PRINCETON HAS DISASTROUS FIRE

One Quarter of Business Section Is Wiped Out By Flames In Early Morning Conflagration

PRINCETON — One-quarter of the business section of this southern British Columbia town was destroyed by fire in sub-zero weather this morning. The conflagration started early in the morning and spread almost out of control for several hours. Flames leaped one hundred feet into the air. Early estimates placed the damage at $200,000. Two families living in one of the burned buildings had a close call. Some of the buildings were old time landmarks.

Adjournment Is Now Due Tuesday

OTTAWA — Commons members are aiming at adjournment of the House. They knuckled down to a heavy day-long schedule yesterday in a drive to clear the business in time for adjournment today. Previous plans called for a wind-up of business by Saturday but the press-back-log business made this impossible. The Commons had to approve various departmental estimates and vote on whether or not the Anglo-American-Canadian declaration on atomic energy will be endorsed.

MAY RE-ASSESS PROVINCE-OWNED CITY PROPERTY

Prospective city home builders may have the opportunity to choose from a wider selection of reasonably priced lots if a plan under consideration by city council is put into effect. The plan would seek revaluation of provincial government-owned lots to bring their prices down to a level approaching those owned by the city. The fact that provincially-owned lots are valued much higher than city-owned lots, in some cases "six to eight times as high" has had a restricting effect on building throughout the city, council was told last night by City Clerk Thain and Alderman Arnold.

"If the provincial government's valuations were equalized with the city's valuations the lots would have more chance to be sold," Mr. Thain said. "Many of them are choice lots, too."

Alderman Arnold said that some of the lots were valued at six to eight times as much as city-owned lots adjoining them. He moved that the city clerk and the assessor select lots in Section One and in the Class "A" residential district for revaluation by the government. Council approved the motion.

City Clerk Thain pointed out that if the provincial-owned lots were lowered too much in price they would compete directly with the sale of city-owned lots, which might lose the city the sale price in cases where buyers preferred the government-owned parcels. "However, we would still be getting taxation from them, which is more than we do now," he said.

AT BERMUDA CONFERENCE

HAMILTON, Bermuda — The Federal Reconstruction Minister, Hon. C. D. Howe, has arrived in Hamilton, Bermuda, for the Canadian-British-Newfoundland civil aviation conference. The minister made the trip by plane in four and one-half hours from Montreal. It was the first direct flight from Canada to Bermuda and is expected to be the forerunner of a Canadian air route to Brazil.

Weather Forecast

Prince Rupert — Cloudy and cool during Tuesday afternoon, becoming part cloudy to clear in evening; Wednesday, moderate southeast winds, cloudy and mild with occasional rain and snow, stronger southeast winds.

NEGLIGENCE WAS GROSS

Finding of Coroner's Jury in Case of Dead Baby in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, © — A coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict that seven and a half week old James Malcolm died of malnutrition resulting from "gross negligence and incompetence" of both parents. The child was found dead in a crib on the second floor of a dilapidated two-storey home on December 11. Evidence at the enquiry revealed that the father had delivered three of the wife's five children — two little girls and the dead infant — and had failed to register the birth of the dead baby. Malcolm, a war veteran and shipyard worker, admitted this. A detective testified that the wife had fear of doctors and hospitals and would not have a doctor in the house.

MAYOR THANKS 1945 COUNCIL

Mayor H. M. Daggett expressed appreciation of the work done by the 1945 City Council at its final meeting last night and bade farewell to three aldermen who will not sit on next year's council. "All the aldermen have cooperated very well in working for the interests of the city and I wish to express my regret that some of them will not be back with us next year," he said. He paid tribute to Aldermen Sorenson, Brett and Black, who will not be on next year's council.

He expressed appreciation of the work done by the staff of the City Hall, the city engineer and the city clerk and wished the aldermen and members of all departments a "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

NO INFORMATION ON REPAIR OF U.S. SHIP HERE

Texas Oil Co.'s tanker Illinois is still sitting on the pontoons at the Prince Rupert Dry Dock "awaiting disposition," following agreement between underwriters and owners to scrap the vessel instead of repairing her.

"We have no further word concerning her. She is standing here awaiting disposition," J. A. Frew, dry dock executive, told the Daily News this morning. "I doubt if we will receive any instructions concerning her before the middle of the week."

