JAP BOMBS WIDESPREAD

Some Jap Robots Have Been Found as Far East as Prairies OTTAWA, May 25 (CP)—Canadians living west of the Great Lakes have been warned to watch for unexploded bombs dropped by big unmanned Japanese - launched balloons during the last several months.

The question is a portion of the Dumbarton Oaks formula for a world charter dealing with how a proposed security council could use forcible means to keep the peace if all other methods failed.

The blueprint says that the proposed council should be empowered to take such action by air, naval or land forces as may be necessary to maintain international peace.

The San Francisco committee, however, has deferred decision on whether the new league should be able to strike originally with an air force alone or with a mixed contingent.

STATEMENT ON PACIFIC

This is Asked of Government By John Bracken

BRANDON, Man., May 25 (C)—The leader of the Progressive Conservatives — John Bracken—has called on the Dominion government to make what he calls a "clear and forthright expression of its policy with respect to the Pacific war and of our commitments in it."

He made the statement in Brandon, Manitoba, speaking during his cross-country federal election campaign tour. He said that, if elected, the Progressive Conservatives would send draftees to fight in the Pacific.

Reason for not disclosing the fact before, said headquarters, was in the interest of national safety and taking a chance on letting the enemy know that some of the balloons had reached this continent.

It was reliably learned from another source that one of the first balloons was discovered by the children of a prairie farmer.

CARNIVAL SPIRIT CHARMS PRINCE RUPERT ON KINSMEN'S SPORT DAY

Prince Rupert people turned out by the thousands yesterday to enjoy watching or to take part in the city's first May 24 celebration in many years. Primarily children's day sponsored by the local Kinsmen's Club, scores of youngsters today are in receipt of prizes totalling some $400.

The day's events began with the carnival atmosphere of costume judging in the children's parade on the court house square and, following the parade itself, proceeded with a brisk program of sports at Acropolis hill grounds, where, for more than three hours every variety of race and carnival sport was staged.

Crowning event of the afternoon was a baseball game between a city team and an army team from Acropolis Hill and the whole affair was topped off by a dance in the Moose Hall sponsored by the Kinsmen.

Costumes of children in the parade and the decorative work on their wagons, tricycles and bicycles made the court house square riotously colorful as the judges picked out the prize winners. Hundreds of people watched the parade march along Third Avenue and Fulton Street to Acropolis Hill led by the band of H.M.C.S. Chatham. On the Acropolis Hill parade ground the sports events began shortly after the arrival of the parade at one o'clock.

On the court house green, troops of children followed the gaudy clowns who frolicked about while the judges pursued their sober tasks. Costume judges were Lt. Commander W. R. Mc-

American occupation officials say that the food situation is throughout most of Europe now and they estimate that it will become serious in Germany within sixty days.

PROSPECT FOR YOUTH RECREATION PROGRAM OUTLINED TO CITY CLUBS

Prospect that Prince Rupert may gain a planned program of youth and adult recreation under sponsorship of National Physical Fitness Act loomed here this week with the visit of Gerry Matheson, provincial director of Pro-Rec and assistant director of the central council of the National Physical Fitness administration.

Mr. Matheson, who arrived here Wednesday and will leave tonight for Prince George, outlined the progress and aims of provincial Pro-Rec and the new national program to a combined meeting of the Kinsmen, Gyro and Rotary Clubs and city council members at Reid's Cafe Wednesday.

He later conferred with service club leaders with the intention of creating a local Physical Fitness council in this city.

Speaking to the combined club meeting, Mr. Matheson declared that the purpose of neither Pro-Rec nor the Fitness Act is to force a program on any locality.

Jap Air Power Failing . . .

The eclipse of the Luftwaffe was one of the most striking features in the decline and defeat of Nazi Germany. The failure of the Japanese air force is no less significant. Just as the threat or use of air power was an essential feature in the diplomatic and military subjugation of Europe to the Nazis, so it was the principal weapon in making possible the vast conquests achieved by the Japanese between the winter of 1941 and the spring of 1942. The Japanese air force is still large and still founded on a considerable industrial machine but it is proving inadequate to defend the homeland against the devastating raids of superfortresses.

