Anti-Nazi Bodies Out

PARIS, May 28 (CP)—American officers have dissolved two assertedly anti-Nazi movements in the Rhineland. The first action was taken against a combat organization known as the Antifaka whose handful of members claim it was founded two years ago to spread sentiment against Hitler. The latest to be dissolved was the anti-Nazi committee of a semi-rural district nine miles east of Cologne.

Boxes mailed today by the Returning Officer were consigned to Atlin, Telegraph Creek, Dease Lake, Bennett, and the Queen Charlotte Island logging camps. Meanwhile, the former Nazi leader—Julius Streicher—is being transferred to his Allied captors that he never persecuted Jews but acted as their defender. Streicher was the editor of the notorious anti-semitic paper, the Sturmer. Loudly proclaiming his innocence, he asked his captors at Salzburg: "Why am I treated like a murderer?"

Salt Lake Bush Fires

Warm, Dry Weather Makes Conditions Hazardous

Continued warm, dry weather conditions have created a bush fire hazard right here in Prince Rupert. There were two such fires at the Salt Lakes across the harbor over the week-end, probably caused by carelessness of picnickers.

One of the fires started near the board walk about half way between the landing and the lake and, fanned by a westerly breeze, spread rapidly northward through light bush and light timber, covering considerable area before it spent itself in green timber.

Yesterday afternoon another fire started on the left side of the Salt Lake entrance and ran up the lower side of the lake where it was still burning today.

No property damage was done by the fires so far.

Forest Branch Takes Action

A special forestry patrol will be sent to guard the area around the Salt Lakes during week-ends if dry weather continues. Chief Forester J. E. Matheson told the Daily News, following the week-end in which crews of fire fighters fought the two fires which burned about five acres of forest land near the lakes on Saturday and Sunday.

The two outbreaks which caused the sky over the city and harbor to be hazed with smoke probably were caused by carelessness on the part of campers or cigarette smokers, Mr. Matheson said.

One of the fires had already been brought under control and the second will be brought under control some time today, Mr. Matheson said. Hundreds of holiday-makers watched the fire fighters battle the blaze on Sunday. A ten-man crew is dealing with the second fire today.

One fire broke out near the board walk leading to the lake on Saturday afternoon, and the second fire started farther west a few hours later. They are the first bush fires in this district since February, 1938, when 200 acres of a settler's land on Smith Island were swept by flames during unseasonable drought that year, Mr. Matheson said.

"We will put a special fire patrol at the lakes on Thursday afternoons and week-ends if this dry weather continues," he said. "There were hundreds of people over there yesterday. The fires were probably caused by careless campers or smokers."

MUCH FLAG TALK

OTTAWA—A distinctive flag for Canada is causing a good deal of discussion in Ottawa. Some observers think the tone of Prime Minister Mackenzie King's announcement of policy on this matter indicates that he will propose recognition of the present red ensign as Canada's official flag. This would, some authorities believe, avoid controversy over the actual design of a new flag.

NO CHANGE IN LIQUOR

OTTAWA—No change appears to be in store for Canadian restrictions on alcoholic beverages. That is not official opinion but it is based on the fact that the liquor issue has not been raised in the political campaign. It is believed by some that this indicates that no party wishes to make the liquor issue the subject of dispute on the hustings.

Labor-Progressives Rap C.C.F.

Mickleburgh Sees Them as Enemy to Labor Unity

"The C.C.F. party is hoping to see a reactionary right wing coalition get into power at Ottawa if the C.C.F. does not gain a majority itself in the forthcoming election," Bruce Mickleburgh, Labor-Progressive party candidate for Skeena, declared last night at a meeting in which he shared the platform with Fergus Mckean of Vancouver, L.P.P. provincial secretary.

The Skeena L.P.P. candidate saw the C.C.F. as the enemy of labor unity on which depended the struggle to keep the Progressive-Conservatives out of power.

The C.C.F. has made it clear that it refuses to co-operate with other parties. If they do not get in themselves, they hope to have the old line parties form a coalition which will make it so difficult for the people of Canada that they will turn radical and assure a C.C.F. victory in 1950."

He outlined a program which, he said, was based on an economy of "jobs for all" and which would develop northwestern Canada through development of transport, cheap power, foreign trade, housing and social security.

He charged that "some interests in the east" are behind a move to have the huge wartime projects in Western Canada throttled. He declared that, before the Skeena River Highway is thrown open for public use, it will go before the courts as a test case.

