TERRIFIC EXPLOSIONS AT HALIFAX

Blasts Recurring As Naval Ammunition Dump Burns

No Deaths Are Reported—Hundreds of Windows Broken—Thousands of People Evacuated From Danger Area

HALIFAX, July 19 (CP)—The City of Halifax and the surrounding district were still being shaken by terrific explosions this morning from the burning navy ammunition dump in Bedford Basin at nearby Dartmouth. Two more violent blasts rocked the city just before three o'clock this morning. Editorial workers in the office of the Canadian Press at Halifax, five miles away, were thrown to the floor and the shock was felt 125 miles away. Power was cut off for fifteen minutes by the first of the two latest explosions, which were much worse than the two preceding ones. So far there have been no reports of any deaths. Hundreds of windows throughout the city have been smashed.

The first of the blasts, now totalling four in all, occurred yesterday afternoon at 5:35 and was followed by a second major explosion about six hours later. There have been fears in Halifax, since the initial blast, of the fire reaching what has been described as the main magazine.

More than 20,000 citizens were evacuated from the danger area late yesterday, under a system originally set up to cope with possible air raids.

Fire in the Canadian Navy munitions dump was set off by a jetty fire. After four huge explosions and a series of lesser discharges had rocked the Halifax area overnight, the blasts ended only after dawn today. The explosions had persisted for more than thirteen hours at the depot. One was felt as far away as St. John, New Brunswick, 125 miles away.

Vice-Admiral George C. Jones, R.C.N., stated today that the magazine area was still dangerous although fires were under control.

Fear had been expressed that the main magazine containing 40,000 depth charges would go up but the explosions dwindled and the flames died down this morning.

There were thirteen known casualties, twelve persons being injured with one missing. Veteran naval officers said the intensity of the explosion was worse than anything they had ever seen in battle.

From across Bedford Basin only one fire could be seen still burning today. This blaze appeared to be dying out.

Sidewalks in Halifax were littered with glass from hundreds of windows which has been smashed by the four explosions which rocked the foundations of every building for miles around.

At Ottawa, Capt. Harry DeWolfe, assistant chief of naval staff, said there would be an immediate probe into the cause of the fire.

The blaze broke out on a jetty. First explosions were caused when ammunition stored in the jetty blew up. Later blasts resulted when fire reached some magazines.

The supply of ammunition on the jetty was destined for ship-

Bombing of Remnant of Japan Navy

GUAM, July 19 (CP)—Carrier planes of the Allied fleets have bombed the battered remnants of the Japanese navy at the Tokyo Bay naval base. Meanwhile, the Allied fleet has been bombing and shelling the islands of Honshu and Honkaido unchallenged, for the third consecutive day.

BIG THREE CONFERENCE

Open Third Day on Note of Harmony—Asia Dominates Discussion

POTSDAM, July 19 (CP)—The Big Three conference entered its third day in an atmosphere of harmony. Although official news is scarce, observers generally think that discussion of the map of Asia is dominating the conference. There are indications that measures to knock out Japan are having number one priority in the discussions among the three leaders.

The expectation is that the conference will last three weeks.

FOUND GUILTY OF SHOPLIFTING

A local woman whose name with withheld by police was found guilty in police court Wednesday afternoon of a charge of shoplifting and was given suspended sentence of two months by Magistrate T. W. Brown. The charge was laid by the Variety Store. The articles involved were returned to the store.

Thousands Evacuated

The whole civilian population of Dartmouth—approximately 17,000 persons—and others living in the north end of Halifax were evacuated on official orders.

Thousands of the evacuees spent the night in the fields, others in parks and vacant lots while many slept under army blankets in the armories.

There was a ten-mile line of cars bumper to bumper driving away from the danger area.

Ships were moved away from Bedford Basin and steps taken to divert other ships. Trains were halted.

Sockeye Season Best in Years

Skeena is "Full of Fish" Say Successful Fishermen

The heaviest sockeye salmon run in years is pouring up the Skeena river, and both fishermen and cannery men are satisfied that this season's fishing of that type will be the best that they have experienced in a long time. While reports on actual catches on the Skeena this week have not reached the city, fishermen who have arrived here say that the river is "full of fish."

Reports from Smith's Inlet reveal that that part of the coast is also enjoying a good sockeye run. There are about 140 boats fishing there, and they made an average catch of 115 fish per boat on Monday which increased to 125 yesterday.

The Naas, where there are about 150 boats fishing, and not 300 as previously stated, has had the lowest catches of any of the major northern fishing areas. Boats there averaged 29 fish yesterday and 23 on Monday.

Indications of a good run of pinks are present, fishermen say. Trolling boats on the Skeena are catching them in fair numbers, even though the main run is not due yet.

BRIDGE IS DYNAMITED

Act of Sabotage Near Federal Rangefinding Station in Southern Interior Being Probed

CRESCENT VALLEY, July 19 (CP)—A wooden bridge leading into the federal department of transport's range-finding station here was dynamited Tuesday. The police are investigating. Damage amounted to $500.

Lansbury's Ashes Scattered At Sea

LONDON, July 19 (CP)—George Lansbury, distinguished Labor party leader who died in 1940, had a last wish fulfilled when his ashes, mingled with those of his wife, were scattered over the sea. In his will Lansbury wrote that although he loved England better than any other place he believed in a higher love than patriotism and asked that the ashes be scattered symbolically "not to England only, but to the whole earth." The ashes were scattered off Spithead by Lansbury's eldest son, W. A. Lansbury, who said the war was the reason for the delay in carrying out his father's wishes. Special permission was needed to go to sea during wartime so the family decided to wait until the peace.

