SHIP SNAG BOAT ESSINGTON IS DAMAGED IN EARLY MORNING FIRE

Eleven Crew Members Escape Burning Ship As Four Fire Departments Fight Blaze

Eleven crew members of the Canadian government river snag boat Essington hurriedly escaped a fire which did heavy damage to the superstructure of the stern-wheeler vessel as it lay moored at the Philpott-Evitt wharf at 5 o'clock this morning. The effects of the ten men and one woman of the crew were destroyed as the fire swept through the boat before being brought under control by the combined efforts of four area fire departments. Damage will run into many thousands of dollars.

According to the engineer of the flat-bottomed river boat, the fire started when the oil-burning furnace backfired and sent a jet of flaming oil through the engine room. The flames spread almost instantaneously through the ship.

Members of the crew dashed from their flaming quarters in night attire, lacking time to collect their belongings which today are part of the unrecognizable debris in the charred cabins.

The United States Army fire department, the United States fire boat, the city fire department and the navy fire boat joined forces to pour tons of water on the ship and soon subdued the flames.

"It was one time that we actually had more water than we needed," Fire Chief H. T. Lock said afterward.

The Essington, which is owned by the federal department of Public Works and is commanded by Capt. J. D. Watson, arrived in Prince Rupert Wednesday from the Naas River where it has been clearing the river channel of navigation obstructions.

Bert Warian, cook on the Essington, told the Daily News that everyone of the crew lost most, if not all their effects.

"I lost everything. Those of us who occupied cabins on the lower deck were in a bad spot. The fire started in the engine room close to us," he said.

Clothing was later provided by friends for those who escaped in their night garments. A stewardess, known as "Bobby," lost all her belongings.

Only part of the superstructure not damaged by the fire was the pilot house. Most of the machinery inside suffered costly damage.

The Essington, which plies both the Naas and Skeena rivers keeping channels open for navigation is equipped with a derrick at its blunt bow to lift snags and other obstructions from the water. It is skippered by Capt. J. D. Watson, pioneer river and coastal navigator. It is driven by a paddle wheel at the stern.

The vessel was built in the Prince Rupert Dry Dock in 1931 to replace the old BoboLink which is now a cannery scow at the Queen Charlotte Islands. The Essington has a length of 100 feet, a beam of 29 feet and draws 5.3 feet. Her registered tonnage is 129.

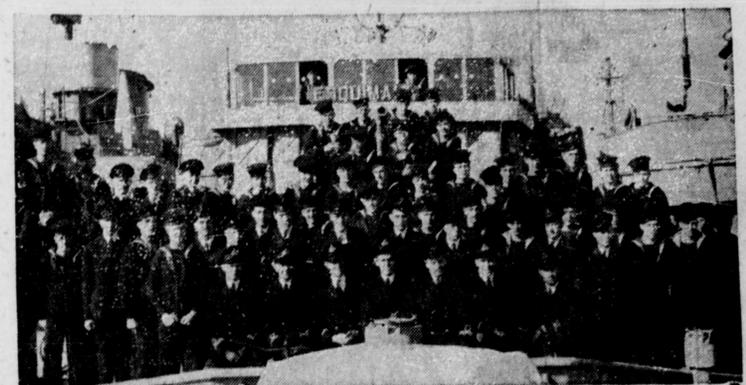

TOBRUK'S FALLS NUMBERED FOUR
 Tobruk changed hands four times in the bitter struggle for Africa and was left a mass of rubble, its harbor choked with sunken ships. The British chased the Italians out in January, 1941, and held off Rommel's attack during the epic 17-month stand. But in June, 1942, Rommel swept in successfully. Tobruk fell a fourth time, in November, 1942, when Montgomery drove out the Afrika Korps and kept them on the run all the way to Tunisia.

VICTORIOUS DEFEATS
 The official German mind was quick to disguise Nazi defeats for home consumption with such terms as "fluid withdrawals," "disengaging manoeuvres," "shortening lines," "strategic withdrawals." But even in this department the Nazis must have acknowledged defeat when the Japanese, after the first B-29 bombing raids, proclaimed: "We should not think that we have been passively attacked but that we have actively pulled the enemy toward us."

