The date for the convention at which the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia, which has been dormant for some time, is to be revived has been set. It will open at Vanderhoof on May 3, Arthur Brooks-bank, secretary of the Associated Boards, announced today following receipt of advice from H. V. Taylor of Vanderhoof, president of the Associated Boards, that, in the opinion of the host Vanderhoof and District Boards of Trade, this would be the earliest suitable date.

The letter from Mr. Taylor conveyed the opinion of the Vanderhoof Board that it would not be possible to hold a convention in January as some had suggested. Delegates who would come by car would have better weather and road conditions in May. There would also be some members of the Associated Boards who would be attending the session of the Legislature which would be opening at the end of this month and would last for six weeks.

Appeals To Employees

Hon. Humphrey Mitchell Speaks in Connection with Vancouver Street Car Strike

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP)—Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, minister of labor, appealed to striking Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster street railway employees to return to work.

The Dominion minister of labor at Ottawa declared the strike illegal, having taken place in spite of offers of mediation. The government could appoint controllers to take over operation of the street railways, ordering the strikers to return to work on penalty of going to jail.

The strike might well interfere with war production. At Vancouver, W. G. Murrin, president of British Columbia Electric, said the company could do no more. The issue was now between the men and the federal government.

A union spokesman said the union was ready and anxious to reach a settlement. Last minute efforts to avert the strike of the street railwaymen broke down at a meeting of company, union and regional war labor board representatives.

M. H. McGeough, administrator of the regional board, termed the meeting a failure, said he had offered the men a raise of 4½¢ per hour with company and national board approval. The offer and plea for 48 hours delay had been rejected.

Mayor Cornett of Vancouver sent a wire to Ottawa pointing out that the Dominion government was being blamed for the strike because of the long delay of the National War Labor Board in making a finding.

A Dear and Sainly Woman . . .

To the Bishop of Caledonia we extend our heartfelt sympathy in his bereavement through the passing of his Godly wife and helpmate. In expressing our sincere condolences we know we are reflecting the sentiments of the thousands of friends of the good Bishop and that saintly woman who was his wife.

After months of suffering borne with patience and fortitude, merciful release has come and the Bishop, in his faith and belief, will be most comforted by the knowledge that the time is not one for sorrowing and grief but for relief and satisfaction that she has now gone to the reward in Heaven which, after her good and useful life here with us, she so richly deserves.

Resident of Prince Rupert for upwards of thirty years, Mrs. Rix, although quiet and unassuming, nevertheless was a force in the good works of her distinguished husband from those early pioneer days when he came here as the priest of the parish to eventually win the highest office in the gift of the diocese. She was his charming and effective aide and her good works, like his, will long be kindly remembered and reflected. The esteem and affection in which she was held went far beyond the bounds of her own church for those who cherished her friendship and her esteem belonged to all the denominations and the faiths. Her charming and endearing personality will be sadly missed by the many friends who loved her so deeply and so well.

Death of Mrs. Rix

Wife of Bishop of Caledonia
Passes Away After Long Illness

Mrs. Sadie Rix, wife of Rt. Rev. G. A. Rix, Bishop of Caledonia, passed away early yesterday afternoon at the Bishop's Lodge, Fourth Ave. W. Mrs. Rix had been in declining health for the past year and death came as a merciful release to months of suffering. Nevertheless, her passing is deeply regretted by the numerous friends in the city and throughout the diocese for she had endeared herself to every person who had the favor of her acquaintance. To the Bishop and the son and daughter sincere and general sympathy will be extended in their bereavement.

Mrs. Rix was the daughter of Donald Gillespie of Cannington, Ontario. She had resided in Prince Rupert since 1913. She had always been closely associated with her husband in his ecclesiastical duties—at Wycliffe College, the Church of the Redeemer in Toronto, at Orangeville, Ontario, and for more than 30 years in Prince Rupert. She was for many years in the early days organist of St. Andrew's Cathedral and was for a long time president of the Woman's Auxiliary both of diocese and parish. She will be greatly missed in the women's work of which she had been for so long a leader.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Rix is survived by one son, Major G. A. Rix, stationed at Victoria with the Royal Canadian Artillery, and one daughter, Mrs. C. W. (Ruth Isabel) Breukelman who resides in Trinidad.