GRIEVANCES OF SERVICE MEN VOICED

OTTAWA, July 19 (CP)—The president of the Canadian Legion, Alex Walker, has returned from overseas and he has a list of grievances for Prime Minister Mackenzie King. He has protested to the prime minister that persons other than veterans are being hired as permanent civil servants.

It is understood also that he had complained that about 20,000 U. S. citizens who served with the Canadian armed forces are not getting fair treatment from the Canadian government.

OREGON FOREST FIRE SLOWDOWN

PORTLAND, July 19 (CP)—Oregon's Wilson River forest fire was slowing down yesterday in a maze of fire trails bulldozed across the path of flames now burning over 35,000 acres of rugged coastal canyons. It is the only large forest fire in the Pacific Northwest.

(Fires on Vancouver Island are now under control and burning themselves out).

CONSERVATIVES ARE SUMMONED

VANCOUVER, July 19 (CP)—An emergency meeting of the British Columbia Conservative Association executive will be held in Vancouver July 28. The meeting is requested by Attorney-General R. L. Maitland, provincial leader.

AUCTION DUCAL ANTIQUE LONDON, (CP)—A silver tobacco box owned by John Churchill, first Duke of Marlborough and ancestor of Prime Minister Churchill, has been auctioned off. The lid of the box is engraved with the figure of Marlborough leading his troops into action at Blenheim in 1704.

Before the revolution, George Washington's home, Mount Vernon, contained only eight rooms.

TOKYO SEES POSSIBILITY OF EARLY INVASION OF HOMELAND

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19 (CP)—Tokyo radio admitted Thursday that air and sea bombardments have shaken Japanese morale and unofficial spokesmen debated whether the Allied fleet might be getting ready for a quick invasion or merely making spasmodic attacks.

One analyst saw in the fleet action merely an "insane" effort to pep up the American home front.

Domei Agency, however, speculated that the warships might be feeling out coast defenses for an invasion that might come sooner than expected.

USE TANKERS AS CARRIERS

LONDON, July 19 (CP)—Conversion of oil tankers into aircraft carriers was first advocated in 1940 by a British oil expert but the suggestion was disregarded until 1942 when the shipping position became acute, it may now be told.

When the two-year-old suggestion was again taken up the navy rushed to act on it, and the first such tanker-cum-carrier, playing a double war role by carrying vital oil as well as fighting planes, went to sea in February, 1943.

Converting tankers into carriers was a ticklish engineering problem as a heavy, welded flight deck had to be superimposed on the ship without appreciably decreasing its oil carrying capacity or speed.

CRASH BEING INVESTIGATED

VANCOUVER, July 19 (CP)—An inquiry has opened into the crash in Sabine Channel late Tuesday when two airmen were killed. Names of the airmen are not yet announced.

HOOVER FAVORS 'FRISCO CHARTER

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 19 (CP)—Herbert Hoover has urged the United States Senate to ratify the San Francisco Security charter. He would, however, make delegates to the permanent council answerable to Congress.

SHORTAGE OF LABOR

OTTAWA, July 19 (CP)—It does not look as if there is much chance of Canada's widespread labor shortage being relieved in the immediate future. Labor department officials in Ottawa say that on July 6 there were 128,000 jobs to be filled in Canada, and less than 50,000 applicants registered for employment.

Speculation on Her Part in Pacific War—Japan May Sue For Peace

BERNE, Switzerland, July 19 (CP)—A Japanese correspondent in Switzerland says forecasts that Russia will enter the war are "mistaken."

At the same time, one paper in Sydney, Australia, says that Japan may sue for peace.

Another Australian paper guesses that Russia has decided to come into the Pacific war against Japan.

CARSON DINNER ON AUGUST 17

Community Affair For Minister of Trade and Industry Is Planned

Subject to the approval of the minister, the Prince Rupert Public Relations Committee has set August 17 as the date of a complementary dinner to be tendered Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of mines and trade and industry. Recently Mr. Carson intimated his willingness to visit the city and meet the committees, asking it to set the date. The plan is to make the dinner a public affair with representation from all city organizations. Present arrangements are to have the dinner at First Presbyterian Church with the ladies of the church carrying out the catering.

QUININE SUBSTITUTE

DAR - E3 - SALAAM, Tanganyika, (CP)—The development of the totaquina industry is shown by the amount sold in the last half of 1944, 29 times that sold in a similar period of 1942. Totaquina is a mixture of the alkaloids from the bark of various species of cinchona and since the shortage of quinine has been increasingly in demand.

Terrace Is Encouraged

Action on Electric Project Is Expected Soon

TERRACE, July 19 (CP)—The subject of rural electrification is a very live matter at Terrace just now. Col. Alex Robertson, engineer in the employ of the provincial government in connection with rural electrification matters, has been spending some days in town and has held several meetings with the Board of Trade and other bodies culminating in a joint meeting with Board of Trade officers and the municipal commissioners on Monday evening.

Col. Robertson, who was formerly with the Royal Canadian Engineers, has impressed local business men with the thoroughness and evident interest with which he has gone into the local situation. He made it clear that he was not in a position to make any commitments on behalf of the government but was here to obtain all practical data and information upon which the government department concerned could establish a policy.

Local opinion is optimistic that in a very short time indeed action will be taken to establish a government-owned electric project in Terrace which will serve the town and adjacent areas. It is believed that the initial installation will be a diesel-power unit and that hydro-electric development may follow later as the electric consumption warrants.

Ample electricity would not only be a boon to residents of Terrace and to farmers and others in the adjacent area, it would also be a prominent factor in attracting further small industries into the valley.

