COUNCIL DEFERS CHLORINATION PLANT FOR INDEFINITE PERIOD

City council last night tossed the water chlorination controversy into the future with an audible sigh of relief after the matter at a special meeting last night.

When the military will cease to operate the plant is unknown. Alderman McKay, however, spoke against the city operating an army-installed chlorination plant and catalyzed the discussion by making an original motion that the city decline to assume responsibility for chlorination after the Department of Defence stops operating the plant.

Alderman T. B. Black was early in favor of continued chlorination. He said that he believed that Woodworth Lake, the source of the city's drinking water, was not above suspicion that "without filtration, aens or purification vates at its source. I can see no reason why the water should not be chlorinated."

Commission's Report—CO-OPERATIVES SUBJECT TO TAX

Future Policy to Be Governed On Nature of Government's Implementation found the arrangements suggested for carrying them out "would not be appropriate."

Mr. Hart was the first provincial premier to make the position of his government publicly known in detail and he did so by release of the text of a brief he said he proposed to read at a meeting of the conference's co-ordinating committee.

1. Arrangement should be capable of implementation without amendment to the British North America Act.

2. In any transfer of provincial tax fields to Dominion compensation should be paid to the province in any year should never be less than the yield which affected provincial taxes would have produced if they had been levied by that province at tax rates in force when the agreement was signed.

3. Any financial arrangement should provide for thorough review of the agreement and its possible amendment or cancellation, at regular intervals, say every three or five years.

4. Where financial transfers from Dominion to provinces are provided, payments should be determined by objective formula which may be applied to any and all provinces.

5. Where financial transfers from Dominion to provinces are concerned wherever necessary arrangements should be made to compensate for variations in price level and changes in population.

Wyman, newly appointed industrial agent for the Canadian National Railways.

Ottawa Conference . . .

Premier John Hart's reply to the federal government at the Ottawa conference is typical of the British Columbia prime minister's business-like and practical methods. He approves the underlying principle of more assistance being given to the provinces but does not see where it is coming in the formula the federal government has offered.

Mr. Hart is insistent that British Columbia's revenues shall not be impaired by any intergovernmental taxation agreements.

Yesterday was reminiscent of the episodes which happened at the abortive conference several years ago on the Rowell-Sirois commission report. Mr. Hart was yesterday more diplomatic, however, than were Messrs. Pattullo and Hepburn in those days. The conference goes on and all hope that it will result in satisfactory agreements being reached.

With war over it should be possible to make lasting commitments that should stand for some time.

Educational Finance Report . . .

The report of Prof. Maxwell A. Cameron on educational costs in British Columbia will be received with much satisfaction by the local school administrative bodies for all along the line the report advises shifting of a very material portion of the burden of educational costs from the municipalities to the provincial government—not only as regards the current overhead of education but also in the matter of capital expenditure such as financing school buildings which so many communities need badly—none of them more notoriously than Prince Rupert.

It might have been expected that the teaching profession would not be very enthusiastic over the recommendation to reduce the minimum salary limits but a statement from their association finds the report "sound" and "a general improvement." It is possible that such a reduction policy might not be actually implemented although it would be validated. Certainly it would not help the continuing problem of obtaining suitable people to go into and stay with the teaching profession.

Of particular interest and satisfaction to this part of the country is the recommendation that a normal school be established in Northern British Columbia. Prince Rupert would, doubtless, be the largest reservoir of pupils for such a school and, in view of its strategic location, it would, of course, be a natural location.

It might be recalled that, during the election campaign, Premier Hart gave assurance that it would be the policy of his government, if returned to office, to put the report's recommendations into actual effect.

The Railway's Interest . . .

The visit to Prince Rupert so soon after his appointment of Brigadier Robert A. Wyman, new industrial commissioner of the Canadian National Railways for British Columbia, is an encouraging token of a new interest that the railway company appears to be taking in the possibility of developing its own port of Prince Rupert and the railway line serving the rich hinterland back of this city.

The sooner the railway company and its officials realize that it is in the interests of the company and the country that this port and line be put on its feet permanently and act accordingly the happier Prince Rupert people will be. Rightly or wrongly, we have felt for a long time that some of the railway people at least have been prejudiced against Prince Rupert in favor of Vancouver and have been governed in carrying on their work in satisfaction of the prejudice.