Coalition Wins Seat

"Boss" Johnson Elected By Big Majority in Westminster

NEW WESTMINSTER, May 11 (CP)—Final returns in the New Westminster by-election show Byron I. (Boss) Johnson elected by a substantial margin. Mr. Johnson, Liberal member of the B.C. Legislature from 1933 to 1937, was elected coalition member for New Westminster with a total vote of 3,538. The CCF candidate, Robert Cormak, was runner-up. He received 1,669. Jack Greenall, Labor-Progressive, got 989 votes and Edward Mills, who ran on a combined veterans and labor ticket, 135.

BROTHERS BUY BONDS

Four Ether brothers of Sixth Avenue East—Ronald, 11, Laurand, 14, Archie and Billy, 10-year-old twins—have teamed up to purchase $100 of Eighth Victory Bonds from their savings as new boys, it was made known at loan headquarters last night. The example of thrift thus displayed was held up as a worthy example to other young folk.

LAST WAR REPARATIONS

The Reparations Commission after the First Great War fixed Germany's debt to the Allied nations at 132,000,000,000 gold marks (about $52,000,000,000 at normal exchange rates). At the end of five years (1924) when the Dawes Plan for stabilizing Germany's currency went into effect, Germany had paid 8,405,000,000 marks in gold and products. The Young Plan in 1929 adjusted the debt into 59 annual payments, running to 1988, and totalling 36,996,000,000 marks.

GERMANS QUIT CHANNEL ISLANDS

LONDON, May 11 (CP)—German forces on the Channel Islands have surrendered, it was announced yesterday. The announcement said that a British task force had landed on the islands. The surrender brings freedom to the Channel Islanders after almost five years. They were the first British possession to fall into the hands of the enemy in this war.

1940 BLITZ WAS MAGIC

London suffered 7,000 civilian deaths and 10,000 wounded during the height of the 1940 aerial blitz between Sept. 7 and Oct. 7. Prime Minister Churchill estimated the Luftwaffe dropped 5,000,000 pounds of bombs on the city from a daily average of 400 planes during the period. Britain's defences forced the Nazis to change their tactics from day to night raids. On one day 185 German planes were brought down by the R.A.F., anti-aircraft fire and barrage balloons.

DON'T WANT JAPANESE

Masset People Agree With Applewhite That They Are Not Wanted

MASSETT, May 11—Edward Applewhite, Liberal candidate, addressed his first public meeting of the campaign at Massett last night. Olof Hanson and S. E. Parker also spoke.

A good crowd gave Mr. Applewhite an attentive and friendly hearing.

The question period showed Massett agreed with the Liberal candidate's stand against permitting Japanese to return to the coast or to have the vote.

Applewhite drew considerable applause when he referred to Olof Hanson as the pattern upon which he would model himself.

FAMOUS PLANE IS DESTROYED

Two Distinguished Airmen Lost in Blazing Crash at Calgary

The famous plane flew unscathed through 211 operational flights over Europe. It was flying across Canada in the interests of the Eighth Victory Loan and was to have left here last night for Vancouver.

Hess, Himmler, Goering Face Trial As Criminals

Four to Six Million Germans May Have to Atone For Nation's Crimes

LONDON, May 11 (CP)—Rudolph Hess, Heinrich Himmler and Hermann Goering all have been listed by the United Nations as war criminals and there is strong possibility that Admiral Doenitz will have to face trial for his life. Information about the ranking luminaries of the fallen Nazi hierarchy and Hitler's successor in the surrendered Reich came today from a highly reliable source.

The informant estimated that between four and six million Germans might be forced to atone for their nation's atrocities if the proposed plan to pool punishment is adopted by the victorious powers.

Hess and Goering are prisoners. Both were Hitler deputies. Himmler, hangman leader of the Gestapo, still is a fugitive.

COLD WEATHER HOLDS SEEDING

Unfavorable Weather Delays Putting in of Prairie Crop

WINNIPEG, May 11—Cold weather with high winds, rain and snow has again delayed western seeding operations. Some soil drifting has taken place on lighter land and, while winds have hastened drying where moisture was excessive, frosty nights have prevented continued surface moisture improvement, according to the weekly crop report of the department of Agriculture of the Canadian National Railways.

