Exciting Debate Proposed

When the Skeena district Liberal convention adjourned for luncheon today discussion was under way of a resolution, moved by J. A. McRae and seconded by Oscar Haveroy, that the convention go on record as being in favor of "absolute exclusion of all Japanese from the coastal area of British Columbia and, insofar as possible, that all members of the Jap race be deported from Canada after conclusion of the war."

Rev. J. A. Donnell dubbed the resolution as "illiberal" and urged support of Mackenzie King's stand for a commission on the Jap question. He felt that men should be judged as they were found personally not on basis of racial origin. E. T. Applewhaite supported the resolution, the only danger in which he saw was development of racial feeling.

EDMONTON TAKES TWO GAMES FROM PRINCE RUPERT

The Prince Rupert entry in the Northwest Service Command basketball playoffs for the command championships lost two close games to the 843rd Signal Service Battalion at Edmonton Friday and Saturday nights.

Representing the Service Command Unit assigned to the Prince Rupert Sub-Port of Embarkation, the local team was defeated 27-25 the first night and 34-29 the second. In the opening game, which was close throughout, Wise and Janker of the 843rd teamed up with 9 points each to down the local boys, the leading scorer of which was Gilbert with 19 counters.

The second game found the 843rd getting into a small lead early in the game and protecting it throughout, though the boys from Rupert put up a good battle during the entire game. Garfield and Gilbert made 9 and 8 points to pace the Prince Rupert scoring.

Winners of the Alaska Division, Air Transport Command Play-offs now meet Adak, the All-Alaska champs tonight and tomorrow night. The winner will then meet the 843rd for the Northwest Service Command title.

Essential To Elect Right

Skeena Riding Faced With Momentous Decision in Forthcoming Contest

At the local Liberal Association meeting held last night in Reid's Cafe the importance of sending back to Ottawa for the serious days ahead an experienced and tried government which had served Canada with outstanding skill and success during the war was emphasized. Principal speaker of the evening was the Liberal organizer, Mr. McCormack, who declared that this was a momentous occasion in the history of Canada. The choice of candidate which Skeena made at this time was a matter of utmost importance. On the outcome of the forthcoming election would undoubtedly depend to great extent the future welfare and development of this city and district as well as the nation. Prince Rupert, as a result of the war, had received a long awaited stimulus. What was to be the follow-up? Was the risk to be taken of electing the follower of a reactionary party of the interests or a bureaucratic centrally controlled socialism?

The Liberal party, Mr. McCormack declared, was the true party of the common people including the workers. He emphasized the importance of enlisting youth, women and working people in the campaign. Olof Hanson, speaking briefly, expressed appreciation of the confidence that had been placed in him during the past sixteen years. He regretted that it had been necessary for him to retire. He spoke of confidence throughout the riding that the government would be returned to office and a Liberal again elected in Skeena.

A. D. Ritchie, president of the city association, was in the chair and, like other speakers, expressed his unbounded confidence in the government and leadership of William Lyon Mackenzie King and the necessity of fighting a strong campaign. Rev. Mr. Donnell and E. T. Applewhaite also spoke, indicating their willingness to accept nomination if it was tendered to them. W. M. Watts, G. C. Mitchell and Robert McKay were also suggested as candidates at last night's meeting but each declined to accept nomination.

Britain Seeks Trade Of Five Continents

LONDON, March 13. —Road convoys of 50 to 60 special coaches—travelling shop windows—will start out from Britain this autumn in a five-continent campaign to restore British markets lost during the war. The project of Trade Expeditions Ltd. is designed to help smaller manufacturers who cannot afford to maintain their own selling organizations abroad. Each caravan will be manned by 150 ex-servicemen whose main job will be to demonstrate samples. Exhibitions and trade fairs will be held in principal centres. The first convoys are to be sent to South Africa and South America.

