"Hell" Camps 3,000 Living Skeletons Are Horrid Sight

of Utmost Horror—Torture
Gas Chambers, Crematories
Bodies Were Stacked Like Cordwood

May 1 (CP)—The worst of all the Nazi concentration camps—Dachau in Bavaria—is in American hands. American troops found 32,000 living skeletons in the camp. Dachau had everything—gas chambers, crematories, and bodies were stacked like cordwood. Gestapo guards machine-gunned prisoners even as the Americans rolled into the camp. The Nazi guards were riddled with bullets while still holding smoking guns in their hands.

The Americans found thirty-nine open freight cars on a rail siding at the camp. They were loaded with bodies—hundreds of bodies of prisoners from other camps sent to Dachau for execution and cremation. The prisoners were mostly Poles. Apparently the train had been allowed to stand on the siding for days, while they starved. The Americans found one man living in one of the cars, but the rest were dead.

CANADIANS ARE FREED

Most of Dieppe Officers
Released From Prison
Camps Now

PARIS, May 1 (CP)—Most of the Canadian officers of the Second Division who were captured in the 1942 Dieppe raid may have been freed. American Third Army forces liberated a prisoner of war camp containing 110,000 prisoners at Moseburg, twenty-five miles from Munich. It is believed that the Canadian Dieppe officers had been marched south to Moseburg from their former camp-Oflag.

Digby Wins In Monthly Weather Competition

The Seal Cove district fared badly in the monthly round-up of weather records for April. Digby Island definitely had the edge.

While Seal Cove residents shivered through the month with an average temperature of 41.3 degrees, Digby Islanders perspired through the heat of a 42.1 degree average.

In rainfall, too, Digby had the advantage. The western section had a slight spattering of moisture which amounted to only 7.42 inches, while Seal Cove was being drenched with 8.46 inches of rain.

Highest temperature at Digby was 53 degrees while at Seal Cove it was 51.2 degrees. Minimum was 30.5 at Digby. At Seal Cove it was 28.8.

Barometric pressures show high at 30.5 and low at 29.5 at both places.

Highest recorded wind at the Digby meteorological station was 37 miles an hour on April 13.

Mrs. J. R. Manson is leaving on Wednesday night's train on a trip to Port Dover, Nova Scotia.

ZEALANDERS IN ITALY

May 1 (CP)—New Zealanders in Italy are more than 100 miles beyond the front in their drive to the Adriatic coast. They are rapidly cleaning up remaining Nazis in Italy.

Strong winds with heavy rains in exposed areas during the evening. Moderate to fresh breezy cloudy and mild with light rain.

Alex Young Head Cariboo Tories

PRINCE GEORGE, May 1 (CP)—Alex Young, K.C., of Prince George, has been named president of the Cariboo Federal Progressive-Conservative Association at a meeting held in Prince George. Other officers are John A. Fraser, Quesnel, first vice-president; Stephen Holmes, Vanderhoof, second vice-president; and Mel Dafoe, secretary-treasurer. Delegates to the B.C. Progressive-Conservative Association executive are Mrs. Belle Miller, Lillooet, and Alex Young.

Service Men IN ELECTIONS

OTTAWA, May 1 (CP)—The only servicemen who can take part in the approaching federal or Ontario elections are service candidates and officers appointed to take service votes. Servicemen other than candidates cannot address meetings even if they dress in civilian clothes. They may not deal with party funds or participate in an election as agents or scrutineers or engage in partisan work.

Defence Headquarters in Ottawa says it is not sure whether or not heckling comes under partisan work.

ALLIED LANDING ON BORNEO IS REPORTED BY TOKYO BROADCAST

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1 (CP)—An unconfirmed Tokyo broadcast tells of an Allied landing in the Tarakan area of Borneo in the Dutch East Indies. The Japanese account does not make clear whether the supposed landing was made on Tarakan Island just off the northeast coast of Borneo or on the mainland.

The Tokyo radio broadcast the pattern of Japanese announcements of previous Allied landings by claiming that the first attempt had been repulsed.

According to the Japanese, the landing operations began yesterday at noon.