Brigadier Wyman appears to be genuinely imbued with a different attitude. As he gets established in his duties, he will be in a position to do much to steer interest in this direction to the mutual benefit of all concerned.

CHARLES ANSTIE DIES SUDDENLY

VANCOUVER, November 27.—Prominent Vancouver business man and community service leader, Charles E. Anstie died yesterday at the age of fifty-one years. Vice-President of the Shell Oil Co. of British Columbia, Mr. Anstie, who had lived here since early boyhood, was a past president of the Vancouver Board of Trade. He was particularly active in the Gyro Club and was a past president here. He was a veteran of the First World War.

TRAVEL IS EASING UP

WINNIPEG, Nov. 27.—Indications are that the people of Canada who have postponed vacation and other trips during the war period when railway facilities were taxed to the limit are about to realize some reward for their patience and understanding as there are definite signs of an easing in the transportation problem. Alistair Fraser, vice-president in charge of traffic, Canadian National Railways, said today.

"Of course, there is still a large volume of traffic and many more troops are to be returned home," said Mr. Fraser. "But, as the movement of service personnel has reached and passed its peak, it would seem reasonable to believe that the thousands of people who refrained from travelling during the war in deference to government request will find conditions improving steadily, even over the next few months."

"Everywhere I went in the course of my trip throughout western Canada, people asked me when they will be able to travel again and it is a natural question because on this continent today there is the largest reservoir of tourist traffic ever seen."

Mr. Fraser said that people in western Canada are facing the future with a great deal of confidence and feel that 1946 will be a good year, but added, "the job will not be finished until the servicemen and women return home and industry finds its peacetime footing."

THIS AND THAT

TERRACE WANTS ARMY PROPERTY

TERRACE, November 27.—Proposals are being advanced here whereby at least some of the fine buildings of the abandoned military camp just east of the town on the old Little farm property might be acquired and put to good community use. George Little himself made a proposal whereby arrangements might be made to acquire the big drill hall for use as a community centre, the officers' mess building as a library and teen age club and two of the larger huts for use as school buildings to replace or supplement the existing school property here which is not only old but has long since become inadequate to meet the local needs.

The village council has ideas of acquiring the Army fire hall building for use as the town fire hall.

The water and sewer systems of the army might be obtained and used to good advantage by the village.

There is also strong agitation continuing here to have at least

Legless Man Spurns Artificial Limbs

Holds Job in Sheet Metal Plant After 31 Years Without Work

VANCOUVER, Nov. 27.—Without benefit of artificial limbs, legless Bill Ledray, 51, of Vancouver, walks, drives his own car, works at a bench eight hours a day, and generally leads a normal life.

Five months ago, after being out of work 31 years, Bill got a job in the Stewart Sheet Metal Works. He's still working today although 70 other men have been laid off in the plant.

Ledray's legs were amputated at the sockets when he was four years old. Scarlet fever had left the limbs lifeless and gangrene set in. Bill said the amputation was "a medical error."

He came to Vancouver from England in 1914 and supported himself and his crippled sister by doing odd jobs or accepting relief when times got hard. Now he's earning 75 cents an hour at the sheet metal works.

Ledray built himself a special highchair on casters to get around the shop more easily. Three feet in height, he's as light on his hands as the average man is on his feet. He swings along on two wooden hops which he holds in his hands, hops up and down stairs in and out of his car with difficulty. Through an arrangement of levers, Ledray operates the brake and clutch of his car by hand.

JACK PREECE PASSES AWAY

John Preece, for years a well known local merchant and more recently in business at Houston in the Bulkley Valley, passed away at midnight last night at the age of 65 in the Prince Rupert General Hospital where he had been a patient for the past week. He had arrived here from Vancouver where he went for treatment.

Born in England the late Mr. Preece came here from Smithers district where he engaged in farming following the First World War in which he served overseas. For years he operated the Bulkley Market of which he disposed to the present owners before he left the city for Houston. Deceased served several terms as president of the Canadian Legion here.

Mr. Preece was predeceased by his wife two or three years ago. A sister-in-law, Miss Edith Gandy, lives at Houston.

