RUSSIAN GRAIN SHIP ARRIVES HERE FOR WHEAT

Second deep sea vessel to arrive in Prince Rupert to take on grain for the Orient, the 10,000 ton Russian vessel Makhodka entered the harbor and tied up at the grain elevator wharf at 10:30 a.m. today. She will take 8,000 tons of wheat for Vladivostok.

It is understood that she will be followed by a second Russian ship, which will arrive here next week to take a similar cargo. The 10,000 ton British freighter Samarkand finished loading 8,000 tons of wheat yesterday but will be delayed a week while undergoing engine repairs here.

The Makhodka, which arrived directly from Vladivostok, will be lined for grain here. Her agents are G. W. Nickerson and Co.

INDIANS FIGHT OVERSEAS

NEW DELHI — The latest figures available indicate that almost a million Indian troops were engaged in ousting the Japanese from Burma or were overseas following service in the war against Germany and Italy. This figure accounts for half the Indian Army.

If you elect the C.C.F. the Japs will be in the Fishing Game next season

The views of the C.C.F. upon the subject of the Japanese in Canada are well known. Mr. Pattullo definitely promises to work unremittingly to assure that fishing licenses on the Pacific Coast shall never again be issued to Japanese. If you agree with this policy you will support T. D. Pattullo.

STILL NO CLUE TO WHEREABOUTS OF MISSING CITY CONTRACTOR

Mystery still shrouds the whereabouts of Frank Murphy, city building contractor, who has not been seen since his unexplained disappearance more than three days ago. The search is being pressed by police who say that they have discovered no trace of him since he was last seen for a former employee in a downtown cafe at 9 p.m. Saturday.

The 55-year-old lumber yard operator and building contractor was seen by Jack Sweeney, a former employee of the Murphy lumber company in the Grand Cafe at 9 o'clock Saturday night, an hour after he was due to have been at a bridge game at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Murphy, Sweeney said, had just finished a light lunch and was leaving the restaurant when Sweeney entered. They exchanged no comment and Sweeney was unable to recall how his former employer was dressed.

Suffered With Heart Trouble

So far, neither friends of the missing man nor the police have been able to advance a reason for his disappearance. A man of quiet habits, he was a non-drinker and non-smoker although he is believed to have suffered from a heart ailment.

First comment over his absence was aroused on Saturday night when he failed to appear at a bridge game at the Knights of Columbus Hall which he had promised to attend earlier in the week.

However, no actual alarm was felt until 11 o'clock Sunday morning when William Moore, a close friend of Murphy, discovered that he had not spent the night in his room above the lumber company office on Market Circle.

He was last seen by Mr. Moore and employees of the company at 5:20 Saturday night when the staff left for supper. He was not around when some of the staff returned three quarters of an hour later. Police investigation revealed that he ate supper at Smiles Cafe at Cow Bay and later they learned that he had a lunch at his usual eating place, the Grand Cafe, on Second Avenue.

Apparently he was still in his working clothes for none of his dress clothes had been removed from his room. Police describe Mr. Murphy as being about 5 feet 10 inches in height, about 55 years old and of a fair complexion. He is well known in the city, having done a number of contracting jobs during the last three years.

So far, police discount any probability of foul play but it was learned that Mr. Murphy had about $200 on his person when he disappeared.

Possibility that he may have collapsed in some out-of-the-way spot is strengthened by reports that he has been known to have fainting spells.

A report that Eric Samuelson, a fisherman, had seen Murphy around 11 o'clock Saturday night was investigated by police and found to be without foundation, Sgt. O. L. Hall said.

Murphy came to Prince Rupert more than three years ago from the Peace River country and originally was a sub-contractor of Northern Construction Co. on the Prince Rupert Highway, police said.

Manitoba Landslide

Opposition Groups Did Not Make Much of Showing in Prairie Election

WINNIPEG, Oct. 16 — Manitoba's coalition government headed by Premier Stuart Garson was returned to office for another five years in the provincial general election yesterday with a sweeping majority of landslide proportions. The returns so far are as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Party, Seats. Coalition 37, C. C. F. 4, Labor-Progressive 1.

It was the first attempt by the C.C.F. party, which was led by S. J. Farmer, to capture power in the province.

