The Second Armored Brigade arrived D-Day and has given a good account of itself, destroying several hundred German tanks and setting a record unequalled by any other Canadian force in France.

Success is a tonic that can become chronic as long as you don't tip off the Teutonic. Hold your tongue. Don't unwittingly act as an enemy agent.

Prowlers Gain Entry to Staff House Recreation Building Through Lavatory Window

Safecrackers who managed to open the outer door of a safe in the office of the Staff House bowling and recreation hall, 5th ave. east, Sunday night were deprived of their loot by a steel inner door which they were unable to force.

The prowlers made entry sometime between midnight and 8:30 this morning through a lavatory window in the sprawling building, and forced their way into the office by smashing a panel in the door.

Turning the safe on its back, they knocked off the dial with a heavy hammer, and pried the outer steel door open.

According to Elmer Overn, caretaker of the building, the inner door had not been opened. The prowlers apparently knew the lay of the building, he said. Nothing has been reported taken.

The burglars left their tools on the safe when they departed.

Police are investigating.

EDITORIAL

GENTLEMEN, THE KING

So long as the British Commonwealth of Nations has such monarchs as His Majesty King George VI we will never turn from a monarchy.

No finer tribute could be paid a king than the following, contained in an editorial carried in the Italian edition of The Maple Leaf, published for Canadian troops in action:

Shakespeare, in the days when the business of being a king was a trifle difficult, suggested that royal heads were usually uneasy. This uneasiness was largely due to the fact that, at that time, kings had a habit of conducting themselves in a manner most annoying to their subjects.

Today, the man who is King George VI of England should have no uneasy moments. Ascending to the throne under difficult circumstances, His Majesty has come to be loved and respected by his subjects. He has shown himself capable of facing trying situations, of appreciating the problems of his people. He has evidenced a keen interest in the affairs of the Commonwealth.

King George VI has attained new stature as a monarch in wartime. When sacrifices have been necessary, he has made them along with his subjects. His cheerful confidence, his reassuring personality have helped the peoples of Britain through their most trying times.

But it is with soldiers and sailors and airmen that King George VI feels at home. George was the "Sailor Prince," a man who saw action in the Battle of Jutland. He knows war and the men who fight wars. And he had made a point of seeing for himself that all was well with his fighting forces.

King George has been in France, in North Africa and now in Italy with the men and women of His Majesty's Service. He has inspected them, talked with them, presented brave men with medals and his visit has meant more that a little to men fighting a tough war in a tough country.

God Save The King.

UNITED VOICE NEEDED

The Daily News is gratified over the editorial support the Evening Empire in its Saturday edition gave the Chamber of Commerce effort to have business at the grain elevator revived.

The newspapers can do much to bolster the petitions of the Chamber of Commerce but the mass of the local population and organizations must raise their voices, pass resolutions of support and send them on to authorities.

No matter what the projects are—so long as they are for the city's betterment and the country's good as a whole—they must be well supported if they are to be brought to fruition. With only a few exceptions, it matters not in what order they are proceeded with. The big thing is to start the ball rolling for Prince Rupert, Terrace, the Hazeltons, points east and the entire country adjacent.

Oddities...

SAIPAN, Aug. 28 (CP)—A sloe-eyed, toothy Japanese ambled into the Marine lines waving a white flag. He asked if the marines had taken all the island. They had.

The Jap gushed with friendliness and said he was with the marines to the very end.

A minute later he made a headlong dive for a grenade. The marines were with him to his very end.

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN BRITTANY, Aug. 28 (CP)—One thing that annoys doughboys most is that after fighting for days—perhaps weeks—to take a town, it immediately is put "off limits."

That means no soldiers are allowed to remain in town unless they are on official business. The army can't police every liberated town and occupation by troops interferes with rehabilitation and civic life—but the infantry can't always see these reasons.

"We even have the Germans trained now," said one disgruntled doughboy. "The last thing a Nazi does before pulling out of town is hang up a sign, reading: 'Off limits to all troops.'"

Rupert Girl Wed In United States

The marriage took place at Crookston, Minnesota, on August 25 of Mary Bill, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bill of Prince Rupert, to Sgt. Allan Leroy Gullekson, U.S. Army, at the home of the groom's parents.

LONDON (CP)—Naturalization certificates will be issued for illegitimate children born overseas to British women in the forces. The number of children affected is small.

COLOMBO, Ceylon (CP)—Cafes and hotels established after September 1939 have virtually gone vegetarian since June 1, 1944, because of defence regulations prohibiting the sale, supply and service of certain foods. The regulations also place food restrictions on parties, both private and public.

LONDON (CP)—Canada's Prime Minister, Mackenzie King, is to have a bed named after him at Connaught hospital, Walthamstow.