Magnetic Pole Now Located

SHREWSBURY, Eng., May 28 (CP)—The crew of the R.A.F. Lancaster "Aries" report it has discovered the true location of the Magnetic North Pole. According to the fliers, the North Magnetic Pole actually is located 200 or 300 miles northwest of where it previously was believed to be. Its location was given by the R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. crew on being on Boothia Peninsula in Northern Canada. The new location, according to the Aries navigators, covers an estimated 100-mile area in islands 1500 miles from the geographical North Pole.

Trouble Over Carinthia Threatens to Flame Anew

Would Be Terrible If Warfare Had to Be Resorted to Retain That Which Has Been Won

LONDON, May 28 (CP)—Controversy over the Austrian province of Carinthia threatened to flame anew today fanned by a statement attributed to Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia by Belgrade radio which complained bitterly of the treatment accorded "our nationals." Tito was quoted as saying in a speech at Ljubljana Sunday "it would be a terrible tragedy if we should have to fight again for what we have already won in this war."

Inquiry Is Welcomed

Ontario Police Allegations Still in Limelight—Premier Drew's Reply

TORONTO, May 28 (CP)—The Ontario C.C.F. leader—E. B. Joffe—said in Toronto last night that "The persons whose evidence establishes the truth of my statement will be presented to the people of this province within the next few days."

He was replying to Premier George Drew's radio address in which he denied Joffe's charges of having set up a "secret police" of his own in the province. The C.C.F. leader said that he will welcome the most complete and thorough inquiries by an impartial Royal Commission.

Premier Drew announced Saturday in his radio address that a Royal Commission will be appointed immediately to inquire into the recent charges made by the C.C.F. leader, that the Ontario Progressive-Conservative government is maintaining a secret political police in the province paid out of public funds. The premier denied the charges as false and said that the man Joffe has identified as heading the secret organization—Captain William Osborne Dempster—had been appointed July 30, 1940, by the Heppburn government as a constable on the Ontario Provincial Police force.

Referring to the C.C.F. leader's charge that Osborne Dempster had compiled files containing the names of citizens unconnected with any political party the premier said that these records are presumably those of a special department of the criminal investigation branch set up in the early days of the war to do anti-sabotage work. Colonel Drew said that at the time his government took office the work of this department had been reduced to one man—Osborne Dempster.

Regents of the chapters who attended the service were Mrs. J. A. Teng, Queen Mary; Mrs. Jens Munthe, Cambrai; and Mrs. Moses, Junior Chapter. Standard bearers were Mrs. S. V. Cox, Mrs. W. Brass, Mrs. J. Forman, Miss Florence Parker and Miss Velma Ingham.

Assize Court Manslaughter Case Opens

Assize court trial of Ruth Matzik, 24, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of George H. Ross, 67-year-old United States civilian night watchman on December 13, began at 11 o'clock this morning before Chief Justice Wendell B. Farris. Miss Matzik entered a plea of not guilty.

Choice of jurymen and the initial summary of the case by Defence Counsel W. O. Fulton took up most of the early part of the session. Absence of three witnesses who gave testimony at the preliminary hearing heard before Magistrate W. D. Vance last January was sworn to by Sgt. O. L. Hall and Staff Sgt. G. A. Johnston of the B.C. police.

On admission by Defence Counsel T. W. Brown written testimony of Anthony C. Steele, Lieut. Benjamin Sprit, U.S. army doctor, and Cpl. Alex F. Stepick, U.S. signal corps photographer, was admitted by the court.

Mr. Fulton led off with testimony by Lieut. Sprit who treated Ross shortly after he had been struck down by a U.S. army light truck on Second Avenue while on duty as a watchman.

Jurors on the case are: Thomas H. Lee, foreman, Stuart Finlay, Louis Amadio, Colin F. McDonald, John Hoskins, Alexander Haig, Russell H. Morgan, C. A. Kellett, Norman Moorehouse, James Beatty McKay and Albert J. Weldon. Mrs. Signa Hanburg whose two children died of suffocation at their Fraser Street home in February is scheduled to follow the Matzik trial.

After Victory In Pacific . . .

It is not to be wondered at that Japan has been making peace offers. It is to be supposed that she will make better ones. If the stories of Japanese peace overtures are not literally true they certainly conform to the logic of events. Possibly there is more than a little significance to the hint of Prime Minister Winston Churchill, who is not given to overoptimistic prediction, that the struggle against Japan may not last as long as some might be expecting.

From Tokyo's smoke and debris the Rising Sun may well appear more nearly sunk than it does from the eastern shore of the Pacific. Add what Russia might do to what the British, American and Chinese are doing and planning to do and the result is hardly a good night's rest for Premier Suzuki. Tarawa, Saipan, Guam, Palau, the Philippines, Burma, Iwo, Okinawa—these losses plus the crippling of her fleet and air force have virtually cut off Japan's non-Chinese conquests. Bombing of her home islands from sea and land bases has brought the war home to her people.

