LITTLE BLUE MEAT DISCS

Housewives of Prince Rupert like those of all Canada will now have quantities of little blue fibrewood discs rattling around in their purses. Those are to be used in the meat rationing scheme, which went into effect yesterday. They provide for the purchase of less than the full amount of meat allowed for each coupon.

monthly dinner meetings last night after a suspension over the summer vacation period, went on record as favoring the formation of a branch of the British Columbia Automobile Association in Prince Rupert. J. Harry Black, who is interesting himself in the matter, explained the family income. advantages that local car owners and motorists could derive from the Association and the way in which the city and district would benefit through publicity. Mr. Black said that H. F Bird, manager of the Association, expected to visit Prince Rupert soon to meet local motorists who were enthusiastically interesting themselves.

A communication from Peters burg, Alaska, seeking changes in the International halibut fishing regulations so as to provent early exhaustion of the annual fishing quota in Area No. 2 which was working a hardship on the smaller vessels which were unable to fish in Area No. 2 was received sympathetically and referred to the fisheries committee:

BOAT CAPSIZED-ONE LOST VANCOUVER-A. Beaumont, 83, was drowned Monday when the tuna boat Pacific Clipper capsized in Vancouver Harbor. Five other men aboard the boat were rescued. The capsizing was believed to have been caused by a combination of new bait tanks on the after deck and the heavy swell of the steamer Prince George which was passing the vessel. Beaumont was trapped in the cabin.