Biggest Day Raids— Air Assault Upon Reich Is Mounting

Berlin Gets Twenty-First Night of Bombing—Ruhr Almost Out of Business

LONDON, March 13 — The shattered capital of Germany has gone through another night of Allied bombing. R.A.F. Mosquito bombers made their twenty-first consecutive night attack on Berlin. The fast British planes carried two-ton blockbusters.

The night assault on Berlin was carried out on schedule despite the fact that British and Canadian bomber formations staged their greatest daylight operation of the war yesterday. Since the start of the war, British and Canadian bomber groups have specialized in night bombing but recently they have been mounting large daylight assaults. Yesterday's was the largest. More than 1200 Halifaxes and Lancasters sent 5,000 tons of bombs down on the Ruhr city of Dortmund. An R.A.F. officer said the great attack has made it impossible at least for the time being, to haul coal from the Rhine.

War News Highlights

Taking Over Mindanao

MANILA—In the Philippines, American forces are whipping a newly-captured airfield into shape for medium bombers. It is the San Roque airfield, one of the best on Mindanao Island. It is 215 airline miles from Borneo. The airfield was captured along with the government centre of Zamboanga. American planes supported the Mindanao advance and also prowled over the China Sea. Two enemy freighters were left sinking off the Asiatic coast.

Hamming In Japs On Iwo

Nagoya Still Burning

WASHINGTON — Reconnaissance photographers disclose that fifteen fires still are burning in the Japanese industrial city of Nagoya which produced forty to fifty per cent of all Japanese aircraft. The photographs were taken twelve hours after 300 B-29 superfortresses fired a five square-mile area of the city with incendiary bombs. Seven important war plants and harbor installations were damaged in the terrific assault.

Commandos On Raid

WITH THE FIRST CANADIAN ARMY ON THE RHINE—A small force of British commandos, Sunday night, raided Schouwen Island of the Netherlands coast between the Schelde and the Rhine where enemy movements had been detected, killing several Germans before returning to their base. Meanwhile, on Monday, along the Rhine especially from Munich and Wesel areas, the Germans were shelling Kleve and the roads to Calcar and Xanten. The First Canadian army in a final clean-up on the west bank of the Rhine took five to six hundred prisoners to bring to about twenty-one thousand their total for the offensive.

Yanks Expand Bridgehead

PARIS—The American First Army expanded its 3-mile deep Rhine bridgehead several hundred yards overnight along the river strip which the Germans said was almost thirteen miles long. There was no indication that the Nazis could organize any force capable of budging the Americans on the east bank of the Rhine. The American Third Army captured fourteen towns just to the south of the Remagen bridgehead and won domination of all the west bank of Moselle except the short stretch between Cochem and Erden. At least eight towns east of the Rhine were under American control.

February Bomb Deaths Fewer

LONDON—Nazi air action killed eighty-four civilians in Britain during the month of February and injured 1,151 others, the Home Security ministry reported today. This represented 102 fewer deaths and nearly five hundred fewer persons injured than in January.

Focus On Berlin Front

MOSCOW—The Russians began shifting large numbers of their forces to the Berlin front on Monday after smashing enemy resistance between the mouths of the Oder and Vistula rivers. Only a small chunk of territory at the northern extremity of Pomerania and the Polish Corridor remained to be overrun by the Germans.

AIRPLANE IS GIVEN CREDIT

Twentieth Century's Contribution to Development of Transportation

WINDSOR, March 13—Called the twentieth century's contribution to the development of transportation, the aeroplane was credited with having made the word into an economic unit and awakened the people of the earth to a wider sense of international responsibility by Capt. F. M. McGregor, operations superintendent, TransCanada Air Lines, in a luncheon address today. "Coincidental with the development of the instrument of flight," said Capt. McGregor, "There has occurred an equally important development of airports and navigational facilities. Electronics are bringing about radical changes in navigation and one can visualize how radar can be used to advantage commercially. The blind landing system has been perfected and will allow a reduction in weather limitations at terminals which will effect at least a 60 per cent increase in on-time performance."