WATCH FOR FISHERMAN

Fishermen, navy and air force craft have been requested to look out for John Beaton of Queen Charlotte City who has been unreported in his trolling boat Kay since November 19. Beaton was last seen by Capt. Chalmers of the boat Megantic between Bonilla Light and Banks Island on that date. Possibility is expressed by police that Beaton may have taken shelter from the series of storms which have swept the coast, keeping small boats in shelter for the greater part of the time during the last two weeks.

CANUCK WOMAN SPENT YEAR IN GREENLAND

Hits on Day of Denmark's Liberation to Hold Birthday Party for Hubby

By Enid Nemy

Canadian Press Staff Writer WINNIPEG, Nov. 27, (C) — first Canadian woman to live in Greenland, Mrs. Trevor Lloyd, is back in Winnipeg after a year that will live long in memories. Mrs. Lloyd and her eight-year-old daughter, Mona, flew to Godthaab where Mr. Lloyd was Canadian consul. Her experiences there, she says, almost made her forget "how easy it can be to live in a city."

"I thought I'd educate myself in the 12 months I spent there but I didn't have time," she confesses. "We did so much entertaining and I took Danish lessons and somehow the days just whizzed by."

"We lived in luxury compared to the rest of the people there," she says. The Canadian consulate has electricity, hot and cold water and a furnace.

Food was sent in once a year by the Canadian government. Mrs. Lloyd ordered hers before she left for Godthaab. Fish and birds were plentiful and occasionally they had seal and caribou meat.

Language was a problem. The Danes all spoke English but the Greenlanders understood only Greenlandic and Danish. She took Danish lessons from the wife of a seminary head but admits she still isn't perfect at it. Mona, who attended Danish school, speaks the language fluently and "she often had to interpret for me."

A Weekly

Movie Show

Recreation was plentiful. "We had a good supply of books, the radio reception was clear and then there was a movie once a week. In addition, we did a great deal of visiting."

Slacks, sweaters, fleece lined boots and a fur coat were her mainstays in clothing. "It's not really cold but it's usually cloudy and damp and the winds are terrible."

In June, Mrs. Lloyd was flown to the American military hospital at the south base where her baby son, Hugh, was born. When the baby was three weeks old they were flown back up the ice cap.

The trip back to Canada was also eventful. They came in a Danish freighter, across the Atlantic and up to Montreal, and enroute ran into the tail-end of a hurricane from the Caribbean. The trip took 13 days.

There are many incidents she likes to recall. One day she planned a birthday party for her husband, asked a number of guests, but didn't mention any specific reason for the party. When the day dawned, May 4, the BBC news announced that Denmark had been liberated. The Danes were overjoyed. "They thought I was psychic," she says. "They kept on saying, 'Mrs. Lloyd, how clever of you to plan a party—how did you know Denmark would be liberated today?'"

Mrs. Lloyd will leave Winnipeg in January to join her husband at Dartmouth College, New Hampshire.

Terrace People Think Juice Rate Is Too High

TERRACE, November 27 — There has been some chafing on the part of local people since they started receiving their electric light bills following the taking over of operation of the local service by the British Columbia Power Commission. One business man complained at a bill for $46 for the month and was talking about going back to his own plant. The basic rate is 20c. per kilowatt hour.

WINDSOR STRIKE

OTTAWA — Labor Minister Mitchell will confer in Ottawa today with representatives of the Ford Company in an attempt to settle the Ford strike in Windsor. Mr. Mitchell held a similar meeting yesterday with the officials of the Union. President Roy England of Local 200 of the C.I.O. United Automobile workers of America—the union local directly involved in the Ford strike—will present the Union's case tonight in a broadcast over an Ontario regional radio network. He will reply to the broadcast address over the same network last Friday night by Attorney-General Leslie Blackwell of Ontario.

MRS. FISHER PASSES AWAY

Steemed Pioneer Woman of City Dies at Medina, Washington.

Pioneer friends in Prince Rupert will regret to learn of the death on the evening of November 4 at Medina, near Seattle, Washington, of Mrs. Gertrude Fisher, widow of the late Walter S. Fisher who passed away a few years ago in the south. Mrs. Fisher had been a sufferer from heart trouble for some time but the end came suddenly at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Irving Linnell, with whom she had been residing.

