A change in business conditions is evident in Prince Rupert this year. Both nationally and locally, the function of the newspapers in stimulating merchandizing and maintaining goodwill and appreciation is once again becoming more fully recognized. Throughout the country newspapers are experiencing even greater demands upon their space by would-be advertisers. To practically all newspapers the problem of meeting the intensifying demands of the advertisers is a perplexing one because of such factors as continued newsprint supply restrictions, the manpower situation and the scarcity of publishing supplies and equipment.

Canada As Motherland . . .

The suggestion is being made that to meet post-war problems Canada should be made the Motherland of the British Commonwealth. The war damage situation, is likely to require the most urgent building of at least five million new dwellings. The question arises: Where is the land to be found for all the extensive new re-housing schemes? A bold policy of emigration, some hold, is required in order to make use of neglected heritage in Canada, Australia, New Zealand, etc., and to readjust some of the balances of population in the Empire.

It might seem a revolutionary reversal to move the Motherland to Can-Passing away is the tendency of the ada but Canada possesses all the reshops to scorn business. There is quite quisite essential requirements of life: obviously being made a greater effort food, shelter, employment, security. She has immense natural resources in food, building materials—timber, brick, cement, asbestos, fuels, etc., much good land still available at moderate cost, and could employ many times her present population if the requisite development was undertaken. With this possible "New Britain" which, georgraphically, is equally, if not better, fitted to be the natural centre of the Empire, the United Kingdom could be as a green and pleasant national park, without further overcrowding or ribbon development. There is simply not sufficient resources of land any longer available in the United Kingdom to build up, for example, millions of "Portal" houses-which are wasteful and understanding. of land and would not solve post-war housing problems.

between husky children and those who are poor eaters, underweight and nervous is often simply a matter of proper nourishment, especially an adequate supply of vitamins.

But vitamins alone are not enough. For authorities now agree that vitamins do not work alone. They work as a team with certain other food elements.

For this reason, thousands are switching to Ovaltine. Unlike mere "vitamin carriers," Ovaltine food beverage contains not only extra vitamins but nearly all the precious food elements needed for health and top vitality. These include Vitamins A, B₁ and D, the important minerals calcium, phosphorus and iron, high quality proteins and quick energy fuel-food—a combination of food elements authorities agree are needed for best results.

So, if your child is thin, nervous and not developing properly, why doing. Three normal meals plus two lasses of Ovaltine a day give your