Throughout Manitoba no seeding has yet been done. In southern and central Manitoba, wheat and coarse grain acreage will be decreased, with surplus land going into summer fallow.

In Saskatchewan, practically all farming operations have been at a standstill owing to cold weather, winds, snow and rain. Seeding will become general in the next week or 10 days.

Reports from Alberta indicate very little seeding has yet been done. Moisture conditions are about normal.

The Peace River territory reports cold weather, with frosty nights. Seeding has started in a few areas and progress is expected to be rapid next week. Moisture conditions are satisfactory.

From the Okanagan Valley comes reports that weather has been warmer with cool nights. Blossoms of apricots, cherries, peaches and plums are practically over and the fruit buds have set satisfactorily. Apple blossoms are out now and will continue for about a week. No damage to the crop is so far apparent and conditions look as satisfactory as at this time last year.

Who Is To Blame For Big Riots?

Major Controversy—Mayor Blames Sailors For It—Claim For Damages

ADMIRAL TAKES OVER HALIFAX, May 11 (CP)—Acting Prime Minister J. L. Ilesley arrived in Halifax today to personally investigate the circumstances of the Halifax riots. He met the mayor and president of the Board of Trade. Vice-Admiral George C. Jones, chief of naval staff, also arrived today to assume temporary command of all naval personnel in the area. He has been authorized to call upon the Army and Air Force to assist him if necessary. There have been new disorders at New Waterford with teenage boys and girls breaking into the liquor store, smashing windows and injuring two policemen.

HALIFAX, May 11 (CP)—In the Halifax riots, a major controversy has arisen as to who was to blame. The Canadian Press reported in eye-witness dispatches that the mobs were made up of the three armed services, merchant seamen and civilians. However, the Canadian Press said it was generally agreed that the sailors led the raids on the liquor stores and breweries and started the window smashing. These dispatches said that the civilians joined in the looting wholeheartedly.

Mayor Butler said in a radio address that he has called on the Dominion government to make adequate compensation.

Earlier, Mayor Butler laid the blame for the five million dollar riot at the door of the Canadian Navy.

Trouble In Sydney Too
 Riots broke out Wednesday night in the Whitney Pier district, near Sydney, Nova Scotia, and in the mining town of New Waterford, 12 miles away. However, recurrence of the previous night's demonstrations and looting in Sydney was nipped by a nine-o'clock curfew imposed by Mayor D. J. MacLean.

Russia at Conference . . .

It is plain that the Russians have been at San Francisco to help the Conference succeed, but with no overpowering sense that it must succeed. If we fail now, we can try again—that is one possible interpretation of the Russian attitude. But Mr. Eden says "this time we must succeed. The work on which we are making a start here may be the world's last chance."

At first glance this might seem to place Russia in a much stronger bargaining position than Britain, or than the United States, since Americans generally share the views Mr. Eden stated so sharply. But this does not necessarily follow. For it is clear that the British and Americans expect to make only a beginning at San Francisco. If the area in which compromise is possible should turn out to be small, then a small beginning will be made; if the area for compromise is larger, more can be done.

Nothing that has been said can be construed as meaning that Russia will necessarily abandon or even greatly modify its position on the Polish and other questions. But enough has been said to warrant the shelving of doubts about the depth of Russia's interest in the project for a world peace agency. There is enough, indeed, on which reasonably to rest our hope for the success of the Conference in making that beginning which Mr. Eden said must be made now.

The Collapse of the Enemy . . .

German Nazism and its satellite neo-Fascism have crashed to destruction without one glimmer of romance left, notes the British Information Bureau. The notion that Germany would go down in a gottterdammerung finale has been hopelessly exploded. As the enemy collapsed the elements whereon he based his system are becoming clearer for Germany has collapsed in a mass of bestial corruption. All that we believed worst in the Nazis has been more than proved true and the satanic myth which for long clung to the leaders with certain evil grandeur is being dispelled, leaving them to be seen as they are—evil men, but men—not demigods.

Mussolini's wretched exit was typical of the end of those monstrous systems which for so long threatened the world, which the Allies fully intend to have done with forever. Yet because victory is total, and collapse has brought with it such clear indications of the inhuman, anti-Christian nature of the enemy, it would be foolish to a degree to overlook the fact that even now the enemy may be preparing to lay the foundations of yet another attempt to rule the world by wrong.