SOME POINTS CLEARED UP IN REGARD TO STATUS AND USE P.R. HIGHWAY

There has been a good deal of uncertain discussion of late in regard to the status of the Prince Rupert Highway as far as civilian use is concerned. Recently the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce posed a number of questions on the matter to Mr. McDowell of the Department of Mines and Resources at Terrace. The questions and answers should be of general interest. So here they are:

Question — Is the highway under military control?

Answer — In the final analysis the highway is subject to military control but the military authorities have no present objection to the use of those sections of the highway by civilian traffic that do not encroach on the railway right-of-way.

Question — May a civilian use it at leisure without permission?

Answer — Yes, subject to the general approval of the resident engineer of the Department of Mines and Resources who may close any section of the highway if he considers it unfit for traffic.

Question — If necessary, to whom should applications be made to use the road?

Answer — The resident engineer can be consulted in regard to use of sections of the highway that are not on the railway right-of-way. Sections of the road that are on the railway right-of-way are not yet open to public traffic and any travelling over such portion or portions of the road does so entirely on his own responsibility and at his own risk.

Question — Is the C.N.R. in any way liable for accidents on that part of the highway over their right-of-way?

Answer — No definite answer can be given to this question until the proposed agreement is completed. It is likely that in the meantime each accident would be judged on its merits.

Question — Does the Canadian National Railway have power to prohibit any particular traffic from using the highway?

Answer — Under the Railway Act the Canadian National Railways could claim that parties using sections of the highway built on their right-of-way are trespassers and could prohibit the use of such sections of the highway by the general public if they so desired. It is expected that these points will be cleared up before next season's traffic. Since several miles of the highway on the outer side of the Canadian National's line have been built by fills in the river, the limits of the railway right-of-way on the river side of the track are not clearly established.

The Department of Mines and Resources has informed the Junior Chamber that there is no objection from its standpoint to public organizations making representations in regard to action being taken to make the highway generally available to the public.

AGAIN SEEK ROAD SURVEY

Impartial, Factual Reconnaissance to Determine Best Route To Alaska Asked

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce is moving again to have all Chambers of Commerce in the district press the provincial government for a survey to factually determine the most feasible and practical route for a highway link to connect Central British Columbia with Alaska and the Yukon. The Chamber made this decision Monday night at the suggestion of the Quesnel Board of Trade, the proposal of which at a meeting of delegates at Vanderhoof in January to consider ways and means of making representations for the survey was considered unnecessary to accomplish the desired end.

E. T. Applewhite urged that care should be taken that an impartial survey was made and that all routes received a "fair break" in the survey.

Flood Menace Ended By Indian Sappers

NEW DELHI, India, Jan. 10.—Scores of villages threatened with isolation during a recent cloudburst in the Kangra valley, on the border of the Himalayas, were saved by pioneers of the Indian Army.

Roads were restored and the railway and all bridges were rebuilt. Two electric plynas at Joginderna, which supply the Punjab with light, were threatened with destruction but the sappers built two stone breakwaters to divert the river.

City Pays Itself Large Part of Bond Interest

Seated on either side of a table in the city treasurer's outer office yesterday afternoon, City Clerk H. D. Thain and his assistant, Miss Audrey Wrathall, presented a picture of plutocracy ripe enough to inspire the wrath of any good proletariat. They were counting coupons.

However, at that point, their similarity to plutocrats ended for the bonds to which the coupons had originally been attached were not at hand nor was that universal symbol of the coupon-clipper—a pair of scissors—in evidence.