Her bottom torn on an Alaskan reef, the Illinois constituted a repair job estimated at $300,000 which has been deemed unwarranted.

Orders to stop work on the Illinois were reported to have been received here last week. No word of any decision by Washington on the matter had been received here this morning, and in the meantime the American vessel remains on the pontoons with nothing being done on her.

NUERNBERG TRIALS

NUERNBERG — At the war crimes trial today Nazi leaders were charged with trying to replace the Bible with Mein Kampf and the Cross with the Swastika.

WILL WITHHOLD REVOCATION OF TWO LICENSES

Revocation of the business licenses of two wood-working establishments recently set up within the Class One fire limits was deferred for three months by city council last night in order not to create "undue hardship" on the operators, whom Aldermen agreed, may have been misinformed when they established on their present sites.

One was the Northwest Construction Co. and the other B. Lovin. Northwest Construction Co. recently set up a wood working shop on Second Ave. between Sixth and Seventh Streets, and Mr. Lovin is established in the Class One Block on Second Ave. near McBride St.

Alderman Sorenson told council that it was "unfortunate that we granted a permit to the Northwest Construction Co. and allowed them to go to such expense. We should allow them reasonable time to move out."

"We don't want to drive business out of the city," Mayor Daggett agreed. City Engineer Phillips said that "between the fire limits and the zoning bylaw there are very few places in the city where a wood working business can be set up."

"There are only a couple of blocks in the city where such business can be established," he said. "I am preparing to bring in revisions of the bylaws which would allow them greater latitude."

Electrical Inspector Fred Kempton who inspected the electrical installations of the Northwest Construction Co. said there was nothing in the electrical bylaw which tied in with the zoning bylaw.

Fire Chief Lock said that the licenses issued to both companies allowed them to operate outside the Number One or Two fire limits, but that both places were within the Number One fire limits.

AUSTRALIAN HEAT WAVE

SYDNEY — Eleven persons are dead as a result of a heat wave in New South Wales. Temperatures as high as 115 above are recorded.

CITY CLERK COMMENDED

Aldermen congratulated City Clerk H. D. Thain for the efficient way in which the 1945 civic elections had been carried off and City Clerk Thain graciously passed on a portion of the compliment to M. F. Hunter of Victoria, inventor of the balloting system used.

City Clerk Thain reported that the Hunter ballot system had saved about $33 because it used fewer poll clerks but that a portion of it had been offset by higher printing costs.

"However, I estimated that we saved about two hours in counting the ballots with the Hunter system and all reports by the public were favorable," Mr. Thain said.

He added that he believed council should also commend Mr. Hunter, City Clerk of Victoria, who allowed use of his copyrighted system for a nominal fee of $1.

Montgomery Denies British Beat Jews

BERLIN — Field Marshal Bernard Montgomery has denied that British troops have robbed and beaten Jews at several displaced persons' camps in Germany. The wiry British commander disclosed that the inmates of these camps staged a number of one-day strikes, protesting British policies in Palestine. He emphasized that such strikes were treated with great tolerance.

RADIO AUCTION OPENING NIGHT SETS FAST PACE

The rafters of the old military post office quivered and the walls were reported to have bulged somewhat with the exuberance of the performers and audience at the Junior Chamber of Commerce' first radio auction program last night.

Bids on hometown talent made the cash register ring up a total of $91 for Christmas Cheer donations as performers and announcers kept the microphone warm during the program which ran from 9 o'clock to 10 o'clock.

G. R. S. Blackaby stamped a lively foot and gave forth tunefully with an out-of-doors opus, "The Rangers' Song" on a $5 bid. Other high bids were: John McLean singing "Me and My Gal" for $10; Lorraine Young-man singing "Close as Pages in a Book" for $8, and Benita Windle singing "White Christmas" for $6.

There were many other acceptable presentations for smaller sums. A ton of coal, donated by Philpott-Evitt Co., was auctioned off to the audience of more than 100 in a novel way and brought in $32. Winner was H. T. Horn, 1529 Atlin Ave.

So far $116 in bids have been lined up for Wednesday night's program and total collections and bids to be collected are $207.

