Prince Rupert Mentioned—TOTEM POLES AS VALUABLE AS PYRAMIDS, SAYS ARCHAEOLOGIST

"Nowhere on the Coast has such effective use been made of cedar monuments (totem poles) as in Prince Rupert where handsome Haida poles have been set with great artistry amid the rocky hillocks which account for much of that city's wild beauty," says Edward L. Keithahn, curator and librarian of the Alaska Historical Library and Museum.

of Juneau, Alaska, in his new book, "Monuments in Cedar." The book about totem poles and northwestern coast Indian culture generally is being published in the United States by Roy Anderson of Ketumikan, Alaska.

It contains 160 pages, 58 pictures and a large map of the "totempolar region." It has chapters on how to read a totem pole, on northwest coast decorative art, on the medicine man and the potlatch, and on many of the famous coastal "legends in cedar."

Although authentic and authoritative, the book is written also so that the layman can understand it. It is expected to be popular among tourists and residents who want to understand the awesome Indian art of this region.

Mr. Keithahn urges that the work of restoration as evidenced in Prince Rupert be continued because he says the time is near "when these monuments will be considered a resource as important to Southeastern Alaska and coastal British Columbia as the pyramids are to Egypt or the ruins of ancient Rome to modern Italy. The significant fact is simply that no other place in the whole world has totem poles; people will come from far and wide to see them—as long as they remain."

Pledge Recalled—

CALLS ON PRIME MINISTER TO FULFIL LAURIER PLAN TO MAKE REAL PORT OF PRINCE RUPERT

Page Rideout of Peace River, who has long advocated Prince Rupert as the Pacific Coast outlet port for the Peace River country, has just issued a pamphlet in which he calls upon Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King to implement the vision of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his own (Mackenzie King's) pledge of twenty-five years ago respecting development of Prince Rupert as a major Pacific port.

Mr. Rideout's pamphlet is of such interest here that it is herewith printed in full: "If there is a people in all Canada that have a real case for damages against our federal government those people are the residents of Prince Rupert. While there I attended a civic dinner, listened to after-dinner speeches, observed grey-haired men telling how they were enticed to come to Prince Rupert and paid thousands of dollars for a pile of rocks with an imaginary line around it to do business on. They were told that when the second pier in the harbor was completed there would not be a square yard of surplus rock left within the city limits. They were given to understand, yes they had every reason to consider themselves partners with our federal government in building an ocean port, a great city and rail terminal on our Northern Pacific. But like the Peace River people they were let down cold; and like our people they have been holding the bag for some 25 years, and forced to watch the Orient mail, cargo and passenger traffic that should come to their port being held on board for two days in order to put it over C.P.R. piers at Vancouver. Here let me confess that while I was observing all this, I was not overly proud of my Liberalism, remembering, as I must, it was Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his cabinet which put Prince Rupert on the map of Canada. But we must also remember the people of all Canada backed them in their railway plans in the election of 1904, and the same people backed them up in their railway construction in the campaign of 1908 and had they not been defeated on the Reciprocity issue in 1911, had the Titanic disaster not robbed our country of the great railway magnate in the person of Charles M. Hays, had these men been permitted to complete their job as they designed it the G.T.P. would be a going concern today and Prince Rupert would have been an ocean port Canada would have been proud of. And the effects of that port would be felt in our Peace River Empire today. Great Consideration Due Prince Rupert

"I am forced to the conclusion there is great consideration coming to Prince Rupert from our Liberal government and if our prime minister allows his term of office to expire without doing the necessary things to bring Prince Rupert somewhere near the picture of Sir Wilfrid's vision then I am sure Mr. King will not feel at home in Sir Wilfrid's ward in that celestial city on the other side of Jordan. "Now the capital question mark that is here appearing on the horizon is: what was Sir Wilfrid's railway vision and of the port of Prince Rupert in the days of his prime which are now 35 years in the past? The answer to our question is found on page 159 of Hansard of our present parliament. When the member for Skeena was addressing the House he referred to a speech our prime minister had delivered to a Prince Rupert audience away back in 1920 about one year before he became prime minister of our country for his first term. "Was the Grand Trunk Pacific policy a wise one? What was Sir Wilfrid's vision (Continued on Page 5)

Brett received a civilian vote of 1803, while Pattullo received 1308 and Bruce Mickleburgh received 513. Witnesses to the official count were Mr. Brett, Mrs. J. S. Black, E. A. Evans and Mrs. J. R. The order also directed the Japanese government to examine and certify to the accuracy of inventories of the Imperial fortune already submitted to Allied headquarters. It nullified all property transactions since August 19, the approximate date of Japan's capitulation.