Six hours after the close of the polls, 37 Coalition candidates had been elected compared with five anti-Coalition supporters.

The anti-Coalitionists elected were all from the C.C.F. party with one exception.

At last word, Coalition candidates were leading in seven ridings and the C.C.F. had a lead in five more.

The Liberal-Progressive party, one of the Coalition supporters, elected 21 members while the Conservatives were able to win out in 11 seats.

Premier Garson scored a sweeping personal victory in Fairford, a constituency which he has represented since 1936.

S. J. Farmer, the C.C.F. leader, was re-elected in Winnipeg.

Commenting on the victory of his Coalition government, Mr. Garson said it was an impressive vote of confidence giving the government a clear road with its post-war reconstruction program which was a major issue in the election.

C.C.F. leader Farmer said that his party was a little disappointed but at the same time pleased that it has increased its membership in the Legislature.

Election return figures indicate that the representation was not proportionate to the popular vote. The C.C.F. party received approximately 34 per cent of the total vote while coalition supporters polled approximately 54 per cent. Opposition candidates, other than C.C.F. nominees, received 12 per cent. The C.C.F. received the highest percentage of the vote awarded a single party.

BIG SHIP IS LOOTED

Vancouver People Stole Chronometers, Rifles and Ammunition from Aircraft Carrier

VANCOUVER, Oct. 16 — Commander P. E. Yonge, navigation officer of H.M.C. Implacable, said Monday night that the theft of four deck watches from the huge Royal Navy aircraft carrier during her "Open House" Sunday may delay the sailing of the vessel.

Police here were asked to search for the watches and are also seeking persons who ransacked sailors' lockers and stole five rifles, some shells and other articles from the vessel Sunday when more than 20,000 persons inspected the carrier.

Efforts are being made through the Royal Canadian Navy to get replacement of the chronometers which the commander says are essential for navigation purposes.

Live ammunition was taken from the ship by visitors and special warnings have been issued that this is very dangerous. It has been requested that any which may be found be turned into the authorities without delay.

RAILWAY CLEAR BUT HIGHWAY IS STILL BLOCKED

Heavy rainfall in the interior yesterday paralyzed transportation east of Prince Rupert by sending down an earth slide which covered the railway and highway between Shames and Ambury. Creek waters rose suddenly and damaged two highway bridges near Cedarvale.

Railway authorities reported today, however, that the slide has been cleared from the tracks and normal train service will resume tonight. Last night's eastbound train, held up by the slide, left the city at 1:30 this afternoon. Tonight's eastbound and westbound trains will depart and arrive on schedule.

In an effort to clear the slide which poured onto the highway, Public Works Department trucks and men left for the scene of the slide, 85 miles east of Prince Rupert early this morning. How long the clearing operation will take was not known at the Public Works office here this morning.

Near Cedarvale, east of Pacific, the approaches to the bridge over Coyote Creek have been washed out, and the bridge over Boulder Creek has been partly damaged by heavy flood waters.

Mr. Archibald Comes Home

Of course, there will be some unkind enough to wonder why our Member of Parliament at Ottawa should be journeying home while the session is still on to take a hand in the provincial election campaign. Mr. Archibald, no doubt, must be convinced that the endeavour to help the C.C.F. to capture these northern provincial seats is of sufficient importance to justify his taking leave from the job which he was elected to carry out. In the eyes of the C.C.F. it is, of course, of the utmost political importance that there should be a victory for the party in the provincial sphere or anywhere else they can spot their members. Winning the seats is the thing. Possibly, there will be no serious loss either to Ottawa or to his constituents by the member for Skeena leaving his post to mount the provincial hustings but, nevertheless, there are some who will question the propriety of so doing.

Manitoba Election . . .

The coalition government has been endorsed in Manitoba and can go ahead now with a post-war program to be financed on a "sound and permanent basis" which it put before the Manitoba electorate.

This program, resembling the British Columbia coalition's program in some respects, includes a province-wide health plan; electrification for most of the 58,000 farms in Manitoba; a school program to include increased financial aid for municipalities; a 10-year $25,000,000 highway program; a new labor code; development of natural resources, including 50 to 75 for rehabilitation projects to cost $2,000,000 over a five to 10-year period.