Prospects for Wednesday night's program are: a bid of $12 for City Council to sing "The Last Roundup," $14 for Sid Alexander and Ian McRae to sing "Chickery Chick," $7 for Mel Eburne and Yento Leland to sing and play "Norwegian Ditty," $5 for Frank Howarth to sing "A Wee Doch and Doris," $5 for Andy McNaughton to sing "Waiter," $6 for Joe Scott and Bill Stone to sing a song; $8 for Bill Stoller to sing "A Jewish Wedding."

Master of ceremonies on last night's program were Hugo Krauppner, Walter Smith, Doug Stevenson, George Rorie, Lloyd Morris and Don McEwen. Andy McNaughton was pianist and accompanist.

HAW-HAW LOSES FINAL APPEAL

British House of Lords Upholds Death Sentence on William Joyce

LONDON — William Joyce, the notorious "Lord Haw Haw" of the Nazi propaganda radio during the war, lost the final chance for his life today when the House of Lords — Britain's court of last resort — dismissed his appeal. The sentence of death for high treason will not be implemented but no date for the hanging is yet set.

The renegade propagandist, who broadcast for the Nazis over the Berlin radio, was not in the House of Lords when the decision was announced. His attorneys had based his appeal on the grounds that he was a native of the United States and thus would not be guilty of treason to the British crown.

Another British traitor, John Amery, son of Rt. Hon. L. C. M. S. Amery, secretary for India in the Churchill war cabinet, is to be hanged on Wednesday. The Home Secretary, James Ede said there will be no reprieve for Amery who was found guilty on eight counts of treason as a Nazi broadcaster.

"Y" BUILDING IS DISCUSSED BY COUNCIL

Operation of the YMCA building by the Civic Centre Association, which may begin about January 15, came under discussion by city council last night when Alderman Hills read a resolution by the finance committee of the Recreational Council which stated that it would be "injudicious for the Recreational Council to assume responsibility for taking over the YMCA building."

Alderman Hills, who is the city's representative on the Rec Council's finance committee, sought — and received — guidance as representative of the Rec Council's major contributor, the City, which puts up $100 a month.

Alderman Arnold, who is the city's other representative on the Rec Council, deplored the fact that Alderman Hills had "not been present at the last meeting of the Recreation Council and the Civic Centre Association."

"It was made clear that the Rec Council will have no more financial responsibility than the $600 a month which it is already raising," she said.

The newly appointed managing director, Don Forward, has agreed to raise the balance of the $1,200 a month necessary to operate the building as a Civic Centre by various means, Mrs. Arnold said. The Civic Centre Association has already authorized Mr. Forward to try and get the building rent-free until it is formally disposed of.

"I understand that the YMCA is leaving the building about January 15, and it would be a pity if it remained vacant until we formally get control of it," Mrs. Arnold said. "It would depreciate badly, and the youth of our city would have no decent place to go."

A ways-and-means committee consisting of three members of the Civic Centre Association and three from the Recreational Council had been appointed to find ways of financing the building during the interim, and that responsibility for finding the money will be on that committee, Alderman Arnold said.

"The Recreational Council will not be committed any further than the $600 a month which it already contributes," she asserted.

Alderman Black said that he could see no way in which City Council was obligated in the financial arrangement, as its $100 a month contribution was a purely voluntary one.

Premier Speaks—Canada and Peace Terms

OTTAWA, © — Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King, who was observing his seventy-first birthday, declared in the House of Commons yesterday that the Canadian government intended to see that the Dominion had a voice at the peace table. Canada, he said, had informed the major powers that the Dominion was taking a strong hand on the matter.

Mr. King expressed belief that Canada has a definite right to be one of the principals in the drafting of the peace terms. He said the major powers had been informed that Canada expected to be consulted on any peace talks or be invited to such discussions as a principal. He said Britain was entirely on Canada's side in the matter and would do its best to see that the Dominion was represented at the peace talks.

Turning to the Japanese problem Mr. King informed the House that three orders-in-council had been issued dealing with Canada's Japanese problem. The first order gave Labor Minister Mitchell authority to direct the deportation of certain Japanese. The second order provided for depriving of Canadian and British status any naturalized Canadians who left the Dominion to live in Japan. The third order provided for a three-man commission to investigate the loyalty of Japanese who wanted to remain in Canada.