Acknowledgment and tribute were given to Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, J. A. D. McCurdy and F. W. Baldwin by Capt. McGregor for their contribution to aircraft development at the turn of the century. Every Canadian, he said, has reason to be proud of the work done by those Canadian pioneers. In his address entitled, "The Wings of the Nation," Capt. McGregor continued "We have cause to be proud of Canada's standing in navigation today. Our position will be enhanced in the international scene as the air routes of tomorrow become a reality."

Six Russian Armies Now Striking Towards Reich Capital From Oder River

MOSCOW, March 13 (CP)—The principal strong point in Germany's Oder River defence line has fallen to the westward-storming Russians. After a week of bitter fighting, assault troops of Marshal Zhukov's First Russian Army captured the Bastion of Kuestrin, thirty-eight miles east of Berlin.

The Germans declare that six Red Army divisions now are striking towards the Reich capital from several crossings of the Oder. Moscow dispatches hint that the Russians may bypass Berlin and drive beyond to link up with the armies of the western Allies somewhere in the Elbe River valley. The German high command today said that Soviet troops are attacking powerfully north of Frankfurt in an attempt to expand their bridgeheads over the Oder river. Moscow previously announced the capture of the east bank fortress of Kuestrin.

The Nazis said that the Russian assaults were held, and declared that the Germans were still fighting in the southern fringes of Kuestri, 38 miles east of Berlin, 16 miles north of Frankfurt, and one of the three big fortresses guarding the German capital.

Today, Moscow had not reported officially any crossings of the Oder, but dispatches said that three Russian army groups apparently were being disposed for assault on the German capital.

EDUCATION OF EVACUATED JAP CHILDREN FEDERAL JOB, PERRY SAYS

VANCOUVER, March 13 (CP)—Education of Japanese children who have been evacuated from British Columbia is the responsibility of the Dominion government, and neither the B.C. school districts nor the province should pay for them, Hon. H. G. Perry, provincial Minister of Education said in the legislature Monday.

SALVATION ARMY TO HELP EUROPE

LONDON, March 13 —Salvation Army leaders now are preparing for their own "invasion of liberated Europe." The first British Salvation Army man to establish direct communication with those who continued their Army work through the German occupation has just returned to London. He is Commissioner R. M. Astbury, international secretary, and he brought back information about stricken Europe's needs for use in drawing up Salvation Army plans for post-war relief.

Mr. Perry said that Japanese children who had not been evacuated received the same education as other children in the province. He was speaking during discussion of the estimates of his department, which is expected to be passed today. T. D. Pattullo (Lib., Prince Rupert), suggested that instead of using a new $2,500 grant for archives to collect historical data and information on old timers from a variety of individuals in the province, the government should appoint B. A. McKelvie, president of the B.C. Historical Society to permanent office in charge of this work.

Organizing Publicity . . .

The Junior Chamber of Commerce put its teeth into a big subject at its publicity organization meeting last week and received a wide variety of ideas for digestion in the planning of a publicity campaign for Prince Rupert. Conditions may be such that all the aspects of such a campaign cannot be launched in the immediate future. However, it is fitting and high time that the organization be planned so that when the time arrives we will be in a position to publicize this city and district in the hope of attracting attention which will redound to our benefit.

There are many factors that tie in with a publicity campaign. If we publicize for tourist business we must have the facilities to receive and entertain tourists—to provide them with such an interesting and enjoyable time that they will want to come back themselves and have their friends come also—thereby developing the highly valuable type of word of mouth advertising.

If we publicize to bring industrial development, we must support that publicity with cold facts and sound arguments in favor of the development and utilization of the natural resources which we have here. Information must be gathered, tabulated and disseminated abroad by various media.

When tourists come to visit us, the publicity organization must be prepared to serve them in a planned and orderly way. The most of people, particularly when they only have a limited amount of time at their disposal, appreciate finding some means of aiding them to put that time to the best advantage.