Mr. Thain and Miss Wrathall were merely doing a chore, classifying coupons clipped from City of Prince Rupert four percent bonds which had been returned to the city for recording. Each coupon in the pile had once been worth $20.

To the uninitiated eye the value that mountain of chits once possessed made it impressive even in its defunct state. Inquiry revealed that it represented a portion of the $70,000 annual interest payment on $1,750,000 in city bonds, refunded in 1935 and due to mature in 1955.

The thought of the city paying out $70,000 a year in interest on an ancient obligation is not quite as formidable as it sounds, for in the last few years the city has made a point of buying up as many of the bonds as it was able. At the present time it owns some $700,000 worth.

These are deposited with the Minister of Finance in Victoria as part of the city's sinking fund and on them the city is paying four percent interest against their maturity instead of paying it to private owners of the bonds.

FINE XMAS AT STEWART

Santa Claus Paid Several Visits To Mining Town

STEWART, Jan. 10—The children of Stewart were very fortunate this year as Santa Claus visited them two or three times during the festive season. The community Christmas tree held in the hall of the Stewart branch of the Canadian Legion was a big success, largely owing to the kindness of former residents who are now in Prince Rupert and a Mr. Reny who remembered and sent a substantial contribution from the United States. The contribution from Prince Rupert came through the medium of Oliver Smith.

During the ceremony of dispensing gifts to the eager recipients the nether garments of Santa were seen to be gradually slipping floorward. The situation was tense, until, relinquishing all holds, they landed. It was a hysterical moment. Gales of laughter swept the hall as Past President Lo Behnsen rush to the rescue and saved the situation and dignity of Santa.

The Portland Canal War Fund held its mid-winter drive between Christmas and New Year and netted $300. New Year's Eve, being on Sunday, somewhat restricted operations but the gang kept things going until 12 midnight when the New Year, represented by Mary Manojlovich, was ushered in. Then all restraint was gone and the dance commenced after the usual oscillatory intermission and continued until four in the morning when a halt was called. It was a big time and everyone enjoyed themselves.

In the midst of the hilarity the boys who are overseas were not forgotten and fitting tribute was paid to them. Sergeant Roy Paulsen of the R.C.A.F. was present in uniform as a guest of the war fund.

A personal note on Post-War Planning

* That gives us an idea of what we're fighting for...

Sig. T/O Howard McLean, Telegraphist on H.M.C.S. "Dundas"

* Those are the words of Howard McLean, young naval telegraphist, who used to be ledger-keeper at our branch at Port Alberni, B.C. Telegraphist McLean was telling us what he thought of the Bank of Montreal's recently announced rehabilitation plan for him and 1,115 other men of the Bank's staff who will soon be marching home in Victory.

What Howard McLean wrote to us has been said in different ways by hundreds of fellow bank men, and letters, which are being filed at our head office, are still coming in daily from our people on practically all the fighting fronts.

Post-war planning begins at home, and, as another of our people in the services said, "the old B of M looks out for us like a mother with a rather large family". (Counting service men, the Bank's family numbers more than 8,000.)

Service men coming back to the Bank will not simply return to their old jobs. While they have been away, their standing in the Bank has been reviewed each year and salary increases have been noted in their records, according to their past performance.

As the General Manager said in his annual address to shareholders,

"It is our intention to place these officers on the salary and, within a reasonable time, in the position, which they would normally have expected to attain had they been in the continuous service of the Bank. Our object is to see that they have not lost ground through their service to their country."

Highlights OF THE BANK'S 5-POINT REHABILITATION PLAN...

PENSION FUND SOCIETY...

All B of M men belong to the Bank's Pension Fund Society. This fund, which provides each man with a pension upon retirement at 64 years of age, is built up by contributions by the Bank and by each male member of the staff. During the war, each B of M man serving with the Forces has had both of these contributions paid by the Bank, and thus his standing is the same as if his service with the Bank had been continuous.

SALARIES...