Exciting Old Days

Early History Revealed in Documents From Vault

The chronicle of a newly incorporated city, its struggles to its feet on the path of progress and prosperity have come light in surprising fullness in documents preserved these last years in the vault in the City Engineer's office. In ordering these piles of papers cleaned and examined, Mayor Daggett has forced open the skeletal hand of the past. Yesterday revealed parts of the drama 1910, the year of the city's incorporation.

Prince Rupert was incorporated on March 10, 1910, and shortly thereafter there was an election. And what an election. The mayors' contest was battled out between Fred Stork, pioneer Liberal hardware dealer, and William Manson, then Conservative M.L.A. Stork won by a fair margin, going down in history as Prince Rupert's first mayor.

The aldermanic contest, in which eight aldermen were to be elected, was entered by 15 candidates. Newspaper accounts of the times tell a story of bitter campaigning, charges counter-

CHINESE CLOSE ON KWEILIN

CHUNGKING, July 19 (CP)—Fighting between 300 and 400 Japanese, Chinese, in a sudden six-mile gain, spearheaded to within seven miles of Kweilin. Other Chinese troops have closed in on the former American air base from other directions.

Nazi Camp Horrors Alayed By Nurses

LONDON, July 19 (CP)—Horrors of the concentration camp of Belsen were mitigated shortly after its liberation by eight British nursing sisters and a handful of Red Cross workers who worked for more than 16 hours a day in an attempt to save the lives of the people imprisoned there.

Unnamed, these women arrived two days after the infamous camp was liberated to find typhus raging and despite the dangers of infection pitched in to save as many as they could. Their uniforms were dungarees, hob-nailed boots and bandanas strapped around their heads—but although their outfit was unorthodox their work was splendid and the senior officer in the camp said "their devotion saved thousands of lives."

LIBERAL MEET BEING CALLED

Provincial Executive To Go Into Session in Preparation For Election

A meeting of the executive of the British Columbia Liberal Association will be held in Vancouver July 27, supposedly preparatory to the forthcoming provincial election, according to word received in the city. Premier John Hart, following the recent decision of coalition members of the Legislature to continue as such, asked that a convention of the British Columbia Liberal Association be held. However, a federal ban has been placed on conventions so the executive will meet instead. Local Liberal executives will appoint representatives to the provincial meeting.

Royal Navy in Far East . . .

There has been no official forecast of the ultimate strength of the British Navy in the Far East, but with the end of the war in Europe the ships available, counting only the most modern (built in this war) would include four battleships (excluding H.M.S. Vanguard which will not be commissioned for some months); six large fleet carriers (of the type operating off Sakishima) and forty escort carriers as well as a new type of light fleet carrier (details still secret); twenty cruisers; seventy-five fleet destroyers; and a very large number of destroyer escorts, frigate sloops and minesweepers, and a huge force of landing ships and landing craft for amphibious operations. The latter are all, of course, modern ships and exclude a large fleet of rather older ships of all classes which could be used. The naval correspondent of the London Observer estimates that British naval forces in the Far East already total 400 warships.

In April of this year the British Pacific Fleet, acting under the orders of Fleet Admiral Chester Nimitz, U.S.N., was allotted the difficult task of neutralising enemy airfields in the Sakashima group of islands, so that enemy aircraft could not interfere with the American landing on Okinawa nearby. This operation was successfully carried out, despite the determined suicide attacks by Japanese aircraft.

The other British fleet in the East—the British East India Fleet—has maintained with ever-increasing tempo for over a year a series of carefully planned operations against enemy bases in Sumatra, Java and the Nicobar Islands.

These long-range strikes by self-contained Task Forces have the double purpose of denying the Japanese any advantage from the tin rubber and oil resources of Malaya and the Dutch East Indies, and of preventing the relief and supply of outlying enemy garrisons.

British cruisers and destroyers have driven the Japanese Navy from the Indian Ocean and begun to threaten their hold of the vital Malacca Straits, where they recently sank a 10,000-ton Japanese cruiser. British naval units are operating in the Malacca Straits and close to Japanese homeland, as the stage is set for landings at Singapore and Japan proper.

Depend On Newspapers . . .

"Never did newspapers mean so much to so many" as on the occasion of the announcement of Nazi Germany's surrender, the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association and the Bureau of Advertising, A.N.P.A. declare in a new brochure, "Victory in Europe," out today, which summarizes public reactions to the V-E news throughout Canada and the United States.

"From the first flash of the Nazis' own reports of surrender on through the day of the official proclamations and the days that immediately followed," the brochure points out, "people turned to their newspapers with an eagerness seldom if ever equaled. Publishers who could find the newsprint in their war-hit inventories ran off extra copies. People's demand skyrocketed. Circulations in many cities. But rare indeed was the publisher who came anywhere near meeting the demand."

For a factual picture of people's impressions as the V-E news came out, the Fact Finders Associates were commissioned to interview people on the streets in 11 cities from coast to coast. Summing up the results of the survey in the booklet, they are characterized as "the people's profession of faith in their newspapers on the occasion of the biggest news story in a generation."

"Clearly," the summary continues, "never were people more hungry for newspapers. Never did they register more emphatically their confidence in newspapers as their prime source of information on events both great and small. Never was there more positive proof that most people like to see their news in black and white—insist on the detail and illustration that only newspapers can give them."

When the 987 respondents to the interviewers were asked, "Where do you expect to get the fullest information about future developments?" 795 mentioned newspapers. Of this number, the brochure reports, 502 mentioned newspapers alone as their prime source of full information, 286 mentioned newspapers and radio, and 27 mentioned newspapers along with other media.

Advertising's role in connection with the coming European victory is reflected in the booklet by four pages of reproductions of significant ads appearing during V-E week. "Once again," the brochure comments, "as on other great days, newspaper advertising mirrored the mood of the people . . . in messages attuned to the victory and to the drastic need for unremitting effort against the last remaining foe."