As for the visitors who come to look into our possibilities from an industrial or business development standpoint, it also may fall well into the purview of the local publicity organization to be so organized as to furnish them with collation of facts and figures and general information. Then there is the important matter of follow-up.

There are many angles to the operation of an efficient and effective publicity organization such as could undoubtedly serve Prince Rupert to much advantage in the post-war reconstruction era. It involves a type of work that is becoming more specialized every day. Getting out a nice attractive booklet is, undoubtedly, part of a publicity scheme but a real publicity program in this day and age involves a great deal more than that. After all, a booklet only reaches a few thousand people and, unless, it is exceptionally ambitious and attractive, does not command a very large measure of interest. We must get ourselves into the fields we wish to reach by other and more diversified media of public communication — newspapers, magazines, radio, moving pictures, word of mouth.

Publicity is a big job. It requires money, time and effort. Once organized and functioning, however, it is sure to pay large dividends to the community or district which fosters it.

The energetic young men of the Junior Chamber of Commerce have started the publicity ball rolling. Now it is well that we should keep it in motion for the mutual benefit and assistance of the city and district.

We should first settle upon the type of a publicity organization we should have—whether it should be a purely local or a district body. Possibly at the forthcoming convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of British Columbia, a district body might be launched. That might be most efficaciously brought about by first organizing here in Prince Rupert which would be the logical headquarters of office and operating personnel.

We could then arrange for representatives at other district points who would be members of the central publicity council—responsible for the promotion of their own communities in co-ordination with the district scheme.

We have heard a lot of ideas about what we might do to publicize Prince Rupert. It is obvious that we must get organized. Then we can get down to planning the job in hand. As already suggested it will need time, effort, ingenuity and a very substantial financial support.

We Lose Dave Borland . . .

D. G. Borland, whose transfer to Vancouver as manager of one of that city's downtown theatres after ten years as manager of the Capitol Theatre here is announced, has been a good and useful citizen of Prince Rupert during his tenure here.

In addition to the efficient carrying on of his business duties he a, Mr. Borland has been generous of his time and ability to community service. He has helped in all good causes but probably his most valuable work was that during the earlier days of the war before entertainment and diversion of the forces was properly organized when he effectively stepped into the breach. Those were trying days, indeed, but Dave Borland was in the forefront of those who rose to the occasion with unstinting and conscientious effort.

The Daily News, like his war friends, regret to have to say farewell to Dave Borland but, also like his friends, we are happy to announce that the move involves a definite promotion, something that he richly deserves.

SLIDE CLEARED, TRAINS ON TIME

First Canadian National Railways passenger train to arrive in the city from the east since a second rockslide buried the track near Amsbury a week ago, pulled into the station Sunday night at scheduled time of 10:45 after railway emergency crews had succeeded in clearing the rails of rock at 2:30 Sunday morning.

When the final boulders were removed, freight cars which had filled sidings at Usk, Terrace and other wayside points were immediately dispatched to their destination at Prince Rupert.

In spite of the week's delay in shipment of heavy freight, no acute shortages resulted in the city. Coal dealers admitted that their stocks were "getting low" but did not reach the stage of famine.

Meat and other essential products were trucked around the obstruction and arrived in sufficient quantity.

Today maintenance crews are tidying up the scene of the slide and have begun work on a bypass which will allow uninterrupted service should a third rockslide fill the cut four miles west of Amsbury.

This is a section of track passing along the river side of the cut, skirting the slide area. This is being done as an added

TERRACE, March 13. Winter just past proved to be an unusually mild one. It brought moderate temperatures, zero being the minimum. The snow was not so much as in the past. BRAZIL FIGHTS INFANT DEATH

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 13. (Reuters)—Brazilian medical authorities are co-operating in a campaign seeking means of reducing the high infant mortality rate. Of every 1,000 Brazilian children born alive, 245 die before their first birthday. The states like Curitiba, where the average is 114 per 1,000, are centres showing that where one child dies before reaching a year, 100 births in Brazil average 1,000.

