GUAM, Feb. 20 (CP)—One of the most savage battles of the entire Pacific war now is in progress in Iwo Jima. Thousands of American marines have swarmed ashore on the tiny island which lies just 675 miles from the southern tip of the Japanese mainland.

Scores of tanks are taking part in the fighting. Tokyo acknowledges that no less than 150 American tanks have been observed in one section of the island.

Building to be Governed

City Council Approves Engineer's Proposal to Set Up Commission

A civic building commission is to be set up here to pass on all applications for building permits. Acting as an advisory board to the building inspector and the city, it will meet at least once a week.

Decision to form such a commission was made by the city council last night on recommendation of City Engineer G. S. Hanes. The commission will consist of Mayor H. M. Daggett, Ald. Robert McKay, the building inspector, city engineer, fire chief and medical health officer.

Mayor H. M. Daggett was inclined to think that the function of such a commission might be too "complicated" for a city of this size but other members were disposed to favor the idea in view of the present building situation in the city and the council by resolution adopted the proposal.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 20 (CP)—President Roosevelt conferred with Prime Minister Churchill at Alexandria, Egypt, after the Big Three meeting at Yalta and received another pledge of full British support in the war against Japan after Germany's defeat.

In a formal summary of the President's activities since he left the Yalta meeting, the White House said today that Roosevelt invited General DeGaulle to meet him in Algiers. French Morocco. DeGaulle, the statement said, replied that official business prevented him from going to Algiers.

Hospital Ship in Halifax

HALIFAX — The Canadian hospital ship Lady Nelson is expected in Halifax sometime today. Nearly 500 sick and wounded Canadian service personnel are aboard the ship.

Mopping Up in Manila

MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS — Japanese troops on Corregidor and Bataan now are being mopped up. There seems little doubt that enemy forces still entrenched in Manila intend to put up a last ditch stand. The Japanese are deployed inside a walled portion of the Philippines capital and with them are about 7000 civilian hostages. Heavy American guns have been levelled at the last Japanese positions inside Manila. Thick stone walls protecting the enemy defences already have been breached but further bombardment will be necessary before the attacking tanks and infantry can move in.

New German Bullet

ROME — The Germans are using a new type of bullet against Canadian troops in Italy. Canadian Press War correspondent William Boss says it resembles a fragmentation type. It is believed to be fired from an automatic weapon. When the bullet strikes an object, it explodes in a puff of white smoke, and splinters into fine shrapnel.

Russo - Germanic War Approaches Showdown

LOCAL FLIER BALES OUT OVER ENEMY TERRITORY ON HIS LAST TRIP OF TOUR OF OPERATIONS

WITH CANADIANS FLYING IN THE R.A.F., Feb. 20 (CP)—Pilot Officer Jaroslav Bouzek, navigator in a heavy Halifax bomber, took part in an attack of Hanover recently. Unknown to Bouzek, whose home is in Prince Rupert, it was to be his last trip for some time to come. A few minutes after his Halifax had dropped its bombs, another aircraft collided with it in the air over the target area.

The crew were warned they might have to bale out but the skipper managed to keep the aircraft on an even keel while Bouzek feverishly worked out a track that would take them the shortest way back to the friendly territory of Belgium. While the skipper struggled with the limping aircraft, Bouzek continued calling out the position until it was assured that they were over friendly territory and the pilot then gave order to abandon the aircraft.

Bouzek "hit the silk" with the other crew members and all landed safely, and were cared for by Belgian farmers until soldiers took them to an airfield from which they were flown back to England. It was not until he returned to his squadron that Bouzek learned he had completed the last trip of his tour.

The board of works reported to the city council last night that thirty days' notice had been given to John Gurvich and E. E. Yager to comply with requirements of the Building Bylaw with respect to residential structures on Borden Street. Certain orders under the Bylaw had not been complied with, it was explained by Ald. Rudderham, chairman of the board of works. Legal proceedings are threatened.

City trades licences have been granted to Morris H. Wright for a general trucking business and to the Dominion Construction Co., building contractors. The city council was informed last night by the licensing committee.

"Storm Will Break Very Soon," Says Berlin, Reds Massing East of Berlin

Sudden Breakthrough Might Spell Disaster For Whole Nazi Defence Structure—Moscow Not Saying Very Much

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The war in eastern Europe may be nearing the showdown stage. To quote the German radio: "The storm will break very soon." According to an enemy broadcast, the Russian High Command continues to pour more and more men into the front lines along the Oder River due east of Berlin.