In addition to the enormous problems of occupation and rehabilitation of Germany and the European countries, we may soon have Japan and the rest of the Orient on our hands.

As for Europe we are already finding the problems of peace and restoration are vastly more difficult than those of war and destruction. Possibly political planning of the United Nations in the Pacific is failing to keep pace with military victory as appears very much to have been the case in Europe.

Re-education of Japan and finding for her an economic life which will not prompt war are indeed major problems and in short time we will be facing them.

LETTERBOX

FREEDOM OF WORSHIP

Editor, Daily News:
Many of our citizens here as well as in all other parts of Canada have been surprised and startled on being asked to sign a petition for freedom of worship. It seems very few people were aware of the fact that this country still maintains a ban on a Bible society which must appear even more strange when the fact is noted that Canada is the only country within the British Empire where society is under ban.
Considering the moral conditions and the recognized need of Bible instruction certainly such ban cannot be considered otherwise than a grave injustice.

The select committee appointed by the House of Commons in 1942 after making careful investigation of these various groups unanimously recommended that legal restriction be removed and that these societies, which included the Watch Tower Bible Tract Society and the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society Incorporated be permitted to carry on their Christian work without hindrance.

The ban on the other groups has been raised, the most recent being the removal of the restrictions on the International Bible Students' Association of Canada.

Certainly it will seem very strange for the boys on returning from a life and death struggle in defence of freedom to find such freedom seriously infringed upon on the home front.

It behoves every lover of freedom and fair play to join in protest against this unjust discrimination so that this country may again lay claim to being a free nation.
Yours for freedom.

LABOR-PROGS RAP C.C.F.

The Alaska Highway are in process of abandonment and some interests will try to have the Skeena River Highway abandoned. If the L.P.P. can win this election in Skeena we can go a long way toward keeping the highway open when the test case comes before the courts."

He advocated a B.C. link with the Alaska Highway and an airfield at Prince Rupert which would be part of the continental chain. Cheap electrical power is an essential to the country's development and an adequate housing program is badly needed.

"The L.P.P. program is essentially a practical program, a program designed for the needs of the people now. 'Socialism now' means very little to the people

What we want is a program that will yield jobs and prosperity now."

McKean Lashes Out at C.C.F.

Fergus McKean lashed out vigorously at the C.C.F. and Progressive - Conservative parties. He challenged the C.C.F. contention that there can be no post-war prosperity under capitalism.

"During the last four-and-a-half years we have had full employment under the private enterprise system. It can be continued," he asserted.

He saw no solution to Canada's problems apart from the problems of the whole world.

"Canada's prosperity depends on the prosperity of the rest of the world. We cannot deal with our problems on a basis of internal policy alone," he said.

"The C.C.F. wants to impose a reactionary coalition of Tories and right wing Liberals which, they hope, will result in a radical turn by the people so that they will win the following election. What would follow from such a condition would not be radicalism but Fascism. It is the pattern of pre-Hitler Germany. The greatest gains of the labor movement have been made in times of prosperity not in times of mass unemployment and poverty."

"The C.C.F. calls itself a labor party but there is not one labor man in its leadership."

Mr. McKean saw the Progressive-Conservatives as the force of "black reaction" which all parties should unite to eliminate from government.

"While fascists are being exterminated in Europe it is unfortunate that they cannot be exterminated here. There are people in his country who lauded Hitler's 'order' in Germany and would like to have the same thing in Canada."

"The most reactionary elements of 'big business' are behind the Progressive-Conservatives. They take John Bracken—a Liberal—and make him the head of the party."

He scored Maclean's King for "voting to include Argentina into the San Francisco conference and yet voting to exclude the trade unions."

"We don't want a Liberal government," he declared.

A coalition comprised of labor and the most progressive elements of business is the Labor Progressive solution for Canada's future, Mr. McKean said.

"We are willing to co-operate with all progressive elements, even the C.C.F.," he said.

Back of Ford dependability ...the Ford V-8 Engine

ARMY MEN demand a lot from the machines they drive. They have found the Ford V-8 Engine has stamina for tough work, can slog vehicles through where no peacetime truck would ever be asked to go—and still keep them advancing.

Back home, you'll find this same affection shown by owners of Fords that are growing old in civilian service. Their V-8 Engines continue to serve them faithfully, carrying on year after year with the same dependable power, the same saving of fuel, with low expense for repairs and service.

And the Ford of the future will carry on this tradition of economy, reliability and long life. Into it will go a V-8 Engine that has been refined and improved as a result of its battle-testing on the war fronts of the world. Its flashing performance will outshine even the Ford V-8 of other years. It will establish new records in operating economy.