He gave his life FOR THE RIGHT TO INVESTIGATE

Roger Bacon, great scientist of the Middle Ages, carried on scientific research in metals, in agriculture, medicine, chemistry. He studied the laws of optics; suggested the use of eyeglasses; carried on experiments in magnetism, and produced gunpowder. Imprisoned for fourteen years as a magician of evil, his health finally broke down, and he died in 1292 soon after his release.

LIKE Roger Bacon of old, scientists of today seek to solve many problems through scientific research. In the Nickel industry they have explored many fields in their search for new uses for Canadian Nickel. Today practically all industries have improved their products or their manufacturing methods by using Nickel. When the war is over the Nickel research laboratories will again turn their efforts to developing the known uses for Nickel and discovering new ones.

Canadian engineers, designers and metallurgists have free access to the scientific and technical data gathered together by International Nickel. A request for information is all that is necessary. Still wider knowledge of the ways in which Nickel may be usefully employed will further increase the demand for Canadian Nickel, and Canada will benefit accordingly.

Save these Prisoners of War for Peace

CANADIAN FIGHTERS, imprisoned by the enemy, are in dire need of food. They want more than honour and praise for all they have done and suffered—for us.

Theirs is a day-to-day battle for health and survival. Their need is for food, comforts and medicines to keep them alive until V-Day.

They look to the heart of the Canadian people—their Canadian Red Cross—to see them through with at least one parcel for each prisoner every week.

More than thirteen million Red Cross parcels have gone overseas from Canada to prisoners of war. With each new battle the number of prisoners, and the responsibility of your Red Cross, grows. No prisoner must go without.

Out of gratitude to those who have fought their fight—for us—let us realize that it is within our power, that it is our duty, to be generous in our gifts of Red Cross parcels to them. We can do this. We must keep faith.

Your Money is Needed as Never Before

Destitution and Want are so urgent and desperate in the liberated countries, that the Minister of National War Services asked the Red Cross, with the collaboration of the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund representing the War Charities of 11 of the United Nations, to include funds for this relief in the national appeal.

sphere the best wishes of many friends to his new duties.

Mr. Borland's successor here is a married man with three children. He will occupy the residence on Fourth Avenue vacated by Mr. Borland on his departure.

Mr. Borland's transfer from Prince Rupert is involved in a switch of several theatre executives including the following:

Maynard Joiner, manager of the Capitol Theatre in Vancouver to be district manager of Vancouver and Victoria downtown theatres.

Charles Doctor, transferred from management of the Dominion Theatre to management of the Capitol Theatre in Vancouver.

Frank Kershaw, from district management of downtown theatres in Vancouver to head office position of manager and supervisor of general theatre supply.

Frank Gow to be general manager for British Columbia.

Dave Borland was born in Helensburgh, Scotland, and was educated at Queen's Park School, and later graduated from Hutchison Grammar School. He is the youngest member of a family of five, and came to Canada with his parents in 1910.

Following the arrival of the little party in Vancouver, Dave became connected with the staff of the Royal Bank of Canada at that point, holding that position until his enlistment in the great war forces at the outbreak of hostilities. In 1917 he was severely wounded at Lens, which necessitated his return to Canada. He was discharged from the ranks in May, 1918.

Following his return to health he accepted a position with the Department of Soldiers' Re-establishment; this position he held until he became connected with British Columbia Paramount Theatres, Limited. In 1923 he became assistant to the treasurer of the company, which at that time was a subsidiary of Famous Players, Canadian division. It was during this time that he received his business training for theatre management.

He was soon promoted to the management of the Capitol and Bijou Theatres at Nanaimo, a position which he held from 1926 to 1929, when he was again promoted and was transferred to Regina, later returning to Nanaimo whence he came to Prince Rupert.

In 1921 he was married in Vancouver to Miss Gladys Jean Heaven, daughter of C. C. Heaven, of Grand Forks, B.C., and formerly of Oakville, Ontario. They have two daughters.