The Russians in that sector are within thirty-two miles of the German capital and a sudden breakthrough on their part might well spell disaster for the enemy's entire defence structure. Nazi broadcasts claim that German counter-attacks south-east of Berlin have met with some measure of success. The enemy contends that the First Ukraine Army has been forced to give up four German towns. Moscow offers no confirmation to these enemy assertions.

Fraser Street Tragedy Probed

Lack of Protection Cause of Children's Deaths, Jury Finds

Finding that Ronald Fossum and Loraine Hanberg came to their deaths by smoke suffocation at their home at 749 Fraser St. on the night of February 10, a jury under Coroner M. M. Stephens last night officially expressed the opinion that had the mother, Mrs. S. Hanberg, provided ordinary care and protection for the children such a tragedy would not have occurred.

For their part, the Germans have been continuing their flying bomb attacks against southern England. The Air Ministry announces that the flying missiles landed in England from down yesterday until early this morning.

Japanese Discussed

Private Members Speak in Legislature—Oppose Return to Coast VICTORIA, Feb. 20 (CP)—The Japanese did not come to British Columbia as ordinary immigrants but with the definite purpose of conquering this continent. R. C. MacDonald, member for North Okanagan, said in the Legislature Monday. "The only clean cut business-like way to handle the situation is to deport them to their own country where they belong," he said.

Mrs. T. J. Rolston, Point Grey, said that, if permitted to return to the coast, the Japanese would compete with men and women returning from the services. She could not see why they should return to their old jobs now being filled by white persons.

Agitated Mother Gives Evidence

Importance of Civic Centre . . .

Prince Rupert people who might have been wondering about the financing involved in the operation of a civic centre project as ambitious as that which we would have in the taking over of the new YMCA War Services building after the war is over might consider remarks of Dominion Health Minister Claxton speaking in New York Sunday night. Mr. Claxton regards the community centre as a good deal more than a mere place for recreation and entertainment but as a meeting place where all citizens can make their contribution to social life, art, music, drama and sport, a place for the development of creative expression and, further, a place where contribution may be made to the solution of the problems of adjustment of service men on their return to civil life.

Such is a broader picture of the community centre, a conception which some of us might not have visualized. Accepting such a conception we should not worry about the ability of financing a civic centre of ambitious proportions for it will be almost in the category of a public utility—something of necessity to the community like electric lights, telephones, transportation systems and the like.

It is fit and proper to approach the civic centre project from a business standpoint but we should not be frightened off it, at first appearance, the costs of operation seems a little high. Possibly, we might revise some of our ideas of financing such a project.

Yukon Prepares for Boom After World War Is Over

Famous Old Creeks Being Staked—Mining Men Preparing for Large Scale Operations—District Transformed

By O. NORDLING

A general revival of interest in gold quartz and placer properties has taken place in the Klondike area and in outlying districts along the Yukon River and tributaries within the last several months. During the past year many miles of placer properties on old streams which have been light producers in years past and had been allowed to lapse were restaked by various parties and syndicates. Grant Hendersop, son of the late Robert Hendersop, discoverer of gold in the Klondike on August 17, 1896, formed a syndicate a year ago and has staked miles of placer claims on the various placer gold bearing streams in the Klondike district. The restaking movement amounted to a virtual stampede on the old streams.

The high price of gold and the new methods of placer mining being introduced by large mining concerns has stimulated mining interest to an all-time high since the days of the Klondike Gold Rush.

Miles of staking has taken place on some of the well-known creeks including Scroggie Creek, a tributary of the Stewart River, Barker, Kirkman, Ballarat, Matson, Moose, Stevens, Maize May, Thistle, Henderson and Rosebud Creeks. Ten to 30 miles of ground has been staked on some of the creeks. Much of Black Hills also was staked and extensions were covered in Clear Creek district. These have been held for long periods by old time prospectors.

Placer mining continues on increased scale on Hunker, Bonanza, Dominion, which have been big producers for the big mining companies and many individual miners are making a good living working lays.

The Klondike district, Bonanza was "a very hard child to handle" and that she had occasionally disciplined him herself. As well as a strong desire to play with matches, Ronald was inclined to run away and his mother had often tethered him out on a long rope to keep him home.

Leonard F. Brewerton, employee in a warehouse across the street from the Hanberg home, testified that he "had seen Ronald tied out repeatedly."

He said that he believed the prime purpose of tying the boy to a rope was to keep him at home and not for correction.

"I know of several times that the boy broke loose and they had a hard time finding him," Mrs. Brewerton said.

Corp. A. T. Lashmar presented Ronald's trousers as evidence. They contained an unburned match and several burned ones.

