lin and Stettin in Danger

MOSCOW-Russian artillery has opened up on the German n of Kuestrin, forty miles northeast of Berlin. According the German radio, the Russians made a crossing of the Oder Kuestrin but the bridgehead was wiped out. Other Berlin orts say that Soviet columns have reached the Oder at new nts only 38 miles from Berlin in the Frankfurt area. Ofial communiques from Moscow disclose that the Russians definitely known to have pushed ahead to within 51 miles Berlin. Soviet troops have advanced since the communique s issued but how much of an advance cannot be said with degree of certainty. One thing is sure-Berlin, and its t of Stettin on the Baltic are in grave danger today. Mosdeclares that Russian troops are just a little more than ven miles from Stettin. Capture of the big port would be remendous blow to the German war effort.

cing For Manila

MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS - American forces on zon continue to make rapid progress in their drive towards nila. According to one war correspondent it is now a race see which American column will be the first to enter the pital of the Philippines. Japanese resistance has been sursingly ineffective and there is absolutely no sign as yet that enemy intends to put up a stand before Manila.

clare Berlin Open City

LONDON-An unidentified radio station said today that ere are rumors in Berlin that the Nazi High Command inds to declare the German capital an open city. The broadt was heard by the Associated Press Listening Post but its gin could not be traced. As recorded in London, the broadst said, "rumors are sweeping Berlin that the German High mmand intends to declare Berlin an open city but German my circles say there is no truth in it."

stern Front Livens Up

PARIS-American troops are hitting the Germans today the thick Siegfried Line defences in the Monschau area. ont line reports say the Germans and Americans are enged in the heaviest fighting on the western front since the ight of the Ardennes break-through. Near the extreme othern end of the front, American and French troops are ving the last Germans from the city of Colmar in south-Alsace. British and Canadian troops at the northern end the line have sent out patrols in force across the Maas River rtheast of Breda and southeast of Nijmegen.

rlin Being Bombed Today

LONDON-More than 1200 British and Canadian bombers ashed rail and other communications last night at Wiesden and Karlsruhe. In addition to hitting the two Rhine lley cities, the British and Canadian raiders bombed a syntic oil plant at Wanne-Eickel in the Dortmund region. rlin apparently was given a night's rest after the heaviest A.F. Mosquito raids of the war Thursday night. The Gern radio declares that waves of Allied bombers are hitting erlin today. It was announced earlier that a huge force of lied bombers was heading for the German capital for what ight prove to be one of the heaviest aerial blows at Berlin

Must Still Fight for Victory .

While it might be reasonably assumed that the collapse of Nazi Germany may come any day now in view of the serious military position of the Reich with the Russians moving in from the east so far almost unchecked and the western allies undoubtedly preparing to open a major offensive when the physchological moment appears to have arrived, it might be well to remind ourselves of a definite possibility that the Nazis themselves might have a last minute surprise in store. The war, of course, is nearing victory for our forces but there may well have to be some hard and vicious fighting yet as the enemy at bay puts up his death struggle.

How long the Germans will continue to uphold and fight for Maintaining Local Highway . . Hitler remains to be seen but that they will turn upon him sooner or later is elementarily logical. Meantime, as long as he is able to retain any measure of control, the war will go on.

Any danger of our defeat has, of course, been long since removed. We are now engaged in the final and important effort of clinching the victory as rapidly as possible.

Interest In North Grey . . .

Never has a federal by-election commanded more general attention than that which culminates in Grey North on Monday next. 'It has been a battle of the giants as far as the political leaders are concerned since the national leaders of both Progressive-Conservative and C.C.F. parties have campaigned the riding personally and ances.

The government has chosen to make a testing ground of the riding. Should General McNaughton be defeated, no matter how special the circumstances of that defeat may have been, it would be a serious blow to the prestige of the government. And the government, there is no denying the fact, has a real fight on its hands for strong cases have been put up against it.

And since clubs are thinking more of rebuilding with improvements than merely of repairs, the total will likely be much higher. Millwall, for instance, hopes to replace its burned-out stand with a two-storey structure. Framework of the West Ham stand stood up to a flying bomb but club directors may resurrect prewar plans for a double-decker stand on the opposite side of the field. Even those grounds which escaped damage through enemy action will require considerable expenditure. In many instances metal railings have been taken away for scrap and labor short-

FLOOR HOCKEY LEAGUE OPENS

Over Navy

Coast Regiment opened the Area Floor Hockey League campaign with a 1 to 6 victory over Navy last night at Number Four Group. The only goal of the fixture was scored by Simmons.

Line-ups follow: Navy - Dennison, Billinger Astle, Mercer, Trann, Gill, Turcot, French, Barnet, Owens, Perry, McKinnen.