Scharping's broadcast on the Hamburg radio on the night of April 30, while admitting total defeat, yet expressed the still flickering desire of the Germans once more to revive the philosophy of force, which the world has twice in a generation united to resist. Scharping said: "Every German must firmly retain in his heart the faith that this war has its meaning. He must be certain that each one of us will talk German also in the future, though our country may be temporarily occupied. The Elbe will also in future remain a German River, so will the Rhine, and Oder. They will never be Germany's frontier."

The enemy is defeated, his ideology is exposed for what it is. The task now is to crush every attempt to revive it. Complacency will never be enough.

Local News Irresistible . . .

Some weeks ago a daily newspaper in an Ontario town raised its circulation rates 2c a week, whereupon a local banker cancelled his subscription. Fortnightly calls failed to obtain a renewal. Two months later, however, he called to renew his subscription, saying that because he didn't take the local paper, he hadn't learned of the death of a good friend until a month after it happened. Consequently, he had decided he couldn't afford to do without the local daily newspaper for news of his own town.

This is just one testimony of thousands to the unparalleled power of the local daily to command "cover to cover" readership of the citizens in its area. There is no better medium for an advertiser to spread his sales story in his own market.

RAILWAYS AND RADIO

Canadians Lines May Replace Land Telegraphs

MONTREAL, May 11—The development and experimentation with point to point land-line radio automatic relay systems within the past year by the two major communication systems in the United States has been followed closely by officers of Canada's two large railway systems—Canadian National and Canadian Pacific. The application of automatic unattended ultra high frequency radio relay systems is calculated to make possible, without disturbances from atmospheric and other uncontrollable influences which adversely effect ordinary point-to-point radio, the network transmission of high fidelity radio programs and ultimately television, and point-to-point transmission of printing telegraph, telephone and facsimile such transmission being contemplated over considerable distance.

Canadian National and Canadian Pacific announce that the measure of success so far achieved through experimentation has been such as to justify their taking practical and immediate action in the hope that, as a result of similar experimentation by them, a solid foundation will have been laid to make available to the Canadian public the advantages of this new and revolutionary medium of communication transmission. In view of magnitude of their respective interests and the wide variety of communication services they perform, the desirability of minimizing the capital expenditure and to avoid confusion and unnecessary duplication in the use of frequency allocations, the two railway systems have agreed to act jointly, believing such action to be in the public interest.

In addition to the use of radio for the provision of inter-city relay links the railways are also considering the use of radio to facilitate train movement should such use, following the results of such experiments presently being considered by a number of railways on this continent, be justified. Should the results of experimentation with relay systems be sufficiently encouraging to warrant permanent installation the question naturally arises as to the extent to which radio relay systems will replace present systems using wire lines. It is the expectation of the railway companies that wire lines will still be retained for certain classes of services but where

"WORST" CEMETERY

Editor, Daily News:
On the holiday my husband and I went for a walk along Park Avenue and we came to the cemetery.

I have been to quite a few places and have seen a few cemeteries but that is the worst I've seen in my travels.

Surely there is someone in Prince Rupert who has some authority in such cases, to keep it in some decent shape.

Wake up Prince Rupert—have a little respect for those who have passed on!

A VISITOR FROM THE EAST

It is shown that better service or a reduction in expense can be achieved by the use of radio relay systems they would hope to employ them to take the fullest advantage of their use in providing communication service to the Canadian public.

At the moment, the plan is to determine the extent to which radio will substantially enlarge upon and replace or supplement commercial services now handled over our wire lines. Permanent radio systems are costly and their installations must, of necessity, be affected with the utmost care and precision in order to obtain maximum results in efficiency. The first step in the execution of the plan will take the form of experimental installations between Montreal and Ottawa and between Ottawa and Toronto. Progress of this initial step will be limited only by governmental restrictions on the war-time use of radio and the availability of the necessary equipment.

Canadian Food Trade

On and after May 11, 1945, no processor or wholesaler may sell or deliver canned meat, except by permit.

Special Note to Retailers

The order freezes all stocks of canned meat exceeding 1000 pounds in and in transit to any retail store, and all stocks held by a retailer in a warehouse separate from his store.