The program also calls for an expanded agricultural service with an improved crop-insurance plan; province-wide veterinary service, and increased research facilities in soils, field crops and livestock. The program includes plans for residential, co-educational agricultural schools and appointment of district home economists to work with farm women and girls.

The importance of the Dominion-provincial conference had been stressed. "The Manitoba government should be unanimously authorized to conclude the work it has been so ably carrying on," said a statement on Dominion-provincial relations issued by coalition headquarters.

Proposals for financial adjustments submitted to the provinces by the federal government are acceptable to Manitoba, and Mr. Garson has explained:

"Our treasury's cash position is so strong that regardless of any delay in the conference, as long as it is not wholly out of reason, the lack of money will be no bottleneck to the carrying forward quickly of our post-war plans. Some of them indeed have been under way for some time."

Manitoba has decided against experimenting. It goes ahead on a safe and sound basis.

SURVIVORS

stay there till we find him another pair of pants," Squadron Leader Benson chuckled after making a phone call. "His own got pretty badly torn in the crash."

Everybody around the air base felt pretty good about the happy ending to an accident that might have brought death or severe injury to everyone in the plane. The report that they had been found unharmed, wirelessly by a Hudson air-sea rescue plane at 11:30 yesterday morning relieved the tension that had gripped the whole station for almost 20 hours.

At 3:40 Sunday afternoon the plane was heading for Prince Rupert from Ahford when it encountered such violent weather between Porcher and Stephens Island that F/O Kirkwood turned south intending to land on the sheltered waters of Kitkatla Inlet, a deep channel on Porcher Island.

Aboard were WO2 George Lepp of Vancouver, wireless-air gunner, "WAG" in the air force parlance, only other crew member and Sgt. C. H. Aitken, Cpl. D. C. McEchern, and LAC A. B. Carlson of Vancouver, and LAC J. V. Lind of Port Hardy. All four were passengers, bound for temporary duty at the Seal Cove air base.

As the plane came flying in over the treetops to make a landing on the quiet waters of Kitkatla Inlet, a violent updraft tossed the craft wildly into the air. Then a sudden down-draft pushed it into the tree tops on a point of land jutting out into the westshore of the inlet.

Ploughing through the tree tops, its wings were whipped off, and it carved its way through large tree trunks before coming to a halt, completely demolished.

"The cabin split open and some of the men were hurled into the tree tops and hung there," S/L Benson said.

Miraculously Minor Injuries

One of the passengers, Sgt. Aitken, escaped without any injury, while the most serious damage to the others was scratched faces and minor body bruises.

Collecting themselves after crash, the six fliers made a shelter, using life rafts and other equipment from the plane. They dined on emergency rations. Recogelined to having to spend an uncomfortable night in their impromptu camp, the downed fliers nevertheless anxiously scanned the skies the following morning for rescue aircraft.

When the searching Hudson, piloted by F/L Hamill of White-wood, Saskatchewan, spotted the men it wireless Seal Cove, and another Norseman piloted by F/L Scott was ordered to effect the rescue. F/L Scott returned to base to take on fuel and a doctor, then left for the scene of the crash.

With him on the rescue flight was Capt. J. Likely, army area medical officer, who went on the flight in the absence of an air force medical officer at Seal Cove. Serious employment of Capt. Likely's professional skill, however, was not necessary.

Three of the downed fliers were brought back to base in the Norseman, and the other three were brought in by an R.C.A.F. twin-engine Goose from Vancouver which was in the area at the time the rescue took place.

WILL SUPPORT HOSPITAL BOARD

City Council will use its influence and high priority ratings to assist the Prince Rupert General Hospital board in obtaining the use of the military hospital and its facilities in the interim before it becomes available for purchase by the hospital board. A letter from the hospital board last night pointed out its need to make use of the military wing, now unused by the military, and requested council to lend its support. Aldermen agreed unanimously.

LETTERBOX

CASEY AND PATTULLO
Editor, Daily News:

I wish to take issue with George Casey when he states that he does not need to introduce Mr. Pattullo. I agree with him. Mr. Pattullo needs no introduction. We still remember the time when able-bodied men had to go into logging camps and cut logs for free entertainment for 20¢ a day. That was the time when Duff Pattullo, Premier of British Columbia, when we started to go to tawa and got as far as Haida there to be shot down like a while others were sent down penitentiary for long terms disobeying the free enterprise government.