Assisting Of Service Men

Visiting Official Anxious That Prince Rupert Should Be Prepared—Department Takes Steps.

Veterans of the present war on demobilization will enjoy the benefits of a widespread and comprehensive program of rehabilitation measures designed to adequately assist and fit all types and conditions of service men to resume their place in civilian life. Here in Prince Rupert where there have been few problems of rehabilitation as yet, arrangements are being made to facilitate the provision of this rehabilitation to the service men.

The first concrete act is to be the appointment to the staff of the local National Selective Service office of an officer who will specialize in handling the employment of returned men. The appointment of this officer, who will be specially trained in his duties, is to be made almost immediately.

This information became available with the visit to the city during the latter part of last week of Col. H. E. Molson, veterans welfare officer for the British Columbia Mainland with headquarters in Vancouver.

Col. Molson disclosed that the federal government had enacted twenty-seven items of legislation of benefit to the new veterans. Now the government was anxious to make certain that the returned men actually received in fullest measure full benefits which were thus made available to them.

Col. Molson described the aids to rehabilitation which were available to the veterans: first, unemployment; second, vocational training; third, aid while awaiting returns from farms or business; fourth, sick benefits; fifth, educational.

The visiting officer urged the importance of veterans and the public acquainting themselves fully with the nature of these benefits and the processes by which they became effective. "We have endeavoured," he said, "to take care of the most difficult cases and problems and to see that no worthy veteran is not effectively re-established in civilian life."

Local Advice Is Desirable

Col. Molson stressed the importance of active functioning of local rehabilitation committees which could be of particular value in assisting the department in dealing with local problems. Particularly was this so insofar as information as to local opportunities for service men in employment and business were concerned. The department was most anxious to have local information and advice available through these local committees.

"So far," Col. Molson said, "there have been very few appeals from Prince Rupert but we will undoubtedly be getting them in time and we are anxious to be prepared to meet them here as elsewhere." He mentioned that there were already cases of 118 unemployed veterans in the Vancouver area.

Col. Molson expects to visit Prince Rupert again before long.

HARRY HATCH'S COLT WINNER

TORONTO, May 28 (P)—Harry Hatch's colt Uttermost won the King's Plate in Toronto yesterday two lengths ahead of Tarian, the horse in second money. Uttermost, with Bobby Watson up, was timed at 153 4-5—a new record for the number one Canadian turf classic. The Halton Brooke stable's Ferry Pilot took the third ticket in the Plate closely followed by the second half of the Hatch entry—Fair Jester.

Terrace Has Better Lunch

Terrace School Satisfactorily Settles Nutrition Problem

(By Miss A. Haugland, Terrace)

Usually one thinks of the word "Nutrition" as inclusive of hot lunches, school lunches, etc. in a hopelessly involved sort of way. In the Terrace Elementary School, where almost all the children bring their lunch, we looked upon a school lunch program in more or less the same way as teachers have for years past. When we first took over the duties of teaching in this school the children brought lunches from home, usually without fresh fruit except when fruits were in season. Few brought anything to drink. For the most part these lunches were eaten at recess in gulps between kicks at a football or bats at baseball. As a result noon hour came and few were hungry or the lunch had already been eaten. The practice had been to eat lunches while pupils were seated on benches in the basement. The basements were dusty (through no fault of the janitor or the school board. I might add, as mud and wet simply will trail in). Besides, the surroundings, at best, were dull and dismal. Eaten in this atmosphere, the best of nutritious lunches would be wasted. Usually there was teacher supervision for, if not, lunches were sometimes thrown wholesale into the waste basket.

We decided that something would have to be done about it. When the inspector of schools arrived he explained matters to him. He suggested that having the children eat their lunches in the classrooms would do away with some of our difficulties. We tried this and found, to our joy, that it did. The surroundings were much more cheerful and it was a much friendlier arrangement. The next thing was to fix the desks so that each might resemble a small table at home. That would mean a tablecloth or mat. A cloth would have to be laundered frequently, a cardboard would have to be discarded as the need arose, so we finally got our heads together and decided that individual oilcloth mats would be just the thing as they could be conveniently sponged off after use. We purchased the oilcloth and sufficient tape at local stores, paying for them with funds from a school concert, which had been held beforehand. We measured and cut out the individual mats to desk measure and the children took them home to be bound and finished. Each room chose its own color scheme. Weekly lunch monitors were chosen and they distributed the mats before the noon hour. After lunch the mats were cleaned and collected and stored away for the next day.

