Arch Traitor Expiates Betrayal of Norway

QUISLING EXECUTED

OSLO, Oct. 24—Vidkun Quisling, who betrayed his native land of Norway to become a Nazi puppet, is dead. He was executed by a firing squad before dawn today after final appeals for a stay had been denied.

The greatest of secrecy surrounded the execution of Norway's arch traitor who dealt with the enemy his King and countrymen defied throughout the war.

A Foreign Affairs office spokesman said that Quisling was awakened in his cell and rushed quickly before a firing squad of ten Norwegian military police.

Unofficial reports circulating in Oslo gave first intimation that the convicted Norwegian traitor had been executed. However, high officials declined to comment. The reports were carried by Reuters News Agency, the British Exchange Telegraph and the Dutch radio. Reuters said the execution had taken place but added that the Oslo chief of police refused to confirm it. Confirmation came later.

The death sentence was passed on Quisling October 13 by the Oslo Supreme Court which convicted him of treason.

L.P.P. Meeting

Mickleburgh Admits Gov't Bound To Win

It Might Have Been Different Had C.C.F. Chosen Course Of Labor Unity

Ruefully admitting that the prospects were definitely for a return of the coalition at tomorrow's provincial election in British Columbia and suggesting that it might have been different had the C.C.F. chosen for Labor unity rather than disunity, Bruce Mickleburgh, Labor-Progressive candidate for Prince Rupert, closed his campaign with a public meeting in the auditorium of Booth Memorial School last night. Mickleburgh expressed satisfaction in predicting that former Premier T. D. Pattullo would be low man of the three when the votes were counted tomorrow night. The fight, he declared, was really between himself and William Brett, the C.C.F. candidate, who he suggested was not fit to be a representative at Victoria when he had refused to meet his opponents and discuss issues on the public platform.

Mickleburgh thanked the people of Prince Rupert for their magnificent response to the L.P.P. appeal for support. "Things are going our way now," he asserted, "and I think we are well on the way to scoring a major political upset here by sending to Victoria a man who will talk the real needs and really put up the case for Prince Rupert."

The Labor-Progressive candidate briefly reviewed his political career. Brought up in a dyed-in-the-wool Conservative home at Victoria, he had adopted what was now the Labor-Progressive Party as the only party putting up a real struggle against Fascism and war. He had learned his politics the hard way and that was why he took politics seriously. He was determined to do all he could to see that the hard days of the thirties never came back.

Discussing some of the immediate issues facing the people of Prince Rupert, Mickleburgh declared that Prince Rupert, so admirably located, should play a real part in the traffic of the North Pacific. He mentioned operation of the dry dock, wheat shipping, steel mill, publicly-owned hydro-electric power development, fisheries conservation and new industries. He stressed the necessity of a new deal in educational finance whereby the provincial government assumed a much greater share of the cost. All people asked and desired was reasonable comfort and security. He advocated free medical, optical and dental treatment for children so that health and physique.

SOME CAPS RECOVERED

Most of Detonators Turned In But Number Still Unaccounted For

Tension which has been hanging over the city since the disappearance two weeks ago of 200 electric blasting caps from a Royal Canadian Engineers' warehouse in Westview was partly relieved yesterday afternoon with the voluntary return by juveniles of 142 of the dangerous articles.

Following the disappearance of the blasting caps, city police received reports that they were in the hands of youngsters who intended to throw them into bonfires as part of their Halloween celebration at the end of the month.

Warnings of the extreme danger of such action was given by police and members of the Kinsmen's Club who have taken a lead in organizing Halloween activities. This resulted in the young boys returning 142 of the caps yesterday.

However, there still is 58 of them unaccounted for, and Sgt. O. L. Hall this morning reiterated his warning that they are very dangerous and could cause severe injuries to anyone handling them carelessly. He asks that in public interest, anyone knowing the whereabouts of the remaining blasting caps inform the police.

WELCOME HUT HAS SERVED 35 RETURNING VETERANS

Displaying bright colors and a warm spirit of hospitality, the Welcome Hut, operated by the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion on the C.N.R. wharf here, has been the initial stopping place of more than 35 returning servicemen since it opened a little more than a month ago.

The warm "Glad to See You Back" note expressed in friendly smiles and in the coffee, sandwiches and cigarettes dispensed free by the Legion ladies hits the right note as far as the returning veterans are concerned, more effectively than brass bands and formal parades could have done.

