SPARS GUESTS HERE TODAY

Armed services in the Prince Rupert area and city officials paid their respects this morning to a detachment of 50 U. S. Coast Guard Spars who are stopping here today enroute to Alaska.

The Spars, under command of Ensign Frances Riley, walked down the gangplank to brisk music by the band of H.M.C.S. Chatham and were greeted by Mayor Daggett, Lieut. A. Greer, Coast Guard commandant at Port Edward, and U.S.O. directors Frank Finnerty, Eva LePrieux and Bob Herrick. They were taken immediately to the U.S.O. club where a smorgasborg luncheon was awaiting them.

This afternoon they toured the city after which 40 were taken to Fort Barrett as guests of the Canadian army for tea while Ensign Riley and a group of 10 were guests of the Wrens at a reception at the W.R.C.N.S. barracks.

The girls will be entertained by a dance in the U.S.O. club this evening.

No Settlement of Seiners' Strike

VANCOUVER, July 6.—There was no sign of a settlement of the tie-up of seiners on the coast. Both sides said today that no progress had been made towards a settlement of outstanding points in the 1945 price agreement.

APPEAL OF PRESIDENT

J. H. Thompson Urges Rotary Club to Get Behind Service Projects

An appeal for members to get behind the Rotary Club's two projects and give firm support to the newly installed officers was made by James H. Thompson after he was installed as club president at the weekly luncheon meeting Thursday.

Installations were conducted by J. J. Little, senior past president of the club. The new officers were applauded as they officially entered office.

"The young people who pass our doors on their way to school every morning are the greatest asset this city has," Mr. Thompson said. "We are supporting the Prince Rupert Recreation Council and a children's ward in the hospital. Let us give these projects the best we have."

As Mr. Thompson took office he was congratulated by retiring president A. S. Nickerson.

Guests at the meeting were George Bryant, John Hart and C. C. Mills.

INVESTIGATING DISTURBANCES

LONDON, July 6.—Canadian military headquarters have ordered an investigation into riots at Aldershot camp Wednesday and Thursday night. In a statement on the disturbances Wednesday night, headquarters said that 25 shops had been damaged, 87 windows broken, and reported that, at the height of the incident, about 500 Canadian soldiers were involved. There was more trouble at Aldershot last night and damage was said to be even greater than Wednesday night. One London newspaper said the Canadians had "run amok," another describing a "night of terror."

JAPANESE WANT TO REMAIN NOW

VANCOUVER, July 6.—Several Japanese have applied for cancellation of forms they signed last month requesting voluntary postwar repatriation to Japan. T. B. Pickersgill, commissioner for Japanese placement, says he said the applications would be filed for "future consideration." The number was not large, he said.

J. A. Clarke, well known cannery manager now identified with Nelson Bros. Fisheries Ltd., arrived in the city today on the Prince George from Vancouver.

Clothing Is Being Set Aside To Meet Needs of Veterans

OTTAWA, July 6.—The War-time Prices and Trade Board announced that men's clothing retailers will be required to set aside 35 percent of their quotas for personnel being discharged from the services.

JUNIOR CHAMBER MAY HOLD LABOR DAY CELEBRATION

Possibilities of holding a Labor Day celebration in Prince Rupert were scouted last night by the executive of the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce in a business session which followed a dinner meeting at Reids cafe last night.

Details of the project were left to the entertainment committee, but it is likely that the celebration will include a baseball tournament and dance. Purpose of the celebration is to assist in raising money for a proposed expansion in the activities of the junior chamber.

Guest of honor at the meeting was pretty Beatrice Didrickson, junior chamber carnival queen candidate. Plans for the carnival queen campaign were discussed with the committee in charge.

Working Bee on Rupert Highway

Condition of the Prince Rupert highway, described as very poor, aroused discussion of ways of bringing corrective action by the government, and a plan was proposed by T. N. Youngs whereby a group of citizens with trucks and shovels should employ trucks and shovels to repair at least that portion between here and Tye.

"A scheme like that would help put the road in condition and also let the government know we mean business," Mr. Youngs said.