ALASKA FISH UNLOADED HERE

The 2,000-ton Seattle vessel Margaret Schaeffer docked here at 10 o'clock this morning to unload six carloads of frozen halibut and salmon from the Alaska ports. The Margaret Schaeffer brought in the second such cargo to be landed here within two days. The American vessel Taku arrived yesterday afternoon to unload 16 carloads of fish destined for shipment over C.N.R. lines to the eastern markets. Movement of frozen fish through this port has been fairly heavy recently. When the railway resumed service a week ago after being blocked by slides, some 60 carloads of fish were shipped east.

It was reported that DeGaulle would be Prime Minister and minister of national defence in the new cabinet. The list of which will be presented to the constituent assembly on Friday.

WIG STORM ON EAST COAST

Thousands of Dollars Damage in Maritimes—Sailor Has Unique Experience

HALIFAX, Nov. 21 (CP)—Thousands of dollars damage has been caused by the Nova Scotia coast by a heavy rainstorm. The storm struck the province in the wake of a 45-mile-an-hour wind and swept coastal waters up over the banks and the low parts of the countryside.

In Halifax, Able Seaman Allen Perry of Ottawa was rushed to hospital in serious condition when he and a gangplank he was helping to make fast to the transport carrier, H.M.S. Puncher, washed ten feet to the concrete pier.

More than thirty lines were run out to the liner Queen Elizabeth to make sure she did not break away from her moorings.

GALE LASHES HECAETE STRAIT

Winds of gale force which swept the city and surrounding waters this morning were predicted to subside late this afternoon. Local real estate quivered before blasts which struck intermittently, knocking off an occasional fedora but doing no other damage. Wind velocity in Hecate straits was estimated at 35 to 40 miles an hour.

Editorial Policy . . .

The editorial policy of a newspaper is often a matter of discussion among its readers. Sometimes, we hope, we please. Sometimes, we know, we displease and that is the time when we are more liable to hear about it.

Often a newspaper is criticized as being inconsistent in editorial policy without due consideration of the fact that consistency is ever regulated by changing conditions. In other words, a line of action or policy which might appear appropriate and applicable today, might, under different and quickly changing circumstances or even in the light of fuller information, be quite inappropriate at another time.

Here in the Daily News we endeavour to maintain as the keynote of editorial policy advocacy of everything that is in the interests of the development and promotion of Prince Rupert and her people as a community and as a district along sound and permanent lines. These lines may be commercial, industrial, cultural or spiritual. We endeavour to support actively, energetically and frankly those things that we consider good and progressive and to as vigorously oppose things which we consider derogatory or disadvantageous to the welfare of the community. Sometimes, of course, we will differ with some of our friends on views, opinions and attitudes.

The Daily News, while not being, if we realize it, unrealistic or unfactual, will not apologize for being optimistic although we endeavour not to be unduly so. We shall endeavour not to err on the side of optimism but we shall look on the bright side whenever we can for, being bright, begets confidence and enthusiasm which are factors, along with vision and commonsense, constituent to accomplishment and realization.

Sometimes we are accused of being inconsistent politically, particularly on occasion when we choose to praise or criticize people who are in or aspire to public life. One thing we endeavour not to be is hidebound. We shall go on independently supporting policies which we consider in the best interests of our community. Above all, we shall endeavour to give credit where it is due and voice disapproval when it seems fitting so to do. We may have differences on occasion with our friends on matters which might appear to have political implications but we have not and will not praise or criticize on the basis of political friendship or enmity. We bear no such enmity to any person and trust that there are none so cynical or misunderstanding as to bear it against us.

The Situation in Java . . .