Meat is urgently required in liberated Europe. Transportation and refrigeration facilities are so disorganized that canned meat must be made available. To help meet this critical over-ear need, Canada has earmarked almost her entire output of canned meat for export.

"Canned meat" means any meat or meat products packed in sealed glass or metal containers, except poultry meat, soup, pork and beans, pureed infant foods and imported beef concentrates or beef concentrates processed from imported beef extract.

Sales are permitted to the Meat Board, Department of Munitions and Supply, Department of Transport, Canadian Red Cross for Prisoner of War parcels, ships' stores or persons in remote areas of Canada.

Reports of Stocks

By May 25, every canner, wholesaler and retailer, who had on hand on May 11 any meat covered by the order must report it on a special form which may be obtained at any branch of the Board. After May 11, a record must be kept of sales to priority users.

Meat Canners

On and after May 11, no one may pack in glass any meat covered by the order.

On and after May 11, registered canners are forbidden to pack in metal any meat covered by the order, except for sale to the government for export.

Golf Course Is Planned

Gyro Club Leading Movement—Playgrounds in Operation Early This Year
Inspired by the Prince Rupert Gyro Club, a movement for the establishment of a golf course in this city is being intimated. Preliminary inspections of such possible sites as the basin of Hays Creek west of Algoma Park and Montreal Hill have already been made. To further explore the possibilities of the project, a committee consisting of W. J. Scott, C. P. Balagno and Frank Skinner has been named.
The club is getting its children's playground equipment set up earlier than usual this year. W. D. Lambie, chairman of the playground committee, reported to President John Gibson and members of the club at its regular monthly business luncheon on Wednesday. In fact the equipment at McClymont Park is already up and being made ready for use by the end of the week. Equipment has been repaired and painted and such improvements as necessary have been made to various grounds.
The committee chairman reported that excellent co-operation had been accorded by the city in connection with the playground. In fact the city has undertaken to maintain McClymont Park with the club continuing responsibility for the others—Seal Cove, Westview and Alder Park. Extensive improvements have been made to the Gyro ball park at Sixth Ave. and McBride St. and more are planned.
Other club business was dealt with at yesterday's meeting. It was decided to hold a stag party on May 22. Al Sheardown was the winner of the weekly raffle of a war savings certificate.

HESS AFFAIR FANTASTIC

Rudolf Hess, once termed the only man trusted by Hitler, created one of the fantastic legends of the war when he borrowed an Me-110 fighter plane and fled to England on May 10, 1941. Why should Hess, the No. 3 Nazi, Hitler's alter ego and editor of "Mein Kampf," have the war so mm pwOR3 mm mm flown the coop? Britons said it wasn't desertion; that Hess wanted to get Britain out of the war so Hitler could attack Russia unmolested from the west. Britons have always felt that when Hess came tumbling down in a parachute to be captured by a farmer with a pitchfork, they gained one of the important prizes of the war.

RECORD CROWDS VISIT TERRACE

TERRACE, May 11—With the blowing of sirens and whistles, Terrace commenced its V-E Day program on Tuesday. Units of the Air Force, the Army and the Boy Scouts paraded to the ball park to take part in a special thanksgiving service. Practically all places of business were closed for the day and a large crowd was present. The day was the brightest and warmest so far this year. The speakers stood on a raised platform decorated with large flags. The service was opened by Harry King. Prayers by Rev. R. Hills and scripture readings by Rev. Mr. Graham followed. Several hymns were sung, Mr. Barr being the piano accompanist. The main address was given by Rev. Thomas Colwell and the service was brought to a close by Emil Haugland, the mayor.

In the afternoon a program of children's sports was held and over $30 given in prizes. The committee in charge of sports consisted of R. Beecher, C. Mitchell, B. West and B. Barr.

Two V-E dances were held in the evening, one in the Oddfellows' and the other in the Orange Hall.

Record crowds were present everywhere and included people from Remo, Usk and other places near at hand.

The V-E Day committee in charge of all arrangements consisted of Harry King, chairman; Emil Haugland, George MacAdams, Jim Smith, Duncan Kerr, Rev. Mr. Colwell and Rev. Mr. Hills.