Other witnesses giving evidence were Dr. R. E. Coleman, pathologist, Miss Patricia Galoway, who lives at the rear of the Hanberg home and to whose house the bodies of the children were taken and who phoned for a doctor; Dewin Henry Hicks, proprietor of the Fraser Hotel who helped put out the fire in the bed clothing, and Constable T. Brue of the city police.

PRINCE RUPERT CLUB PROPERTY SOLD BY CITY

Frank Brown, who formerly conducted Reid's Cafe on Third Avenue, purchased the old Prince Rupert Club property on Second Avenue under a deal approved by the city council at last night's meeting on recommendation of the finance committee. The purchase is $4000 with $400 cash and the balance in $100 monthly payments. Ald. McKay wondered if the deal was a good one for the city since the price was below assessed valuation. The feeling of the council, in approving the deal, was that it was desirable to get the property back on the tax roll after many years on the reverted list. The new purchaser is setting up a restaurant in the premises.

Consolidated Gold Corporation Limited. Operations will commence soon as labor is available. The Lone Star property is owned locally and majority shares held by Yukoners.

The Yukon Consolidated Gold Corporation, principal placer operators in the Klondike district, operate 10 dredges with an average gold production 2 1/2 million dollars during normal operations. Since the war operations have been curtailed down to three dredges. Full scale operations will be under way as soon as labor permits.

Canadian Placers Limited, operating on the left fork of Clear Creek since March 1939, are continuing successfully and have introduced a new method of mining in the Yukon, which consists of a drag line excavator, drag shovel, hydraulic pipe and steel sluice boxes. Steel sluice boxes 40 inches wide and 60 feet long are set into bed rock and the gravel is moved to the boxes by hydraulic and by a tractor with a dozer plough. The 1 1/2 cubic yard diesel dragline scraper will be stationed at the lower end of the boxes to stack the tailings. Capacity of the plant is 1,500 cubic yards a day and employs 15 to 20 men.

A small dredge built at Dawson by the Rendell Twins has been used on the Stewart River bars with fair success. Tom and Charlie Rendell, sons of the late William J. Rendell, surveyor for the mining company, were born and educated in Dawson and their venture in gold dredge mining is one of the outstanding in the Yukon. It may in time prove to be a very popular method.

One Question Settled . . .

Just a year ago Nazi propaganda was saying:

"The question now arises in Allied military circles whether Stalin still has sufficient reserves to support effectively the invasion in western Europe."

We understand that this question—if it ever did arise—does not arise now, either in Allied or Nazi military circles.

Stenographers of Destiny . . .

Later, much later, when the frenzy of prejudice, anger and joy which has exalted us has faded from the horizons of memory, when the propaganda and the confusion is clarified, a writer will be able to speak of the events we are experiencing today and express it all properly. At this time it is difficult to write otherwise than under the tumultuous dictation of History which flows on unceasingly. Meanwhile we may try to describe as accurately and faithfully as possible what we see, hear and live through during these present days. That is a great deal. The writer today can only be the stenographer of destiny.

any drinking during the day and said that she had not had more than four glasses of beer during the evening.

"Have you been in the habit of leaving the children at home alone?" a juror asked.

"No, my husband and I have been out only three times in January. Usually we get Diane Kennedy (a 12-year old girl who lives next door) to come in and look after them."

Asked why she did not get a girl to look after the children on the night in question, Mrs. Hanberg replied that she usually gave the girl not less than a dollar and that since she had only three dollars to last until her husband came back from fishing, she felt that she could not afford the expense.

She said that she had $2.50 when she returned from the beer parlor.

Mrs. Hanberg told the jury that on the afternoon preceding the children's death she had cleaned up the back porch of her home and that she had burned a number of cardboard boxes.

When Mrs. Hanberg was recalled to the witness box later Corp. A. T. Lashmar of the city police suggested that it be put on record that she could employ the protection of the Canada Evidence Act although Mrs. Hanberg waived the right saying that she desired to "get the thing cleared up."

Questioned as to whether the children had been locked in the bedroom Mrs. Hanberg replied in the negative.

Hooks and staples on the bedroom door had been placed there two years ago to keep Ronald from going to the kitchen in the early mornings and turning on the water taps, she said.

Mrs. Hanberg said that prior to the tragedy there had been three boxes of matches on the third shelf in the kitchen cupboard but that afterwards there were only two.

Constable Malcolm Stevens of the city police presented as evidence the burned stubs of matches which he had found in the bedroom during investigation.

"Ronald was capable of turning on the lights and opening the bedroom door," the mother said.

Frank Montesano, waiter in the Commercial Hotel beer parlor, said that he had gone off shift shortly after 10:40 Saturday night and that he had accompanied Mrs. Hanberg, Mrs. Ratchford and the soldier "Benney" to Mrs. Ratchford's for coffee. Mrs. Hanberg appeared to be completely sober, he said.