Although there has been no word from any Allied source of any landing operations in the Dutch East Indies, troops of General MacArthur's command hold the island of Tawitawi in the Sulu Archipelago. It would be an easy jump for the Allies on Tawitawi to Tarakan Island which is close to the northeast coast of Borneo. Tawitawi is 30 miles east of Borneo and 200 miles from Tarakan.

Canberra reported today that a division of Australian troops was participating in action in Borneo.

Remnants of Germany Being Quickly Destroyed

Forces of Russia and Western Allies
Moving Relentlessly Ahead—
Last Ditch Defence of Berlin

LONDON, May 1 (CP)—The forces of Russia and the western Allies moved ahead today for the swift destruction of what remains of Germany. The Soviet flag is flying over the Reichstag as Red Army storm troops beat back the fanatical last ditch defenders of Berlin. The Hamburg radio today admits that the German Ninth Army has given up its attempt to re-leave Berlin. The enemy broadcast blames the German Ninth Army's failure on the strength of Russian attacks. The Hamburg radio further discloses that the German Fourth Army west of Berlin has been subjected to strong Russian flank attacks.

A new merger of Russian and American troops on the Elbe River has been made after a deep stab eastward by the American Ninth Army.

In the last big German pocket in the south, the Seventh Army has driven inside the Bavarian Alps at the northern end of the Brenner Pass. Other Seventh Army troops are cleaning out the last snipers from the captured city of Munich, birthplace of the Nazi movement.

AIR WAR KEPT UP

Canadians Lead in Renewal of Assault Upon Remaining
Objectives in Germany

LONDON, May 1 (CP)—Spitfires of the Royal Canadian Air Force City of Winnipeg Squadron destroyed eight enemy aircraft and damaged five in a sudden burst of Luftwaffe activity in western Germany yesterday. Five of the enemy fighters were destroyed and two damaged in air combats when tactical air force planes attacked a German air strip due south of Schwerin. Three enemy planes were destroyed and two damaged on the ground elsewhere.

Also in the Canadian aerial picture yesterday were fighter bombers manned by Dominion flyers. At least 57 Nazi road vehicles were shattered in the Schwerin area in the day's attacks.

The Canadian bombing leader, Johnny Fauquier, who reverted to the rank of group captain from that of acting air commodore to get back in the air, has relinquished command of the dam-busting squadron. His new duties are not specified in the announcement which comes from R.C.A.F. headquarters in London. Fauquier was the first Canadian to pack the new 11-ton bomb over Germany.

It was later announced that Hitler was killed at his defence post at the Reichschancellery. Admiral Doenitz succeeds Hitler as Chancellor.

ARGENTINA IS INVITED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1 (CP)—The United Nations conference has voted to invite Argentina to take part in the conference. The vote was 31 to 4 with 11 abstaining. Russia opposed the move. Soviet Foreign Commissar Molotov declared that if Argentina with its past record were to be invited, Poland with its record should also be invited.

The conference Steering Committee also voted invitations for White Russia and the Ukraine to attend.

NO SURRENDER MADE AS YET

WASHINGTON, D.C., May 1—President H. S. Truman has nothing to say officially today in regard to recurring reports that Germany has surrendered unconditionally to the Big Three Allied powers. There has been nothing further, as far as the White House will indicate, since Heinrich Himmler was informed that Germany must surrender unconditionally to all three Big Powers or face complete destruction which is being steadily carried on.

How "V-E Day" Will Be Known

OTTAWA, May 1 (CP)—Acting Prime Minister Isley says the people of Canada will be told officially when the war in Europe is over.

The official announcement of the end of hostilities in Europe will be followed by two proclamations. The first will declare the following Sunday a day of Thanksgiving and Remembrance, and the second will make the day following the announcement a public holiday.

Guarded Statement By Churchill in Commons

War Position More Satisfactory Than Five Years Ago—Rumors of Armistice

LONDON, May 1 (CP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill hinted today that announcement of peace in Europe might come before Saturday. The Prime Minister, in reply to a member's question, said: "I have no special statement to make on the war position in Europe except that it is definitely more satisfactory than it was at this time five years ago."