"I was glad of the coffee but it was the thoughtfulness of those ladies in coming down to give us a practical welcome like that that really impressed me," one returning veteran confided. "It made me feel that not only my own folks but the town itself was glad to see me back."

On the strength of that reaction, also expressed by other veterans, that the Legion W.A. is continuing its welcome program, confident that it is really worth while.

The Welcome Hut opened at the foot of the C.N.R. ramp on September 6 and, since that time, every boat and many train arrivals have found the hut staffed and the coffee pot ready.

An unusual feature of the registry book is that it was first signed by Sgt. Frank Comadina, who was also one of the first Prince Rupert men to go overseas. A member of the old 102nd Battalion, he was overseas for five years.

Another distinguished signature is that of Major (Rev.) R. C. H. Durnford, D.S.O., whose name is among the last to appear so far.

About 15 ladies have voluntarily given their time to serve in the hut since it opened. Mrs. J. Hanley, president of the W.A., is in charge of the project, and the first ladies to serve on the day it opened were Mrs. M. Rothwell and Mrs. W. Murdock.

1000 VOTERS GO TO POLLS HERE TOMORROW

Provincial Election Contest to Culminate in Voting

More than 4,000 Prince Rupert voters are expected to go to the polls tomorrow to elect a provincial member from a slate of candidates following one of the liveliest provincial political campaigns in recent years. Seeking re-election is T. D. Pattullo, former premier, who is running on an Independent ticket. Candidate for the C.C.F. is William H. Brett, manager of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative, making his bid for political office outside the civic sphere. Labor-Progressive Party candidate is 24-year-old Bruce Mickleburgh, elementary school teacher and veteran of the federal election campaign last June which he contested as L.P.P. candidate. Voting will take place in the Moose Hall on Third Avenue. There will be 19 regular polling stations, two absentee polling stations and one polling station for active service personnel. Returning Officer Bruce Brown announced. Unlike the general election last June, when there were two voting centres, in the Moose Hall and one in the East End Hall, all voting in the provincial election will take place in the Moose Hall. Voting hours will be from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Of the two absentee polling stations, one will be for voters who are registered in this constituency but who are unable to present at the polling, division at which they are registered to cast their vote. Mrs. S. A. Blackaby is deputy returning officer for this polling station. The second absentee station is for voters who are registered in other electoral districts. Mrs. R. S. Blackaby is deputy returning officer in charge.

Three Small Boats Sunk During Gale

A group of fishermen and their boat owners banded together yesterday afternoon in an effort to refloat three small boats which sank at or near their berths at the east-end fishermen's floats during a fierce gale Tuesday morning. The three boats were the Prosperity C, the Libra and the Libra. The Libra, which apparently damaged by being against the floats, sank while mooring berth in about 10 feet of water at high tide as the tide fell yesterday afternoon, a dozen fishermen attempted to drag the boat toward shore so she would be left high and dry at low tide. The other two, the Kaschie Prosperity C, either broke away or were cut loose and sank close to shore. The gale sent scores of other boats down to the different mooring floats on the waterfront early Tuesday morning to attend to the safety of the vessels. Many kept their engines running all night in order to contend with the boats should mooring break. Stress of wind and rain did cause many lines to break.

War Assets Office Will Open in City

An office of the War Assets Corporation is to be established in Prince Rupert to arrange for disposal of government-owned war equipment and property. Heading the new office will be Squadron Leader I. N. McKinnon and Charles G. Watson, of Vancouver, who arrived this morning on the Princess Louise from Vancouver. The office is expected to fill an often-expressed need for the establishment of an agency to dispose locally of the millions of dollars worth of war equipment in this area. Previously, disposal to the public of war goods was handled through Vancouver, which put prospective purchasers in this district at a disadvantage.

Take 28 Out of Thirty Seats—C.C.F. Reduced From 3 to 2—Conservatives Wiped Out

HALIFAX, Oct. 24 (CP)—Scoring a victory of proportion rarely equalled in political history of Canada, Premier Angus MacDonald's Liberal government was returned to power in the general provincial election yesterday with a bigger majority than ever. Of the thirty seats in the Legislature, the government won twenty-eight and the C.C.F. two. Conservative representation was wiped out.

JAP PROBLEM IS FEDERAL
C.C.F. Candidate Says They Are Coming Back Anyway—Archibald Would Have No Private Fishing

The Jap problem, W. H. Brett, C.C.F. candidate for Prince Rupert, said in his campaign meeting Monday night, was out of the provincial sphere and no matter what government was elected they would come back to the coast because it was a part of the federal government's declared policy.