In case there is any misunderstanding it should be remembered that British forces in the Netherlands East Indies including Java are acting on behalf of the United Nations. They are fulfilling the tasks assigned to them by the Potsdam Conference. They have been set three objectives, and three only: To disarm the Japanese, to rescue prisoners of war and internees, and to maintain law and order. The British forces are not to be deterred from pursuing these three courses, from which they are not deviating. They are not attempting to settle the political future of Indonesia.

The violence of an Indonesian outbreak at Sourabaya called for stern measures, which fall strictly within the compass of the third objective, and have been taken with reluctance. At Sourabaya, the British forces encountered a hotbed of Nationalist extremism, led by irresponsible young men intoxicated by the xenophobia virus inoculated by the Japanese. The late so-called Indonesian Government failed utterly to control these firebrands. It remains to be seen whether the new "Government" under a Sumatra lawyer, Sjahrir, reputedly a man of strong personality, will prove more successful. It should be emphasized parenthetically that Britain does not recognize the new Indonesian "Government" any more than its predecessor.

Observers in Java point out the difficulty of gauging the degree of support which the Extremists enjoy among the Indonesians. The Indonesians can be roughly divided into three categories: Firstly, the Intelligentsia of Theorists who founded the independence movement. Secondly: The extremists who form the spearhead of the movement. Thirdly: The mass of the population, indolent and indifferent to politics, but offering inflammable material and a prey to intimidation. If it were not for the second category, the first and third categories should be amenable to reason.

But behind the independence movement in its present aggressive phase, observers more and more detect the hand of the Japanese. Evidence has accumulated that the Japanese built up a secret organization, not only in the Netherlands East Indies but throughout Southeast Asia, the aim being to stimulate and support the independence movement, not for the sake of the people concerned, but to create trouble for the Allies. The Japanese intention was, it is believed, that a mushroom crop of weak, independent states should grow up throughout the Far East, only to eke out a precarious existence until they — the Japanese — were ready to swallow them up. For the Japanese are confident that they will return. The Japanese have secretly provided these independence movements with arms and instilled into the more impressionable headheads their own hatred of the West. The seed thus sown has born fruit.

The problem is therefore to disarm and isolate the Japanese, so long as they are not repatriated, to take possession of the arms which they have distributed in defiance of the surrender terms, to bring the Terrorists among the Nationalists to book, and to treat the remainder by the application of an antidote to the Japanese poison. That antidote is to set an example of moderation and justice, coupled with firmness.

ORGANIZING OF NAVAL RESERVE

Preliminary Meeting Monday Night Decides to Proceed With This End in View

Fifty-five men interested in the re-establishment of a division of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve in Prince Rupert met Monday night in the Canadian Legion Hall and, after some discussion of the possibilities, decided to seek further information from Naval Department headquarters at Ottawa on which to base a definite line of organization. The majority of those present at the meeting were naval veterans of the recent war. The importance of obtaining even younger men than themselves as recruits was emphasized.

A recruiting drive will be instituted, it is expected, once the line of action for organization has been mapped out. At least 100 recruits will be required. Danny McDonald was in charge of the meeting. It is believed that the organi-

EVA LA PIERRE TO LEAVE CITY

Popular Hostess of U.S.O. Has Been Here for Three Years

Popular hostess and assistant director of the U.S.O. Club at Prince Rupert for the last three years, Miss Eva La Pierre is leaving on December 3 to return to her home in New York City on furlough after which she may seek reassignment with the U.S. on the west coast of the United States or in Alaska.

"My eyes are on the west coast," confided the dark, vivacious New Yorker, whose work prior to entering the auxiliary service with the Y.M.C.A. in 1941 was director of therapeutic music in the New York City hospitals.

Realizing that therapeutic music is playing an outstanding part in the reclamation of war-injured veterans, Miss La Pierre said that she might return to her former work in New York but that she would also relish an assignment with the U.S.O. somewhere on the coast.

Miss La Pierre came to Prince Rupert in early November, 1943 with the U.S.O., and except for furloughs, has been here constantly since that time. Prior to coming here she was on the staff of the U.S.O. at Ketchikan, going there from New York in June, 1943. She entered the U.S.O. service in December, 1941, when the United States entered the war. She was with the Y.M.C.A. in New York for six months before that.