The meeting approved the idea although Rev. A. F. MacSweeney recalled the tragic Monkman Pass "self-help" road scheme in which Peace River district farmers poured thousands of dollars into the route in order to get a Pacific outlet.

"That money and work was expended by the Peace River farmers and the government did nothing. Now they are building a road in by an entirely different route," Mr. MacSweeney said.

George Dibb, chairman of the ways and means committee, brought down a suggestion that, in order to assist financing the Junior Chamber's commitment to the Prince Rupert Recreation Council, the annual dues should be raised, possibly to $10 a year. Annual dues are now $3.

TWO PLANTS STRIKEBOUND

OTTAWA, July 6.—There are two strike-bound plants in Ontario. At Guelph, 350 employees of the International Malleable Iron Company have been out from their plant last week. Now the men have been refused permission to look for other jobs with other war industries in the city. The workers walked out when a National War Labor Board decision cancelled part of a Regional Board ruling ordering wage increases to some of the employees.

In Weston—a Toronto suburb—the Moffat Stove Company has been the scene of another walk-out. The men—said by the union to number 500—are striking in a dispute over the voluntary deduction of union dues from pay envelopes. The company is engaged in the manufacture of ammunition boxes for the Pacific war.

WINNER GAINS 13 VOTES IN OFFICIAL COUNT

Results of the official count of federal election ballots for Skeena riding, conducted Thursday by Returning Officer T. W. Brown, added 13 votes to the count of winning C.C.F. candidate, H. G. Archibald, over the unofficial total compiled immediately after the election but made even smaller changes in the totals of the other three candidates.

Official count is as follows:
Archibald 4079
Applewhite 3333
Harvey 2148
Mickleburgh 1479

The service vote count was:
Applewhite 200
Archibald 326
Harvey 153
Mickleburgh 32

The unofficial count previously had given Archibald 4066 votes, and Applewhite, 3329. Harvey had been credited with 2182 and Mickleburgh with 1479.

The count was carried out by Returning Officer Brown at his office. He was assisted by A. B. Brown and Mrs. Edith Greer. Only candidates' agents present were those of Mr. Archibald—J. S. Black, Mrs. George Howe and E. A. Evans.

At the conclusion of the official count, Returning Officer Brown duly declared Mr. Archibald elected Member of Parliament for Skeena.

RUBBER PLANTS RUNNING AGAIN

CHICAGO, July 6.—Following the seizure by the United States government, acting on orders from President Truman, of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. plants in Akron, the Navy, at the instruction of the president, has occupied the facilities to restore production of war-needed rubber. The output had fallen off sharply since nearly 18,000 members of the United Rubber Workers (CIO) had walked out 19 days ago.

Both Sides Claim Win

Daily Herald Says Labor Has Captured 260 Out of 340 Seats In British House

LONDON, July 6.—Both the Labor and Conservative newspapers in Britain are claiming victory for their parties in last night's general election. However, the result of the election won't actually be published until July 26 when the service vote has been added to the civilian vote.

One Labor paper—the Daily Herald—claimed that the Laborites have captured more than 230 seats of the 340-seat House.

HOPE HELD FOR PARTY

Sir William Malkin and Companions in Transatlantic Flight May Be Safe After All

HALIFAX, July 6.—Dinghies were sighted some 250 miles off the coast of Newfoundland by searching Royal Canadian Air Force planes today and hopes were held that what appeared to be figures aboard the dinghies were survivors from a plane carrying Sir William Malkin and other British officials. The plane left Montreal enroute to Britain and has been missing since Tuesday. It carried fifteen persons including six women. Passengers and crew were included in the fifteen. It was a Royal Air Force Liberator bomber and was bound from Montreal to London, the British Air Ministry announced.

Sir William is a legal advisor to the British Foreign Office and had been on a trip to Canada on official business.

Five airmen picked up off Newfoundland are believed to have been on a plane which had been searching for the Liberator and which itself became missing.

MAYOR BACK FROM ALASKA

Mayor H. M. Daggett and his party, consisting of Mrs. Daggett and City Clerk and Mrs. H. D. Thain, returned this morning on an American vessel from Ketchikan where they were guests of the Alaska city at an Independence Day celebration on July 4.