He scoffed at what he termed Mr. Nickerson's concern for the co-operative movement. "A few years ago fishermen were getting 37 cents a pound for their halibut livers. When they organized and sold them co-operatively, they got 69 cents a pound in spite of their inexperience. The lack of exploitation which the fishermen now enjoy was achieved in spite of the government and in spite of Mr. Nickerson."

Mr. Brett said that he had not directed his campaign particularly to the fishermen because he believed that, "after working for the fishermen for 20 years, they know where I stand."

C.C.F. Will End Private Fishing
Harry Archibald declared that he found it a pleasure to be back in Prince Rupert. "Pattullo says that if the C.C.F. gets in it will bring the Japs back into the private fishing industry," declared Archibald. "I say that if the C.C.F. gets in there will not be any private fishing industry in the province."
"Hon. E. T. Kenney has criticized me for leaving Ottawa during the balancing of the budget," he said, "but I am not so much interested in balancing the budget as I am in balancing the diet of the people."

Let's Vote Tomorrow . . .

This is the last word before we go to vote at the provincial election tomorrow. Here in Prince Rupert it has been a unique campaign. Who would have imagined that in this riding of all places there could ever have been an election in which the old line parties would have taken no active part, officially at least? How old time Socialists would have been shocked to think that their cause should be split wide open here as it is today in this election!

But for all its uniqueness we may consider the outcome of the election in Prince Rupert riding quite as important as in any other riding in the province where the field may have been a little more conventional than it was here.

Much has been said about the Japanese question in this campaign. No doubt it is important that we should not contribute to the return to power in Victoria of a political group which would do anything directly or indirectly to encourage the return of the Japanese to British Columbia much less to extend further privileges to these people, whose ways and whose philosophies have been to us a pill—the bitterness of which we should not soon forget.

But, in spite of the stress that has been placed on the Japanese question in this campaign, we are not prepared to admit that it is by any means a major issue in the election.

The issue in this election, it appears to us, transcends political lines. The C.C.F. have done a lot of economic preaching about how it would socialize industries, services and property for the immediate benefit of all and sundry if it were returned to power. The fact of the matter is that the C.C.F. could do little to put those policies into effect in a provincial sphere for we do have to live and do business with the rest of the country and the rest of the world. This, of course leads to a very reasonable assumption that, if British Columbia did return to power a government disposed to tinker with its economic set-up, they might, in the end, do us more harm than good.

On the other hand, there is a government group, seeking return to office, which has carried on our affairs successfully and well thus far, which has proven its administrative ability along sound lines, is ripe in experience, has ministered to the social needs of the people better than any other province in the Dominion and has taken the lead in making concrete and useful plans for the difficult days which lie ahead.

There is no intention to reflect on the C.C.F., and it is the only political group which has the possibility of forming a government, when we suggest that any administration it might form would be one of complete inexperience and experimentation. It is but stating a fact to say that. There is no personal implication whatsoever.

Even in Prince Rupert we have the choice, through the candidates we choose, to vote in support of the coalition or in favor of the new party. We might also consider carefully the advisability of having or not having in Victoria a member who will have the ear and sympathy of the government of the day.

Then let us consider the candidates. We have Mr. Pattullo, rich in experience and influence, even if he be mellowed by years. He is fully capable of being an able representative of this riding and a valued aide in the next Legislature in dealing with the vital problems which will undoubtedly arise. The fact of his independence would appear to be no handicap to his effectiveness either on behalf of riding or the province.

Then we have Ald W. H. Brett, popular and esteemed citizen, whose integrity and sincerity no one can possibly question. If Mr. Brett goes to the polls with any handicap, it will be that of being bound to a political group which insists upon his allegiance in act and word. Otherwise, we would have no doubt that he would go to all lengths of his ability to be a worthy representative.

And we also have the young and vigorous school teacher Mickleburgh whom we could see as a very potential winner if he was riding a different horse. There is no doubt that Mr. Mickleburgh, through his fighting spirit and tenacity, has won many new friends and admirers.

This is the field. We can now make our choice and our guesses.

The C.C.F. is strong and well organized in Prince Rupert. It can be counted upon to get its vote out for its supporters are keen and enthusiastic. The same can be said of the L.P.P. and Mr. Mickleburgh's group.