INTEREST UNITY MUST BE BASIS OF WORLD PEACE

The historical conflict of racial and ideological differences which has been the background of war since one barbaric individual first hurled a boulder at another must be brought under the control of a common basis of understanding and unity of interest if the world is to achieve peace, Rev. Conrad Gaard, British Israel Federation speaker, told the Prince Rupert Rotary Club Thursday.

The Anglo-Saxon-Celtic peoples are custodians of the principles which will lead the world to peace, the Tacoma speaker declared, not because they are a master race, but because they have a divine destiny to become a light to all the peoples of the earth.

"The people of the British Commonwealth and the United States have a background of centuries of working toward freedom. Because of this, the Anglo-Saxon-Celtic race has been placed in a position of responsibility by history. Our path must become that of the world's greatest servants."

In outlining his reasons for arguing Anglo-Saxon moral dominance, Rev. Mr. Gaard compared the processes of the French revolution with the English revolt against King John which resulted in the signing of the Magna Charta.

"The French revolution succeeded in overthrowing one group of leaders with another group of similar tendencies while the English revolt left the same man in power but made him conform to new principles," he said.

"The English freemen did not depend on men, they were seeking principles, while in the French revolution the concept of founding freedom and justice on principles was lacking."

Guests at the meeting were Dr. G. D. Galbraith, J. Managhan, Springfield, Ill., and Horace Alton. George Hill was greeted as a new member.

WOMEN'S PART IN VICTORY

Women of the United Nations played a far greater role in the Second Great War than in any other war—and played it in far greater numbers. For the first time in modern history, women of some countries fought side by side with men in organized groups.

But perhaps the greatest service women rendered in the war was behind the lines. Millions of women in Britain, Canada and the United States worked on assembly lines to produce the planes, tanks, guns and ammunition which made it possible to win the war.

Hundreds of thousands of others planted and harvested crops. Women who could not leave their homes contributed to the war effort by rolling bandages, saving tin and fat and conserving food.

And deep in occupied Europe women worked in a vast underground movement to undermine the Nazi war machine and help keep national spirit alive.

J. Monaghan, of Springfield, Ill., editor of Illinois State Historical publications, is a visitor in the city, having arrived on Wednesday night's train. Mr. Monaghan, who is on vacation, leaves tonight for the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Home Miracle

All we wanted was the smartest, gayest, most cheerful living room in the world!

What we had was one of the dullest, most uninspired and drab rooms on Elmhurst Drive!

But the budget!

"At least, we can do something about those draperies," I told Jim. And I ran up some gay, modern-looking material I'd picked up at a bargain. While I was about it, I did a job on new slip-covers, too.

In the meantime, Jim fixed up some smart, oversized frames for our prints, and I did a re-painting job on the walls. Then a Venetian blind to cover both windows. "Hey! It begins to look like something around here!" he said, one day.

"There's just one thing wrong," I said. "... the floor. And I know how I can fix that up. Without a lot of expense, either!" Next day we looked at Gold Seal Congoleum Rugs—and bought a beautiful one in colors that go wonderfully with the rest of our room. And it will wear as well as it looks! For Gold Seal Congoleum has an exclusive wearing layer of heat-toughened paint and baked enamel—equal in thickness to 8 coats of best floor paint applied by hand. Best of all—it makes cleaning loads easier. Honestly, we believe a professional decorator couldn't have done better!

RECKITT'S BLUE PREVENTS CLOTHES TURNING YELLOW

Do as Mother and Grandmother did. They knew a swish or two of blue in the last rinse was the way to keep all white clothes snowy white. You may wash them clean but it's the rinse in Blue that prevents them turning yellow. Just a swish or two in the last rinse water does the trick.

Seven colours combine to make white. One of these colours is blue. There is no true white without Blue.

SMITHERS "V-E DAY"

Was Celebrated Quietly—Stores Closed Three Days—Impromptu Gatherings

SMITHERS, May 11—V-E Day at Smithers was celebrated in a quiet and orderly manner. Early Monday morning radio announcements that the end of the war had come were heard by many but until nearly noon people just stood around commenting on the situation and hoping that it was true. At 11 a.m. the steam whistle and the siren of the C.N.R. roundhouse started blowing long and short blasts and continued doing so until steam was exhausted and, this being the awaited signal, the stores closed immediately and the schools also were dismissed for the day.