Meanwhile a Reuters' News Agency dispatch from Stockholm said that Count Bernadotte of Sweden had brought back from Copenhagen a new capitulation offer from Heinrich Himmler. Bernadotte refused to tell reporters where he had a message from Himmler. There were no signs that he had made contact with Allied representatives in Stockholm but such contact most likely would be established through the Swiss Foreign Office.

Reuters said later, however, that the Swedish Foreign Office had denied that Bernadotte had brought with him a new capitulation offer.

In the House of Commons the nearest to a prediction that Churchill permitted himself was the implication that peace might come before the House rises for a week on Friday. He said good news would not be delayed.

Churchill stated that number of arrangements had been made for the celebration of "V-E Day" in Britain and would be announced tonight.

TWO-AND-HALF MILLION NAZIS ARE PRISONERS

WASHINGTON, May 1 (CP)—The United States War Department announces that the western Allies have captured more than one-half million German prisoners from invasion day in Normandy through last Wednesday. More than 1,500,000 Germans have been taken prisoner in the last seven weeks alone.

ONCE PROUD LION OF ITALY BECAME LAMB AS RULE FADED

"Better to live a day as a lion than 100 years as a sheep."

That was the motto of Benito Mussolini, which he ordered inscribed on Italy's twenty lire coin. And for nearly twenty years he emulated a lion. He was supreme then, truly "Il Duce," the leader.

The ancient royal House of Savoy was a figurehead; the son of a blacksmith was Italy. As creator of the Fascist state he ruled with a grip of iron after the depressing, turbulent days of the first world war.

Then came a fateful day when he cast his lot with Adolf Hitler.

The German Nazi leader, just coming to power, borrowed some of Mussolini's fascist "Black Shirts" ideas.

Mussolini, in turn, appropriated some of Hitler's ideas, such as persecuting the Jews.

The Rome-Berlin political axis eventually was born. Japan later became a full partner.

Jumps on France

But a still more fateful day was to come. It was when Mussolini, after months of hesitation, plunged Italy into the abyss of the second war by jumping on bleeding, prostrate France and thereby brought about his amingnominous doom.

There is ample cumulative evidence, despite a rigorous war-time censorship, that the Italian people did not want the war; that the Italians had no real love for the Germans—notwithstanding Mussolini's boisterous utterances to the contrary.

As the war dragged on, grandiose dreams of a new Roman empire gradually melted in the mist. Newly won territory was lost. The Italian armies did not measure up to the proud boasts of their dictator. Even the German armies, it was said, looked upon their Italian brothers-in-arms with contempt.

Tremendous, damaging air raids on Italian cities by the British Royal Air Force and, later by the Americans, contributed to lowering the morale of the Italian people, grumbling from many privations.

U.S. Invades Africa

The real turning of the tide, however, apparently came when the American army, under General Dwight D. Eisenhower, made its surprise invasion of North Africa in the autumn of 1942, just as the Germans and Italians were fleeing from the British over the sands of African deserts.

Panic gripped the Italian people. The war was coming close to home. Invasion ensued.

Meanwhile, Hitler's military forces, supplemented by the

The Vanderhoof Meetings . . .

To revive the co-ordination of united effort in the end of advancing the mutually common interests of central and northern British Columbia which the imminent post-war era should see assuming a prominent part in the inevitable development of western Canada, the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia go into session this week at Vanderhoof. Including no less than ten from Prince Rupert, there will be delegates from points all the way from Prince Rupert to the Cariboo country south of Prince George to discuss and make representations upon problems having to do with the development of the district. Many of the matters to be taken up have long been in need of co-ordinated action. This meeting at Vanderhoof is fitting and well-timed. It has been long enough deferred. We look for it to rebound in benefits for a sphere of communities which have many problems in common.