We can't afford to grow careless now that the war is nearing its climax. Don't give the enemy a chance — guard your tongue.

PRIMING FOR THE HUN — Hand grenades come in handy when clearing isolated pockets of enemy resistance and here is C.S.M. W. G. Vassie, Kitchener, priming grenades before a Canadian operation south of Caen.

LETTERBOX

Visitor Gives City Tip on Appearances

Editor, Daily News:

I read your editorial "We've a Job to Do," in tonight's paper, with much interest. As a visitor in your town, from Bellingham, Wash., U.S.A., may I be allowed to express my opinion as to what constitutes the greatest obstacle to the advancement of your city. There are many towns in the United States and Alaska with fewer advantages in the matter of industries and terrain than Prince Rupert and I have yet to visit one in which the main streets are not paved, the sidewalks in good condition and the alleys in the centre of town, not paved and kept clean. The lack of those conditions in Prince Rupert is one of the first impressions a visitor to your city receives and is a severe handicap to the free advertising you are sure to get when the thousands of post-war tourists are turned loose in this country. You have every advantage over such towns as Ketchikan, Juneau, Seward, etc., to make your city appear prosperous and beautiful but the condition of your streets and alleyways detracts from the appearance of your stores and buildings.

May I congratulate you on the spirit of your editorial and express a hope that it receives the enthusiastic support it deserves.

DOUGLAS APPLEGAT,

YOUR AA RATION IS AN "ISSUE" OF VITAL AMMUNITION

GASOLINE RATION
AA
RATIONNEMENT DE L'ESSENCE

THINK!..before you waste a drop!

GASOLINE for all purposes—civil and military—comes from the one common petroleum pool of the Allied Nations! Oil control in Canada must keep our withdrawals from this common pool down to a minimum. Your AA ration was not given to you for pleasure driving. It represents the outside limit of what the average motorist should use for essential wartime driving including voluntary war work.

In this country, where train, bus and street car systems cannot alone carry all essential traffic, the motor car is an indispensable link in the nation's transportation chain. It is to help keep civil transportation rolling that your AA gasoline allowance is made. Only in instances where this basic allowance is insufficient for some specific essential service or war job, are extra rations being allowed.

Remember that your gasoline ration is an "issue" of ammunition. Don't waste it. Don't squander it on needless trips. It is your obligation to make your AA allowance do a real wartime job. Every gallon we can go without here at home means that much more for the fighting men.

LESS CIVILIAN GAS MEANS MORE "FIGHTING GAS" FOR THE FORCES

NO. 9 OF A SERIES OF ANNOUNCEMENTS ISSUED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF MUNITIONS AND SUPPLY, HONOURABLE C. D. HOWE, MINISTER

Answering YOUR QUESTIONS about the GASOLINE SHORTAGE

Which is the most highly mechanized army in the world? . . . Canada's Army. What type of gasoline is standard for all military vehicles overseas? . . . A fine grade automobile gasoline—80 octane "all purpose" gasoline. How much more gasoline is needed to fight this war than the last? . . . 80 times as much!

FRESH TOMATOES: No matter how good canned tomatoes and tomato juice seem during the winter months, they can never equal the flavor of luscious ripe tomatoes fresh from the garden.

This is the time of the year when every dining table should be graced with a good big platter of sliced raw tomatoes every day. Their preparation is easy if you follow these tips from Laura Pepper, chief of the Agriculture Department Consumer Section:

Quickest way to prepare tomatoes is to drop them in boiling water for a moment and then into cold. Don't leave them too long in the hot water for it will cook the pulp. When this happens it cling to the skin and the tomatoes are difficult to slice.

Another way is to rub the skin with the back of a knife until it is sufficiently loosened to slip off easily. Or hold the tomato over a gas flame for a second until the skin splits.

A last point . . . to get the best value, and that means the most vitamins, out of tomatoes peel and slice just before serving.

FALL HOUSECLEANING: Although you wouldn't think it by the mercury fall housecleaning is loominig on the horizon and one or two small chores about the house now will make the big job easier. For instance, give your summer rugs a critical once over.

Grass rugs, woven of heavy marsh grasses on a stout cotton thread generally have a painted-on pattern which is showing signs of wear at this time of year. House paint thinned with turpentine will put the design back on if you have a secret ambition to paint. Other common summer rugs made of sisal, coconut or palm fibre can be given a quick once over with soapsuds . . . but don't soak them. Painting is harder but it can be done.

JAM MAKING: By way of preface to their valuable and timely little booklet, Wartime Jams, Jellies and Pickles, the Agriculture Department has these general suggestions which will help the most inexperienced cook over the hurdle of jam making:

Select firm, ripe fruit and be careful to measure fruit and sugar carefully. Wash fruit, cut or mash to start the flow of juice. To prevent sticking a little water may be added. A little cider vinegar may be added to less acid fruits such as peaches and pears. Heat fruit very slowly to extract juices. Stir frequently, using a wooden spoon.

