ottawa, emphasized that the work of scientists and research workers, not only in clothing, but in many other particulars was of double-barrelled importance.

First the war has to be won, but in future all the inventions for the safety and comfort of fliers will have direct application to peace-time aviation for which Canada has thousands of trained airmen to draw upon and in which she occupies such a unique geographical position.

Variations in temperature and pressure between the earth's surface and an altitude of 25,000 feet complicate the functional requirements of clothing. Once an airman leaves the ground he is equipped for that particular flight no matter what he is going to do or where or how he is going to do it.

Thus the physiological and physical aspects of clothing are extremely important for a flier who may take off at a temperature of 90 degrees and experience 40 below zero before he lands.

Warmth is directly related to thickness and any part of a flier's togs subjected to pressure will tend to be less effective against cold.

Canadian aviation research found the answer by developing double pile wool fabric, that is pile on both sides of a single ply of material. Made of Canadian wool and used as an interlining in flying suits, it resists and recovers well from compression.

For flights over the North Atlantic or the Indian Ocean, for low level strafing or high level bomber flights, aviation clothing must be tested for wind and water resistance, wearing and bursting strength, warmth and protection from flash burns.

Helmet not only protect the head but carry earphones, microphones and oxygen mask. When medical aviation research increased the efficiency of the mask a tighter fitting helmet was required. Exhaustive head measurements—18 on each of 1,000 air crew, were reduced to six standard sizes. Service tests resulted in the production of a tighter, more compact, and at the same time more efficient and comfortable helmet.

It is interesting to note that the loss of Malaya and its great rubber resources had repercussions on the ear "bun" of the R.C.A.F. helmet. Within the bun is the telephone of the inter-communication system. Insulated against noise with weighted rubber, a whole new series of experiments had to be undertaken to adapt rubber substitutes.

COATS FROM 'CHUTES
LONDON (CP) — Government plans are being made for selling surplus stocks as soon as the war ends and already parachutes, no longer usable, have been converted into attractive-looking coats for barbers.

TRAINBUSTER WITH AUSSIES
LONDON (CP) — Wing Cmdr. Gordon Panitz, D.F.C., known for his daylight trainbusting exploits, has taken over command of a second R.A.F. Australian Mosquito fighter-bomber squadron.

FOR BETTER UNDERSTANDING

There is good psychology back of the local Rotary Club's policy to have new members introduce themselves with an autobiography.

By this means the introvert and extravert are soon recognized, as are the egotists. But most important of all, the entire membership is brought closer to the new member because they know something of his history—of his life.

People like to know something about those with whom they have business and social dealings. The more they know of the other fellow, the better they understand him—and for the most part, the better they like him.

With understanding comes tolerance and many times a great admiration for the other fellow, who may be carrying a heavy load quietly and with dignity.

SPARE THE GARDENS

Those who enjoy music will find pleasure at Sunday's concert by the U.S. Army Port Band. In return for this fine program only two things are asked. They are that the public take care while on the green lawn at the Court House to spare the bushes and gardens and to refrain from littering the grounds with paper and waste material.

The privilege of using the attractive grounds may be expected just so long as that privilege is not abused.

SEA CADETS DO WELL

Credit to themselves and Prince Rupert was done by members of the Captain Cook Sea Cadet Corps and officers, who attended training camp at Whyteliff Park, West Vancouver, recently.

Their training carried them to a higher degree of efficiency and smartness than they were at the time of the annual inspection when they were rated the finest corps in British Columbia.

In sports events the local corps members did well, and they won the Trail trophy for the best cutter crew in competition with crews from Trail, Penticton and Kelowna. In the softball competition they placed second.

The Rupert Corps band under Chief Petty Officer Pete Johnson came in for much commendation, and visitors from H.M.C.S. Discovery in Vancouver rated it one of the best cadet bugle bands they had ever heard.

Various Prince Rupert officers contributed much to the general success of the camp. Lt. G. Holby was camp training officer. Sub-Lt. J. Wilson was camp gunnery officer, Chaplain E. W. Seott was chaplain. Lt.-Cmdr. A. S. Mitchell the post of camp executive officer during an interim period which resulted when the R.C.N.V.R. executive officer was drafted. The remaining Rupert officers, Sub-Lt. Breen and Sub-Lt. Christensen, and Midshipman Macey acted as divisional officers and assisted in various branches of the instruction.

Local petty officers and chief petty officers also contributed greatly to the general success of the camp.