"It's a fine active town, and they certainly showed me a wonderful time," Mayor Daggett commented. "However, I didn't eat any of their T-bone steaks."

T-bone steaks, the mayor reminisced, are $2.25 each at restaurants.

Mayor Daggett said he enjoyed his visit to Ketchikan, particularly the sports program.

"There was so much noise on the baseball field during the broadcast that I wondered how anything could be heard clearly over the radio," he said.

Returning with the mayor's party were radio announcer Lloyd Morris and T/4 Walt Montgomery who arranged the broadcast over radio-telephone connection with C.F.P.R. and members of Acropolis Browns baseball team.

On Monday, the unit begins a two-day survey of Canadian National and dockside workers. The unit will be situated at the Canadian National dock.

CANADIANS IN "DEATH MARCH"

Were Among Those Who Germans Tried Desperately to Dispose of at War's End

PRAGUE, July 6.—Czech officials say that some Canadian and New Zealand prisoners of war almost certainly were among victims of the "march of death" whose bodies have been ordered exhumed from mass graves. However, none of them have as yet been definitely identified as such. The march of death took place during the last weeks of the war in Europe as the Germans emptied central and eastern prisons and concentration camps and tried to mass thousands of prisoners in a giant camp north of Prague.

Waiting for British Result . . .

We are all keenly interested in the outcome of the general election in Britain which took place Wednesday but we will have to bide our time until July 26 to which date has been deferred the counting of the preferences of the United Kingdom's thirty million voters in the first general election since 1935. The counting of the civilian votes will take place at the same time as those of the fighting forces commencing on that date. The results of the voting will not be known until then. Then we shall learn whether private enterprise is to be the driving force of Britons for post-war reconstruction or whether their country will follow the political lead set by much of Europe and swing toward the left.

The least impatient of all appears to be the imperturbable Prime Minister Winston Churchill who carries on, election and voting notwithstanding, but who gave the people good notice that he would not continue in office unless he was given a majority and a substantial one at that. If he should drop out we can see where Great Britain will be due for some real political turmoil.

The Polish Problem . . .

Recognition by Great Britain and United States of the new provisional government of Poland by no means ends the "Polish problem" but it does break the deadlock in British-Russian-American negotiations and strengthens hopes for that continuance of Big Three co-operation on which so much is staked in our present peace plans.

The diversions among the Poles and among the Big Three over Poland have been so bitter that at times any compromise has seemed impossible. The present settlement appears to be a compromise. It brings into the Warsaw Government several non-Lublin democratic Poles, including the peasant leaders Witos and Mikolajczak, and the Socialist Stanczyk, who is to be Labor Minister. What kind of a compromise is involved and how much genuine reconciliation can be won under it will be disclosed by further steps to carry out the Yalta agreement, particularly for a free election.

Gratifying as is the evidence that a working arrangement has been found, the need for patient and tolerant attitudes on Polish questions is still acute. Certainly the biggest Polish question—whether Poland is to be a source of friction among the Big Three or a proving ground for co-operation—is not yet answered.

The holidaying housekeeper's dilemma—whether to leave the blinds up and let the Prince Rupert sunshine fade the cheffestfield or leave them down and invite the attention of the current house prowlers.

MISS AMERICA—Perched on the pinnacle of glamorous appeal is Venus Ramey, Miss America of 1944. Venus holds the title to which some northern B.C. girl may succeed this year if she first wins the Northern B.C. Bathing Beauty Contest at the annual Civic Centre carnival here in August. It is the first step in the direction of the Miss America contest which will be held in Atlantic City, N.J., in September. Venus comes from Washington, D.C. Her successor, it is hoped, will come from Prince Rupert.

ODDFELLOWS AT SMITHERS ARE ACTIVE AGAIN

SMITHERS, July 6—Smithers was visited last week-end by members of Lakelse Lodge No. 33, Independent Order of Odd-fellows, Terrace, when a dozen of its members, headed by their Noble Grand, John Barman, travelled from Terrace by motor cars on Sunday to meet the members of the local lodge.