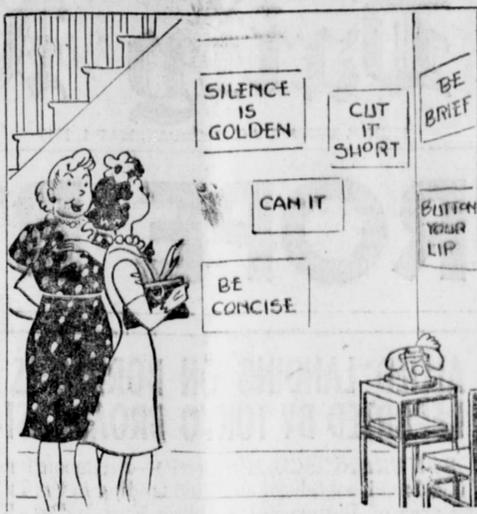

Advertising Pays . . .

A Vancouver hardwareman who violates all the ordinary principles of good business, talks politics with all his customers, tells jokes in his advertising and is anything but serious, is described by A. J. Dalrymple in the May issue of Canadian Business. The hardware man is W. C. Stearman and he says that he has a lot of fun writing "crazy advertisements" that bring him both financial rewards and friends. Some people hide their eccentricities. Mr. Stearman puts his to work.

In his daily newspaper advertisements on the classified page of a Vancouver newspaper, Mr. Stearman tells a few jokes, mentions in passing the high quality of his rat traps and then gives his opinion of the federal government. When Mr. Dalrymple asked him about his business policies, the hardware merchant replied quickly: "You mean my crazy advertising. It's so crazy it keeps my store filled with customers. Come back after business hours. I can't stop now."

Mr. Stearman comes from Owen Sound, Ontario, and is 71. He went to Vancouver in 1898. He is probably the only hardware man who consistently advertises rat traps. Why? "Because no one else advertises them," he says. "People actually believe my rat traps are better than others. I sell thousands and thousands of rat traps. An old man walked five miles from Burnaby the other day to buy two five-cent mouse traps. He passed a dozen hardware stores on the way."

Dring, 27, trained in Canada and was a navigator in a Pathfinder squadron.

filtration into Italy of the dreaded German Gestapo, exerted their influence more and more, causing suspicion and apprehension.

There were many observers who said that Hitler and not Mussolini dominated the Italian scene. There were whispers that some Italians feared their country might become a German vassal state.

Be that as it may, Mussolini, for some reason, kept out of the public eye. Reports seeped through to neutral countries that he was seriously ill; that there were plots and mutterings against him. Censorship made confirmation difficult, if not impossible.

Breaks Long Silence
But the former theatrical public appearances of Il Duce became conspicuous by their absence. Finally, after Winston Churchill, the British Prime Minister, in a world-wide radio address in late November, 1942, had placed the blame of the war on Mussolini and not the Italian people, he emerged from his semi-retirement.

Addressing the fascist Chamber of Corporations in Rome on December 2, 1942, he gave vent to some of his old-time defiance in bombastic phrases, to which the world had long since been accustomed.

"After eighteen months of silence," he began, meekly, "I have a vague impression that the Italian people want to hear me."

He admitted the heavy damage caused by British bombing raids. "All who can must leave our cities," he counseled, to avoid dangers from further systematic attacks promised by Churchill.

Surprisingly, he acknowledged in effect that he had "stabbed France in the back"—a phrase first uttered by President Franklin D. Roosevelt of the United States—but said there was justification because France had stabbed Italy similarly many times.

He called Mr. Roosevelt a hyena and a war monger, not neglecting to pay his respects to Churchill in uncomplimentary terms.

Roar Becomes Bleat
The whole tenor of his speech showed that.

The roar of the lion had become something like the bleat of a sheep.

Future historians, perusing and analyzing the records after the war, will have the task of assessing Mussolini's rule in cool perspective.

There is no doubt that in his early days as dictator he held the swaying nation together. There is no question but that he brought order out of chaos after the first world war or that he at one time appealed to the imagination of his people and held their affection. And he brought a measure of prosperity where there had been starvation and economic paralysis before. But his unnatural alliance was ultimately to bring utter ruin to Italy and death in the deepest of ignominy and revilement to himself.

Britain Should Establish New Towns Throughout Commonwealth—Not Suburbs

URMSTON, Eng., May 1 — Last Thursday afternoon Johnny Christie, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Christie, suffered a heart attack and died shortly afterwards. For over a year he had been ill and had returned just recently from Hazelton Hospital where he had been receiving treatment.