MRS. TESSIER PASSES AWAY

Former Resident of Islands and Prince Rupert Dies in Terrace
 TERRACE, Nov. 21—The third funeral in a week took place last Friday afternoon when Mrs. Tessier was laid to rest in Kalum Cemetery. Rev. R. Hills of the Anglican Church was in charge of the service. There was a good attendance for Mrs. Tessier has been in Terrace a long time and had many friends. Pallbearers were G. Douer, W. Donald, Mr. Hamblin and Mrs. Houlden. Until just a few days ago, she had lived by herself on "the bench" but it became too difficult for Mrs. Morris, who had generously offered her services, to walk out three times a week to attend to her needs so she was moved into town in one of Mrs. Loveless's cottages. Mrs. Morris was with her when she passed away on Thursday.

Mrs. Tessier was 85 years old and came originally from Melbourne, Australia, where she once had a store. For a time she was companion to Miss Alum, a socially prominent Australian, and Mrs. Tessier herself was always spoken of as "a real lady." When she came to B.C. she was advanced in years. She met the late George Tessier while she was on the Queen Charlotte Islands and married him in Prince Rupert. For a time she lived there and then moved to Terrace where Mr. Tessier was for a while part manager of the Philbert Hotel and of a pool hall. Mrs. Tessier made one trip back to Australia where she still has a brother and sister living.

Mr. Tessier died over 10 years ago and, but for a short while, Mrs. Tessier has lived alone on the bench since that time. She maintained an active interest in public affairs until nearly the last which is illustrated by the fact that she insisted on going to the polling station during the last election to cast her vote.

MOOSE ORDER INITIATES 55

Initiation of the largest group of new members to enter any lodge of Loyal Order of Moose in British Columbia during the last 10 years took place at a meeting of Prince Rupert Lodge, L.O.L. in the I.O.D.E. Hall last night when 55 new members were initiated into the order by George S. Hockley of Vancouver, District Deputy Supreme Governor.

Lack of time and space prevented the initiation of the remainder of the class of 80 and the ceremonies will be continued at a special meeting called for Friday night. In addition to the initiations, the lodge elected its 1946 slate of officers and installation of the newly elected panel will take place at the special meeting. Mr. Hockley will officiate at the installations.

Speaking at the initiation ceremony, Mr. Hockley said that the modern trend of fraternal organizations was to "streamline" their activities in keeping with the times. "This is a young man's world and fraternal groups should keep this idea at the forefront," he said. "Lodges such as the Moose should aim at maintaining the interest of young men and women. Part of their activities should be directed toward sport and recreation."

The Moose Lodge in Prince Rupert, he said, should set its sights at a membership of from 500 to 600. It is the intention of the local lodge, he declared, to obtain adequate quarters and to start a junior lodge to capture the interest of the young people.

Doug Wood Is New Governor
 Officers elected at last night's meeting were as follows:
 Governor, G. Douglas Wood.

HOW CAN I ???
 BY ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove finger marks on windows, mirrors and the like?
 A. These can be easily removed by using a few drops of ammonia on a cloth, without the necessity of cleaning the entire surface. This is a particularly helpful solution where there are small children.

Q. How can I keep celery crisp?
 A. By washing thoroughly and keeping in the refrigerator for a few hours in a pitcher of cold water. Add a teaspoonful of salt.

Q. How can I clean black broadcloth?
 A. Rub it with powdered Fuller's earth, and put it away in a box or drawer for a few days. Then brush and shake well.

Returning Service Personnel Records Are Being Sought

The Daily News is anxious to completely record the arrival of all service men and women returning home from the war. Accordingly, it is requested that information be made available to this office regarding the date of arrival home, the service with which the veteran has been identified, in what theatres of war, if wounded, ill, etc. If inconvenient to call at the office, the information may be written or telephoned in. Pictures would be particularly welcome. Street and Postal addresses and telephone numbers are also requested.

Modern Etiquette
 By ROBERTA LEE

Q. Should the tissue paper that comes with engraved invitations be enclosed in the envelope when mailing the invitations?
 A. No; the tissue paper should be discarded.