We also remember the time when the hungry people of tawia were told by Mr. Pattullo to "root, hog, or die." Do you remember, Mr. Casey, a little while back when we had to pick up scraps so so-called free enterprise could send it to Japan to bayonets to slaughter our bayonets in Hong Kong? That was Mr. Pattullo was in power British Columbia. Thank you he did not get any further.

And, Mr. Casey, you mention something about somebody ceiving eggs. Well you can yours to Mr. Pattullo including the one you laid over the radio station last Thursday night.

As for Mr. Pattullo being man of action. He is so that he did not even put own name on the Prince Rupert voters' list.

It is high time we had change of government.

Presbyterian Anniversary Observed

A special event of the celebration by the congregation of First Presbyterian Church of the thirty-fifth anniversary of the church parlor. The guest speaker was Rev. J. L. W. McLean, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Victoria. McLean, couched in vein of good will generally extended, was brought by Mayor Daggett, on behalf of the church and by representatives of other churches. An excellent musical program rounded out the evening's proceedings.

"Let This Church Continue" was the subject of Mr. McLean's anniversary discourse. He delved deeply into the principles and tenets of Presbyterianism which he described as "one of the great historic branches of Christendom." The roots of Presbyterianism were to be found far back as the days of "The Acts of the Apostles." It centered closely to Scripture teachings with sovereignty of God, the enormity of man's sin and the salvation of God through Christ, as its principal tenets of emphasis. Strength and character were embraced in the church's creed which acknowledged honor, uprightness, honesty and progress. "I ask you," concluded Mr. McLean in "in the building of a new world is there a real place for the Presbyterian Church which has shown practical results in the presentation of the Scriptures? I believe you to go forward in the spirit of those who have led us this far as true Presbyterians."

Mayor Daggett recalled that the first church he had attended after arriving in Prince Rupert in the very early days was Presbyterian and through the years he had had many associations with that church and its people. He testified to the value of the churches in community life.

At the churches Bishop J. B. Gibson, bringing greetings of St. Andrew's Cathedral, spoke appreciatively of his friendship with the Presbyterian Church. The fine spirit of unity and co-operation which existed between the churches in Prince Rupert was indicative of a fine Christian feeling. He bespoke continued support by the congregation for Mr. MacSween, the pastor.

P. H. Linzey, deacon of First Baptist Church, also touched on the subject of inter-church co-operation and appealed for active loyalty of church members and adherents to the church of their choosing.

Rev. R. A. Wilson, First United Church, alluded to the common traditions of independence and democracy in the Protestant churches. All churches were working toward a common goal and there was room for all in popularizing and selling Christianity.

W. W. C. O'Neill replied to the greetings brought by the other churches for which he wished continued prosperity and progress. "We have been fortunate in the past. God willing, may we meet and surmount the difficulties which may present themselves in the future."

Rev. A. F. MacSween, the pastor, presided in genial manner. The musical program, very acceptable, included vocal solos by Mrs. James Waugh of Montreal, piano solos by Sgt. Harvey Bernelsing, United States Army, vocal solos by J. A. Teng, and piano duets by Sgt. Bernelsing and John Currie jr. C. A. Davis was piano accompanist.

It was a splendid banquet spread which was provided by the Junior Ladies' Aid under the convenorship of Mrs. A. F. MacSween and Mrs. Neil MacDonald with Mrs. Rod Smith, Mrs. T. W. Brown, Mrs. Thomas McMeekin jr. and Mrs. Murdo MacArthur in charge of the kitchen and Mrs. J. G. Garrett, Mrs. J. F. Piper, Mrs. H. C. Halliday, Mrs. D. Kristmanson, Mrs. A. E. Wood, Mrs. J. G. McLeod, Mrs. Stan Saville and the Canadian Girls in Training acting as serviteurs. Attractive decorations were arranged by Mrs. C. G. Ham.

C. G. Ham presided at the door.

LONDON, ☉ — Twenty-three and a half million South African oranges—largest consignment to reach Britain in five years—unloaded at the London docks. It was expected they would provide every Londoner with one pound each.