The funeral was held on Saturday morning from the Sacred Heart Church where Father Fabre held a special funeral service. The church had been decorated for the occasion and the children of the congregation sang the hymns. Each child present put a bouquet of flowers on the casket and Father Fabre

"The London County Council is wealthy," he told a reporter. "It could build a town of 10,000 inhabitants in each of the Dominions with the same ease as it could build a block of flats."

Air travel has brought the Dominions closer to Britain and hundreds of thousands of Britons in the services had been impressed by the possibilities of other parts of the Empire through which they had passed or where they took training.

Wild Geese Numbers In Flight "Amazing"

KINCOLITH, May 1—Flights of wild geese, numbering thousands have flown over this Naas River village during the past week.

Mrs. Margaret Green of Kincolith tells of watching for an hour while a steady flow of the wild fowl flew low over the river mouth, heading north.

"I happened to notice them at 8:40 p.m. and they flew over in a steady stream until 9:35. They may have flown over for some time before and after the times mentioned but the number of them that I saw was amazing," Mrs. Green said.

with passports, travel questions, notarial matters and general inquiries. She was born in the Malay States where her father practised law, and returned with her family to England for schooling while still a youngster. At 18 she entered Somerville College at Oxford and for two years studied modern languages. Thereafter she applied to the Civil Service Commission, receiving an appointment to foreign service, entered the consular service in London last August and at the first of the year came to America. At the end of a year's foreign service, she will be entitled to a wartime Oxford degree.

Miss Hastings, quiet-mannered and self-possessed, will be 21 in June and in a sense typifies the English woman about to come of age.

What does her generation want to do in the post-war world?

"I can't be sure yet," she said gravely. "I don't think they would want less a part of things than they have now. One thing I feel sure of: they have a feeling that they have the right to everything going and as far as their own lives are concerned, they want the right to decide."

ANCIENT AND MODERN BLEND

CANTERBURY, Eng., May 1 (Reuters)—The blending of Canterbury's ancient character with modern traffic and shopping requirements is the aim of a post-war plan presented to the city council by Charles Holden, town-planning consultant, and city surveyor H. M. Enderby.

Provision is made for an inner ring road circling the centre of the town to enable traffic which has no need to pass through the city to by-pass shopping and business areas generally. Into this circular road will come new roads from London, Whitstable and other towns.

The main street through Canterbury will be widened at the blitzed eastern end and a new and parallel street will be constructed between the main street and ancient Watling Street, thus enabling one-way traffic to operate. Between the two will be four connecting cross-ways.

It is proposed to replace the entire St. George's Street area which has been bombed out, with protection assured for the best views of the famous cathedral which the destruction of buildings opened up.

Under the replanning scheme, historic buildings instead of being on obscure sites will be brought onto corner sites. The aim is to carry out the required work in the first 10 or 15 years after the war.

CELEBRATION SHORT LIVED

MONTREAL, May 1 — A short-lived oved and rather confused celebration was staged in Montreal when peace rumors spread through the city. The official denial of the reports from President Truman, however, cut the celebrations short. As the rumor of Germany's surrender swept through the city, small stores were deluged with customers seeking glass of any description and design. Many streets soon were thronged with flag-waving residents. Night clubs quickly closed their doors and by the time most of the celebrants could get going the majority of the Montreal night spots were closed and in darkness.

Little in the way of celebration took place in Toronto as reports of Germany's unconditional surrender spread. Theatre crowds had not heard the report and most persons who had were skeptical. Royal Canadian Navy service police in the street said they had been warned that a peace might be declared this week-end but city constables had received no special instructions.

The appearance of gypsies in Europe cannot be traced back further than 1300.

She's in there fighting, too

YES, she's in there... all five feet, five inches of her... fighting courageously—tenaciously—resourcefully!

No dispatches come from her battle front. What is it but four walls and a roof—with perhaps a picket fence? Yet it is the fountain of a nation's strength—the sacred cause for which men risk their lives.

She has no sympathy for moans about wartime trials and restrictions. She meets them every day and takes them in her stride.