He estimated that it was between 10 minutes and half an hour after they arrived at Ratchford's when Mrs. Hanberg told him to go to her house to see if the back door was open.

He believed the light was on in the smoke-filled bedroom when he found the children.

Mrs. Ratchford said that Ron-

JOE GARON'S BROTHER DIES

Was Eighty Years Old and Oldest Member of Family of Twenty Children

Oldest member of a family which originally consisted of 20 children and French-Canadian pioneer of the west, Adelard Garon, brother of Joseph Garon of this city, died yesterday morning at his farm home near Picardville, Alberta. He was 80 years of age and was born in Quebec but spent most of his life in the west. About 20 years ago he paid a visit to Prince Rupert.

The late Mr. Garon had been engaged in farming at Picardville, north of Edmonton, since 1908. He first came west in 1901 and went to the Yukon with Joe Garon of this city. Last year he revisited his home in Quebec with Joe Garon.

Deceased is survived by his widow and seven grown-up children as well as six brothers and four sisters. The funeral takes place at Picardville on Thursday.

The drawn-out trial of Harold Kenney, charged with keeping liquor for sale, was concluded in police court yesterday with Kenney being found guilty and sentenced to a $300 fine with an alternative of three months in jail. ### United Church W.A. Has Year's First Tea

The first activity of the year held by the Women's Auxiliary of the First United Church was a Valentine tea held at the home of Mrs. Andrew Thompson, 440 Sixth Ave. W.

The rooms were tastefully decorated for the occasion, the tea table being covered with a beautiful lace cloth and centred with a silver basket of red tulips and white carnations. Red candles burning in silver holders added to decorations. Many visitors called, making the tea very successful both in the tea room and the home-cooking.

Ladies in charge were as follows:

Tea room—Mrs. Reg. Webber, Mrs. G. A. Johnson, Mrs. R. G. Macaulay; serviteurs, Mrs. T. Petroff, Mrs. Clarke MacLean, Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. Macdonald; pourers, Mrs. R. G. Large, Mrs. Crawford Moore and Miss M. A. Way.

Home-cooking—Mrs. J. S. Irvine and Miss M. A. Sharpe. Cashier, Mrs. Llewellyn.

Lutheran Dinner Is Great Success

A Smorgasbord dinner held in the Lutheran Service Centre was highly successful. It was sponsored by the L. D. R. and was the first of its kind attempted by this organization. The menu consisted of special Norwegian dishes and also various meats, fish, vegetables, salads, relishes, cakes, cookies and fruit filled jelly, all of which was donated by members and friends of the congregation. The tables were decorated with Canadian and Norwegian flags. The young women serving were attired in the national costumes of Norway. The overflow crowd began coming before the scheduled time of serving and many had to be turned away without being served.

AIR FORCE TO FINALS

Wins Again Over Soo Suds in B League Elimination

The Royal Canadian Air Force gained the right to meet Navy in the Area Basketball League's B Section finals by defeating Soo Suds 21 to 20 last night in the Y.M.C.A. Gym. Previously the Airmen had beaten the Army cagers by one point, 27 to 26, so the R.C.A.F. won the total-points series by 48 to 26. According to present plans the sectional championship series will commence Wednesday night.

The line-ups follow:
R.C.A.F. — Hutton 10, Faithfull, Gerasimoff 8, Beamish 3, Davis 6, Menzies—21.
Soo Suds—Latham 5, Squizzato, Latinovitch 1, Weaver 1, Larkin 12, Angustiny 1, Fitzmaurice—20.

Beats Acropolis—

PORT EDWARD HOLDING LINE

Port Edward's gifted hoopsters moved a step closer to the championship in the Alaska Mainland Basketball tournament at Anchorage last night when they defeated their down-south playmates from Acropolis Hill 29-28 to remain the only unbeaten team in what appears to be shaping into a double elimination playoff.

All other teams except Whittier have now lost one game each. Whittier, which went down before Fort Richardson 62-32 last night has now been eliminated. Although the set-up is not certain from this distance it appears that the other teams will play off for the privilege of meeting Port Edward in the final championship game.

During the first quarter Moline, Port Edward's forward, scored a point a minute to garner in 19 counters to Acropolis' 5. In the second quarter Acropolis fought back to hold their rivals to a more even pace, the half-time score being 35-19 for Port Edward.

The third quarter was slow, with Acropolis getting seven of the 10 points scored. Score at the end of the period was 38-26. In the final spasm Port Edward clearly showed intention to stay out in front, and sparked by Moline, ran up 11 points while Acropolis tallied two.