Pacific Situation Under Consideration

Later, the prime minister told the House that the government had not yet decided whether this country should join a proposed regional council for the Pacific. He said the government wanted to see what would happen within the next few months before becoming involved in the intricate situation which existed at the present time in the Pacific.

Your newspaper is an accelerator of the whole world's progress, speeding the ends of political freedom and national education. Side-Tracking Prince Rupert

The bare-faced proposal of the Canadian National Railways to reduce the coastal end of its northern line from Jasper to Prince Rupert to the status of the lowest form of a branch line by cutting the service to three mixed trains a week in either direction is worthy of the strongest protest. It is poor treatment for a line which, during the war boom, provided the system with traffic at times exceeding that of the Vancouver line.

We had thought that the railway would not revert to the old policy of cutting down to the very minimum to carry the traffic of the moment but would, instead, maintain at least a respectable service and the facilities to encourage rather than discourage traffic. While it is to be realized that two wrongs do not make a right and that it would not be helping Prince Rupert any to drag the Vancouver service down to the level that it has been suggested might be Prince Rupert's lot, we wonder if the company has any intention to cut the southern line from Jasper to the coast, which now enjoys two crack trains a day in either direction, to meet the minimum of a reduced traffic there as well.

There is also inconsistency in the move of the government-owned railway to reduce employment of its personnel at a time like this when the government itself is urging all businesses and industries to maintain employment at the highest possible level. It is not much of an example for private businesses and services nor is it much of an encouragement for interests which are trying to assume their responsibility in keeping up employment at this critical time.

The railway will, undoubtedly, say and possibly may be able to show that traffic has dropped to a level warranting no better a train service than it proposed to give. If every business and industry in the country reacted similarly now that the pressure of war effort is over it would indeed be a dismal prospect.

The move would appear to be entirely unjustifiable and we should leave no stone unturned in endeavouring to prevent its being put into effect.

Agreement In Levant . . .

The Anglo-French agreement on the Levant extracts an irritating thorn from the flesh of Anglo-French relations. It further provides working basis for close Anglo-French co-operation in the Middle East for the economic advantage of the Middle East peoples.

In the wording of the Anglo-French communique "the two governments have recognized that it is to their joint interest to encourage within the frame-work of international collaboration the economic well-being and security of the peoples of the Middle East."

Stress is laid on security, for without peace there can be no prosperity.

By their emphasis on international collaboration the two governments indicate that their joint policies will not be exclusive and that they look forward to the approaching time when security in the Middle East, as elsewhere, will be in charge of the United Nations.

U.S. GOODS TO AFRICA

American and British Manufacturers Show Keen Interest in Furthering Trade with Union

CAPE TOWN, ©— American goods are pouring into South Africa on a scale almost as large as in pre-war days. Clothing and other items ranging from cosmetics to radio parts are appearing on ships' manifests and will be on sale shortly.

British manufacturers also are showing a keen interest in the South African market. During the first six months of 1945 Britain's exports to the Union totalled £18,000,000 ($81,000,000) in value, compared with £19,000,000 for the first half of 1938.

South Africa will suffer no post-war slump, S. F. Waterson, minister of economic development, said recently. The Union had planned its post-war economy and never before had been in such a strong economic position. The present shortage of consumer goods would go far to avoid a boom, provided prices were kept at reasonable levels.

He said that although it is policy of the government to encourage private enterprise and abolish controls, the price of scarce goods will be controlled to avoid inflation.

Not so encouraging are the latest figures showing the rise in the cost of living. The October figure of 32.4 per cent is 5 higher than the previous month's figures. The constant increase in the price of food has been mainly responsible for the steady upward climb.

The South African government does not favor immigration until all South Africans abroad have returned and been settled in employment, Interior Minister C. F. Clarkson said at Pretoria. Although the government was anxious to bring people from England adequate shipping was not available at present and at this stage it would be premature to reach a decision on the matter.

Also speaking at Pretoria,

Christmas Trees On Third Avenue

A Christmas atmosphere blossomed on Third Ave. on Sunday when members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce street decoration committee embellished downtown lampposts with Christmas trees. The decoration program was under direction of Committee Chairman Earl Gordon, assisted by Maurice Brydges, Sidney Elkins, William Bremner, Pierre Le Ross and Harold Rogers of the Prince Rupert Corps of Sea Cadets. A truck was donated by Philipott-Evitt Co. to bring the trees from the city outskirts.