Q. Does it show good manners to leave some food on one's plate, when finished eating?
 A. No; it is not necessary. This old custom is obsolete.

Q. When a man is introducing his wife to a business acquaintance, what phrase should he use?
 A. "Jane, this is Mr. Wilson. My wife, Mr. Wilson."

Then there is the sailor who treated all his girls with wine. He wanted a little port in every sweetheart.

GEORGE LITTLE IS WELCOMED

Terrace Greet Its Founder On Return from Yellowknife

TERRACE, Nov. 21 — George Little, one of the early pioneers and a founder and builder of Terrace, arrived home on Friday after a long absence at Yellowknife in the Northwest Territories where he has been participating in mining operations. About a month ago he left Yellowknife by the usual mode of long-distance travel in that country, the airplane, and eventually reached the coast by way of the Crow's Nest Pass and Vancouver, returning to Terrace via Prince Rupert. His many friends are extending him a hearty welcome and are keenly interested in the country from which he has come.

Yellowknife is a very busy mining centre with a population of about 3000. The miners in the district are on the look-out for rare metals as well as gold since Yellowknife is not far from Great Bear Lake in whose vicinity radium and uranium is mined.

Mr. Little has some mineral samples with him and states that considerable ore from the vicinity of Yellowknife is being assayed for rare metals. Mr. Little will be staying in Terrace until after Christmas.

FEDERAL BLOCK PRINCE RUPERT THIRD AVENUE

CALLS ON PRIME MINISTER

When the transcontinental railway was being planned, and his vision of this particular city? I know it was of ships plying from this very harbor, crossing the Pacific with the products of this country, bringing back other commodities here, making this community one of the greatest parts of the world; of a railway running through a country as fertile as any in the world, with feeders running north and south, tapping the resources of the province, mineral and timber, and great national wealth; a great community, with ocean wharves, docks, repair yards, dry docks, round houses, hotels, railway stations and all of the sights and signs of a great world metropolis. And what have you got today? A side line and not a main artery! The difference between the Liberal and Conservative parties."

"Here Mr. King gives us a real word picture of Sir Wilfrid's great vision of our northern empire, and that vision would have been a reality long years ago only Sir Wilfrid was obligated to turn his enterprise over to the enemy when it was but half completed, and watch the enemy fulfill their prophecies of it. But if he had been permitted to finish his railway and set it a-going and advanced the funds to keep it going through its infant years, as Sir John A. Macdonald did do with his C.P. Railway, the G.T.P. railway would be a going concern today and Prince Rupert would be a combined port, rail terminal and city all Canadian people would be proud of.

"Therefore it is surely up to our prime minister to do things while he is yet leader of the government, and bring our port on the Northern Pacific up to the real word picture he spread out before his Prince Rupert audience some 25 years ago, if he is anticipating a happy meeting with Sir Wilfrid at the portals of that celestial city.

"But apart and independent of that meeting over Jordan, it is now expedient for the people along the old G.T.P. railway in British Columbia to apply the necessary pressure for the bringing to a reality the picture Mr. King spread out before his Prince Rupert audience 25 years ago."

H.M.C.S. CRESCENT JOINS CANADA'S FLEET

Just about as compact and deadly bit of fighting equipment as can be found is Canada's new destroyer, H.M.C.S. Crescent, first of the class bearing her name. Crescent has a speed of well over 35 knots (more than 40 land miles an hour) and mounts as her main armament one set of quadruple torpedo tubes and four 4.5-inch radar-controlled guns. Other armament includes depth charges, twin Bofors guns, pompons and Oerlikon guns. The ship has a standard displacement of 1,710 tons, is 363 feet long, with a beam of 35 feet, eight inches. She has a rated horse-power of 40,000. The complement is 16 officers and 217 ratings. The ship recently arrived at Esquimalt, B.C. on her maiden voyage to Canada from the United Kingdom (R.C.N. USO Club Terminating

Popular Resort Will Close On December 1

After almost three and a half years of providing recreation and comfort to servicemen in Prince Rupert—with a lot of added pleasure for civilians thrown in as well—the United Services Organization Club here is closing its doors on December 1. An auxiliary service to the United States Army, the club is living up to its newly coined slogan: "U.S.O., last to go."