MANY ATTENDED GOSPEL MEETING

An interdenominational congregation of more than 200 attended the final evangelical meeting held by Rev. Bob Munro in the Y.M.C.A. auditorium Sunday night, joining heartily in the singing of Gospel hymns which preceded and followed Rev. Mr. Munro's message.

Taking leading parts in the service were civilian and military members of eight denominations who shared the platform with Mr. Munro.

Speaking on the topic "The Man Who Disappointed God," Mr. Munro used a text from the Gospel of St. Mark—"Thou Art Not Far From the Kingdom of God." Exemplifying his text, was the scriptural story of the rich, cultured young ruler who declined to fulfill his life by accepting God.

"It is a serious thing for a man to disappoint his fellow men, but it is far more serious for a man to disappoint God by failing to accept Christ."

Motives behind the acceptance of Christ are manifold, he declared, and might be set in motion by such things as intellectual or emotional crises, memory of early training, great experiences such as bereavements or illness.

The meeting was conducted by C. J. Carter, local director of the Soldiers' and Airmen's Christian Association, and the Scriptural reading was by C/S Dick Hayhoe, R.C.N.V.R. Pastor John Linney of the Pentecostal Tabernacle delivered the opening prayer.

The mass hymn singing was led by Bombardier William Nelson and vocal solos were given by Sgt. Bryce Farrow, R.C.A., who sang "Under the Cross," and Chaplain Lyle K. Robinson, U.S. Army, who, by special request, sang "I'd Rather Have Jesus." Miss Laverna Linney played a piano solo, "Out of the Ivory Palaces."

Those occupying the platform with Rev. Munro were: Sgt. Bryce Farrow, C/S Dick Hayhoe, Bdr. William Nelson, Chaplain Lyle K. Robinson, Gus Kostad, G. R. S. Blackaby, Miss Laverna Linney and Pastor Linney.

Ushers were Corp. Al Ausink, Pte. Bob Howie and Henry Freisen.

Letter of Appreciation of Miss Northern B.C. from Atlantic City

George L. Rorie, executive secretary of the Civic Centre Carnival Committee, has received the following letter from L. S. Slaughter of Atlantic City, executive director of the "Miss America Pageant" at Atlantic City:

"On behalf of the board of directors, the hostess committee, and all Atlantic City, as well as the writer, permit me to thank you and the Civic Centre Carnival Committee for having sent such a charming and gracious Canadian girl to the 1945 Miss America Pageant. We will not forget Georgina Patterson soon in this part of the world and every girl who competed in the national finals took home a memory of her which they will cherish for years. By now she has probably told you that the contestants conveyed upon her the highest honor which can be won in Atlantic City, i.e. 'The Popularity Award,' and she automatically becomes vice-president of the Miss America Sorority, Mu Alpha Sigma. You, and all the people of Northern British Columbia can be proud and happy over this first participation by another country in the Miss America Pageant.

"We are planning to increase our scholarship awards to include 10 girls in the 1946 pageant and once again we move our great civic event to the famous Convention Hall which has just been released to us by the armed forces. With this beautiful setting in which to stage the pageant we have great ambitions for 1946. Needless to add, we want to include you in them.

"Please convey to your entire membership the appreciation of the Miss America Pageant for having directed such a successful contest in 1945, and we sincerely hope you will plan to participate again in 1946."

The Answer... to 3 personal questions

Question 1

HAVE YOU A MAN STILL IN THE ARMED FORCES?

- Then you will truly realize that, even though the "cease fire" has sounded, a lot of money will be required for the forces of occupation

- to bring home as quickly as possible those no longer required, and to meet our obligations to them after their return.

Question 2

IS YOUR MAN HOME AGAIN?

- You are looking ahead with him. You want stability—security—your man must have the best in hospital care if needed. This all adds up to the fact that Canada must raise a tremendous sum of money—money for mustering out pay—money for all the benefits and

- services your man so richly deserves. That's why the coming 9th Victory Loan drive is so important—and so necessary. Lend twice as much as before. Do your full part in putting the 9th Victory Loan Campaign over the top.

Question 3

ARE YOU PLANNING YOUR IMMEDIATE FUTURE?

- With the cessation of hostilities, one's thoughts turn to plans for the future. Money may be needed to carry you over from wartime to peacetime jobs. Then there are education, household repairs and replacements to take care of... all important uses

- for the money already invested in your Victory Bonds. The savings reserve you add to now will be so important and useful later, that you should make the largest purchase you can of 9th Victory Loan Bonds.