The next thing was to provide wash-room facilities. Previously, the wash-rooms were in the boys' basement—one for the boys and one for the girls. This had been the arrangement for years. We needed the space in the basement for winter games such as floor hockey and, seeing that supervision was difficult with the old arrangement anyway, we decided to have the wash-rooms taken out of the basement. Each classroom was to have its own individual wash stand or wash corner. The first thing we did was to discuss the materials needed. Then we obtained two orange crates for each room. These we nailed together, the middle boards acting as shelves for soap dishes, towels, etc. The water pails and waste baskets were to be placed under these shelves. The boxes were painted a light color. We covered the tops with a piece of the same oilcloth as we had used for the mats. Then we purchased a mirror and hung it at a convenient height for the children. In my own case, I posted the Red Cross health rules conveniently by, along with a nutrition chart and a disturbing sign: "Is my face clean today?" To induce the children to keep their fingernails clean, I tacked up a box of toothpicks nearby, together with a dipper for measuring out the water which is secured from a well located on the school grounds.

Pfc Elmer Ponsler and CWAC Beverley Gibson were recently united in marriage in the Post Chapel by Chaplain W. D. Rowlands. Here they are seen as they step from the Chapel, flanked by a Guard of Honor, before they were whisked away to the Red Cross Club where a reception was held for them. Cpl. Peggy Hill, CWAC, was bridesmaid, and Sgt. Kenneth Wallace, best man. Mrs. Ralph Gibson, mother of the bride, came from Courtenay to attend the wedding.

Now we had the grooming and locale settled but there was still the question of proper lunches. We held periodic discussions on foods, their values and vitamin content, using various charts which had been distributed for our use. We surveyed the eating habits of pupils by sending questionnaires home which the parents filled in over the period of a week and then returned. We found the children's diets to be low in fresh fruits and milk, so made a ruling that only fresh fruit or vegetables could be eaten at recess. At first there were objections but in a short period of time pupils were bringing apples, oranges, celery and other fresh fruits and vegetables. We encouraged them, whenever possible, to use whole grain bread or bread made with Canada-approved flour for their sandwiches and suggested various fillings high in food value but easily accessible insofar as the average budget was concerned.

Hot Dish In Lunches

Then there was the matter of one hot dish. There are absolutely no facilities in the school to prepare such a dish with the already too large enrolment so, with due encouragement and chats with parents, most of the children were persuaded to buy thermos bottles. They now bring hot cocoa or soup to drink with their lunches. Actually, there's a very small percentage of children now who do not have some-thing warm to drink at noon hour. We also spoke to the milkman about milk delivery and several of the children now purchase pint bottles of milk which are delivered daily to the school. Believing that pleasant surroundings have an effect on the functioning of the digestive organs and thus have an influence upon children's moods and manners, we decided next to improve the basements. Being entirely without a gym, the children spend most of their time on rainy days indoors in the basements. First of all, we purchased some Nile green and some bright yellow paint. Some of the pupils in Division I painted the walls of the basements with the green, the window casements with the yellow. The difference this made was really amazing. The yellow casements gave the illusion of perpetual sunshine. Blackboards were put up for the primary pupils and on the walls above borders of nursery rhyme pictures by means of decals. The older girls helped to arrange suitable pictures about the walls. The basements are now completely transformed.

We realize that we have barely made a beginning but feel that, however meagre our efforts have been, at least they may well be paving stones to a better and more healthful future for all concerned.

Care Taken In Service Men's Vote

OTTAWA, May 26.—A special parliamentary committee drew up what it considered was an airtight arrangement for ensuring a successful service vote in the forthcoming June 11 election.

The service man will use the secret vote. Before the election officer can give a ballot to a man he must hand him a big unsealed envelope on the back of which is a form the voter must fill in.

The form declares the voter's name, address and number, where he had resided and where he would have voted prior to enlistment. When the voter fills this in the election officer writes the name of the electoral district and province which embrace the voter's home.

The election officer hands a ballot paper to the electors, who casts his ballot by writing his choice secretly. The ballot paper is then folded by the voter. The officer hands him a small unsealed envelope. The voter places the ballot in the inner envelope, seals it and gives it to the officer, who places the inner envelope in the larger envelope.

The election officer then returns it to the voter, who dispatches it by ordinary mail or whatever special facilities are available, to the special returning officer for his field of operations, whose name and address have been printed on the face of the outer envelope.

In Canada these envelopes will be carried by mail without stamps. Overseas they will be stamped by the election officer without charge to the voter, and the election officer will direct the voter to the nearest mail box.