BENEFITS FROM WAR

Fighting Men of India Will Play Important Part in Post-war Improvement of Nation

Two million soldiers of India who have fought in this war will, as a result of a changed way of living and new outlook they have acquired through their training and experiences in war, play an important part in the social and economic reconstruction along improved lines of that vast country, concluded Frank Skinner in a talk at the weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club yesterday.

Indian soldiers, eight out of ten of whom came from the villages, would not be satisfied to go back to the old life of squalor and insecurity after the war because they had learned the better ways of living and had developed a sense of individual responsibility, enlightenment, thrift, cleanliness, etc. They had learned technical skills through training and had acquired new economic, social, cultural and recreational ideas all of which was bound to result in an improvement of the standard of living in the communities and the nation. Having acquired the sense of better citizenship, they would be bound to carry that sense and its various implications back to their homes when the time came to give up the sword for the ploughshare.

Mr. Skinner went into some detail in describing the introduction and training of the Indian soldier. Primitive as they might have been in the villages whence they came, they had become proficient soldiers in modern mechanized warfare. The association they had with the

Dunkerque Heroine Returns to Old Job

NEWHAVEN, Eng., July 19 (C)—"Ma" White, a heroine of the Dunkerque evacuation in 1940, is back at sea. A widow, Mrs. Louisa White was known as "Ma" to thousands of passengers who made the Newhaven-Dieppe Channel-crossing aboard the steamer Worthing. She was senior stewardess on the ship. The Worthing helped at the Dunkerque evacuation and Mrs. White served with the other members of the crew, all of whom were later "paid off." When the Worthing returned to Newhaven recently to carry servicemen back and forth across the Channel, "Ma" was told that her old job awaited her. "It's grand to have her back," said a crew member. "She has the courage of a lion. She was an inspiration to us all at Dunkerque when we made several trips to the beaches as a hospital ship."

President Dr. J. J. Gibson was in the chair at the luncheon and guests were Harry Gosse of Seattle, Walter Landon of Vancouver, Private Richard Mills of Prince Rupert.

A session of business at the meeting had to do with the organization of the campaign in support of the Gyro nominees for the Civic Centre Carnival honors—Miss Lillian Knutsen for Carnival Queen and Miss "Pat" Love for the "Miss America" bathing beauty contest.

DALE PITT IS COMING

Former Manager of Premier Mine to Visit Here

Dale Pitt, former north coast mining man, who opened the perennially productive Premier mine at the head of the Portland Canal in 1920, is due to return to Prince Rupert early next month on a visit after many years' absence.

Now a consulting engineer at Seattle, Mr. Pitt will visit the city on August 10 accompanied by Mrs. Pitt. While here, they will be guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Dale, U. S. customs officer, 334 Fourth Ave. West.

After opening the Premier mine in 1920, Mr. Pitt was mine manager for 15 years. He became very well known in Prince Rupert and along the coast. He left Premier in 1935 to go to western Australia where he opened the big Bell mine, a major gold producer near the town of Cue. He remained there for six years, then returned to this continent, settling in Seattle.

During his trip north Mr. Pitt plans to visit the Premier mine.

Old Country Recreation Boom

War's End Sees British Crowds Turn to Sports

Horse, Dog and Speedway Racing Big Attractions But Transport Facilities Taxed to Limit

By ALLAN NICKLESON Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 19 (CP) — The greatest sports boom in Britain's history is spiralling towards its dizziest-ever peak. Every sport is flourishing as the nation, after five years of meagre entertainment rations, returns with record enthusiasm to whatever promoters have to offer. Such attractions as horse, one of the largest crowds in its history—about 30,000—and return of the basic gasoline ration for private automobiles was a big factor.

Cars overflowed from the parking lots and some vehicles had to be shifted before the horses could enter the parade ring. Hundreds of people who queued at the turnstiles before the first race were still waiting there an hour later.

Transport Lacking London's first motorcycle race meeting since before the war brought out a 35,000 crowd to New Cross Stadium. Public transport was overwhelmed and an estimated 10,000 were left stranded after the meeting and another 10,000 were turned away before racing began. Outside the ground hawkers sold jellied eels at 55 cents a small plate.

There was a touch of pre-war sporting pageantry at Wimbledon where the famed No. 1 court was opened for the first time since 1939. Queen Mary and the Duchess of Kent were given a rousing welcome as they entered the Royal Box to watch the tennis international between the British Empire and the United States.

Canadians had a part in the play. Ft. Sgt. Phil Pearson of Vancouver, former Canadian Davis Cup player, and Pte. Garnet Raper of Bridgewater, N.S., lost out to the third-ranking American doubles team.

The biggest cricket crowd was at world-famed Lord's where the match between Southern England and the Royal Australian Air Force was drawn. There was added excitement when a 200-year old cricket law cost the English captain, Lt.-Col. G. O. Allen, his wicket.

Allen, former England Test captain, was ruled out for handling the ball, which had rolled on to the stumps without removing the balls. He picked up the ball and threw it back to the bowler.

The last time a player was put out for this action was at Lord's in 1857.

LOOKING OVER BALL LEAGUES In the National League the New York Giants defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-3 and 4-3. Brooklyn Dodgers and Chicago Cubs split their doubleheader—Brooklyn took the second game 9-5 but lost the first 5-0. St. Louis Cardinals trounced the Philadelphia Phillies 7-3.