With candid admissions of regret at the prospect of leaving Prince Rupert, Club Director Frank Finnerty and Assistant Director Bob Herrick announced Tuesday afternoon that they would be returning to the United States shortly after the club closes. Both will accept re-assignment with the U.S.O. The club's lady director, Miss Eva La Pierre, will leave December 3 on furlough with the probable prospect of re-assignment.

Brightest prospect of the club closing on December 1, according to Mr. Finnerty, is the fact that it will mean that all the American servicemen here, with the possible exception of a very limited number—face the happy prospect of being home for Christmas.

"If there were an appreciable number of them here, the club would certainly remain open. I'm really glad that the boys are getting home for Christmas," he said.

The club building on Second Ave. will be turned over to the War Assets Corporation for disposal. It may be purchased by a local fraternal organization which is known to be interested in it. Furnishing and equipment will be sent to the U.S.O. clubs at Ketchikan and Anchorage and some may be sold locally, Mr. Finnerty said.

Since it opened here on June 1, 1942, the club has been visited by more than 1,000,000 servicemen of the United States and Canada. Its activities included the broadcast variety of social, educational, religious and gastronomic programs that could be included under the general heading of "recreation."

Mr. Finnerty admits that one of the most effective introducing agents between the servicemen and the club has been the snack bar, which at one time employed a staff of 16 and which was operated entirely without profit.

Director of the club on its opening here was Leonard Hall.

Smiles

Patient in waiting room of doctor's office: "How do you do?"

Second Patient: "Oh, so-so. I'm aching from neuritis."

First Patient: "Glad to meet you. I'm Mendelbaum from Chicago."

The sailor playing left field missed three easy flies. Returning to the dugout he explained to the athletic officer: "I guess I'll have to get some glasses."

"Glasses?" roared the officer. "You're too far gone for glasses! What you need is radar."

Judge: "And you shot your husband with a bow and arrow?"

Widow: "Yes, I didn't want to wake the children."

The sailor on furlough took his girl friend for an auto ride on a moonlit evening, and all she did was shake her head. After 63 miles he found out her nose was caught in the windshield wiper.

have instinctively reacted to our efforts is indicative of the importance of recreation in community life. We know the facilities offered by the U.S.O. here had a reducing effect on delinquency among U.S. service personnel," Mr. Finnerty said. "I believe that the more organized recreation you have, the less delinquency there will be."

Mr. Finnerty said that his next assignment with U.S.O. will be either in the Philippines or in China. Mr. Herrick has been offered directorships with the U.S.O. both at Ketchikan and Anchorage, Alaska.

Both Mr. Finnerty and Mr. Herrick expressed opinions on the value of recreation in community life. They take pride in the belief that the club has been a great factor in reducing the delinquency among service personnel stationed in Prince Rupert.

RUP-REC - News -

"The important thing is not winning but taking part; the essential thing is not conquering but fighting well."

This, in a nutshell, is the spirit that pervades all Rup-Rec classes. One does not have to be a champion athlete to join in a recreational class. The instructors only ask for a spirit of friendliness, co-operation and sportsmanship.

LEADERS — The display of leaders' activities, which was postponed for want of a gymnasium, went into rehearsal last evening as a part of the weekly leaders training class. The girls really looked sharp in their stunning blue uniforms. Miss Marjorie Jackson deserves a lot of credit for her sartorial ability. Miss Jackson cut the material and supervised the making of the uniforms by the other leaders with the help of Mrs. Gogul. The leaders prove again that gymnastics is not the only field in which they excel. They have shown that uniforms can be made in Prince Rupert.

BOXING — Boxing Coach Beggs reports continued advances on the Rup-Rec boxing front. Operating at the Seal Cove School on Wednesday evenings, the leather throwing cult is steadily gaining in popularity among the intermediate boys.

BOYS and GIRLS — Classes for junior boys, junior girls and intermediate boys will be held at the "Y" tonight. Those who haven't attended a recreational class before can join the activities this evening.