Nor is it only over industrial cities that the Japanese air force is failing in its task. The campaign in Burma, now moving to its end, owed much of its success to the Allied domination of the skies, and the failure fully to appreciate this led to disaster for the Japanese. The Japanese invasion of India through Manipur was halted, and the enemy forces destroyed, largely by movement of several divisions by air from India and elsewhere, while during the advance to Mandalay and to Rangoon which followed this great enemy defeat, the speed of the British advances was maintained very largely by airborne supplies, just as their direction was often determined by almost exclusively Allied use of aerial reconnaissance. In China, the Japanese preponderance in ground forces enabled the enemy, during 1944 and the early months of this year, to drive against the American airfields with success, but their attempt to complete the process by the capture of the American bases in western Hunan has had no success.

In the Pacific and East Indian areas, the loss of airpower is proving equally serious for the enemy, for it is leading, and in some areas has already led, to so complete a loss of seapower as amounts to the loss of effective communications. The maintenance of great American and British fleets with their air units, by a complicated system of air fields for land-based aircraft in reconquered territory, has already gone far to isolate from one another the main Japanese conquests, and make their piecemeal reduction possible.

Local Flier Is Member of Famed Caterpillar Club

Prince Rupert's only member of the Caterpillar Club is Pilot Officer J. V. Bouzek, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bouzek, 323 Second Ave., who achieved membership in the exclusive group after a parachute jump which landed him in Belgium last March.

Membership in the Caterpillar Club is not won by election or appointment, but is bestowed on those who have to "hit the silk" when their aircraft gets into trouble.

A veteran flier with the R.C. A.P. in the European theatre, Pilot Officer Bouzek made his jump when his aircraft got into difficulty in March, two months after he had been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

The young flier's badge of membership in the Caterpillar Club—a small golden caterpillar—is now in the hands of his parents, having been sent to them from the club headquarters in England. It was addressed to "Mr. and Mrs. J. Bouzek, Port Rupert, Vancouver, Canada."

TED EATS WELL AND THRIVES NOW!

Authorities say the difference between husky children and those who are poor eaters, underweight and nervous is often simply a matter of proper nourishment, especially an adequate supply of vitamins.

But vitamins alone are not enough. For authorities now agree that vitamins do not work alone. They work as a team with certain other food elements.

For this reason, thousands are switching to Ovaltine. Unlike mere "vitamin carriers," Ovaltine food beverage contains not only extra vitamins but nearly all the precious food elements needed for health and top vitality. These include Vitamins A, B₁ and D, the important minerals calcium, phosphorus and iron, high quality proteins and quick energy fuel-food—a combination of food elements authorities agree are needed for best results.

So, if your child is thin, nervous and not developing properly, why not turn to Ovaltine as thousands are doing? Three normal meals plus two glasses of Ovaltine a day give your child all the extra amounts of vitamins and minerals needed for health and top vitality.

Four Federal Election Candidates May Lay Equal Claim to Soldiers' Vote

All four candidates for Skeena in the federal election may lay fair claim to the soldiers' vote.

Two of the candidates are on actual service. One is a veteran of the First Great War. The fourth has been several times rejected as being physically unfit.

Major J. T. Harvey, the Progressive-Conservative candidate, has been in the Army since the first of the war, having been one of the members of the old 102nd Battery to immediately go overseas, now being home on over-leave for the election campaign.

Leading Aircraftman Harry Archibald, the C.C.F. candidate, is with the water transport division of the Royal Canadian Air Force and has been stationed at Prince Rupert for some time.

E. T. Applewhaite, the Liberal candidate, enlisted in the 107th Kootenay Rifles on becoming 18 years of age in the First Great War and, transferring to the Forestry Corps, spent two years and three months in Britain.