MUCH HOLLY IS SHIPPED

VANCOUVER—British Columbia holly, with its prickly green leaves and bright red berries that add so much to the splendor of the general yuletide decorative scheme, will adorn more Canadian homes this season than ever before, according to the Canadian National Express Co. With a generous crop of good quality holly available from B.C. plantations, thousands of one and two-pound gift boxes, many complete with a sprig of mistletoe, are moving via express and parcel post addressed to individuals in all parts of the continent. Large, weighty cartons are being sent to florists throughout Canada for the commercial trade.

Prime Minister Smuts was strongly in favor of a large-scale immigration policy, saying the Union must open its doors to people who can enrich the country. If industry was to be built up a large increase in the European population was necessary.

Private enterprise will be given an opportunity to take part in the development of the Union's internal air transport schemes. F. C. Sturrock, minister of transport, has invited private companies wishing to operate feeder services to apply for licenses before the end of March.

Addressing the Municipal Airports Conference in Kimberley, the minister said that the government owned South African Airways is prepared to operate such services but was making this offer so that the government should have no unfair advantage.

The conference passed a resolution that the state should pay for the upkeep and maintenance of airports of international and national class and the municipalities pay a fair share of the cost of intermediate airports.

He paved the way for the Electric Age

The son of a blacksmith, Michael Faraday (1791-1867) went to work at thirteen. As an apprentice in a book bindery he read scores of volumes, especially those on scientific subjects. He attended some lectures given by Sir Humphry Davy, and wrote to him and asked for—and obtained—a job in his laboratory. He carried on research in chemistry, investigated the alloys of steel, and produced several new kinds of optical glass. His most important research work was in electricity and magnetism. His discoveries paved the way for the development of electro-plating and the widespread use of electric power today.

BECAUSE of Faraday's discoveries, the great electrical industry has grown up in modern times. Because of discoveries about Nickel made in research laboratories, the Canadian Nickel industry has grown into one of the world's great industries.

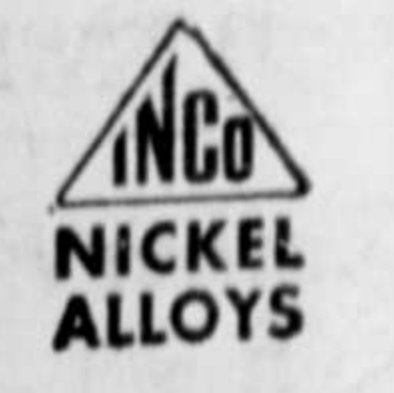

Well equipped Nickel research laboratories in Canada, United States and Great Britain will continue to co-operate with scientists everywhere in developing new uses and markets for Nickel.

Canadian engineers, designers and metallurgists have free access to the scientific and technical data gathered together by International Nickel from the whole field of metal research.

As industry gets to know more about Nickel and its uses, the demand for Canadian Nickel will increase still more. Canada will benefit accordingly.

NOT ENCOURAGING YOUTH
Editor, Daily News:
One of the comments of the members of the Western Bush Rangers at a recent meeting was "We've spent over $70 on this place but it still does not look like anything." Yes, the boys in the West End have spent that much trying to repair and paint the Westview School but it is still a dank, dirty health-defying place.

Meetings of the boys are losing all their vigor because the school is cold, because they are out of fuel and scrap building material.

The parents seem to lack ambition to even see what their children are doing up in the school. If the meeting place were to close down, it would be the parents' fault in part at least.

Yours for more co-operation in helping city youths to become better citizens.

Realizing the need for organization among the younger women of this city, Miss Wilkes gathered together a group of the former "Y" hostesses and put the idea before them. Her enthusiasm was quickly taken up by the girls, who are finishing the job which began some five years ago with the arrival in the city of men in uniform and which will not be completely ended until the departure of the last man. They also expressed desire of organizing their energies towards the betterment of the community and their own social activities.

The group has as its honorary President, Mrs. N. E. Arnold, well known city business woman and member of the city council.