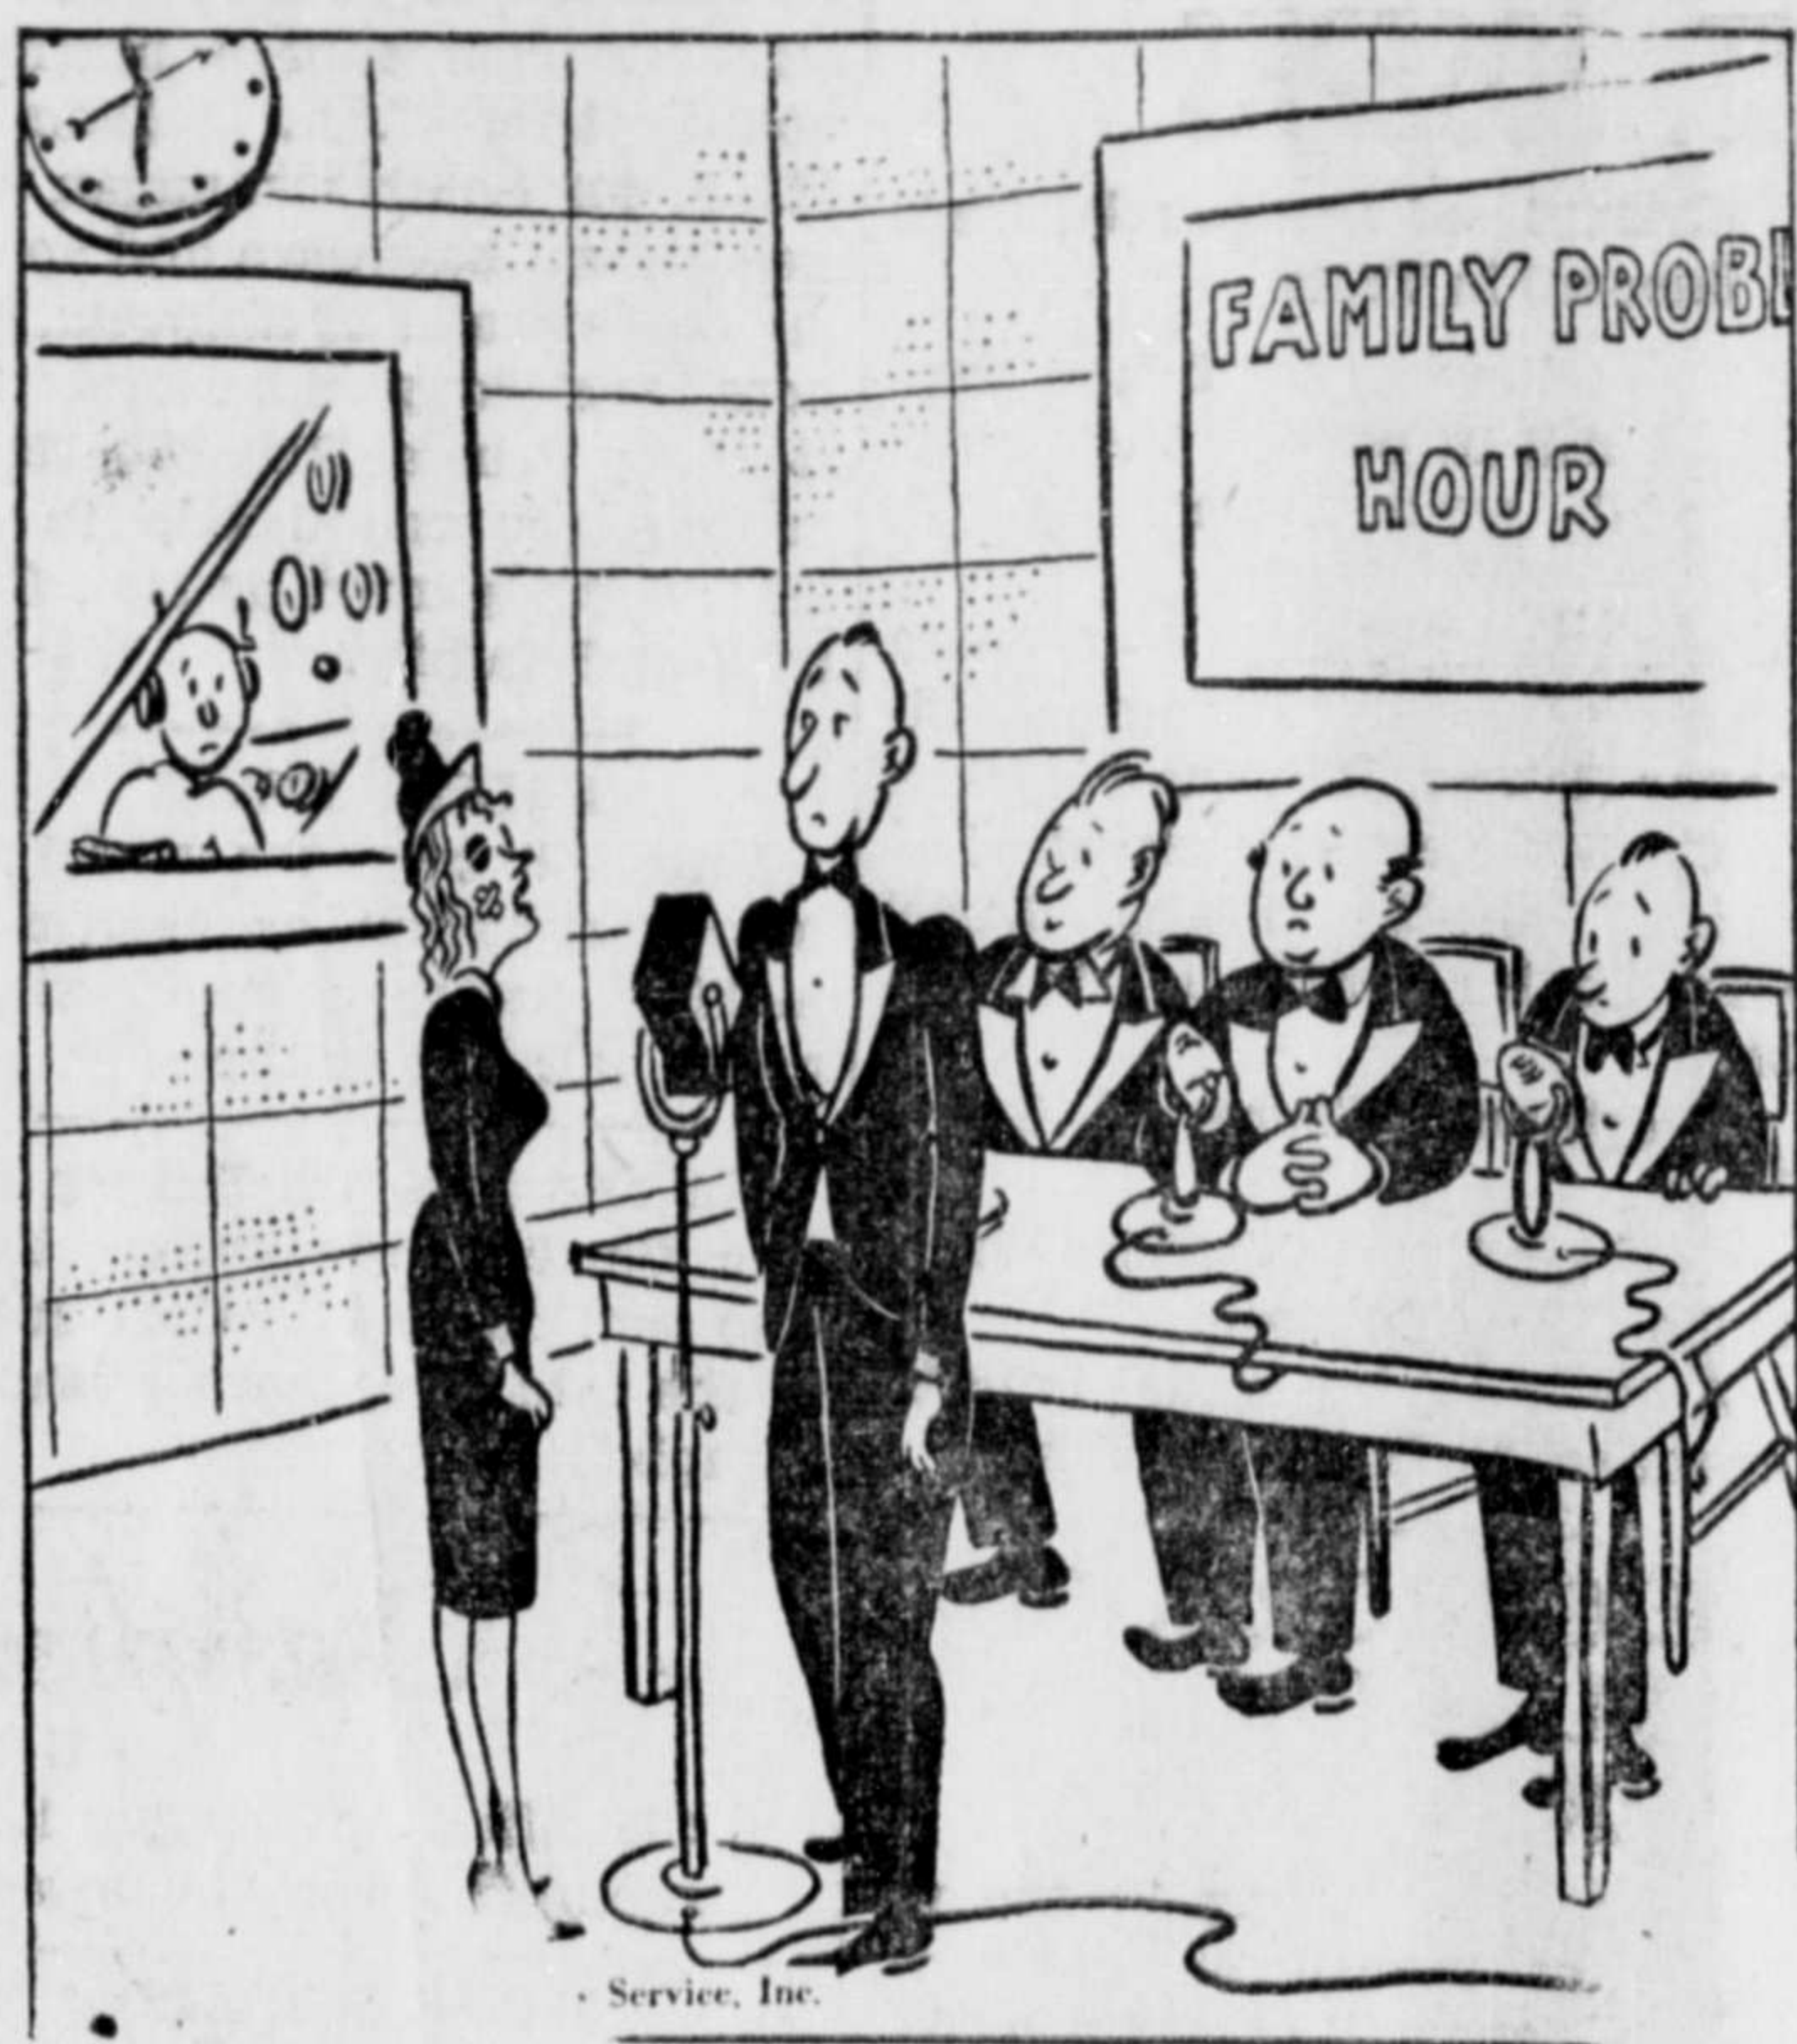

In the American League, the Boston Red Sox defeated the St. Louis Browns 6-2, while Cleveland Indians and Philadelphia Athletics remained dead-locked at 2-2 after 12 innings of play. Their second game was postponed because of rain when the game was called. The Washington Senators took a 6-4 and 5-0 beating from the Detroit Tigers while the game between St. Louis and New York was postponed.