Her residence in Prince Rupert was from the very early days until about fifteen years ago when her husband who was

GET PAID TO HEAR SERMON

WEST WICKHAM, Eng., (C) — Under terms of an ancient endowment, 40 "poor but honest" parishioners in this Kentish town are entitled to one shilling each for attending the parish church to hear a Guy Fawkes Day sermon each year. The rector receives $4.50 for preaching the sermon.

COUNCIL DEFERS CHLORINATION

the matter from a similar angle, but qualified it with a suggestion that "we keep the chlorination equipment here in case we need it."

Unqualified in his dislike of chlorinated water, Alderman Rudderham admitted that he had been doing a bit of reading in medical books and had found comfort therein.

"From what I have read," he said, "I don't think that our water supply is sufficiently contaminated to be dangerous to the health of the people. The bacteria in the water is not of an injurious type. I cannot see for the life of me why we should pay for something that is unnecessary."

"As far as I'm concerned," he added, "if you gave me chlorination for nothing I still wouldn't want it. You can't purify what is pure."

City Engineer Phillips said that operation of the chlorination plant might cost the city from $2,500 to $3,000 a year, employing an attendant for about four hours a day, but felt that it was necessary.

"Your water is just as safe at the source as Vancouver's water is," he said, "but you have not safe water in your city except for the residual chlorine in it. With leaking water pipes lying beside leaking sewer pipes there is no doubt that you have contamination in your water mains. Until you clear up the sewage situation here the water system is not safe."

Coupon Calendar Sugar Ration In December

There has been an alteration in the procedure for obtaining sugar allotments in the month of December. For next month, preserves coupons Nos. 22, 23, 24 and 25 will be used. Each of these coupons is good for one-half pound of sugar so there is no reduction in the consumer allotment. On the other hand, the change will enable people who prefer preserves to sugar to get a larger quantity of jams or jellies for the Christmas season.

Men who think of tomorrow are planning self-reading books, uninterrupted symphonies. Your radio-phonograph of tomorrow will bring you complete novels, dramas and symphonies magnetically impressed on small spools of steel wire. Hours of entertainment will be provided by a single spool no larger than your hand. And on spools of "blank wire" you will be able to make your own recordings—to keep permanently or to "wipe clean" for re-use any time you wish! Yes, your Victory Bonds will buy greater pleasures and comforts tomorrow!

Men who think of tomorrow say

"HOLD ON TO YOUR VICTORY BONDS TODAY"

NO ONE can repeal the law of supply and demand. But we can make it work our way by holding on to Victory Bonds bought to finance our nation at war.

Here's why: For many months consumer goods will continue to be scarce. Bidding for these goods with our extra dollars, thus driving prices up, only serves to devalue all of our personal wealth, and that of the nation.

By leaving our extra money in safe keeping with our government—for repayment when conditions have become normal—we automatically keep prices down and maintain the law of supply and demand in balance.

That's why your Victory Bonds may save you twice what you've invested in them—if you hold on to them now. When tempted to cash them in—think of tomorrow!

Q.—Should an usher at a wedding offer his arm to a woman guest even if he is not acquainted with her?
A.—Yes; it is his duty to do so.
Q.—Is it proper for a man to lift his hat when he picks up a dropped article for a woman?
A.—Yes; it is a courteous gesture.

Changchun Objective Closing On Capital Of Manchuria
CHUNGKING, Nov. 27 (P) — All roads lead to Changchun, capital of Manchuria, or so it would seem for all dispatches coming out of China feature the name in stories of the struggle for Manchuria. One of the latest dispatches from Chungking quotes a Chinese Catholic newspaper, Social Welfare, as saying the Russians have placed an additional 20 thousand troops in Changchun for the purpose of maintaining peace and order.
At the same time, Chinese Nationalist armies are reported speeding toward the city in order to be in time to take over when the Russians evacuate. Competing in this race are the Chinese Communists. Strong Communist forces are already reported on the outskirts of the city and some may be inside the city walls.
The Chinese Catholic newspaper report said that the Chinese Reds have been permitted to operate radio stations at Changchun and that they have taken over six of the seven Chinese newspapers. According to this report, they are also said to have nominated a new mayor for Changchun, although he has as yet not taken office.