Voting Pointers

- Here are some service voting pointers:
1. If an elector spoils his ballot, he may ask for another one.
 2. If an elector cannot read or write or is otherwise incapacitated, he may receive the assistance of the election officer and any man the voter chooses to elect and his vote may be recorded.
 3. A soldier home on leave may vote as a civilian, but must be 21 years old; or he may apply at a military voting place and regardless of age, be allowed to cast his vote.
 4. Any Canadian serving with the British forces who enlisted before January, 1937, may vote in the Canadian election if he presents himself to a Canadian voting station.
 5. Service electors include native Indians. Indians who fought in the First Great War are also allowed to vote whether on or off the reserve.

TOM is in the pink

DICK has retired

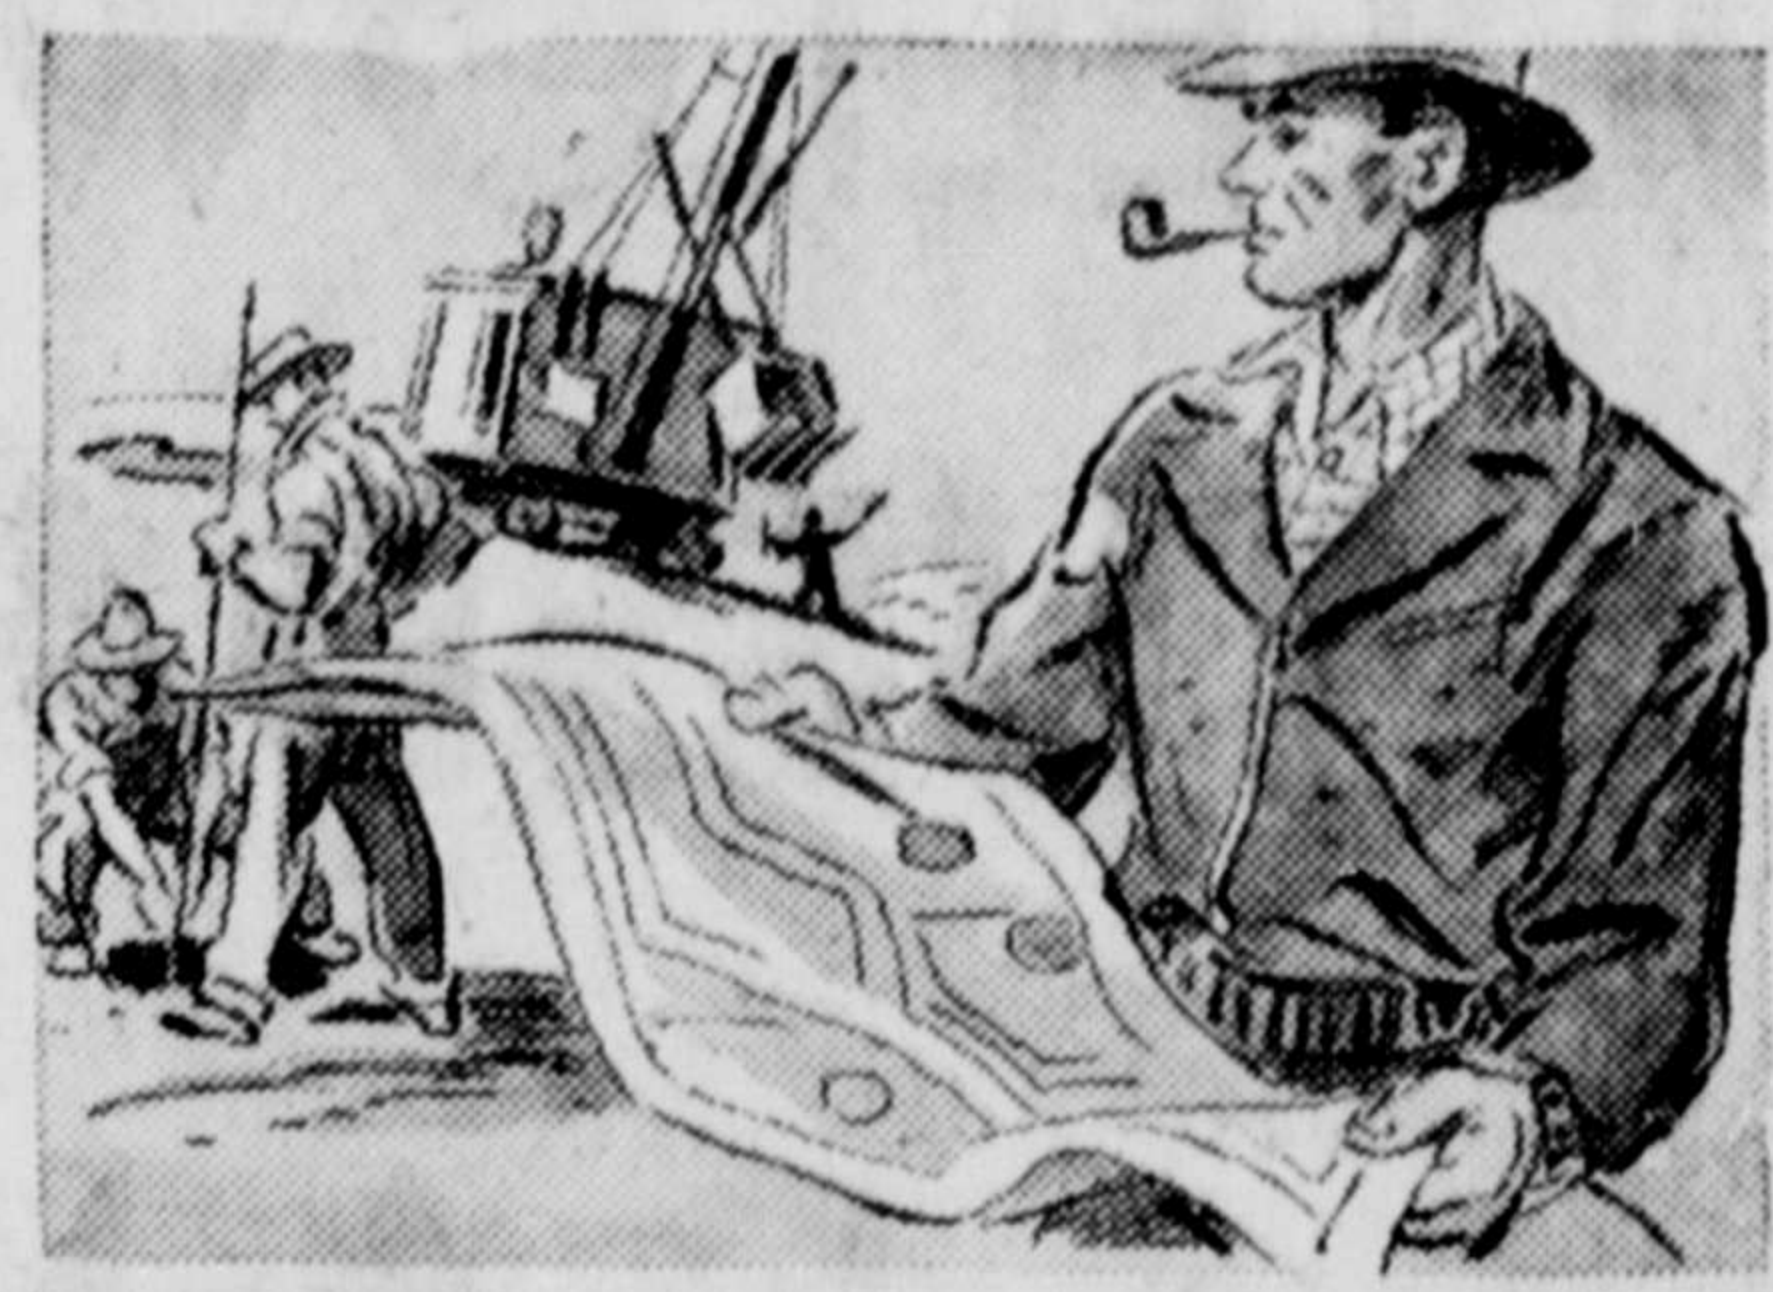

HARRY will go places

Tom knows something about stormy weather, but he feels in the pink and his mind is at ease because his life insurance, which protects his loved ones, has weathered the strains of war and epidemics. The reserves behind his policies are regulated by law and so stand guard that even in times of the gravest stress he knows he is secure.

Dick knew nothing about life insurance reserves when he took on his first policy as a young man. But now that he has retired, he knows that the security he enjoys comes largely from the monthly income provided from his insurance—protected by reserves accumulated from his past premium payments.

Harry is an up-and-coming fellow who needs only opportunity to make good. He may not know it, but his own life insurance and the premiums of several million others will keep providing him and others with opportunities for years to come. Life insurance funds are invested in undertakings from coast to coast that provide employment for multitudes of people.

LET NO ONE MISLEAD YOU!

Policy reserves represent premium dollars accumulated at interest for policyholders by life insurance companies as the necessary provision against the day when policies become claims by death, maturity or surrender. Let no one mislead you about the nature of these funds. They are NOT "surplus funds" nor do they represent "profits" in any sense of the word. Policy reserves are the exact measure of the total funds which must be held for policyholders, to be paid to them when due.