It might not be out of place to suggest at this time that one of surest ways to return the C.C.F. candidate in Prince Rupert and thus assist in sending a C.C.F. government to Victoria will be for those who do not want a C.C.F. government to be indifferent about voting and failing to turn out at the polls. Those who thus assist by their indifference in electing the C.C.F. need not cry after if a C.C.F. government is elected and does things they do not like or if we have a Coalition government in British Columbia and find ourselves here sitting out in the shades of opposition provincially as we already do federally.

So it is very important that we should all get out and vote tomorrow. That, after all, is a privilege and duty of citizenship. It is the one time in four years that each and everyone of us have the opportunity of expressing our preferences in the affairs of a very large and important business in which we shall all have a very distinct interest.

So we say: "No matter how you vote, VOTE!"

Letters to the Editor

POSER FOR C.C.F.

Editor, Daily News:
When the Churchill government used British troops to prevent the Greek resistance movement from creating a government of their own choice the local C.C.F. Club sent Mr. Churchill's government a resolution of protest.

The newly elected Labor government in Britain has sent troops to put down colonial peoples fighting for their independence in Indo-China, Greece and Java and is carrying on Tory policy in India and China, to say nothing of using troops to break the dock workers strike, but I have yet to hear the voice of the C.C.F. raised in public protest.

Could this be because Messrs. Coldwell, Winch and Archibald, having declared that the C.C.F. is the same kind of party as the British Labor Party, agree with such flagrant disregard for democracy. I have asked several rank and file members of the C.C.F. to explain the foreign and domestic policies of the Bevins and Citrines and here are some of the wonderful answers I have received: "I don't know." "The British Labor Party is not a Labor party," and "What can you expect from Social Democrats."

Now if the parties are the same, why can't the C.C.F. members give reasons justifying the action of the British Labor government? If not, how can we believe that if elected the C.C.F. would not resort to the same policy here?

Thanking you, Mr. Editor,
J. BLAKEY.

TEARING DOWN SIGNS

Editor, Daily News.—
In your issue of October 22 there is a letter regarding the tearing down of election posters in Prince Rupert by supporters of the C.C.F. Party. Might I say that this situation is not one peculiar to the city of Prince Rupert.

Coalition posters put up in Smithers one afternoon have disappeared before the next morning and the only way to keep such posters in view is to put them in windows behind glass.

More recently plate glass windows on Main Street have been smeared with red paint.

As "tearing down" and "smearing" are the main items in the C.C.F. policy one should not be surprised at these lesser acts in such a party.

They will get their reply to such acts when the votes are counted on Thursday night, because no fair-minded person would tolerate such acts of vandalism.

L. H. KENNEY.

HELPING THE C.C.F.

Editor, Daily News.—
To those of us who had nothing of any great importance to do for a few moments and took time out to read the latest "scandal" sheet issued over the signature of Mr. Pattullo and I presume mailed to all or nearly all whose names appear on the current voters' list, it must be clear to everyone that Messrs. Pattullo and Nickerson are doing their best to stir up racial discrimination, such as it has never before been stirred in this province of British Columbia. Once stirred up, I would like to ask where is it going to end? Are we in Canada to take up where Hitler of Germany left off?

The Japs, we must remember, as late as 1939, were a fine people and a fine nation. They must have been. Otherwise why would we have shipped them all the scrap metal we did, to use on our now-ally China? We didn't know then that they were going to "give" it right back to us, so we must conclude that at that time the Jap was all right and that had Mr. Pattullo been running for parliament, I presume that instead of chasing the Jap back to Japan he would have, along with Mr. Nickerson, been all for chasing the Russian back to Russia, because along about that time the heroic Finns were slaughtering the worthless Russians by the thousands and we were praising the heroic Finns to high heaven. So away goes the Russian and then just by way of variation and to keep the right kind of foreigner in Canada and the wrong kind out, our above mentioned gentlemen would, I presume, put the taboo on the Finn, chase him back to Finland and extend the welcome hand to the Russian whom a few months previously had been tabooed back to Russia.

It is surprising to me that, in this enlightened age, men of the intelligence which I had assumed that Mr. Pattullo and Mr. Nickerson possessed would for a moment consider the public of this constituency to be so ignorant as to fall for such low and decrepit tactics. Undoubtedly both of these gentlemen know, as do ninety-nine and nine-tenths per cent of the readers of their pamphlet, that the Jap situation is a federal and not a provincial issue by any stretch of the imagination, that the federal government has already ruled on the matter, and that not one single Jap who wishes to remain in this fair dominion of ours is to be fettered by our present federal authorities.