She needs no picture stories to tell her the truth about war. With the sure instinct of wife and mother, she knows the agony of waiting and the bitterness of loss.

"Millions" and "billions" mean nothing to her. But shrewdly she senses that one inescapable price of victory is hard cash in fabulous amounts. And she knows who must supply it.

Watch her when the time comes to buy Victory Bonds! Has she savings of her own? She lends them eagerly. The family savings which her work and thrift have made possible? They must buy a full measure of victory to the last dollar, or she will know the reason why!

And alongside her realism for today she builds her plan for tomorrow. She fully intends that those savings shall make it come true!

Police to Check On Car Brakes

"Your only a foot from trouble." That is the phrase which will take on definite meaning to Prince Rupert's motorists during the month of May as police forces here and throughout the continent embark on a drive to make motorists conscious of the safety factor of good automobile brakes.

Sergeant O. L. Hall of the city detachment said this morning that the local force will take part in the drive by checking the brakes of vehicles in the city. The drive will continue until June.

"With so many older cars in service due to the inability of

The campaign is being carried out simultaneously in all centres throughout the continent under the auspices of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

"Invest in the Best"

THEY slog ahead with the dirt and anguish of modern war.

They slog ahead—reduce another pillbox—capture another village.

They keep on driving the enemy back until he breaks.

And what of us at home? In comfort, safe, clean, without fear of sudden death or wounds. Sometimes happy enough, but still worried. And we want to help. We'd like to be in there with them until it's over and then come home together. Few of us can do that but surely we can help. We have helped before by buying Victory Bonds and we can do that again. We can keep on providing the money for all their needs; to keep them equipped, to keep them strong and healthy; to care for them if they are sick or wounded and soon, we hope, to bring them safely back to us.

There is a real way to help. We can purchase generously in the 8th Victory Loan.

RESIGNS TODAY
Announcement was made today by B. Thorsteinsson, chairman of the Union Board of Health, that Dr. Roger Knipe had resigned as director of the public health unit effective Sept. 1. Dr. Knipe plans on entering private practice at Langley Prairie in the Fraser Valley and may later return to public health work.

Dr. Roger Knipe Asks Leave Of Absence
How to deal with an application from Dr. R. G. Knipe for six months leave of absence from his duties as director of the Prince Rupert Public Health Unit and affiliated public health positions caused perplexity among members of the Union Board of Health at a special meeting in the Mayor's office last night. The application also inspired consideration on the part of city council, meeting in committee of the whole, when it was submitted that civic body shortly before the Union Board of Health meeting.

Dr. Knipe asked six months leave of absence, beginning September 1, to gain experience in private practice in the south. Although he gave no assurance that he would return at the end of that period, Dr. Knipe indicated his willingness to carry on "in absentia" as head of the local public health department.

He gave as his major reason for wanting leave the fact that his work as head of the Health Unit was largely administrative and that he was gaining little professional experience at it.

"The Health Unit is well organized and ordinarily requires only an administrator to run it. I feel that I could broaden my usefulness by gaining experience in private practice," Dr. Knipe explained.

He said that Dr. W. S. Kerin had expressed his willingness to act as part time director. Dr. Kerin, who appeared at the meeting at the request of the Union Board of Health, agreed that he felt sure that he could handle the part time directorship of the Health Unit as well as his own private practice.

Major stumbling block in the way of granting leave to Dr. Knipe was the fact that his application carried no assurance that he would return at the end of the period.

Alderman Norah E. Arnold, representative of city council on the Union Board of Health, said that city council feared that it might establish an embarrassing precedent if Dr. Knipe were granted leave without any assurance of his return.

"If any other city official tried to take another position and keep his original one open for his return we wouldn't grant it," Alderman Arnold declared.

Dr. Knipe denied that he was trying to leave his position open in case he decided to return. Board members officially expressed themselves as unwilling to grant Dr. Knipe leave of absence without receiving assurance that he would return and also went on record as being willing to grant him leave if assurance were given that he would return.

"We are trying to administer the city carefully, and one doctor moving out would mean one doctor less in the city," Alderman George Hills, a member of city council's health committee, commented.