Each B of M man in the Services has had his salary and position reviewed each year and the increases he could reasonably have expected to receive had he remained in the Bank have been entered in his record. Upon his return, these amounts will be added to the salary he was receiving at the time of his enlistment. Thus, his earnings will not be affected adversely by his absence in the service of his country.

GROUP LIFE INSURANCE PLAN...

Practically all B of M men avail themselves of this low-cost life insurance plan, and coverage has been continued by the Bank for its servicemen during their absence, with premiums charged to a loan account pending demobilization. Extra charges for war-risk have been defrayed by the Bank.

DEMobilIZATION—REPORTING FOR DUTY...

Every B of M man, after reporting for duty, may, if he desires, have two weeks' leave—on full pay from the Bank—during which he can re-establish his personal and family affairs. When he commences work, he will be given a refresher course before taking over the post to which he is most suited, and, wherever possible, he will be stationed in a city or town of his own choosing.

GROUP ACCIDENT AND SICKNESS INSURANCE PLAN for B of M Men and Their Dependents...

Under our insurance programme, which gives maximum protection at minimum cost, B of M servicemen can have protection for their dependents at 40 to 60 cents a month. They, themselves, can have protection within four weeks of their return to the Bank's service. The Bank pays a substantial portion of the premium.

By following this five-point plan, we at the Bank of Montreal feel that all members of the staff on active service can be effectively placed in the Bank within a reasonable time. There will certainly be a place for everyone and, we believe, ample scope for advancement.

Farming Year Reviewed—

PRODUCE GRADING, FRUIT PACKING INTERIOR AGRICULTURAL NEEDS

Recommendations that Central British Columbia should have facilities for putting graded eggs and vegetables on the market as well as standardized types of beef and poultry are contained in a preliminary report on agricultural conditions in the interior for 1944 issued by S. G. Preston, district agriculturist, Smithers.

A small fruit packing plant will be required at Terrace before any steady market can be assured for tree and small fruits from that area, the report continues.

While the 1944 season was not particularly favorable to farmers, prospects for 1945 are bright because of ample rainfall late last year. Rainfall for the 12 months ending October 31 were good, although low moisture reserves gave crops a poor start.

The low moisture reserve in the Bulkley valley and Lakes district was also accountable for an increase in beef shipments as farmers sold their stock to avoid shortages of feed.

Rainfall in the Hazelton district, on the other hand, was higher than usual and a good deal of trouble was encountered in weed control and in the harvesting of hay and grain and the shortage of potatoes and root crops.

Butterfat production in the Bulkley Valley and Lakes district increased by almost 6,500 pounds in 1944. This was featured by a decrease of some 5,000 pounds in shipments to creameries and an increase of 11,500 to the Prince Rupert whole milk trade.

Terrace Good For Fruit Growing

An excellent crop of apples and plums was harvested at Terrace. The report states that this area shows much promise for future expansion in the raising of harder varieties of standard fruits and small fruits. There are also openings for dairying and seed growing although one of the greatest needs of the district at present is an ample supply of reasonably priced agricultural lime.

Throughout the district vegetable and seed acreages were increased, but little increase in yields resulted. Spinach seed is still the most satisfactory seed crop. Cabbage and swede turnip seed growing was tried in 1944, and will be tried again this year.

A major difficulty is storing the roots and plans during the winter, rather than having satisfactory growing conditions.

A survey of Bulkley Valley produce sent to Prince Rupert in 1944 shows that this city absorbed 20,900 pounds of meats, 50,885 pounds of assorted vegetables, 73,840 gallons of whole milk containing 30,000 pounds of butterfat, 595 gallons of table cream containing 1,190 pounds of butterfat, and 9,000 dozen eggs.

Small quantities of grain and hay were also imported.

Shipments to eastern markets included 2,300 head of beef, 200 head of hogs, 600 head of lambs and 232,500 pounds of clover and timothy seed.

The district also sent cream containing 69,900 pounds of butterfat to creameries. Much of this butter was consumed locally and at Prince Rupert.