There being no brass band and no military forces available for an impromptu parade the next best way of celebrating was organized and the Canadian Legion made plans for a patriotic concert Monday evening in the Reo Theatre. The result was that the theatre was filled at 8:15 and a concert of community singing, vocal solos, and recitations, interspersed with a number of very short speeches, made quite an enjoyable evening and gave the community a place to gather to express satisfaction and relief in knowing that the European part of the war had come to a successful conclusion. Walter Bodger's Orchestra provided music for the evening.

After the concert several parades headed by accordions and bagpipes wandered through the streets for a time.

The various churches of the town held services on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock and these were all well attended.

Tuesday evening there was a quiet but happy dance in the Smithers Hall for which Goodacre's Orchestra provided the music.

The local stores remained closed from Monday morning until Thursday morning which left a number of unsuspecting residents quite short on rations for a day or so.

Also, those patrons of the liquor store who were afraid to trust themselves to be able to obtain and hold their liquor ration ahead of time for the celebration of the end of hostilities, found that they had to do their celebrating without any extra encouragement for the liquor store was promptly closed upon the official receipt of news of the end of the war.

Flags were flown from every flagstaff and in streamers across Main St. and many windows and homes were decorated with bunting.

GARDEN 'NOTEBOOK'

A LOT FROM A LITTLE

Those unfamiliar with gardening are amazed at the amount of vegetables a plot a few yards square can produce. Handled properly a piece of ground 12 feet wide and 25 feet long should yield practically all the vegetables, except potatoes, a small family will require from early July until frost.

For ease in cultivation, rows should run across the width, not the length of the plot, and they can be as close together as 12 inches for little, narrow and early stuff like lettuce, radish and carrots, about 15 inches for beets and beans, and 18 inches for corn and tomatoes. To save room and induce early and clean fruits the latter should be staked with all side branches pinched off.

Space can be saved by alternating early vegetables like radish, spinach and lettuce with later maturing sorts like beets, carrots and onions. By the time the second group really require all room the first will have been removed and eaten.

Pest Control

For almost every flower, vegetable, scrub or vine there is a special bug or disease which if unchecked may make life miserable for the gardener, as well as the garden. Scab and rot may attack potatoes, dirty black spots appear on green beans, a borer runs through carrots, mildew ruins rose foliage, thrips prevent gladiolus from blooming, a tiny insect 'stunt' dahlias buds.

It is impossible and unnecessary to go into details. Actually all these pests can be controlled fairly easily and there are combination sprays and dusts which will cope with most situations. One point, however, is most important and that is that well cultivated, well managed gardens are far less susceptible to attack than those that have been neglected.

ROMANTIC, THRILLING

"Frenchman's Creek" Is Love Story of Pirate and Fascinating Woman

The technicolor picture "Frenchman's Creek," at the Capitol Theatre this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, is the romantic love story of a pirate, played by Arturo de Cordova, and a fascinating Englishwoman, Lady Rockingham, played by Joan Fontaine. It is a tale of adventure laid against a background of the Cornish coast in 1688. Navron House, the country home of Miss Fontaine in the picture, and the tiny inlet, Frenchman's Creek, as it is called, are the focal points in the story.

Soon after the opening scene, Joan and her two children arrive at this picturesque haven, only to find that de Cordova and his band of pirates have been utilizing Navron as a hide-out. Their sailing vessel lies at anchor nearby. Cecil Kellaway, a replacement for the former butler at Navron and who is in the employ of de Cordova, arranges a meeting of his master with Joan. An immediate attraction for each other deepens into a burning love and Joan steals away on the pirate ship with de Cordova. It is then, when the pirate's deeds reach the ears of Joan's husband, played by Ralph Forbes, that the latter hurries to Navron.

The plan to capture the pirate is formulated and de Cordova falls into the trap. Jailed, and awaiting a sure hanging, he is rescued by Joan and Kellaway in a thrilling escape venture. Joan, torn between her love of the children and the pirate, chooses to remain behind, faithful to a husband who reforms into a brave courageous fighter.