I mention Mr. Pattullo and Mr. Nickerson and omit Mr. Mickleburgh who has also been screeching to the high heavens, but Mr. Mickleburgh was not taken seriously in the dominion campaign and will be taken less seriously in the current provincial campaign.

But to all three gentlemen, I thank them because they have done more to further the inter-

To the Electors of British Columbia

During its four-year term of office, the Coalition Government has given a record of achievement which it believes to be unsurpassed in the history of this Province.

Our policies for the future involve the expenditure of vast sums of money. Upon those policies rests the development of our great natural resources, the opening up of new areas; the creation of great reservoirs of electrical power for industrial expansion and rural electrification; the raising of our standards of living and social security; the further improvement in our educational facilities; and the stimulating of greater activity and development in our four basic industries.

The issue of this campaign is clear-cut.

You are asked to choose between an experiment in socialism with untried and inexperienced leaders, or a government that has given you sound business administration with forward-looking measures, and which now offers a programme of far-reaching importance to the people.

John Stuar

GRIEVED BY HIS DEATH

Smithers Shocked by Tragic End of Sperry Phillips Near Duncan

SMITHERS, Oct. 24 — This community was grieved and shocked on Sunday evening to hear that Sperry Phillips of the Department of Agriculture at Victoria had been killed that day when he came in contact with high tension wires blown down in the gale that hit Victoria on Sunday.

From the news report he had been driving on the highway south of Duncan when he came to a tree which had blown down across the highway and apparently while investigating the situation he received a shock of electricity which killed him instantly.

Mr. Phillips was district agriculturist at Smithers for several years and was well known and very popular throughout the Bulkley Valley.

He visited here about a month ago in the course of his duties and renewed acquaintance of many old friends.

IS REJOINING HUSBAND IN EASTERN U.S.

Mrs. M. A. Turgeon was at home to family friends Sunday afternoon at an informal farewell function for her daughter, Mrs. N. A. Tiberia, who left Monday night on the Princess Adelaide on her way to Albany, New York, to rejoin her husband, who was discharged Saturday from the United States Army after service as a sergeant of military police. A number of friends called to say farewell to Mrs. Tiberia, the former Miss Gertrude Turgeon. Tea was poured between the hours of 4 o'clock and 6 o'clock by Mrs. Malcolm MacArthur and Mrs. J. Murray. Mrs. Tiberia, who has been visiting with her family since last May, was accompanied as far as Vancouver by her sister, Rita. Now discharged from the army, Sgt. PARIS FAVORS SMALLER HATS, JACKET COATS

Fashion Emphasizes Grace In Gloves, Plaids for Accent and Styles for Hairdos, Color In Vivid Coat Linings

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

PARIS, Oct. 24 (AP)—Like the chicken and the egg, it is hard to know which came first, smaller hats or tidier hairdos.

But monstrous hats and monstrous pompadours are strictly dated now. Hair is either gracefully upswept and dignified or shoulder length and youthful. Any pompadour is discreet. Hats are moderately sized pill-boxes ideal for hair piled high and graceful necks. Turbans are good for either type of hairdo. Furs and feathers are used lavishly and flatteringly. Hats are worn off the face.

Shoes in leather-heel France are scarcely one of the important phases of the style parade this fall. Models are wearing, for the most part, those high platformed, open-toed, open-heeled.

Perugia is sticking to those rather sturdy platformed oxfords that come up high to hug the shins. Wedge heels are very popular.

Most Frenchwomen are worried about what is happening to their feet. They say that wooden and cork soles, and years of improper fitting are ruinous. Added to the beating they are getting from the hard wood soles is the further discomfort of being without stockings.

It is getting so that a weekly visit to the chiropodist is almost as essential to good grooming and comfort as a trip to the hairdresser.

Mode In Gloves

Gloves in all lengths, fabric and leather, are being worn, but there doesn't seem to be anything particularly new about them. Jacques Heim is showing several pairs of black suede banded with color to match his ensembles. Jacques Path continues to go in for little half mittens worn over short fabric gloves. Gloves shirred above the elbow, continue to give elegance to formal gowns.

It's a jacket year, from soft tailored to straight little box coats. Most of the dressier street coats are belted but with plenty of skirt fullness and broad shoulder. Tuxedo fronts are popular particularly with panels of fur swung from the fur lining into two front panels.

As far as materials are concerned, plaids are extensively used in most collections. It shows up in the most unexpected places. Jet embroidered Scotch plaids are worn with one of Schiaparelli's evening gowns. It is draped on hats, it is used in hip-draped scarfs and popular in suits and dresses.