MOTHER OF PASTOR DIES IN WINNIPEG

Mrs. P. S. MacSween, mother of Rev. A. F. MacSween of First Presbyterian Church, Prince Rupert, passed away late Saturday while her son was enroute home from visiting her at Winnipeg where she suffered a stroke three weeks ago. Word of her passing arrived here 6 o'clock Saturday, about six hours before Rev. MacSween arrived home.

Mr. MacSween left again on last night's train to be present at the funeral.

Mrs. MacSween is survived by her husband, who is minister of a Presbyterian church in Winnipeg, and two sons, also ministers. They are Rev. Alex MacSween of Prince Rupert and Rev. Ian MacSween of Sylvan Lake, Alberta.

- MAY DAY, 1945 -

Today the freedom-loving peoples of the world join hands in a solemn pledge for a future of international co-operation, peace and prosperity. Fascism is being crushed. The bastions of barbarism are crumbling and being destroyed by the united blows of our fighting forces and those of our allies.

The mighty strength of the organized labor movement in Canada and throughout the world, by forging the weapons of war for the fighting forces, have demonstrated the unity of action of all sections of the people.

There will be hard and bitter fighting ahead before Germany and Japan are finally defeated and a new and just peace becomes the pattern for the future. But come it will. The people of all races, creeds and nationalities are lifting their eyes upward to a new world free from Fascism, war and aggression.

This May Day demonstrates the continued co-operation of the United Nations, led by the United States, Great Britain, and the Soviet Union, in dealing blows at the attempts of reaction within every country to divide and split that unity.

The death-knell of Fascism has sounded on the devastated countries of Europe and Asia. International co-operation firmly bound by the war, is fashioning the instrument of World Security at San Francisco to carry unity forward into the peace.

Our responsibility in the battles for a future of peace, progress and prosperity lies in the unity of all progressive, anti-fascist forces to ensure that Canada's next Government will be a broad, democratic, coalition so that our country may maintain international and national unity, for us and for the generations to come.

A team that adopted the name Toronto advanced into the Royal Canadian Air Force European hockey championship final with a Spitfire airfield team from Holland and at the same time won the R.C.A.F. in Britain championship with a 6-2 victory over "Montreal" in a sudden-death tilt in Glasgow. The European final, also a one-game affair, will be played at Glasgow.

Before a capacity Scottish crowd of 3,500, the British final was fast and rugged with Toronto backed by the smart goaltending of Johnny Mowers, former Detroit Red Wing. Scoring ace was Bill Sullivan of St. Timothee, Quebec, who fired four goals. Bobby Lee of Montreal and Fred Andrews of Regina, Sask., scored the others while both Montreal tallies were scored by Montreal's Buddy Hellyen, a flight sergeant who is property of Toronto Maple Leafs and formerly of Pittsburgh Hornets of the American League.

It was Toronto's second game of the day. Earlier they had beaten "Vancouver" 2-1 in a semi-final replay of a 1-1 draw the previous night. Referees were the Kitchener, Ont., pair of Mill Schmidt and Woody Dumart, Boston Bruin star whose team had been ousted in the Bomber Group final a couple of weeks ago. In a consolation play-off before the British final, Vancouver trounced Winnipeg 6-3.

In the other semi-final Montreal scored a 5-4 triumph over Winnipeg, with Hellyen scoring once and setting up plays for three more goals. Best for the losers was another Montrealer, FO. Billy Murphy who scored once and led his team's attack throughout. Montreal's other scorers were Suds Sutherland of Toronto, W. Morderich, North Bay, Ont.; J. Rathie, Montreal and L. Lee, Roulo, Sask. Winnipeg marksmen were B. Curry, Ottawa; D. Noseworthy, Winnipeg, and A. Morris, Nordegg, Alberta.

A crowd of nearly 4,000 saw the Montreal-Winnipeg struggle and heavy checking was climaxed in a brief scuffle during the third period in which no damage was done. Montreal got away to a 2-0 lead in the first two minutes of the game and led 3-0 at the end of the first period. Winnipeg tightened up after that, however, and after each scored a goal in the middle period, Winnipeg netted three in the final frame, the last with only 10 seconds remaining.