R.P.O. McGreish was posted to the regulating office as general assistant, C.P.O. V. Ciccone acted as battalion gunners' mate and C.P.R. W. Davies was company gunners' mate for "A" Company.

Windsor Station (upper) headquarters of the Canadian Pacific Railway's wide flung travel system.

Day by day, travellers by the score and citizens of Montreal watch the progress of the war on huge wall maps in the Concourse of Windsor Station (upper right).

A few of the 2,500 employees of the C.P.R. whose offices are contained in Windsor Station are shown (lower).

HISTORIC Windsor Station in Montreal, nerve centre of the vast Canadian Pacific Railway system, is much more these wartime days than merely a place to get on or get off trains. Under the impetus of war and in keeping with C.P.R. traditions of service, many new features for the use of the general public have been added.

Not the least can be viewed in the flag-bedecked Concourse, where four huge wall maps have been installed depicting the Pacific Theatre, the Italian Front, the fighting in France and the Russian Front. Each day brightly colored thumbtacks are re-arranged to show the very latest gains as announced by the army headquarters in each theatre of war.

Over 2,500 officers and employees of the C.P.R. are stationed in Windsor Station, which first opened its doors in 1889. Each day between six and eight thousand telephone calls are made over the company's switchboard there, as well as many long distance business calls over the company's own wires which stretch from Halifax to Vancouver.

Kings and queens, lords and ladies, diplomats, dowagers, immigrants seeking a new life of freedom, young servicemen starting for the far corners of the earth—all these have passed through Windsor Station's lofty portals not only during this war, but in the days of other wars and the years of peace between. Windsor Station is a worthy monument to the world's greatest travel system and the country it so faithfully serves.

Mystery Joins With Suspense In Capitol Show

"Gaslight," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film at the Capitol Theatre Monday and Tuesday, is an exciting and dramatic story.

Featured by outstanding performances by the cast headed by Charles Boyer, Ingrid Bergman and Joseph Cotten, "Gaslight" will keep you on the edge of your seat as it relates the story of the beautiful young singer, portrayed by Miss Bergman, who marries her accompanist, Charles Boyer, and with him sets up home in the London house where her aunt, a famous singer, was murdered.

Deliberately, Boyer sets out to drive his wife mad. Just why, and through what ingenious methods are well told on the screen.

The entrance upon the scene of a Scotland Yard man, played by Joseph Cotten, brings the picture to a tense and highly thrilling climax.

From The Daily News Files...

TWENTY YEARS AGO

A pretty wedding of much local interest took place last evening in the Baptist Church. Rev. J. J. Smith officiated when Miss Evelyn Shenton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Shenton, 528 8th ave. west, became the bride of Peter Hackett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hackett Sr., Vancouver.

Twelve express refrigerator carloads of fresh halibut amounting to about 300,000 pounds were dispatched east by fast freight.

An 80-foot extension of a 4-inch water main is to be furnished by the city to the site on the waterfront near Seal Cove, where the Somerville Cannery is to establish a cannery.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

The Militia Department has issued orders for a mobilization at Quebec of Canadian army divisions numbering 21,000 men.

A local manufacturers' agent has received wires to the effect that delivery of canned goods cannot be guaranteed for any length of time. Wholesale butter has gone up.

Stating it is no use waiting until a hostile German ship blows up the dry dock and destroys the railway, the Daily News urges the dominion government to take immediate steps towards fortifying the port of Prince Rupert.

FOUR YEARS AGO IN THIS WAR

Aug. 5, 1940—Reported British aircraft production is running "neck and neck" with German output; R.A.F. continued raids on German objectives; Mayor Camille Houde of Montreal arrested by R.C.M.P. under the War Measures Act.

Aug. 1940—R.A.F. bomber Paris and military objectives in Germany, Holland and France; Russia admitted Estonia to Soviet Union; U.S.-Russian trade pact signed.

Allied gasoline and oil requirements, whether military or civilian, all come from the same sources.

SMITHERS

G. H. MOGDAN HAS BEEN 31 YEARS ON C.N.R. LINE

SMITHERS—Gus H. Mogdan, well known steam shovel engineer any long-time employee of the C.N.R., completed his service on the line Thursday.

Mr. Mogdan came to the Canadian National Railway at the Smithers end of the line in 1913 and it was a coincidence that he finished work this week while working in the same cut at Bulkley Canyon where he started work 31 years ago.