Timely Tips

Tips for meal planners—well why not? Homemakers, who are trying to balance budgets and trying to please the family as well, are always on the look-out for timely ones.

The Division of Nutrition, Ottawa, offers a few tips which will help to make the right foods easy to look at as well as easy to eat. For instance, it suggests that menu planners make sure of color and flavor contrasts, and avoid using the same type of dish twice in one day; that textures of food should vary, so that meals won't be too dry or too soft—for instance, crisp foods seem to go with soft ones—that one should aim for as much variety as possible and serve one hot dish at each meal.

Finally, to plan for the children first, then add the necessary extras for the adults, is sound advice. This can be accomplished by the careful choice of foods from each of the five major groups listed in Canada's Food Rules.

Treatment of Burns Requires Much Care

British Scientists Warn Against Ill-Advised Use of Home Remedies

LONDON, March 13 (P)—Here is the advice of three scientists of the Medical Research Council on how to give first aid for burns:

"Small accessible burns should be covered with a freshly-laundered towel or sterile cloth. Extensive burns should not be first-aided at all but the patient be kept warm and given morphine if necessary and removed to hospital immediately.

"For superficial burns treated at home or when severe burns cannot be fully treated without considerable delay, the burnt area and the area around should be freely smeared with a water-solution cream containing one per cent of ethyl trimethyl ammonium bromide and three per cent sulphaniamide, applied with a sterile knife."

The findings of the council scientists were published in a government booklet. It told how volunteers in the burns units of Glasgow Royal Infirmary submitted to slow burning in an experiment.

"Owing to the natural urge on the part of the patient or his friends to do something (however ill-advised), it has been found that 75 per cent of civilian patients arrive at hospital with some kind of application to the burned area... often covered with a dirty or at least a non-sterile piece of cloth. First aid remedies of this kind, especially if they are applied, as they usually are, without aseptic precautions, may well do more harm than good."

USE DEHYDRATED APPLES, SAVE MONEY AND SUGAR

Dried apples have gone modern. Up-to-date processing methods have been so successful that dehydrated apples are as much a part of modern menus as the old-fashioned apple rings were in grandmother's day. Dehydrated apples are economical as well as convenient, require no peeling or coring, just need to be rehydrated in order to be restored to plumpness before cooking.

The Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture gives the following pointers in the care and handling of dehydrated apples.

To Measure—Pack the measuring cup well. There are approximately 8 cups of apples per pound.

To rehydrate—Cover with water and soak for four hours or better still, overnight in the refrigerator or other cool place. It usually takes about two cups of water to cover one cup of dehydrated apples. If the apples are fresh and very dry they may require more water which may be added while the apples are cooking.

Dehydrated apples are "sugar savers." Usually two tablespoons of sugar per cup of dehydrated apples is ample for sauce and one-third cup of sugar for a nine-inch pie.

To store dehydrated apples—Keep in a cool, dry place, preferably in a tin or glass container with a tight-fitting lid. Keep closely covered to prevent the apples from absorbing moisture from the atmosphere and to prevent them from turning dark.

Dehydrated apples may be used in batter and steam puddings, pre-cooking as for pies.

Apple Sauce
2 cups dehydrated apples.
4 cups water
¼ cup sugar
Add water to apples and soak for 4 hours or overnight in refrigerator or cool place. Bring to boiling point and cook gently about 8 minutes or until apples are soft—adding more water if required. Add sugar, cool and serve as fresh apple sauce or use in other recipes. Makes 4 cups apple sauce.

Apple Pie
2 cups dehydrated apples
4 cups water
1-3 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon butter
(pastry for double crust, 9-inch pie)
Add water to apples and soak 4 hours or overnight in refrigerator or cool place. Bring to boiling point and cook gently 5 minutes or until apples are tender, but still retain their shape. Arrange in uncooked pie shell, sprinkle with sugar, spice, lemon juice and dot with butter if desired. Cover with pricked top crust and bake in hot oven, 400 degrees F., for 30-35 minutes. Makes 1 nine-inch pie.