Bruce Mickleburgh, the Labor-Progressive candidate, has volunteered to the local Army recruiting office on several occasions, being rejected each time as medically unfit.

John Bracken—The Progressive

It is significant that throughout a political career without parallel in the Empire during this century, John Bracken has been identified with progress—with progressive political movements. For more than twenty consecutive years he was Premier of Manitoba. He is today, the leader of a great national party, a party that is young, virile, resurgent and above all else—progressive.

It is the belief of John Bracken that, however they may be expressed in political or economic terms, the ideals of all men of goodwill in Canada are best embodied in three simple words—Progress through Co-operation.

And, farmer though he is, when John Bracken speaks of co-operation he is not thinking of docile cattle being driven willy-nilly to pasture; nor a flock of sheep forcibly fenced in and impotent to protest. To this Canadian, that species of enforced co-operation when applied to human affairs—and of which some of his opponents appear enamoured—is the very negation of true co-operation . . . a contradiction in terms best illustrated perhaps by the inmates of an internment camp. Not for John Bracken the delusion of a heaven on earth densely populated with gestapo, disguised as bureaucrats!

Born in a log cabin, the life of John Bracken is itself a triumphant vindication of his resolute belief in his fellow men. Never defeated at the polls, he won five straight elections as Premier. How? By consistently practising what he preached—progress through co-operation. By enacting wise, farseeing, beneficial legislation on behalf of the people. By using the first period of his Premiership to restore to sound health the unsound finances of the Province, by drastic economies, tax adjustments. By using the second period to develop natural resources and to build roads at low cost. By using his third and fourth terms as Premier, to embark on great schemes of reconstruction, enlisting the co-operation of all political parties in the beneficent task he had set himself . . .

Thus through years as leader of the people John Bracken won their co-operation by being, himself, the heart and soul of co-operation. To make his government truly progressive, he asked for and received the advice of experts in every field. He drew upon ability and talent from whatever quarter they came. Political advantage meant nothing to him; the good of the people, everything. By trusting them, he won their trust. Through difficult years their loyalty never wavered.

A remarkable man, this John Bracken. A political portent—with his dogged insistence on progress—progress for the people in every department of national life. "How can any Government be progressive," asks John Bracken, "unless ALL the people participate in it, for the good of all?"

The list of winners of parade events had not been integrated this morning and so was not available for publication.

An outstanding entry in the parade, which was composed largely of children dressed in the broadest range of colorful costumes which their imaginations could devise, was a truck float entered by the Prince Rupert Boys' Civic Association. It created a sunburst effect and carried the name and lettering of the club and showed evidence of considerable effort in creating.

The band of H.M.C.S. Chatham, fire trucks of the city and Navy fire departments and several decorated cars took part in the parade.

Masters of ceremonies at the sports events at Acropolis Hill were W. S. Noble and R. E. Montador of the Kinsmen's Club. They did a competent job of presiding over the field, with loud-speaker and recording pad. Each sports event was in charge of

DOWDY GARB IRKS NURSES

Dress Specialist Asked to Design Neater and More Attractive Uniforms

LONDON, May 25 (P)—British nurses are up in arms. They want a new and smarter walking out uniform.

They are tired, they say, of looking dowdy and having the show always stolen by Red Cross nurses in their more attractive clothes.

The nurses' complaint was discussed at a recent Trades Union Congress meeting and the Tailors and Garment Workers have been asked to find a dress specialist who will design a new uniform.

What the nurses want, said a member of the Nurses Guild, is a uniform similar to that already being worn by nurses in Middlesex County Council hospitals—a close fitting tailored double-breasted white overall. Sisters in charge of wards in the Middlesex hospitals wear a short, smartly-cut blue shoulder cape over their white uniforms.

For outdoor wear the nurses consider a grey coat with red markings, worn by the Civil Nursing Reserve, is the smartest. A grey peaked cap is worn with these coats.