In the International League, the Baltimore Orioles beat the Jersey City Giants 3-0. The games between Toronto and Buffalo and Montreal and Rochester were postponed. Syracuse Chiefs defeated Newark Bears 5-4.

Here are today's baseball games. In the National League—New York at Pittsburgh, Brooklyn at Chicago, Boston at Cincinnati, Philadelphia at St. Louis. In the American League—St. Louis at New York, Chicago at Boston, Cleveland at Philadelphia, Detroit at Washington. In the International League—Jersey City at Syracuse, Toronto at Buffalo, Montreal at Rochester.

BARRETT AND PORT EDWARD

In one of the best Senior League softball games played at Gyro Park, Barrett defeated R. C.A.F. to move into a second place tie with the Fortress team which had an idle night. Errors by the Airmen proved very costly in the closing innings as the soldiers scored seven of their runs in their last four times at bat. Bard and Palmer were the leading hitters, each getting two for four. Pitcher Barman hurled a steady game throughout. Score by innings: R.H.E. 0 30 000 0 10 4 6 6 Barrett—0 10 122 12 x 9 6 5 Batteries—R.C.A.F.—Court and Shantz. Barrett—Barman and Bard. Port Edward defeated Eleventh Battery 13 to 0 at Port Edward.

The Scottish, prominent in every one of the ten events on the card, piled up 116 points against 99 by the second-place North Nova Scotia Highlanders. Other competing teams came from the Regiment de la Chaudiere, the Seventh Canadian Reconnaissance Regiment, and Signals.

The meet was held in the so-called "Maple Leaf Stadium," one of several recreational facilities taken over by the division and given Canadian names in the resort-like Dutch city. Hundreds of Canadian soldiers and Dutch civilians attended. Events included dashes, jumps, shot-put and relay and highest individual scorer for the winners was Stg. F. A. Menzies of Nanaimo, B.C., with 16 points. His teammate, Pte. W. W. Jens of Vancouver, scored 15. Other members of the winning Scottish were Ptes. T. C. McMorland, Vancouver, L. J. NATIONAL UNION OF MACHINISTS, FITTERS & HELPERS, Local No. 1

NON-PARTIZAN REPLY

Editor, Daily News: As president of the Non-Partizan Association, I would appreciate your permission to answer a letter printed over the signature of F. Elliott, who, I am certain, is Ex-Alderman Tom Elliott. One paragraph of this letter contains an erroneous statement. He charges the Non-Partizan Association in these words:

"There is no need for me to stress again the reason for my disqualification at this late date but I would like the electors to know that it is the result of Non-Partizan manipulation. The City can ill afford an election at this time and it is the Non-Partizan Group which caused this unwarranted expenditure."

Upon enquiry of both the Mayor and City Clerk I am assured that at no time did any member of the Non-Partizan Association as much or in a private capacity lodge any complaint against Alderman Elliott's seat on the City Council. The truth of the matter is that Elliott, when he was nominated as alderman, swore that he had not assigned or hypothecated his title to the property on which he qualified. He only is personally himself to blame for the whole mess and expense.

ROBERT McKAY, President Non-Partizan Association.

TIRED OLD COUNCIL

Editor, Daily News: Are Vancouver and Esquimalt the only cities bordering on the Pacific equipped for ship repair work in the greatest war in the Pacific? Is it possible that the tired old men and women comprising the city council have lost their voices? It is just too bad when we grow old that we cannot speak and let Ottawa know that we are still here with a modern plant ready to serve. The wheel that does the squeaking is the one that gets the grease.

GEORGE B. CASEY.

Jurist Examines British Divorces

LONDON, July 19 ©—Claude Mullins, London magistrate, took a look one day at the divorce hearings facing him and went on record as saying "it is too easy to get married." He suggested to ease the divorce problem a re-examination of marriage laws and a special court for unhappy couples where reconciliation could be attempted.

Alexandria, Egypt, was named after Alexander the Great who founded it in 332 B. C.

EIGHTH AVENUE EAST

Editor, Daily News: I read with interest your editorial of Wednesday in regard to the Prince Rupert Highway and the cancelled visit of Hon. Herbert Anscomb, minister of public works. Talking about seeing things at first hand, I wonder if the Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Daggett or the city engineer have ever been out on Eighth Avenue across Hays Creek. I am going to ask them to walk out that way and see the road for themselves. It seems to me it would be far better to fix up that road now without waiting for somebody to be killed when the city would have to pay damages. Between the Ridley Home and Seal Cove there must be 150 holes, some large enough for a child to be drowned in. The plank roads were kept up better thirty years ago. I am even ashamed myself.

charges and spell-binding campaign speeches in a manner that seems to have died out. Both candidates and electors took the campaign in deadly earnest.

Among the members of Prince Rupert's first city council was T. D. Pattullo, later premier, perennial member of the provincial legislature for this city. Other council members were F. H. Mobley, A. A. McIntyre, W. P. Lynch, A. R. Barrow, V. W. Smith, J. H. Hilditch and G. R. Naden.