Only Victory Loan for a year

The 9th Victory Loan is the only one for 12 months. You are asked to buy double this time—the same rate of savings as in previous Victory Loans will pay for twice as many bonds over the 12-month period. Buy from savings; by wage deductions; monthly savings through Banks, Loan or Trust Companies or by the deferred payment plan. Plan now to double your investment in the 9th Victory Loan.

What City Council Did

In a report approved by Council the Health Committee recommended that a letter be sent to Dr. F. G. Amyot of the provincial Health Department pointing out the problems of the Health Unit and requesting that the Sanitary Inspector's duties be more closely tied in with those of the city engineer. Committee also recommended that the Sanitary Inspector be requested to give a monthly report to the city of his activities.

A letter from Hon. James A. MacKinnon, federal Minister of Trade and Commerce, in which he expressed sympathy with Prince Rupert's efforts to gain a subsidized steamship service to the United Kingdom was tabled for the purpose of being brought to the attention of the incoming council, reason being that it is unlikely that ships will be available for such a service before next March.

Board of Works report, approved by council contained recommendations that the City Engineer be empowered to renew traffic signals in the vicinity of schools wherever necessary.

Cancellation of an order with the Willard Equipment Company for an air compressor, which cannot be delivered until next January, and replacement of the order with another company which promises delivery within a month was recommended to City Council by the Board of Works. Cost of the compressor is $2,800. Council approved the recommendation.

Police committee advised city council last night that Police Sgt. O. L. Hall had been instructed to enforce the Early Closing by-law, the Parking by-law and the Curfew by-law.

In a report adopted by city council last night utilities committee recommended that the Telephone Superintendent examine the telephone system at army group headquarters and make a report on its availability for city use.

Licensing committee reported that it had issued taxi licenses to George Thompson and to Wilfred J. Bolam and Klieve Keifer.

Finance committee reported the sale of the easterly half of lot 7 and all of lot 8, Block 4, Section 6, to James Bremner. The report was approved by Council.

Council adopted a recommendation by Finance committee that 50 chairs be purchased for the council chamber at a cost of $1.30 each.

A petition by seven property owners on Eighth Avenue East and Hays Cove Avenue, seeking sewer connections to their property was referred to the City Engineer and the Board of Works for report.

Chemistry helps to make things Better!

CONSIDER some of the improvements that have come to us through chemistry in recent years.

Our automobiles have run on tires that lasted longer because of rubber chemicals. They have been given new and longer-lasting beauty with better finishes, such as "Duco" and "Dulux". Gears have been case hardened by means of chemicals; and moulded plastic parts have been used for new, attractive interior trim.

Chemistry has given us nylon yarn, too; vastly better paints, varnishes and lacquers for our homes; and light, tough, transparent "Lucite". Chemical research has found a way to make textiles water repellent. The list goes on and on.

Most assuring of all, is the fact that our chemists are still at work seeking ways to make old products better and to discover new products that will contribute to the welfare and comfort of Canadians in the years to come. Chemistry never stands still.

MIRACLES of MAKE-DO

There will not be enough textiles in Canada for many months to come. That is a blunt, uncompromising statement, but it is a fact.
Conservation is the answer. More than ever, the need is to conserve, to take care of what there is, to mend, make-over and make-do.
Thousands of thrifty, fashion-wise Canadian women have already discovered the thrill of designing new clothes from old. This autumn, thousands more are taking the "Make-do Road". Here are four practical, tested ways of styling new and fashionable clothing from an outgrown or out-moded ladies' coat. Patterns are available at the stores.

THIS ADVERTISEMENT IS the third in a series published to assist Canadian women to conserve textiles. For complete information write to Consumer Branch, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Ottawa, for your copy of "Miracles of Make-do".

TODAY'S MENDING HINT
When buttonholes are stretched and frayed, pick out all worn and ragged stitches, being careful not to pull the hole out of shape as you rip the old stitching. Join new stitching with old, carefully, so that it won't show where the repair is made.
If the entire buttonhole has to be re-worked, work buttonhole stitching over gimp or several strands of thread twisted together and waxed.