There is not a great deal of difference between the working uniform of the hospital nurse and the Red Cross nurse except for the big Red Cross which the latter wear on their white aprons. But besides the Red Cross there are a variety of different uniforms as the color of the stripes in the nurses' overalls varies according to the hospital they are attached to. In some hospitals they wear caps while in others they wear the veil headress.

Some of the bigger hospitals provide their nurses with their own style of outdoor uniform such as a small poke-bonnet and cape, but the state registered nurses are given only a plain navy blue serge coat and cap and are the "Cinderellas."

Besides a neater, smarter uniform the nurses hope to obtain a standardization of uniform so there won't be varying styles and so the public will be able to distinguish between those who have worked for years to qualify and those who are only part-time nurses.

Rev. Edward Scott, of St. Peter's Church, Seal Cove, assisted by

Seal Cove.

Iris, narcissus and stocks banked the altar and Peter Lien, the church organist, played Each's Cao'ld Prelude, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," as the bride entered, escorted by E. D.
Forward, YMCA area secretary.
Her gown was of hyacinth blue crepe, gracefully designed with lace insets on the square neckline, the elbow-length sleeves and the bodice peplum. Her Juliet hat was of matching color with clusters of fresh lily-of-the-valley and sweetheart roses on the crown, caught by blue velvet ribbon. Her accessories were of navy blue and she wore a corsage of roses and lillies.

Mrs. Edward Smith of Prince Rupert, the matron of honor, was the bride's only attendant, wearing a gown of dusty rose crepe with matching hat and corsage of pink roses and purple iris. Harvard P. Collins, YMCA supervisor at Seal Cove, was the groomsman, and the ushers were LAC. Donald Pope, Winnipeg, and LAC. Alex Campbell, Vancouver.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the YMCA, where the upstairs lounge was charmingly decorated with ferns, and pink and white carnations.
Mrs. E. D. Forward received the guests, wearing a black costume with white accessories, and corsage of gardenias.

LOCAL MAN'S SON IS LIBERATED

John Bablak, whose home is in Winnipeg and has been employed at the local dry dock for the past couple of days, has received notification that his son, Pilot Officer Edward Bablak, who had been reported to be a prisoner of war since August 1, 1942, has been liberated and arrived safely in the United Kingdom. Mr. Bablak has received a letter from his son written on
"V-E Day" in Brussels. Pilot Officer Bablak enlisted in Winnipeg in the Royal Canadian Air Force in 1940 and, after receiving his training, went overseas in 1941. After service in the Far East, he saw service over Italy and Germany before being captured. Another son of Mr.
Bablak's, Casmer, served in the Canadian Provost Corps but is now discharged.

WATER BY THE BUCKET

ST. DAY, Cornwall, Eng., @—
When the mines closed down 50 years ago, the pumps stopped and this village lost its water supply. Today residents still have to wait for the water wagon with its tariff of a penny a bucket or

YOUTH RECREATION

If the program had been expanded rather than restricted we would not be faced with the juvenile delinquency problem that we have today."

Mr. Matheson said that he believed the term 'physical fitness' was incomplete, that it does not tell the whole story of the work.

"Our program aims for more than physical fitness. It is total fitness that we aim for. There is a connection between physical and mental health which is becoming more clearly realized. Moral outlook too, is important. We are aiming for the man four-square."

The pioneering work of the B.C. Pro-Rec had been the groundwork for youth recreational projects in other provinces in the Dominion and today every province with the exception of Ontario and Quebec had active programs. It had been from the British Columbia program that the leaders of the national program have been selected.

The National Act has authorized the creation of a central committee headed by Major Ian Eisenhart, national director of physical fitness, with an assistant selected from each province. Mr. Matheson was B.C. member of the committee.

"The act operates under agreement with the provincial governments and the provinces must bear 50 per cent of the cost," Mr. Matheson said.