More Than 4,000,000 Pounds of Halibut Landed Here in Last Three Weeks As Fine Weather Speeds Fishing—Spring Salmon Season Gaining Impetus

Fine weather has reduced at least one of the drawbacks of a fisherman's life and has resulted in a sustained heavy flow of halibut into this port. Total landings for the six-day period ending Friday were the heaviest of any similar period since the beginning of the season, exceeding the previous week by almost 100,000 pounds. A total of 1,601,000 pounds of halibut arrived here between May 19 and May 25, bringing the season's total to 4,351,500. Incidentally, this season's aggregate is more than 1,000,000 pounds higher than the first 30 days of the 1944 season. Up to June 23, 1944, 3,312,309 pounds of halibut had been landed here. The 1944 season began May 21. Sixty-two boats brought fish here last week, nine of which were American. American landings totalled 494,000 pounds while Canadian boats brought in 1,107,000 pounds. Heaviest landings of the week occurred on May 21 when 524,500 pounds were brought in. An armada of larger American vessels swelled the day's total by 316,000 pounds. That day saw the largest cargo so far this season when the New Washington brought in 95,000 pounds. That was the largest single cargo since the Paragon brought in 100,000 pounds last August. Spring salmon are running in the Naas and Skeena in increasing numbers although the quantity is not sufficient yet to cause any great stir among trollers. The peak run is expected in about two weeks.

MAJOR CARSON IS HEARD FROM

Mrs. Carson, the former Miss Maxine Heilbroner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Heilbroner, has heard from her husband, Major "Bunt" Carson, who is with the Royal Canadian Engineers in Germany. Major Carson wrote from a city on the Weser River which had not been seriously hit by Allied bombing and where the people seemed to be pretty well fed. However, Major Carson told of terrible destruction of the seaports of western Germany. Major Carson was with the Engineers at Prince Rupert in the early days of the war.

JOBS ASSURED BEFORE DEMOBILIZATION

A Square Deal for Veterans Assured by Progressive Conservatives

The very first clause of the Progressive Conservative plans for the re-establishment of Veterans, adopted at the National Convention of December, 1942, is as follows:—

DEMOBILIZATION

In carrying out the demobilization of Canada's Armed Forces the primary consideration should be the interest of those who have served. Demobilization should be based on the principle that members of the Armed Forces should not be discharged until their economic security is assured by placement in gainful employment or by assisted training and education to that end.

Here, in this simple statement of progressive, realistic policy is the only true solution of the fundamental problem by which every ex-service man and woman is faced. It is the only assurance of a square deal for all veterans. It is the very basis of the Rehabilitation Policies of the Progressive Conservative Party. No veteran will be discharged against his will until he is assured of a decent livelihood.

"Platitudes will not fill empty stomachs," declares John Bracken, "nor generalities provide jobs for those who have fought, nor worthy declamations about sacrifice ease the load of the widows and children whose husbands and fathers gave life itself that we might live in peace and security."

Throughout the war, Canadian service men and women have had their fill of platitudes and generalities.

Let our veterans now ask themselves this question. Does the spirit of political partisanship which the King Government has consistently manifested in time of war, offer any assurance of a square deal for veterans in time of peace? Does the iniquitous manpower policy which split Canada apart reflect the right spirit? Remember in war, as in peace, political policies infallibly indicate party principles.

It is significant that more than half of the Progressive Conservative candidates are service and ex-service men. No other party can even approach this record. These men know that no other party has such realistic and comprehensive plans for rehabilitation. They know that the Progressive Conservative Party is the service men's party.

They know that John Bracken, father of three sons on active service, understands the problems, the hopes and the fears of veterans. They say, with John Bracken "The cost of winning the war and the cost of re-establishing those who fought in it, is one and indivisible. In the plainest words at my command, I say to you that nothing short of full-time gainful employment for every man and woman who has worn the Canadian uniform will be acceptable. Every man and woman must be given an opportunity to earn a good living. If existing enterprise cannot do this, the State must, and will."

These service and ex-service candidates, with John Bracken, pledge themselves that, under no circumstances, will existing benefits to veterans be lessened. On the contrary, they will be increased and extended.

They, with John Bracken, pledge themselves to revise an out-moded pensions act, to humanize its administration, to eliminate red tape and inexcusable delays. Pension rates will be reviewed at once and increased to bring them in line with higher living costs.

Under a Progressive Conservative government, recorded condition of personnel on enlistment will be accepted as sufficient proof in determining disability pension. The veteran will be entitled to the benefit of the doubt.

The "first in, first out" principle will be followed on demobilization—with a job at decent pay assured to the veteran when he returns to "civvy" street.

In the words of our leader, we of the Progressive Conservative Party, "accept the challenge to demonstrate to you who fought that you shall not be handicapped in days of peace because you responded to the nation's call in days of war."