Of General Interest

Used Car Sales
In sales of used cars, dealers usually demand a trade-in. However, no trade-ins are required on sales of used cars made to holders of essentially permits which are granted to persons who are eligible for new rubber tire under order 4 of the Rubber Controller. In this instance the sale must be made for cash with no trade-in or other consideration required.

Off the Ration
Canned crab apples and canned rhubarb, both sweetened and unsweetened in all sizes of containers, have now been removed from the preserves ration.

Ration Advice
Servicemen and women on leave must secure short or long leave ration cards from their unit or district depot, since local ration boards are not permitted to issue any ration cards to men and women in the armed forces.

Saving Sugar
By making two sugar coupons good on the third Thursday of every month, instead of two coming valid every four weeks, Canada will save about 10 thousand tons of sugar this year. It will mean a cut of only two pounds each to every Canadian ration book holder.

CIVILIANS FACE CLOTHES CRISIS

LONDON, March 13 (P)—Lack of labor and scarcity of mills for civilian production has brought a crisis in women's clothing—traders say that unless a decline in stocks is checked there may not be sufficient to meet current ration coupons. Materials for women's stockings, dresses and summer-weight clothing generally are so scarce that orders placed recently will not be delivered until autumn at the earliest.

Stocks of men's shirts also will be lower than last year.

Capt. C. Waterhouse, parliamentary secretary to the Board of Trade, has said that unless more yarn is produced from raw cotton, the "present meagre standard" of clothes rationing would be in danger.

The industry is not hopeful that much can be done to improve the situation.

"Women will just have to use the clothes they have," said one leading woman buyer.

'Y' DOINGS

By MARGARET WOODWARD

Last night several hundred dancers gathered in the Auditorium to dance to the music of Bob Wybrow and his pleasing new combination. Feature of next week's dance will be a Jitterbug Contest for all you Jive fans.

Tonight's movie will be "Powers Girl."

You do not have to be an expert to play cribbage at the "Y". The party tonight in the Writing Room is open to all.

Don't forget the Seal Cove Carnival on Thursday. Raffles will be held during the evening. The major one has prizes to the value of over $100. Several small ones will be held with lucky winners receiving pies and cakes. Tickets for the big raffle may be obtained from station personnel and downtown at Macey's and Variety Store.

In the "Y" Gymnasium

Top teams meet in the Floor Hockey League at the "Y" tonight. Navy expects to give R.C.A.F. league leaders their first defeat and advance to only one point from a first place tie. Airforce have so far won four and lost none, but from the calibre of play in the last Navy game this promises to be a close contest.

The first game of the night at 7 p.m. is between the Soo Suds, who defeated the tough Fortress boys 2-1 last Friday, and 29th Regiment who gave Navy such a tough battle in their last league game.

FILM IS THRILLER

"Ministry of Fear" Coming With Ray Milland as Star

With Ray Milland heading the cast, a psychological drama which carries an emotional punch, "Ministry of Fear" comes this Wednesday and Thursday to the Capitol Theatre.

For cast associates in "Ministry of Fear" Ray has lovely Marjorie Reynolds, svelte Hillary Brooke, handsome Carl Esmond and such central figures of the plot as Percy Waram, Alan Napier and Erskine Sanford.

Elements of fear, intrigue, romance, and suspense have been captured and the mood sustained by the excellent characterizations by cast members.

The story tells of an attempt by Nazi spies to bring back a stolen map to Germany concerning England's plans for invasion of the European continent. The map, enclosed in a cylindrical tube, is concealed in an ordinary cake, offered as a prize at a country charitable affair. The cake, intended for a Nazi agent, comes into the possession of Milland by accident. Thereafter, he is mixed up with spy rings, Scotland Yard and a number of subversive organizations.