He appealed for establishment of a local Physical Fitness council drawn from the service clubs and leading groups of the city. Unity among citizens for the purpose of directing the energies of young people into the proper channels is an essential to the proper functioning of the program, he asserted.

"You can't put the blame for delinquency on the young people," Mr. Matheson declared. "The blame is entirely on us. We must harness the drive of our youths and direct it prop-

WEATHER ON PRAIRIES IS STILL COOL

WINNIPEG, May 25—Weather has continued cool and backward during the past week with light to heavy rains occurring in many sections of the prairie provinces. Wheat seeding generally is from 60 to 80 per cent completed and farmers are working overtime everywhere to finish the job according to the weekly crop report of the Department of Agriculture of the C. N. R.

In Manitoba, recent weather has been more favorable and considerable progress has been made with seeding. In Saskatchewan wheat seeding varies from 50 per cent in northern and central districts to completed in southern sections.

Operations have been delayed in southern Alberta, due to light showers and heavy rains. But in the north wheat seeding is general, being 60 per cent to 75 per cent completed.

In the Okanagan Valley the weather is still showery and cool and not too favorable for apple blossoms. Eighty per cent of last year's cherries, apricots and peaches are forming well. The apricot crop will be a little better than a year ago. Peaches will show an increase. Ground fruits are reported doing well.

erly or take the blame for the consequences."

"I hope that all the groups in the city will get together and form a recreational council. I hope the picture here will expand—but there must be full co-operation by everyone."

Mr. Matheson was thanked by the chairman of the meeting, Dr. J. J. Gibson, president of the Gyro club. Guests at the luncheon were Col. H. E. Molson of Vancouver, R. C. Davidson of Prince Rupert, Ed Bigelow of Ketchikan and Brook Hanford of Juneau. Mayor H. M. Daggett, Ald. Nora Arnold and Ald Robert McKay represented the city council.

Logger Broke His Neck—Doing Well

Alex, Orleski, logger from W. A. McBroom's camp at Kumeleon Inlet, Grenville Channel, is in the Prince Rupert Hospital with a broken neck but is doing well and will recover, his physician, Dr. J. J. Gibson, announces. Orleski was struck by a flying snag when a tree was being felled in the McBroom camp. In addition to the fracture of the neck, an ear was partly ripped off as well as other less serious head cuts and contusions. He was rendered temporarily. The man arrived at the hospital on Sunday.

Wire Resumed With Norway

Word that Norwegians throughout the world can now communicate by cable message with relatives and friends in Norway was received Wednesday afternoon by Dr. Jens Munthe, local Norwegian vice-consul. The information will bring relief to hundreds of people who have been waiting for word that wire communications have been established, enabling them to learn of the fate of relatives in the liberated land.

"HOTEL BERLIN" SHOWING HERE

Much-Discussed Picture
 Featured at Capitol Theatre
 This Week-end

Revealing startling secret plans of the German general staff for the eventual conquest of the world in some future war, the much-discussed picture "Hotel Berlin," adapted to the screen from Vicki Baum's best-selling novel of the same name, is showing this week-end at the Capitol Theatre. The five-star cast includes Faye Emerson, Raymond Massey, Andrea King, Peter Lorre and Helmut Dantine.

The story is that of German treachery and intrigue laid against the back of a cosmopolitan hotel in doomed Berlin, already strangled in the throes of defeat. It shows the great and the near-great of the Nazi capital, stripped of their lies and making their last desperate bids for survival. The struggle between underground forces and the tyrannical and cruel Nazis is one of the features of the picture.

A member of the militia, he was called for service on the outbreak of war. Following service with the Coast Defence for a year and a half, he was sent to Nanaimo as staff captain in the Fifth Infantry Brigade, then to Niagara Falls and Debort.

Born in Cranbrook, January 25, 1907, Harvey was two when his parents moved to Vancouver. It was there that his father, J. A. Harvey, a member of the law firm of Taylor and Harvey, died in 1918.