Moline was high scorer for Port Edward with 14 points and Kiener led Acropolis with 12 points.

LIBERAL MEETING

A general meeting of the Liberal Association of Prince Rupert, will be held at the I.O.E. Hall, 5th Avenue, at 3 p.m. on Tuesday, February 27, for the purpose of choosing delegates to the Liberal Convention and for the election of Officers and a Committee for the ensuing year. All voters supporting Liberal policies are cordially invited.

C. C. MILLS, President.

SCHOOL BOARD AND COUNCIL

"Even a casual survey of the estimates will reveal that we are paying out large sums of money every year to keep the present buildings in a usable condition. In the case of Borden and King Edward Schools in particular, this is throwing money down a bottomless well. The amount expended will inevitably increase as the years go by. One would not mind so much if the schools were fulfilling their function in a satisfactory manner but these buildings are not only old, they are obsolete and not adaptable to modern teaching methods. In the case of Borden Street School, the grounds present an insoluble problem.

"It is therefore the conviction of this board, that the time has come for a long range program to be laid out. We would require as a minimum, a new elementary school and a new elementary high school. We therefore urge upon the council the advisability of immediately starting a sinking fund to meet these inevitable expenses. We realize that this is limited to the amount obtainable through one mill of taxation. While this is a small amount, it will nevertheless be a start and we are unanimously of the opinion that this should form a part of this year's budget."

The school board's estimates, which were adopted, totalled $131,175.40 against which there was revenue of $51,175.40, leaving $79,954.79 to be raised by taxation. The regular estimates include $92,850.56 for teachers' salaries and $18,858.44 for operational expenses. The extraordinary estimates include $3,437.50 for a new roof for Booth Memorial School, $750 for laboratory remodelling, $1,030 for an automatic stoker and $600 for new sanitary facilities all at Booth School. Included in the estimated revenue are $30,264.47 government grant and $20,278.20 surplus from 1944.

Aid. Norah Arnold was the first to endorse the need for new school buildings. She also favored decent, living wages for teachers.

It was a serious situation, she felt, when the local High School, as she had been informed by the chairman of the board of school trustees, was being taken off the accredited list making it necessary for the pupils to write examinations rather than be recommended.

The whole report of the school board made sense to Aid. George Hills particularly that portion in regard to better teachers' salaries so that as high a standard of teachers as possible might be obtained. As for school buildings, he wondered if the assistance of the provincial government could not be obtained. One mill a year would be quite inadequate to meet the financial requirements involved for new schools.

FIRST DANCE AT NEW YMCA

Special Program Played by H.M.C.S. Chatham Band

Playing of special arrangements written by two members of the H.M.C.S. Chatham orchestra featured a radio program from the first dance to be held in the Y.M.C.A. building last night.

The specially arranged numbers were "I'm in the Mood for Love," by Frank Dutton, leader and pianist, and "Don't blame Me," by Lin Jackson, lead alto saxophonist. The latter tune was sung by George Korbett, who has been vocalist with the band since its inception but is now also playing alto sax.

Dedicated to the new Red Triangle Club, an original composition by Bandsman Dutton, "Mauve Mood," was heard in public for the first time. This number will replace "Lost Horizon," another Dutton creation, as the Navy dance band's theme. Other pieces on the broadcast were "Estrellita," "Back Door Stuff," Duke Ellington's "The Sergeant Was Shy," and "Let Me Love You Tonight," sung by Bandsman Korbett.

The band has two drummers—Ed White, who has been with the group almost since its beginning, and Bill O'Driscoll, a newcomer with considerable experience.

Eight of the 11 bandsmen who comprise the band came from Ontario.

Personnel of the organization who played last night follow: saxes, Lin Jackson, Toronto; Les Darch, Bowmanville, Ont.; George Korbett, Winnipeg, Man.; Vern Barnett, Kitchener, Ont.; trumpets, Johnny Lamb, Winnipeg; Maurice McKay, Nelson; Bill Reid, Toronto; trombones, Charley Carney, Chatham, Ont.; Ken Gray, Toronto; piano, Frank Dutton, Toronto; drums, Bill O'Driscoll, Toronto.

Advice Is Asked On Information Bureau

With a view to obtaining the opinion of the council on the matter, the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce had a letter before the city council last night in regard to a proposal to set up an information bureau in Prince Rupert. The idea, said the letter, was not only to provide information to visiting tourists but to collect, segregate and file for immediate reference information on the city and district of interest to any possible industrial or commercial inquiries. Such information might pertain to available sites, power, water, transportation, storage etc. The matter was referred by the council to the rehabilitation committee.