CORN-ON-THE-COB is a revered old North American dish which comes into its own every August and September. It is one of those wonderful foods which is just as good for us as it is delicious: the score sheet issued by the Nutrition Division of the Pensions Department gives a bonus of five points for a serving of a green or yellow vegetable because they are so rich in vitamin A. (That is the vitamin which promotes growth, increases resistance to disease and keeps eyes and skin healthy).

So these days when you're menu-making, remember the golden goodness of corn-on-the-cob for good eating and good health.

SOFTBALL FIXTURES—

Ack-Acks and Air Force W.D.'s Have Their Last Chance Tonight

Two softball teams will be facing elimination from the playoffs tonight.

If Ack-Acks lose to Barrett at Gyro Park they will be out of the semi-finals, and in that event the winners will play Port Edward for the championship.

Both Barrett and Ack-Acks have made impressive showings this season. Including playoff engagements, the former have won 16 out of 17 games while the latter have been victorious in 11 out of 17.

To remain in the running for the Women's League title the Air Force W.D.'s must win their tilt at Seal Cove with the Alfies. The latter have two wins over the W.D.'s and another will give them the championship.

Second Victory Bond Coupons Due Sept. 1

An interest coupon on the Second Victory Loan three per cent bonds due 1954 becomes payable September 1.

Officials of the local National War Finance Committee suggest that holders, when presenting their coupons at the bank for payment, reinvest this interest in War Savings Certificates and Stamps.

Individuals in British Columbia and the Yukon purchased $31,395,850 of Second Victory Bonds when these were issued. If all holders put their interest into certificates and stamps, it would mean another $470,937.75 now available for weapons to keep our forces rolling on the road to victory.

CROP REPORT

Good crops of apples, pears, plums, prunes and peaches are ripening under excellent conditions and picking of early varieties is well advanced. Garnering of good crops of small fruits is nearly completed. Vegetable and field crops have made good growth and are moving in volume. The tomato crop is good, but tonnage somewhat lower than was anticipated earlier in the season. A heavy export movement of early potatoes is under way; the crop is fair to good. The onion crop is fair but is coming on well. Heavy rains have delayed grain harvesting in some sections, but prospects continue good. Pasturage has been improved by recent rains. Grasshoppers are still doing considerable damage in some sections, but the situation is becoming easier. Other pests are normal. Moisture conditions generally are satisfactory. The Provincial Department of Agriculture on the 19th estimated the 1943 crop at 6,480,000 bushels, as compared with 4,433,000 bushels in 1943.

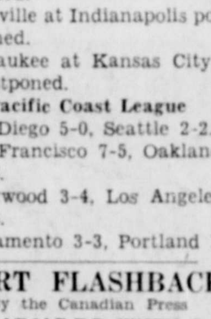
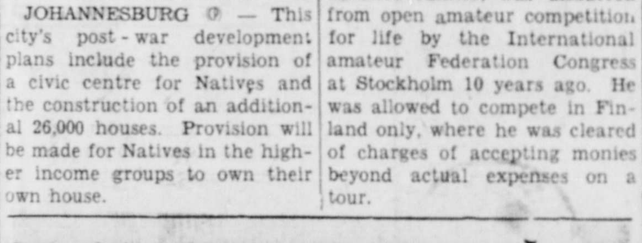
SWIFT'S WEEKLY FOOD HINTS



Martha Logan, Swift's famed home economist, whose weekly, wartime cooking column is a regular feature of this page. Look for these valuable hints each Monday

by Martha Logan



Braised Short Ribs

A tasty recipe for this thrifty meat is a must for wartime housekeeping

How many housewives, I wonder, have seen this tasty meat in their butcher's case, but hesitated to get it because they had no ready recipe for cooking the ribs?

In the panel, we give our favourite way of preparing this tasty dish. Do try it next time you see short-ribs for sale; your family will love it and the dish is as good nutritionally as it is delicious.

Martha Logan

BRAISED SHORT RIBS
6 Servings

3 lbs. short ribs of beef
3 tsps. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
2 tbsps. fat
6 medium potatoes
6 small onions
3 parsnips
3 carrots
1½ cups boiling water

Season ribs and brown in hot fat. Add water, cover and simmer gently for one hour. Prepare vegetables, cut potatoes and onions in half . . . parsnips and carrots in quarters. Add vegetables to ribs and cook until these are tender, adding boiling water as required. Gravy may be thickened with flour blended with cold water.

If you are doubtful about the correct way of preparing meats send 10¢ for "Meat Complete" Martha Logan's book of meat cookery to Swift Canadian Co. Ltd. Dept. NE 85 New Westminster