Council Approves Bylaws for Vote
Final approval of three bylaws which will be voted on by property owners in the form of plebiscites at the civic elections on December 13 was passed by City Council in special meeting last night. They were:
1. A bylaw granting tax exemption to the federal government owned fishermen's floats built on waterfront block "G" and to those in process of construction in waterfront blocks "A" and "B". It would exempt the floats from both property taxes and local improvement taxes.
2. A bylaw to grant title of lot 17, block 20, section 1, (the lot adjoining the present Canadian Legion building) to Prince Rupert branch, Canadian Legion, for Legion purposes for the nominal sum of $1.
3. A bylaw exempting from general taxes, but not from local improvement taxes lot 17, block 20, section 1, for as long as it is used by the Canadian Legion for its regular purposes.

Earl Brochu Saw Much Campaigning
Another well-known Prince Rupert boy is back in the city after seeing a lot of war action. He is Earl Brochu, who went overseas soon after his enlistment in 1942 and, serving with the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps in the First Division, was through the campaigns of North Africa, Sicily, Italy and then around to Western Europe to finish up in Holland. A truck driver, he sustained a slight injury from shrapnel in the back of the head in Italy. Just discharged but still wearing uniform, he is happy indeed to be home and is looking forward to settling down to civilian life. He returned from overseas about six weeks ago and has been in Vancouver, coming from there on Sunday night. After a few days here, he plans to leave for the south to locate. Son of the late George Brochu, a pioneer of Prince Rupert, his mother is now at Sidney, Vancouver Island.

16-Ounce Bread Loaf to Be Law
The "staff of life" got a bit of reinforcement last night when City Council indicated its intention to enforce the city bylaw governing the weight of bread loaves sold in the city after the first of the year. The bylaw calls for a 16-ounce loaf. Some bread, particularly imported loaves, fall considerably to measure up to the 16-ounce weight, the aldermen were informed.

Six National Hockey League teams took to the ice Sunday night in loop games played in Chicago, Boston and Detroit. In Chicago, the Black Hawks handed the visiting Montreal Canadiens a 5-1 trouncing—the worst suffered by the Habitués this season. Close to 18,000 Windy City fans saw the Hawks strike quickly to clinch the victory. Clint Smith scored two first-period goals and Red Hamill punched in the third. Max Bentley finished up the Chicago scoring with one goal in the second frame and another in the final stanza. Toe Blake put in Montreal's lone tally.

In Boston, the Bruins came from behind to whip the Toronto Maple Leafs, 5-3, in their third tilt of the season. Pat Egan and Terry Reardon scored a pair apiece while the other Boston counter was supplied by Don Gallinger. Billy Taylor gave the Leafs first blood during the 12th minute of play. Gaye Stewart scored Toronto's second midway through the middle session. Teeter Kennedy provided Leafs' third and final goal.

The Detroit encounter saw the New York Rangers flash in three goals in the opening period. Alex Shibicky, Tony Leswick and Bill Juzda doing the honors. The second period was scoreless until 20 seconds from the finish when Mac Colville made it 4-0. Adam Brown put in Detroit's one and only goal of the game at 12:47 of the final period. The final curtain was brought down with the scoreboard reading: New York 4, Detroit 1.

The Montreal Royals continued undefeated atop the Quebec Senior Hockey League Sunday by nosing out the Ottawa Senators, 4-3, in a game played before a capacity crowd in Montreal. In other Q.S.H.L. play Sunday the Shawinigan Cataracts defeated the Hull Volants, 6-5, playing on home ice. In Quebec City, the Quebec Aces chalked up their fourth victory in ten league games by scoring four third-period goals to defeat the Valleyfield Braves, 7-3.

week-end after more than three years in the Army Transportation Corps. Braddock declared that Billy Conn will be the next heavyweight king after Conn's bout with Joe Louis in June. Braddock said he thinks that Conn will—in his own words—"Outbox Louis in 15 rounds easily." He added: "I like Conn's chances because he's a younger fellow and should be able to reach a better peak of condition than Louis who is over 30."

Ladies—

In compliance with numerous requests, the ladies Keep-Fit classes will be held one half-hour later than previously scheduled. The Keep-Fit class will get underway at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday and Friday and the gymnastic class at 8:30 on those evenings. These classes are held in the I.O.D.E. Hall.