Miss Joan Taylor was elected as President for the year 1946 while Miss Betty Payne and Miss Grace Thompson are the club's choice for secretary and treasurer respectively. The membership committee is composed of Miss Lenora Raabe, Miss Betty Haudenschild and Miss Helen Rowe who will receive future applications for membership.

Plans for the coming year are being formulated and all the members are showing keen interest and enthusiasm for the quite ambitious program which is being mapped out. Already in swing is the Christmas wrapping service for servicemen which will continue all this week. The girls are also sponsoring a tea-dance for all servicemen, ex-servicemen, their wives and lady friends, to be held in the "Y" on Christmas Eve.

WAR WORK AND WOMEN

Find New Interest in Domestic Tasks and Peacetime Jobs

By HELEN BANNERMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA, (C)—Canadian women in 1945 got their breath after a completed war job and turned toward their post-war employment, most of them in their homes or in work that is traditionally feminine. Of the 5,605,119 women in Canada, an estimated 1,046,000 held paying jobs at the last count at April 1, apart from 46,315 in the women's services and 800,000 on farms. As war industries closed down and the services were demobilized, many women, particularly married ones, did not seek other jobs but returned to their homes. Many welcomed back servicemen husbands and started out to find and furnish the first home they had ever had. "Women's part in the nation's war work was vital," said Mrs. Rex Eaton, labor department director of women's employment and former associate director of wartime national selective service.

"It has made them aware of their value to Canada and of the importance of their work in the home. They will approach their domestic tasks with greater efficiency, ability and interest than ever before."

Other women war workers left their humming factories for jobs in hospitals, hotels, laundries, offices and the textile and other industries. Some who had come to the capital stepped from wartime posts to the peace-expanded departments of trade and commerce, reconstruction and external affairs.

Servicemen were returning to civvie street by the hundreds by the end of the year and Mary Salter, superintendent of women's rehabilitation, reported that the girls in uniform were also following the trend by either returning to their homes or training for the jobs which women have long held.

Vocational Training
Miss Salter's section of the veteran's affairs department is prepared to look after the demobilization and vocational guidance needs of 48,000 women, including nursing sisters, 2,000 girls from other countries who enlisted in the Canadian services and Canadian girls who enlisted in the British women's services.

Up to the end of July, 7,298 women received their discharge from the Canadian Women's Army Corps, and at October 31, 9,436 were released from the R.

C.A.F. (Women's Division). However, these figures recorded normal "wastage" during the war years as well as post-war disbandment. Figures for the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service and the nursing services were not available.

Most popular veterans' training course for the 1,600 women now studying under the plan is commercial training which has absorbed 60 per cent. Next most popular is hairdressing and after these come dressmaking, nursing, radio and machine operation. Some are studying occupational therapy and others commercial art.

Of the 190 women veterans at universities, 177 are continuing and the 13 who have dropped from the department's records did so because they graduated, became ill or their veterans' benefits ended. There have been no failures.

HOW CAN I ??? By ANNE ASHLEY

How can I revive the colors in wash goods that have become faded by using strong soaps or washing soda?

A. The colors can be revived by adding a spoonful of vinegar to each quart of rinsing water.

Q. How can I remove fresh paint odor from a room?
A. By slicing three or four onions and putting them in a bucket of cold water. Leave the bucket in the centre of the room for several hours.

Daily News advertisers desiring to make Christmas Eve changes in their advertisements are requested to have their copy in without further delay in order to ensure the changes being made. Cooperation in this matter would also be much appreciated. (295)

Sudbury Wolves Are Coming Back

WINNIPEG, ☉—A legendary name in hockey two decades ago is being dusted off and returned to the upper brackets. It has been announced that the Sudbury, Ontario, Wolves are returning to senior competition this season in the nickel belt, following a 15-year absence. The Wolves will form the fourth entry in the league, which also includes Creighton, Copper Cliff and Sudbury Legion.

TO BE UNSHAVEN UNTIL VICTORY

REGINA—Apparently in desperation, Kenny Stewart, the playing coach of the Regina Capitals of the Western Canada Senior Hockey League, has announced that he will not shave again until his team scores a victory. The best the Caps have been able to do in 13 league games so far this season has been to score a tie.