SPORTS

Tony Lazeri, in big time base- ball 12 years and batting hero of the 1937 World Series, was given his unconditional release by New York Yankees of the American League eight years ago. He became manager of Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League in the middle of the 1939 season but was let out at the end of the 1940 campaign.

New Westminster Salmon bel- lies defeated Mimico-Brampton Combines 22-7 to take the best- of-five series three games to one, two years ago. The Salmon- bellies won back the Mann Cup, representing the Canadian senior box lacrosse championship, for the West for the first time New Westminster won from St. Cath- erines in 1939.

The popular notion that only properly calcified brains are capable of playing chess is going by the boards, says Kenneth Harkness, managing editor of the magazine Chess Review and the man who set up the Ameri- can end of the recent U. S. Soviet Union chess tournament. Among the hard facts that nour- ish his conviction is the brisk sale of a book, "Invitation to Chess", which Harkness wrote in collaboration with Irving Chernev, associate editor of the Review. Published three months ago 28,000 copies have been printed. Also in defence of his belief he points to Russia, where a government official, the Chief Chess Inspector sees to it that all good Communists mind their pawns and queens—and to Ameri- ca, "where the game is taught in the public schools of Milwau- kee, and they have civic chess centres."

Something like 13,000 volumes on chess are at hand in the Cleve- land public library, Harkness says. A Chicago manufacturer—"one of many"—wrote him ask- ing for a promotion pamphlet on his book to include in the 50,000 chess sets he planned to make between now and the first of the year. Harkness says the combined output of U. S. man- ufacturers in that same period will probably amount to 400,000 or 50,000 sets. Chess Review it- self, the oldest of America's 3 learning magazines devoted to the game, suggests the rise in chess's popularity. When Hark- ness became managing editor in 1941 the circulation was about

HON. R. L. MAITLAND
Attorney - General

R. L. Maitland, K.C., better known as "Pat", is one of British Columbia's finest orators who has won high honors in his profession of the law.

He was born in Ongersoll, Ont., moved to Vancouver when he was one year old and received his education in the coast city. Two years after he was called to the British Columbia bar in 1913 he was named Vancouver city prosecutor.

Mr. Maitland first offered him- self as a candidate in the provin- cial field in 1924 as a Con- servative and was defeated. Four years later he tried again and was returned. He retired from political life in 1933 when Pre- mier S. F. Tolmie formed a union government but came back again in 1937, heading the poll in Vancouver-Point Grey. It was with Maitland that Premier John Hart negotiated to bring about a coalition of Liberal-Progressives and Conservatives when no party received a majority in the 1941 elections.

1,000. Now it is up to 11,000 and struggling hard against paper restrictions.

The game's infinite possibilities account for the fact that intelli- gentials held it as their special property for thousands of years, Harkness says. In the middle ages it was patronized like art, a noble jealously clothing, fering and pampering the chess genius who might reflect some glory on his title. "But the mistake the average person always makes," because chess really is a game with problem incapable of solu- tion, everyone had to play it on the abstract level that the dod- dering old men and child prod- igies have always played it.

As a matter of fact chess is as simple as you make it. The aver- age player who takes it up just for the fun of it never thinks ahead more than two moves. You don't have to." The differ- ence between amateur chess and amateur checkers, says Hark- ness, is mainly "in the way you win. In checkers you're out to get all your opponents pieces. In chess you're only after one piece—the king. You've won when you can capture the other fellow's king and he can't keep you from doing it." Despite its apparent growth in popularity, he doesn't think it will become a mere fad. "Chess isn't like that," he says. "Once you take it up you've tak- en it up for life."

MEMORIES

As I sit here a-thinking o' the days o' yesteryear,
My eyes grow dim with sadness and I blink away a tear
I can hear the thunder of the guns—the machine gun deadly rattle,
And see faces of old comrades who long since fell in battle
The picture changes again—they are rising from the dead
A mighty host in armor—marching thru the poppies
Perhaps this phantom army that I in fancy see,
Is the vanguard of the Allies leading on to victory.
From the jungles of New Guinea to Iceland's frigid cold
On the sandy wastes of Africa—the story will be told
How the lousy sons of Nippon, got the order of the day
And were kicked clear back to Tokyo, from the isles of the Aleut.