Personalities—

"Personality" for today is Miss Marjorie Jackson, an instructor in the ladies' section. Marjorie (all young men please take note) is an attractive, blue-eyed girl, with curly brown hair and a sweet smile. Her home is Vancouver and her first jaunt away from home was to Prince Rupert. She arrived in 1942, and worked first for the Prince Rupert Dry Dock until May of 1945 when she became secretary to W. O. Fulton, a local barrister. Sport has always been Marjorie's hobby and she is a keen skier, having enjoyed many an expedition up Seymour Mountain. She also hikes and swims, and was a member of the Vancouver Pro-Rec for a time. Marjorie typifies the ideal of Rup-Rec, insofar as she is a keen exponent of many sports, rather than a specialist in one.

Gymnasium—

A permanent gymnasium for local sports, games and gymnastics is the most pressing business on Rup-Rec agenda at present. President Bill Noble and Secretary-Treasurer Maurice Brydges are sparing no effort in their negotiations with the Dominion Government to obtain a community gymnasium as quickly as possible. Along with a full program in Pro-Rec, basketball league games will again become possible. All recreation-minded citizens are wishing Messrs. Noble and Brydges the best of luck.

LONDON, (P)—Thousands of Londoners gave a great welcome to three of India's V. C. winners when they emerged from Buckingham Palace after being decorated by the King. Nearly a score of cameramen gathered round the men and the police had to hold back the rest of the crowds.

the midst of a great pulp timber area and well equipped with the services required for such a plant.

W. M. Watts supplemented Mr. Young's suggestion with the statement that Prince Rupert people had always considered a pulp mill economically feasible. Some steps, he had reason to believe, were even at this time being taken by important interests. Mr. Watts then proceeded to discuss the desirability of better rates for ocean shipping and the necessity of aids to navigation which would permit lower marine insurance rates for vessels using the port. There was, as well, the matter of shipping subsidy. "We also feel," said Mr. Watts, "that the fishing business belongs to Prince Rupert." He continued to mention the need of steamship services. In any representations which Prince Rupert made along these lines it was expected the support of the railway company would be forthcoming. The company might assist immediately by quoting rates on all-water shipments from here to New York.

George Mitchell mentioned the need of a hotel here.

S. E. Parker felt that something should be done about greater use of the elevator at a time when Vancouver was shipping large quantities of grain, India and Russia were becoming important markets for Canadian wheat and Prince Rupert was situated strategically for the handling of such shipments. It seemed that provision should be made for the payment of higher wages here. At present there was a limit of 50c whereas Vancouver was paying 75c.

G. R. S. Blackaby referred to the feeling prevalent here that strong influences in Vancouver were employed against the use of Prince Rupert and its facilities.

Mayor Daggett felt that in the past there had been a lack of civic consciousness—an inferiority complex—here. However, there were definite signs that this was vanishing, that local people were inclined to pull more unitedly together. With the full co-operation of the railway, he was confident that important benefits would accrue.

J. S. Wilson felt Prince Rupert had no apologies to make. This port and district had something to give—a contribution to offer. The railway company might not always have fully recognized Prince Rupert. It was felt that the Canadian National should build ships here.

W. J. Scott felt that full information was not always available. Sometimes it was said that this was a suitable site for industries but they did not come.

Coal bunkers should be established to assist the utilization of a port 500 miles closer to the Orient, T. N. Youngs felt.

Bruce Mickleburgh was confident that Prince Rupert had a destiny which must eventually be realized as a thriving industrial port and centre of world commerce.

This was one of the richest areas in the world, one of the least developed and most sparsely populated. Prince Rupert's position had been made use of during the war. The use of the Pacific might have been much grimmer had this not been available. Until the long term destiny was achieved and Prince Rupert, in the interests of the nation, assumed permanent role in the new Pacific, it would be necessary to bridge over a gap with temporary measures as utilization of the dry dock for company shipping.

Coming Back To Stay Longer

Before the meeting concluded, W. T. Moodie, general superintendent, Canadian National Railways, gave assurance that Brigadier Wyman, whose return on this occasion was short, would be coming here again soon and would remain longer.

Brigadier Wyman expressed appreciation of the assistance he had already received.

Mayor Daggett and Chairman Mitchell expressed appreciation of the interest that was shown in Prince Rupert.