A former topnotch goalie, Frank Brimsek, came back from the wars Saturday night and starrily held the Montreal Canadiens to a three-all tie with the Boston Bruins. The draw put the Montreal men two points up in the National Hockey League race over the idle Chicago Black Hawks. The Bruins at the same time moved into a third-place tie with the Detroit Red Wings who were turned back 3-1 by the Toronto Maple Leafs. Supported by a sturdy Boston defence, Brimsek played brilliantly in the nets, being beaten only by Billy Reay once and Rocket Line centre Maurice Richard twice. At the other end of the ice, goalie Bill Durnan also was rock-fast and only capitulated to Murray Henderson, Porky Dumart of the Kitchener trio and Jack McGill.

In Toronto Saturday the Maple Leafs made it two straight by whacking the Detroit Red Wings 3-1. The Toronto club scored once in every period with Billy Taylor drawing first blood followed by tallies from ex-Navy man Gaye Stewart and Gus Bodnar. The lone Detroit score came late in the third period from the stick of Defenceman Harold Jackson. Frank McCool played a steady game in the Toronto nets but handled only 26 shots while Harry Lumley was barraged with 38 shots. Apparently, the Leafs are obeying Connie Smythe's orders to attack and keep on attacking.

WINNIPEG IS GOLF VENUE

Ten Thousand Dollar Canadian Open to Be Held There

WINNIPEG, ☉—Winnipeg has been chosen the scene of a $10,000 open gold tournament scheduled for next July. This was announced last night by Bill McCallum, head of a group of prominent sportsmen.

Arrangements are now being completed to stage the tournament at the Nikawa Country Club. But of course this will be subject to the approval of the club's directors who will meet Thursday night.

McCallum said the tentative plans for the tournament call for it to open July 19. Eighteen holes will be played during the first day and another 18 will be played the following day. Practice rounds will be held July 17.

McCallum said the tournament has been approved by the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association and the P. G. A. of the United States. He said such star performers as Lord Byron Nelson, Sam Snead, Jug McSpaden and little Ben Hogan are expected to participate, along with the cream of the Canadian crop, men like Ken Black, Stan Horne and Bill Kerr.

An effort is being made to guarantee a special money prize for the best Canadian professional and the tournament probably will be limited to golfers of four-handicap calibre and better.

Here's a fight that's far from over—against tuberculosis, the dread plague that still kills more Canadians between 15 and 45 than any other disease.

Your annual purchase of Christmas Seals since 1900 has helped cut the TB death rate 75%! And TB can be wiped out—some authorities say by the year 2000.

Yet wartime conditions give TB a new lease on life—human life.

So please, help us bring up the reserves. This year, buy extra Christmas Seals. Remember, there can be no peace treaty with tuberculosis.

BUFFALO IS STORM TIED

BUFFALO, New York (AP)—Major Kelly of Buffalo proclaimed a state of emergency last night as one of the worst storms in the city's history veered off to the south. Kelly ordered all schools and most city offices closed, suspended the city court, limited the use of telephones to leave all available lines open for emergency calls, and requested Buffalo residents to remain at home and take precautions against fire.

The storm left a 48-inch snowfall in some sections of the city. Across the river Fort Erie had 18 inches of snow.

A national advertiser in Canadian daily newspapers received more than 40,000 unsolicited letters of appreciation for a series of ads giving practical conservation hints in wartime.

Successful Mission Was Conducted Here

After a successful week's mission at the Full Gospel Tabernacle here, Rev. F. Clarke of Kenya Colony, Africa, left last night on the Princess Adelaide for Vancouver. Closing engagements for Mr. Clarke in Prince Rupert included a meeting yesterday afternoon with the local Women's Missionary Prayer Band with Mrs. E. Kettle, the president, in the chair. Mr. Clarke described the customs of the African natives in an interesting manner and also told of the needs of the new mission station he would be opening his return to Kenya. Last evening Mr. Clarke conducted other service which was featured by picture slides depicting work in Africa. The audience filled the Tabernacle to capacity and gave an offering amounting to $85 to assist in outfitting Mr. and Mrs. Clarke on their return to the mission field.

NAIROBI, Kenya, (AP)— Evening classes for adult Africans have been started in Mombasa. English and arithmetic for Africans who work during the day acquire an elementary standard of education. The classes are proving popular.