Official letters received that year from the federal and provincial governments all carried a border of black, a sombre decoration that at first puzzled researchers. The explanation was, of course, that 1910 was the year of the death of King Edward VII and the black bordered stationery was a sign of official mourning.

A survey made in October of that year revealed that Prince Rupert had a population of 4,771 and covered an area of 20,000 acres. The admirable foresight of the city planners, who laid out a townsite for a future population of 50,000 has not made it necessary for the area of the city to be increased during the last 35 years even though the population has tripled.

On August 8 the ratepayers passed a bylaw authorizing the city to borrow $40,000 to provide money for the purchase of the Prince Rupert Telephone Company, a utility which since that time has been city-owned. The plebiscite approved the purchase by a majority of 170 to 9.

Dark doings were hinted that year when an alderman laid charges that the firm of coal dealers which supplied fuel for the city's electric light plant had short-weighted the city by some 80 tons of coal.

The alderman later revised his charge to merely state that the city had been mulcted of "a few tons" but the coal dealers, stung by the inference, pressed an investigation which had its finale in the city power house at 3:30 one morning.

The files carry a letter of resignation from a man named Allison, second engineer at the light plant, who correspondence says, had been found asleep while on duty and who had been awakened with difficulty by the chief engineer, one of the investigating party.

Allison, it seemed, had been unable to keep track of the quantity of coal used during his slumbers.

Another minor scandal occurred when the sergeant of the city's five man police force was suspended by his chief on a charge of bribery. The sergeant, the ancient documents state, had accepted money in return for allowing the illegal sale of liquor and other "nefarious" practices.

There was no record of that case being concluded in 1910.

COULD PRINCE RUPERT HAVE ONE?—It would take a keen eye to pick the prettiest, but presumably the judges knew best when they chose Miss Venus Ramey (centre) as "Miss America" 1944 from among these five lovelies. This year "Miss Northern B.C." will be among the "Miss America" candidates at Atlantic City. "Miss Northern B.C." will be sponsored by the Prince Rupert Civic Centre Carnival committee and will be chosen at a beauty contest which will be one of the carnival attractions.

Luxury For Tars—
FLOATING HOMETOWN FOR NAVY

Seamen on Leave Will Have Floating Theatre, Ballroom and Fine Accommodations

VICTORIA, July 19.—Life on the rolling waves won't be the same for battle weary tars in the Pacific as it has been for seamen in other wars. At least it won't be when the luxury ship "Amenity," now under alteration here, is completed and sent into action.

The sturdy twin-screw steamer will be a floating hometown for Royal Navy seamen on short leave in the Pacific area. When she steams into the war zone she will take with her a complete movie theatre, ice cream parlor, recreation rooms, library shoe repair shop, valet service, reading rooms and even a brewery.

The decorations of the ship are the work of two prominent London designers. In the theatre there is a stage, motion picture projection units and comfortable seating accommodation for 400 sailors. The British Admiralty spared no expense—the lighting units for the stage alone cost $5,000.

The theatre is also adaptable; when the chairs are removed the boys will be able to enjoy dances in a beautiful ballroom. Both sides will look out on the water through windows which stretch the length of the room.

A small chapel, equipped with an organ and adaptable for the use of sailors of any faith, will seat 50 men. Adjoining the chapel is a private office for the ship's chaplain.

Sleeping accommodation on board will make tars feel they are in some ultra-modern hotel. Designs throughout are in soft pastel shades with the accent on anything but war or navy. Trim, modern furniture, much of it chrome or painted metal frame, is in every room.

Special quarters are provided aboard the ship for Wrens and their officers who will be part of the ship's company. They will have their own rooms, recreation facilities, buffets and writing rooms.

The ship is panelled in birch, maple, sycamore and mahogany. The library, finished in oak, will have thousands of books ranging from the oldest classics to the latest best sellers.

Men who have scraped their faces raw with cold water shaves in front of skimpy mirrors will relax in barber chairs while barbers ask if the towels are hot enough. There will be two of these barber shops as well as a tailor shop for refits or repairs to battle-torn uniforms.

A valet shop will brush and press them. A cobbler will provide new soles and heels where needed. And a brewery will turn out 250 barrels of Grade A beer a day for thirsty sailors, brewed down in the hold in a specially designed brewery.

Entertainment has also been included. Part of the program will be concerts given by a Royal Navy band which will be part of the crew.

WAS IN THICK OF EUROPE WAR

Pte. Robert Rudderham, son of Ald. and Mrs. George Rudderham, who returned home from overseas yesterday, was pretty much in the thick of things in the latter days of the war in Europe as the Canadians crossed from Holland into Germany. He got as far up as Oldenburg, having crossed the Rhine two days after the infantry. He was with the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals.

Bob is home for 30 days before proceeding to Fort Breckenridge, Kentucky, for Pacific war training.

A "SILLY IDEA"

PRESTON, Eng. — George Cowell was charged with stealing a dart board from a pub and when arraigned in court explained that he took the board and hid it because "I always lost at darts and that was the only way I could avoid it." He admitted it was a "silly idea" and paid a $4.50 fine.

HILARIOUS HIT HERE

Gracie Fields, Monty Woolley and Roddy McDowall are popular stars of the hit comedy with heart "Molly and Me"—which is being shown on the screen of the Capitol Theatre this Friday and Saturday.

Woolley is a wealthy Englishman who, embittered by a fatal scandal, cherishes only to have Gracie Fields, her boisterous theatrical leagues invade his sanctum. What this blithe, singing edienne does to the sto-tongued Woolley makes great fun. "Roddy McDowall plays the part of Woolley's Reginald Gardiner, a loving butler and Nat Schaeffer, a chorus singer.