POTATO STORAGE LOSSES — Several millions of potatoes are lost every year as a result of sprout growth in storage.

SHORT SPORT

Bomb damage repair work must first be done before the famous centre court, at Wimbledon, scene of the All-England lawn tennis championships, can again be put into use. That is the word from an official of the All-England Club in London. He estimates that repairs to the stand will cost about $27,000. Without the centre court the championship meeting cannot be held next year since the crowd would be too big for another court to accommodate.

The Maryland Racing Commission has ruled Jockey James McGovern off Maryland tracks for one year. In a hearing McGovern was accused of giving an unsatisfactory ride at a steeplechase at Pimlico on November 2. Stewards testified that, in their opinion, McGovern's horse, Abdale, would have won had the jockey handled the horse better. In another action, the Maryland Commission suspended Mrs. Ambrose Clark's stable from Maryland pending a hearing on a laboratory test which the commission said showed her horse, Cozey, winner at Pimlico November 14, was stimulated. Trainer D. Byers also was suspended and the purse held up pending the hearing. Mrs. Clark's stable has been the leading steeplechase money winner in the United States for the last four years.

NEW HOTEL HERE
Editor, Daily News:
Several references have been made lately in the press regarding the necessity for a modern hotel in Prince Rupert.

There is no doubt that if this city expects to share in the very extensive tourist traffic which is bound to come, as business conditions become normal, some special effort will have to be made to meet it.

The general trend of opinion seems to be to pass the responsibility on to the C.N.R. Why wait for them or any other company to build a modern hotel? What is the matter with the citizens of this town? Why can it not be built as a community affair?

We are told there is $10,000,000 on deposit in local banks. What more fitting project could part of this money be used for than the building and outfitting of an up-to-date modern hotel?

Prince Rupert is just beginning to become conscious of the advantages it possesses as the gateway to the North and the Orient. Now is the time for our local business men and citizens generally to show what confidence they have in their own town.

I would imagine a bond issue could be floated and sold to the general public but responsible men would have to be behind it. Building costs are high at the present time but it would take time to make necessary arrangements and by that time costs will be more normal.

Such an undertaking here would benefit every business in town, as it could be stipulated in all contracts that local firms have preference, providing bids are in line with outside bids. This would also attract outside capital as, when outsiders see the local people have sufficient confidence in their town to invest one million dollars, it would stimulate interest and attract capital.

The Salt Lake property across the harbor is a sadly neglected asset. With its lovely southern exposure and rugged beauty it could be made into a wonderful playground for young and old at moderate outlay. It is likely the provincial government could be prevailed upon to undertake part of this work such as building trails, clearing beaches and securing a water supply. Transportation is a drawback but I believe a couple of landing barges as used here by members of the local forces could be obtained at a reasonable cost and with some structural changes would provide cheap and suitable transportation. This undertaking might prove attractive to some of our returned veterans.

THREAT FAMINE CASES
NEW DELHI, India, (P)—What is known as the "F" treatment of famine cases has been devised by Indian doctors for treating cases of inanition caused by starvation in the Calcutta famine of 1943. This is the new device of administering protein hydrolysates to destitutes who suffer from inanition.

I would like to hear expressions of opinion from others along these lines. Thanking you Mr. Editor, for your space and consideration. Yours for a better and more progressive Prince Rupert.

APRICOT TREES GETTING SHOTS
SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 22.—During the next 12 months hormone injections will be made to 90,000 apricot trees in the irrigated area of Leeton, South Wales. The idea is to lay the flowering for three to four weeks to prevent the blossoms from being damaged by frost. It is estimated that the year frosts caused the Leeton apricot crop to be 40,000 tons less than it should have been.

Attempts will be made to speed up the peach crop by three weeks in order to space out better arrival of fruit at market. Tomatoes too, if all goes well will come in three weeks earlier. An American expert hopes to increase the tomato crop by 20 per cent by judicious use of hormones. If the experiments successful 600,000 tomato plants will be treated next season.

With the war over and hope of larger markets for Australian wine in Canada, Britain and other countries, more grapes will be planted in the irrigation areas of the Murrumbidgee basin. In 1939 there were 600 acres in wine grapes but the area fell during the war.