The Smithers lodge has not been active for several years and the Terrace lodge did not think that this condition should be allowed to continue so the prime reason for their trip was to not only fraternize with their brothers of Smithers but to try and resuscitate the lodge.

Members of both lodges met in the Masonic Hall on Sunday evening and paraded in regalia to the Anglican church where a service was held by Rev. N. H. Atkinson.

On Monday evening a meeting of the lodges was held in the Masonic Hall and the local lodge was brought to life again under the Noble Grand, William Kidd, other officers taking their respective offices as they had been before discontinuance of meetings. The charter of the lodge had been held in good standing.

Those visiting Smithers from Terrace were John Barman, H. R. West, James Smith, Harry King, William Smith, Raleigh Beecher, Jim Kohne, Geoff

Lambly, Emil Haughland, Louis Neuhauser, Wm. T. Hickmore. The visitors returned to Terrace on Monday night well pleased with the result of their trip. The local lodge is starting out again with a lot of enthusiasm and hopes to regain its old standing in the community by the addition of new members as well as by returning members, at an early date.

LONDON.—Greater wartime activity in the British motion picture industry is reported by the Board of Trade. Seventy long films made by British studios were registered during the year ended March 31, 1944, compared with 62 the previous year.

OLD WEST IS REVIVED AT RODEO

(By Barley Mulvaney)

BURNS LAKE, July 6.—The old West came to life again for a vivid two-day period when Indians from miles around congregated here to take part in the annual Dominion Day celebration in which dust was kicked up by a rodeo, horse and chuckwagon races and a baseball tournament.

The rodeo had all the verve and whoopee of wild west life and was spiced with a number of incidents. Chief among these was a mishap which had a sad ending.

A cowboy, Herb Eaton, made a flying pickup of Jean Brewer, one of the entries in the Prince Rupert bathing beauty contest. Bearing her proudly away in the saddle, the cowboy's triumph was short-lived and resulted in injuries to himself and the beauty.

Unprepared for a double load, the saddle slipped around under the horse and, in the resultant spill, the cowboy received a broken arm and the girl a slight head injury.

Winners of the bucking contests were Smokey Neighbor of Burns Lake, Frank Henson of East Ootsa and Johnny Skin of Tweedsmuir Park.

The skillful roping of Johnny Skin drew a special prize and saved a lot of time in catching runaway bronchos.

Winners were announced and received prizes at the grand ball on the Indian reservation on midnight of the final day.

There were several visitors from Prince Rupert, one being Sam Marsh, for whom the Lakes district is a favorite holiday haunt.

A Grand Milk for Babies

Nothing but milk—good whole milk with only part of the natural water taken out, and all the food value left in—Carnation's a very fine milk for babies.

There are three big reasons... First, it is as nourishing as milk can be—and provides extra "sunshine" vitamin D to help build bones and teeth. Second, it's safe, because it is sealed and sterilized... keeps indefinitely in the unopened can. Third, it's readily digestible because heat-treatment makes it a soft-curd milk.

POPULAR PICTURE

"National Velvet" Draws Large Crowds to Capitol and None Are Disappointed

Line-ups longer than have been seen at the Capitol Theatre in considerable time indicated that more than usual interest is being taken in "National Velvet," the current offering, which opened yesterday and is continuing today and tomorrow. The interest is well justified too for all are agreeing that it is a thoroughly delightful picture. Produced in technicolor, the story centres on the training of a beautiful bay race horse which culminates in a dramatic winning of the famous Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree near Liverpool by the little girl owner and jockey. The enactment of the Grand National is both thrilling and realistic. The setting is in a picturesque village near Liverpool and there is a pretty little atmosphere of family life.

Into the village and family comes Mickey Rooney, portraying a broken-spirited, shiftless Irish jockey. While Rooney is billed as the star, Elizabeth Taylor, sweet and demure, whose sole love is horses, takes the show. Donald Crisp has the role of the crusty but human-hearted father. Anne Revere is the understanding mother. Six-year-old Jackie Jenkins is cast in an important juvenile role while another favorite in the cast is Arthur Treacher.

"National Velvet" is the screen adaption of the famous novel of the same name.
