Mr. Stewart, who had been in gradually declining health for the past few years, was 79 years of age. He had left here in 1937 after selling out the wholesale grocery business of Stewart & Mobley Ltd., which he founded in 1908, to Kelly-Douglas Co Since then he had resided in Vancouver although it was his custom to go to San Diego for the winters.

Mr. Stewart set up the pioneer wholesale grocery establishment on old Ruper Road and, later being joined again by Mr. Mobley, they incorporated under the name of Stewart & Mobley Ltd. Prince Rupert Grain Shipping-DISCRIMINATORY POLICY PRINCE RUPERT IS BEING RESISTED

Dissatisfied with the policy of the Canadian Wheat Board in regard to the use of the Prince Rupert grain elevator which is now empty and with no apparent intention of using it again unless "a large crop be harvested next summer to the extent that the facilities available at Prince Rupert might be needed,"

Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, of which J. J. Little is INDONESIANS chairman, is actively pursuing TO ASSIST IN the matter with a view to having the Wheat Board reconsider KEEPING ORDER its position and take advantage of the situation of this port for the efficacious dispatch of wheat through the local house for shipments especially to the Orient or Russia. The Canadian Wheat Board expressed its policy in regard to the elevator here in the following communication:

"Forsaken-Even by C.N.R."

The Prince George Citizen has added its editorial voice to the widespread protests that have gone up all along the line from Chambers of Commerce, communities and newspapers at the proposal of the Canadian National Railways to inflict the ignominy on this line of the railway of reducing the service from six passenger trains a week to three mixed.

The Citizen agrees with the Daily News in its recent outspoken comment and, amplifying the subject, has the following to say under the heading "Forsaken — Even by the C.N.R":

"In a pungent editorial the Prince. Rupert Daily News denounces the 'bare-faced proposal of the Canadian National Railways to reduce the coastal end of the northern line from Jasper to Prince Rupert to the status of the lowest form of a branch line by cutting the service to three mixed trains a week in either direction.' It urges the strongest protest be made.

"The criticism by the News is all the more forceful coming from a daily newspaper that has long been friendly disposed to the Canadian National (as has the Prince George Citizen) for the railway has been the most important transportation facility and thereby the life of the economic structure of Central B.C.

"Ever since the old Grand Trunk Pacific Railway got associated with the Canadian Northern through the amalgamation under government ownership, the territory it served has been despised and treated as the bastard child of the Canadian National Railway system.

We have already discovered in a negative way that prosperity does not make for peace, that even peace does not make for happiness and that even happiness does not make for satisfaction in life. Perhaps our next discovery will be the positive one -that prosperity means the

This discovery cannot be universal property until you make it yourself. You cannot make until you seek Jesus Christ and surrender your life to Him. Life is too short to fritter away precious days on the imperishable of life. Tomorrow is too late when today we are faced with the Eternal.