For the last 20 years he has made his home and a wide circle of friends at Smithers. His railway friends are planning a party for him next Saturday to celebrate his retirement.

HARRY JOHNSON CONGRATULATED ON FINAL RUN

SMITHERS—Harry Johnson, C.N.R. locomotive engineer, was in no great hurry to get down from his cab after his run from Endako to Smithers Thursday. His mind was filled with memories of many years of railroad-ing along this northern line—and now this had been the last run. He was retiring.

Mr. Johnson with a smile acknowledged the congratulations of railway officials and fellow-employees who greeted him and to take pictures.

Friends will gather Saturday night in the Canadian Legion Hall to honor Mr. Johnson at a party.

Taking their incentive from victories their brothers and buddies are winning in the South Pacific and in Normandy, the softball squad from U. S. Headquarters Detachment here swept all before them in the north and clinched the Northern Pacific championship.

They defeated Shemyu, Aleutian Island League champions, in three straight games at Fort Richardson, losing only the first encounter. The scores for the games were 3-4, 6-1, 4-0 and 7-1.

Previous to meeting Shemyu, Prince Rupert Yanks beat Noma at Fort Richardson to claim the Alaskan Mainland championship.

The locals are proceeding to Edmonton, Alta., to compete in the Northwest Service Command tournament. Acropolis team will enter this meet as a ceded team and will play only in the finals. Little America also will go through the tourney schedule for a chance to meet Acropolis.

Woman Injured as Horse Upset Wagon

NEW HAZELTON—Mrs. Bessie Breckenden was injured this week when the team she was driving ran away upsetting a load of hay. Mrs. Breckenden was riding on top of the hay, and suffered a fractured knee cap, a badly torn ear and shock.

Waterfront Whiffs
 Warnings of White Fishermen That Japanese Were Making Surveys of Coast Went Unheeded for 20 Years — Post-war Fishermen's Patrol Urged

Those whose livelihood is made by following the sea were perhaps the first to warn Canadians against the Japanese who spread all up and down this coast and claimed they were humble fishermen. Legitimate fishing boats chugging into remote inlets repeatedly came upon Jap "fishermen" toying with a single line. It was not long before the white men began to suspect the cocky little men of the Land of the Rising Sun were taking thousands of soundings along our coast and completing a survey.

White fishermen for years before the present war broke out repeatedly drew attention to the fact that Japanese youths would suddenly disappear and reappear as mysteriously in a few years time. They gave no satisfactory answer to questions but the white fishermen suspected the youths had been called to the homeland for military training. Today we realize that our white fishermen were alive to the real situation as it existed. We realize and understand now how many a Japanese, despite several poor seasons, was able to buy himself large and efficient boats, while the white men were having a tough time. Japan, it is evident now, thought it worth her while to subsidize her people by providing them with boats. She received in return full reports and records of this coast.

Following the last war, the Canadian government turned down a suggestion that a number of patrol boats be sold at a low price to service men wishing to continue their fishing life after demobilization. This idea was discarded. Could not this program of providing boats be advanced when peace comes again? Could not the fishermen of the coast be recognized as an active reserve fleet making periodic reports on their respective districts? For, remember, history repeats itself.

When Duty Calls Don't Fail Ever
 Men of the sea are a determined people. They want what they want when they want it, and heaven help those who are in their way or have fallen in their duty. The Daily News reporter—in the eyes of the crew of a large vessel that makes scheduled calls at our Sunset Port—failed in his duty, and they told him about it.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH COLUMBIA IN PROBATE IN THE MATTER OF THE "ADMINISTRATION ACT" OF JOHN DONALD McDONALD, DECEASED, INTERSTATE TAKE NOTICE that by Order of His Honor Judge Fisher, Local Judge of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, I was on the 29th day of July, A.D. 1944, appointed Administrator of the Estate of John Donald McDonald, who died on or about the 17th day of May, 1944. All persons indebted to the said estate are required to pay the amount of their indebtedness to me forthwith and all persons having claims against the said estate are required to file them with me properly verified on or before the 31st day of August, 1944, failing which distribution will be made having regard only to such claims of which I shall have been notified. DATED at Prince Rupert, B.C., this 29th day of July, A.D. 1944. NORMAN A. WATT, Official Administrator, Prince Rupert, B.C.

Under instructions of the Secretary of State of Canada, acting in his capacity as Custodian under the Revised Regulations Respecting Trading with the Enemy 1943.