It is interesting to note what is being done with coat and jacket linings this season. Lelong, for instance, lines a short black jacket with vivid yellow quilted satin. Everyone seems to be lining coats and suit jackets with

Aged Metlakatla Woman Succumbs

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Emily Steele of Prince Rupert, and four granddaughters, Mrs. George Ryan of Metlakatla, Mrs. Gordon Robertson of Butedale, Mrs. Leonard Creney and Miss Annette Steele of Prince Rupert.

...these hands took care of you... will they have the skill to take care of him..?

THESE are young hands . . . reliable hands . . . they held a hot rifle and fought for your freedom. BUT unless they are trained in the skills of peace, they will not be able to provide a good living for their owner.

One of the big jobs your Victory Loan dollars can do is to provide thousands of returned men with training in paying skills . . . men who were fighting for us during those years that might have brought them trade or business experience. Who can refuse to sign for Victory in such a cause?

Now the war is over, but the fight to win the peace has just begun. Now is the time to show our appreciation, to give our men a good start in civilian life, to repay in some measure what they gave up for us. Remember, there is now only one Victory Loan in the 12 months' period, so you can buy twice as many bonds this time.

MICKLEBURGH ADMITS

siqne of the young people would be ensured. "Nothing that has been done along these lines in Russia cannot be done here but we must have leadership."

Mr. Mickleburgh promised that at no time would he ever allow the considerations of party to be placed above the needs of the people whom he represented.

The L.P.P. candidate declared his complete respect for William Brett but regretted that Harry Archibald should have made a slanderous and completely untruthful attack upon the L.P.P. "We are stronger than ever now, however, because of the rancor of a man who cannot stomach another Labor party."

Mickleburgh charged Archibald with complete falsification when he asserted the C.C.F. had been the only party to take up at Ottawa the Windsor strike. Indeed not only the lone L.P.P. members but also the Liberals and Conservatives had taken this up. "This strike is far more than a political issue," declared Mickleburgh.

Mickleburgh declared the policies and platforms of both coalition and C.C.F. were bankrupt as far as meeting the immediate needs of the people was concerned.

The L.P.P. candidate charged that 392 loggers on the Queen Charlotte Islands who would have been disfranchised through lack of enumeration—"and it was not done accidentally either," he added.

Aircraft Workers' Official Heard Supporting speaker to Mickleburgh was Tom Parkin, secretary of the Aeronautical Workers' Lodge of Vancouver, who cited employment and security as the major problems of the day. He was of the opinion that full employment was possible in British Columbia provided there was proper leadership at Victoria.

Parkin advocated the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway under government ownership as essential to the development of the wealth of the interior.

He declared that the coalition government had not prepared to meet the pressing economic problems of the day. There was too much buck-passing of responsibility between the provincial and federal governments.

He also charged the C.C.F. with obstructing unity in Labor ranks. He certainly questioned the sincerity of the C.C.F. in relation to the Windsor strike.

An immediate issue should be made of the building of ships for Canadian service in Canadian yards. The C.P.R. had already placed orders for four ships in Old Country yards.

Parkin urged Prince Rupert to elect Mickleburgh and send both a "voice" and a "brain" to Victoria.

Stan Boshier was chairman of the meeting which, while not largely attended, yielded a collection which was announced as amounting to $24.25.

JACK LONDON LIFE FILMED

Thrilling Career Depicted in Picture at Capitol Theatre

Authentic and exciting film depicting the highlights of the life of the daring fiction author who roamed the world for adventure of which he got plenty. "Jack London" comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here today only. Michael O'Shea is cast in the title role and Susan Hayward is co-starred.

Beginning with London's early life as an oyster pirate on San Francisco Bay, the story follows the author-to-be through his fighting, rough-and-tumble existence on a sealing vessel; through his battle against the elements as a gold hunter in the Yukon and finally to his appearance of the American scene as a foremost and beloved author. A little known side of London's career, that of war-correspondent, plays a vital part in the unfolding story. His coverage of the Russo-Japanese War emerges as a dramatic expose of the double-dealing Japs.

The warmly romantic story of Jack London's wooing and winning of Charmian Kittredge runs through the entire film.

Virginia Mayo, blonde newcomer, is featured in the second feminine lead. A cast of such players as Frank Craven, Ralph Morgan, Harry Davenport, Regis Toomey, Louise Beavers and Morgan Conway supply support.
